NEW PUBLICATION TO APPEAR AT TRINITY.

Stansfield, Editor of "The Chapbook";
Quarterly Magazine Will Soon
Appear.

A new publication of strictly literary character, known as "The Chapbook", will appear on the campus in the near future. For a good many years there has been felt a need for such a periodical. Some eleven years ago there was published a magazine known as "The Trinity Tablet." It served to express the serious thoughts of Trinity men. It stood for the highest literary attainments on the campus. The magazine ended its career in June, 1908. "The Chapbook" will adopt as closely as seems advisable the traditions of "The Tablet."

Stansfield, '20, is editor in chief. He was editor of the 1920 "Ivy" and formerly a member of "The Tripod" board. He has gained distinction in the English department and has won many prizes. Pierce, '20, and Parsons, '18, will be associate editors. Pierce has attained a reputation as a writer. Hicks, '21, will be business manager.

Professors Humphrey, Urban, and Shepard and Mr. Bacon will heartily support the magazine. They will act as an advisory board.

Many prominent writers will contribute articles regularly. Among the writers whose articles will appear are Richardson Wright, editor of "Home and Garden," Philip Curtiss, famous as a contributor to many American magazines, and a writer of short stories; Compensation Commissioner George E. Beers of New Haven; Professor Stanley L. Galpin, head of the romance language department; Professor Edward F. Humphrey, who has written many books and magazine articles on political questions, and Professor Odell Shepard, who is regarded as one of the best of the present American poets.

The four cardinal points on which "The Chapbook" will base its policy are:

1—To exclude purely local affairs which might not be of general interest.

2—To maintain a purely impersonal and intellectual attitude on all matters.

3—To accept, or reject, solely on merit, contributions from anyone.

4—To follow as closely as seems advisable, the traditions of the old "Trinity Tablet."

Stevens Institute has already started basketball practice. Its schedule opens on December 13 and includes games with Princeton, Rutgers, Wesleyan, Columbia, and Worcester Tech.

HUNGERFORD FINISHES FIRST.

The cross country team lost its last meet of the season to Springfield Y. M. C. A. College, Tuesday afternoon, 35 to 20. A cold, drizzling rain made the course a succession of quagmires. As usual Hungerford was the first man to finish. He ran a splendid race, and covered the distance in the remarkable time of 28 minutes and 48 3-5 seconds. Springfield, however, took the next five places and also the tenth.

The summary: Hungerford (T), Leonard (S), Ellinwood (S), Metcalf (S), Tandy (S), Fursch (S), R. Buckley (T), Matthews (T), Murphy (T), Moore (S), W. Buckley (T), Porter (T).

ALUMNI NOTES.

'96—W. S. Langford was the referee of the Army-Navy football game on Saturday.

'05—Charles E. Gostenhofer is engaged in business in Brazil for the Brazilian Warrant Company. He is expected to return to this country next February.

'16—Raymond A. Bond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Bond of Windsor, Connecticut, and Miss Doris Engstrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Engstrom of Lexington, Massachusetts, were married Saturday, November 22. The best man was George C. Capen, '10, and the ushers were Alfred P. Bond, '20, Ogden Budd, Jr., '16, Howard R. Hill, '15, Ernest H. Geyer, '15, and Russell H. Porter, Jr., a graduate of Dartmouth. The bridegroom, best man, and ushers are all members of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Bond was a graduate from Windsor High School in 1911 and took a post-graduate course at the Hartford Public High School the following year. Since being graduated from Trinity, he was employed in the auditing department of the Connecticut General Life Insurance company.

After being commissioned a first lieutenant, following an intensive training at Plattsburgh, Bond was assigned to the Tenth Battalion, Thirty-seventh Company, Depot Brigade, at Camp Devens. Since his discharge, he has been connected with a large importing company as manager of one of the chain of stores in the vicinity of Boston.

After a motor trip Mr. and Mrs. Bond will return to Lexington, to spend the winter at No. 6 Eliot Road.

'18—Richard Barthelmess is the leading man in two recently released Griffith pictures—"Broken Blossoms", and "Scarlet Days." The latter is a story of the gold rush days in '49. While the picture was playing at the Rivoli in New York, the New York papers spoke very favorable of the work of Barthelmess.

FRESHMEN DECISIVELY DEFEAT SOPHOMORES.

1922 Makes Desperate Fight Against
Heavy Odds; Score 7 to 2.

The sophomore football team was defeated by the freshman eleven, on Tuesday afternoon, by the score of 7 to 2. A miserable rain fell during the contest. The field was covered with mud, which made the game somewhat slow.

The freshman team outweighed and outplayed the sophomores. Only the game fighting of the higher classmen prevented the score from being larger than it was. Racine, who played half-back on the Brown S. A. T. C. eleven, was slated to start the game at half-back for the sophomores, but he put his elbow out of joint on the first play and was forced to retire from the game. He was replaced by Ortgies. Puels, a 'varsity guard, who was in the sophomore lineup, was also injured.

The game started with the sophomores kicking off to the freshmen, who were defending the north goal. Brainerd kicked off. The ball, aided somewhat by the strong wind, struck Perry and bounded over the goal line. The freshman quarterback recovered the ball back of the goal. Thus the sophomores scored a safety on the first kickoff. The ball was put in play on the freshmen 20-yard line. On the first play the freshmen gained four yards, which was lost by a penalty on the third play. After an exchange of punts, Transill recovered a fumble by Perry on the freshmen 5-yard line. There 1923 held. After a trick forward pass, which failed completely, the ball passed to the possession of the freshmen who punted out of danger. The only other feature of the first half was a long forward pass, caught by Ferguson, which netted fifteen yards' gain.

The freshman score came in the third period, when Kendall dropped Ferguson's punt on the sophomores' twenty-yard line. Tenney picked up the ball and carried it over the line. Ferguson kicked the goal. On the kickoff Black again ran the ball back for a considerable distance. The freshman eleven made many gains through center. Finally the sophomores held for downs. Toward the end of the game, Hartt intercepted a forward pass and ran forty yards. With the ball on the twenty-yard line, Perry plunged center for four and five yard gains. Then time was called with the ball on the sophomores' five-yard line.

Score by periods:

1922 2 0 0 0—2

Touchdown, Tenney; goal from touchdown, Ferguson; referee Breslin; umpire Jarvis; head linesman, McGee; timer Phister; quarters 10, 8, 10, 8.

ONCE UPON A TIME.

The following extract from "Daniel's" column in the "New York Sun" makes pleasant reading for Trinity men:

"The season of 1908, at the College of the City of New York, was started with a squad of fourteen men, three of whom were of real 'varsity caliber. It was impossible to have scrimmages and very little hard practice was held. Whatever little work was indulged in was held on rockbound Jasper field. The season was opened with a defeat by Stevens. Further setbacks by Union and Muhlenberg and a victory over St. John's of Brooklyn followed. Then came the contest with Trinity. The Hartford eleven had held the Army to only a few points and it was evident that it would be suicidal to keep the engagement. The City College players held a meeting and decided to ask that the game be cancelled. When this proposition was broached to a certain member of the faculty, he declined to act, but promised instead to get into touch with a friend on the Trinity faculty and 'see what could be done about it.' Two days later the City College instructor announced that the matter had been arranged. 'The score will not go beyond 35 points,' he said. 'You fellows go up to Hartford and play for all you are worth. Never fear about getting a mauling. It's all fixed—35 and no more.'

"So the City College warriors—thirteen of them—left for Hartford. They lined up against Trinity and then the slaughter began. It soon became evident that the Trinity players had heard nothing about the 35 point agreement. Touchdowns came thick and fast and the light City collegians fell in every scrimmage. Finally, with some minutes to go and the score at the 95 mark, there were not enough conscious City College players left to make even three short of an eleven. The game was called. That was the end of football at City College. The rest of the schedule was cancelled and the game was put on the shelf. Let those who seek to revive the game remember Trinity and then make sure of their ground."

In a few days the first copy of "The Chapbook" will appear. The college has needed such a magazine since "The Tablet" ceased to exist back in 1908. The quarterly has a capable literary board. Apparently it has also a splendid policy and fine aims. This policy and these aims, if achieved, will help Trinity a great deal. "The Tripod" recognizes the fact. It takes this opportunity—the first it has had—to wish "The Chapbook" a successful, brilliant career.

Prominent New York alumni recently mailed letters to all the alumni, relative to the football situation at college. They wish to get a coach and a training table, and have started a campaign to obtain funds for next year. To work out such a plan successfully, the generous support of each alumnus is needed. In case a letter concerning this failed to reach you, get in touch with O. D. Budd, 66 Broadway, New York City.

COMMUNICATION.

Acting President Henry A. Perkins has received the following letter from William Bowie, '93. Bowie received his M.A. from Trinity, and recently his Sc.D.

My dear Professor Perkins:

It may interest you to know that last spring I was appointed Acting Chairman of the "American Section of a proposed International Geophysical Union", which, it was expected, would be established in Brussels, Belgium, at the conference of the International Research Council, held in July, 1919. The American Section held a number of meetings and outlined policies that should be advocated by the scientists of the United States at the Brussels meeting.

2—The first of July I went to Brussels as the Chairman of the Geophysical Delegation from the United States and attended the meetings of the International Research Council, which were held from July 18 to July 28, 1919. At that Conference it was provided that there should be organized an International Research Council, with several sub-divisions called Unions, each Union being divided into committees or sections, which should take care of special lines of scientific research.

3—There were provided an Astronomical Union, a Chemical Union, and a Geodetic and Geophysical Union. On account of my work in geodesy, I was particularly interested in the last-mentioned Union, which has sections covering Geodesy, Terrestrial Magnetism and Electricity, Meteorology, Seismology, Volcanology and Physical Oceanography.

4—Several scientists of the United States were elected as officers of the various organizations, including myself. I was elected President of the Section of Geodesy of the International Geodetic and Geophysical Union. This Section of Geodesy is to carry on the work of the old International Geodetic Association.

5—The advantage of having the International Research Council, with its various branches, instead of the old arrangement, is that there will be closer coöperation among the scientists of the world engaged on allied branches of science, and the central organization will be in a better position to provide funds to carry on international research work in science.

6—At the Brussels meeting there were present only delegates from allied countries. The provision was made to invite allied countries not represented at the Brussels meeting, of which there were several, and the neutrals nations, to enter the organizations. The future status of the Central Powers will not be considered until a later conference. It was thought inadvisable to have those countries join with the allied and neutral countries, for very obvious reasons, in organizing the various scientific societies. Whether they will later be invited to join was not considered.

Very sincerely yours,

WILLIAM BOWIE,
Chief, Division of Geodesy.

INSPIRATIONS.

The basement door bursts open. A dozen wild forms tear madly out, into the cold north wind. They seem to be clad only in those articles of wearing apparel which have made the second, the twenty-second, and the fourth letters of the alphabet famous. They jump excitedly around. Now a still wilder figure dashes out. Evidently he should not be at large, for he howls loudly and brandishes a revolver. The white-clad figures seem cowed. They fall in line, awaiting their fate. Whom will the maniac shoot first?

There is a report, a flash, and a cloud of smoke. In the twinkling of an eye the half-naked ones seem to be trying to cut down the distance between themselves and the horizon.

No, this is not a scene at a home for shell-shock victims; it is the start of last Tuesday's cross-country run.

ON THE CAMPUS.

Alpha Tau Kappa fraternity held its initiation banquet at Harry Bond's restaurant Wednesday evening, November 26. There were about forty present.

Myron R. Jackson, '18, who is studying at the Cornell Medical School in New York City, spent Saturday and Sunday on the campus.

November 29, a tablet, containing the names of the I. K. A. men who served in the World's War, was unveiled at the I. K. A. Lodge by the Sigma Chapter of Delta Phi. It is especially dedicated to James Palache, '18, killed in action.

SENATE MINUTES.

At the monthly meeting of the Senate held last night in the Union, the following men were present: Lyons (president), Reitemeyer, Sturman, Parker, England, Levin, Clark, Ives, Ameluxen, Jackson and Hodder.

Under miscellaneous business, Professor Stanley L. Galpin was unanimously elected to fill the place vacated by Professor Humphrey, on the Student Advisory Committee.

The fact that gaming has been going on in the Union was brought to the attention of the Senate. Sturman, chairman of the Union committee, was authorized to see that the rule against gaming be enforced at once.

After a great deal of discussion, the rule, passed by the Senate at a previous meeting, regarding the status of certain men on the campus, was rescinded. This resolution stated that all students, who were freshmen during the S. A. T. C. and who left college immediately at the close of the training school, be considered freshmen on the campus this fall.

SENATE MINUTES.

A further discussion of the subject followed. It seemed to the Senate that the sophomore class had not acted wisely in the matter. Therefore, the secretary was authorized to send a letter to the president of the said class with the request that he read it as soon as possible to the entire class. The communication will show how such matters should be conducted in the future.

It was moved and seconded, that no disciplinary methods be undertaken by the sophomore class without the expressed approval of the Senate.

The matter of selling the freshmen rules to the incoming freshmen was discussed. It was moved and seconded that, in the future, the rules should not be sold, but given away. In this way a valuable tradition of the college will be maintained.

Reitemeyer reported to the Senate the advent of a new publication, to be known as "The Chapbook." This magazine will follow somewhat in the footsteps of "The Trinity Tablet." "The Chapbook" aspires to place Trinity in the enviable position it had during the regime of its worthy predecessor. Hodder moved and Reitemeyer seconded, that the Senate heartily express its approval of the new quarterly.

Hodder reported that, after a thorough consideration, it seemed that debating would not be supported by the student body. A motion was made and seconded that debating be dropped from the list of student activities.

Discussion of the Musical Clubs followed. A strong sentiment was expressed that Trinity should continue to have these clubs. A suggestion was made that the subject be brought to the attention of the students at the next meeting of the student body.

The publicity of the college was then considered. The question arose concerning the activity of the Press Club. A number of ways to make the work undertaken by it more effective was discussed. A resolution was made and seconded, that Messrs. Lyon and Sturman bring the entire matter before the General Advisory Committee at its next meeting.

L. W. HODDER Secretary.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NOTES.

Penn State College has established a department of college publicity and has secured a former editor of the undergraduate paper, "The Penn State Collegian", to take charge.

M. I. T. has established a laundry on the campus, run by the institute authorities, for the use of students.

Eight of the sixteen new professors at Lafayette this year have been in the service, four being overseas men.

In order to foster college spirit, no men are permitted to take girls to the varsity games at the University of Washington. All sit in a rooters' section and cheer. U. of W. is a co-ed college.

Middlebury is to have a winter Chautauqua course this year. It has been secured through an appropriation of $1000 by the trustees.

Plans are being made at Tufts for the construction of a new board track which will cost $1000.

The overseas men at Tufts College have formed a foreign service club.

The Tufts Rifle Club has been organized and has put its range in condition. The government furnishes two hundred rounds of ammunition per member.

"Forget that you were a senior in 'Frog Hollow' High School. Stick by your college with all the spirit and energy in you." — Connecticut (C. A. C.) Campus.

Rensselaer Institute has organized a student Y. M. C. A. The faculty has heartily endorsed the scheme.

A service league has been organized at Connecticut College. Among its activities are: Student Employment, Book Exchange, Lost and Found Articles, and Information as to Activities of Other Colleges.

The honor system at Penn State is under fire. It is one of the oldest systems in the country, but it is claimed that the students are not living up to the rules.

All Harvard freshmen are required to take some form of athletics this year. The new rule has increased the university budget by about $15,000.

Yale will contribute about a thousand books to help re-establish the Library of the University of Louvain.

It has been suggested that a theatre be erected at Yale in memory of the Yale men who died in the great war.

M. I. T. is to enter a chess team in the Metropolitan League and expects a successful season. The team will compete with teams from Tufts, Harvard and other colleges as well as with teams from clubs in and around Boston.

The Massachusetts Agricultural College is conducting a drive for $26,000 to erect a building as a memorial to those "Aggie" men who died in the war.

A course in social economics, with the purpose of training students for social service work, has been inaugurated this year at Johns Hopkins.
