Stretching its winning streak to four straight games, the Trinity baseball team downed Wesleyan last Wednesday afternoon at Trinity Field by the score of 5 to 3. Ray Adams pitched a remarkable game, holding the Wesleyan sluggers to four hits, all of which came in the first and the ninth innings. From the third to the eighth Adams was invincible, mowing down the Cardinal and Black players in regular order.

The winning punch of the game was provided by Joe Keating in the seventh inning. With the score tied at two-all, and men on second and third, Keating, pinch-hitting for Carey, got hold of one of Olie Nye's fast ones and smashed a single between second and third. Both men scored to put the Blue and Gold in the lead.

The game itself started off somewhat badly for Trinity, when Wesleyan garnered two runs the first inning. Dee, the lead-off man, singled and was sacrificed to second. With (Continued on page 3.)

COLLEGE BODY OFFICERS NOMINATED BY STUDENTS

Phippen and Norman Will Run for Presidency—Finals
This Week

In the primary elections for College Body officers the following men were nominated for the final ballot which will be held next week: for president, Henry O. Phippen and Herbert G. Norman, for College Marshal, William A. Boeger and G. Keith Funston, for Secretary of the Athletic Association, Herbert Bell and L. A. Wadlow.

The Senate nominated five men for each of the first two offices for the primaries and four men for Secretary of the Athletic Association. The original ballot was as follows: For President of the College Body, A. S. Meier, H. O. Phippen, H. K. Prior, H. G. Norman, and R. C. Meloy all of the present Junior class; for College Marshal, J. C. Warwick, D. S. Andrus, W. A. Boeger, G. K. Funston, and A. A. Arnold also of the Junior class. The members of the Sophomore class who were named for Secretary of the A. A. were H. Bell, L. A. Wadlow, J. B. Cotter, and B. Coles. The man who is elected to this latter office will automatically be president of the Athletic Association in his Senior year.

The number of men in the college who are unable to vote in college elections because of non-payment of dues is astonishingly small, and this number amounts to nearly half of the total number of students. However, the matter can not be remedied this year as only those students who voted in the primaries will be allowed to cast a ballot in the finals, but the treasurers of the various classes can do much to remedy the situation during the next year.

HARTFORD ALUMNI HOLD THEIR ANNUAL MEETING

Meeting Addressed by Sweet and Beers on Recent Alumni Work

The annual spring meeting of the Hartford Alumni Association was held Thursday evening in the Public Speaking Room. About forty alumni were present and the chairman of the meeting was Mr. Raymond Segur, '12, president of the Association. The assemblage was addressed by Mr. John H. T. Sweet of Hartford, Mr. Henry Beers '19, also of Hartford, and by President Ogilby.

Mr. Sweet spoke on "The Dean's Committee—What It Is." He explained that the committee is made up of alumni representing the various fraternities on the campus for the purpose of investigating student problems, relating particularly to Freshmen, and to work for the general welfare of the college. He mentioned some of the issues investigated which included the Freshman dormitory question, compulsory college chapel, and in general the reasons why students flunk out. In commenting on the calibre of men who make up this committee he said that there was only one member who was not privileged to wear a Phi Beta Kappa key. In concluding he said that the committee, although of fairly recent origin had already proved its worth.

Mr. Beers addressed the meeting on the subject of "The New Schools Committee." He said that as this committee had only been organized during the past winter that he would be forced to report its purposes rather than its accomplishments. He said that the committee had been designed to interest the best types of boys in Trinity College, and that the Alumni Association in forming this group had followed the example of several other leading colleges in the country of which Princeton was the most notable example.

SENIOR BALL COMMITTEE MAKES FINAL PLANS

List of Patronesses Announced and Fraternity Booths are Assigned

All plans for the Senior Ball, which will take place next Friday night in Alumni Hall, have been completed by the committee under the direction of Lauriston L. Scaife, chairman. The several fraternities have been assigned space on the floor for booths. These booths will not be built in, as they were at the Junior Prom, but each fraternity will merely move such furniture as it desires into the space designated. The program of the ball, which will last from ten o'clock until three in the morning, will consist of sixteen dances. "Cutting in" will be permitted after twelve o'clock. As has been announced before, Norman (Continued on page 3.)

JESTERS HOLD DAILY REHEARSALS FOR PLAY

Performance to be Given One Week from Tonight—to Give Dance Same Night

A week from tonight the Jesters will present their annual play. This year the title of the chosen play is "The Pigeon", by John Galsworthy. Rehearsals have been consistently good, and the Jesters hope to put on the most successful play in their history. Extensive rehearsing starts this week and will be concluded the day before the play is presented.

Mrs. Ray, the wife of the director of the play, will help with the female parts and will assist in making up the various characters taking part in the play. Mrs. Ray has had a lot of experience in this sort of work and will prove a great help to the players.

After the performance there will be a dance given by the Jesters. Business Manager Stumpf announced that the Wesleyan Serenaders would provide the music for the dancers. This orchestra has a very good reputation in Connecticut and has proved popular wherever it has played.

Many replies have been received by the business staff of the Jesters in answer to invitations which are sent out to people in and around Hartford. Over one hundred tickets have been sold in three days. As Alumni Hall only holds three hundred and fifty, it would be a wise thing for those students who wish to see "The Pigeon" to reserve their tickets. Tickets may be secured through T. Robert Stumpf at 41 Jarvis Hall or through Albert Holland at 12 Jarvis Hall. Students' tickets will be sold for one dollar.

The sets have been made under the direction of Rees Mitchell, the stage manager, who has devoted a great deal of time to his work and who, with the help of William Sisbower and Andrew Onderdonk has done much to make the performance a success.

The Jesters recently received a letter from John Galsworthy, who is on a lecture tour in the U. S., saying that he hoped they would enjoy pro- (Continued on page 2.)

The Trinity track team won its first meet of the 1931 season, when it defeated the Massachusetts Aggie team last Saturday, in a dual meet on the Massachusetts Aggies' field at Amherst, 70 to 56.

Two years ago the Blue and Gold lost this meet with the Aggies by a two-point margin, and last year took a six-point defeat.

Trinity took a fourteen-point lead in the first few events on Saturday, and held this lead throughout the contest.

Daut and Christy started off by taking first and second places in the 120 high hurdles. They were followed by Welivar and Gibson who took another first and second in the 100-yard dash the time being 10.9.

The mile run, was probably the most exciting race of the meet. Harris, who has shown remarkable ability in the time trials this spring, took the lead at the start of the race, but was soon passed by Edmond and Towle, both of the Massachusetts Ag- (Continued on page 4.)

BLUE AND GOLD NINE DOWNS UNION, 3 TO 2

Houlihan Pitches Fine Game
Despite Rain—Called at
Sixth Inning

Saturday afternoon, May 2, the Trinity baseball team won its third successive victory by defeating Union College 3 to 2 in a contest ending in the first half of the sixth inning because of rain at the Trinity diamond. Despite the drizzle that persisted from the third inning on, Ralph Houlihan, freshman right-hander, pitched an excellent game, allowing the Union men only two hits and three walks.

The Blue and Gold men played fine ball. Coleman and Bockwinkel were the outstanding infield men, and Hank Phippen, in spite of an injured knee, acquired during the Worcester Tech game, played his usual first-rate baseball.

Trinity took the lead in the very first inning. Joe Fontana, lead off man for Trinity, hit the first pitched ball hard into left field, and continued to second on a sacrifice by Phippen. Armstrong was walked, and on the next play Fontana crossed home plate on Adam's single. Bockwinkel loaded the bases with a hard grounder which was sloppily fielded. Next Gooding was walked to first and Armstrong was forced in for the second run. Vignati and Coleman struck out, retiring the side.

Neither team managed to bring in any runs during the second inning, but in the third Union tied the score. Due to a bad throw by Coleman, Terry, the Union center fielder, reached first but, on the next play, (Continued on page 4.)

SPRING ATHLETICS

With the defeat of Wesleyan last Wednesday, the 'varsity baseball team, under Coach Wright, annexed its fourth consecutive victory of five games played this season. This is indeed the best record that any Trinity nine has made within the past ten years, a fact which should give due satisfaction both to co-captains Adams and Gooding, and the team. Although the season began with a shortage of experienced pitchers, the excellent work of Adams on the mound, together with the fast team work of both the infield and the outfield have more than counteracted this difficulty. We take this opportunity to congratulate the team for its good work, and trust that the present success will continue.

'Varsity sports look promising for the Blue and Gold this spring, as both the tennis and track teams have made good showings in their initial contests. Although Trinity's netmen lost their first match to Bowdoin, as Captain Martini, and Arnold were barely beaten in the doubles, the track team under Captain Welivar won its first victory with the Massachusetts Aggies by a creditable margin. The large number of freshmen out for athletics has accounted for the strength of the teams, but also the student body is perhaps beginning to realize that no matter how formidable a team may be, its success depends largely upon student support. At the Wesleyan game the stands sagged and groaned with the weight of hundreds of the bald-headed "Sons of Trinity" who roared, belly-ached, snapped, and cheered until their very entrails thrilled, for a just cause. Besides, one distinguished pedagogue had the satisfaction of winning two dollars! That was too bad, but Trinity had to win, and what is more, they will continue, if the student body lends its support to the 'varsity teams.

"THE PIGEON"

As the rehearsals for "The Pigeon" take place day after day in preparation for the performance next Saturday evening in Alumni Hall, one realizes how strenuous the task is to present a major drama before a Trinity audience, with the inadequate staging facilities of Alumni Hall, together with that even more discouraging factor, a lack of interest in the drama among college students. Former Jesters' plays have been poorly attended, to say the least, and unless there is a sudden change in the general attitude of the college, we dare say that the efforts of the cast and those interested will prove of little avail. This is the first Jesters' production of the year. To be sure, the admission will be slightly more than that of a good movie at the Lyric or any other of those palatial houses frequented by the intellectually elite, but nevertheless, the performance is worth the price. The play will be worth the trouble to come. Buy your ticket, and come. Give The Jesters the support which they deserve.

THIRTY SUB-FRESHMEN GUESTS OF COLLEGE

'Varsity Club Entertains
Prospective Students with Fine Program

Approximately thirty prospective members of the class of nineteen-thirty-five were entertained under the auspices of the 'Varsity Club over the past week-end. Of these the majority have already enrolled as members of the incoming class.

The week-end began on Friday, May 1, but the program did not get under way until Saturday afternoon, when the Sub-Freshmen were admitted to the ball game with Union. The fact that Trinity won this game served to make the week-end more successful even than planned.

On Saturday evening there was an entertainment in Alumni Hall which was largely attended by both Sub-Freshmen and students. This entertainment was opened by the Glee Club which sang a number of selections including several college songs in the singing of which the entire company joined. Allen S. Meier, chairman of the week-end, then introduced President Ogilby, who formally welcomed the guests, and explained to them some of the various aims and aspects of college, in connection with both Trinity and with other colleges. Dean Hood was then introduced, and he explained that Trinity was a college which aimed for liberal education by conservative methods, and which had been able to keep to that standard while other colleges throughout the country were formulating elaborate new educational "plans." He mentioned the Harvard House Plan, the Chicago Plan, and the Rollins Plan, which he said were little more than publicity stunts.

'Varsity letters in football and basketball were then given out by Henry O. Phippen, Secretary of the Athletic Association, and gold footballs were awarded to Arthur Weinstein and Ralph D. Britton. Joseph Fleming, captain of basketball, received a gold basketball.

One of the features of the evening, was the wrestling match, put on with a realistic touch by G. A. Mackie and E. A. Durand. After innumerable ups and downs each man gained one fall on his opponent. Then when the match was at its height, both contestants became infuriated by the entreaties of referee Miller to fight, and after a severe struggle were chased from the ring by the referee.

The final feature of the evening was a one-act comedy written by N. B. Abbott, president of the Jesters, and presented by that organization. It was called "This Little Game Called Rushing," and served as a warning to prospective Freshmen.

Preceding the presentation of the play, the Interfraternity Swimming Cup was formally presented to Joseph Fleming, who represented the Sigma Nu Fraternity this year's winner, by Cushman C. Reynolds, representing St. Anthony Hall, last year's winner.

pressed his satisfaction at so splendid a turnout at the meeting.

Before the meeting, the Alumni were entertained by the Glee Club, which sang a number of selections, including "Bonnie Dundee," "The Spectres' Dance," and several college songs, closing with "Neath the Elms."

Earlier in the evening the Alumni were spectators at an exhibition in the Trowbridge Pool for life-saving methods which was given by Coach J. C. Clark's class, who went through the various requirements for the Senior Red Cross Life-saving certificates.

PSI U. AND SIGMA NU ENTER TENNIS FINALS

Martini Overwhelms Burke—
Shaw Defeats Britton
Easily

Psi Upsilon and Sigma Nu gained their brackets in the final round by defeating Saint Anthony and Delta Kappa Epsilon, respectively. The finals will be played on May 11. The Psi Upsilon team ought to win easily, as they are far superior to the Sigma Nu team.

Psi Upsilon's overwhelming victory over Saint Anthony came as a surprise to most of the students. The final score was 5 to 0. Those knowing something about tennis expected the Saint Anthony team to take at least two of the matches and some even three.

In the first singles match Martini, captain and number one man on the 'varsity team, easily defeated John Burke, last year's captain and present number three man, 6-2, 6-3. Martini kept the ball on Burke's backhand and won without much trouble.

In the second singles match Shaw beat Del Britton, captain of the 'varsity team two years ago, 4-6, 9-7, 7-5. This match was a great upset, for Britton was expected to win from Shaw. After winning the first set, Britton lost the second on double faults. The last set went to service until the eleventh game when Shaw broke through Britton's service and then went on to win his own and the match.

Richard Meloy, Saint Anthony, lost to Joseph Merriam, Psi U, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4. Meloy easily won the first set, but after leading 4-1 in the second went to pieces and could not cope with Merriam's net game. Meloy also led 4-1 in the third set.

The first doubles match was the longest and most interesting of the tournament. Grainger and Boeger, Psi U, defeated Flynn and Holland, Saint Anthony, 8-6, 15-13. The Saint Anthony team led 5-1 in the first set, but Boeger, who had been erratic, steadied and the Psi U team won the set with the loss of but one more game. The final set went to service until the twenty-eighth game when Flynn's service was broken.

The second doubles was won by Fido and Norvell, Psi U, who defeated Mason and Andrus, Saint Anthony, 3-6, 6-2, 6-2. Once again the Psi Upsilon team came from behind to win.

The Sigma Nu team beat the Delta Kappa Epsilon team, 3-2. Durand playing first singles for Sigma Nu beat Foss, 6-2, 6-3. This match was not interesting for both players played poorly.

The second singles match was won by D. K. E., Donley defeating Disco, 6-0, 6-2.

Sigma Nu won the third singles match, Warwick of D. K. E. losing to Fleming of Sigma Nu, 2-6, 6-4, 6-1. Warwick, who played excellent tennis in the first set, lost confidence in himself and after leading in the second set 4-2, lost ten out of the next eleven games.

The doubles matches were divided. Miller and Slater, Sigma Nu, beat Smythe and Beach, D. K. E., 6-2, 6-0. Armstrong and Coales, D. K. E., beat Mackie and Day, 6-2, 6-3.

TENNIS TEAM LOSES FIRST TWO MATCHES

Worcester and Bowdoin Win
by Close Scores—Martini and Arnold Star

The Blue and Gold tennis team lost its first match of the season, in a close battle with the Worcester Tech netmen last Saturday at Worcester, Mass., the score being 4 to 3.

The first match originally planned for last Wednesday when Trinity was scheduled to meet Clark, was called off on account of rain.

Saturday's match was a toss-up as to the winner until the last doubles match had been played. Martini, captain of the 1931 team for the Blue and Gold, had little trouble in winning his singles match against R. Corsini of Worcester, but was defeated along with Arnold in the last doubles match. Arnold and Craig both won their singles.

Summary:

Singles.

R. Martini, Trinity, beat R. Corsini, Worcester Tech, 6-2, 7-5; E. Collins, Worcester Tech, beat J. Burke, Trinity, 6-1, 9-7; V. Corsini, Worcester Tech, beat R. Britton, Trinity, 7-5, 7-5; A. Arnold, Trinity, beat W. Werth, Worcester Tech, 6-3, 9-7; Ed Craig, Trinity, beat C. Wilson, Worcester Tech, 6-3, 6-4.

Doubles.

R. Corsini and E. Collins, Worcester Tech, beat J. Burk and R. Britton, Trinity, 7-5, 6-0. A. Arnold and R. Martini, Trinity, lost to U. Corsini, and W. Werth, Worcester Tech, 6-3, 4-6, 3-6.

The Blue and Gold tennis team lost its second match this season, when it was defeated by the Bowdoin netmen last Wednesday, 5 to 4.

This was the second match which has been closely contended by Trinity, the result of which was not known until the final doubles match had been played when Dick Martini and Art Arnold fell before the onslaught of Bowdoin's number one combination of Baker and Perkins, 5-7, 9-7, 4-6.

The match was played on the Hartford Golf Club courts, and was the first match of a series to be played by Bowdoin while on a tour.

Trinity took the lead in the first singles when Martini defeated Baker, 5-7, 6-3, 6-4. Bowdoin followed this by taking the next two singles, when Johnny Burke fell before Perkins 3-6, 6-3, 0-6, and Del Britton fell before Abbot of Bowdoin, 2-6, 2-6.

Trinity led again when Art Arnold beat Frost 6-3, 6-1, and Ed Craig, number five man for the Blue and Gold, took Shaw of Bowdoin over rather handily, 6-3, 6-2. The score was evened in the singles when Joseph Merriam of Trinity was defeated by Sprague, 6-1, 6-4.

Craig and Merriam were defeated in the first doubles by Frost and Sprague 4-6, 6-2, 4-6. Burke and Britton evened the score in the second doubles by handing out a 6-2, 6-1, defeat to Abbot and Short of Bowdoin, thus leaving the stage set for the final and deciding match between Martini and Arnold, and Baker and Perkins. The final match was the longest and hardest fought match of the day, and led to Trinity's defeat of a 5 to 4 score, after the 7-5, 7-9, 6-4, victory by Bowdoin.

ADAMS BEATS WESLEYAN IN HARD-FOUGHT GAME.

two outs Johnstone walked, and then Nye hit a terrific liner at Adams. Adams could barely get his glove on it and the ball shot toward first base. There was a close play at first, but Nye was adjudged safe. Two runs scored during the play.

In Trinity's half of the inning Armstrong singled and went to second on an error by the rightfielder, but he was left on base as the side was retired. In the second inning Wesleyan went out easily, but in the third they got a man on base. Dee, the first man up, walked. He was caught on second when Wells grounded to Coleman. The next two batters could not hit the ball out of the infield, and the slight scoring threat was squelched. That inning was the last time until the ninth that a Wesleyan player even came near getting on first base. Adams was in perfect form, and aided by errorless support from the field, he breezed along without any difficulty. From the third to the ninth only one Cardinal and Black player could hit the ball out of the infield.

While Wesleyan was swinging aimlessly at Adams' fast ones, the Blue and Gold offensive began to work. In the third inning Trinity tied the score. With one out, Heinie Coleman, who has been playing a great game at short, hit a long two-bagger along the right-field line. Joe Fontana then shot a sizzling single over second base, and Coleman scored with Trinity's first run. Fontana went to second on the throw-in, and came home on Phippen's timely single. Phippen was caught trying to stretch his hit to a two-bagger, and that ended the Blue and Gold attack for the moment.

The next three innings Nye, the Wesleyan hurler, matched Adams in his pitching, and the Trinity hitters went down in order. Nye hit the height of his effectiveness in the fifth, when he fanned the three men to face him.

In the seventh, however, the Blue and Gold attack blossomed out again, and this time brought results. Adams was out in a close play at first. Bockwinkel singled and Jack Gooding smacked a double into left field. At this point Coach Wright resorted to a little strategy by sending Keating in to hit for Carey, who had trouble solving Nye's offerings. Keating came through in the pinch, and his hit brought in the two men on the bases. Keating stole second, and went to third when the second baseman missed the ball. A moment later he was doubled off third, when the pitcher made a remarkable catch of Bell's line drive.

In the eighth the Blue and Gold continued their scoring. Successive singles by Joe Fontana and Hank Phippen, and a long sacrifice fly by Armstrong gave Coach Wright's men another run.

After having been held hitless for seven innings Wesleyan started a rally in the ninth. Johnstone's double and Nye's single gave the Cardinal and Black their last run. But Adams tightened up, and the last two men hit grounders to Gooding, who tossed to first for the put-outs.

The remarkable fielding of the Trinity team has proved an important factor in the present season. Coleman has done fine work at short. Fontana has played third to perfection, and his well-aimed peg to first is destructive to the opposition. Bockwinkel and Gooding have also played cool-

REV. WILLIAM NOBLE SPEAKS IN CHAPEL
Shows Necessity of "Reading Between the Lines" of Our Materialism

The Reverend William Noble of Hartford, graduate of Williams in the class of 1921, addressed the student body in chapel on Wednesday morning. He began by saying that we did not use our eyes for seeing nor our ears for hearing except in a superficial sense. As an illustration he used the radio which infests every American home. The machine is always going but rarely is one aware of what he is hearing outside of a noise. One fails to notice whether it be Amos 'n Andy or the New York Philharmonic.
To further illustrate his point he referred to the ordinary conversation of college students. In recalling his own student days Mr. Noble said that he remembered little conversation which was not superficial and entirely pointless and that he had found the same situation for the greater part in after life. He said that from what he could observe that this particular phase of the college man had not changed in the last ten years. Quoting from Bishop McConnell, Mr. Noble said, "They have nothing to say and they insist on saying it."
Mr. Noble went on to say that we must get beneath this surface of artificiality and probe the real essence of Life. Here he stated that many of our modern realistic novels failed in just this, namely, in getting below the surface of mere protruding facts. "In others words", said the speaker, "We must read between the lines of Life, and we must take it not from the viewpoint of what it seems to be, but of what we can make of it."

ATHENAEUM DISCUSSES IDEAL EDUCATED MAN
Educated Man Not Necessarily
a College Graduate—Jones
Elected to Group

A round table discussion on "What Constitutes an Educated Man?" was the feature of the literary portion of the weekly meeting of the Athenaeum Society, held Monday evening, May 5, in the Economics room. With President Jacobson presiding, each member expressed his opinion of the qualifications of an educated man, until a composite description was agreed upon.
An educated man, according to the views of the members, is one who has an open mind and considers all material without prejudice. He has a background in fact and scientific knowledge and an understanding of what he knows and does. He is both practical and cultured. He is one who recognizes his limitations and is not necessarily a college graduate.
At the business meeting which immediately followed the discussion, it was decided to hold the annual banquet of the society on May 18, at the Heublein. Thaddeus Culver Jones was admitted to the society by vote of the members.

was retired on a fielder's choice at second, Yackel, Union's pitcher gaining first. Houlihan next walked F. Bruhn and Campbell, and the next man up. Reville, hit a hard drive over second base, bringing in Yackel and Bruhn.
In the fourth inning Trinity regained the lead. Phippen led off with an infield hit and Bell, running for him, advanced to second on Armstrong's single. Adams then hit a grounder to short and reached first due to an error by Kohn, Union's first baseman, and Bell crossed the plate for Trinity's third and decisive run.
The fifth inning proved to be Heinie Coleman's, with one man on base, for, on a hard smash to second by F. Bruhn, he made a difficult catch and tossed the ball to Gooding on second, who completed the play with a fine peg to Bockwinkel in time to get the batter. In the next play Campbell was thrown out at first, and Union's try for a tie score was over.
The game was stopped after Union's retirement in the sixth inning.

gies. Harris stuck right behind them until Edmond began to open up, giving himself a good lead. Harris then passed Towle and gained steadily on Edmond until the sprint, when he almost succeeded in coming up beside him. Edmond took first place with Harris finishing second, an instant after Edmond broke the tape.
The two mile grind was a walk away for Trinity, Birch and Carleton running side by side with a long lead over the first Massachusetts Aggie man on the last lap. Birch sprinted at the finish, and Carleton took an easy second place.
Bobby Daut, entered five events in the meet, and scored twelve points for the Blue and Gold, which included a first, two seconds, and a third place. Trinity took second and third places in the high jump, the shot put, and discus, and first and second in the pole vault.
