

CENTENNIAL FUND GAINING BUT IS BEHIND SCHEDULE

Class of 1898 Registers Largest Increase, With 11% Gain. Fifteen Classes Advance in Percentage.

FUND MUST SECURE MONEY AT RATE OF $1000 DAILY TO RECEIVE EDUCATION BOARD GIFT.

It Is Imperative That Pledges Be Paid When They Fall Due, As The Rockefeller Foundation Gift Is Based Upon Paid Pledges.

Some mistakes have been discovered in the list of class subscriptions which were published in our last issue. These have been corrected, and we should appreciate it if the readers of THE TRIPOD would call our attention to any further errors.

Since the publication of the last list, the Fund has been steadily growing. The total amount pledged to date is over $302,700. This leaves about $73,000 to be raised before Commencement if we wish to obtain the gift of $125,000 from the General Education Board which will complete the first half million. With the first goal so near, however, much must still be done. In the remaining time between now and the 19th of June, the Fund must receive an average of $1000 a day. This program calls for hard work on the part of all those who are working for the successful future of Trinity.

It has been announced by the Centennial Committee that it is imperative that pledges be paid when they fall due. The conditional gift of the Rockefeller Foundation depends not only upon the amount subscribed, but also upon the amount paid up on pledges.

Following is a list of the classes, with amounts subscribed. The list has been revised since the last issue, and additional pledges and corrections have been recorded.

MASS. AGGIES WIN ON ERRORS

Infield Kicks Game Away. Total of Nine Misplays Made.

TEAM OUTHITS VISITORS BUT FAILS TO CONNECT IN PINCHES

Failure to Field Bunts is Fatal. Two Double Plays Are Only Redeeming Features.

The drop kicking contest to be held next week seems to have inspired the baseball team to emulation. Certainly, the game Wednesday, April 26, was dropped and kicked away. Trinity outhit Massachusetts Aggies nine to eight, but more than nullified this offensive power by making nine errors of commission and several of omission, all of them costly, and accounting for the score, 10 to 2.

The infield chose to display some very good baseball and some very bad baseball. Both varieties came in bunches and the bad spots resulted in many runs. Tobie pitched a creditable game so far as hits were concerned. In only one inning, the second, could the Bay Staters bunch hits for runs. But when they failed to hit, the agriculturists proceeded to squeeze runs across, aided by Tobie's poor fielding of his position. In the eighth frame Massachusetts scored three runs on one hit (a bunt), and one error.

Trinity Fails in Pinches.

On the other hand, Kroeck, the visitors' hurler, was touched for hits in all but one inning, but tightened up when Trinity threatened to score, and yielded only two runs from nine bingles. Seven men left on bases tells the story of the defeat. When hits meant runs they were not forthcoming. In the first inning Norman singled, took second on an error, and advanced to third on a sacrifice, but was left stranded by Reynolds, who struck out.

The next session produced a run. Burns walked and stole. Robinson cracked a double to right scoring the first run. In the third inning the Blue and Gold filled the bases but could not push anyone across. Tobie singled and Norman walked. Cram sacrificed them along. Mackinnon fanned but Reynolds walked, filling the cushions. In the pinch, Burns struck out.

The sixth saw the second and last Trinity trip to the scoring station. Ortgies opened with a single. Reynolds cracked a screaming single to left. Burns sacrificed them along. Nordlund made a gallant attempt and drove a long fly to right, Ortgies scoring after the catch and Reynolds taking third. Robinson whiffed for the last out. In the seventh Tobie and Norman singled and got to third and second, respectively, but their

FIFTEEN OUT TO BEAT RIVAL CLASSES IN FUND PLEDGES

"Ted" Peck Sends Out Personal Appeal to Classmates to Come Through.

ADVERTISING SUGGESTED AS MEANS OF GETTING PLEDGES.

Peck Working for Funds Among North Carolina Yankees.

The following letter has been received from Peck, '15, telling what he is doing to raise money for the Centennial Fund and appealing to his classmates to come through and give the class a better standing. The idea of advertising meets with the approval of the fund executives, and the rest of the letter is so good that while it is addressed primarily to members of 1915, it is applicable to every class. Here it is:

To the Class of 1915—The Boys Who Were Proud to Wear the Black Jersey with Yellow-Jacket Sleeves:

Boys, have you read the Centennial Fund Statistics in THE TRIPOD of April 12? If you have the paper, let's look at it now—if you haven't, send for it quick.

That table of figures is an indictment of our class.

You will note that we number ninety-five—the largest class of all. Therefore, our quota is the largest. What have we done about it? We have fallen down.

Out of the last fifteen classes listed, we stand fifth in subscriptions. Look at 1912 with $6,795 against our $4,446.

Out of the last fifteen classes two are our equals in percentage subscribed, and eight are ahead of us.

But here's what hurts. 1914 is three points ahead of us. Three points more loyal than we are.

Didn't we lick 'em in the rushes, didn't we smear 'em in the track, didn't we quash 'em in basketball, didn't we shame them scholastically; and are we going to let 'em lick us in this infinitely more important fight—a fight on which the future of Trinity depends—the raising of money for our Alma Mater?

Speedy Swift, Ed. Pollock, Wally Chapin, Col. Withington, Perce Platt, Scrubby Bent, Ted. Kyle, Og. Budd, Jim Murray, Bert Smith, Dal Squires, Collie Ingersoll, Fred. Dorwart—are we going to let 1914 beat us?

It took me a long time to wake up, but I believe I'm awake now. I subscribed all I felt able last year. When they asked for an increase recently, I gave them a little more; What I can give is mighty little, so I have got to go outside for it. I'm up against a peculiar proposition down here. I'll tell you about it if Ye Ed. has room. If he hasn't maybe he will print it later on.

I am a Yankee in the middle of a great Southern Community. The schools and colleges of North Carolina are too few and those which do exist are in great need of money themselves. I cannot, with any success, appeal to the public here for money.

But there are a lot of New England people in business down here. I am making an appeal to them. I am picking out a few prominent Yankees and writing them personal letters, for the rest, I am running Miserable Fielding and Weak Pitching Responsible for Defeats. Tuck Pitches Well at Chester.

Out of the six games that were scheduled for the Southern trip, which took place during the past Easter vacation, the baseball team lost four, while rain prevented the other two games from being played. The lack of pitchers proved to be the weakest part of the team.

In the first game of the trip Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute defeated Trinity by a score of 24 to 2. Three pitchers were used in this game, Tobie, and Brainard, while Robinson was shifted from third base to pitch

SIX GAME TENNIS SCHEDULE ARRANGED. PROSPECTS FOR TEAM NOT ENCOURAGING.

Four Veterans Lost. Jack Ortgies Will be Missed.

This year's tennis schedule is to consist of at least five matches while negotiations are being made for a sixth with Williams at Williamstown on May 5. If the Williams match is successfully arranged, there will be three home matches and three away. The tentative schedule is as follows:

May 8—Tufts, at home.
May 12—Clark, at home.
May 19—Worcester Tech, at Worcester.
May 24—Springfield, at home.
May 31—Yale Second Team, at Yale.

This year's team will be greatly weakened by the loss of Jack Ortgies, Graham, Tilton and Freeman, all of whom took part in some of last season's matches. Jack Ortgies was captain and number one man of the team last year. He and his brother, Howard Ortgies, who is captain of this year's team, formed a very strong doubles team. In addition to Howard Ortgies, C. E. Cunningham, '24, manager of the team this year, and his brother J. B. Cunningham, '22, are the only remaining members of last year's tennis team. C. E. Cunningham and Howard Ortgies reached the finals of the tennis tournament last fall, but on account of bad weather this match was never played. It is planned to play it off early this spring. Morris, a freshman, reached the semi-finals of the fall tournament and is showing up well this spring. Otherwise material for the team is not as abundant as it has been in the last few years.

DARNLEY-DREW. Popular Coach and Assistant Physical Director Takes Bride at Springfield.

Miss Marian Theresa Darnley and Coach Harold D. "Spud" Drew were united in marriage on Saturday, April 15, at the home of Mrs. Drew's sister, Miss Ruth M. Darnley, of Springfield. President Remsen B. Ogilby performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Drew is a resident of Springfield, and "Spud" met his bride while he was a student at Springfield College. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Drew moved into an apartment on South Green Street, Hartford.

COME THROUGH.

The Centennial Fund is over $70,000 short of the $375,000 mark which must be reached by Commencement in order to insure the gift of $125,000 from the Rockefeller Foundation. The plain facts are that pledges at the rate of a little more than $1,000 a day from now until June 19 are necessary if the campaign is to be a success, and it is squarely up to Trinity men and Trinity men alone whether or not the college makes good now.

The Centennial Fund is not the job of Davis and Tilton and the other men that have been selected as directors for the campaign—it is the job of every man who has been connected with Trinity. No man who has been here can fail to know what the college is worth to the community, state and nation. It has been of inestimable advantage to the thousands of men who have been trained here during the last hundred years and now the question comes of what these men will do for the college in return. It is not only the alumni who have been benefited by the college, undergraduates and faculty have also received from the college and they are asked to help Trinity in its time of need as well as those whom we refer to as "grads."

In another column is an account of the way one Trinity man, Peck, '15, is doing his bit for the college. He has sent out a personal letter to each man in his class asking them to come through and help give '15 a better standing in the class percentages. He is also running an advertisement in the papers in Charlotte, N. C., calling on every one to help Trinity. That is the fight that we hear about now as prevalent at Trinity in the old days.

CHEER LEADERS.

One side of the sport question that has never been stressed as it should have been is the problem of cheer leaders. Before the war Trinity had a regular system of selecting cheer leaders, and got men who were fitted for the position. Of late years definite organization for this very adjunct to athletics has not been in existence.

The present baseball season brings the need for action forcibly before the student body. Cheer leaders have been elected by the three higher classes, and have served with no definite reward in view. Now all of the regular men are on the baseball squad, and the task of directing the organized support of the team has fallen on the shoulders of two inexperienced men.

The vital importance of good cheering has been frequently stressed in these columns. Good cheering is impossible without well trained, efficient men to lead it. The by-laws of the Athletic Association should be amended in some manner that will provide for a scientific selection and training of cheer leaders and will provide for some reward in the form of an insignia.

The two elected men should, in the opinion of the writer, be a senior and a junior. Sophomores should try out for the honor just as men try out for a team, or for any other college organization. At the end of the year a committee, composed of the captains and managers of the major sports should elect from among the sophomore candidates, one man. The song leader should be selected in a similar manner.

Some sort of insignia should be devised, and eligibility rules made so that a man would be compelled to faithfully discharge his duties in order to win it. In addition, some definite uniform dress should be prescribed.

The student body ought never to be compelled to follow men who have had no experience in leading cheers, and who cannot get the maximum effect from a cheering section.

CAN YOU PAINT?

Undergraduates have undertaken the task of painting the grandstand and bleachers on the baseball field. Four brushes have been provided, and the paint is a lovely "bottle green." The aim of those in charge is to have all the brushes busy all day until the job is finished. If you have ever handled a paint brush, and if you want to get out of an hour of gym work, report to Coach Drew at once and get to work. The job is already under way.

Citizens' Training Camps.

The War Department is offering young men of college age the opportunity of four weeks' out-door life during August in the Citizens' Military Training Camps, with all expenses paid by the Government (including transportation, quarters, subsistence and uniforms.)

The camp schedule calls for military drill in the forenoon, physical exercises, track and field work, with a variety of out-door games in the afternoon and select recreational activities in the evening. For young men who enjoy out-door life these summer camps offer a very interesting and enjoyable use of part of the vacation time.

Training for young men of your section of the country will be given at Camp Devens, Mass. Application blanks and information circulars may be had by addressing the Commanding General, First Corps Area Headquarters, Boston, Mass.

The Citizens' camps were first held in 1921 with provision for 10,000 young men. There were nearly 50,000 applications. This year there will be room for 30,000 men in the 25 camps, which will be held in various parts of the nine Corps Areas of the United States. If your students are interested they should make early application to the above address.

Yours very truly,

GEORGE F. JAMES,
Secretary.

An All American Basketball Team.

One of the most difficult tasks after a season of football, basketball, and baseball, is the picking of an All-American team, with stars of the different colleges on it. I have made a selection and I think it is a wise one.

They are as follows:

Center—Stick of Williams.
Right guard—Bust of Lafayette.

—Exchange.

'98—Charles G. Woodward, Trinity, has been elected a director of the Aetna Fire Insurance Company.

Mr. F. D. Kamerer, of the General Electric Company, Schenectady, N. Y., will be in Hartford about May 11 or 12, and will talk by appointment with seniors of any department who are interested in the opportunities offered by the General Electric Company in non-technical positions.

The G. E. Company has for several years conducted a very comprehensive course in business training, which is open to graduates of any department who are interested in accounting, financial and administrative activities and who meet requirements as to adaptability. Those interested are requested to communicate with Mr. Kamerer in advance.

DR. BOWIE GOES TO ROME TO CHECK UP LATEST DATA OF EARTH SCIENCE

Trinity 1893 Man Heads American Scientists at International Meeting.

EXACT MEASUREMENTS OF EARTH WILL BE DISCUSSED.

Twelve-Day Meeting is to Cover Reports From Twenty Countries and Outline Work for Future.

The following extract from the "New York Times" of April 9, gives an interesting account of the work of Dr. William Bowie, Trinity, '93, Chief of the Division of Geodesy of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, who is going to Rome to check up on the latest discoveries of science.

"Dr. William Bowie, Chief of the Division of Geodesy of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, sailed yesterday on the United States transport Cambria, the advance guard of a group of American scientists, to attend a meeting of the International Union of Geodesy and Geophysics and the International Research Councils in Rome, beginning May 2. These meetings promise to be of the greatest interest to the scientific world, for at them will be 'checked up' the latest scientific discoveries and readjustments will be made. Dr. Bowie goes as the head of the American delegation of the Section of Geodesy and as a member of the Astronomical Union of the Research Council.

"Among others who shortly will follow Dr. Bowie to Rome are Frank Schlessinger, Professor of Astronomy at Yale; L. A. Bauer, of the Carnegie Institution at Washington; H. K. Kimball, of the United States Weather Bureau; H. F. Reid, of the Johns Hopkins University; H. S. Washington, vulcanologist of the Carnegie Institution, and G. W. Littlehales of the Navy Department, representative to the Oceanographical Division.

"The object of the twelve days of meeting," said Dr. Bowie, "is to cover reports from twenty countries and to outline a program of work for the next three years. Committees will also be formed to carry out details of the work and to keep member countries informed as to scientific progress.

"It is safe to say that the questions to be discussed will be of interest to the entire world. There is the question of the variations of latitude. That question involves the slight shifting of the earth's axis within the mass of the earth. Astronomers must keep a check on this 'wobbling' or it will cause confusion in exact measurements made at observatories in this and other countries.

"About twenty years ago an astronomical station was established at Ukiah, Cal., as one of five stations for the study of the movement of the earth's axis, and continual observations have been made since then. Plans undoubtedly will be made at Rome to 'check up' on these observations.

"There will be discussed the question of getting the exact shape and size of the earth. In this work the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey has taken a very active part and the dimensions of the earth derived from the observations of that bureau are recognized today as the most reliable in existence.

"The distribution of densities in the crust of the earth will be before the Rome meeting for discussion. The geodetic data available in the United States and other countries have furnished evidence that at a depth of sixty miles below sea level the material changes from one of great rigidity to one of great plasticity.

"Among other subjects there will come up the determinations of longitude around the earth as established by radio. It is expected that the divisions will cooperate in the making of plans to girdle the earth with observation stations by which the exact lines of longitude can be laid down. Previously the determinations of these lines was by cable and land wires.

"One of the problems in physical oceanography is the accurate location of the thousands of islands in the Pacific. There are instances where one of these islands has been charted in two different places, owing to crude methods employed in navigation by the early explorers and whalers.

"In the section of vulcanology the question of the utilization of the heat of volcanoes for power will be considered. This is already being done in Italy."

TRINITY MAN ENFORCES VOLSTEAD ACT IN PENNSYLVANIA.

J. W. Shannon, '87, is Appointed Legal Advisor to State Prohibition Director.

The appointment of Joseph Wellington Shannon, '87, of Philadelphia, to the position of legal advisor for Philadelphia to the State Prohibition Director of Pennsylvania, was announced on April 10.

The position to which Shannon has been appointed is one of the most important in the office of the Volstead enforcement head. He will conduct all hearings of permit holders accused of law violation to show cause why their permits should not be revoked.

Shannon was born in Bloomsburg, Pa., and graduated from College in 1887. He was admitted to the Connecticut Bar in 1899, after a two-years' course in the University of Pennsylvania Law School, and several years of practice in Pennsylvania. Shannon states that he believes in a strict enforcement of the law, and declares that he is not subservient to any political faction.

In speaking of the appointment the "Journal of Commerce", of Philadelphia, states that it would have been a difficult matter to have made a stronger or a more commendable choice.

MASS. AGGIES WIN.

efforts were wasted when Cram and Ortgies struck out.

The Aggies' two big innings were very different in nature. In the second, with two out, Robinson muffed up Kroeck's drive. Barrows singled to center, Cram dropped a liner from Marshman's bat. Cahill dribbled a single to Tobie, Kroeck scoring. Sargent singled to right, scoring Barrows and Marshman. Collins flied out.

In the eighth frame three runs were manufactured on one hit, and that was a drag bunt. To begin with Barrows walked and stole. Grauson beat out a bunt to Robinson, and stole. Norman messed up Cahill's offering, Barrows scoring. Sargent laid down a pretty bunt to Tobie, scoring Grayson. Collins followed suit, putting Cahill across. Gordon ended the nightmare with a roller.

Reynolds Back in Game.

Norman and Tobie carried the heavy artillery, each collecting two hits. Robinson banged out the only extra-base hit of the afternoon, getting a double. "Bob" Reynolds celebrated his return to the game by getting one hit in three times at bat. His heavy bludgeon adds a punch to the attack where it is most needed. However, in the field, he showed the result of his long lay-off, and was a trifle slow covering his territory.

To add spice to the fielding exhibition, Trinity pulled two very pretty double plays. In the third, with first and second occupied and one out, Robinson scooped up a hard hit grounder, touched third, and got the batter at Norman's station. In the seventh, with one out and a man on first, Norman pulled down a line drive, and doubled his man off first. These two, and Nordlund, played creditable baseball during the afternoon.

First Inning.

Cahill, lead-off man flied out to Cram on the second ball pitched. Sargent took first on balls. Collins grounded to Tobie and landed on first by fielder's choice, when Sargent was put out at second. Gordon struck out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Norman, lead-off man for Trinity, singled and made second on right-fielder's error. Cram struck out. Mackinnon advanced Norman to third with grounder to first base. Reynolds struck out.

No runs, one hit, one error.

Second Inning.

Moseley grounded to Cram and Hillyard to Mackinnon Kroeck's grounder was muffed by Robinson. Barrows singled to center field. Cram dropped a low fly by Marshman. Cahill singled half-way to pitcher's box sending Kroeck home. Sargent singled to right field and made second on throw home. Barrows and Marshman scored. Collins flied out.

Three runs, three hits, two errors. Burns walked and stole second. Nordlund was put out by foul fly. Burns scored on Robinson's two-bagger. Robinson was thrown out at third on Morris's grounder. Morris was caught off first.

One run, one hit, no errors.

Third Inning.

Mackinnon fumbled Gordon's grounder. Gordon stole second and Moseley sacrificed him to third. Gordon scored by hit-and-run and Hillyard made first on Tobie's error and stole second. Hillyard, scored on Kroeck's single. Kroeck made second on center-fielder's error. Barrows walked. Marshman grounded into a double play.

Two runs, one hit, two errors.

Tobie singled to left. Norman walked. Cram sacrificed Tobie to third and Norman to second. Mackinnon struck out. Reynolds walked. Burns struck out.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

Cahill made first on Mackinnon's error. Sargent singled to center. Collins bunted to Tobie. Gordon flied out to Morris and Cahill scored. Moseley grounded out.

One run, one hit, no errors.

Nordlund singled to third base. Robinson flied out to center and Nordlund was doubled off first. Morris struck out.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

Sixth Inning.

Marshman made first on Mackinnon's error. Ortgies substituted for Mackinnon at short. Cahill flied to first and Marshman grounded out. Sargent got on by Cram's wild throw but was caught off base.

No runs, no hits, two errors.

Ortgies singled to center and Reynolds to left. Burns bunted out down first base. Nordlund flied out and Ortgies scored. Robinson struck out.

One run, two hits, no errors.

Collins shifted to first and Grayson substituted at center.

Seventh Inning.

Collins flied out to right field. Gordon singled between center and left and made second on wild throw. Moseley made first on Cram's error. Hillyard grounded out and Gordon scored leaving Moseley on third. Kroeck struck out.

One run, one hit, one error.

Ferguson struck out. Tobie and Norman singled to right field. Cram struck out but Tobie and Norman advanced on a passed ball. Ortgies struck out.

No runs, two hits, one error.

Ninth Inning.

Moseley grounded to first. Harrington, batting for Hillyard, grounded to Ortgies. Kroeck singled to Robinson. Brenner batting for Barrows, grounded to third base.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

Ferguson singled. Tobie sacrificed Ferguson to second. Norman struck out. Tuck went in for Cram and struck out.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

He Reached the Top

THE Vice-President of a great life insurance company who began his career as an agent has this to say to seniors who are about to graduate from college:

"If you love work and desire to pursue an honorable, useful and lucrative mission in life this is the business for you to take up. Life insurance salesmanship offers a fine field for the energies of the splendid young men in our colleges.

"That this is true is demonstrated by those college men who have taken up life insurance for they have shown that the college man is fit for this kind of a job and that the job also is fit for the college man.

"The work of the life insurance salesman is distinguished by independence and opportunity for directing his own. It gives all possible opportunity for individual initiative and a chance to make an ample income at an age when most fellows are struggling on a wage pittance."

That is the story of one who began at the bottom and reached the top without the help of a college education. The advantages are with you who graduate from college. Before deciding your career make inquiries of the "Agency Department."

The second game of the trip with Penn. Military College was more closely contested, with Tuck pitching the entire ten innings. At the end of the ninth inning the score stood 6 to 6. Trinity looked like a winner in the tenth when two hits mixed with two passes brought in three runs. But in their half of the inning P. M. C. succeeded in getting four runs making the final score 10 to 9. Tuck pitched well but his support weakened in the last inning. The score:

On April 17 Trinity met Delaware University and was again defeated by a large score, 19 to 0. Bowdidge was hit heavily throughout the entire game, and Trinity's fielding was also loose, while Delaware gave its pitchers fine support. Robinson worked well for Trinity, getting two of the four hits. The score:

The games with Washington College at Chestertown, Md., and with Georgetown University, at Washington, D. C., were both cancelled on account of rain. The team then started the homeward journey, playing the last game of the trip with Seton Hall at South Orange, N. J. This resulted in a victory for Seton Hall to the tune of 13 to 0. Tuck also pitched this game but his support was poor. Cram did not play in either the Delaware or the Seton Hall games while Nordlund caught in both games.

PECK'S APPEAL

ads in the local papers. I am using two columns by five inches for this in the "Charlotte News."

What would be the effect if every member of 1915 should run one ad in his local paper boosting Trinity and appealing for her? It would be tremendous. Let's try it—even if it's only in the 25-cent column. I do not know whether the class gets credit for funds raised from outsiders, but I think it should. If we cannot give it, let's get it.

Art Tilton and all the rest of the committee and Fund workers are doing a wonderful job for the College. Let's help them.
