DOCTOR BALCH TO SPEAK ON ALSACE-LORRAINE

INTERNATIONAL AUTHORITY TO GIVE ILLUSTRATED LECTURE

Thomas Willing Balch, LL.D. (Trinity, 1917), will give an illustrated lecture on "Alsace-Lorraine" in the Public Speaking Room, Tuesday evening, May 6, at eight o'clock, under the auspices of the Political Science Club. Dr. Balch is a well-known publicist and one of America's leading international authorities. He has made a special study of the Alsace-Lorraine question, and the lantern slides which he will use were made from photographs taken by him in that country.

Dr. Balch has published numerous works on international law and is "Collaborateur of the Revue de Droit Internationale et de Legislation Comparée of Brussels." He is editor of the "New Cyneas of Emeric Cruce", originally published at Paris in 1623 and 1909, and of "International Courts of Arbitration" published in 1874 and 1917. He is a member of the American Philosophical Society and of the Council of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania. He is also a member of the American Antiquarian Society, the International Law Association, and the Pennsylvania Bar Association. His many works on subjects of International Law include "The Alabama Arbitration," "The Emeric Cruce," "The Alaska-Canadian Frontier," "The Alaska Frontier," "The Arctic and Antarctic Regions and the Law of the Nations," "A World Court in the Light of the United States Supreme Court", and "Some Facts about Alsace-Lorraine."

"TRIPOD" WANTED IN FRANCE.

In order to complete the contents of the War Library and Museum at Paris, the French Ministry of Education and Fine Arts has asked that they be put upon the mailing list of "The Tripod" and has also sent a request for the back files, dating from August, 1914, to the present time. Coupled with this request is one for the war record of the college, and for any publications or other matter of interest with regard to the college's part in the war.

This War Museum and Library is one of the newest institutions resulting from the war, and aims to make a comprehensive collection of all publications, records and material relating to the Great War since its outbreak in 1914. The file which the Ministry of Education requests, and also a copy of the 1920 IVY, will soon be added to the collection of the Museum.

SENATE MEETING WEDNESDAY.

A meeting of the College Senate will be held Wednesday at 12.45 p. m. in the Economics room.

MAJOR PHILIP McCOOK, '95 TO BE CLASS DAY SPEAKER.

It was announced at the meeting of the Senior Class, Monday noon, that Major Philip McCook, '95, has accepted the invitation of the class to speak at the Class Day Exercises on June 21. Major McCook, who makes his home at Cedarhurst, L. I., saw active service as Adjutant of the 9th Brigade, 5th Division (Regulars). He was severely wounded in the heavy fighting north of Verdun in early November, immediately preceding the signing of the armistice, and has but recently returned to this country.

LIEUTENANT BRESLIN, '19, BACK FROM "OVER THERE."

Has Two Wound Stripes and Three Medals.

Lieutenant James E. Breslin, '19, was a visitor on the campus last Monday. He is one of Trinity's most distinguished heroes, having acquitted himself with high honor "over there." He went across in the fall of 1917 and saw almost constant service with the famous Rainbow Division. He wears two wound stripes, having been wounded on July 23, 1918, and subsequently gassed. He has been decorated three times, wearing the Distinguished Service Cross, the Croix de Guerre, and a Belgian War Cross. Lieutenant Breslin is at present stationed at Camp Upton.

TRINITY NINE LOSES TO SPRINGFIELD Y. M. C. A.

TRINITY 1, SPRINGFIELD 12.

The baseball team now has three straight defeats behind it as a result of the trimming received from Springfield Y. M. C. A. College Saturday afternoon with a score of 12 to 1. The Springfield nine scored one run the first inning and the Trinity team pushed across a tally in their half of the inning; and for the first third of the game, it looked as though Springfield was going to be given a stiff rub. But in the fourth inning the Trinity nine started to play its usual desultory game and twelve errors resulted in the opposing team rolling up a total of twelve runs. Among the spectators at the game was Major Michael A. Connors of the 102nd Infantry, Twenty-sixth Division, who had returned to civil life earlier in the week after two years' service under the colors. Connors was captain of the Trinity baseball team in 1909.

Reynolds pitched a steady game, this being his first game in the box for Trinity. Lynch played his usual good game, a hair-raising catch in the eighth being the single feature of the game. Shepard who pitched the first two games of the season played a steady game on first base. Sharpe played well for the Springfield nine, his heavy hitting contributing largely in the scoring.

SOPHOMORE SMOKER PLANS IN PROCESS OF DEVELOPMENT.

The tentative date set for the Sophomore Smoker is May 30, Memorial Day, according to announcement made by Rollin M. The committee as chosen by Chairman Ransom is as follows: Karl Herzer, Frederick L. Bradley, W. K. Noel, Robert I. Parke, Beaufort R. Newsom, Claude Z. Jette, F. H. Ameluxen, H. A. Morse, and D. J. ## "NOW THEN TRINITY"

It is interesting to note that according to the recent official report of the Student Division of Collections of the United War Fund Campaign, Trinity stands first among the men's colleges of Connecticut with respect to percentage of collections on pledges. The Committee in charge of the campaign at Trinity has collected 79.4% of the amount pledged. At Yale University, 77.4% has been collected, at Connecticut Agricultural College, 72%, and at Wesleyan, 68.3%.

WALTER SCHUTZ EXPLAINS HIS REMARKS.

Charles Amos Johnson, Alumni Secretary, has received the following interesting letter from Walter S. Schutz, from Paris, under date of April 11 in regard to his remarks at the Alumni War Banquet in January. His speech received such wide publicity in the newspapers that Mr. Schutz thought an explanation of his exact stand advisable. An extract of the letter follows:

"On the eve of my departure for Poland, as leader of a small band of Y. M. C. A. secretaries, who have been asked by General Haller to accompany the first detachment of his army to their homeland, and continue the work we have been carrying on for a year with the Polish Autonomous Army in France, I am not a little surprised and amused to read in a clipping from one of the Hartford papers handed to me tonight by O. Howard Clark, Trinity, '21, stating that Walter S. Schutz, '94, is 'fostering a movement to cut Trinity College loose from the Episcopal Church and change its name from Trinity to Hartford College!'

"I beg that you will set the minds of the Alumni, the trustees, and all the friends of 'Old Trinity' at rest on this point. Schutz, '94, (or 'Schut-zinski Amerikanski,' as he is popularly known in the Polish Army), is not fostering any movement, except the movement to re-establish a strong, independent Poland, which shall be a bulwark against Bocheism on the one side and Bolshevism on the other, and is trying in his small way to express to these heroically patriotic people the true friendship and sympathy which America feels toward them in their struggle for Independence and Democracy.

"Furthermore, assure my Trinity brethren that I am loyal to my Alma Mater and to President Luther (God bless him), and that when I return, as I hope to in July, I shall not stir up the subject of change of name or of anything calculated to divide the ranks of the alumni, but shall devote myself to the building up of a law practice which needs my every attention, after more than a year's overseas service.

"I hope it is unnecessary to say to President Luther and to those of you who heard my plea on January 16 for a stronger, more distinctive Trinity, that the newspaper article is decidedly misleading. The impression I meant to convey, and which was I think understood by my hearers, was that Trinity College has long since cut loose from the sectarian ideas of those who in 1845 caused its name to be changed from Washington to Trinity College; who wished to model the institution after the Trinity Colleges of Oxford and Cambridge, and to give to it distinctly Episcopal characteristics. Because, in spite of its Episcopal name, the college (as Mayor Kinsella very truly says), is neither sectarian in the personnel of its students or its faculty. I attempted the witticism (a poor one I admit) that its relationship to the Episcopal Church was not worth $1,000,000 toward the raising of an endowment. In other words that philanthropists of today would not, in my opinion, give financial support to the college because it is an Episcopal institution, but because it can make a distinct and valuable contribution to the educational system of the country, the state or the city. If this were so, I raised the question whether our sectarian name might not be a cause of misunderstanding and a hindrance to our growth, as (if I mistake not) was the case when appeal for financial help was made to the Rockefeller Foundation. I did not recommend a change, I merely invited discussion.

"Well, after all no harm has been done, some one has to be the goat and Schutz is too far away to butt in again. I'm mighty glad to feel that so many fond traditions have grown up about the name of 'Trinity' and the 'College on the Hill in dear old Hartford'—and my one hope is that the alumni will get solidly back of the institution and push and pull together; that they will give to the trustees and to the new president, whoever he may be, their loyal support; and that Trinity College may grasp the opportunity for larger and more efficient service which the new day of world reconstruction offers.

"I am particularly sorry to miss the next Commencement and the twenty-fifth anniversary of my graduation, but I have the opportunity to take an advanced course in sociology at the University of Warsaw and can't afford to miss it. Please convey my hearty greetings to the alumni who may be present, and especially to my classmates of dear old Ninety-Four. Extend my best wishes to the President whom we of '94, affectionately remember as—

The next is a specimen lank and lean,
—His eyes are sharp and his wits are keen.

Flavel S. Luther, the same, you know,
A valuable addition to this great show!"

Yours for Trinity,
WALTER S. SCHUTZ.

DR. J. CLEVELAND CADY, '61.

Dr. J. Cleveland Cady, '61, one of Trinity's most illustrious alumni who recently gave an invaluable collection of architectural books and photographs to the College Library, died at his home in New York, Friday, April 18. Dr. Cady was born in Providence, R. I., in 1837. He attended Colchester and Plainfield Academies, entering Trinity in 1857. He received his bachelor of arts degree in 1861, his Master's degree in 1880 and the degree of LL.D., in 1905.

Dr. Cady took up the profession of architect in 1870 and soon became one of the leading architects of the United States. His first important building was that of the Brooklyn Art Association, followed by some fifteen buildings for Yale. He was a member of the firm which designed the Hartford Public Library and the changes in the Wadsworth Atheneum made in 1890. Some of his most important buildings are, the American Museum of Natural History, Metropolitan Opera House, New York Hospital, Bellevue Medical School, Hudson Street Hospital, Skin and Cancer Hospital, and buildings for Williams and Wesleyan.

Dr. Cady retained his interest in the college and the permanent friendships he made while here. A short time ago he presented to the College Library his invaluable collection of books on Architecture, comprising some 375 volumes and over 2,000 photographs, made by himself during a period of many years. This gift was one of the most valuable the college has ever received.

Alpha Tau Kappa announces the initiation of the following men: Charles H. Simonson, '18, A. C. Gorman, '21, Robert D. Byrnes, '22, William E. Buckley, '22, John J. Carey, '22, Albert E. Coxeter, '22, Herman N. Immeln, '22, E. C. Racine, '22, and Harold G. Schumann, '22.

TRINITY LOSES TWO MATCHES.

The Trinity tennis team had a bad week-end, losing to Wesleyan on Friday and to Amherst on Saturday, without getting a single set in the singles and only getting one set against each of their opponents in the doubles. However, the two 6 to 0 scores do not quite represent the Trinity team's ability. Through both matches the men would suddenly show flashes of form and then lapse again. Over-confidence had considerable to do with the Wesleyan victory, and then on Saturday the team had not fully recovered from the strenuous work Friday.

The summaries:

Singles:
