FRESHMEN LOSE TO KENT IN WELL-PLAYED GAME

Visitors Tally Thrice to Defeat Blue and Gold—Alexander Scores Touchdown

On Saturday, November 7, the Trinity Freshman team lost to Kent School with a score of 19 to 7, in their last game and only defeat of the season. The contest, held on the Trinity field was well in favor of the visitors, whose fast ground work aided by long forward passes brought them twelve first downs to seven for the Blue and The touchdowns for Kent, made by Roscoe and Hart, occurred in the first, second and fourth quarters, the extra point being netted after the second one. Trinity scored at the last of the fourth period with but a minute to play, Alexander scoring.

FOOTBALL SEASON ENDS WITH TWO VICTORIES

Team Fails to Meet Expectations -Four Defeats Mar Record

From the very beginning on the 10th of September, when the first call for football candidates was issued, it seemed as though this was the year for a repetition of the undefeated football season of 1922-Trinity's last. Since that year football at Trinity became more and more mediocre, the teams never being victorious in more than two games per season. But last year through the added strength of some transfer athletes, the outlook seemed brighter. Trinity men saw an undefeated season looming in the near future. So, with last year's successful campaign, successful in comparison to the miserable showing of the past years, behind the team and the returning of most of the lettermen, there were no reasons for feeling other than most confident of the coming season. There were such freshman players as Galloday, Haring, and Kingston to fill the vacancies left by graduating lettermen and other promising material, from whom great things were expected with the necessary amount of coaching. Yet, with this favorable outlook to bolster her confidence. Trinity failed to live up to the expectations held by the student body missing her mark by four defeats, two of them being administered by our traditional rivals, Weslevan, and Amherst. That we haven't had the best of luck it is true, for when such offensives as the Blue and Gold launched in the Wesleyan game, coming within two yards of the goal line, turn out failures there tune. Still, considering our material and facilities, there is no concrete alibi for the 1931 football season.

The first day saw eleven prospective candidates, who had cut short their vacation in order to figure in a possible undefeated season, undergo a strenuous drill of calisthenics. From then until the beginning of school the personnel of the team was bolstered, there being finally enough players for three full teams. The prospective candidates were as follows: Wadlow, Geiger, Craig, Fritzon and Bayley, ends; Burgess, Hanninen, Haring, and Melrose, tackles; Kingston, Meier, Jones, Cutler, Onderdonk, and McKee, guards; Campion, Breed, and Coyle, centers; and Fontana, Armstrong, Phippen, Galloway, Bialick, Brewer, Disco, T. Wadlow, Smith, and Smith, backs. Saturday, October 3, the team had been worked into shape, good enough

WESLEYAN SOCCER TEAM WINS PRACTICE MATCH

Blue and Gold Team Lose 2 to 1; Wright Scores Goal for Trinity

On November 4, the Trinity Soccer Team suffered its first defeat of the current season, bowing to the Wesleyan 'Varsity booters in a practice game at Middletown. The score of 2 to 1 speaks well for the Blue and Gold eleven, as it was their first contest against a collegiate team.

The Trinity defense, unscored upon this far in the regular schedule, displayed power in limiting the fast Middletown forward line to two tallies. The offense did not function so well, the only goal resulting from a quick pass by Burnside to Wright, and an accurate kick by the latter for the score. Numerous chances for deadlocking the game presented themselves, but the Trinity threats were consistently thwarted by the heavy Wesleyan backs and several certain scores nullified by penalties.

Wright, Burnside and Liddell stood out on the attack; while Warner at goal, with Andrus and Schmolze, featured in the back line play.

CROSS-COUNTRY RACE TO BE RUN THURSDAY

Harris' Injury on Eve of Contest May Keep Him From Competing

The annual fall cross-country race will be run Thursday at 4.15 o'clock. Lyman Ogilby, son of President Ogilby, has donated a loving cup to be awarded permanently to the man who wins the race three years. The same course will be used this year that was used last year, covering a distance of two and a half miles. The time limit for the running of the course will be twenty minutes.

Harris, a member of Psi Upsilon fraternity, set a new record for the event with a time of fourteen minutes, thirteen and two-fifth seconds. Second and third places were won by K. E. Birch and W. Carleton, respectively, both members of Sigma Nu fraternity. All three of these men were members of last year's track squad.

Among the new men, Robert Lau has shown much promise, while J. State, has also shown much ability.

This race will open the intramural competition for the Alumni Cup.

This year each fraternity will only be allowed to enter ten men, instead of an unlimited number as has been the custom in the past. Another innovation will be the fact that the Neutrals will be allowed to have three their own goal line. teams.

Plays Fine Game Both on Offense and Defense; Eight Men Play Last Game.

Playing disappointingly in their final game of the season the Blue and Gold 'Varsity gridmen lost to Amherst last Saturday at the latter's home field by the score of 33 to 6. For nearly a half Trinity held its own, keeping the Lord Jeffs to a 7 to 6 lead; but in the closing minutes of the second quarter, the playing of the team collapsed entirely, and Amherst, led by Warner and Cadigan, rushed through for two touchdowns. The rout continued in the second half, and before the third quarter had ended the Lord Jeffs garnered two more touchdowns. The fourth period saw a reawakening of the Trinity spirit, and both teams played scoreless ball to the final whistle. Just before the end of the game Galloway snared a punt on his own 24-yard mark, and raced it back to within seven yards of the Amherst goal line. Except for the Trinity touchdown in the second quarter this run was the only ray of sunshine that was visible to the Blue and Gold supporters throughout the game.

The drive that resulted in the Trinity touchdown got its start early in the second quarter, when Armstrong booted a long 60-yard punt to the Amherst 15-yard stripe. After two futile rushes through the line, both of which were stopped by Burgess, the Lord Jeffs were forced to kick. Galloway grabbed the ball at midfield and raced it back 25 yards. plays Joe Fontana pounded through the line for six yards. A few moments later Armstrong cut around left end and galloped to the 10-vard line. Then Fontana smashed through center for four yards more. Another plunge by Fontana put the pigskin on the Amherst one-yard mark and resulted in a first down for Trinity. On the next play Galloway carried the ball through center for a touchdown. Trinity was now behind 7 to 6 and a good kick would have tied the score, but Phippen's boot went wide by a few yards-leaving the Lord

The first quarter of the game started somewhat inauspiciously for the Blue and Gold. Brewer caught the ball after the kickoff and handed it to Phippen, who carried it to the Trinity 21-yard line. On the very first play from the line of scrimmage Brewer was hit hard as he tried to rush through, and he fumbled the ball. Skiles pounced upon it and recovered for Amherst. Warner then ran wide around left end to the 12-Swanson, a transfer from Michigan yard line. Again Warner carried the pigskin, and this time he made seven yards more. The ball was now on the 5-yard line, but the Blue and Gold line savagely thrust back Amherst's attempt for the touchdown. Three times the Lord Jeffs were repulsed, and finally the Trinity warriors took possession of the ball two yards from

After an exchange of punts the Blue and Gold began an attack from their own 15-yard mark which netted them a first down. Tom Wadlow

THE FOOTBALL SEASON

The usual September hopes of a great Trinity football season have come and gone once more. Previous to the first game there were vague rumors of the possibility of an undefeated season on the 1931 gridiron. Within two weeks this glimmering goal had fallen into the ashes of oblivion, and so, what with one thing and another, went the six weeks of the season. For some of us it was doubly disappointing, because we saw the passing of our last chance as undergraduates to see Trinity score a major football victory. Some of us have seen Wesleyan faced four times, always gallantly. We have had the satisfaction of a lone tie with Amherst. The one Williams game was a hopeless rout.

But we are not expert football critics. We shall not attempt to say what is wrong with Trinity football. We do not know. We gladly leave the solution of that problem to the many experts who swarm the campus, and who are undoubtedly willing to explain the whole situation.

On the other hand we choose to take some consolation in the fact that we have seen game Trinity elevens, which in the main have fought hard and well, Trinity squads that have played football because the game was a lot of fun. Perhaps these teams have not been overcrowded with Barry Woods and "Catfish" Smiths, but they have played the part of gallant sportsmen.

To most of you, especially freshmen, this viewpoint will seem to be sentimental tosh and a distinctly second choice satisfaction. In a measure it is, but then, as all the newspapers have carefully pointed out, the rah-rah football spirit has moved south and west of the Mississippi, and in the older institutions of the East and even of the Middle West football has become more and more a game to be enjoyed by both player and spectator and not to be wept over in the losing.

COACH BILL GALVIN

Three years ago William J. Galvin was selected, mainly by our Alumni, to coach the Trinity College football team. Ever a loyal friend of the College, he took over the job enthusiastically and endeavored to raise Trinity's athletic standards to equal those of fifteen and twenty years ago. Yet, during those three years he has not been entirely successful, and we hear many voices about the campus criticising.

From the start he found that his job was indeed a difficult one. He has not had the necessary authority either on the football field or in the athletic councils. The Faculty and other authorities have not helped him with any coöperation. We believe it unfortunate that our coach first found it necessary to buy jerseys for the team himself; that he has had to accept made-over equipment every year. New outfits granted have been of the cheaper sort, and one has only to see the wretched condition the shoes of this year's team are in to realize the necessity of more lasting and more expensive equipment.

We admit that a successful coach should win at least the majority of his games. We do not claim that Mr. Galvin has been a successful coach. But we do hope that our many critics will be more considerate in their judgment of a man who has worked unceasingly three years for their College, even in the face of dis- of it all is harmless and diverting favor from the start.

BOOK REVIEW

"THE OPENING OF A DOOR", by Grandmother and Grandfather Mac-George Davis. Published by Harper & Brothers. $2.50.

This novel has received high praise for its style. Certainly that is the most distinctive thing about it. Powliterally bludgeons a lasting impression upon the mind. Vigorous prose is, of course, always most gratifying, but there are times when this somehow misses its mark, mainly because it tries too hard. One becomes conscious of the effort made by the author, and, as usual, such an awareness on the part of the reader reduces the effect of the style to something merely stilted and forced. If it were not for that there would be justification for the paeans sung by many a blase, jaded old critic in praise of that it is a first novel is promising, for doubtless Mr. Davis will in time become more adept at concealing his art. This done, he is sure to be an important writer.

Aside from the occasional obviousness of the style, however, there is yet another objection. This department must in all honesty break down and confess that he did not fully understand it. Thus he sets himself point out what he missed. And in ing first what he did understand.

The story itself is simplicity in the extreme. There could be nothing ada. there to escape the cautious reader. It deals with a lower middle-class family who lives in Chicago, in the ever-astonishing combination of squalor and respectability which so definitely marks that class. There is no conventional plot. It is simply the account of their lives. Easy to perceive, also, are their characters-the effect of the family, as a group, is somewhat different, on each individual, but, notwithstanding, a powerful

Dougall were among the leading citizens there in the days when they were more prosperous, and the importance they enjoyed is the cause of a marked but posthumous appreciation of the place. Grandfather was always a reticent, easy-going man, whose personerful, vivid, at times almost cruel, it ality was never explained or understood by the family. He dies in the first chapter of the book, and thenceforth plays the part of a memory, vague because of its mystery, but none the less highly respected. Grandmother, in her youth, was fiery and tempestuous; she managed not only household, but business affairs with an energetic brilliance and a charming assertiveness. When the book opens, she has lost her memory, but still remains very much one of the family. It is remarkable how this doddering old woman, whose talk is only the chattering of half-remembered, disconnected things, can take such an active part in the story. More than "The Opening of a Door". The fact that, she is the dominating force, the last bond that holds the family to-

There is a grandson, Edward, a callow, introspective youth who wants to write, but somehow gives the impression that he never will. Throughout the year in which the story takes place, nothing happens to him. He makes no friends, gets nowhere; he merely forms half-ideas and plans which bewilder rather than help him. This portrait of adolescence in its most unromantic and realistic aspects to the difficult task of attempting to is perhaps the finest piece of work in the novel, with the possible exception doing so, he will work backwards, list- of a chapter devoted to the visit of a reminiscent old woman who had been the MacDougall's maid back in Can-

And the part that was not understood? There was no special section necessarily unintelligible, but rather an attitude or impression created by the author that caused things left unsaid to take on large proportions and to make one feel he has missed what should have been conveyed. Whether the fault lies with Mr. Davis or this department is a question. If it is merely with the latter, all apologies; if with the former, it is something he must correct. He cannot fulfill the promise he shows by overrating the imagination of his public. Canada, which, though they have not events, his book is far enough out of been near it for years, remains in- the ordinary to cause controversy and

The duration of your editorship, Sir, has been marked by a series of vicious attacks, both on the part of yourself and your colleagues, against some of those very institutions and "traditions" which collectively constitute one of the finest elements in life at Trinity.

Trinity Tripod,
Trinity College,

Hartford, Conn.

Attention of the Editors.

Gentlemen:

I write this letter to you with no idea of criticising your paper, inasmuch as I believe that the Tripod has been loyal to the team this year, and in the past.

However, the local papers the early part of this week carried a story in which they intimated that the team lost against Wesleyan because of lacking the will to win. Anticipating that this idea might be carried to the campus at Trinity and that some of the student body on the campus, or some of the alumni might think that it is true, I beg to take the liberty at this time to tell your paper that I have never seen a finer spirit in any football team than the spirit that exists in the squad on the hill this year.

The coaching staff absolutely knows that the team gave everything that it had. True enough the team has a good offense, and it looks at times as though it should swamp its opponents, but do not forget that most of the men that are playing on the team are the same men that played one year and two years ago, and that they have learned most of their football while at Trinity. We are handicapped because of the short amount of time we can spend with the team. Most of the classes are not over until about 4 o'clock and we cannot start practice until 4.15 o'clock, and with darkness coming on about 5 o'clock it gives us less than an hour to practice. Monday must be a light day, and we sometimes go so far as giving the squad a day off on Tuesday so they may recuperate from the previous Saturday's game.

When one realizes that none of our three center men exceed 155 pounds, and when one realizes that our tackle material and half of our guard material is inexperienced as to 'varsity football, we should take the attitude that our line did a fine job although handicapped by weight and inexperience against a heavy, experienced, barrel-chested Wesleyan line. Personally, I feel this line deserves a great deal of credit for the way it has stood up, regardless of what the result of the Amherst game may be.

Our line played an aggressive defense during the whole sixty minutes of the game with only a slight let down during the two Schlums' drives.

The coaching staff, knowing that we are handicapped as to experience and weight, have relied on deception this year in order to make a decent showing against our opponents. Your team executed its plays, as far as deception was concerned, with accuracy and precision, and with any kind of breaks would have scored several times against Wesleyan. Naturally our blocking and line plunging was not ideal, but this was due alone to lack of weight and experience. The spirit of the team was fine. I know this from my contact with the men during the entire game. This team of ours does not lack the will to win, and I would still say this if we lost every game of the season.

It is easy enough for some to criticise the team, the spirit, the plays of the quarterback or any other department of our football team. The team that loses can always be criticised. The winning team regardless of the lucky breaks it gets, or regardless of how ragged its plays are, is always a success. Personally, I want to win, the coaching staff wants to win, and the team wants to win, but it cannot always be done.

The fact that we tied Amherst last year should not, in the opinion of the student body, class Trinity as an A-1 small college team. It was fight alone that stopped Amherst.

My plea at this time is this, namely, that regardless of who may coach your team during the next decade, or regardless of who may play on the team, Trinity is on the up-swing in

THREE FRATERNITIES HOLD HOUSE DANCES.

On Saturday, November 9, three fraternities, namely, Alpha Delta Phi, Delta Psi, and Sigma Nu held house dances. The dancing was from 8 to 12 in each case and they were a great success.

Music in the Alpha Delta house was ably supplied by Si Yaffe and his dance orchestra, and refreshments were served at 11 o'clock.

Among those present were: The patronesses, Mrs. R. B. Ogilby, Mrs. Leroy Barret, Mrs. L. B. Brainerd, Mrs. E. Humphrey, and Mrs. H. Dadourian. The other guests included, Dr. Ogilby, the Dean and Mrs. Hood, Professor Dadourian, Professor and Mrs. Krieble, Professor Humphrey, Mr. A. T. Merritt.

The music at St. Anthony's Hall was played by Larry Carroll's Colony Club Orchestra.

The patronesses were: Mrs. R. B. Ogilby, Mrs. Rohr, Mrs. J. Flynn, Mrs. C. Beach, Mrs. Thayer, and Mrs. C. Foss. Among the others present were: The President, the Dean and Mrs. Hood, Professor and Mrs. Dadourian, and Mr. A. T. Merritt.

Refreshments were served at 12. The Sigma Nu dance numbered among its guests, the patronesses: Mrs. A. Peiker, Mrs. H. T. Barbour, Mrs. R. Segur, Mrs. R. Ramson, and Mrs. R. W. Woodward, Dr. and Mrs. Ogilby, the Dean and Mrs. Hood, Mr. Ullmer, and Mr. Altmeir.

The house was tastefully decorated with palms and laurels and refreshments were served at 10.30. At the close of the dance college songs were sung.

football. The team has improved each year during the last three years. We know that the team played better against Wesleyan last Saturday than they were capable of playing.

I earnestly urge that you continue your ardent support of the team. It is difficult to pull oneself up by the boot straps. We urge that all Trinity men get in back of their team and slap them on the back and encourage them rather than trying to take this little machine apart to see what makes it run. A winning football team cannot be developed overnight. Trinity has come up from the "push over" class to the status of a real contender, and a fighting offensive team that must be reckoned with.

It seems to follow psychologically that such a team must be tested with a season of heartaches so it will not be found wanting when it starts to enter into a season of victories.

Urge the student body to give the proper respect due to the men who give up and sacrifice so much for the football team. Increase the loyalty and enthusiasm of the student body as the squad has increased its ability at football, and your college will have a spirit that cannot be broken.

Sincerely yours,

cracked left tackle for five yards, and Fontana, who had taken Brewer's place, gained two more with a rush through center. A five-yard penalty for offside against Amherst netted the first down, but the next few plays were unproductive of yardage, and Phippen was forced to kick.

Cadigan downed the punt on the Amherst 44-yard stripe. Knutson tried to smash through center, but Campion was not intimidated and threw him for a yard loss. On the next play Cadigan hurled a long pass to Warner far over the right side of the line. Warner caught it and sped down the sideline. It looked as if he would get away for a touchdown, but Phippen bore down upon him and drove him out on the Blue and Gold 25-yard mark.

A few plays later Amherst lost the ball on downs, after incurring a fiveyard penalty for offside. Twice Fontana hit the line and the second time he battered the right side for a 10-That gave Trinity a yard gain. first down. A forward pass from Galloway to Phippen accounted for five more yards, but an incomplete pass and a 15-yard penalty against the Blue and Gold finally forced Phippen to punt. Warner ran it back 20 yards to the Trinity 45-yard stripe. Warner then whipped a forward to Greenough, who was finally driven out of bounds on the 26-yard line. A few moments later Cadigan made five yards more through right tackle, and on the next play Warner broke through for a first down on the Blue and Gold 15-yard line. A pass from Cadigan to Warner put the ball six yards away from the last white stripe, and then in two rushes Cadigan went over for a touchdown. He also rushed the pigskin over for the extra point - making the score Amherst 7, Trinity 0. The quarter ended a half minute later.

Second Quarter.

In the second quarter the Trinity gridsters retaliated with their only touchdown. An irresistible attack, led by Galloway, Fontana, and Armstrong pushed the Lord Jeffs across their own goal line. Even though the kick for the extra point was no good, it still looked as if Trinity would soon forge into the lead.

A few moments after the ensuing kickoff Fritzon recovered an enemy fumble on the Amherst 26-yard line. A pass from Galloway to Phippen short pass to Galloway, who was tackled on the 16-yard stripe. At this point the linesmen had to be called out to determine whether a first down had been made. They decided to the contrary and the Lord Jeffs took possession of the ball. Amherst made a fruitless attempt to gain through the line, and finally Cadigan punted—the ball going out at midfield. A few plays later Kenyon intercepted one of Phippen's passes and dashed to the Trinity 29yard line before he was driven out by Campion. The Trinity line held on the next few plays, and Amherst was forced to punt, the kick going to Phippen on the Blue and Gold 16-yard

Now only a few minutes remained before the end of the half, but there was enough time to ruin the Trinity hopes of victory. Greenough intercepted a forward pass from Phippen to Galloway and raced to the Blue and Gold 5-yard stripe. Amherst now had four downs to make the five yards for a touchdown, but for the second time in the game the Blue and Gold beat back a Lord Jeff threat on the very goal line. Four times the Amherst backs broke against the Blue and Gold forward wall, and finally the pigskin went into Trinity's possession one foot from the goal line. Phippen punted to midfield, and Warner carried the pigskin back six yards. Warner tried to go through the line, but Al Meier smeared him hard for a small loss. A long forward pass from DePasqua to Mason put the ball on the Trinity 16-yard stripe. Two plays later Knutson wriggled past the Blue and Gold defense for a touchdown. The kick for the extra point was no good, leaving Amherst in the lead, 13 to 6. In the minute that remained in the second quarter Warner led Amherst to another touchdown, and when the half came to an end, the Blue and Gold were on the short end of a 19 to 6 score.

Third Quarter.

In the second half the Trinity team seemed discouraged. The telling Amherst offensive in the closing moments of the first half had evidently broken the morale of the players, for they could not get started again. From the opening kickoff the cohorts of Lord Jeffery Amherst swept down for another touchdown. Cadigan ran back Armstrong's kickoff from the 11 to the 32-yard line. Warner crashedthrough center for 10 yards and a first down. A pass from Warner to-Kenyon and a line plunge by Warner just netted another first down. Curtiss pulled down another of Warner's passes and charged into Trinity territory, being downed on the 38-yard stripe. Cadigan plunged through center for four more yards and another first down. Trinity called time out netted four yards, and Armstrong in an attempt to quell the Amherst garnered four more in a dash around attack, but it was of no avail. Warleft end. After an unsuccessful rush ner went through the line for a 10yard gain. Again Warner carried the ball, cracking the line for six more yards. For a moment it looked as if he were going for a touchdown, but Captain Al Meier, who was playing his last game for the Blue and Gold, bore down upon him and tackled him savagely from behind. On the next play a pass from Warner to Cadigan carried the pigskin to Trinity's twoyard line, and then Cadigan plunged through for a touchdown. Cadigan's kick was good, putting Amherst ahead, 26 to 6.

> The following five minutes were fairly even, with both teams playing Amherst's final conservatively. touchdown came toward the end of the quarter. A long surprise punt by Armstrong netted 60 yards and put the pigskin on the Lord Jeff 5-yard stripe, from where it was run back five yards. Knutson ran the ball to the 27-yard line, where he was stopped by Fritzon. A moment later Warner carried the pigskin into Blue and Gold territory with a 30-yard Own Fumbles Recovered,... 0 run. through the line Phippen tossed a first down. Homer, who was here substituted for Warner, broke through to the Trinity 35-yard mark. Knutson cracked the line for a 13-yard gain. Homer gained three yards on an off tackle play. A Cadigan to Homer forward pass put the ball on the 6-yard line, and on the next play Homer darted through the right side of the line for a touchdown. Cadigan kicked the extra point. The count now stood Amherst 33, Trinity 6. The third quarter ended soon after.

Fourth Quarter.

In the final period the Blue and Gold showed fight again and played the Lord Jeffs to a standstill. But still the Trinity offense could not click. The running attack was erratic, and the passing was inconsistent. In the final play of the game Galloway ran back a punt 70 yards and nearly got away for a touchdown, but he was tackled from behind by two Amherst men on the Lord Jeff 7yard mark, and the whistle sounded the end of the proceedings.

Resume.

The playing of Galloway, Fontana, and Armstrong was outstanding; while Warner, Cadigan, and DePasqua were the stars for Amherst. A bright feature of the game was the work of Doc Olin, the famous Swedish medico and wielder of adhesive tape, who bandaged the players' legs so well that they went out and scored a touchdown for Trinity. The Lord Jeffs took advantage of their opportunities in the second and third quarters to roll up their score. The Blue and Gold team, except for stray moments, played a spotty, uninspiring game. It did not look like the same team which fought so grandly and bitterly against the Connecticut Aggies a month ago and against Wesleyan last week. There was something lacking.

For eight members of the team this was the last football game of their Campion, Captain college careers. Meier, Fred Geiger, Hank Phippen, Joe Fontana, Ray Bialick, Harold Disco, and Al Breed have played their last football game for Trinity.

TRINITY FROSH FINISH SUCCESSFUL SEASON

Record is Same as That of Class of 1934-Much Promising Material for 'Varsity

Oct. 10-Trinity 0, Wilbraham 0, (here).

Oct. 16-Trinity 25, Conn. Aggie Frosh 0, (there).

Oct. 24 — Trinity 16, Suffield 6,

Nov. 7-Trinity 7, Kent 19, (here).

On Saturday, November 7, the Trinity Freshmen closed the football season with their one defeat of the fall, having tied one and won two games, with a total of 48 points as opposed to their opponents' 25 points.

The first game, played on home ground and resulting in a scoreless tie, was rather sluggish the first half, both teams resorting to defensive tactics. The Frosh recovered, however, in the second half. Marquet's fast end runs, Bissell's long passes, the hard line plunging of Alexander and Sampers paved the way for a threatening advantage. This was lost after several incompleted passes. Wilbraham threatened once in the second quarter with an attempted place kick which struck the cross-bar.

On October 16 the Blue and Gold won its first victory from Connecticut Aggie Freshmen with a 25 to 0 score. The game, played at Storrs, was well in the hands of the Blue and Gold from beginning to end. Many short punts by the Connecticut Aggies enabled their opponents to cut deep within their territory. During the second quarter Sampers plunged over the goal line following a 25-yard pass from Bissell to Marquet. The last two quarters were a punting contest during which the Aggies desperately but vainly tried to hold back the more powerful Trinity team. In the last quarter an intercepted pass by Maher brought the latter to within 11 yards of the goal. Marquet ran over on a reverse play. Following this, several heavy penalties brought Trinity back close to her own goal line. Forcing her opponents back to their own territory, she held them. Eigenbauer intercepted a pass and made a 35-yard run for the second scoring. Again Trinity went down the field in two first downs and Sampers went over for the final points. It was at this game that Maher was elected captain.

The Freshmen won their second victory from Suffield Academy at Suffield on October 24 by a 16 to 0 score. Suffield scored in the second quarter when an attempted punt by Trinity from their 20-yard line was blocked and recovered by Suffield for a touchdown. In the third period. after making three first downs in succession from their own 38-yard THE PLACE OF ACCOMMODATION line, Trinity scored on a 12-yard run around end by Darrell. three on the next play. The three yards were regained on third down and Bissell punted on fourth. Kent received on her five yard line and was downed on the 13-yard line. Shepherd made ten yards off right tackle for first down. Kent made four yards then lost the same, gained one yard, and punted on fourth down from their 24-yard line. An off-sides penalty against Trinity gave them five yards and they punted again. The ball rolled out of bounds on Kent's 33-yard line. Trinity gained six yards in two downs, failed to gain on the third, and a fumble on fourth down was recovered by Kent on their 30-yard line. The latter made three yards in three downs and punted on fourth. Trinity was downed on her 35-yard line, gained nine yards in three downs and made first down on the next, bringing the ball to her 47yard line when the half ended.

Third Quarter.

Trinity received from Kent on her 25-yard line and running the ball up to her 36-yard line. Kent was penalized five yards for off-sides. A six-yard gain on second down brought the ball to the 47-yard line for a Trinity first down. A double pass on the next play netted 25 yards for another first down. With the ball on Kent's 28-yard line, the Blue and Gold netted nine yards in the next two downs, lost two yards on the third, and with the ball on the 22-yard line lost it to Kent on a grounded pass on last down. Kent gained one yard, lost three, and a forward pass on third down brought first down on Kent's 32-yard line. A forward pass was grounded, a yard lost on second down, a second pass failed with a penalty of five yards on third, and on fourth down Kent punted from her 26-yard line. Receiving on her 45yard line Trinity was downed after running up one yard. A penalty of 15 yards for clipping was called against the Freshmen on first down. No gain on the next play, then after making eight yards in the next two downs, they punted on the last from their 39-yard line. Kent received on her 40-yard mark and ran out of bounds on Trinity's 48-yard line. A fumble on first down was recovered by Trinity on Kent's 49-yard marker. An off-sides penalty on Kent brought the ball five yards back. Trinity lost six yards, gained four, failed in a forward pass, and punted from Kent's 46-yard line. The visitors received on the 11-yard line and ran it up to the 19-yard line. No gain on first down, a forward pass failed on second, another on third with a fiveyard penalty, and a punt on fourth down from their 14-yard line was received by Trinity and downed on their 49-yard line. Three yards were made in the first two plays, a forward pass failed on third, and they punted on the last from Kent's 48-yard line. With the ball on their 32-yard line, Kent made no gain on first down, as the quarter ended.

Fourth Quarter.

35-yard mark and ran up four yards. two yards were gained, and a punt from the Trinity 48-yard line rolled out of bounds on Kent's 21-yard line. Kent made seven yards, lost two yards, and on third down from their own 26-yard line they made 34-yards on a forward pass, being stopped at Trinity's 40-yard line. They lost four yards on first down, but ran up to the 22-yard line with a forward pass on the next. On first down they made two yards, a forward pass failed on the second, and on third down from the 20-yard line Roscoe received a 30-yard pass over the goal line from Shepherd for the third touchdown. The point failed and the score stood: Kent 19, Trinity 0.

I liked Chesterfield right from the start"

O, I don't know a blessed thing about how cigarettes are made. But, of course, I would want the tobacco to be PURE. And then I've heard that the blending is very important. I'd want that to be done just right.

"Then the paper. I don't like paper that you can taste—or smell when it's burning. I'd want that pure too.

"Another thing. I want to smoke whenever I feel like it-without worrying about smoking too many. So I want my cigarettes MILD.

"But the main thing, of course, is TASTE. I don't care for over-sweetened cigarettes. I much prefer those that are just sweet enough.

"Chesterfield seems to satisfy in every one of these ways. That is why I'd rather have a Chesterfield."

SMOKERS tire of too much sweetness in a cigarette, and they don't like rawness. For a steady diet, they want a cigarette like CHESTERFIELD — a mild and mellow smoke, free from any over-sweetness or any harshness or bitterness. That's why more and more smokers every day are changing to CHESTERFIELD.

kicked the extra point. Toward the close of the quarter Suffield punted to their 30-yard line and Trinity returned the ball to the 15-yard line. Several gains and a penalty against Suffield brought the Blue and Gold to the one-yard line. Suffield recovered a Trinity fumble, but in attempting to kick on the next play the ball was blocked by Kellam and recovered by Suffield behind the goal line for a safety. to beat the New York Aggie team by a 19 to 7 score. It was in this game that the weakness of the line was realized. Only through highly effective aerial offense was Trinity able to make up for its seemingly inexperienced line. Trinity's opportunity to assume the lead was lost when a drop-kick by Phippen went in the first quarter wide, after an offensive featured by Disco, Bialick, Brewer and Phippen. The remainder of the fast quarter was unproductive. Then, in the early part of the second quarter, the opponents took the lead through a long forward pass, Read to Hepenstal. The Phippen-Armstrong pass combination began to click culminating in a touchdown. The score at the half was 7 to 7. At the opening of the half Kingston launched the running and passing attack for the Blue and Gold recovering a fumble on Trinity's 45-yard line. The final touchdown was made by Geiger in the last period, the result of two successful passes by Galloway, who had relieved Phippen. Armstrong's ability to catch passes, and Phippen's passing and punting were the highlights of the game. The Aggies proved consistent, too, being instrumental in the Aggies' touchdown. On the whole the team seemed capable enough except for the weak places in the line.

When Trinity filed on the field for her second game against Worcester Tech she was confident enough although her victory over the Aggies wasn't decisive enough to warrant an easy contest against Worcester. It was in this game that the hopes of a hundred per cent. season were shattered, for Trinity lost by two touchdowns. Continual fumbling was the cause for the set-back. Throughout the first quarter straight football was resorted to. At the close of the period, Worcester took advantage of a fumble and on the first play of the second quarter, Fogg made the first touchdown through tackle. At the ending of the half, Trinity had the ball far back in her own territory. After the kick-off Worcester in rapid succession intercepted a pass, advanced through Trinity's line and scored a touchdown. It was in the early part of the last quarter that Tony Wadlow rushed 83-yards around end, down along the side lines and back into the open for Trinity's only touchdown. The remainder of the first and scored after a drive of 52 yards, half was spent in throwing back the climaxed by the 19-yard run of Pierce. Haverford team. A successful for-Phippen, who had been moved to half ward pass to the 12-yard line and back, punted and passed unusually three line plunges put the ball behind well and Kingston was the strong the goal line in the third quarter for Trinity. The two final touchdowns were made by Fritzon and Smith. veteran, his judgment being free of Smith, a substitute, made a sensationerror. The absences of the versatile al catch and on the very next play back and end, Fontana and Bockwinkel, drove through the Haverford team

With form such as displayed in the Haverford game to renew her courage, Trinity was all prepared for the different team play against the Wesleyan game and Larry Schlums. strong Haverford contingent, Trinity Twice she carried the ball within scorpounding out a 25 to 0 victory. At ing distance, varying her passing at-first down incentive to rush the ball those last few yards. Taking advantage of this inability, Wesleyan's star, Larry Schlums, scored two touchdowns, one in the second quarter, the other in the latter part of the third period. Throughout the game Trinity was the more aggressive, making thirteen first downs to Wesleyan's 11. The stellar playing of Schlums was the Blue and Gold's most difficult problem, he alone was responsible for the team's victory. Throughout the game the officials were lax in their refereeing which caused a certain amount of antagonism and protesting. In the first quarter the play was decidedly in the hands of Trinity and it was thus, until the second quarter that Wesleyan figured. Phippen was hurried in his kick giving Schlums a chance to run it back into his opponents' territory. Trinity's defense wilted; Tirrell scored the touchall times the team was master of the tack with line plunging. But it down after Schlums had worked the in the second quarter, Trinity scored, Therefore, it would be unfair to consituation. Galloway, Trinity's smart seemed as though Trinity lacked the ball into position. Twice during the although the try for extra point was demn this season merely because of sophomore quarterback, after having scoring punch as she failed twice with second period Trinity threatened not good, Amherst retaining the lead disappointing defeats.

Wesleyan. A few minutes after the 7 to 6. Up until the time Kenyon start of the last half, Trinity's second bid was made only to miss the goal line by two yards. Wesleyan, after Jeffmen on the 15-yard line the game this threat, took the offensive and, led by Schlums, another touchdown was made. It could be said that Trinity was the better of the teams in of Amherst displayed excellent form all departments except line plunging, in which Schlums excelled.

One might say also that the Amherst contest was a repetition of the Wesleyan game. Throughout the game Trinity threatened the Lord Jeffs, even when they were hopelessly behind, seemingly to be about to unleash at any moment an attack that would prove fatal to the Jeffmen. The final score was 33 to 6, decisive developed a world of material for enough. A fumble on Trinity's part and an Amherst recovery paved the way for their first touchdown in the Haring, Kingston, and Galloway in opening quarter. Cadigan and War- the backfield; all of them will be back ner co-featured in their success. Early the Amherst captain, intercepted a pass in Trinity's territory, placing the was very evenly played. Then an offtackle plunge by Knutson accounted for the second touchdown. Warner in slicing off-tackle 30 yards for a touchdown. The half ended with the score 19 to 6. Though Trinity was demoralized after the second touchdown they fought back grimly and succeeded in limiting Amherst to two touchdowns.
