BASEBALL TEAM LOSES TWO GAMES

TRINITY NINE FAILS TO WIN FROM AGGIES OF TWO STATES.

Trinity dropped two games last week, failing to score at all on Connecticut Aggies, and falling before the Massachusetts students of husbandry, 11 to 2, in a game that was curtailed at the fifth inning by rain. Mass. Aggies took advantage of an experimental lineup of the Trinity team and pounded Ortgies hard during the first two innings. The infield failed to field as well as usual with Reynolds on first and Leeke on second. As soon as the men were shifted around so that the team was lined up in its regular manner, Mass. Aggies ceased to score.

Trinity 0—C. A. C. 3.

Superior playing on the part of the Connecticut Aggie baseball team was the reason for their victory over Trinity at Storrs on Wednesday, May 19. Trinity was able to touch Johnson for only two hits. Trinity got a man to second in the first inning on a base on balls and a sacrifice, but during the rest of the game, only three Trinity players had an opportunity to get to second, and all three were caught stealing. The Trinity team was handicapped by the loss of Reddish from the infield. He was knocked out of the game in the first inning, when one of Johnson's pegs hit him in the face. Walsh played second during the rest of the game.

Former Princeton Player to Guide 1920 Eleven

MEMBER OF 1915 ALL-AMERICAN TEAM.

Harry M. Lamberton, Jr., star half-back, center, and end at Princeton, has been selected by the New York alumni committee to coach the Trinity football team next year. Announcement that the new coach had signed a contract to guide the Blue and Gold eleven was made by the New York committee on Friday.

The new coach is as versatile as well as brilliant football player, as anyone who followed the football careers of the "Big Three" during the years Lamberton wore the Orange and Black of Princeton can testify. In 1912, Lamberton held down one of the half-back positions for the Princeton freshmen. In 1913 and 1914 he played end on the Princeton varsity, and in 1915 he played both end and center. In 1915 he was placed at left end on Walter Camp's All-American of the half-back positions on the first eleven.

Lamberton was in the navy during the war and in 1917 he assisted Gil Dobie in coaching the team at the Naval Academy. In 1918 he played end on the All-Navy team and last year he coached the ends at Princeton.

Coach Lamberton is expected to come to Trinity on Thursday, May 27, to meet the football men and talk over the season's prospects with them. It is understood that the new coach is in favor of having the men return to college a few weeks before the opening of the Christmas term, rather than having them go to a summer training camp, as was done several years ago.

PRESIDENT-ELECT PREACHES AT TRINITY CHURCH.

Rev. R. B. Ogilby Speaks on Spirit of God as a Calming Influence.

Rev. Remsen Brinckerhoff Ogilby, president-elect of the college, made his first public appearance in Hartford on Sunday when he preached at the morning service at Trinity Church. There were a large number of Trinity men present as well as several Harvard men.

Mr. Ogilby's text was taken from Genesis: "And darkness was on the deep, and the spirit of God was on the face of the waters." Pointing out that this was from the second verse of the Bible and that it told of the beginning of the world, Mr. Ogilby said that the prelude told of trouble, of chaos and the stage before the change into creation. But it was the second clause which he preferred, the coming of order with the creation.

Mr. Ogilby was present at the communion service at the college on Sunday morning. During his stay in Hartford he was entertained by friends, and left Sunday afternoon for St. Paul's School at Concord, N. H. where he is teaching.

Bishop at Chapel.

The Right Reverend Chauncey B. Brewster, Bishop of Connecticut, made his annual visitation to the college on Sunday, May 16, and administered the rites of confirmation to Harold V. Lynch, '20. He took his text from Isaiah—"They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength", and in his sermon pointed out that renewed strength was a universal need, and that the one way of renewing strength was by the sacrament.

PROFESSOR URBAN REPLIES TO STUDENT BODY.

Wishes to be Thought of as a Devoted Friend of Trinity.

Professor Wilbur M. Urban of the Philosophy Department has sent the following letter to the Trinity student body in reply to the resolutions which the student body presented to him when it was reported that he was to leave Trinity:

"To the Student Body of Trinity College:

"The very generous words in which you have expressed the desire that I might remain with the college has touched me deeply. I heartily wish that I might reply in the only adequate way—by reconsidering my decision.

"That is impossible, and I can only thank you from the bottom of my heart, not only for this present evidence of your good will, but for the uniform courtesy and consideration that I have received from the long line of Trinity men it has been my privilege to teach.

"I hope you will continue to think of me as a devoted friend of the College and accept my best wishes for a united, prosperous and happy future under the leadership of the new president to whom we have all been glad to pledge our support.

Faithfully yours,

WILBUR M. URBAN."

It was announced on Monday that Doctor Wilbur M. Urban, Professor of Philosophy and Psychology had accepted an offer from Dartmouth College to become head of the Department of Philosophy in that institution. He has been at Trinity for eighteen years and will complete a term of remarkable service. A successor will probably not be chosen until the opening of college next fall.

TWO WESLEYAN GAMES NEXT WEEK

TEAM TO MEET ANCIENT RIVALS ON TRINITY FIELD NEXT MONDAY.

The climax of the baseball season will come with the Wesleyan games on May 31 and June 2, the first at Hartford, and the second at Middletown. The Trinity team has over a week in which to round into shape for the first contest with their ancient rivals, and it looks as if batting practice is the thing with which the Trinity nine should occupy itself. The two teams are fairly matched according to that most treacherous thing—dope based on past performances.

Both teams have played Brown and both were defeated by the Providence collegians. Trinity lost 7 to 2, while Wesleyan was shut out 2 to 0. Loose fielding on the part of Wesleyan was responsible for the Brown tallies. Trinity lost on account of a string of bunched hits. According to this game, Trinity is two runs better than Wesleyan in scoring power, but five runs less effective as a defensive team. These figures, however, are not borne out by the records of the teams during their other contests.

Wesleyan had played seven games up to May 21, winning four, and losing three. Yale, Bowdoin, Johns Hopkins and Union were defeated, but the Red and Black lost to N. Y. University, Lehigh, and Brown. Wesleyan has been hitting the ball hard, collecting fifty-eight safe clouts in their seven games, against the thirty-eight hits that Trinity has secured in seven games; but the Wesleyan nine made thirty misplays in the field in their early games.

Wesleyan has the edge in the pitching department, due to quantity rather than quality. Reynolds, judging by his performances this year, can meet either Green or Connolly of Wesleyan, and, other things being equal, win the game. Whether Trinity can develop enough hitters to equalize the Wesleyan sluggers is one of the contingencies which would make things equal. The Trinity team is handicapped by having only one pitcher. The fact that Wesleyan has two able pitchers is apt to tell heavily in their favor with only a single day between the games.

The probable lineups are:

WESLEYAN.

The baseball team has still its two most important games to play. On May 31 it will meet Wesleyan on Trinity Field, and on June 2 the team will play a return game at Middletown.

It is hardly necessary to say that Wesleyan is our oldest rival, and that every undergraduate and alumnus would like nothing better than to see Trinity the victor in these games. We can count on the team to do its best. Can we count on the student body to support the players? Every one of us should be in the cheering section for the home game, and many of us should try to accompany the team to Middletown. Let us do our share towards winning these games.

DR. URBAN.

It is with great regret that we hear that Dr. Urban is to sever his professional connection with Trinity. During his eighteen years with us he has been not only a capable and efficient instructor, but has been a true friend and advisor to those undergraduates who have been in need of the help which he has always been ready to give.

Dartmouth is indeed fortunate in procuring the services of Dr. Urban. Trinity, in future years, will miss him. Those who are now undergraduates, and those who are alumni, are fortunate—they, at least, have had the opportunity to know and to respect him. To Dr. Urban we extend our thanks for the services he has rendered us, and we assure him of our best wishes for the future.

FOOTBALL.

The alumni have at least announced their choice of a football coach for next fall. In a few days Mr. Lamberton will come here to talk over the situation with those men who are interested. Let us hope that he will receive our strong support from the start, and that Trinity will under his guidance, be able to place a record-breaking team in the field next September.

A CHANCE TO DO SOME BOOSTING.

THE TRIPOD has received a communication from Acting President Perkins, in which he says he will be glad to give the names of those men who have applied to him for information concerning Trinity, to anyone who desires them.

This is an excellent chance for us to get in touch with men who seem to be interested in our college. Why not look over the list, at least, and see if the names of some of our acquaintances are there? Personal letters from the undergraduates to these prospective sub-freshmen will do a great deal towards making them decide to enter Trinity next fall.

THE TRIPOD wishes to congratulate Mr. Bacon on his position at Harvard, although it regrets his departure from Trinity.

TECH WINS N. E. INTERCOLLEGIATES. Trinity Fails to Score—Wesleyan Meet Friday.

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology won the annual New England Intercollegiate championship track and field meet at Cambridge, Mass., on May 23. This is the fourth successive year that Technology has captured the title.

The running paths were under water to a depth ranging from two to six inches and the field was a quagmire. As a result, some of the field events had to be decided on the trial performances.

Four men represented Trinity. Ameluxen qualified in the trials of the 220-yard hurdles but failed to place in the finals. Captain Ransom was somewhat outclassed in the dashes. Hungerford finished eighth in a field of twenty in the mile. Bill Nelson won the trials of the high jump by a jump of 5 feet 7 inches, but in the finals could only make 5 feet 4 inches, because of the slippery ground. The high jump was won by a jump of 5 feet 4 3/4 inches.

On the whole the results were very gratifying. Trinity will meet Wesleyan on the Wesleyan track on Friday, May 28. Wesleyan obtained eleven points in the Intercollegiates through the efforts of Anderson who got two third places in the weight events, and Stimson, second in the 880-yard run. On Thursday, in addition to the men who ran in the Intercollegiates, Trinity will have Lynch in the broad jump, Buckley in the half mile, and Clapp in the two mile, who can be depended upon for a number of points and Wesleyan will have her hands full.

TENNIS TEAM DEFEATED.

Wesleyan Takes Five Out of Six.
J. Ortgies Only Trinity Winner.

The Trinity Tennis team was defeated, 5 to 1, Thursday afternoon, May 20, on the Pope Park courts by the Wesleyan team. Jack Ortgies was the individual star of the match, defeating Steele of Wesleyan in the singles. The summary:

Swift, Wesleyan, defeated Hartzmark, Trinity, 6-4, 6-1.

J. Ortgies, Trinity, defeated Steele, Wesleyan, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Leland, Wesleyan, defeated, H. Ortgies, Trinity, 6-1, 6-0.

Ott, Wesleyan, defeated Levin, Trinity, 6-4, 6-3.

Ott and Leland, Wesleyan, defeated J. and H. Ortgies, Trinity, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4.

Swift and Steele, Wesleyan, defeated Hartzmark and Levin, Trinity, 6-0, 6-2.

A. A. Meeting.

Tenison W. Newsom was elected manager of basketball for next year at a meeting of the Athletic Association last Tuesday evening. Mohnkern was voted his letter for his efforts in getting the sport started at Trinity. The matter of a testimonial for Coach Clark of the track team was discussed and it was voted to levy a tax upon the student body to secure one for him. The assistant managers of track were put in charge of future interscholastic track meets, and the president of the A. A. was empowered to appoint a committee to draw up a constitution.

R. E. BACON TO TEACH AT HARVARD.

Trinity English Instructor Begins Duties at Cambridge in September.

Robert E. Bacon who has been instructor in English here since January, 1919, will leave in June to accept a position as instructor in English at Harvard University under Dean Charles N. Greenough. His work will be largely connected with the teaching of English composition, and he will probably take in Radcliffe as well as Harvard.

Mr. Bacon was graduated from Lafayette in 1917 with the degree of Ph. B. As an undergraduate there he was prominent in literary and dramatic affairs, being editor-in-chief of "The Melange" the Lafayette year book and a member of the editorial board of the Lafayette newspaper. After leaving Lafayette he went to Harvard where he received the degree of A. M. in 1918. During the war he was an ensign in the navy. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Delta Upsilon fraternities. Mr. Bacon's home is in Bridgeton, N. J.

Since coming to Trinity, Mr. Bacon has taken an active interest in undergraduate activities, especially those of a literary nature. He helped to start "The Trinity Chapbook", and coached the sophomore smoker show. Recently he has been acting as leader of an informal group of men interested in the drama who have been meeting weekly.

TRINITY VERY MUCH PRESENT AT DETROIT.

Three Alumni Give Trinity Prominence at Detroit Luncheon.

"The Tripod" is indebted to Norton Ives, '16, for the following clipping from the Detroit "Times", containing an account of how he and his brother C. F. Ives, '18, and Parker Holden, '18, put Trinity on the map at an intercollegiate luncheon at Detroit. The article was written by James Schermerhorn, the editor of the paper, who made the principal address at the luncheon. The story appeared under the head "Two are Company; Trinity a Crowd."

"Every college had given its song at the intercollegiate collation at the Statler; every yell had been heard but Silence, which someone has put down as the college yell of the School of Experience. But we will let that pass.

"Michigan's "Yellow and the Blue" and locomotive had them all going, or nearly so, of course. Harvard was there emphatically but Yale a little more so, and Cornell came through convincingly with her hurrahs and Hughie Jennings.

"But when the roll call of the colleges reached Trinity three young men arose solemnly as became that stately and historic institution, and everyone felt that the moment for a minor strain in the yellfest had arrived.

"But you should have heard them vociferate! Knowing that numerically they were Trinity they produced noise to match. Of their collective weight of 400 pounds, 300 must have been voice alone. In a viva voce vote those three could have carried the League of Nations with a whoop."
