

Many Events Crowd Senior Ball Weekend

Houses Make Plans For Outings, Parties

By IKE LASHER

Everything from varsity sports to drama and beach parties will highlight the Senior Ball Weekend April 30, May 1st and 2nd. Les Elgart, a master of the sophisticated swing, and a fast-rising young artist who has already made several recordings for Columbia, will provide the music at the dance Friday evening.

The affair, which lasts from 9 to 1, will take place at the Hartford Club. Flowers have been stipulated. Running concurrently with the Ball is the Freshman Prom to be held at the Wethersfield Country Club. Paul Landerman and his orchestra will entertain. The yearling formal will be a no-flower and no-liquor affair.

Saturday, May 1, will see the baseball, tennis, track and lacrosse teams in action. The Blue and Gold diamond team will face Amherst at 3:00 p.m. on the varsity baseball diamond. Coach Roy Dath's racquet team will play host to Middlebury at 2:00 P.M. on the College courts. At 1:15 the Bantam tracksters will oppose the Coast Guard Academy. The lacrosse team will engage the Yale jayvees on the varsity soccer field at 2:30 p.m.

Saturday night the Jesters will render their production of George Bernard Shaw's popular "Misalliance." The comedy is directed by George Nichols, instructor of English.

Alpha Chi Rho will have a cocktail party followed by a formal banquet dinner Friday evening. Saturday they will have a cocktail party, a buffet supper and a house party. A beach party and picnic at Sachem's Head Yacht Club is on the agenda for Sunday.

The AD house will have a cocktail party and buffet supper both Friday and Saturday. Saturday night they will have a house party.

Friday evening Alpha Theta will have a cocktail and dinner party. Saturday afternoon they will have a

Career Diplomat to Speak Here Monday

Mr. Eugene H. Dooman, former Counselor of the American Embassy in Japan, will lecture on the "Japanese Social Order" next Monday at 8:00 p. m. in the Library conference room, it has been announced.

Mr. Dooman, a Trinity graduate, class of 1912, spent his entire career as a diplomat in the foreign service. During World War II, he served as Chief Counselor under the American Ambassador to Japan, Joseph C. Grew. He is now retired, and lives in Litchfield, Connecticut.

The lecture, sponsored by the Library Associates, will be concerned with the origins of the Japanese people and their social order.

Letters-To-Editor Contest Will Continue Bi-Weekly

In connection with the campus Chesterfield representative, James Sauvage, the Tripod plans to continue the Letters-To-The-Editor Contest on a bi-weekly basis. A prize of one carton of Chesterfield cigarettes will be awarded to the best letter submitted for the issues of May 5th and 19th. Letters must be in by 4 p.m. on the Monday before these dates.

Les Elgart and his band will be the main feature of the Senior Ball.

Four Colleges Join Services

Four colleges will join in two services observing National Christian College Day on Sunday, April 25, at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York City and at the Cathedral of the Incarnation, Garden City, Long Island.

Alumni and officers of Hobart, Kenyon, Sewanee and Trinity will take part in the services, which will highlight for the Episcopal Church the importance of "Christian Colleges for a Free America," theme of the day which is being sponsored by the National Council of Churches.

Dr. Albert C. Jacobs will deliver the address at the two services, to be held at 11 a. m. in New York and at 4:30 p. m. in Garden City. Each service will be followed by a coffee hour and reception for alumni and friends of the four colleges.

Presidents Gordon Keith Chalmers and Alan W. Brown of Kenyon and Hobart, and Vice-Chancellor Edward McCrady of Sewanee, will also participate in the two services, heading delegations from their respective institutions. A special musical program will be provided at both Cathedrals by the Schola Cantorum, a choir of mixed voices from Hobart and William Smith Colleges.

On National Christian College Day, the attention and prayers of congregations throughout the nation will be asked for Christian colleges of all denominations.

Fred Booth Made Basketball Coach, Instructor at Jersey High School

Frederick H. Booth, Jr., of the Physical Educational Department, has been appointed head basketball coach, assistant football coach, and physical education instructor at the Columbia High School in Maplewood, New Jersey, it was announced Monday.

Mr. Booth came to Trinity as freshman coach in 1948 after his graduation from Springfield College. Since that time the 17 teams he has coached in four different sports have had 15 winning seasons.

"We're terribly disappointed that Fred is leaving Trinity," Director of Athletics Ray Oosting said today. "He's done an outstanding job with our freshman teams for the last six years. However, we're pleased that the new job will be an advancement for him to a head coaching position."

In six years of freshman football, Coach Booth's teams have gone undefeated twice, in 1948 and again in 1952, while his over-all record in the sport stands at 14 wins, 12 losses and one tie.

Coaching freshman basketball over the same span, his teams has won 58 and lost only 20. This year's yearlings won 9, including a victory over Yale, against only one defeat.

Coaching baseball for the past four years, his freshmen have won 28 and lost 12, while the freshman track team he coached in 1949 won four meets and lost one.

Large Turnout Elects Senate, Class Officers

Room Drawings Scheduled for Next Monday

Assignment of dormitory rooms for the next college year will begin next week, it was announced by the Treasurer's office Monday.

Members of the Senate will personally draw lots at the Treasurer's Office for assignment of priority, for members of the rising Senior Class, (now Juniors), the rising Junior Class, the rising Sophomore class. The first Senior's name drawn will be assigned priority #1, etc., to the end of the Senior class, the first Junior #200, and the first Sophomore #400, etc., to the end of the classes. The results will then be posted on the bulletin board.

All members of the Class of 1955 who desire to keep their present rooms for the next year must sign the proper form at the Treasurer's Office on or before April 22nd, 1954. ONLY ONE FORM SHOULD BE USED, SIGNED BY ALL OCCUPANTS. Any present occupant (Class of '55) of a room may take in another student or students as roommates provided such action is acceptable to his roommates. No student may keep his room, however, unless his roommates also sign to keep it or he finds replacements.

Assignment of the remaining rooms will be made on the basis of priority numbers. The schedule of application dates is given below. All applications should be in the Treasurer's Office by 5 o'clock of the last day indicated. Applicants must execute the proper form, for any rooms on the list, using ONE FORM SIGNED BY ALL ROOMMATES, with the class, preference number and address of each shown. A priority is not transferable. The roommate with the highest priority number will determine for the group, even when a Senior, for example, may wish to room with two Juniors. Applicants should list sufficient choices in order of preference. If sufficient choices are not given, and all rooms listed on the application are already assigned, the application must go to the rear of the group being processed. The timetable of applications will be:

Faculty Resolution Fixes Grading Laws

In another move to tighten the academic system, the faculty passed a resolution last week which is concerned with conditional and incomplete grades.

The old ruling stated "that a student conditioned in a course will be credited with the course if he passes a satisfactory examination, or otherwise satisfies the instructor." The new ruling limits the time a provisional grade will be allowed to stand. It states, "Deficiencies and provisional grades (those accompanied by Absent, Conditional or Incomplete) must be replaced by permanent grades during the semester following the one in which they are incurred, unless otherwise stipulated by the instructor. In case the student is not in college during the semester following the receipt of a deficiency, such deficiency must be removed during his next semester in college."

An "Absence" occurs when a student has a valid excuse for missing a final exam. An "incomplete" grade is given when part of the course is not adequately fulfilled.

The purpose of this resolution is to cut down the laxness of the students in making up deficient grades.

Senate Plans College Smoker

In an effort to promote closer harmony among the students, the Senate will present an all-college smoker this Friday evening from 7 to 9. Beer, cider, and soft drinks will be served.

The Senators expressed a hope that the event would be as well-attended as the smokers in the past have been. Increased interest is expected as this year's smoker is scheduled in conjunction with the Mason Plan and will offer additional opportunity for freshmen and fraternity men to get acquainted.

Telephone Trouble

The Senate accepted a plan by which all freshmen in the New Dorm will be assessed a certain amount for the mis-use of the telephones in that building. The innocent persons can avoid payment only by proclaiming their innocence to Dean Clarke. The plan has been sent to the Medusa for final approval.

Under new business, the Senate decided to register a complaint with the Property Manager's Office, because of the recent epidemic of petty thefts from cars parked on Summit Street.

Jim Logan, President of the Senate, reminded the members that they must vote in the near future for the class which will receive the Lemon Squeezer Award.

SENIORS

There will be a senior class meeting next Tuesday, April 27, at 1 p.m. in the Chemistry Auditorium. All seniors are urged to attend.

Over two-thirds of the student body cast their votes yesterday to elect thirteen members of the '54-'55 college Senate. In one of the best turnouts in the history of the college, some 600 students balloted. Three officers from each class and a Junior Class Marshal were also chosen.

Dave Roberts, Mack Hickin, and Ron Foster captured the chief posts of the rising senior, junior and sophomore classes, respectively.

President of Alpha Delta Phi, Dave Roberts has played on the varsity baseball and basketball teams for two years. He has also headed the Campus Chest Committee, and is a member of the Sophomore Dining Club.

Mack Hickin, a member of Delta Psi fraternity, was president of his class last year. He is also on the fencing team, and during his freshman year, he served on the Frosh Executive Council.

President of the yearlings last semester, Ron Foster headed the frosh division of the Campus Chest Committee, and sparked the activity of his class in the recent blood drive.

Leading the class of '55 with Roberts will be George Lunt, vice-president, and Wade Close, secretary-treasurer.

The sophomore class will be headed by Ronald Warren and Ronald Richardson in the capacity of Veep and secretary-treasurer respectively.

Managing the freshman class along with Ron Foster, Paul Kennedy and William Pierce will assume the positions of vice-president and secretary-treasurer, in that order.

Library to Publish Magazine: 'Gazette'

A new publishing venture begins this week with the appearance of the College Library Gazette.

A bibliographical and literary magazine, the Gazette is published by and for the College Library Associates, an organization of friends of the Library interested in book collecting and the graphic arts.

Volume One of the new publication contains four articles by members of the faculty. Dr. Robert C. Black, Assistant Professor of History, writes on Civil War material in the Watkinson Library.

Michael R. Campo, Instructor in Romance Languages, describes the rare first edition of short stories by 16th Century novelist Gian Battista Giraldis, a copy of which is owned by the Watkinson. Librarian Donald B. Engley contributes a study of George Brinley, 19th Century Hartford book collector whose collection forms a distinguished part of the library, while Dr. Thurman L. Hood, Associate Professor of English and a Browning scholar, has an essay on Browning's Hellinism.

Mr. Engley is editor of the Gazette.

A WORD OF ADVICE . . .

As the college year once again draws to a close, the thoughts of both the freshmen and the upperclassmen turn to rushing. The Mason Plan, begun yesterday and scheduled for the next two Tuesdays, has brought most of the freshmen face to face with the choice that they must make next fall.

We offer for what it is worth a word of advice to those freshmen, and we understand that the number is discouragingly small, who have signed up for the Mason Plan. Use it to your greatest advantage. By this we mean visit all the fraternities on campus. We realize that many of you have signed up for the Plan with some idea in mind as to the houses that you are most interested in. A vague idea at this time is excusable, but not a definite decision to join this fraternity or that one.

Attempt to keep an open mind until, and even after, you have visited all the houses. The Mason Plan and even the brief rush week in the fall together are actually not sufficient time to give you a complete picture of the various fraternities. Do not, however, reason that because the time that you have to see the houses is short, you should omit some to concentrate on a few. This would be a grave error for two reasons. First, you may be passing over the house in which you would be best fitted, and second, if you show no interest in a fraternity during the Mason Plan, it is not likely to show much interest in you next fall. Take no chances; support the Mason Plan and attend all the fraternities.

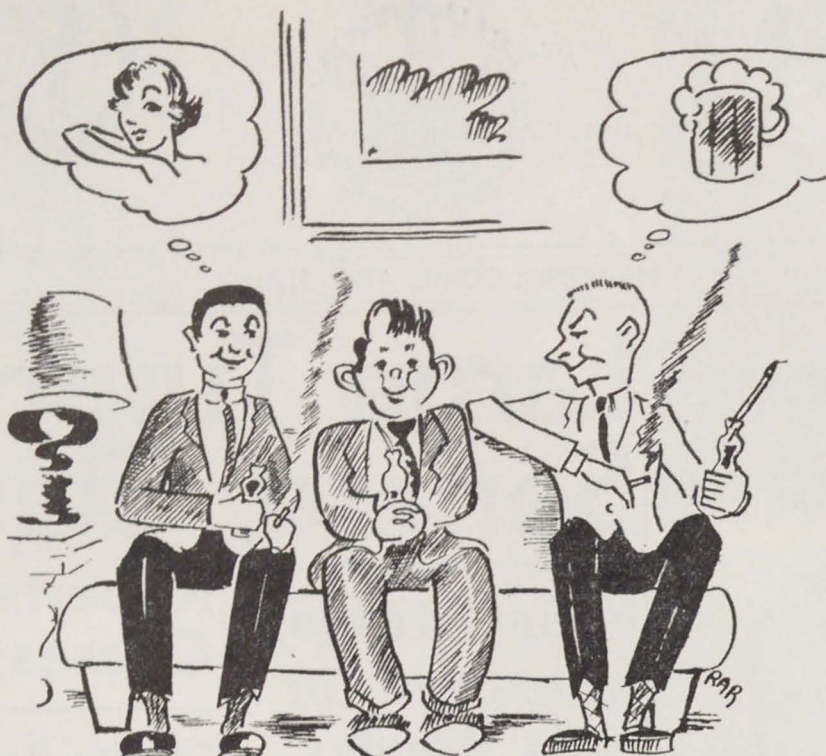

Continuing on the topic of rushing, there is one other effort that this paper would like to see made. We feel that a complete set of rushing rules, similar to those set forth in the freshman handbook, but with full and clear explanations should be made available to freshmen and sophomores by registration day in the fall. To the incoming freshmen especially, to whom the rules of rushing are usually a foreign language, would this explanatory volume be valuable. Any comment or illustration which may aid the student in interpreting the rule should be included. We hope that the IFC will undertake the job of providing the college with this needed publication.

SPORT

In our daily perusal of the news we ran across a sports article which gave us a little thrill: Judy Devlin of Baltimore defeated Sally Thomas of Mountain Lakes, N. J. to win the United States Girls' Singles Badminton Championship. This gentle bit of news, swallowed with our morning orange juice, had a lulling effect which carried us through the day in an amazingly benign frame of mind.

We imagined Miss Devlin waiting with girlish tenseness for the birdie to come looping lazily over the net. We saw her charming blush as she leaped over the net to shake her opponent's hand; the smooth firmness of well-muscled arm and leg. We smelled the perfume of the warm indoor gymnasium and the crowd of spectators, and thought how wonderful it was that the old Picnic Game had grown to professional status with an Association all its very own. We thought of her pride in the graceful, distinctive trophy and all it stands for.

But most of all we felt a great glow of satisfaction and relief as we approached the end of the article and found that 18-year-old Miss Devlin would be ineligible for competition next year for reasons of age. American athletic philosophy has scored again!

"GENEVIEVE"

By PAUL TERRY

Some movies are good, and some are bad . . . some movies are funny and some are sad—so go the lyrics of an old song long ago forgotten by theatergoers. There is a picture now playing at the New Parsons which proves that the lyrics of that song have never been more correct. "Genevieve" is the kind of picture which is at once both "good" and "funny."

The Arthur J. Rank production deals with the annual trip from London to Brighton made by a group of antique-car enthusiasts. Genevieve, the mechanical star of the movie, is a 1904 Darracq, and its painful progress from Sisyphus's capital city to Brighton and back again reminded this reviewer of Sisyphus and his backward-rolling rock.

Starring in the male role, John Gregson does a competent job of piloting and doctoring Genevieve along the thirty-two mile run, and at the same time, he performs the acting part of his task equally well. Mr. Gregson portrays the figure of Allan McKim, a struggling young lawyer whose primary joy in life is pattering with the old Darracq and getting it ready for the yearly sortie to Brighton. His lovely wife, played by Dinah Sheridan, adds the female element and sets up the framework for a very humorous husband-wife relationship.

The foundation of the plot rests on a feud between Allan and his pal, Ambrose Clabberhouse. These two characters become overly enthusiastic about their automobiles, and decide to race back to London. What happens during this madcap peregrination is worth seeing. From blowouts to broken steering columns, Allan nurses Genevieve across the lovely English countryside toward the finish line.

The subtle wit of the English pen has created a thoroughly enjoyable moving picture in "Genevieve."

Trinity's Cyclotron Mushrooms Ahead

By DUNCAN STEPHANSON

An invisible hydrogen particle and a half-ton magnet will be the featured attraction at the Jarvis Physics Laboratory early next month. After nearly a year of work, Trinity's, and probably Connecticut's, first cyclotron is nearing completion. Constructed by juniors Tom Callahan and Bob Wood, the atom-smasher occupies most of a good-sized room on the first floor of the building.

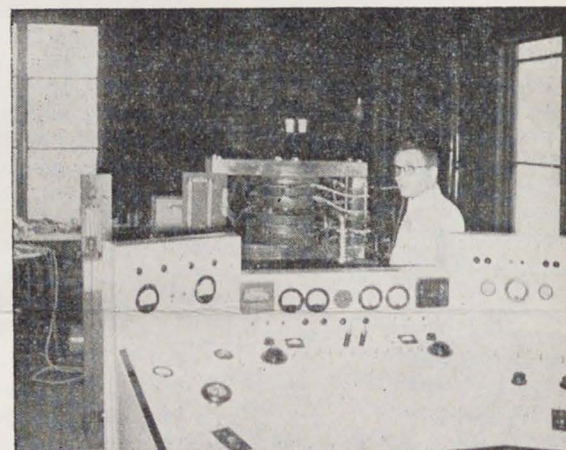

The project was started four years ago but was soon abandoned until early last fall when the two young physicists adopted it as their laboratory project under the direction of Mr. John Laestadius.

The college has provided most of the necessary equipment, although private industry has donated some, including a transformer and the giant magnet.

By electromagnetic means, the cyclotron accelerates electrified particles of hydrogen to nearly the speed of light. The basic idea of the cyclotron is based on Einstein's formula $E=MC^2$. A particle of hydrogen (M) is introduced into a high-pressure vacuum chamber where it is accelerated to nearly the speed of light (C^2) by a high radio frequency. According to the formula, as the particle moves it creates energy. The amount of this energy is then recorded in the control panel of the machine. The whole process lasts about one one-thousandth of a second.

The Trinity machine is somewhat larger and more powerful than the first one built in 1942 by Dr. E. O. Lawrence at Berkeley, California. It develops 200,000 electron volts.

Both Wood and Callahan have spent most of their spare time assembling the impressive conglomeration of tubes, dials, pumps and wire (about 25 miles, according to Callahan). All the work has been done, and the only thing which prevents the operation of the machine is the lack of a needed cylinder of hydrogen and added tinkering.

Reporter Duncan Stephanson surveys the Jarvis Laboratory cyclotron.

Bantams Drub Norwich, But Lose to Springfield; Sticka Sidelined After Suffering Split Finger

Burton Hurls Neat 4-Hitter in 7-1 Win

Coach Dan Jessee missed his first game in 19 years last Wednesday, but that didn't stop his charges from downing Norwich, 7-1, to make a success of their home opener.

Burton Impressive

Jack Burton took the hill for the Bantams and did a beautiful job of setting down the visitors, surrendering only four hits while walking four and whiffing nine. The lone run for the Horsemen came in the fifth when Jack Carpenter and Al Vickowski came through with hits after two were out.

Trinity's offensive display wasn't much more powerful than Norwich's, the Bantams gathering only five hits; but they took good advantage of five Horseman errors to pile up their seven runs.

Roberts Singles

The first run came home in the second inning on a walk, an error, and a looping single by second baseman Dave Roberts. In the third Ed Yeomans teed off with a triple to the left field fence. He came home on Ron Kozuch's two-bagger to right.

Burton caused himself some fourth inning trouble by issuing a pair of free passes, but he escaped without yielding a run. After Norwich's scoring effort in the fifth, however, the Bantams wrapped things up with a two-run outburst in the sixth and a three-run burst in the eighth.

Snider, Rosen to be New Batting Champs

By PHIL TRUITT

Every season the annual predictions appear in various sports columns throughout the nation revealing the author's views on just what baseball teams will finish where in the final standings. I have decided to go a little farther out on the limb and try to pick whom I think will win the various individual races.

Snider Top Hitter

First of all there is the batting championship of both leagues. In the Junior circuit I look for a red hot race between Stan Musial, Carl Furillo, Duke Snider, and Monte Irvin. I am going with a long shot here and will select Snider to replace his teammate as the league's top batter.

In the American League it should be a big year for Cleveland's Al Rosen with Billy Goodman of Boston close on his heels. I look for Mickey Vernon to drop considerably after his great performance of last year.

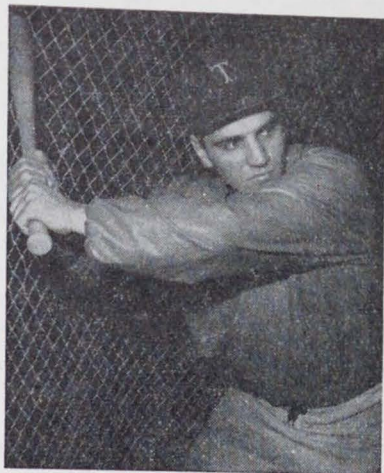

In other departments I see the Dodgers' Roy Campanella as a repeat for both the RBI and MVP awards. The home run crown should go to Ed Mathews, but Campanella may be a dark horse. Top pitching honors will go to Robin Roberts and Don Newcombe. As Rookie of the Year, I like Wally Moon of St. Louis.

Al Rosen should score a double in the RBI and MVP departments and Gus Zernial should take the home run title. Bob Porterfield and Ned Garver will be the big pitchers and the A.L. Rookie of the Year should be Harry Agganis hands down.

Tripod Wrestling Cup Awarded Thurs. Nite

Tomorrow night is the date set for the Winter Sports Banquet at the Hamlin Dining Hall. Letters will be awarded in Basketball, Swimming, and Squash as well as several trophies which are also concerned with these sports.

Of much interest will be the announcement of the results of the elections of the men chosen for captaincies for the coming year.

Among others to be presented, the newly initiated Tripod Wrestling Trophy will be awarded to Alpha Delta Phi. This trophy will be given to the winner of the Intramural mat competition each year. Richard McCrea will accept the trophy for A.D.Phi.

The new award is on a square base with three columns rising from this and in turn supporting a cup on top of which stands the crouched figure of a wrestler.

Crosier: Captain Dave Crosier, who turned in his usual fine game against Springfield.

Slants On Sports

By PHIL TRUITT

The Intramural athletic program has been in existence here at Trinity College for many years and its future is practically as sound as that of the college itself. The competition has become an important part of the student's life on campus. The importance of the Intramural program is due to many factors which concern both the individual and the college.

Perhaps the most valuable asset that Intramurals has is the closer ties, both internal and external, that it creates among the participants. The actual competition is taken far more seriously than the outsider might imagine. Each event is usually preceded by a serious training period to assure the participants of putting forth their best possible efforts. It is this spirit that bring each individual closer to his companion. With each man turning out his best performance in quest of victory, there cannot help but exist a strong atmosphere of harmony and friendship. This is a wonderful thing and it is unfortunate that the turbulent world of today does not learn a lesson from it.

One has only to look at the basketball team of the Elton Frosh this year to see this point. Through steady training and practice the freshmen ran roughshod over all competition and had no trouble winning the Intramural title in that event. They were an inspiration to many of the lackadaisical fraternities and well they should be.

Spirit and Interest

Still another important aspect of Intramurals is the spirit and interest which it produces for college activities, especially sports events. Through the Intramural competition, an avid interest in sports often arises and spreads to the level of the varsity athletics of the college. Here at Trinity this is particularly noticeable. However, the lax attitude which many fraternities take towards the Intramurals may well be the cause of the somewhat failing support given to the varsity teams in the last few years. It might be a good idea to think that over. The interest shown in Intramurals is a good judge of the strength and character of the individual as well as the fraternity.

Harvard Receives TV Bid from NCAA

It was announced last week that the National Collegiate Athletic Association had asked permission to televise the 1954 Harvard-Yale football game. This proposal which would send a handsome sum of money to Harvard is expected to bring to a head the University's dispute with the N.C.A.A. over gridiron telecasts.

Reasons For Break

Last season Harvard severed relations with the N.C.A.A. over television. This move was based on the belief that the N.C.A.A.'s regulations were against the anti-trust laws, as well as the University's desire to remain independent of any national organization.

This television proposal may be an attempt to regain the support of Harvard and Yale—which also broke relations due to a stand against TV. Harvard, along with Pennsylvania and Notre Dame, has been a leading figure in the increased resistance of late shown by schools over the television issue.

Lacrosse to Open With Tufts on Sat.

After several scrimmages with Kingswood in recent days, the Blue and Gold lacrosse team opens its 1954 schedule this Saturday with Tufts at Medford, Mass.

Pete Stretch and Co-captain Charlie Bowen will both be ready for the important opener. Stretch and Bowen were absent for the practice contest two weeks ago with the Kingston Athletic Club.

The attack line of Co-captain George Lunt, Pete Carlough, and John Shields have rounded into shape during the past week and should show up well against the Jumbos.

The probable starters on the mid-field line will be Jerry Anthony, Pete Wilson, and Dick Bittner. The defense should start Tim LaPointe, Sandy Campbell, and Rid Stuart although Stretch will also see quite a bit of action.

Charlie Bowen will start in the goal as usual and can be counted on for a better than average performance.

The lacrosse men will be out to start the season off in a winning way against their Massachusetts opponents and the contest should be a rough one.

Jessee's Refusal to Leave Causes Forfeit

In search of their second win in three starts the Trinity baseball nine met Springfield yesterday at the latter's field. The game was a scoreless deadlock for 5½ innings when Dan Jessee was ejected from the field. The Bantam coach refused to move and after a brief deliberation the umpires ruled the home team a 9-0 victor by forfeit.

Jessee pulled a surprise from the opening bell when he started Charlie Sticka at second base in place of Dave Roberts. Sticka reinjured his split finger in the Springfield fifth inning and was forced to retire.

The game, what was played of it, was a pitcher's duel between Jack Gallagher and Jack Sanford of the Gymnasts. The first threat appeared in the Trinity third when Gene Gallagher drew a walk and raced to third on a single by Lucky Callen. However, Sanford fanned Sticka and forced Mazurek to ground to second to end the inning.

Springfield began to stir in their half of the fourth frame. Jack Gallagher dropped a pop fly that opened the door. A stolen base followed immediately and after two were out, Gallagher walked Pete Berland. The latter promptly stole second, but the rally was squelched when Gallagher fanned Gernand for the final out.

Springfield had a mild threat going in the fifth with men on first and second and two down, but Gallagher escaped trouble on a fly to Yeomans.

With two out in the home half of the sixth the trouble began. On a close call of a pitch at the plate Jessee was warned for heckling by the plate umpire. Jessee paid no heed and one pitch ensued before the Bantam coach was ejected from the field. Jessee refused to move and after a brief wait Springfield was awarded a 9-0 victory by forfeit.

Amherst Considers New Cut System; Many Views

A new system regulating class cuts at Amherst will "... make every teacher his own dean," it was reported last week by that college's newspaper, the Student.

Apparently, each instructor will inform the Dean's office of his cut policy at the beginning of the semester. This can range anywhere from unlimited cuts to no cuts at all. Dean's list students will also have to follow the regulations set up by the teachers in their respective courses, even should the instructor allow no cuts at all.

Each Instructor Keeps Own Attendance

As the system is now envisioned, each instructor will be responsible for keeping his own attendance records, and will only report to the Dean when someone has overcut. The new system is scheduled to go into effect next semester, Sept. 1954.

Although the new system was voted by the faculty before spring vacation, and has been extensively discussed all over the campus for several days, the administration has said nothing official as yet. Therefore, the exact workings of the system are not definitely known.

Porter "Too Busy"

When asked to explain and comment on the details, Dean C. Scott Porter replied that he was "much too busy" to say anything at this time, but would comment later.

A small sampling of faculty opinion indicated that some of the members are not wholly in favor of the "new deal" and will, as a result, keep the same standards as the College now holds. The students felt that the merit of the system would depend on how liberal the faculty members would make their cutting rules. There was some fear that certain instructors would allow no cuts, which would "wreck all my weekends."

YALE: A Yale University economics instructor who tried to teach investment procedures by example has flunked his own course on the stock market. It began when instructor Robert E. Will decided to give his freshman class a practical demonstration on the workings of stock. Will passed on a tip that New Bristol Oils, Ltd., was on the way up and a "good investment."

Within no time, the freshmen had given Will money to invest in Canadian Oil as Prof. Lloyd G. Reynolds, head of the economics department, was censuring the action as "rather impudent." The Yale Daily News, student newspaper, reported the size of the transaction to be 16,000 shares, but Prof. Reynolds said only 1,600 were bought.

Reynolds said Will has been ordered to reimburse his students for the venture. Since the stock has fallen instead of rising, Will stands to lose five cents a share, plus brokerage fees, if he sells it immediately. He thus will suffer loss of $80 to $800 dollars, depending upon whose figures are right.

U. OF WASHINGTON: A time-honored tradition bit the dust at the U. of Washington recently when sororities officially outlawed water fights and imposed a fine of $1 to $5 per member and social probation for one quarter. But just because the women don't want to fight is no sign the men are ready to quit. The inter-fraternity council has no policy on water fights unless they become violent.

HARVARD: Two Cantab professors stated last week that during their association with J. Robert Oppenheimer, '26, on the atomic bomb project at Los Alamos, N.M., they "had no reason at any time" to doubt the famed physicist's loyalty to his country. Kenneth T. Bainbridge, professor of physics, stated Wednesday that "after working closely with Dr. Oppenheimer for two and a half years at Los Alamos, I am convinced he is a loyal American devoted to his country. The loss of his services to the United States would be a tragedy."

Norman F. Ramsey, a physics professor, said that he had been associated with Oppenheimer for the past ten years and that in that time he has given no reason for anyone to doubt his loyalty. Another professor, on sabbatical leave at the Institute for Advanced Study, of which Oppenheimer is the director, called the investigation "insane and crazy." Perry Miller, professor of American Literature, said that "the charges were nothing but what has been on record for years and I'm positive the case will be canceled in a few days."

Freshman Adjustment Said To Be Inadequate by Prof.

A new approach to the perennial problem of freshman adjustment was recently tackled at Colby College with the help of Professor Theodore M. Greene of Yale University. Dr. Greene, a philosophy professor, deplored the "typical freshman indoctrination" to college in an address here last spring and suggested at that time a Freshman Convocation.

"We fail to use imagination to get inside the minds of the newly arrived freshmen," he charged. "We tend either to lecture at them or to shake their hands and pump them full of ice cream. There ought to be a time for the beginning of the kind of mature conversation which ... four years of college ought to mean."

Tripod Will Conduct Photo Quiz; Zacher Gives Answers

In conjunction with Zacher's Photography Shop on Asylum St., the Tripod will conduct a photography quiz during the remaining weeks of the year. Questions of any kind concerned with photography may be submitted to the Tripod through the campus mail (box 60), or dropped in the office in lower Woodward. Zacher's will supply the Tripod with the answers which will be published weekly.
