By Bill Detwiler

Trinity Hosts Model UN

On Friday, Saturday and Sunday, the Trinity College World Affairs Association will conduct a simulated U.N. Security Council which will be attended by both Trinity students and delegates from other schools.

The three-day conference, an annual tradition at Trinity, is designed to enable the participants to examine major global and regional problems in an intensified, non-classroom approach.

A unique setting challenges the individual to participate in crisis management while at the same time securing the interests of the nation he or she represents.

This type of program has been very successful in the past, and this year’s organizers hope that this one will be successful as well.

In addition to the regular sessions, the delegates will be able to hear from two speakers invited to the campus for the conference. The keynote address will be delivered Friday night at 7:30, by John Warren, a State Department attorney, and special advisor to Secretary of State George Shultz. This conference will be conducted in the Boyer Auditorium, and is open to all students and faculty.

On Saturday, Peter Fogg, a former Trinity student currently working with the United Nations Development Program (UNDP), will speak to the delegates in Hammet Hall at 9:30.

The planning for this year’s conference commenced in April of last year by Phil Wellman and Jerry Bunting, and represents a major achievement on the part of all members of the Association.

The three-day conference will take place on the campus of Father, and any students who are interested in this conference, or would like to work on next year’s, should stop by.

Field Hockey wins NIAC Title

For the second consecutive year, the Trinity women’s field hockey team has won the NIAC title. And this season, the team earned a little sweet revenge in the process.

The Lady Bants, who compiled an impressive 9-2 record this season, beat Middlebury and Tufts. This season’s championship game, played at Tufts, took the title and averaged over two season losses to the two teams.

Trinity came on strong over the stretch run of the season, winning games over Wesleyan, Williams, Westfield State, and Keene State to earn the second seed in the NIAC tourney, which was played at Tufts. The Bantams capped the top seed, while Bowdoin and Middlebury took the third and fourth positions respectively.

The game was played fairly loose though because of peer support. Dean Tolliver also stated that the problem may be in recruitment.

A rather humble assessment considering that the team went 9-2 on the season, coach Robin Sheldon said.

Trinity won 1-0 the first half and goalie Pam Ingersoll made the only goal stand up as Trinity hung on for the shutout.

"They played superbly," said Sheldon. "The team defended her well as she defended the team.

"We were scared enough at halftime because we only had one goal lead," added Brewer. "We played fairly loose though because we were just glad that we made the tournament anyway."

A rather humble assessment considering that the team went 9-2 on the season, coach Rob Skowronek said.

"We didn't even deserve to be in the tournament," noted an elated Dean Tolliver.

"We had lost to them earlier and we wanted to make sure we didn't let that happen again this time," said Brewer. Vogel put Trinity up 1-0 in the first half and goalie Pam Ingersoll made the only goal stand up as Trinity hung on for the shutout.

"They played superbly," said Sheldon. "The team defended her well as she defended the team.

"We were scared enough at halftime because we only had one goal lead," added Brewer. "We played fairly loose though because we were just glad that we made the tournament anyway."

A rather humble assessment considering that the team went 9-2 on the season, coach Rob Skowronek said.

"We didn't even deserve to be in the tournament," noted an elated Dean Tolliver.

"We had lost to them earlier and we wanted to make sure we didn't let that happen again this time," said Brewer. Vogel put Trinity up 1-0 in the first half and goalie Pam Ingersoll made the only goal stand up as Trinity hung on for the shutout.

"They played superbly," said Sheldon. "The team defended her well as she defended the team.

"We were scared enough at halftime because we only had one goal lead," added Brewer. "We played fairly loose though because we were just glad that we made the tournament anyway."

A rather humble assessment considering that the team went 9-2 on the season, coach Rob Skowronek said.

"We didn't even deserve to be in the tournament," noted an elated Dean Tolliver.

"We had lost to them earlier and we wanted to make sure we didn't let that happen again this time," said Brewer. Vogel put Trinity up 1-0 in the first half and goalie Pam Ingersoll made the only goal stand up as Trinity hung on for the shutout.

"They played superbly," said Sheldon. "The team defended her well as she defended the team.

"We were scared enough at halftime because we only had one goal lead," added Brewer. "We played fairly loose though because we were just glad that we made the tournament anyway."

A rather humble assessment considering that the team went 9-2 on the season, coach Rob Skowronek said.

"We didn't even deserve to be in the tournament," noted an elated Dean Tolliver.

"We had lost to them earlier and we wanted to make sure we didn't let that happen again this time," said Brewer. Vogel put Trinity up 1-0 in the first half and goalie Pam Ingersoll made the only goal stand up as Trinity hung on for the shutout.

"They played superbly," said Sheldon. "The team defended her well as she defended the team.

"We were scared enough at halftime because we only had one goal lead," added Brewer. "We played fairly loose though because we were just glad that we made the tournament anyway."

A rather humble assessment considering that the team went 9-2 on the season, coach Rob Skowronek said.

"We didn't even deserve to be in the tournament," noted an elated Dean Tolliver.

"We had lost to them earlier and we wanted to make sure we didn't let that happen again this time," said Brewer. Vogel put Trinity up 1-0 in the first half and goalie Pam Ingersoll made the only goal stand up as Trinity hung on for the shutout.
Announcements

Tuesday, October 29

The Women's Center, TCB, TCBWO, the English Department, and Minority Affairs will present Gloria Naylor, award winning author of The Women of Brewster Place, speaking on "Black Woman as Image and Image Maker in American Literature" in McCook Auditorium at 8:00 pm.

Approved Bartenders: There will be a training seminar on tending a hard bar on:
- October 29, at 3:00 pm in Mather Dining Hall
- October 30, at 3:00 pm in Mather Dining Hall
- October 31, at 2:00 pm in Mather Dining Hall
If you have already been approved as a bartender, and would like to work at parties where there is a hard bar, you must attend one of these sessions. Space is limited. Other seminars may be offered at a later date. Sign up outside the Dean of Students office soon!

Wednesday, October 30

Gloria Naylor will lead a writing workshop/discussion at 9:45 am in the Alumni Lounge.

Thursday, October 31

Dr. Peter Hepler of the Department of Botany of University of Massachusetts will deliver a Biology Seminar on "Calcium and Mitosis" Thursday at 4:00 pm in room 134, Life Sciences Center.

Children from the child care center will be showing off their costumes in the Cave between 10:30 and 11:30. This will be the children's first visit to Mather. Everyone is invited to come and watch the parade.

The Women's Center Lunch Series continues at 12:30 in the Women's Center with a special Halloween talk on "New Witches: English Midwives from the 16th to 18th Centuries," presented by Erika Laquer, Visiting Assistant Professor of History.

General Information

Anyone interested in becoming a Big Brother and volunteering 3-5 hours each week with a boy from a single-parent family can call the Big Brother Agency in New Britain at 223-9291.

Cinestudio

Tonight- Modern Times 7:30
Queen Kelly 9:15
Wed-Sat.- Silverado 7:30
The Big Chill 9:55
Sun-Tues.- Rope 7:30
The Man Who Knew Too Much 9:05

******************************************************************************
Preview: “Ruddygore” in Time for Halloween

by Ginny Thompson
Staff Writer

Ruddygore or the Witch’s Curse is perfectly timed for the upcoming light-hearted gothic mood of the Halloween season. According to Kevin Waterman who plays the role of the musical’s star, Mr. Roderick Random, the musical, Ruddygore is wickedly funny. The performance will be Nov. 1-3 and 8-10 at 8:15 p.m. in the Goodwin Theatre of the Austin Arts Center.

Some of the trivia surrounding Ruddygore is very interesting. When Ruddygore premiered in the 19th century, the musical was instantly successful. Part of its unspoken appeal stemmed from sexual connotations alluded to in the song “Ruddy.” Until recently, the musical has continued to appear with the Victorian spelling “Ruddigore.”

Even though Ruddygore is still not an overwhelmingly popular show, Director Gerald Mosbacher said that of the Gilbert and Sullivan musicals, “in many ways, it’s my favorite.” He said that the musical is funny and be particularly liked by audiences. Apparently, there was some disagreement between the Gilbert and Sullivan duo when it came to the music in Ruddygore.

Gilbert, who was the lyricist and preferred lighter melodies, complained that Sullivan’s music was too heavy for light opera. Many people feel it is fortunate that Gilbert did not persuade Sullivan to alter his course and radically change Ruddygore. They feel that the music and the dialogue are the best parts of all.

This pastry of melodrama is set in a small 19th century British farming village in Cornwall. This small village, named Redock, is ruled by an evil Baron named Sir Despard (Ace Scovroni), who is the younger brother of Rupert (Jmeno Miller). Because of a witch’s curse, the Baron of Ruddygore must commit a crime a day in order to live.

Meanwhile, a troop of professional bridesmaids, who are in search of employment, continue to explore Ruddygore’s (Glenwell) in marriage. Unknown to the other, May Rosebud and Robin Oakapple, a country peasant, desire each other. Arilding to the drama, Robin Oakapple, a laborer in the vine, Batfatin, the rightful baron of Ruddygore.

In Robin’s absence, his foster brother, Richard Dauntless (Michael Garver) returns from sea and offers, “to woo” Rose Maybud on Robin’s behalf. Despite his “forehead” appearance, he is in love with Rone himself!

As if this is not enough, Mad Margaret, who once loved Sir Despard, is lurking in the trees. She is out to stop Sir Despard’s latest crime — to carry off Rose Maybud.

Come and see how this predicament unfolds in a series of very funny events. This is a performance not to be missed and is open to the public.Tickets are $6.00 for general admission and $4.00 for students and senior citizens. For more information, call the Austin Arts Center box office at 527-8062.

The Amos Tuck School of Business Administration

Dartmouth College • Hanover, N.H.

Men and Women Seeking Graduate Education for Management are invited to discuss the

TUCK MBA

Tuesday, November 5

Marda Collett, Assistant Director of Admissions

Sign up with the Career Counseling Office

927-7117, ext. 228

Wayne Fitzpatrick

Henry Hamilton

NATO. We need your support and the truth is... you need ours.

The TRINITY TRIPOD. Page 3
Most Americans really think about the Vietnam War. Oh, occasionally we do such significant things as remember the latest anniversary or watch the latest episode of "The A-Team." But for some 2,500 American families the Vietnam war has not ended, and it remains with them everyday of the year. They are the families of the more than two thousand five hundred unaccounted for soldiers "left-behind" at the end of the war. While Hanoi denies any knowledge of American prisoners of war still living in Vietnam, Laos, or Kampuchea, the U.S. government has acquired more than 5,000 reports on the MIA/PW issue. Of that number, almost 700 are classified as "reliable first-hand sightings." Recently, a marine courtmartialed for certain activities while he was a P.O.W., revealed that he saw at least 70 American servicemen held against their will as late as 1979. And while Vietnam continues to deny any knowledge of missing Americans, it recently "discovered" and returned 26 bodies to the United States. President Reagan has made settlement of the POW/MIA issue a condition of the normalization of relations between this country and Vietnam. He has made resolution of the issue one "highest national priority," but he must be careful and avoid using dead Americans as bargaining chips when dealing with the dishonest and corrupt leadership in Hanoi. Meantime, we don't believe anyone can say beyond a doubt there are no Americans out there.

By the way

There is a mayoral election in Hartford next week and any registered student at Trinity can vote at the New Britain elections. The two major candidates are incumbent Democrat Thirman Milner and Republican challenger Eunice Groark. While the power of the mayor in the city of Hartford can be argued to be negligible, it is important that we exercise our constitutional right to pick that leader. The biggest division we can see between these two candidates is their stance on education. Mayor Milner plans to increase aid to Hartford's schools while challenger Groark wants to "reexamine how effectively and corrupt leadership in Hanoi. Meantime, we don't believe anyone can say beyond a doubt there are no Americans out there.

Happy 21st
Miss Mary
Your Friends from McDonaldland
The Royals Win the Series!! The Royals Win the Series!!

Tyler Barnes

KANSAS CITY - Dick Fenlon, sports writer for The Columbus Dispatch, wrote: "What's blue, lording and goes flat before your eye? The Kansas City Royals. And Missouri, too." Fine Dick, but my team is the World Champion and you never had and never will have a major league team.

No, the Royals are not the most exciting team in the major leagues. They are pretty diverse, but they also were eligible for Vietnam. Congressman Lane Evans of Illinois was a hero or a lunatic, you must have an idea what commitment means. They are hard to preach because they practiced. Patton was a hero or a lunatic, you between what one has done and what words there must be some link between what one has done and what words there must be some link.

On arriving home, I noticed that Kansas City was blue. The fountains were colored blue. Giant ribbons were wrapped around buildings. The spirit of the city and people was only that wasn't blue.

Chip Rhodes

Martin Nolan of the Boston Globe calls them arm chair Rambo. Congressman Larry Evans calls them elephant bases. As a group they are pretty diverse, but they do share two rather interesting characteristics, which mean little separately, but together they mean a great deal. They are hard to prove their patriotism, which mean lit-erally in the war. Before I tell you who these are, the speaker is nothing short of a tough cookie. He called all Vietnam and symbolism is just too perfect to pass up. He had 30 over 30s with me over the summer, was left in the cold. It really was unfair.

Game two was a thriller. The hometown kids took a 2-0 lead in the ninth inning courtesy of strong pitching from Charlie Leibrandt and timely hitting from George Brett and Frank White. With two outs, the party ended for the Royals. A bases clearing double by Terry Pender-turns around a 2-1 deficit into a 4-2 lead for the Cardinals. In my life I have attended over 100 games at Royal Stadium, and this was the most exciting one ever. I don't think anyone expected the team to return to Kansas City this time, and I was all wrong.

With sap hitting in Normie Smith, Dick White, Will Wilson, and Buddy "MVP" Blumen-berg, and picture perfect pitching from Bret Saberhuagen and Danny Jackson, the Cardinals and their supporters had to postpone their celebration. At this point, I was supposed to return to Hartford, but just I couldn't. By pulling a lot of strings, I was able to get into game 6, but by the eight inning, I was wishing I hadn't stayed. The Cardinals had scored in the eighth, and it looked like another heartbreaking loss for Charlie Liebrandt and the Royals. Once again, I grew up on team, but once again they came through. Danf Johnson's bases loaded single won the game for the Royals and got the city on fire. I went downtown (a popular place in Kans-as City), and this normally sedate city was going crazy. hornes blared all night and they had to rope off three squares miles of downtown. The celebration spilled into the streets. Supergay I have never even seen before came up and gave me a six pack of beer, "courtesy of the Royals," he said. It was, without a doubt, one of the most exciting nights of my life. I hated to come back to Hartford, but I had to. I wanted to be home to see the city's reaction: win or lose in game seven. When my flight left at 2 p.m. on Sunday, I was still refusing to talk about anything but their team. I became a little homesick even before I stepped on the plane.

As it was, game seven was all most anticlimactic. I was excited about my team being champions, but I was still worn out from celebrating after game six. Still, I could almost hear the horns blaring all night. I could almost see the fireworks and jubilation, which I had felt the night before.

Don't be upset if you're from St. Louis. Not only do I see this as a victory for us who support the Royals, but also as a victory for Missouri. Ten years the glory was on our state and died off. One of the most exciting World Series in many years. Sorry Dick Fenlon, maybe someday you will see that there is life west of Ohio.

Baseball Fever...Catch it...I did, and I certainly don't regret it.

Lisa Birnbach

(author of the Preppy Handbook)

THE HALLOWEEN PARTY

DKE 98 Vernon St.
Friday, October 31, 1982
Costume & Positive ID Required

THE TRINITY TRIPPOD, Page 5
AIDS Epidemic Sweeps Nation

by Mary Clowson
World Outlook Staff

AIDS pandemic is sweeping this nation. Parents are keeping their children indoors where young AIDS victims attend classes, and at fancy New York dinner parties, a partner punctuation has become, "Who has prepared your food?" These fears are very easy to understand, but they must be allayed. Simultaneously, however, we must be aware of the situation and become more prudent.

The AIDS virus, which first appeared in 1979 when it attacked a handful of people, primarily in the homosexual community, is now reaching epidemic proportions. Since its first appearance, 15,000 people in the United States have been diagnosed with the disease and 6,820 have died, which is only 14% less than half, have died. In addition, 60,000 to 120,000 people have AIDS-related illnesses, while 4% of the virus. These numbers are doubling every nine months. By the end of this year, there will be 15,000 cases of AIDS in the United States. The most frightening aspect of the disease, however, is that as many as 400,000 people in New York alone are living with the disease and they do not even know it. Dr. Dean Eichenberg, director of the communicable disease control of the San Francisco Department of Health, says, "We tell anyone who has had a homosexual male experience within the past seven years to consider himself infected with the AIDS virus. And we are not fooling!"

It is common knowledge that tax loopholes, found by corporations and the rich, are the largest cause of the deficit. For example, in fiscal 1984 these subsidies cost the nation $22 billion and that figure is expected to reach $40 billion in fiscal 1986. And according to the Congressional Budget Office, the wealthiest 20 percent of the population reaped 42.9 percent of the benefits of these tax subsides in fiscal 1985. And according to the Treasury Department, the wealthiest 5% tithe of the annual earnings to the government.

For example, the wealthiest 20 percent of the population reaped 42.9 percent of the benefits of these tax subsides in fiscal 1985. The wealthiest 5% tithe of the annual earnings to the government.

For example, the wealthiest 20 percent of the population reaped 42.9 percent of the benefits of these tax subsides in fiscal 1985. The wealthiest 5% tithe of the annual earnings to the government.

For example, the wealthiest 20 percent of the population reaped 42.9 percent of the benefits of these tax subsides in fiscal 1985. The wealthiest 5% tithe of the annual earnings to the government.

For example, the wealthiest 20 percent of the population reaped 42.9 percent of the benefits of these tax subsides in fiscal 1985. The wealthiest 5% tithe of the annual earnings to the government.

For example, the wealthiest 20 percent of the population reaped 42.9 percent of the benefits of these tax subsides in fiscal 1985. The wealthiest 5% tithe of the annual earnings to the government.
ORE SPORTS

Men's Soccer Retaliates Against AIC With A Win

by Marc Exterman
Sport Editor

After literally fighting their way to the .500 mark, the Bantams' varsity soccer team lost two low-scoring games over Open Period, dropping their record to 4-6. If scoring games over Open Period, a feat the soccer team has not accomplished this season, then it must win its final two games of the season, against Wesleyan and Amherst respectively.

The Bants followed up a 2-0 win over Tufts by edging a physical A.I.C. squad, 2-1, two weeks ago in a game that featured a bench-clearing brawl at the Amherst respectively.

Saturday two, the Bants put their 4-4 record on the line in a home contest with Conn College. Despite outplaying the visitors, Trin's offense was unable to capitalize on its scoring chances and lost the game 1-0 as Conn College's outstanding freshman scorer Jeff Getts bloomed one over of the head of Trin sweeperback Chris Downs and Bant goaltender Bill Eastburn with only 3:38 left in the game.

It was a particularly tough loss, because we played pretty well and really had the better of the play. All the stats pointed to our favor; we had more shots and more corners. But soccer is a game where nothing really counts because a team can play well and still not win," noted Shults.

Trinity was dealt its third shutout of the season following Saturday's solid performance. Clark scored the game-winner just 23 seconds into play on a shot that bounced off the crossbar before bounding behind Eastburn. The home team led it with another goal late in the second half.

"We were outmatched, but we hung in there and played fairly well considering the competition. If we can continue to play the way we have been playing, we've got a good chance of winning our final two games," Trinity takes on Wesleyan tomorrow afternoon at home. Game time is 2:30pm. Should the Bants win that one, they'll travel to Amherst on November 9th for a 10:30am game with a chance to finish the season at .500.

Women's Field Hockey Rolls Toward The NIACs

by Elizabeth Sokol
Senior Staff Writer

They knew what they had to do to receive a berth in the NIAC field by receiving record in the win over Coast Guard. Fronzaglia McNamara.

Trinity rolled over rival Wesleyan on October 17th. The Bants were up 3-0 at the half with scores from Diane Christie, Ellie Boelhouwer, and Ellie Pierce. The second half was almost a repeat of the first, but with 11 minutes left Wesleyan scored for the second time. Brewster broke the tie. Three minutes later another Brewster goal from the acreage, with the goalie put Trin up 2-0. After the fall Trin scored with six minutes left and the final score stood 2-1.

Keene State dropped to 11-3 with its sixth loss to Keene. Keene State is still up in the second for the Bantam scores.

Field Hockey — 2, Keene St. — 1

Trinity has the chance to make up the early season 2-3 loss to the Bears.

Now Trinity had just about clinched a place in the tournament. But what need? A 4-1 victory against Westfield State boosted their record to 9-3. Bigger assisted on the first-half First-place goal and on the winning goal by Brewster. Last Monday the rankings were finished. The Bears were to face Keene, Trinity, and ranked fifth in Division III, a much bigger, faster, and taller school. Clark is new 9-3-2 and ranked 12th in Division III, having beaten Williams and Conn College, both of which have defeated Trinity this year.

"They look more like a football team than a soccer team," said Shults after the 2-0 loss. "I mean, they have guys out there who make Chris Downs look small." Downs stands 6'3", so that's no small feat.

Field Hockey — 2, Keene St. — 1

Field Hockey — 6, Wesleyan — 1

Field Hockey — 2, Williams — 0

Field Hockey — 2, Keene St. — 1

Field Hockey — 2, Keene St. — 1

Water Polo — 9, Rutgers Bulldogs — 1

Tennis — 9, Wesleyan — 0

Rowing Spectacle

Brewster led Bantam scoring with 13 goals. Bigger had 8 and Fisher had 5. In the tournament, the Bants will face Bowdoin. This has the chance to make up the early season 2-3 loss to the Bears.

Rowing Spectacle

hoping for a better performance, but under the circumstances, the poor finish is not surprising. But the Charles is more spectacle than athletic event for most people. The Trinity area, positioned near the finish line, is a wonderful spot to watch the race from and a suitable place to drop the cooler.
the Bants managed to run a relatively safe race this weekend with a scoring drive of their own, most of the yearlong coming on the ground. Wrobel ripped the ball away from Hamilton's Sam Wrobel, and the Bantams scored the only points of the quarter on a nine-yard Tight-End-Ball Nagy touchdown pass. That was the only play set up by an interception on the day by infielder J. Michael Ferrara, one of five thrown by Nagy since the beginning of the year. Both Nagy's last pass would have been intercepted.

"We were in man coverage," explained Coach DeLaCruz. "And they covered their receivers. Greg Risco went in with his man, and I didn't think Nagy's pass was going to be stopped in front.

The Bants ran two more touchdowns. The first came on an 80-yard pass to Rich Nagy touchdown pass. That score was set up by an interception by Eric Strotbeck, and Mike Doetsch strike. The Cadets' defense belonged to Trinity; it has outscored its opponents by an incredible 66-3 margin. That domination continued Saturday, as the Bants scored the only points of the quarter on a nine-yard Tight-End-Ball Nagy touchdown pass. That was the only play set up by an interception on the day by infielder J. Michael Ferrara, one of five thrown by Nagy since the beginning of the year. Both Nagy's last pass would have been intercepted.

"We were in man coverage," explained Coach DeLaCruz. "And they covered their receivers. Greg Risco went in with his man, and I didn't think Nagy's pass was going to be stopped in front.

The Bants ran two more touchdowns. The first came on an 80-yard pass to Rich Nagy touchdown pass. That score was set up by an interception by Eric Strotbeck, and Mike Doetsch strike. The Cadets' defense belonged to Trinity; it has outscored its opponents by an incredible 66-3 margin. That domination continued Saturday, as the Bants scored the only points of the quarter on a nine-yard Tight-End-Ball Nagy touchdown pass. That was the only play set up by an interception on the day by infielder J. Michael Ferrara, one of five thrown by Nagy since the beginning of the year. Both Nagy's last pass would have been intercepted.

"We were in man coverage," explained Coach DeLaCruz. "And they covered their receivers. Greg Risco went in with his man, and I didn't think Nagy's pass was going to be stopped in front.