Prom, Dedications Highlight Weekend

Elton Hall and Field House Open Doors To Public For Dedication Ceremonies

Dedications are the order of the day this Saturday, February 12. Elton Hall, Trinity's new 103-man dormitory, will be dedicated at 12:30 p. m., and the Memorial Field House at 3. In the evening there will be a varsity swimming meet with Worcester Tech and a basketball game with Middlebury. President Funston will speak prior to the basketball game.

Principal speaker at the Elton Hall dedication will be Louis W. Downes, a classmate of the late Mr. Elton. Dean Hughes will introduce Mr. Downes, and President Funston will respond for the College.

John Prince Elton, to whose memory the building will be dedicated, was a member of the Class of 1888, a former mayor of Waterbury, and at the time of his death chairman of the Board of Trustees at Trinity.

Jones Presents Field House

The Field House will be dedicated to the seventy Trinity men who died in World War II. A. Northey Jones, chairman of the 125th Anniversary Development Program Campaign, will present the Field House to the College formally. President Funston and Mr. Oosting will respond for the College.

Brigadier General Archie J. Olds, who led the strategic B-17 bombing raids against German Ball-bearing plants at Schweinfurt, and is now commanding general of the Atlantic Division of the Military Air Transport Service, will be the principal speaker.

The four American and two foreign military services in which Trinity College men died in World War II will send uniformed delegations to the dedication ceremonies. Color guards representing the six services will mass for the unveiling of a bronze memorial plaque and the formal dedication. The uniformed corps of Trinity Air ROTC cadets will also participate.

43rd Division Band to Play

The 43rd Infantry Division Band of the Connecticut National Guard will play a short concert of marches before the dedication and will provide music for the solemn academic, military, and religious dedication ceremony.

Trinity's war dead included 32 in the Air Force, 22 in the Army, 12 in the Navy, two in the Marine Corps, and one each in the Royal Canadian Air Force and the French Army Infantry. They will be represented in the color

Tufts Eighth Game For Trin Next Fall

Trinity College will play an eight-game varsity football schedule next fall for the first time since 1920, it was announced recently by Ray Oosting, director of athletics.

Trinity will play Tufts College in the final game of the 1949 season, renewing a series which began in 1894, but which lapsed in 1915 after four wins by Tufts, two by Trinity and a 0-0 tie in the final game. Otherwise, the 1949 schedule is identical to the 1948 card in which Trinity won five with losses to Middlebury and Wesleyan.

The schedule: October 1, Williams; 8, Norwich at Northfield, Vt.; 15, Hobart at Geneva, N.Y.; 22, Middlebury; 29, Worcester Polytechnic Institute; November 5, Amherst at Amherst, Mass.; 12, Wesleyan; 19, Tufts at Medford, Mass.

Reitemeyer, Pinney Open Alumni Drive To Raise $30,000

Trinity College alumni this week are opening a campaign to raise $30,000 among alumni to provide additional operating income for the College. A committee appointed by Col. John R. Reitemeyer, president of the national alumni association and publisher of the Hartford Courant, is conducting the drive in a reactivation of the annual Alumni Fund. Sydney D. Pinney of Wethersfield is chairman and John S. McCook of New York City is vice-chairman.

In announcing reactivation of the annual alumni fund, Col. Reitemeyer said that college operating expenses "have risen 200 percent over 1940-41 and 50 percent in the past year. Part of this increase was caused by Trinity's obligation to care for returning servicemen. Essentially, however, the inflationary trend which has increased household and business costs was responsible for the unprecedented rise in expenses at the college."

"Students at Trinity, as at other colleges, have never borne the full cost of their education. Income from endowment and gifts has paid the balance. But in the past six years as costs grew by $723,000, income from endowment has increased by only $22,000. Large gifts and bequests do not come as freely as they once did, because of the present tax situation.

"Alumni, therefore, must provide substantial help if the college is to avoid the deterioration which is the inevitable consequence of a weak financial structure. The alumni fund will be used at the direction of the College Trustees to provide some of the necessities of education which might otherwise be cut from the college budget."

Previous Trinity alumni fund campaigns were conducted by the alumni secretary of the College, but the current drive is the first conducted entirely by alumni, among alumni. It will close at Commencement, June 19.

The central organization for the Alumni Fund includes: Special gifts, Fred C. Hinkel, Jr., of New York City, chairman, and Paul W. Adams of West Hartford, vice-chairman; Class Agents: George C. Capen of West Hartford, chairman, Harmond T. Barber of Windsor and William W. Sissbower of Newington, vice-chairmen; Promotion: George Malcolm-Smith, chairman, and L. Barton Wilson, vice-chairman, both of West Hartford; John F. Butler of West Hartford, executive secretary.

Overton Elected Senate President

Leonard C. Overton of Newton Centre, Massachusetts, has been elected acting president of the Trinity College Senate.

Mr. Overton will fill the position left vacant by the death of President Herman R. D. Holljes of Baltimore, Maryland, last November. As president of the Senate, Mr. Overton holds the highest office in the student body.

A senior, and son of Mr. and Mrs. George Overton of 18 Bowen Street, Newton Centre, he majors in history.

Junior Prom Friday Night Features Bob Cinq-mars and Yale Collegians

By Robert Blum

On Friday night, February 11, the Junior Prom of the Class of 1950 is to be held at the Hartford Club. By all indications, Prom Committee chairman Henry M. Goodyear stated, the dance should be one of the most successful since the war.

The Prom, which is scheduled to last from 9:15 in the evening until 12:45, features the dance music of Bob Cinq-mars and his Yale Collegians. For intermission amusement, the committee engaged the services of a talented and unusual group, the Barefoot Boys. This group has performed at collegiate dances throughout New England, and Charles D. Lohnes, who is in charge of entertainment for the Prom, feels that the College is very fortunate to be able to enjoy them.

Two $25 Door Prizes

A special attraction—a door-prize—is to be offered, consisting of two $25 war savings bonds, for the lucky winner and his date. The Prom Committee was very willing to offer such a prize to assure a large attendance; but it must be confessed that there was chagrin at the necessity of such an inducement. The committee felt that the attractions of the February 11-13 weekend were such that no extra feature would be needed, save for fear of poor support.

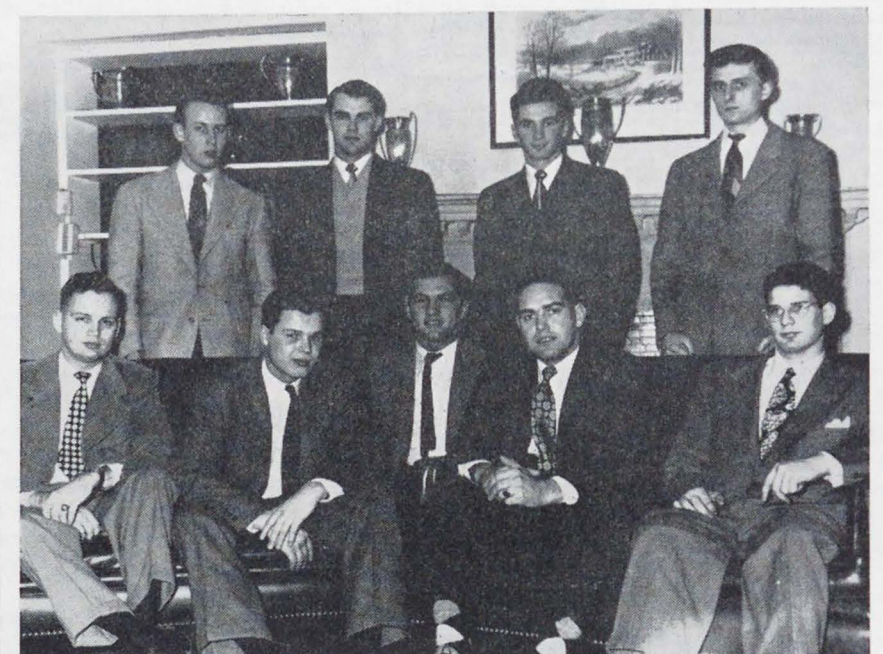

The weekend offers, in addition to the Prom Friday, the Field House Dedication ceremonies, and the dedication of Elton Hall Saturday, squash and fencing meets against nearby Amherst and Wesleyan at those respective schools, a swimming meet with Worcester Tech at 7 in the evening, to be followed by a basketball game with Middlebury College in the Field House. And, of course, the eight houses of Fraternity Row and the Commons Club will hold forth until the wee hours Sunday morning. Dates have been invited for this weekend of merriment from several colleges and states through the East and Midwest, as well as many residents of Greater Hartford.

Patrons and Patronesses for the Junior Prom are: President and Mrs. G. Keith Funston, Dean and Mrs. Arthur H. Hughes, Dean and Mrs. Joseph C. Clarke, Professor and Mrs. Edward L. Troxell, Professor and Mrs. J. Bard McNulty, Professor and Mrs. F. Woodbridge Constant, Professor and Mrs. Roger Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Peelle, and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Booth, Jr. Other guests of the Class of 1950 will be the eight members of the Medusa.

Goodyear Prom Chairman

The Junior Prom Committee of the Class of 1950 consists of the following members: Henry M. Goodyear, Jr., Psi Upsilon, chairman; Henry S. W. Perez, Alpha Chi Rho, treasurer; Gerald B. O'Connor, Delta Psi; Charles D. Lohnes, Alpha Delta Phi, in charge of entertainment; Montgomery L. Young, Delta Kappa Epsilon, in charge of tickets and invitations; Richard C. Schultz, Theta Xi; Francis J. Mullane, Sigma Nu; Donald C. Wigglesworth, Delta Phi, in charge of decorations; Edward A. Kelley, Commons Club; Robert M. Blum, Neutral Body, in charge of publicity; and Roger W. Hall, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Junior Class President.

Delta Phi Announces Simons New President

Delta Phi has announced the recent election of Webster Little Simons, Jr., of Alexandria, Virginia, to the office of President and Harry MacFarland Bracken, of Yonkers, New York, to the office of Vice-President. Simons is a senior and a member of the Canterbury Club, the National Students Association, the Inter-Faith Council, the Carilloneurs Society, and he is the secretary-treasurer of the Trinity Young Democratic Club. Bracken, who is also a member of the class of 1949 and the National Students Association, is an editor of the Trinity Review.

NSA Tours Open For Trinity Men

Two low-cost student tri-nation tours of England, Holland, and France are now being planned for the coming summer by the International Commission of the United States National Student Association (NSA). They are scheduled to begin in July.

The Harvard University-Radcliffe College NSA sub-commission which is in charge of the tours has reported that the six-week tour will cost each student approximately $550.

To make the tour worthwhile, the usual tourist accommodations will be by-passed, and the American students will come into direct contact with foreign students and their families.

Two Groups Included

The tour will be split into two groups, one a general interest group of about 45 students. The other more specialized group will be broken up into three sections consisting of those interested in art, socio-economic problems, and general interests. Thus, stu-

Commons Club Holds Pledge Banquet Sat.

Last Saturday evening the Commons Club held its pledge banquet at Les Shaw's in West Hartford. The pledges put on a programme (Anglicized spelling to increase its dignity) in which the members were satirized, as usual. With the combination of barrel-house choruses, ribald jokes, and ingenious ditties, the show was pronounced a great success. The musicians' union is searching for pledge Lang, who obliged on the piano for the show, and during most of the evening. Congratulations to "Prexy" Ed Kelley for putting on the "very model" of hilarious entertainment. "Dirty Eddie" Rossner and "gallopin" Dan Chesney deserve special mention for the spirited rendition of their lines, and the rending of the characterized members. Catching the spirit of the occasion some of the members also turned in memorable impromptu performances of familiar dramatic roles in "Alice in Wonderland" and "Henry the Fifth," and other oddities. As the evening drew to a close, "six-gun" Chesney, "the golden voice of the West," clung mournfully to a chair, and gave forth with some "mighty fine singin'." A bow-legged trio from the sagebrush trails ended the evening with a rhythmic and sweetly wailing version of "The Wabash Cannonball."

Students will be enabled to carry on studies in their own fields and will meet international students with similar interests.

The non-profit tours are operated by NSA with the cooperation of the British, Dutch, and French national unions of students, and the capacity of this year's two tours has been increased to approximately 500.

Students possibly interested in this or other tours may contact Jim Straley.

The Value Of M Equals Zero . . .

When all but a few in a class fail the mid-year examination; when twenty-five or more hand in blank blue books; when, out of five courses, a man has four somewhere north of eighty and the remaining course below fifty, something, surely, is wrong.

As we said last year, the blanket math requirement is a mistake. It is unheard of that a person must spend four months to prove his ineptness in something. By the time one has reached the college stage, he knows whether or not he needs, likes, or can handle mathematics. It will be reflected in his attitude, his preparatory record, and his aptitude test results. A negative reaction in any one of these areas indicates a risk in the math field. A bad reaction in two or three ought to be sufficient reason for allowing a man to bypass Math I or II. We can only imagine what the effect would be on a teacher if he knew that he were teaching an interested and able group instead of men who feel that they are serving time for a crime that they didn't commit, and who go about their work with an air of futility and resignation.

The ability to handle mathematics is either in us or it isn't in us. If a man can give strong evidence to prove his inadequacy in math, he should be encouraged to move over into his major field and strengthen himself there instead of having to dilute his course.

A semester is too valuable a period of time to spend uselessly. As far as we can see, no one concerned with the math problem has defended the retention of the math requirement: the Freshmen reaction is obvious (200 out of 250 failed the midyear math exam), and the teachers deplore their having to teach a sea of blank faces.

No Gestapo Or MVD . . .

It is a matter of grave concern when men come to take for granted the things which have been achieved by struggle and danger. Education has been a freedom for which mankind has had to fight spiritually and physically, and the fight in many less fortunate quarters has just begun. In the 13th century scholars walked across Europe, most often without the simplest human comforts, fighting the pangs of hunger and cold to learn. What magic words those must have been.

At Trinity, by comparison, the struggle for learning has been lifted from the realm of semi-starvation and chill. By more modern comparisons, there is not a Gestapo or MVD to sift every book, lecture and discussion for "dangerous" sentiments. The concentration camp is not the price we must pay to deal with ideas.

Where then is the struggle of the Trinity student? It lies, apparently, in his own human makeup. We are shocked when a student sets the barest minimum of personal exertion for his standard. When the Thursday evening lectures, representing competent and often brilliant scholarship, attract only a handful of students it forces us to sober reflections on the apparent indifference or laziness of the "average" student. It is sad that so many students do not take advantage of a privilege for which many men would risk their very lives.

The deeper implication is that the present world makes demands that "average" men cannot hope to meet. It is foolish and dangerous for men to be satisfied with mediocrity.

Better Luck Next Time—By Gordon Greenwood

Elm Chips

By John W. Coote

The passing of our esteemed colleague, the venerable George Stowe, into the unknown terrors of the outer world had all the ear-marks of being a major catastrophe to this yellow journal for several reasons. First of all, the absence of George's scintillating personality and invaluable suggestions at the staff meetings is a hard enough blow in itself, to the mechanisms of the Tripod, but secondly, and perhaps even more disastrous to the welfare of the paper, is the loss of his renowned column, "Musical Notes," which, aside from presenting a very authoritative view-point on the latest developments in the musical world, also served the purpose of filling nearly a third of the space on the editorial page. The Executive Board of the Tripod debated at length whether it would not be the wisest idea and best to the advantage of the paper as a whole to leave the space a complete blank. In the end however, it was decided to put any sort of a substitute in (just as a filler, of course) even at the cost of losing a few subscribers. Hence, avid reader, after a short period of gestation, you are confronted with the birth of this new column. Official christening festivities were held in the lower reaches of Goodwin Dormitory at approximately 11:45 Sunday night and the whole matter was settled amiably over a few cheery cups of hot buttered printer's ink.

The purpose of "Elm Chips" is not to raise the student body out of its comfortable mid-winter lethargy into a seething mass of raging humanity as some of the Tripod columns have done in the past, but rather, to present a comprehensible rehash of items of interest and events that have any conceivable connection with the pastoral way of life at Trinity. Letters from the student body are heartily welcomed and need not be concerned only with items that appear in this column.

Two weeks ago, musical history was made in Hartford when the newly created Hartford Symphony Orchestra made its initial appearance on the stage of the Horace Bushnell Memorial Hall. Unfortunately, at that time the majority of Trinity music lovers were deeply engrossed in exams, and as a result, student rate ticket sale for the event was not at all what was anticipated. However, don't despair, for the Hartford Symphony is scheduled to give three more performances at the Bushnell this year and the Symphony Society recently notified the college that there will be a special rate for students of Trinity. A single ticket allowing admission to the three remaining concerts may be purchased for $1.50, whereas separate tickets for each performance would cost $1.80. Students interested in tickets for the Hartford Symphony may purchase them from Mr. Butler's office and the remaining concerts will take place on February 27, March 27, and April 24.

Congratulations are due the Trinity Athletic Department which has finally devised a workable system for P.E. classes. Under the new plan, a student will have completed his formal compulsory athletics at the end of his sophomore year and is required only to participate on one of the Varsity or Intramural teams. This system presents a two-fold advantage because it will decrease the actual size of P.E. classes, thereby enabling the unskilled student to receive some individual attention and it will also result in the strengthening of flagging interest and participation on the numerous intramural teams.

Within the next few weeks the two college publications, the Review and the Harlequin, are scheduled to make their second appearances of the year. The Review, wishing to secure a wider variety of contributions, is running a contest for this issue. The authors of the best poem, article, or essay accepted by the board will be awarded ten dollars each. Judges will be the members of the Review and will not be eligible for the contest. Trinity's indefatigable humor magazine, the Harlequin, is not offering any prizes but welcomes any and all witty contributions. This issue is going to contain several new features. It will be approximately 28 pages in length (thicker and funnier than ever before) and will offer its readers a chance to win free cartons of cigarettes. The Chesterfield Company, beginning in this issue and continuing in subsequent numbers, is going to run a contest presenting the first ten men to come up with the correct answers a carton of their famous product. Incidentally, the deadline for the Review is the 15th of February and for the Harlequin, the 10th. The staffs of both publications realize that there are many men treading the sod of Gallows Hill who would like to earn an honest dollar or take the opportunity to immortalize their wit on black and white, and therefore, it is to be hoped that the Review and the Harlequin in the not too distant future will be deluged with contributions.

Spotting the Play

By Henry S. W. Perez

As the locusts come every seven years, so a similar scourge visits its devastation upon the dwellers atop the hill. Nor do the last vestiges of the ruin disappear any more quickly than those of the cicadids. Yes, the mid-years have been and gone, but not alone. All over the campus, may be seen reactions to the recent siege: one prominent dean's list scholar served wine to his entire house as a result of a rash bet, inspired by the manic depression brought on as a reaction to an economics exam; a decayed character (he never thought of that spelling) is rumored to have offered the services of himself and his genuine, western-style, shoot-em-up squirt gun to his Uncle Sam. In the Process this person is also rumored to have been indirectly responsible for the recent elevation of Army requirements re brain and brawn.

But as darkness comes out of light, likewise the average Trinity undergraduate has emerged triumphant from the coffee-quaffing contest and the deeper dark of dreary days. Now his eyes begin to focus on the next milestone of the college year. The day is February eleventh; the time is nine to one; the place is at the Hartford Club, where there's bound to be great fun.

In years past the Junior Prom week-end was highlighted by tea-dances, squash exhibitions, early morning breakfasts, musical recitals extending from the middle of the previous week up to even the Monday night of the following one. The Prom lasted from ten until three and featured a midnight supper. Following the dance, many a light-hearted couple took to the fields on toboggan parties, returning only in time for an early morning breakfast.

In those days, the tickets to the dance were fifteen dollars, and the dance was always enthusiastically supported. In the past few years the tickets have sold for only five. As the price decreased so did the number of tickets sold. This coming Junior Prom needs only the enthusiastic support of the students to make it a success. Reverse the recent trend by turning out to help the dance over the top. You'll be doing yourself a favor.

The "Ghost of Rudolf Valentino" a la Romberg returned to the stage of the Bushnell last weekend in the person of a Merchantville pro-baseball player, Edward Roecker, who is announced in a startling way in the playbill. "Edward Roecker has one of those names which people constantly are mispronouncing. It is Ro-ker, and audiences might as well learn how to pronounce it now, inasmuch as this handsome young baritone will be making many visits everywhere in the United States, both in concert and musical comedy."

The show, Desert Song, itself was from hunger on the parts of Romberg, the book-writers, the cast and the audience. Only two groups were interesting—the female chorus line and the audience. The chorus was well appointed. But, the audience had a different interest. It was an unusual matinee group, because it was made up of women in their forties or fifties who had grown up in that benighted period of S. Romberg. They were back for the thrills and excitement of their youth. I wonder if the thrills came as readily. They also brought their sons and daughters to see musicals "as they should be done" and the charges didn't appear to appreciate the obviously dated show.

Frostration

We noticed that the listing of Ivy photographs failed to schedule a time for the "Truman Capote Fan Club." This disturbs us little, however, as we are not a member nor do we intend to become a member of this organization. Before vacation, we intended to buy heavy, horn-rimmed glasses, let our hair grow so that it falls over our eyes, and then beg Jim de Caix to let us in the club. Since that time, we have read Capote's novel, Other Rooms, Other Voices (or, Perversion Under the Spanish Moss). This book so disturbed us that we lost every intention of joining this group. We have decided instead to join the "Harry Truman Fan Club." Harry, thank God, has not written a book.

A friend of mine who has dropped Math 1 gives this report of his last official contact with the Math Department. While he was sitting drawing pictures and doodling in his exam book, a well-known prof came up, looked at the book, and said, "It's ten o'clock. You can run out and play in the snow now."

Trinity Hoopsters Rout Mass. By 61-46 Curtin and Pitkin Pace Team's Attack

Oosting's Charges Have Won 5 Of Nine

With almost no trouble at all, Trinity's Hilltoppers swamped the University of Massachusetts 61-46 at the Memorial Field House last Saturday night.

The game was close only in the first six minutes of play. With the score 8-all, Trinity put on a quick rally to score 7 points in 2 minutes while the visitors could salvage just one free throw. This seven-point lead was maintained throughout the game, being chopped to six on two occasions during the rest of the game, in the second quarter and five minutes before the end of the battle. After the first occasion Trinity rallied to widen the gap to 10 points at half time with a 36-26 score. With five minutes to go the score was 50-44, and another rally was started at this point by the Hilltoppers, who scored 11 markers in a row.

The game was marked by shabby playing on the part of both sides and especially bad shooting on the part of Massachusetts. This failure by the visitors was the reason for the easy victory by the men of Oosting. This game brought Trinity's record to 5 wins and 4 losses, while Massachusetts now has 3 victories and 7 defeats.

Bill Pitkin played a fine aggressive game, taking the high-scoring honors for the night with his 8 field goals for a total of 16 points. Moon Curtin's hook shot was at its best as he found the basket for 15 markers, to break out of a slump he had been in, in the last two games.

Jim Brainard sparked in a substitute role gathering eight points in the time that he played. Two of his field goals started a Trinity rally late in the first half. Ron Watson was not his usual self as he was able to put in just 7 points all evening. Although he did not take very many shots he did miss a few short ones that he usually can be depended upon to put in. Ron had averaged over 15 points per game prior to Saturday night's tussle.

Tripod Board Names Coote Feature Head

John W. Coote, '51, has been appointed feature editor of the Tripod to succeed George Stowe who completed his work at Trinity last month. Coote has been assistant news editor since last April, and on the staff of the Tripod since entering college.

He is a member of the Sophomore Dining Club and is editor-in-chief of the Harlequin. His appointment was made at the last meeting of the executive board of the Tripod.

To The Editors . . .

Dear Sirs:

Having seen the tremendous interest stimulated by the Atomic Energy Exhibit, there is brought to light a seeming intellectual stagnancy that has hitherto gone unnoticed here at Trinity. Here in one display is half a year's course in basic chemistry. Nowhere could a student learn so much about the universe in so little time.

Why is it that films similar to the one in the exhibit are not used in the classrooms? A modern approach which captures the imagination as well as the reason is needed. There are films on many subjects distributed by the Encyclopedia Britannica, March of Time and other organizations. The University of Connecticut runs an Audio-Visual Aids Center which supplies films in the sciences, history, art, and many other subjects.

If enough people are in favor of it, why not even have one educational film per week in the Chemistry Auditorium to be open to all?

Respectfully submitted,

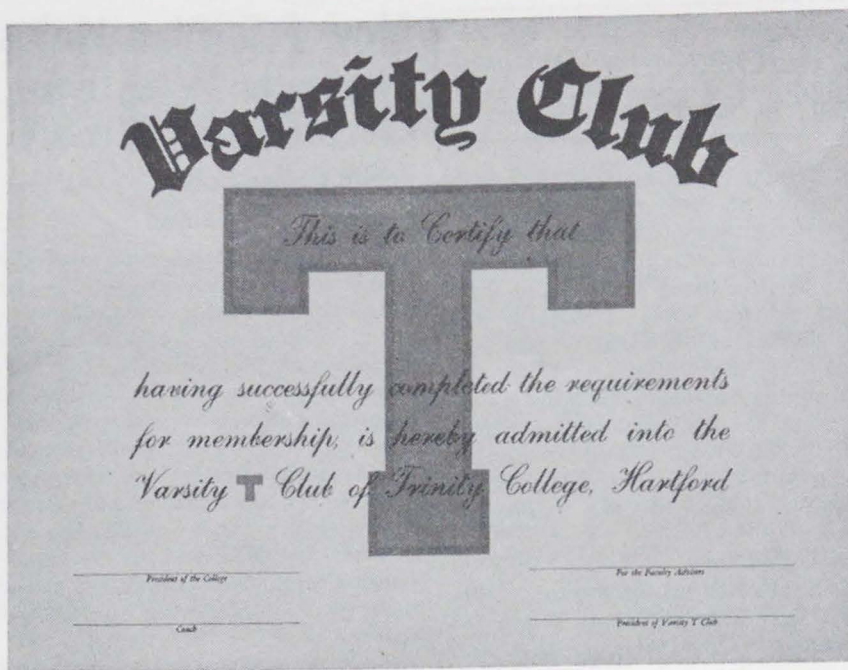

H. Burke.

O'Connor Invades Jarvis To Gain Access To 'Groggy' Krogman For 'Tripe' Readers

By Rory O'Connor

One Sunday morning, following another Saturday night, we, speaking editorially, entered Jarvis 41 and found two dilapidated freshmen in the throes of apparent boredom. Bob "Groggy" Krogman gave us a cynical and slightly washed-out stare, motioned us to a chair, and asked us what the hell we were doing there.

Mr. Krogman, we were informed, is a denizen of River Forest, an important suburb of Chicago and home of such noteworthy operators as Tony Acardo and Paul "The Waiter" Ricca, with whom all cognoscenti should be well acquainted. He (Groggy) is a graduate of O.P.H.S., which has an enrollment of 2700. While at this institution, Mr. Krogman meditated at great length between odd jobs, and formed a philosophy covering all pertinent questions.

Concerning the female subject, Grog has built up a series of opinions that will not be shaken. All of Hartford and vicinity's pretty little things, of which there are about three, should be centered in West Hartford at the end of a shuttle bus line which starts at Trinity and runs regularly. This idea was developed after Mr. Krogman had come to the conclusion that there was no possible way to combine both sexes so that all confusion could be dispensed with. However, our friend would not enter into the above activity since he prefers women only when they are on the other side of the world from him. The two preceding philosophies don't necessarily mix, but that shouldn't faze the Trinity intelligencia.

Groggy, needless to say, is an Illinois scholar and so far feels that he hasn't been given the chance to live up to this conspicuous honor. He was told on arrival not to draw Dr. Dadourian or Dr. Cameron; thereupon, he drew both of them for their respective courses, and has yet to be seen in a good mood. However, Mr. Krogman likes Trinity "probably," but he does have one objection. This objection concerns water. It seems that our hero was lured without the confines of Jarvis and inadvertently walked beneath a deluge of water that was put there on purpose. This brought Mr. Krogman into the administrative spotlight as "director of naval operations in a particular Jarvis entry." Censure followed the downpour.

Mr. Krogman does not harbor any great love for the required chapel credit system, saying that it puts the damper on inspiration. (Not that anyone can be inspired within the confines of Hartford, but still, the chapel credits don't help.)

Incidentally, Mr. Krogman is looking for material with which to make a sport coat. He desires it to be orange with green stripes. To complete the article, let it be known that Groggy is a man of the world, having been to Paris. This fact brings his friends to call him a "paris-ite," but such is actually not the case.

The Varsity "T" Club is the representative body of the varsity athletic lettermen of Trinity College. Membership in this club is obtained by an individual's winning of one major T or two minor letters in a varsity sport, after which the person is invited to join the club. To secure a more adequate presentation of all interests on campus, the Club has faculty advisers, the Coaches of the Athletic Department, and eight faculty representatives, who within their fields act as directors of connected campus activities. Thus student athletic interests and social activities are co-ordinated into an organization that can adequately represent their needs to the administration and faculty and within its own jurisdiction carry out its powers to the benefit of the entire campus.

The officers of the Club are: President, Charlie Osborn; Vice-President, Mitch Holmgren; Secretary, Whitey Epps; Treasurer, Jack Scully.

The Constitution of the Club states that one of the purposes of the Club is to "To provide a group where men with a common bond of sportsmanship and interest in the athletic activities of Trinity College can find fellowship and companionship that will be cherished long after they have played their last game for Trinity."

Most of the planning was done in weekly meetings held since early December at the Psi Upsilon house. Much helpful advice was given the committee by Dean Joseph C. Clarke, and by Frank Burns, '50, who was chairman of last college year's Sophomore Hop. Three hundred tickets, it was decided, would be put on sale, in order to accommodate all who desired to come. No sell-out was anticipated, but an attendance of 480 to 500 was expected. Such a turnout would assure the financial success of the dance, and the committee felt that the social success of the Junior Prom was so sure that it could be taken for granted.

And So It Goes

By Bill Wetter

Another Exam Period has passed and Trinity can boast that its athletic program has not been hampered by the results of these two weeks. Valuable practice was lost, but the man power is still there.

The natators swamped Boston U. up in bean town last Saturday for their first swimming meet victory of the year. With a heavy schedule of meets coming up this month, the swimmers will be very busy. Worcester Tech will afford the opposition on Saturday following the dedication of the Field House.

But it is always hard to talk about anything but basketball this time of the year. It might be late, but it is still proper to congratulate Ron Watson on setting a new scoring record at Trinity. The crowd roared its approval as Wats ambled off the floor with 32 points to his credit, overshadowing the 30 points that Bill Pitkin amassed last year at Union. Oh yes, Trinity won that game, thumping Amherst.

Curtin Finds Range Again

Moon Curtin found the range last Saturday with his hook shots. After his stellar performance against M.I.T. last December, his shots began rolling off the edge of the rim. Mass U. tasted his deadly hooks last week. Once again the ball arched over his head and ripped the cords. His shot from the foul circle straight over his head highlighted the evening. Moon has two more years at Trinity, and should give the fans a lot more to cheer about.

While Curtin was the only outstanding player contributed to the Varsity by last year's Frosh team, Coach Ray Oosting should be greatly pleased by the material he will inherit next winter. Larry Hutnick has proven himself on both offense and defense. His steadiness is a great influence on the Yearlings.

Sammy Nakaso is another star of the Freshman five. His clever ball handling, and accurate feeding in setting up scoring thrusts have kept his team's attack rolling at all times. Bill Goralski and Dave and George Smith also should give the varsity a big help.

Faber Back In Hartford

Trin basketball fans have been going down to the Auditorium to see one of its greatest stars in action. Red Faber, who is now at Harvard, signed with the Hartford Hurricanes a few weeks ago and is now trying to get into shape for the tiring pro season. We certainly wish him the best of luck.

And while speaking about professional sports, another Trinity athlete has inked his contract. The New York Football Giants have signed Mitch Holmgren to a contract for next year. The 230 pound tackle who co-captained Dan Jesse's eleven last fall will certainly be cheered on by the student body. Another message of good luck goes to Mitch.

The Willie Pep-Sandy Saddler fight next Friday night should be quite a battle. After the results of their last fight, many questions were asked. The many suppositions about last time's outcome should be answered by the final gong. It will be a tough decision to prophecy, so maybe next Wednesday will be soon enough to predict the outcome.

The local high schools have certainly taken over the Field House on Friday nights. The constant cheering is certainly responsible for the close games that have been featured so far. Bulkeley certainly has a fine defensive club. Here's hoping they can remain unbeaten.

Sigma Nu And J-Sox Lead Intra-Mural All-Year Point System With 60 And 58

Under the intramural all-year point system in the race for the Alumni Cup, it is discovered that Sigma Nu, through its football championship leads the field with 60 points.

Closely following are the J-Sox with 58, and Delta Psi with 56 points. The Commons Club has amassed 54 points, while Alpha Chi Rho and Psi Upsilon have obtained 52 and 51, respectively. Alpha Delta Phi, Delta Phi, D.K.E., and Theta Xi each have been awarded 50 entrance points.

An organization entering any intramural activity is automatically awarded 50 entrance points. In each activity, the first place team is awarded 10 points; second, 8 points; third, 6 points; fourth, 4 points; fifth, 2 points; and sixth, 1 point. This has been the basis of intramural scoring to date.

Activities planned for the current season include: (1) basketball to February 28 (playoffs March 3); (2) Swimming on March 9, and 16; (3) Volleyball on each Monday from March 14 to April 4; (4) Wrestling on each Thursday from March 10 to 31; (5) Squash from March 4 to April 2; (6) Bowling on March 7; and (7) Table Tennis from March 7 to 28.

In the volleyball competition which begins March 14, each entering organization plays in all six games, with each counting one point. The playoffs begin on April 4 at 8:30.

The summary shows that intramural teams at present are scored in twelve sports, including touch football, basketball, bowling, swimming, wrestling, table tennis, volleyball, squash, track, tennis, golf, and softball.

New P.E. Plan Helps Students With Four Or 5 Terms Credit

Participation-Point System Is Explained

There seems to be some confusion in the minds of undergrads, in regard to the revised physical education program, recently set forth by the Department of Physical Education. To clear up this matter, let us take the following points into consideration:

1—Men on varsity and freshman squads automatically have their gym requirement taken care of, only during that time in which the season extends; in other words, a man on the varsity football team, for example, is excused from gym class during the football season.

2—Undergraduates who have not completed at least four terms of regular physical education, must attend regular gym classes.

3—Students who have completed four terms of regular physical education have the option of (a) attending regular gym classes for another two terms, or (b) working off their deficiency in the newly-organized participation-point system, which will be explained later in this article. Similarly, those who have completed five terms of physical education have the same option as above, with the exception that less participation-points will be needed in their case.

The participation - point system works somewhat in the following manner:

1—Those who have completed four terms of regular gym must obtain 50 participation-points over the course of one academic year, to fulfill their physical education requirement.

2—Similarly, those who have completed five terms of regular gym need 25 participation-points to fulfill their requirement.

3—Participation-points may be obtained through competition in varsity or intramural sports, or through participation in the various "tournament activities," which are being carried on by the physical education department from Monday to Friday. These tournament activities consist during the present season of the following: (a) Squash on each Tuesday and Thursday at 9:30, 10:30, or 1:00; (b) Bowling each Tuesday from 4 to 6 p.m.; and (c) Basketball on each Tuesday and Thursday from 2 to 3 p.m., or each Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 1 to 2 p.m.

Participation-points in intramural competition may be obtained readily through regular competition in the many planned intramural activities during the coming term, all of which have been posted on the Field House bulletin boards. For example, one point shall be awarded for each basketball game played in, or for each night of volley ball participation, and so on.

Any questions concerning this revised program will be gladly answered by Stuart Parks of the P. E. department.

Rioteers Sport Undeclared Record To Lead American League Intramural Race

Girdzyauskas Leads Scoring With 87 Pts.

In American League intramural basketball, the powerful Rioteers, by virtue of dazzling wins over the Terrors (40-27), Triangles (85-53), Alpha Delta Phi (72-11), and D.K.E. (45-22), have taken a commanding lead of two and a half games in league play to date.

Sigma Nu holds down the second spot, despite a 13-12 loss at the hands of D.K.E. Psi Upsilon and the Dekes are tied for the third position with 500 records, while the Triangles, Terrors, and Alpha Delta Phi round out the league in that order.

Rioteers 40, Terrors 27

The Terrors, led by Don Wolford, put up a surprisingly stiff battle against the league leaders. At halftime, it was still anyone's ball game, but a second half splurge led by Dick Palmer, Tom Cunningham, Johnny Girdzyauskas, and Harvey Grinsell, iced the contest.

Rioteers 42, Sigma Nu 26

The undefeated league leaders found only moderate trouble in subduing a fighting Sigma Nu aggregation, by 16 points. Again, the first half was evenly fought, but Girdzyauskas and Palmer again led a second half outburst to come through victorious. Girdzyauskas led the victors with 17, while Killeen and Wood sparked the losers.

Rioteers 83, Triangles 53

The two teams have set some kind of an intramural record for high scoring in this contest, with 136 points flying through the hoop in an hour's time. John Miller of the Triangles was the game's high scorer with 21 markers, while Cunningham led the Rioteers.

Terrors 44, Triangles 40

The fifth place Triangles were upset by the sixth place Terrors, as Joe Morehead's 14 points were too much for the losers to overcome, in a close contest. Rankin's 12 paced the losers.

Sigma Nu 65, Alpha Delt 23

Second place Sigma Nu found it easy going, walloping the hapless Alpha Delt, as Fritz, Killeen, and Simoni, with 16, 20, and 13 markers, respectively, paced the attack.

Rioteers 72, Alpha Delt 11

The Rioteers scored their most one-sided success of the season, as the Alpha Delt were never in the ball game. Dick Palmer's 22 markers paced both teams, while Don Sheehan's six was high for the losers.

Sigma Nu 31, Psi Upsilon 16

Sigma Nu showed flashes of last year's dominance, in whipping a good Psi Upsilon outfit. Phil Simoni led the victors with 12, while Dave Mercer fashioned eight. Gerry Hansen's nine kept the game from a complete rout.

Psi Upsilon 41, Terrors 37
Despite a 20-point performance by the Terrors' Joe Morehead, Psi Upsilon was returned victorious by a four-point margin. Hansen and Tiedemann with 17 and 16 points, respectively, paced the winners, in an evenly fought contest throughout.

D.K.E. 37, Terrors 29

In an evenly contested game, the Dekes, led by "Twitch" Woollacott's 17 points, fashioned out a decision over the Terrors. Felix Callan and Irv Hamilton led the losers with seven each.

Triangles 32, Alpha Delt 9

The Triangles led by center Johnny Miller, found little difficulty in staying in the league race by thumping Alpha Delt, who were held to a low of nine points by the victors' defense. Schaefer garnered 8 for the winners.

Rioteers 45, D.K.E. 22

The tight zone defense employed by the Dekes was not enough to hold down the powerful Rioteers. The league's leading scorer, Johnny Girdzyauskas paced the victors with 16 points, while Frank Sherman and Rube Farrell counted six each for the losers.

Trin Five Conquers Amherst And Tech

Rebounding from two losses on successive days, the Trinity basketball quintet racked up two straight wins to give it a .500 average at exam-time. Playing Amherst in the Trinity Memorial Field House January 11, the Hill-toppers found the going the easiest since the opening game, and won, 62-49. Lanky Ron Watson, a Junior and veteran of the past three seasons, set a new scoring record for one person in one game by sinking 32 points. Bill Pitkin set the previous record of 30 last season.

The following Saturday, January 15, the Bantams won their fourth game of the campaign by whipping Worcester Tech 50-42. Again Watson led the scoring, aided chiefly by Bill Pitkin. Watson's effectiveness from the floor has been a highlight of the season. He has sunk 42 percent of his shots, and averaged better than 15 points a game.

Tank Squad Notches First Success Over Boston U. By 65 To 10

The Trinity varsity swim team won its first victory of the current season in sinking Boston University, Saturday, February 5, by a score of 65-10. The only previous meets of the season were dropped to Bowdoin and M.I.T. The Hilltoppers took command of the situation at the start and were never seriously threatened all afternoon. Joe Clarke's men won firsts in every event and took second place in all but one: the 100-yard freestyle race. This was really a team victory with no one man dominating the field. Each event was won by a different Trinity man. Gus Simmons was the only man to place twice, taking seconds in the 50-yard freestyle race and in the diving competition. The Blue and Gold will face its fourth opponent, Worcester Tech, at home next Saturday night, February 12.

- The summary:
- Medley relay: 1, Trinity (Glassco, Kirschner, Grill); 2, Boston University. Time, 3:17.7.
 - 220-yard freestyle: 1, Cutting (T); 2, Edwards (T); 3, Pierce (B). Time, 2:33.2.
 - 50-yard freestyle: 1, Costa (T); 2, Simmons (T); 3, Donovan (B). Time, :25.4.
 - Diving: 1, Bollerman (T); 2, Simmons (T); 3, Czaronowski (B). Winning points, 63.7.
 - 100-yard freestyle: 1, Vanderbeek (T); 2, Porter (B); 3, Conroy (B). Time, 1:01.2.
 - 150-yard backstroke: 1, Grant (T); 2, Billingsley (T); 3, Piper (B). Time, 2:06.9.
 - 100-yard breaststroke: 1, Kirschner (T); 2, Brewer (T); 3, Wilde (B). Time, 2:40.
 - 440-yard freestyle: 1, Lawrence (T); 2, Parker (T); 3, Corning (B). Time, 6:04.
 - 440-yard relay: 1, Trinity (Bennett, Hollyday, Vanderbeek, Grill); 2, Boston University. Time, 4:10.4.

Swordsmen Compete In 3-Way Meet Sat.

With the tough part of its schedule ahead, the Trinity fencing team has begun to shape up as an effective unit. The chief failing of the squad during the January match with the Yale Frosh was its inexperience. A practice match with Hopkins Grammar which enabled everyone to fence and two weeks more of practice have smoothed out many of the rough spots, co-coaches Harry Rowney and Bob Blum feel. Preparation is continuing now for the triangular meet Saturday, February 12, with Wesleyan University and Bowdoin College, at Wesleyan. Little is known of the strength of the Maine outfit, but Wesleyan has done well in its January matches, beating Clark University and losing to Yale. The following Saturday, February 19, the Hilltoppers will engage the Amherst swordsmen at Amherst. Matches are planned for March with Wesleyan, to be held at Trinity, and with the Yale Jayvees, to be held in New Haven. The third foil position is being fought for by "Flash" Foster and Dick Ellison, while Ed Brennan threatens to displace one of the starting epeemen.

J-Sox Whip Crows 41-33 to Take Lead Kochanski and Linardos Pace Winners

Delta Psi Moves To Third Place In Race

The high flying J-Sox quintet derailed Alpha Chi Rho's bid for the National League lead on Thursday, January 13, to take first place in the loop. The J-Sox also gained a forfeited win from the Bulldogs, as did Delta Psi and Delta Phi, to run its winning streak to six straight. The Crows remained one length behind the leaders, though, notching a 45-19 win over Theta Xi last Thursday night. Also in the period since the last Tripod appeared, Delta Psi won games from Delta Phi and Theta Xi to take third place in the race. Commons Club dropped two more decisions, to Theta Xi and Delta Phi to remain in last place. The Bulldogs have forfeited three games to date.

J-Sox 2, Bulldogs 0 (forfeit) J-Sox 41, Alpha Chi Rho 33

A large crowd turned out to see the two highest scoring teams of the National League battle for first place. A tremendous third period surge by the J-Sox netted them a 41-33 verdict. The Crows had led at half-time 23-19 when the neutral club rallied. Ken Kochanski and Ed Ludorf poured 15 points through the hoop between them to pace the uprise, while a close man-to-man defense held the Crows to three fouls. After building up a 40-26 advantage, the victors coasted the rest of the way.

Stu Holden, the individual high scorer in the league, was held to one basket, but clicked on six fouls to total 8 points, high for his team. Kochanski and Scot Linardos paced the victors with 13 and 11, respectively.

Alpha Chi Rho 45, Theta Xi 19

Stu Holden and Charlie Dabrowski each scored 11 points to pace the Crows to their fifth win in six games. Dave Hatfield garnered 9 counters for the losers.

Theta Xi 28, Commons 14

Theta Xi dumped Commons Club 28-14, in a game played before exams. Nick Christakos tallied 13 points and Lou Raden 8, to pace the fraternity win. Kelley's 6 points were high for Commons Club.

Delta Psi 48, Delta Phi 12

With Bob Drew-Baer, Ben Torrey, and Jim Perry all hitting the double figures Delta Psi notched a 48-12 victory over Delta Phi. Art Raybold scored six points for the losers.

Delta Psi 25, Theta Xi 23
Delta Psi won a nip and tuck ball game from Theta Xi by the narrow score of 25-23. In one of the closest and most exciting games of the season, the winners overcame an 11-9 halftime deficit to register the win. Ben Torrey and Rory O'Connor led their team with 8 and 7 points, respectively. Dave Hatfield was high scorer for the game, tallying 12 points for the losers.

Delta Psi 2, Bulldogs 0 (forfeit)

Delta Phi 26, Commons 20

Delta Phi took over fifth place by downing Commons Club 26-20 in a spirited contest. Kelley paced the Commons in a second half drive that overcame a 14-point deficit. Jack Mandary's 6 points paced the victors.

Frosh Shades Mass. By 61-57 Margin As Hutnick Garner 22

The Trinity Freshman basketball squad put on a strong finish last Saturday night to beat the Massachusetts Freshmen in a close battle 61-57. The victory gives the Frosh a record of five wins against two losses.

It was a close game featuring a number of spurts by the Blue and Gold to give the team a large lead only to have the visitors rallying to catch up. In one instance, in the third quarter, the Mass. team did overtake the Hilltoppers and held a small lead at that time, however, most of the time Trinity protected its lead by a small margin.

The home team piled up a 10-0 advantage at the start of the game, only to see it cut down slowly until at half-time Trinity led by just one point, 35-54. Late in the second half, the Massachusetts' shooting improved to the extent that it almost carried away the victory, but Trin, led by Larry Hutnick, who scored 22 points, was equal to the situation and matched the Bay Staters point for point in the closing minutes to take the game.

SAINT ANTHONY—Having proved the value of the relaxed approach to studies, most of the brethren devoted the week, or, at any rate, the end of it, to relaxation of a most concentrated sort. From the minute when the first returns came in on the grades situation, it was apparent that the men who were doing best were those who had devoted their leisure to being leisurely. Consequently, a number of small parties have occurred in the past several days, at all of which the best of spirits have prevailed. Several of the more energetic of our number have taken to the ski trails recently, among them Smith, Detwiler, Stewart, Glassco, and Hutchins. The last-named had some trouble with ski tows and little children, but otherwise enjoyed himself. Which, as I have pointed out, is as it should be. (F. J. B.)

Coming back from 'tween terms vacation most of the brothers of ALPHA CHI RHO were pleasantly surprised to see the new paper in the front two rooms. Those not surprised were Ben Jenkins, Bob Mullen, and their fellow paperhangers. Also over the vacation Brothers Avitabile and Perez, and Thomas and Rouse papered and painted their respective rooms. Last Sunday everyone, including Don and Paul, sat around the house and listened to Don Wildrick sing while Paul Thomas played, on WDRC's weekly visit to Trinity. Coming back from a pre-exam setback at the hands of the J-Sox, the Crow basketball team took over Theta Xi. Now that the marks are in and we are pleased to see everybody still with us, we can all take time out to marvel at Bob Barrows who took home the best report card in the House to his recently acquired better half. Last Thursday the Crows enjoyed the after-dinner port which Brother Herbert had obligingly promised to buy for the house if he got an 85 in a certain course.

The Halls of DELTA KAPPA EPSILON last week, were filled with an extremely bitter atmosphere, with sounds that were in a silent fashion, being invented by a group known as the "immortal nine." This gallant crew of men were engaged in various occupations, which, being both constructive and hilarious, provided intense amusement for the brothers that were on hand to watch the interesting activities. It was enlightening, indeed, to discover that among the above mentioned nine, there were many professional men, who were experienced at baby sitting, night club entertainment (Ruthy will vouch for this), waiting on table, (Pledge Ricci and Festa, you were sensational) and other vocations which are certainly too numerous to mention in this brief article. At this point the "immortal nine" should be identified as our group of noble pledges who are lower than . . . but before closing, the fact should be made known that this group can no longer be classified as being you know what! Our congratulations go out to our newly initiated brothers: Dick Ricci, Joe(y) Festa, Bob Carver, Ned Kirschbaum, George Underhill, Don Walwork, Wally Barrett, Bob Schork, and Ed Morrissey. (E. D. T.)

PSI UPSILON, with exams and the horrors that go with them successfully thwarted for another term, this week turned its efforts toward interior decoration. With the aid of a group of more than willing pledges, the job of stripping and repainting the front hall, stair-well, and second floor hall was accomplished with amazing rapidity. Brother Byers recently returned from a speedy trip to Washington with a carload of very expensive hair tonic packaged in little brown bottles just under the quart size. More will be known of its devastating effects after the coming weekend. Last week at their meeting, the Beta Betas elected new house officers. Brothers Dick Sherman, Sam Waugh, and Hank Goodyear replaced Brothers Pete Long, Dick Sherman, and Carl Tiedeman as president, first vice-president, and second vice-president in that order. (J. W. C.)

THETA XI takes pleasure in announcing the recent pledging of Don L. Coursey, of Camp Hill, Pa.; Robert A. Krogman, of River Forest, Ill.; and Edward P. South and John L. Ulrich, both of Rosemont, Pa. The Little White House at 84 Vermouth Street is undergoing a thorough renovation in preparation for the coming weekend. Responsible for much of the painting and repairing are Pledges Christakos, Gurwitt, Hatfield, and Ormerod, under the able guidance of House Manager Brother W. R. Richmond. Our Steward, Brother McIntosh has recently joined the engineering staff of WRTC, extra time being given him by Assistant Steward, Brother McGaw, who helps out Mac by faithfully purchasing oleo at the store every week. Social Chairman Brother Wack-Wack-Wack has contracted a bad case of writer's cramp

this week by excessive re-writing of invitations. Congratulations are in order for Brother Lou Raden who pinned Miss Mary Knolton, of Radnor, Pa., a short while ago. Time and place have not yet been announced. (S. G. C.)

SIGMA NU, having suffered the pains of mid-year exams for the past several weeks, has once again returned to normal. On Saturday afternoon the house was invaded by an enthusiastic group of brothers and pledges with paint, brushes, and the sweet aroma of alcohol issuing forth from the large vats of turpentine which lined the second floor corridor. The able-bodied group, led by "the boss," Brother Gilroy, soon had the walls, rooms, and everything else in sight covered with a very exotic "powder puff blue." The entire project proved to be a great success with the exception of Uncle Jim's "holidays." Congrats to pledges

Vaile, Morse, Nettle, Rathbone, Spurtle, and McElwee for being accepted into the brotherhood. Their initiation will take place sometime next week, but already these men are studying ground maps of the western part of the state—I wonder why! (N. E. C., Jr.)

DELTA PHI: With the advent of February 4, Delta Phi started on the week-long program of house renovation known by the imposing appellation as "Operation Pledge Week." Under the rules of this program the brothers have achieved the Utopian goal of legalized cigarette bumming from pledges and, if not total abstinence, at least a minimum of profanity from the neophytes. The success of this program is attributable to a peculiar characteristic desire among genus Homo plebians to alter their fraternal status (up or down has not yet been determined) and become a brother. However, all is not beer and bachelor's buttons for a brother, as anyone who ever wrote this column will attest. Some unsuspecting young brother will someday write this chronicle and not until then will he know the full meaning of Hell Week, or, in this case, weekly Hell. (B. P. B.)
