

SIGMA NU TEAM LEADS IN ANNUAL TRACK MEET

Alpha Delta Phi and St. Anthony Close Behind Leaders at End of First Day

LAST EVENTS TOMORROW

Daut Stars as Inter-Fraternity Meet is Begun—Athletic Trophy Depends on Result of Annual Two-Day Event

The Sigma Nu track men were leading their nearest competitors, the Alpha Deltas, by a small margin at the close of the first day of the annual inter-fraternity track meet, held Monday, May 25.

With more than half the events still to be run, four fraternities, Sigma Nu, Alpha Delta Phi, St. Anthony, and Delta Phi have taken the lead and a close competition is expected through the last event. The total scores at the end of the first day of the two-day meet are: Sigma Nu, 24½; Alpha Delta Phi, 20; St. Anthony, 11; Delta Phi, 7; Psi Upsilon, 5; Alpha Chi Rho, 4; Blue Neutrals, 3½.

As the standing for the Alumni trophy is close between Sigma Nu and Alpha Delta Phi, the awarding of the all-around athletic cup will be decided by the track meet. In order to win the cup, Alpha Delta Phi must score at least second, at the same time keeping Sigma Nu from placing at all. From the standings at the end of the first day, this event is highly improbable.

The point-scoring in the meet was done largely by a few individuals who placed first or second in several events. Daut, Delta Phi, will probably be high scorer of the meet.

The Sigma Nu men garnered the majority of their points in the distance events, while they lost the field events to their stronger opponents.

The trials for the high hurdles were run off first, Daut, "iron-man" of the Delta Phi's, winning the event handi-

GLEE CLUB PRESENTS FINAL CAMPUS SING

Warwick Elected President for Next Year—Club Completes Successful Season

The Trinity Glee Club brought a highly successful season to a close with a campus sing on last Friday evening. This last presentation of the year was enjoyed by a group of students and visitors. The program consisted of "My Bonnie Lass," by Morely; "Bonnie Dundee" (Scotch folksong); "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," by Bach; "Lo How a Rose," by Praetorius. The concert was concluded with the singing of "Fight Trinity," after which the students joined the Glee Club, singing "Cheer for Old Trin" and "Neath the Elms."

At the last meeting of the year held last Thursday, James Warwick was elected president for the 1931 Christmas term, succeeding Edward Ljungquist. Harris Prior was elected vice-president and librarian succeeding Nat Abbott; and Marcus Garrison was formally elected to carry on the duties of Howard Schmolze, the retiring business manager. The position of assistant business manager is yet unfilled. This office is open to any member of the present Sophomore class, the incumbent automatically becoming manager in his Senior year.

Warwick is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity, and the

MEDUSA TAPS SEVEN MEN OF JUNIOR CLASS

Annual Ceremony Held Last Week Tuesday—Society Had Banquet on Friday Night

On Tuesday evening, May 19, the Medusa held its annual tapping exercises. At 7.30 the Junior class lined up along the fence beside the new chapel and the members of last year's Medusa chose their successors.

The following men were tapped: Abbott by Higgins, Andrus by Durand, Funston by Guckenbuehler, Boeger by Isherwood, Phippen by McCook, Meier by Higgins, and Prior by Durand.

Abbott is a member of the Glee Club and president of The Jesters. Andrus was captain of the Soccer Team for two years and played on the basketball team. Funston was manager of baseball last year, a member of the S. D. C., and college marshal for next year.

Boeger was chairman of the Junior Prom Committee and plays on the baseball team. Phippen has been a member of the football and baseball teams for the past two years, is college body president for next year, and president of Junior Class. Meier was chairman of the Sub-Freshman Week-end Committee and is captain-elect of football. Prior is chairman of the Union Committee and a member of the Glee Club.

Boeger, Phippen, Meier, and Prior are all members of next year's Senate.

On last Friday night the Medusa held its annual banquet at the Heublein Hotel. Members of the society of this year and next were present. Also several members of the society in former years were present for the banquet. The speaker for the evening was William Even of the class of 1928, who was captain of the 1927 football team.

After the banquet the Medusa returned to the campus where the initiation ceremonies were held, and the officers for the new delegation were elected.

BASEBALL TEAM FACES CLARK IN WORCESTER

Play Conn. Aggies Saturday in Hartford—Track Meet with Aggies Also

The Trinity baseball team will play two games this week. The Blue and Gold faces Clark University this afternoon in Worcester, and on Saturday the Connecticut Aggies, who were an early season victim, will come to Hartford for the last college game of the season.

Little is known of the Clark team which seems to have had a rather mediocre season. Ray Adams is scheduled to pitch this afternoon, and he should succeed in holding the Clark lineup to fewer runs than the Varsity can make.

The Connecticut Aggies have had an up and down season, and although they have lost a fair number of games, they have showed themselves to be a good ball club. They have two fair pitchers, and in Tourville they have one of the best college catchers in this part of the state. Their lineup offers four or five hitters who can cause any pitcher a lot

RUSHING AGREEMENT FAILS IN THE COUNCIL

Two Houses Vote to Defeat the Proposed Plan—Funston is New President

At the last meeting of the Inter-fraternity Council the proposed rushing agreement, which has been pending for a large part of the year was voted down since two fraternities held out against. The constitution of the Council states that if more than one house votes against a proposal the proposal is defeated. The final vote was six for the proposed rushing agreement and two against it. The two who opposed the agreement were Alpha Chi Rho and Alpha Tau Kappa.

The proposed plan was what is known as the sealed bid plan. All Freshmen were to be invited to the various Houses and on a specified date to appear in Alumni Hall where they would be handed a sealed envelope which would contain the names of the fraternity or fraternities who desired him. Every Freshman was to receive an envelope. The plan was devised to do away with the evils of the so-called "cut-throat" rushing which has been the vogue at Trinity for some years.

The Interfraternity Council also held an election of officers for the coming year. George Keith Funston, Alpha Delta Phi, was elected President; James Chalmers Warwick, Delta Kappa Epsilon, was elected Vice-President; and Alexander Watt, Psi Upsilon, was elected Secretary and Treasurer. There are no more scheduled meetings of the Council for this year, but it is possible that a special meeting will be called.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION HEADED BY H. G. NORMAN

Succeeds H. O. Phippen, Recently Resigned—Tennis Trophy Awarded to Psi U.

Immediately following chapel on Wednesday morning, a short meeting of the College Body was held in the Public Speaking Room. President McCook presided, and since the purpose of the meeting was to award the Tennis Cup and elect a new president of the Athletic Association, only a few members of the College Body were present, only men who had paid their class dues being eligible to vote.

Professor Oosting presented the inter-mural Tennis Cup, the Brinley Trophy, to Johnny Meeker, representing Psi Upsilon. The results toward the Alumni Trophy were also announced. Sigma Nu leads, with Alpha Delta Phi second.

Following the award, the election was held. McCook announced that H. G. Norman and Allen S. Meier were the two men nominated by the Senate for the coveted presidency. H. G. Norman was elected by a large majority.

The new president is a native of New Haven, Conn., and is a prominent member of the present Junior Class. Norman is the present Manager of Baseball, a member of the Sophomore Dining Club. Before being forced to

'VARSITY TRACK TEAM OVERWHELMS CLARK

Blue and Gold Athletes Take Thirteen First Places Out of Fourteen

SPRAY MAKES RECORD

Bettors Old Discus Mark by Three Feet—Daut Scores 21 Points with Three Firsts—Andrus Wins Broad Jump

The Blue and Gold track team gave Clark University a severe beating last Thursday, when it defeated the Bay State men on Trinity Field by the large margin of 96 to 30.

In spite of the wet track and field, Trinity stepped out to take thirteen first places out of the fourteen events. The times were better in some events than they have been in the past few years.

Bob Daut, '34, was high scorer of the meet with 21 points to his credit. These included first place in the high jump, shot put, and high hurdles, and second place in the 100-yard dash and the javelin.

Carlton, who has been victorious a number of times for Trinity, came through for a first place in the two-mile run with the remarkable time of 10 minutes, 26.6 seconds, the best time in twelve years.

Spray threw the discus for 115 feet, 2¼ inches to break the college record which has stood for three years. This distance was four feet farther than the record throw of three years ago.

The only first place taken by Clark was in the 100-yard dash, when Marshall of the visiting team crossed the finish line in 10.8 seconds.

Dorsey Wright ran a fast quarter in 54.5 seconds taking first place in this event as well as a first in 220. Geiger, who, was on Wright's heels at the finish of the 220, met with an accident in stumbling across the finish. Geiger's continual plugging throughout the season has given Trinity a number of points, but due to a wrenched back in last Thursday's meet, he will be unable to run again this season.

Summary:

Two-mile run—Won by Carlton, Trinity; second, Laaksl, Clark; third, Childs, Trinity. Time, 10:26.6 minutes.

Low hurdles—Won by Christy, Trinity; second, Geiger, Trinity; third, O'Toole, Clark. Time, 27.7 seconds.

100-yard dash—Won by Marshall, Clark; second, Daut, Trinity; third, Gibson, Trinity. Time, 10.8 seconds.

440-yard dash—Won by Wright, Trinity; second, Don, Clark; third, Arick, Clark. Time, 54.5 seconds.

High hurdles—Won by Daut, Trinity; second, Christy, Trinity; third, Marshall, Clark. Time, 16.5 seconds.

Shot put—Won by Harris, Trinity; second, Laaksl, Clark; third, Gladwin, Trinity. Time, 4.50 minutes.

880-yard run—Won by Roots, Trinity; second, Arick, Clark; third, Dixon, Trinity. Time, 2:11.2 minutes.

220-yard dash—Won by Wright, Trinity; second, Geiger, Trinity; third, Don, Clark. Time, 22.4 seconds.

Shot put—Won by Daut, Trinity; second, Hanninan, Trinity; third, Gallagher, Clark. 38 feet, 5 inches.

High jump—Won by Daut, Trinity; second, Andrus, Trinity; third, Gallagher, Clark. 5 feet, 7½ inches.

Pole vault—Tied for first place, Convey, Trinity and Rowland, Trinity;

WHAT ABOUT FRATERNITIES?

The recent decision of the Interfraternity Council favoring the return of "cut-throat" rushing for the fraternities reveals to the casual observer the atmosphere of hostility and ignorant prejudice which exists between certain Greek letter societies on campus, as well as the general inefficiency of undergraduates in dealing with matters which have a distinct bearing upon the life of the college. For well over six months the members of the council have neglected matters of importance to the fraternities in their relations with one another in order to provide for a suitable "rushing" agreement eliminating the evils of the past. What is the final result? Two fraternities firmly refuse to enter into a "gentleman's agreement," as they fear that it will not be to their interests to give the incoming freshman the opportunity to accept a bid to their organization, when he has judged its worth without the persuasive grandeur of melodramatic "sales" talks.

Fraternities at Trinity have maintained an important part in undergraduate life, nevertheless it remains to be seen whether they will exert an influence in the progress of the college, which moves slowly each year. In estimating the intrinsic worth of these groups which make up over seventy-five per cent. of the college body, there is much that can be said, pro and con, about their influence upon the student. Statistics prove that for the past five years an average of eighty-five per cent. of the men in the fraternities have flunked out of college during the past five years, while the percentages of failures among resident neutral men and day students living in Hartford has been little over ten per cent. Furthermore, the results of the recent "Tripod" poll, which included over fifty per cent. of the student body, states that the majority of heavy and regular drinkers are fraternity men. As for scholarship, the situation is somewhat better, although neutral men have many times held the highest rank.

In view of these criticisms and many more which might justly be offered the average Trinity man gets adequate returns for all that he sacrifices in becoming a loyal supporter of some mystic order. The cost is indeed great and there is much which might be used in disciplining the mind (the true purpose of education), which is irretrievably lost. Nevertheless the fraternity has its place in the college, provided that there is a realization upon the part of the students that Trinity can only progress when undergraduate organizations overlook their selfish interests and work as a part in a well-ordered mechanism.

BOOK REVIEW

THE MAN WHO DIED, by D. H. Lawrence. New York; Alfred A. Knopf; $1.75.

Reviewed by Lorine Pruette.

One of the advantages of the writer's craft is the identification which it allows with figures of the past. If a man tells the corner policeman that he is Napoleon, he will soon find himself under observation in a psychopathic ward. There are Mothers of God, Jesus Christs and Apostle Pauls in any hospital, brooding slatterns who have escaped from the world and lost themselves in the process. Writers are more fortunate; they are able to go where the madmen go, and to consort with ghosts, and to come back more truly themselves.

"The Man Who Died" was published in Paris in 1929 as "The Escaped Cock." It is, quite simply, Lawrence's vindication as an artist. Between it and the early grace of "Sons and Lovers" lie years of ranting, obscurities and obsessions, but I, for one, shall not shed a tear for all the suffering that led to this. In the end it would seem that the fates relented: one perfect story, and then death. It was the dream of Maupassant, but not his achievement.

Jesus exercised a peculiar fascination for Lawrence, so much so that Mr. Murry has made the resemblances and differences between the two the pattern of his recent book. The narrow Christianity of Lawrence's childhood was undoubtedly a part of Lawrence's inability to adjust himself to life, as it is, with its conviction of sin, for so many "moderns." In "The Man Who Died" Lawrence is writing of a Jesus who, having been cut down from the cross too soon, comes back in agony to a world that has betrayed him.

Within the tomb the man who died wakes to the terrible business of living and wants to die again and cannot. He lies in the sun in a peasant's courtyard and cannot bear to look on life. He hears the cocks crowing in spite of his hobbled leg. "He opened his eyes and saw the world again bright as glass. It was life, in which he had no share any more. But it shone outside him: blue sky and a bare fig-tree, with little jets of green leaf. Bright as glass and he was not of it, for desire had failed."

The man who died had thought to be a savior, had sought to give himself in love to all the world, and he had been done to death. Now he comes back to see that he has denied the little loves, the small intimacies of touch which alone make life tolerable. But he is sick with disillusion, he cannot come close to any one now. He is sick of life and yet he must go on living. He "saw a vast resoluteness everywhere flinging itself up in stormy or subtle wave crests, foam tips emerging out of the blue invisible, a black and orange cock or the green flame-tongues out of the extremes of the fig-tree." He dreads the mean contacts of the world and sees that men are mad with the egoistic fear of their own nothingness, that they seek to lay a compulsion upon him, that thus all contacts are a compulsion, even love. But he sets the cock free in a larger yard, saying "Thou at least hast found thy kingdom and the females to thy body. Thy aloneness can take on splendor, polished by the lure of thy hens."

At last he comes to a temple by the sea, where a priestess in yellow and white serves Isis. It is Isis in Search, the bereaved goddess, whose statue strides above them, seeking all the fragments of Osiris to gather them in her arms and warm them to life. And there in the temple the priestess anoints the man who had died and heals his poor body until she cries out that she has known the risen Osiris, and he thinks "Now the world is one flower of many petaled darkness and I am in its perfume as in a touch."

But the slaves have seen the wounds upon his hands and feet and they hunt him as an escaped malefactor. The woman has conceived and now walks apart from him, lost in her own mystery. He tells her that he will come again when the nightingale calls, and he rows away in the boat in which the slaves have come to take him and laughs as he rows with the current. "I have sowed the seed of my life and my resurrection, and put my touch forever upon the choice of this day, and I carry her perfume in my flesh like essence of roses. . . . So let the boat carry me. Tomorrow is another day."

The man who died is of course Lawrence far more than Jesus, and he is, as well, all men who have striven greatly and sought to draw a meaning out of failure. As a part of Lawrence's personal story this allegory is full of heartbreak, although there is courage in it, too, the unreasoned courage of the "resoluteness of life." "Tomorrow is another day"—at last Lawrence has learned to say that, and to go calmly about the task that he can do. At the end of his forty years of learning, Lawrence ceases to belong to psychology and rises suddenly a sure and brilliant artist. Forty years was not too long to learn to write this story.

BLUE AND GOLD BATSMEN LOSE TO MASS. STATE

Trinity Winning Streak Broken
by Ragged Defensive Playing

BOCKWINKEL STARS

First Baseman Gets Three Hits of Team's Nine—Mass. State Team Hits Two Pitchers
from Box

With six games in a row to its credit, the Trinity baseball team was defeated by the Massachusetts State nine 12 to 6 at Amherst, Wednesday afternoon, May 20. Though gaining enough runs to win an average ball game, the Trinity nine's defensive work proved to be sloppy at every position, and it suffered from the results of an off day.

A single by Fontana, a two-bagger by Adams, and a sacrifice hit by Bockwinkel in the first inning gave Trinity two runs to its credit, but M. A. C. soon made up for them in the first and second by gaining six. Trinity acquired another run in the fourth inning but M. A. C. retaliated with two more.

In the fifth inning the Mass. Aggie's pitcher, Tiekowski, hit a triple bringing in another run, and though a single by Coleman and another by Fontana gained a fourth run for Trinity in the seventh, a two-bagger by Welch brought the M. A. C. total to twelve.

In the ninth inning Bell, batting for Coleman, hit a single, Fontana was walked, and Adams also hit a single and two more runs were added to Trinity's score. The Aggies were unable to score and the final count was Trinity 6, Mass. Aggies 12.

ATHENAEUM SOCIETY HAS BANQUET

On Monday evening, May 18, the Athenaeum Society held its annual banquet at the Hotel Heublein. The club had as its guests Dean Hood, Dr. G. Kleene, Dr. Motten, and Mr. Robert C. Buell all of whom gave short addresses. Charles Jacobson was toastmaster.

The following members of the club spoke: McKee, J. J. Sharkey, and J. Isherwood. The banquet was attended by about twenty-five persons.

The banquet closed the current season of the Athenaeum Society. This has been the most successful year which the society has had since its revival three years ago. The debating team of the society has not lost an intercollegiate meet, the membership has been increased, and the society has petitioned a national debating fraternity for a charter. Much credit is due to this organization which in three brief years has become one of the most successful groups on the campus.

reate sermon will be held in Christ Church Cathedral. The preacher will be the Reverend Louis Cope Washburn, D. D., '81.

Commencement Day will be Monday, June 15, starting with morning prayer in the Crypt Chapel at 9 a. m. At 10 a. m. the Academic Procession forms in front of Northam Towers. At 10.30 a. m. the one hundred fifth Commencement will be held in Alumni Hall.

Classes scheduled for reunions are: 1881, 1886, 1887, 1888, 1889, 1905, 1906, 1907, 1908, 1921, 1924, 1925, 1926, 1927.

The College is hoping to have as its guest among the Alumni Colonel William S. Cogswell, of the Class of 1861. Colonel Cogswell is the oldest living graduate, and this will be the 70th anniversary of the graduation of his class. Colonel Cogswell is a veteran of the Civil War. One of Trinity's famous stories is the one which tells of a cow in the attic of chapel, but how many of the present undergraduate body know the instigators of the plot?

Sophomore Dining Club. Prior, Alpha Chi Rho, is manager of football, a member of the S. D. C., and Medusa. Garrison is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity.

It was decided at the last meeting to present charms awarded to members of two years' standing at the Senior Class Day exercises.

Professor Merritt commended the efforts of the retiring president, Edward Ljungquist, saying that his work made possible the success of the club's business.

Under the able and conscientious coaching of Professor Merritt, the club has presented its efforts to the student body and public several times during the past year. These appearances include the Glee Club competition at the Bushnell Memorial, where the Trinity organization won fourth place among the eleven contenders; a concert in Alumni Hall; a radio appearance over Station WTIC; and several other performances.

Or from maybelline eyes doth seek
Fuel to maintain his fires,
Loves a flapper."

HARVARD'S WAR DEAD.

President Lowell of Harvard University, who sometimes seems very close to the stern, unbending Puritan of tradition, has yielded one step to the protest of Harvard graduates and undergraduates against the intention to omit from the new Harvard Memorial Chapel any mention of the three Harvard graduates who died fighting in the German armies. The chapel will be a monument to the men who gave their lives in the Allied cause, but there will be room in it for a tablet to the three Germans, all of whom, as it happens, died before the United States entered the World War.

The decision will seem wise, for the chapel will inevitably in the long run be primarily a memorial to heroism, and the spirit of sacrifice was surely present in both lines of trenches. Only those are surprised that Columbia now resumes its exchange professorship with the University of Berlin who had supposed that the old bond had long ago been reformed. President Lowell, surely, will find all Harvard alumni with him in his readiness to forecast the reconciliation of the future.

"The Harvard Crimson," organ of undergraduate opinion, which led the battle for a memorial to the German dead, has also fought the proposal to give the war memorial the form of a chapel occupying much of the remaining open green space in the Harvard Yard. Graduates too have protested and wondered whether the World War Memorial might not in some way be linked with the great hall built in memory of the Civil War dead, which now stands, an empty, unused shell, in the heart of the busy Harvard settlement. But that is a question upon which outsiders may hesitate to express opinion; even the Harvard graduates and undergraduates who have ventured to have opinions of their own, have discovered that their comment was unwelcome.

of trouble. The Aggies will come to Hartford anxious to avenge the 8 to 2 defeat which Adams handed to them in April.

The cancelling of the Amherst game was a disappointment, as it looked as if Trinity might beat all of the little three in one sport in one season, which is something that has not been done for a good number of years.

On Saturday the Conn. Aggie track team will also be in Hartford to face the Blue and Gold. Our chances are no better than even in this meet, as stopping the Aggies means stopping their ace, Dan Chubbuck, who has scored over twenty points in every meet this year. Daut, Welivar, if he is in shape, Wright, and Christy, may be able to combine and beat him in most of the events.

ly. Several spills marred the running of the inexperienced men.

In the mile, the first final to be run, Harris, Psi Upsilon, finished yards ahead of Carlton, Sigma Nu.

Several heats were run in the 220-Yard Low Hurdles, and the five fastest men were chosen for the finals, to be held Wednesday. Daut upset the dope by qualifying with a faster time than either Christy or Geiger, who run the event on the 'varsity.

Heats were also run in the Hundred Yard Dash, in which Gibson, Delta Psi, qualified with the fair time of 8 2-10 seconds.

The 440-Yard Dash was won by Wright, St. Anthony, with Meier, Sigma Nu, but a few yards behind. Lidell, 'varsity man in the event, failed to place better than fourth. This event was a final, so few entries having been received.

In the 220-Yard Dash, the last track event of the afternoon, Wright again placed first, although this event was not a final.

The field events, the pole vault, shot put, and javelin throw, were all finals, and only the discus, broad and high jumps are left to be run on Wednesday.

The results of the events that were completed Monday are:

One-Mile Run, won by Harris, Psi Upsilon; Carlton, Sigma Nu, second; Duksa, Sigma Nu, third; Gladwin, Sigma Nu, fourth; Childs, Sigma Nu, fifth. Time 4:53 9-10.

440-Yard Dash, won by Wright, St. Anthony; second, Meier, Sigma Nu; third, Benjamin, St. Anthony; fourth, Liddell, Alpha Delta Phi; fifth, S. Wadlow, Alpha Delta Phi.

Pole Vault, won by Higgins, Alpha Delta Phi; second, tie between Convey, Sigma Nu, and Roland, Neutral; fourth, Disco, Sigma Nu; fifth, Magrauth, Alpha Delta Phi. Height, 10 feet, 6 inches.

Shot Put, won by Daut, Delta Phi; second, Hanniven, Sigma Nu; third, Phippen, Alpha Delta Phi; fourth, Bockwinkel, Alpha Delta Phi; fifth, Mackie, Sigma Nu. Distance, 37 feet, 8 1/2 inches.

Javelin, won by Bockwinkel, Alpha Delta Phi; second, Thompson, Alpha Chi Rho; third, Sill, Delta Phi; fourth, Andrus, St. Anthony; fifth, Phippen, Alpha Delta Phi.

Those qualifying in the following events are:

220-Yard Low Hurdles: Daut, Delta Phi; Christy, AXP; Geiger, Delta Phi; Andrus, St. Anthony; Burnside, Delta Phi. Best time, 27 6-10.

120-Yard High Hurdles: Daut, Delta Phi; Christy, AXP; Clark, St. Anthony; Durand, Sigma Nu; Gibson, St. Anthony. Best time, 16 4-10.

220-Yard Dash: Wright, St. Anthony; Christy, AXP; Gibson, St. Anthony; Fontana, Sigma Nu; Bockwinkel, Alpha Delta Phi; Meier, Sigma Nu. Best time, 24 3-10.

100-Yard Dash: Gibson, St. Anthony; Daut, Delta Phi; Bockwinkel, Alpha Delta Phi; Fontana, Sigma Nu; Disco, Sigma Nu. Best time, 10 8-10.

In addition to the above events, the 880-Yard Run, the Two-Mile Run, the Broad and High Jumps, and the Discus Throw are to be held Wednesday.
