OVERTIME GAME LOST TO STEVENS

Hoboken Team Defeats Trinity,
32 to 30.

NORDLUND SHINES.

Trinity Guard's Basket Ties Score
With Seven Seconds to Play.

The basketball team lost a slashing overtime battle to Stevens Tech at the Hopkins Street gymnasium on February 4, 32 to 30. The largest advantage held by either team was five points. Stevens lead early in the second half. With five minutes to play Trinity led 23 to 22. Kurtz, who did most of the visitors' scoring, dropped two long field goals, followed by a foul. Miller caged a double counter which, with two foul goals by Bolles, brought the score to 27 all. With one minute to play Kurtz again dropped a long shot and sent the visitors into the lead. Time out was called with forty-five seconds to go. When play was resumed Nordlund took a desperate chance from beyond the middle of the floor and caged a perfect basket, the ball swishing through the netting as the timers' watches recorded seven seconds to play.

Shortly before the second half ended Trinity lost both Miller and Bolles on personal fouls, and played the overtime period with substitutes in the lineup. The Blue and Gold went into the lead when Tansill caged a

ONE TERM RULE FOR SPORTS.

ATHLETIC ADVISORY COUNCIL DEBARS MEN WHO HAVE NOT BEEN STUDENTS FOR ONE TERM.

FOOTBALL WILL BE HIT HARDEST.

SWATH CUT BY MID-YEARS ONE OF REASONS FOR RULING.
(By the Managing Editor.)

A rule, debarring from intercollegiate athletic competition as members of Trinity's 'varsity teams, such men as have not been students at Trinity for at least one term, was passed by the athletic advisory council last Wednesday.

The move, which has been under consideration for some time, and has formed a subject for campus discussion, came as a distinct surprise, to the student body, which had no inkling of the plans of the council. A meeting of the Athletic Association was held in the union Thursday night at which the rule was discussed by supporters and opponents. Although no vote was taken, the sentiment of the majority seemed to favor the rule. Nearly everyone supported the rule, but the minority felt that the present was an inopportune time to put it into effect.

Effect on Football.

The rule will mean that the 'varsity football team and the 'varsity basketball team will have to get along without freshmen; the football team through the whole season, and the basketball team until after mid-years. This means that there must be a radical change in the football policy, for there will be no freshman material available for next year's eleven. Last season the majority of the first string men were freshmen, and the same conditions existed to only a slightly less extent the year before. Captain-elect Tansill has taken the stand that Trinity can not afford to put a one term rule into operation without loss of athletic prestige through poor teams, and cites Brown University as an example of an institution which plays freshmen on its teams. The advocates of the rule have already made up next year's team on paper, and claim that there are thirty-eight men in the present junior and sophomore classes who have football experience—eleven of whom are letter men at Trinity, and nineteen of whom have played on the football squad here.

The supporters of the rule are also urging it as the means of making possible freshman teams. They say that college spirit is built upon class spirit and that it is impossible to discipline freshmen when the biggest men of the class are fighting Trinity's battles with her ancient rivals on the football field. Freshman teams, they assert, would give the freshman class something to fight for, would promote class unity and class spirit, and lay the basis for a better college spirit. The freshman basketball team of the Class of 1922 which played many of the preparatory schools of the state has been cited as an example of the advertising a college receives from freshman teams.

BISHOP NICHOLAI TO SPEAK BEFORE P. S. CLUB. Celebrated Serbian to Talk on European Reconstruction.

"Reconstruction of Europe" will be the subject of an address by Bishop Nicholai of Serbia at the meeting of the Political Science Club on February 15. He is described by Professor Humphrey as the most celebrated man whom the club has brought to Trinity, and is speaking at some of the larger universities of the United States.

Bishop Nicholai was born in 1882 and studied at the Universities of Belgrade and Kief. In 1912 he was appointed professor of theology at the University of Belgrade and was made crown chaplain in the same year. He was a member of the mission sent to America by the Serbian government in 1915.

In 1916-17 he visited England where he spoke in many colleges and churches and while there was honored by the University of Glasgow with the degree of Doctor of Divinity. He was made Bishop of Chacak in Central Serbia early in 1919 and last November was made Bishop of Ochrida in Southern Serbia, near Albania. He is president of the Serbian Advisory Council of Serbian Child Welfare Association.

Among his better known literary works are: "Life of Christ", "Thoughts About Superman", "The Resurrection of Serbia", "Sermons on the Lord's Prayer", and "Serbia in Light and Darkness." The last two have been printed in English with prefaces by the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Bishop Nicholai's talk has a particular interest because of the fact that he is a native of the Balkans,

ENDOWMENT DRIVE IN SPRING.

DEFINITE ANNOUNCEMENT MADE BY PRESIDENT OGILBY
FOLLOWING MEETING AT HARTFORD—DETAILED PLANS
NOT YET ANNOUNCED.

Definite announcement that Trinity's drive for a larger endowment would be started this spring was made last Friday by President Remsen B. Ogilby, following a luncheon given by him for prominent alumni at the University Club in Hartford. Details as to the exact date of starting the drive, the amount to be set as the goal, organization, and the purposes for which the money will be used have not yet been announced.

It is understood that one of the first needs of the college, to be filled with the money raised by the drive, will be a new gymnasium, containing a swimming pool. A new chapel, a larger commons, and more ground for use in athletics are also under consideration. As previously reported in THE TRIPOD, President Ogilby stated at the annual banquet of the New York Alumni Association that he hoped to see work on a new gymnasium started by spring.

A committee, appointed last summer as a sub committee of the endowment committee, has been considering sites for the new buildings on the campus, and it is understood that the original plan for a quadrangle, using Jarvis, Northam and Seabury as the west side, and Boardman and Jarvis Laboratories for the south side has been abandoned. The members of this committee are President Ogilby, S. B. Trowbridge, Hollis S. Candee, and Charles G. Woodward.

Those present at the luncheon last week were President Ogilby, Judge Joseph Buffington of Pittsburgh, Alexander Sibley of Detroit, George Howell of Boston, Robert Thorne of New York, and Shiras Morris, C. D. Woodward, Edgar F. Waterman, Henry A. Perkins, J. H. Kelso Davis and Theodore C. Hudson of Hartford.

A NEW RULE.

Much discussion has been prevalent on the campus since the passing of the "One Term Rule" governing athletics. It has long been evident that Trinity has been in need of just such a rule. The advisability of adopting it at the present time has been questioned, but we are sure that such a step can be only for the best interests of Trinity in the future.

THE PROM.

We feel that once more the Class of 1922 should be congratulated on its excellent Prom. The event was one of which Trinity College may well be proud. A standard has been set, to attain which, the future Junior classes will have to labor hard.

DELAY.

From the scant amount of information obtainable, it would seem that our Endowment campaign is due to start some time during the spring. We hope that the delay in starting this important project has served the committee to good purpose, and that the campaign will be, as it certainly should be, a decided success.

WORDS OF WISDOM.

An occasion which recalled to us the fact that the Sophomore class made rules regarding the behavior of the Freshmen some time ago was the last Athletic Association meeting. Those upperclassmen—of the old school, if you please—who heard, with amusement, members of the class of 1924 give forth words of advice and worldly wisdom, have cause to feel that such actions were somewhat out of place. Free speech should be denied to no one, still, those who choose to enjoy the privilege should be sure that they qualify to speak before doing so.

COLLEGE MEETING.

Routine Matters Discussed—Usual Lenten Services.

The regular monthly meeting of the college body was held in the public speaking room Monday morning and was devoted to several routine matters. It was announced that first hour classes would be omitted on Ash Wednesday and that the old Trinity custom of a voluntary noon service each day during Lent would be continued. President Ogilby extended public congratulations to the sophomore hop and junior prom committees, and expressed his pleasure over the work of the undergraduate representatives on the discipline committee. He also spoke of the campaign for the Near East Relief, and this matter was referred to the Senate.

Jesters Plays on February 28.

The Jesters will present their two plays, "The Man who Married a Dumb Wife", and "The Medicine Man", which were originally scheduled for Junior Week, in Alumni Hall on February 28, according to the latest plans. This date falls within Lent, but the proceeds of the productions are to be devoted to charity. Miss Hallie F. Gelbart of Hartford is coaching the plays, and rehearsals are being held regularly.

SENATE MEETING.

Spanish as Modern Language Credit and Change in Number of Cuts are Requested.

At a meeting of the Senate last Friday afternoon it was voted to petition the faculty to allow Spanish I as a modern language credit, and to allow each man two cuts for each course he is taking. The present ruling gives one credit for Spanish as an elective subject, and allows each man in full standing ten cuts a term. The objection to the cut ruling is that the man who is carrying six or seven courses gets no more allowed absences than the man with only five.

The Senate also discussed the one-term rule at some length, taking no action, and the matter of enforcing the Freshmen rules.

John F. Forward, '96, has been re-elected president of the University Club of Hartford.

Leo J. Noonan, '14, has been elected assistant clerk of the House of Representatives in the Connecticut General Assembly.

'20—Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Lewis of Waterbury have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Hazel Louise Lewis, to Donald Emerson Puffer of Waterbury. Miss Lewis was graduated in June from Saint Margaret's School in Waterbury, and Mr. Puffer was graduated from Trinity College at the same time. He is a member of the Alpha Chi Chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon and was prominent in college activities.

ONE TERM RULE.

Freshman Athletes Flunk.

One of the chief causes for the passing of the rule, and one of the chief reasons why it has found so many supporters, is the fact that the mid-year examinations showed that only four out of the eighteen freshmen who played on the football squad last season are now in good scholastic standing. Three of the men left college, either before or during the examinations, and it has been pointed out that when a freshman plays on the team one year and is not in college the next year, it gives scandal mongers an opportunity to insinuate that the man was paid to play football during his first year and that the college was unable to meet his financial demands for a second season. There has, furthermore, been a feeling that some men were coming to Trinity to play freshman football their first year and then go to a college where they felt that they could gain more fame, using Trinity's lack of a freshman rule as a stepping stone for purely selfish ambitions.

The reasons advanced by the supporters and opponents of the rule as given above were all advanced at the meeting of the Athletic Association last Thursday night by the various speakers, who included some of the freshman members of the football squad. One of the important details of the meeting was the reading of the constitution of the Athletic Association by Graduate Manager Hudson. The constitution of the association provides for the formation of the advisory council which passed the rule and gives it unlimited power. Hudson, in commenting upon this, stated that he felt certain that the committee would reverse its action if it became apparent that the student body did not want the rule. He also suggested amendments to the constitution, providing for the admission of the basketball manager to the council, and for the reduction of the number of men constituting a quorum at a meeting of the association.

Comment.

Trinity's latest move in adopting the one-term rule is a good one,—it is a step that should result in the uplifting of athletics, which have not been over-successful financially or otherwise lately, at the college. Its adoption five years ago would probably have prevented the bitter enmity that now exists between the student foul. Kurtz again came to the fore with a goal from the floor and followed it with a foul. Stevens then resorted to a back court game and played safe. Desperate efforts on the part of the Trinity forwards to break up this passing game were unavailing and the game ended with Stevens leading 32 to 30.

The first half opened with both teams playing a close guarding game. Trinity scored four foul goals before the visitors registered a point. Kurtz broke through with two fouls and two double counters. Miller and Bolles each registered field goals. The half seesawed along in this way until Stevens led 18 to 16 at half time.

The Tech men opened the second period with a rush increasing their advantage to five points before Trinity scored. Miller dropped a field goal which Nordlund duplicated. Kurtz caged a free throw and Miller again broke through. With five minutes to play Trinity led 23 to 22. Bolles made two fouls good and Miller scored his third basket of the period. Then came the three sensational shots which tied the count at 29 all as the whistle blew. Before Nordlund pulled his rescue act Stevens attempted a back court game to make the game safe. However, its result were disastrous as Ray intercepted a pass and turned it into the tying counter.

Kurtz accounted for twenty-three of the victors' total, fourteen points from the floor and nine from the fifteen foot mark. In addition he was the main cog in Tech's floor game.

The Trinity team, as a whole, showed the best form of the season. The passing game was more accurate and faster than usual and the shooting more accurate. Tansill, Nordlund, and Hoard played excellent basketball throughout at the guard positions. Bolles entered into the passing game better than he has in recent games, and gave a creditable performance from the foul line. Miller, a newcomer, in Canner's position, played the most aggressive floor game any Trinity forward has shown this season. The summary:

Trinity		Stevens

JUNIOR PROM.

Dance Proves Fitting Climax to One of Best of Junior Weeks.

The "Five o'clock Prom", given by the Class of 1922 in Alumni Hall on Monday, January 31, with nearly 100 couples present, was the climax to one of the best Junior weeks in the history of the college. Dancing started shortly after nine o'clock and the thirtieth dance ended at five the following morning. Several new features were introduced, the most notable of which was the singing of Trinity songs at intermission under the leadership of the college quartet. The Prom closed with the singing of "Neath The Elms." Wittstein's Orchestra of New Haven furnished the music.

Among those present were: Tansill, '22, with Miss Violet Carucken; Hungerford, '22, with Miss Kathryn Wells; Hicks, '21, with Miss Beulah Robinson; Callaghan, '22, Byrnes, '22, with Miss Dorothy E. E. K. Hubbard Resigns Treasurership.

E. Kent Hubbard, '92, of Middletown, who has been treasurer of the Connecticut Reformatory for a number of years, and who has established a fine system of accounting, which has been, or is being introduced among state institutions, resigned the treasurership at the regular meeting of the directors of that institution held at Cheshire recently. He resigned because of the fact that, as he was a member of the state board of finance, he felt he should not at the same time spend money granted by recommendation of that board. His resignation was accepted with regrets and resolutions were passed thanking him for his valuable services.

SULLIVAN TO COACH
1921 BASEBALL TEAM.
Portland Man Highly Recommended by Alumni.

Graduate manager Theodore Hudson, '14, has announced that Thomas (Logan) Sullivan, has been secured to coach baseball this season.

Sullivan comes from Portland, Conn., highly recommended by many former members of Trinity teams. He is especially noted for his ability to take young men, unversed in the sport, and teaching them the ins and outs of baseball with remarkable results. Some former Trinity players who have been developed by Mr. Sullivan are: Nelson Shepard, '19, Nelson Gildersleeve, Oliver Gildersleeve, Lloyd Gildersleeve, Frank Brainard, and Ted Wessels. The ability of some of these men is well known to most of the present student body. Nelson Shepard was the mainstay of the 1919 team.

Sullivan played on the Savannah, Ga., team of the South Atlantic League and also at Worcester, Mass., and Lynn, Mass., in the New England League. He has been playing professional baseball for eleven years.

year will be the game with Wesleyan always played on Memorial Day. This has been replaced by a game with the Connecticut Aggies at Hartford. Connecticut Aggies have been one of Trinity's hardest opponents in baseball, and should draw as much interest as the old time Wesleyan-Trinity game. Other games in Hartford are with Holy Cross, Bowdoin, Worcester Tech, Massachusetts Aggies, and Springfield. Games away from home include Amherst, Yale, Brown, a return game with Connecticut Aggies, and Williams. The season will be closed with games with St. Stephens, a small Episcopal college at Annandale, N. Y., and Union at Schenectady, N. Y.

Rev. C. E. Jones, '05.

The Reverend Carlos Eugene Jones, a graduate of Trinity College in the Class of 1905, died of heart disease at his father's home in Independence, Iowa, on January 13, 1921.

He was born in Independence on November 23, 1877. He was the son of Carlos David and Edith Lucy (Woodruff) Jones. He prepared for college at the Shattuck School and entered Trinity in the fall of 1901, graduating with the degree of A. B. and salutatorian of the class of 1905. He took his degree of M. A. from the College in 1907. On graduating from Trinity he entered the Berkeley Divinity School where he completed his work in 1907.

During his career as a clergyman he filled various parishes in Iowa, Wisconsin, Connecticut, Rhode Island, and Michigan. At the time of his death he was rector of Saint John's Church, Iron River, Michigan.

During the Spanish-American War he was a private in the 49th Iowa Infantry, in which he served through the entire war.

He was a member of the I. K. A. and Delta Phi.

The announcement that the Rev. Carlos E. Jones had passed away at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Jones, on Second Avenue, N. E., last Thursday afternoon, was received with deep sorrow by his many friends in this community. Although he had been in a weakened condition from heart trouble for some months, he was able to be up and about the house a part of each day, until Thursday, January 13, when his condition grew rapidly worse, his demise occurring at 3.30 o'clock that afternoon.

The Rev. Mr. Jones was a man of unusual mental attainments, and during his school days won many honors and scholarships.

He was ordained to the diaconate at Berkeley Divinity School in June, 1907, and, to the priesthood in Saint James Episcopal Church, this city, in February, 1908. His first rectorship was at LeMara, Iowa, his succeeding charges being at Wauwatosa, Wis.; Saint Mark's Church, New Britain, Conn.; and Saint Stephen's, Providence, R. I. The two latter charges are large parishes where, as curate, he was active in social service and institutional work.

He was a faithful, earnest worker and made many warm friends among all classes. He was active in Boy Scout work, where he was highly esteemed by his young friends. For several months following the resignation of the rector at Providence, he was in entire charge of the parish and was untiring in his ministry to the sick and the afflicted, by whom he was dearly beloved.

In November, 1919, he came West and took up missionary work in Northern Michigan, at Iron River and Crystal Falls and neighboring lumber camps. Last August he came home for a visit and his failing health necessitated his resigning the missionary work in Michigan. It had been the hope of his many friends that a prolonged rest from responsibility might restore him to a measure of physical health, but this hope could not be fulfilled.

The deceased is survived by his parents, two brothers and a sister, George H., of this city, Floyd W., of Indianapolis, and Ethel E., of Chicago. The funeral services were held in Saint James Church Monday at 11 a. m. in charge of Bishop Theodore N. Morrison, of Davenport, assisted by Rev. John Dysart, of Dubuque, Rev. R. J. Campbell, Cedar Rapids, and Rev. Thomas Horton, of West Waterloo. Other clergy in the cancel were Rev. A. H. Brook, rector; Rev. E. H. Rudd, Iowa Falls; Rev. E. D. Mounsey, East Waterloo.

In accordance with the wishes of the deceased and the family, the music, beautifully rendered, bespoke the Christian view of death as but the gate to eternal life, with the sure confidence of a joyful resurrection, and the address of Bishop Morrison was on this theme.

The sympathy of the entire community is extended to the sorrowing family in their bereavement. The parishes at Iron River and Crystal Falls sent an immense wreath of Immortelles and rose buds, and the floral tributes were beautiful and profuse.—Independence (Iowa) Bulletin-Journal.

HOOVER PLEADS FOR EUROPEAN COLLEGE STUDENTS.

Relief From American Students Badly Needed in Central Europe.

Below is the statement issued by Herbert Hoover to the college students of America in behalf of the American Relief Association:

"One hundred thousand of your fellow students in Europe are greatly suffering this winter because they lack food, fuel, and clothing. For the future of Europe these students should stay at their studies. You and I can make this possible.

"We need to assist each student, on the average, to the extent of $10, a total sum of $1,000,000. If every American student will give $3, all of the 100,000 students can be assisted."

The conditions of the students in Europe, especially in the countries of Central Europe is almost beyond description, but the faculties of the old and celebrated universities are no better off than their pupils. In Austria for example, a chauffeur can command a wage of 80,000 kronen while a full professor is lucky to get 34,000 kronen for his yearly salary. Conditions among European professors are well set forth in the following letter to Mr. Hoover from Stephen P. Duggan, director of the Institute for International Education:

Mr. Herbert Hoover, Chairman,
American Relief Administration,
42 Broadway, New York City.

My dear Mr. Hoover:

I wish to point out the wisdom you have shown in including in the relief work the faculties as well as the students of European universities. Their needs are equally distressing. Within a week I have received a letter from an American professor describing very fully his experience in Vienna, which is, I believe, a typical example of what the needs of these professors are. The letter reads:

"Did I tell you about the meal for the professors of the University here? Through the American Relief a daily luncheon is served for 8 crowns per head, sufficient to keep a professor going for the greater part of the day. It is all arranged very tactfully so as not to give the impression of charity and looks like a faculty club. The same meal would be over 100 crowns outside. I saw several professors wrap up the bread made of American flour, to take home to their children.

"As they never had a faculty club bodies at Trinity and Wesleyan as the basis of the feeling that resulted in the breaking of relations twice by these two colleges was the annual gridiron battle fought back in 1915, when Trinity secured the services of George Brickley and defeated Wesleyan. Under the rule adopted yesterday by the athletic council, Brickley would not have been eligible and Wesleyan practically issued an ultimatum following that game to the effect that Trinity either adopt the one-year rule or relations between the two colleges would be broken. Trinity did not adopt it and the two colleges broke. The feeling has never been the same between them since, evidenced by the rebreaking of relations after their first game on the gridiron in five years.

The one-term rule will aid in keeping students at Trinity. As matters stood previous to its adoption, prep. and high school stars of the gridiron came to Trinity with the sole intention of making the football team. The eleven that represented the college during the past season was practically a freshman team and its members neglected their studies in their efforts to become 'varsity players. The mid-year exams came along and with it, disastrous results for some of these first-year men. Some failed and will not play another year; others, having accomplished their motives, plan to leave college and attend some larger institution where they will gain greater athletic recognition than at Trinity. They have not been at Trinity long enough to gain the college spirit; in fact, some of them gained their lone ambition to make the eleven, receive a sweater with a big "T" on it and then seek athletic laurels elsewhere with the fact that they made the Trinity eleven in their freshman year as a recommendation of their athletic ability. The one-term rule forces the pupil to pay more attention to his studies, but at the same time gives him an opportunity to prove that he has some athletic ability either on the diamond, the gridiron, track or basketball court.—"Hartford Courant."

Loomis Trims Second Team.

The second 'varsity basketball team journeyed to Windsor Saturday night and was defeated by Loomis Institute, 40 to 25. At the end of the first half things were fairly even, but in the second half Loomis took the lead.

After the game, the headmaster N. H. Batchelder, entertained the team at his home, where cocoa and cake were served.

The summary:

Trinity		Loomis
Ransom	LF	Sturm
J. Ortgies	RF	Tobin
Brill	C	Hayden
Hoard	LG	Wilder
S. Miller	RG	Bowers

Score, Loomis 40, Trinity Seconds, 25; goals from floor, Sturm 9, Tobin 2, Ortgies 2, Brill 2, Miller 6; goals from fouls, Bowers 14, Miller 5; referee, Barclay; time of halves, 20 minutes.

Walter C. Hathaway, '13.

The funeral of Walter Crane Hathaway, who died at his home, 640 Macon Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., December 27, 1920, after a short illness, was held Wednesday afternoon, December 29, 1920, at 2 o'clock at his late residence. The services were conducted by the Rev. Robert Rogers, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, McDonough Street, near Lewis Avenue, of which Mr. Hathaway was a life-long communicant, and in his youth a choir boy. The interment was in East Hartford, December 31, 1920. Mr. Hathaway was a graduate of the Boys' High School of Brooklyn, and of Trinity College, class of 1913, and following that education he spent a year in study at Liepsic, Saxony, and was there at the outbreak of the World War. He was a member of the firm of John W. Greene & Co., East India merchants, and was an enthusiastic golfer and a member of the St. Alban's Golf Club, and of the Tau Alpha Chapter of Phi Gamma Delta at Trinity. His father, Walter Thurston Hathaway, has for many years been connected with the firm of Colgate & Co., and is a well-known Brooklynite. Mr. Hathaway is also survived by his wife, Mrs. Ruth Viola Adams Hathaway, his mother, Mrs. Annie Crane Hathaway, and a sister Mrs. John C. Hart, of Taunton, Mass.

here before it is proving a great social and, I might say, moral factor in the life of the University. The continued fall of the crown in value will leave this club with a deficit of about $500 in the budget for the winter.

"I should be more than delighted to learn that the faculties of our American Universities would chip in thousands of dollars to the cause of their faculty brethren over here. In the meantime, I am going to contribute what little I can myself."

I was interested to note that my friend states the serving of the luncheon was so tactfully arranged as not to give the impression of charity and that our American idea of the Faculty Club is taking root and becoming a moral factor in the life of the University. The work of administering relief to Europe's hungry people commends itself to all Americans, no matter how it is given, but when the relief can be given in such a tactful way, the American people owe to your Administration a double debt of gratitude. I hope the Faculties of our American Colleges and Universities understand what the situation is among the faculties of European institutions. When they do, they will certainly respond to your appeal generously.

Sincerely yours,
STEPHEN P. DUGGAN,
Director.
