Politicians Bomb 'Liberal Programs'

By John Biever

Data from the Democratic National Committee indicate that there has been an increase in the number of Democratic members of Congress who are calling for the abolition of certain liberal programs.

A spokesman for the committee said, "We have received requests from members of Congress who are no longer comfortable with the way certain programs are being administered. They feel that these programs are not achieving the goals that were intended."

The spokesman added that the committee is working closely with these members to develop alternative proposals that will better serve the needs of the nation.

Chinese Lit Program Set

A specialty on China will be offered at this university, starting in the second open session program of the summer session. The purpose of the program, as stated by the chairman of the department, is to "provide a comprehensive understanding of China's history, culture, and society."

The program will be taught by faculty members who have expertise in various aspects of Chinese studies, including history, politics, economics, and culture. It will offer courses on topics such as "The Rise of Imperial China," "The Ming and Qing Dynasties," and "Contemporary China." The program will be open to undergraduates, alumni, faculty and others for the duration of the session.

All sessions are limited in size to ensure a high-quality learning experience. The program will involve intensive study and interactive discussions, allowing participants to gain a deeper understanding of China and its role in the world.

The program will begin at 9:00 a.m. and continue until 5:00 p.m., with sessions held Monday through Friday. Attendees will have the opportunity to engage with faculty members and other participants, fostering a collaborative learning environment.

International Scholarships

The program will include scholarships for international students, determined on a competitive basis. Participants will be selected based on their academic achievements and their potential to contribute to the program.

Wrap Talent In Fatigues

The director of the college's Catlin-Graham-Brownell funded program announced that the campus will begin accepting applications for the program, which is designed to attract and support talented students in need of financial assistance.

On Mychelean Civilization

The 42-year-old professor of ancient civilization at the University of Chicago was the recipient of the Mellon Foundation's most recent award for his studies of the Mychelean and its relation to Graeco-Roman times. He is now at work on a new volume which will be the last of his series on the subject. Prof. David is also at work on a new book,
"The Story of the Israelites" which will be published next year.

TRINITY FRESHMEN EXPLODE MIT, 85-54;
Leghorn Pacos 63-60 Sinking Of 16

Saturday night's football game at Harvard Stadium was the most exciting ever played by the two teams. The Trinity freshmen took the lead early in the game and never let their opponents down. The final score was 85-54 in favor of the freshmen. The Leghorn Pacos were completely outmatched by the freshmen and only managed to score 54 in the game. The game was a true test of the freshmen's skills and their ability to handle pressure.
Norman Halted, Tansill Injured In MIT Defeat; Bantams Drub Coasties For Win In opener, 61-66.

In yet another typically small but triumphant victory Sunday, Norman returned to the lineup for the first time in his storied career.

The game, which was supposed to be— all the time. He tallied 11 points in the opening minutes, driving, in fact, seemed to show the results of watching me drive. The 1960 fail of the season, 63-59.
