BOOK LOVERS GATHERING FOR 500TH PRINTING ANNIVERSARY

Bey Psalm Book, Gutenberg Bible Will Be Used in Sunday's Service

LITERARY TREASURES

Trinity Chapel Expected to Be Crowded; Two Services Are to Be Given

Plans have been completed for the great service in the college Chapel on Sunday afternoon, November 3, when two of the most famous books in the world will be used together in the House of the Lord as they were originally intended. As this year is the 500th anniversary of the invention of printing and the 300th anniversary of the first book printed here in the colonies, it seemed important to Dr. Ogilby to rescue the Gutenberg Bible and the Bey Psalm Book from the ignominy of being considered as merely typographical curiosities and to use them once more in the House of the Lord. The idea has met with the sympathetic response from many quarters, and book lovers are coming from near and far to take part in this service. As it is probable that the guests of the college will fill all the seats for the 4 o'clock service, President Ogilby is planning to use the Bey Psalm Book and the Gutenberg Bible at the 5 o'clock service for undergraduates so that all Trinity men may have the privilege of sharing in the use of these two great books in the Chapel.

The Bey Psalm Book was prepared for printing by Richard Mather, minister of the church in Dorchester, Thomas Welde, and John Eliot, associate ministers of the Church in Roxbury. It was printed on the press of Stephen Daye in Cambridge in 1640.

At that time the parson was practically the only one who had a book, so the psalms were rendered by having the minister read a line of verse and then the entire congregation would join in singing it. This was called "lining out the psalm," and the

COAST GUARD HARRIERS SUBDUE TRINITY SQUAD

Bill Rea and John Moreau, Coast Guard's star harriers, led the powerful Coast Guard combination to an 18-37 victory over a game, but outclassed Trinity squad, last Saturday afternoon at New London.

From the start of the race to the finish, Trinity was unable to threaten their lead. It seemed apparent that Trin's harriers were taken by surprise at the fast start and the terrific pace set by Rea and Moreau, who did not once slow up throughout the entire race. Ed Rosen was the first Trinity man in and he placed third, with Smellie seventh, Caffrey tenth, Bennett eleventh, Gulliver twelfth, and Elrick twelfth. Jim Caffrey's ankle gave him plenty of trouble from the start, forcing Trin's Captain to give ground steadily throughout the race. The course was level except for a long, steadily climbing hill about nine-tenths of a mile in length, and by the time that the runners reached this hill in the middle of the 3.6-mile course, the race was decided. Despite the terrific pace Rose's was only ten seconds behind the leaders whose time was 21 minutes 45 seconds. The two coaches agreed to count only the first five men on each squad, hence

JESTERS FINISH CASTING FOR THEIR NEXT DRAMA

"Ten Nights in a Bar-Room" Is Selected for Production On December 17 and 19

The Jesters have finished casting for their production, "Ten Nights in a Bar-Room," which will be given on the 17th and 19th of December at the Avery. This melodrama by William W. Pratt has in its cast three feminine roles and nine male roles. One of the feminine roles will be played by Miss Isabel Macauley whose performances in "Ten-Minute Alibi" last year was outstanding. The remaining feminine roles have not yet been determined definitely. The male cast is as follows:

- Mr. Romain, . . . . . Joseph Lavieri
- Mr. Simon Slade, Theodore Swiderski
- Willie Hammond, . . . . . John MacNerney
- Sample Swichel, . . . . . Henry Getz
- Harvey Green, . . . . . John Sweetser
- Frank Slade, . . . . . Joseph Rossi
- Joe Morgan, . . . . . Lewis Sheen
- Grandpa Slade, . . . . . Olcott Colton
- Neighbor Riggins, . . . . . Thomas Tamoney

The success of the last Jester production was due mostly to the direction by Professor Helmbold. Once again the Jesters are fortunate in having Professor Helmbold direct their new play.

"Ten Nights in a Bar-Room" is a very old play which has enjoyed much success in its recent revival. In the past year it was performed at Cornell where it ran for several evenings before overflowing audiences. Those who saw last year's production of "Silas, The Chore Boy" will find this melodrama much more comical.

Since the Christmas holiday begins on December 19, it is the hope of the Jesters that the students will attend the performance on the first evening, the 17th, and the 19th will be reserved for local persons interested in the Jesters.

The Jesters have decided to devote their time on this production for the sole purpose of raising money for the British-American Ambulance Corps. It is the aim of the college that enough money be collected to purchase, transport, and maintain an ambulance for one year in war-stricken England. With this goal in mind, the Jesters are working with increased vigor for a cause which is self-evident in these days of war.

AMERICAN R. A. F. PILOT SENDS LETTER TELLING OF LONDON AIR RAIDING

Germans Do Not Hesitate to Let Their Bombs Drop on Civilian And Military Objectives

MORALE OF PEOPLE HIGH

Letter Further Describes How the English Airmen Retaliate the Attacks of Nazi Pilots

At the present time the Senate and fraternities are endeavoring to raise money to buy an ambulance for use in England. With London and the whole of England undergoing incessant bombing raids, and the toll of dead and wounded mounting into the thousands there is a crying need for more and more ambulances. Naturally, the Tripod is cooperating in this drive with all means at its command. It is in line with this policy that we quote a letter received from a Royal Air Force officer.

"The carnage in London is ghastly. For almost a month the Jerries have been coming over night and day, and a pall of smoke hangs over the city most of the time. These (word deleted) Germans seem to have no souls, and they most certainly have no regard for the lives of women and children. Their all-out bombing of non-military objectives is, as they say, in retaliation for our bombings of German towns. This is quite obviously untrue, as it was not until fairly recently that we were given orders to endeavor to destroy Berlin and other German cities. We have never, on any raid, as do the Germans, dropped bombs on defenseless provincial villages.

"It is impossible to get any sleep or to keep regular hours. During the past three weeks, I, and most of the officers in my mess, have lost from

HILL AND DALERS TO MEET WES HARRIERS

After bowing in defeat to a well-organized Coast Guard squad, Trinity's small cross-country team will meet the powerful Wesleyan harriers on Trin's course this Friday afternoon. Wesleyan thus far this season is enjoying the harvest of an undefeated season; whereas Trinity has two victories and one loss. Holmes of Wesleyan is the outstanding runner this year, having aided last year in the 27-28 defeat of Trinity at Middletown. Even running on their own course will be no advantage to Trinity, because of the strength of the Wesleyan combination. But there is one thing that is certain whenever Trinity meets Wesleyan—the competition is bound to be keen.

On Tuesday, November 5, Ray Oosting will enter six Trinity varsity runners in the Fourth Annual Connecticut Valley meet to be held at Wesleyan. The course is 4.6 miles in length, and this meet brings together the greatest display of cross-country runners in the New England states. All colleges in the Connecticut Valley are eligible. The colleges which will be represented in the meet are Amherst, Williams, Wesleyan, Trinity, Massachusetts State, Connecticut State, Coast Guard, and Springfield. Last year Holmes of Wesleyan copped first place, while as a team Trinity came in fifth. This year Connecticut State is the odds-on favorite. Regardless of the outcome, this race will be a spectacle to witness.

BEIDLER AND RYAN SPARK TEAM TO THRILLING LAST MINUTE WIN

OFFICIAL NOTICE

In accordance with Government regulations, full-time students now in college who have registered for selective service are entitled to be placed in Class I-D or Class I-E, which will give them deferred status under the draft until the end of the present college year, or July 1, 1941. A student registrant will not, however, be placed automatically in one of these classes. He must request that he be deferred from induction on a special form. This form is not yet available but can be procured later from State Selective Service Headquarters and should be filled out and returned with the questionnaire which will be sent to the registrant.

TRIN BOOTERS YIELD TO YALE AND MASS. STATE

Yale Wins 2-0 in Close Contest; Lack of Cooperation Gives Mass. State 3-2 Win

The Trinity College soccer team this week cut its average down from 100 to 50 percent as they dropped two scheduled games to Yale and Massachusetts State, respectively. Yale trimmed the Mac-men 2-0, in a hard-fought battle, while Massachusetts State overcame them by a score of 3-2 due to a definite lack of cooperation on the part of the Trinity team.

In the Yale game Trinity kicked off against the wind and during the first quarter, the Trinity front line forced a few times, but most of the action was deep in Trinity territory. About half-way through this period Carrington, right wing for Yale, punched through the first score of the game, with beautiful passing on the part of the Eli front line. Yale kicked off to begin the second period but Trinity quickly stole the ball and its front line forced deep into Yale territory, where Bester narrowly missed scoring. As in the first quarter, this period was characterized by the Bulldog's forceful rushes at the Trinity goal, as Crockett warded them off time and again.

To begin the third period Trinity kicked off, but Yale quickly drove the ball back into Trinity defensive territory. Fullbacks Tyler and Johnson, and goalie Crockett blocked the Yale attempts for nearly ten minutes, and it wasn't till nearly the end of the period that Yale rung up its second and final tally of the game. The last quarter was a dull repetition of the previous three, with no scoring on either side. The final tally was 2-0 in favor of Yale.

The Massachusetts State game was definitely the worst showing the Mac-men have made to date. The Bay Staters were certainly no better than the teams previously vanquished by Trinity. The Hilltoppers seemed not to be able to get together on their passing and defensive work until late in the last period when Heseltine kicked through a penalty shot and O'Malley converted for the two goals that Trinity should have made much earlier in the contest. The final score was 3-2 in favor of Massachusetts State.

Blue and Gold Twice Come From Behind to Upset Coast Guard, 20-14

THOMPSON STARS

Cadet Quarterback Kicks, Runs, Passes, and Scores all Points for Losers

Saturday, October 26—Joe Beidler and Bill Ryan, the two sparkplugs of Trinity's attack, led their team to a thrilling 20-14 victory over Coast Guard this afternoon on the New London gridiron, overlooking the Thames River. Not until the last two minutes of play did the Blue and Gold take to the air and overcome the Cadets' lead to push over the final tally.

Jack Thompson, fleet quarterback for the losers, cut across the visitors' goal line early in the initial quarter for the first score of the game; and his placement kick was good. Beidler scored for Trinity in the second quarter after Ryan had run back a blocked kick to Coast Guard's 9-yard line. A few minutes later, after Beidler's successful pass to Tyler deep in Cadet territory, Knurek plunged over through tackle and added the point to give the Hilltoppers a 13-7 lead. Thompson's touchdown and placement in the third period, put the Cadets ahead 14-13, until the last waning minutes of the game when, after a sustained drive from Trinity territory, Beidler scored the winning tally.

Throughout the entire game it was Beidler's low, driving, off-tackle thrusts and Ryan's lightning-like passes to Tyler and Beidler that capped the offensive. The Blue and Gold line, usually highly effective in opening up holes for the backfield, did not function nearly as well as in the past and was noticeably sluggish on several occasions. Therefore all the more credit must be heaped on Beidler, Ryan, Tyler, and a few other lone

TRIN BOOTERS FAVORED TO DOWN COAST GUARD

The Trinity Soccer Team travels to meet Coast Guard Saturday, for their fifth encounter of the season. According to past contests, the Trin Booters should go into this game as a team favored to win, but if they are unable to make a better showing than they did against Massachusetts State last week, they most assuredly will not come out on the right end of the score.

The same team will probably start so far as the backfield positions are concerned, with Crockett in the goal, Tyler and Captain Johnson at the fullback positions, and Brown, Heseltine and Cannon at halfback posts. Coach McCloud, however, has several front line combinations that he can use; the best working one thus far seems to be that of Williamson at left wing, Carpenter at left inside, O'Malley at center forward, Roberts right inside, and Bester at right wing. However, even this combination couldn't seem to click in the Massachusetts State game, in fact, the whole team couldn't work as a unit.

This coming game with Coast Guard should be the one for the team to get back on its feet in, as their opponent is probably the weakest that they will run up against this season.

NOVEMBER 5, 1940

Although the Tripod has endeavored always to adhere to its policy as the organ of campus activities and as the newspaper of Trinity College, the editors feel that the coming political decision of millions of Americans is not apart from the interests of this college. As students of a liberal arts institution founded on the principles of democratic education, we are a vital factor in the preservation and maintenance of those principles.

Granting the contributions of Mr. Roosevelt in social reforms and in the formation of an active foreign policy, we are firmly convinced that the election of Wendell Willkie on November 5, will accomplish the task which is of supreme importance at the present time. That task is the speedy and efficient rearming of this country. It is easily a four-year job. If the foreign policy of Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Hull, and the great majority of Americans is to be followed, it is absolutely necessary that the United States be able to withstand belligerent attacks and to act with economic freedom. If England is to be aided in their fight against aggression, if the Atlantic ocean is to be made safe for allied shipping, this country must either take up arms itself or back up those countries trying to stave off the murderous punishment of totalitarian force. Moral support is not enough. She must aid with food and steel.

Mr. Roosevelt has shown conclusively that he is unwilling or unable to cooperate with big business. Big business does not mean Wall Street. It means the great industrial enterprises of the nation which convert our vast supply of raw materials into useful products—useful products which England needs. The Roosevelt administration has been characterized by the endless procession of labor and industrial leaders to and from the White House. Mr. Roosevelt thinks that perhaps he can run their businesses much better than they can. He has painted their kind as the blood-thirsty bully of the little shop owner. He has patted the laborer's sweaty brow and told him that his wages are unfair and that his boss does not interest himself in the welfare of his employee. Mr. Roosevelt has more than any one man alienated the two greatest economic forces in the strongest corporation on the face of the earth. The evils of ten years ago have been blamed on big business in general. Those evils were in a large part committed by high powered financiers and Wall Street jugglers but that rotten core has been exposed.

Mr. Willkie stands plainly and simply for industrial efficiency, decentralization of power in view of the overwhelming authority vested in the executive chair at present, active cooperation with labor, and an administration which promises the extermination of political steam rollers. Mr. Roosevelt can not even promise these things without admitting he means to clean up his own administration.

The student button campaign is now under way. Your contributions of $1 which entitle you to a pin may be made to the following authorized agents: E. D. Walsh, J. F. Crockett, C. C. Roberts, R. R. Up to last Sunday evening $217 of the $1,350 goal had been raised. Let us get behind the drive, and have every Trinity man wearing a contributor's button by the end of the week.

HERE AND THERE

A Word to the Wise

The powers-that-be have issued the following advice: Do not bring any bottled goods into the dance hall Friday night. That includes light wines, beers, liquors, tanglefoot, skullbuster, sheep-dip, shoe-white, embalming fluid and toilet water. Perfume bottles large enough to hold a shot will be examined and artificial limbs will be tapped. Our advice: Fill your tank before leaving for the dance or be revived at the bar. But do not do like the chap in the limerick: Said a punk young drunk from Podunk, Who stored things like a chipmunk, "If I smoke with a load, I always explode, But I do get so awfully 'stunk'."

This Week's Question

How much is a pound of track meet worth if it's killed in a race riot?

Answer to Last Week's

Yehudi is the only person who understands Kant's "Categorical Imperative," "Einstein's "Fourth Dimension," and Troxell's "Force of Moving Water."

Frog Bull

The following are excerpts from letters by the foreign correspondent of the "Here and There" column, Monsieur Couvent Gris:

...Here in Paris there is an acute shortage of laundry mangles, a pressing problem. ...The German Army of Occupation is suffering from a peculiar disease, probably occupational. The victims in their delirium keep repeating, "Mademoiselle, du bist wie eine Blumen." The only remedy seems to be cold shoulder and hot tongue.

TYPES AT PINBALL MACHINE

Renshaw—The Rhumba artist; tries to get the ball in the "five slot" by swaying hips in general direction of desired destination.

Menzies—Pounds machine with fist whether winning or not. Seems to love intensified action of ball.

Weeks—Talks to balls; growls distastefully; praises good ball.

APPEAL TO ROOSEVELT

We young lads who aren't called men,
Who have to yet reach twenty-one—
Get pushed around now and then,
But we usually have our fun.

But today the situation we face
Is one that brings remorse;
We're put to absolute disgrace
By the draft bill now in force.

Now please, don't take us wrong,
Avoiding conscription is fine;
We sing our mournful song
About the draft's unwritten line.

No longer can we enter a bar
And order up a drink;
No indeed, . . . not by far,
It will raise an awful stink.

The bar-keep will glibly say,
"Young man, where is your card?
Oh, you don't possess one, eh?
Can't serve you anything hard."

We accept the present situation,
The draft we don't debunk;
But with Roosevelt and preparation,
How in hell can we get drunk!

COMMUNICATION

To the Editor of the Tripod:

Dear Sir:

In the last few weeks several members of the faculty, student body, and alumni have told me that they plan to vote for Professor Shepard and the New Deal ticket principally because of loyalty to him and to the college. Dr. Shepard has requested that his political and academic careers be kept separate, and that members of the college body comply with this. This idea is absolutely impossible, because every person connected with Trinity College knows that he is running for an important office, and he has become the center of much discussion.

About a month ago a deliberate piece of propaganda was circulated among the Trinity Alumni residing in Connecticut, pleading with them to remember the good old Trinity-Wesleyan duels and to rise up and defend our beloved professor from those dreadful Wesleyan boys. The article made no attempt to define the issues at stake, but tried to play upon the sympathies of people who are supposed to be intelligent.

To me this is no time to think up such arguments for the election of any man for an important position in the state government. If I were a voter in Connecticut, I, for one, would be proud to vote for President McCaughy for re-election as Lieutenant-Governor. He has done a remarkably fine job and well deserves another two years in the capitol. We must forget our personal prejudices and petty loyalties and think of the issues in the cold light of reality.

Anyone who votes for Professor Shepard and the New Deal ticket, should realize clearly that he is voting for the following things: a continued centralization of power in the hands of the executive; the breakdown of one of our most sacred traditions—no third term for any man; a group that knows only two words: give and spend, and a doubtful and hesitant rearmament program. If any person believes in these things, it is his or her privilege to vote for the New Deal and Dr. Shepard, but I must remind those who do vote for him, that they have aligned themselves with the above principles which have occurred or will occur in the very near future. It is not just Dr. Shepard for whom you are voting, but the New Deal.

In closing, I plead with you again that everyone forget the idea of college rivalry. The election means too much for this country to let such things enter in, and I am sure, despite certain propagandists, that most intelligent voters will not let themselves be swayed by sentimental rivalries.

Sincerely yours,

CHARLES T. COOK,

President of the Trinity College Willkie for President Club.

Republicans, Democrats, and Anarchists To Vote for President in Tripod Ballot

The Tripod is conducting a poll on the presidential election. All Trinity men (regardless of sex or previous condition of servitude), who are chronologically eligible, who have not sworn allegiance to any foreign power, who intend to continue their residence here for at least six weeks, and who are of sound mind and fit body are urged to cast their vote for their

(one) candidate on the ballot published in this Tripod issue of October 29. Ballots are to be deposited, not later than Thursday, October 31, at 4 o'clock, in the ballot box placed in the Union. The results of the poll will be published in the November 5 Tripod. All free Trinity males are invited and urged to vote!

BLUE AND GOLD SCORES WIN OVER COAST GUARD

Trinity stalwarts. From the outset it appeared as though Thompson and his large, fast teammates would rip the Jessemen wide apart and walk away with an easy victory. After passing to Trinity's 15, in a couple of power plays Thompson knifed through for a quick score and added the extra point in rapid succession. Late in the first quarter the visitors recovered a fumble and took possession on Cadet terrain. However, Ryan's pass a few plays later was intercepted; and Coast Guard had first down on her own 10-yard line. After no gain on two plays, Thompson's attempted kick was blocked, and Ryan recovered to tote the ball to the 9-yard line where he was run out of bounds. In two plays Beidler skirted right end on a reverse to score. Knurek's placement was not good. Later in the second quarter Beidler ran back a quick kick to midfield. Two passes, one by Ryan and one by Mills, were unsuccessful. Finally Harris kicked. However, the Cadets were again unable to make an appreciable gain, and Thompson kicked. After another bad pass, Trinity got a first down by virtue of a penalty. Failing to gain on the ground, Beidler resorted to the air and heaved a beautiful pass to Tyler on the 5-yard line. Although Beidler pounded to the one-yard mark, an ensuing fumble forced the Blue and Gold back to the 10. But reliable Joe Beidler scampered right back to the one-yard line again and set the stage for Knurek's vital touchdown plunge. Ted's educated toe kicked the point, and Trinity assumed a 13-7 lead as the half ended.

Mills, current kick-off exponent, booted the ball to the Cadets' 30, where fumbles by each team resulted in Coast Guard's finally getting a first down on its 30. Then Tibbits was shaken loose and galloped 63 yards before he stumbled and fell on Trinity's six-yard line. On a subtly executed fake reverse Thompson strode over unmolested to tie the score. His kick put the Cadets ahead 14 to 13.

Thereafter until the final few minutes neither team was able to score. However, the play was marked by several brilliant offensive feats by both teams. A long pass from Beidler to Thomsen and a lateral from Ray to Don Walsh put the Jessemen in scoring position, but the ball was lost on downs. Once Knurek broke loose on a long jaunt and lateralled to Mills, who was finally pulled down deep in Cadet territory.

Early in the fourth quarter Coast Guard threatened with a steady drive down into Trinity territory. Finally they were stopped and forced to kick. After an exchange of punts, the Blue and Gold inaugurated their last-minute onslaught in an attempt to score. Ryan ignited the explosion with a snappy series of bullet passes that made the Cadets positively dizzy. After his last pass to Beidler, it was a question of whether Jessee's forces could push through those last few yards on power plays. Beidler turned the trick on an off-tackle smash, and the tide was turned at last. Knurek's kick was good again. The few remaining seconds of the game then fizzled out in a desperate Cadet passing melee which Al Will finally broke up with a beautiful interception.

The line-up:

Trinity		Coast Guard
Mills	LE	Norton
Steers	LT	Tharp
Will	LG	Pearson
Fay	C	O'Neil
Fasi	RG	Watters
Viering	RT	Goettel
Thomsen	RE	Sudnik
Walsh	QB	Thompson
Beidler	RH	Shepard
Harris	LH	Carter
Knurek	FB	Lawrence

Touchdowns: Knurek, Beidler 2, Thompson 2; points after touchdowns: Knurek 2, Thompson 2. Substitutions—Trinity: Tyler, Wallace, Ryan, Weisefluh, Moor, Comstock; Coast Guard: Kincaid, Frost, Johnson, Reed, McLendon, Emerson, Beemer, Day, Hall.

CROSS COUNTRY

Coast Guard took first, second, fourth, fifth, and sixth places to give them a total of 18 points, while Trinity took third, seventh, eighth, ninth, and tenth places to give them a total of 37 points.

The complete results of the meet are as follows: first, Rea, W. (G) 21:45; second, Moreau (G); third, Rosen (T); fourth, McCarey (G); fifth, Jenkins (G); sixth, Yarnamovich (G); seventh, Smellie (T); eighth, Reo, J. (G); ninth, Starr (G); tenth, Caffrey (T); eleventh, Bennett (T); twelfth, Gulliver (T); and thirteenth, Elrick (T).

FRESHMAN ELEVEN TO FACE SUFFIELD TEAM

Yearlings Will Have to Be at Their Very Best to Top Undefeated Rival

Having won its last four games in a row, Dan Jessee's hard working squad has earned a well-deserved rest this Saturday before taking up again November 9, with Amherst. However, Trinity fans will have a chance to see some action on the Trinity Field this Saturday when Ralph Erickson's impressive Freshman team entertains Suffield Academy.

Victors over the Wesleyan Freshmen on October 19, by a 27-6 score, the Blue and Gold yearlings hope to gain their second straight win. Two years ago Erickson's charges crushed Suffield 41 to 0, but last year's representatives were upset by the plucky play of the visitors. The Freshmen are taking every precaution to see that this will not happen again.

This year Suffield boasts an undefeated team. Among its four victories have been Williston Academy, Amherst Freshman "B" team, and Portsmouth Priory. This fine record has been accomplished despite the loss of Coleman, the sparkplug of last year's team. He was injured before the start of the season, and he will not be able to get into action again this year. However, such a fine record cannot be overlooked and Trin's first year men will have to be at their best.

The Freshmen's outstanding player in the Wesleyan game was Paul White, who prepared at Saint Andrew's. White runs, kicks, and passes well. Trapped behind the line against Wes, he managed to uncork a beautiful pass which resulted in a touchdown. He has been out for almost two weeks as a result of a torn ligament in his left shoulder. However, he will probably be ready for action on Saturday. The rest of the squad seems to be in very good condition.

Other backfield stars who will bear watching Saturday are Al Dubovick, hard-hitting line plunger; Bill Black, "Goose" Gossling, and Roger Conant. Hogan, Bromberg, Kelly, Morse, Dolan, have been outstanding in the line.

ten to twenty pounds. Most of us sleep fully dressed with one eye open and one ear cocked. There has not been a night when our squadron has not been sent out with the same order, 'stop them.'

"Last evening I turned in directly after dinner in order to get a little sleep. At 8 o'clock I was awakened by someone shaking me. The Germans were on their way.

"Taking off, we headed directly east at about ten thousand feet and picked up the Heinkels on the edge of the Channel. We saw them below us (they were flying at about seven thousand), and immediately went into a formation dive. There were no protecting Messerschmitts, as the German High Command evidently feels that the bombers can take care of themselves. We showed the High Command that night the error of its ways. Catching the bombers unawares we immediately knocked down five of the twenty and broke up their formation. In the ensuing fight we downed three more and turned them back.

"When we returned to our base, we discovered two planes of our group missing. We had later reports that both had been destroyed and the pilots killed. One of them was my friend (this name was censored).

"I am an American, and I've been in this country for only four months, yet I respect the British more than any other people I have ever known. Their attitude toward this war is one of utter calmness. While their homes and all their belongings are being blown right and left they go right about their daily business, merely stopping once in awhile to watch a dog-fight overhead or to pick up a bomb-fragment.

"This morning I accompanied an Associated Press reporter on his rounds through London. Everywhere we went we saw, not disheartened or resigned faces, but faces lighted with the knowledge that their country depended on them and that they were equal to the task. One man rummaging through the remains of what had once been his house, told us that he was looking for his pipe. 'I don't care about anything else,' he said, 'but that pipe means a lot to me. I found it in an abandoned German dugout in the St. Mihiel Offensive during the last war. Finding it made up to me a little for losing this to those (several words deleted) Huns,' and he turned, showing us an empty sleeve. A small boy came up to us with his arms loaded with bomb fragments and offered us them for sale; an old woman seated on the sidewalk in her last possession, an old rocking chair, nodded to us and remarked about the loveliness of the day. All over London the story was the same. Nowhere could we find despondency or tears.

"After our tour, while relaxing over a bottle of my Scotch, the A. P. man practice continued in the colonies for 125 years. The psalm to be used next Sunday is the first. It should be noted that all the psalms in the Bey Psalm Book are arranged in metrical form. A photostat copy of the first page of the Bey Psalm Book will be reproduced on the order of service. President Ogilby will read the verse and then the congregation, led by the choir, will sing the same verse to the old tune of "Windsor" written by Christopher Tye in 1553.

The copy of the Bey Psalm Book to be used in this service is owned by Dr. A. S. W. Rosenbach of Philadelphia who will bring it to the service. He will carry it in the academic procession attended by lineal descendants of the three authors of the book. W. G. Mather, donor of the Chapel, will represent Richard Mather.

The two lessons from the Old Testament and the New Testament will be read from volumes of the Gutenberg Bible, sent up by Mr. J. P. Morgan of New York from his library. He has one copy printed on vellum and one copy printed on paper.

The first lesson being the first chapter of the book of Genesis will be read from the paper copy, which is supposed to antedate the vellum, by E. K. Rand of Harvard. The second lesson will be read by Charles G. Osgood, a graduate of Yale and now a professor of English at Princeton. An address to indicate the significance of these two immortal volumes will be given by Richardson Little Wright, Trinity, 1910, and member of the Board of Trustees.

Mr. Watters has arranged special music for the occasion for choir, organ, and trumpet.

and I both decided that no matter how many planes or bombs the Germans threw at England, they would never win. We both drank a toast to the fact that 'There will always be an England.'

"The alarm has just sounded, and that means I must be off to knock a few more holes in the Nazi budget. If I don't come back, someone will mail this, and if I do, I will mail it myself.

"P. S. I came back, so I will mail it."
