

Senate Disapproves Hike In Wesleyan Ticket Price

Sports Car Club Has Constitution Passed

Widespread disapproval over the increase in the price of student tickets for the Wesleyan football game was voiced in the Senate Monday night. The administration has announced that the tickets to this game will cost three dollars instead of the usual two. The disapproval was put into the form of a motion, which was passed by a large majority. President Zimmerman appointed a Senator to discuss the problem with Mr. Raymond Oosting, head of the Athletic Department.

Sports Car Club

The constitution of the Trinity Sports Car Club was presented to the Senate for approval. It was brought out that the purpose of the club is to promote and advance the interest among students in the sports car movement, skillful driving, and mechanical knowledge. The Constitution was accepted and approved.

Soph Hop Time Altered

The Senate also announced that the Sophomore Hop has been moved up one hour. The dance will now take place from 10 to 2, instead of from 9 to 1.

Interdormitory Council

Fifteen students were named to serve on an upperclass Interdormitory Council. They are James Kenefick, Joseph Kelly, Alden Knight, Martin Caine, John Hoey, Paul Cataldo, Hugh McCracken, E. B. Lorson, Martin Payne, Jason Elsas, Dodd Miles, Sam Ninness, Richard Pickering, Paul Kennedy, and M. Kisor.

Seven Seniors Earn Cadet Merit Awards

Seven seniors have been selected as Distinguished AFROTC Cadets it has been announced by Col. Jerry H. Ayers.

This award is given only to students who demonstrate leadership in recognized campus activities and who are in the upper 25% of their college class. Distinguished AFROTC graduates are afforded the opportunity to obtain a commission in the Regular Air Force.

The seven seniors who received the Distinguished AFROTC Cadet Badge and award from Dean Arthur H. Hughes at a recent review are Eero Raig, cadet major; Frank G. Foley, cadet captain; Sanford W. Scott, Jr., cadet first lieutenant; Dexter W. Smith, cadet first lieutenant; Laurence C. Smith, cadet first lieutenant; George R. McCanless, cadet first lieutenant; and Donald W. Anderson, cadet second lieutenant.

Emblem Books Shown In Library Exhibit

Thirty-nine emblem books from the College's extensive Watkinson Collection are now on exhibit at the campus library. The books date back as far as 1482, and up to the 19th century.

An emblem book, by definition, is "...a picture serving as a symbolical representation of an abstract quality, an action, state of things, or class of persons."

Prof. Donald B. Engley, librarian, clarified this somewhat in discussing the exhibit. He said it had been arranged to "explore a literary form which had much vitality in the 16th and 17th centuries, although little is heard of it except as a curiosity today.

Thirteen Seniors Honored in "Who's Who" Selections Here

Students Picked on Basis of Extra-Curricular Activities

Thirteen seniors were accepted this week into the ranks of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, it was announced by Dean Hughes today. All the seniors named for the honor are well-known on campus through their various extra-curricular activities and accomplishments, and for the important part they play in the life of the college community.

Those selected were Richard G. Abbott, Robert D. Davis, David W. Lee, Edward A. Montgomery, Richard F. Nissi, Bertram R. Schader, Kimball Shaw, Donald F. Shelly, Paul P. Terry, Peter C. Turner, Ronald A. Warren, Henry L. Williams, Hugh A. Zimmerman.

Abbott is a member of Theta Xi and Cadet Commander of the AFROTC unit on campus. He has served as president of his fraternity, and as a Junior Adviser. He is from Balboa, Panama in the Canal Zone.

Davis, a member of Delta Phi, is a member of the Medusa and a class officer.

Dave Lee, of Alpha Delta Phi, is a former member of the College Senate and assistant Public Relations Director of the college.

Co-captain of this year's football team and a member of the Medusa, Nissi is a member of Sigma Nu. Last spring he was elected President of the senior class.

Schader is a member of the newly-formed Phi Kappa Psi fraternity, and Treasurer of the Senate. Last year he served as a Junior Adviser.

Shaw, President of the Inter-Fraternity Council, is a letterman on the football team and a member of Alpha Chi Rho.

Vice-president of Theta Xi, Shelly is Station Manager of WRTC, the college radio station, and a member of the Medusa. He has also served as a Junior Adviser.

Terry is Editor-in-Chief of the Tripod, and a member of Theta Xi. A Junior Adviser last year, he has also been active on the staff of the Review.

First Frosh Tea Is Set for Thursday

The first 50 members of the frosh class, listed alphabetically, have been invited to a faculty tea to be held tomorrow afternoon. The response to the invitations sent out by the FEC to members of the faculty has indicated that nearly all instructors will be present.

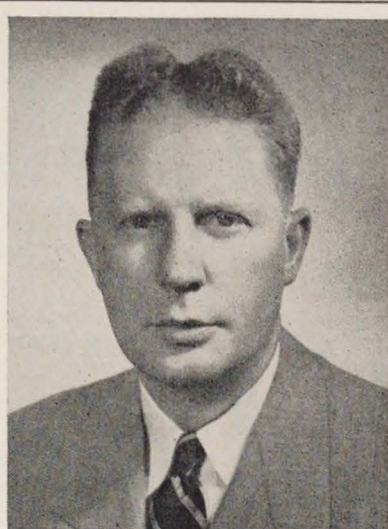

"The splendid cooperation of the professors in this matter should be an example to the members of the class of '59 to attend the first and following teas," says Bob Spitzmiller, secretary of the council. "These teas will afford the students the opportunity to meet not only the instructors they have this year, but also those whom they will have in the future," he continued.

The Hartford Hospital has invited members of the Freshman class to a dance to be held this Saturday night from 8-12 p.m. The invitation received by the Executive Council stated that there would be no charge and that refreshments would be served.

Council members are now selling tickets to the Soph Hop and to the Frosh Dance to be held on November 11 and 12, respectively. Tickets to the Hop will cost $5.00 per couple and to the Frosh Dance will cost $2.00 per couple.

Fraternities to Play Host to Convocation Speakers Friday

The ten fraternities on this campus will be hosts to the Convocation speakers next Friday, it was announced today by Hugh Zimmerman, President of the Senate. A special committee appointed by the Senate has arranged for each speaker to have lunch at one of the houses.

Judge Medina at TX

Judge Medina, one of the principal speakers of the Convocation, will visit Theta Xi and have luncheon there. G. Keith Funston, former president of the college and President of the New York Stock Exchange, will be the guest of Alpha Delta Phi. He will be accompanied by Robert Motherwell, Assistant Professor of Art at the Hunter College Graduate School. A well-known artist, Professor Motherwell now has paintings on display in the Metropolitan Art Museum in New York, and in Venice, Tel Aviv, and Rio de Janeiro.

Debators Top UConn To Stay Undefeated

In a debate Monday night with the University of Connecticut Frank Kury and Bob Back won again to remain undefeated so far. The topic of the debate was the Guaranteed Annual Wage the national intercollegiate debate subject for this school year.

The team of Kury and Back, the negative went against Robert Greenberg of the University of Connecticut, the affirmative team. The judge for this debate was Professor Lawrence Towle of the Trinity Economics Department.

The first affirmative of UConn in their affirmative speech declared that the employer had an obligation to support the worker in time of lay-offs. He also said that the GAW would stabilize the economy and the workers' sense of security. The second affirmative discussed the fact that the laborer needs to be educated for the good of a GAW. He said that the plan for this would be flexible and be taken care of by the individual companies with little cost to the economy and the worker or the industry.

The negative team of Trinity countered these arguments with the fact that because of the high rate of employment there was no need for the GAW. Also Back pointed out that the worker does not want the GAW as pointed out by independent polls. Back declared also that prices would rise because employers would shift the cost

Sir Percy Spender at PKP

Sir Percy Spender and his wife, Lady Spender will be the guests of Phi Kappa Psi. The famous diplomat is the Australian Ambassador to the United States.

Delta Psi will play host to Francis H. Taylor, Director of the Worcester Art Museum, and Architect Robert B. O'Connor. Delta Phi will entertain Richard Eberhart, well-known poet and lecturer of English at Princeton University, and Dr. Perrin H. Long, Chairman of the department of medicine at State University of New York College of Medicine.

Trilling at AXP

Lionel Trilling, author, critic, and professor of English at Columbia University will have lunch at Alpha Chi Rho. Psi Upsilon will be host to the Honorable Orie L. Phillips, Chief Judge of the 10th Federal Judicial Circuit, and Lewis G. Harriman, an alumnus of the college (class of '09) and President of the Manufacturers and Traders Trust Company of Buffalo.

Dr. E. Wilson Lyon, President of Pomona College in Claremont, California will be the guest of Sigma Nu, and Dr. John A. Krout, Vice-President and Provost of Columbia will have luncheon at Delta Kappa Epsilon. Pi Kappa Alpha will entertain Richard F. Goldman, composer and Department Chairman at the Julliard School of Music.

Sophomore Hop Moved Up One Hour; Russ Cole and Orchestra Featured

Highlighting one of the busiest weekends in the history of the college will be the Sophomore Hop with Russ Cole and his orchestra. The dance will be held next Friday at the Hartford Club from 10 until 2 A.M. The dance, which is formal and no-flower was originally scheduled from 9 until 1, but was changed so it would not conflict with Judge Medina's speech.

All fraternities will hold house parties on Saturday after the Wesleyan game.

Russ Cole and his orchestra, a well known college prom band, has been contracted for the Friday night dance. His danceable and smooth band has appeared at the University of Maine, Colby, Holy Cross, Brown and other leading New England schools. Cole's orchestra was also a special feature

Jesters' Play Given in Brief By Sophomore

(Editor's Note: This is a brief resume of the Jesters' fall production, "Much Ado About Nothing.")

By REM ROSE

A malevolent nobleman persuades a youthful lover, by a clever scheme, that his lady is untrue to him. When accused, she faints and is taken for dead. The cousin of the girl alone remains true to her young kinswoman. Hero, the young lady, is innocent and the accusation a mere slander. She was not really dead and finally she and Claudio are married, as they were to have been at first: Much Ado About Nothing.

However, the real substance of this play lies not in the plot from which it takes its name but in the relationship between Beatrice and Benedick. The merry war between these two seems, at first, to be merely an underplot, but it soon becomes inextricable from the whole structure. The two love stories must be considered together and Shakespeare, in doing so, ingeniously makes them support each other.

Beatrice is the great lady of the Renaissance in her youth, overflowing with spirit and energy, with all her wit inclined to aggressive raillery. She is headstrong in her behavior towards Benedick and is constantly twitting and teasing him. In their battles she outdoes him in fantasy and burlesque, and when her poor cousin is falsely accused it is Beatrice who indignantly, passionately and successfully takes up Hero's cause.

at the Westover Air Force Base Officers' Club for the past few seasons.

Prior to forming his own band, Cole was a member of such bands as Skitch Henderson, Tony Pastor and Charlie Spivak. His musical style reflects the experience and training which he acquired while associated with these musical organizations.

Along with Russ on the trombone, the band features four saxophones, four brass instruments, a rhythm section and Beverly Stone, the band's feature vocalist.

Students who have not purchased tickets for the dance may do so by contacting any member of the Soph Hop committee, their fraternity representative or their campus representative.

THE PARKING PROBLEM

In his latest report to the Trustees, Dr. Jacobs has pointed out several poignant differences in the student body as it was just after World War II and at the present time. He traced the development of the student enrollment, the increase in the cost of maintaining the college's physical plant, the need for adequate faculty housing, and many other things which are highly important to the college as a whole. However, there is one difference between post-war students and today's students which Dr. Jacobs, for one reason or another, failed to touch upon. This too is a poignant difference.

We are speaking specifically of the fact that today's student body is a mobile student body. There are well over nine-hundred students attending this college. Of these, approximately six-hundred and fifty operate automobiles on and around the campus. Add to this number two hundred more cars belonging to faculty and administration, and we have a total of approximately eight-hundred and fifty automobiles which must be parked somewhere on campus every day. The fact that there just are not that many legal parking spaces on the college grounds comprises a very real and pressing problem.

It is a problem about which we feel quite strongly. We believe that Dr. Jacobs should include a consideration of this problem in his plans for the development of the college. The fact that three-fourths of the students own and operate cars is, perhaps, a sociological phenomenon, especially in view of the high cost of a Trinity education. One might easily wonder how many students can afford to maintain an automobile and still cope with the high cost of living and equally high tuition. The truth is that most men are willing to go to great lengths in order to have the pleasure, the convenience, and the freedom which a car permits. Many students put in a great deal of part-time work for just this reason.

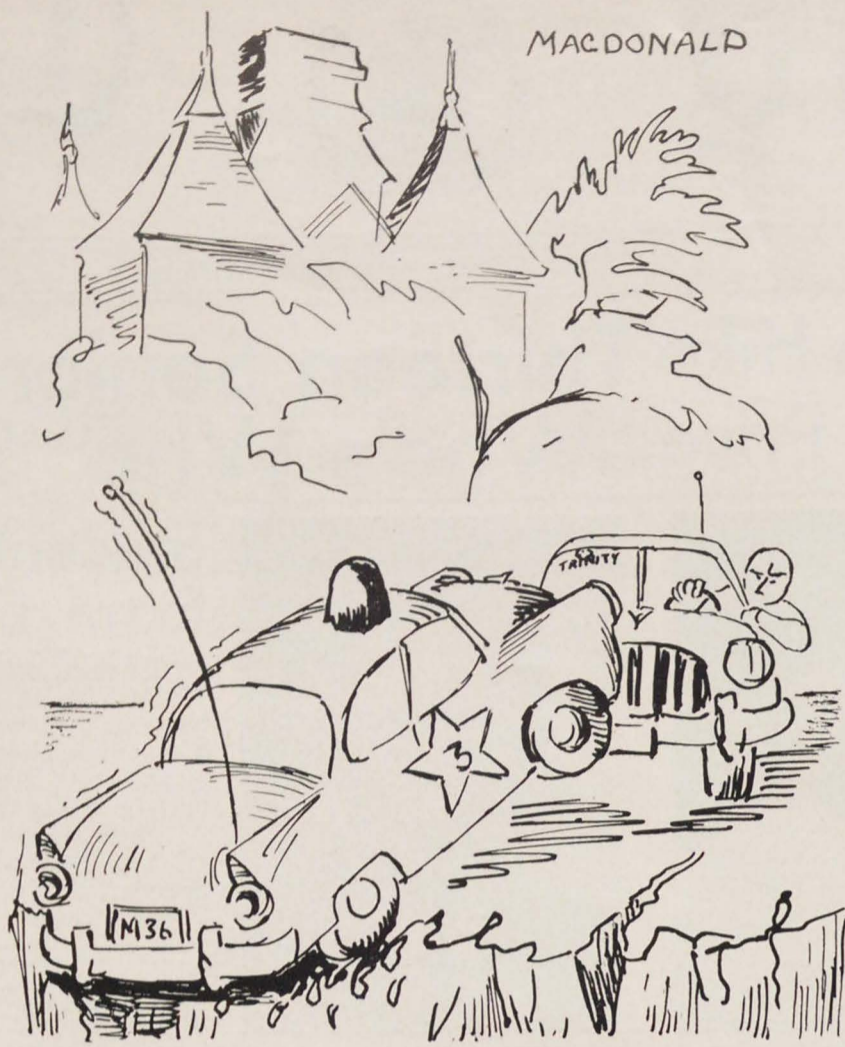

It is quite obvious, we feel, that the problem is not going to be ameliorated by simply ignoring it. In the past few weeks, the Hartford police have been towing away dozens of illegally parked student cars. The police blame the students, the students complain that they have nowhere else to park. Who is wrong? Who is right?

There are several good arguments which can be brought forth for either side of the issue, but it is our contention that a large majority of these arguments will accomplish nothing in the way of doing away with the problem. It is quite evident that the college is going to have to spend some money either now, when it is needed, or in the future, when it will be needed even more. The parking facilities on this campus must be improved and increased. We believe that this project should hold a high priority in the plans for the development of the college.

CONGRATULATIONS

The Tripod regrets that David Lee found it necessary to resign his Senatorial chair on Monday, October 24, due to "a lack of time and outside responsibilities." His record was outstanding.

Shortly after tendering his resignation, however, his "responsibility" materialized with the birth of a daughter, Elizabeth Wilson Lee, seven pounds four ounces. The editors express their heartiest congratulations.

ONE MAN'S POISON . . .

By BUNZIE

Next weekend is, in addition to other things, Convocation weekend. Four years ago nobody would have been deeply concerned about Convocation because there was little to look forward to. Now, however, things are different. There are going to be a number of prominent people present for the occasion, so it's up to us, the student body, to act as civilized as possible.

For some of us this will no doubt be strenuous. I remember several years ago the residents of Northam started a fad; they dropped beer cans on professors walking beneath their windows. I trust there will be none of this sort of thing over the weekend. Let's try to act like sober, industrious, and earnest college men. Especially sober.

Now all this might be easy if it were not for the Wesleyan game. As any upperclassman can tell you, the Wesleyan game is not the least bit conducive to civilized behavior. Here is where the Trin man, in full battle rig (date and flash), really lets himself go. The game is usually climaxed by a riot or demonstration. Let's not get too carried away this time. I dare say, Sir Percy Spender would not care to have an over-enthusiastic Trin man pass out at his feet.

Unfortunately, in spite of our efforts there will be several phases of campus life which our guests will see whether we want them to or not. One of these unpleasant aspects is the P.E. requirement, which includes G.I. veterans. Now I, frankly, can think of nothing more absurd than seeing a twenty-five-year-old ex-G.I. play volleyball to complete a physical education requirement. That's just foolishness. I'd like to see the local gods of Alumni Hall on an Army training course—now! That would be foolishness too.

Another matter that will probably shock visitors is the dress of the typical Trin man. The average student here is not shoe. He isn't even semi-shoe; he's just plain grubby. To many students, even the thought of a coat and tie signifies discomfort and sometimes horror. For the sake of our distinguished weekend guests, let's dress as decently as we can.

I think that just about sums up our obligations. As to the P.E. problem, let's just hope people stay away from the field house. And if you should spot anyone wearing a tan sack suit, carrying a briefcase, and bearing a hogan-dog expression, for goodness sake, lock him up in your closet. It's only for the weekend.

The Collegiate Scene

By BILL LEARNARD

UCONN . . . Already reverberating with the anti-profanity crusade, the Storrs community now finds itself plagued with added "unbecoming conduct" on the part of the students. Last week four men of the North Campus section were apprehended for violations. One man was charged with "vile and profane language while hanging out of an upperstory window." Others were charged with profanity while bombarding the campus with water bombs and beer bottles. It seems that Connecticut's "rabbit-warren" is in the midst of a revolt of the masses.

WILLIAMS . . . Responding to a midnight alarm from a Williamstown mother last week, forty-two Ephemen and fifty people of the community searched all night for seven teenage girls lost on Mount Greylock. Finally found, huddled in a crevice at about 7:30 A.M., the girls admitted hearing shouts from the searchers but were too petrified to answer. Brings back a memory of an old fable—"Where are you little girl?"

SIMMONS . . . The yearbook of this college has decided to do away with the traditional senior picture poses of the cap and gown type. Instead the girls will be clad in a more familiar sweater attire. Horray for progressive education!

HAMILTON . . . This Clinton, New York college has also been plagued with the vulgarity wave in the East. The traditional hanging of toilet seats on Frosh necks has been altered to include vulgar slogans and inscriptions. The college feels that the toilet seat caper is endangering the healthy atmosphere of interclass rivalries. It must be awkward to be faced with the other possible result of this practice—a shortage of toilet seats. A possible November headline may read "40 Hamilton Students drown."

CONNECTICUT . . . Evidently Trinity's cheerleaders are not alone in their cries of lack of student support at pre-game rallies. Our neighbors at UConn, although well-supported at the season's earlier rallies are worried about the rest of the home games because of the reverse in the Huskies winning ways. This problem is all too often found when a team is losing. It is fine for the students to cheer their team in victory, but it is a better man who can cheer his team for a good showing even though defeated.

COLGATE . . . The Redmen are up in arms about Holiday Magazine's recent article on Ivy superiority. In a recent editorial, the Colgate Maroon stated that if author Robinson had paid attention to his Ivy professors, who seldom take a dogmatic stand on any issue, he would certainly not express the superiority dogma so strongly. It still must feel good to be both superior and "shoe."

Fifteen Years of Progress Sketched in Jacobs' Report

Student Population Rises 556 to 906

In the Annual Report of the President, Dr. Jacobs compares Trinity of pre World War II days to the College of the present and highlights subsequent events of the interim to exemplify the prosperous fifteen year evolution story. The report is written, however, as if Trinity were glancing back at her past history, while knuckling down to an even more difficult program of growth and expansion in all fields.

Prior to the end of World War II, the largest number of undergraduate students was 556, at the opening of the Christmas term in 1940-1941. In 1954, at the opening of the Christmas term, there were 906 students. Thus, during the 1954-1955 year, the College was 63% larger than at any time before World War II.

Before the War the largest number of applications for admission to the freshman class was 300, imposing few demands in regard to selection. In recent years, the admissions office has processed about 900 applications per year.

"The geographical distribution of our student body has increased; during the past decade the College has truly become a national and an international institution. Immediately prior to World War II 42 per cent of our students came from Greater Hartford; in 1946 the percentage was 39. In recent years less than 25 per cent have been residents of the Hartford area. Twenty-one per cent of the 1959 Class will come from Greater Hartford, and 32 per cent from Connecticut. Before World War II our students resided in 20 states. In 1954-1955 they came from 25 states, the District of Columbia, as well as from 8 foreign countries and territories of the United States."

Prior to World War II, the largest number of full-time faculty was 62, in the academic year 1940-1941. In 1954 there were 85 full-time teachers.

Just before the war there were 130,000 volumes in the library; as of June 30, 1955, the number of volumes had increased to 231,883, exclusive of the 130,000 in the Watkinson Collection, making a grand total of 361,883, or 159% more than a decade ago.

The value of the College endowment prior to World War II, as of September, 1941, was $3,601,078. Ten years ago, June, 1945, it was $3,797,882. At the end of the present fiscal year, 1954-1955, the book value of our endowments (all investments) was $6,530,328. Its current market value is appreciably higher.

Before World War II the tuition was $400 per annum. In 1946-1947, this was increased to $450; and a year later to $500. In 1949-1950 it went up to $600; and again in 1953-1954 to $650. Effective with the Christmas term 1955-1956, the tuition has been advanced to $700 and a General Fee of $50, in lieu of existing fees, will be charged to each student. While our fees are 75 per cent higher than before World War II, they are low in comparison with those at many comparable institutions and they pay barely one half of what it costs the College to educate a student.

Dr. Jacobs then went on to praise the various departments of the administration which have expanded in recent years to meet the increasing size and stature of the College. He noted especially the Admissions Office, the Public Relations Office, the Alumni Secretary, and the Placement Office.

President Jacobs concluded the report of his second year at the College (which he considers his sophomore year) confident that the problems facing the College will be resolved successfully; and grateful for the splendid co-operation and assistance from his colleagues in the faculty and administration.

Faesy and Litton Win In Place Face Contest

PLACE THE FACE

Bob Faesy and Jack Litton each won a carton of Chesterfield Cigarettes by being the first to identify the "Place The Face" personality in last week's Tripod contest. They identified the picture as that of Miss Sarah Jacobs, daughter of Dr. Jacobs.

This week's personage is vastly more difficult. All entries must be submitted to the Tripod, Box 60, by 4 p.m. on Monday, November 7. They will be judged on the basis of neatness and originality. (Litton wrote his entry on a soiled napkin.) Two cartons of Chesterfields are in the offing for next week's two winners.

Makrianes Elected President of PsiU

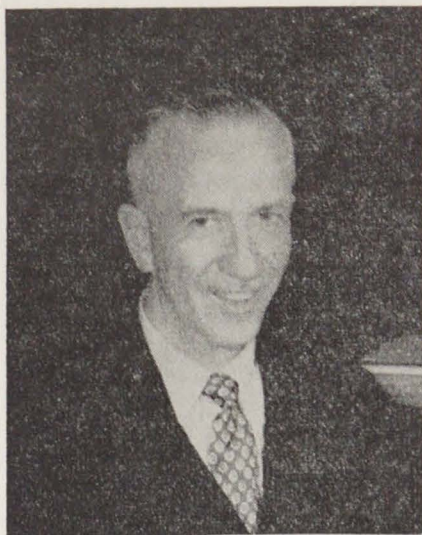

Peter Makrianes has been elected Psi Upsilon president. Other newly elected plenipotentiaries of the fraternity are Peter Turner, first vice-president and Phil French, second vice-president.

Makrianes, a senior, is a married veteran, government major and columnist for the Tripod. Turner, also a senior, is a Jester and English major, whereas French is a member of the Yacht Club, a history major and a senior.

Dean Hughes to Deliver Second Chapel Lecture

Dean Arthur H. Hughes

Christian in the Academic Community Is Theme of Series

The second in a series of Chapel Convocation addresses will be delivered by Dean Arthur Hughes tomorrow at 1 p.m. in the Chapel. Dean Hughes will discuss "The Academic Opportunities."

The lecture series was started last month by Rev. Allen Bray, the acting chaplain. The series, designed to have a faculty member discuss the relevance of his particular discipline to Christianity, will "do much to improve faculty-student relationships," the Chaplain said. He also added that "it will further provide an opportunity for the faculty to enter more fully into the life of the Chapel, and may serve to integrate more closely the spiritual and academic concerns of the College."

Dean Since 1941

Dean Hughes has been dean of the college since 1941, and on one occasion served as acting president. He joined the Trinity faculty in 1935, after receiving his bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees from Johns Hopkins University. He was named professor of modern languages in 1945.

The dean is a Commissioner of the Connecticut Geological and Natural History Survey, trustee of the Good Will Boys Club, Hartford, and a member of the Board of Advisors of Children's Services of Connecticut. He is also chairman of the committee on accreditation of the Connecticut Council on Higher Education, and was recently named an alternate to the Educational Conferences in Washington, D. C.

Delta Phi Acquires Additional Housing

For the past twenty years, Delta Phi has been considering the acquisition of further property. In May the IKA Corporation purchased 72 Vernon Street, an adjoining building. The new house was furnished and the previous tenants papered the interior. A garage and parking area were included in the purchase.

This move was deemed necessary in view of the crowded conditions of the old house and future expansion. Now Delta Phi can accommodate comfortably the increased membership with more room and better sleeping facilities.

Future plans include razing the new property and erecting in its place a wing connected to the old house, 70 Vernon Street.

This move would take care of the greater number of incoming members which grows heavier each year.

WRTC To Broadcast Amherst Grid Clash

WRTC, the campus radio station will broadcast the Trinity-Amherst football game this Saturday. The station will commence broadcasting at 12:30 p.m. with the usual Saturday program, "Your Weekend Review" with Steve Bowen and Tiny Stevenson and at 1:25 p.m. will switch to Pratt Field at Amherst where Don Shelly and John Toye will describe the game. After the game WRTC will continue with more music, news and the latest football scores across the country.

Members of the executive board of the radio station urge all students who have not yet filled out the opinion blank to do so at their earliest convenience. Only through students' opinions will the station know what type of music and programs the student body wishes to hear. All questionnaires should be sent to Box 250 at the college post office.

Young Democrats to Assist in Election

"Student help is just as vital in this election as it has always been in the past," said Councilman James H. Kinsella in a speech to the Young Democrats Club of the College in their meeting held last Monday. The emphasis of his speech was on the importance of student assistance in the coming election, and he seemed pleased to find members of the club willing to support him in his bid for re-election to the city council.

Membership Drive

Club president Jerry Dandrow announced that the membership drive of the club has been most successful. An even larger and more powerful group could aid the organization's work, he indicated.

In recent club elections Burt Shader was named to head the Executive Council, and John Bonsignore was chosen as delegate to the State Executive Board.

Steve Bradley has been chosen chairman of a committee to make arrangements for a co-sponsored dance with Hartford College, to be held this December.

In The Press Box

By JOHN MURRAY

Saturday proved a profitable day for Trinity athletics, with all four teams winning. The frosh soccer team vanquished Springfield, 3-1, while the frosh football team was mauling Monson, 38-0. The Varsity teams were not to be outdone, as the Booters took Worcester Tech, 2-0, and the gridders smashed the Coast Guard Academy, 27-0. Out of fourteen contests Trinity has engaged in so far this fall season, not one has been in a losing cause.

The football squads that played on a firm New London soil looked more like a bunch of scared pups than twenty-two rugged individuals. Perhaps some of this "freezing" on Trinity's part can be attributed to their failure to capitalize on their first play from scrimmage, a touchdown pass falling incomplete. For one half Trinity's eleven looked as if Slippery Rock Teachers would have given them a tough battle. One play in particular from this reporter's view made him wonder if this weren't high school ball.

Unsuccessful Field Goal

With about 35 to 40 seconds left in the first half, the Bantams had the ball on the Cadet's 16-yard line, 4th down and seven to go. An unsuccessful field goal attempt followed. This in itself did not irritate me, but the method used was most aggravating. Charlie Sticka, without any fear of contradiction, is probably the greatest all-around threat Trinity has ever seen. BUT the "Tank" is not the most adept of field goal kickers, and with only the half minute remaining, a substitution for the blockbuster could easily have been made. This failure could have resulted in a most tragic situation, but as most of you Monday morning quarterbacks have realized, Trinity did win the game, and by a supposedly convincing margin of 27-0. Readers, if you still are not convinced, take these words of advice that I feel are valid. "The Tank is not the Toe."

Jessemen Down Cadets, Sticka Star; Scores 3 TD's in 27 to Nothing Win

Charlie Runs 95 Yards in Last Minute; Bantams' Streak Now Extended To Thirteen; Cadets Offense Thwarted As Hilltopper Line Shows Power

By JOHN WOODWARD

Led by Co-Captain Charlie Sticka, the Bantams overwhelmed a dogged Coast Guard Eleven 27 to 0 in New London Saturday. The big boy from Natick, Mass., was outstanding as he drove over for two touchdowns and romped late in the game for a 95-yard pay dirt dash. The victory marked the thirteenth consecutive triumph for Dan Jesse, the string having been extended from late in the 1953 season.

Bantams Dominate

The Bantams were never in serious trouble and dominated the Cadets in nearly every department. Coast Guard was outrushed 262 to 43 on the ground, and lost out in passing, 142 to 114. Trinity also snared three of Russ Bishop's aerials for interceptions.

The scoring began in the second period when end Gerry Pauley recovered Carl Denney's fumble on the Coast Guard 44-yard line. Bobby Alexander, outstanding all afternoon, snapped a bullet pass to Sam Ninness for a first down on the 33. Soph Jack Thompson then romped to the 13. A pitch out from Alexander to Sticka, who tossed a pass to Thompson, gained 12 yards to the one. Sticka bulled over but the extra point attempt was missed.

Near the half, the Hilltoppers had a touchdown from Alexander to Pauley called back because of an off-sides penalty, and the score remained 6-0. In the third period Ray Aramini intercepted a pass on the Cadet 18. Sticka drove for 12 yards and George Kelleher, who earlier in the game had injured his shoulder, drove over for the tally. The kick was good and the Bantams led 13-0.

Cadet Bid Thwarted

Coast Guard soon threatened for the first and only time during the game. Bishop hit end Bruce Gathy with a long pass as the Cadets drove 70 yards. The Trinity line of Pauley, Channel, Shaw, Aramini, Campbell, Curran and Ninness made a valiant stand on the nine-yard line, finally taking possession on the 18.

Sticka Goes 95

Offensive holding called back an Alexander-Ninness aerial in the fourth period for a second nullified touchdown. But then Alexander took a pitch out and threw a 40 yard pass to Ninness who this time drove to the 3. The Bantams gained a yard on an interference call and Sticka went over, the extra point being good. With two minutes to go, Charlie took charge on his own five yard line, took the hand-off and broke off left guard into the clear for a spectacular 95 yard dash. This rounded up one of the "Big Stick's" best days with 185 yards on 16 carries.

Coast Guard's huge line, accentuated by Captain Bob Bristol, Bill Boyle and Ralph Paganetti, played a fine game. End Gathy and quarterback Bishop were also outstanding for the losers.

Swanson Paces Dathmen As Booters Win Twice

Coast Guard, Worc. Tech Are Defeated

The past week saw the Dathmen win two games in a rather easy fashion, defeating the Coast Guard Academy on Wednesday by a 4-0 margin, and Saturday squeaking by a surprisingly tough Worcester Tech squad, 2-0.

Swanson, Raynard Star

In his games Ken Swanson's valuable scoring foot led the way, booting home two in each contest. The remaining two scored against Coast Guard were smashed in by the hobbling Doug Raynard, who although handicapped by an injury to his left ankle, still kept up the scoring punch by using his right foot to the best advantage.

The Coast Guard game was actually no contest, as the Cadets seemed to have no knowledge of "heading" the ball, and had to rely solely on trapping it. The Bantams, however, were not up to par as in their previous game against Harvard, and looked sloppy at times, outstanding at other times. Trinity's defense was consistently strong, allowing only a few shots at the Hilltopper's goal. The end of the first period showed a scoreless tie, but early in the second stanza Raynard knocked one past the arms of the Cadet's goalie, giving Trinity a lead they were never to lose. Swanson also scored in the second period, and at the half the Dathmen had a 2-0 lead. A goal by Raynard in the third quarter and by Swanson in the last stanza added the finishing touches to a 4-0 victory.

Worcester Tough Foe

Saturday the Hilltoppers traveled to Worcester, Mass., to face an unexpectedly rough Worcester Tech eleven. Only through all around, heads-up ball did the Bantams defeat Worcester. Assists from Dodd Miles and Arky Vaughan and the powerful toe of Keny Swanson gave Roy Dath and his squad a well-deserved 2-0 triumph.

Perhaps the toughest game on Trinity's schedule takes place this afternoon against Yale. If the Bantams can get by the Elis today, an undefeated season looks promising.

Hilltoppers to Face Amherst; Streak Intact

By ED DALEY

Trinity's mighty Bantams, fresh from a rousing 27-0 victory over Coast Guard, will attempt to keep their glittering 13-game winning streak intact when they invade Amherst College this Saturday. Trinity, now 5-0, will be playing a comparatively weak Amherst team, now 3-3.

Lost 3 in a Row

Amherst, who has lost its last three games after opening 2-0, was belted soundly by Tufts this past Saturday, 46-26. Previous to this loss, Coast Guard and Wesleyan took the measure of the Lord Jeffs. A year ago, the Jesseemen handed Amherst a 21-12 loss, one week after Tufts had broken their 14 game win streak Touchdowns by Charlie Sticka, Dick Nissi, and Sam Ninness highlighted this win. This victory was the sixth Trinity win in the past seven seasons.

The Lord Jeffs this season are in the midst of a rebuilding program, as the starting line-up contains only two seniors: Jim Jenkins, a halfback, and center John Young. Trinity, meanwhile, will have six seniors playing their final Amherst game. These are crashing-end Gerry Pauley, bulwark guards Kim Shaw and Ed Campbell (Continued on page 6)

Springfield Downed By Frosh Booters

Elwell, Cerrito Star In Rough Encounter

Kenney, Hersch Star As Frosh Gridders Down Monson, 38-0

The Trinity monsoon hit Monson Academy with full force last Saturday afternoon. Once again the frosh gridders emerged victorious, this time by a score of 38-0.

This was the team's best showing in three outings. Not only the backfield, but also the line contributed to this onslaught. Pacing the offense was John Kenney, who scored twice, once on a thrilling 50 yard jaunt. Ray Kells scored from 25 yards out also kicking the extra point. Jake Edwards plunged over from the five and Paul Hersch went across on a quarterback sneak.

As in previous games, the first-string defense proved outstanding. After three games their opponents have managed to obtain only three first downs.

Last year the Amherst frosh whipped the Trinity first year men. This Saturday may reverse last year's defeat. The kickoff time for this game will be 2 p.m., on Trinity's field.

The freshman soccer team booted its way to their third victory against a rough Springfield squad last Saturday at Trinity. Although the little Bantams did not play as well as they did against Yale, they showed a good knowledge of soccer and their usual fine spirit. The 3-1 victory kept coach Tryon's outfit undefeated so far this season.

Runnette Cerrito, Elwell Score

Trinity's first score came in the opening period when Bill Runnette smashed home a goal. Trinity made it two in the second period when Charles Cerrito scored. In the fourth and final stanza, the little Bantams scored again. This time it was Bill Elwell who got the goal aided by a well executed assist by Runnette. This goal was probably the finest scored by Trinity this year and showed the great play which the freshmen are exhibiting this year.

The only counter for Springfield came seconds after Runnette had scored in the first period.

Oanh Views Aspects Of Guaranteed Wage

Dr. John Oanh of the Economics Department spoke before the Athenaeum Society on "Economic Aspects of the Guaranteed Annual Wage" last Friday.

The general slant of the talk was on the possible cost to the economy as well as to business of the GAW. At this point Dr. Oanh preferred to change the name of "Guaranteed Annual Wage" to an extension of unemployment insurance by private industry, and possibly by the federal government.

Small Firms

He stated that it was questionable whether or not the many small firms in the economy could stand the extra cost of the GAW. Further, that these small firms in times of recession or "readjustment" may be hampered by the existence of the GAW. That in effect, said Oanh, the small manufacturers might find any fixed cost like the GAW prohibitive to the continuance of their business.

Suggestion

Dr. Oanh suggested also that the government might better the unemployment laws now in existence and bring them up to today's standards. In fact, a better Unemployment insurance might take the place of the GAW.

of GAW to the public and then inflation would result. In the second negative speech, Kury pointed out that unions would take advantage of the GAW to gain control over companies. Unions would insist on regulating company financing of the GAW and would demand to look at the books if anything like a recession destroyed the plan.

The same evening the Trinity Varsity affirmative went against the negative team of the University of Connecticut here at Trinity. The judge for this debate was Professor Robert Stewart of Trinity College. For the affirmative team Dave Rohlfing and Ted Brown, represented Trinity. The negative team of UConn was composed of Richard Cronin and Caroline Hill.

Brown and Rohlfing claimed that the GAW was for the good of economy when workers were laid off. The GAW would provide compensation for layoffs and would help perpetuate a stable economy. The economic cycle was used to show that when lay-off occurs people could not buy goods and this affected the entire economy; however, with a GAW the flow of money into the economy would continue and we would not have depressions and recessions.

The negative team of UConn argued that the GAW was too expensive and that it would have to be nation-wide to be of any help. Since this was not possible because of small industries not being able to afford it, the GAW was of little use. Instead the negative declared that it would be more practical to alter the unemployment insurance plan so that the federal government would regulate it.

The decision of this debate went to the University of Connecticut.

Frosh Have Guests

The Freshman Class will play host to three speakers Friday afternoon in Hamlin Dining Hall. These are Dr. Daniel A. Poling, Editor of the Christian Herald, Dr. Kenneth D. Wells, President of the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, and Dr. A. Blair Knapp, President of Denison University, Granville, Ohio.

Bert Schader, chairman of the special Senate committee, has pointed out that it is the purpose of his group to see that the convocation speakers have the opportunity to meet personally the students of the college. Each speaker will be greeted by a senior, who will meet him upon his arrival in Hartford, conduct him to his hotel, and serve as a general aide throughout the convocation. Schader has announced that his committee will have a meeting today with the senior aides, at which time they will be instructed in their duties.

Credit to Taylor, Sticka

Special merit for last week's coveted triumph of the Cadets should be given to Charlie Sticka for his dramatic 95-yard jaunt in the final minutes and the play of reserve back Dewey Taylor.

By her side, Shakespeare has placed Benedick, a youth who is the reverse of a lover opposed to a maiden who is the reverse of tender. He abhors betrothal and marriage quite as vehemently as she, and is no less scornful of sentimentality. From the first they stand on a warlike footing. Shakespeare makes these two fall in love with each other—and for no better reason than that each believes the other to be madly in love with him or her.
