Dear Editor:

I believe that the national organization for SANE is a necessary action. It is important for our country to recognize the dangers of nuclear war and to work towards a peaceful solution.

New Haven, Sept. 25—Yale's second-best team, the Bantams, will meet their arch-rivals, the Yale Elis, at 2 p.m. today in a keying game to be held in the Stadium.

The Elis, led by Captain Don Taylor, and a team of lesser eminent players, will find themselves in a difficult sani-tion game. The Bantams have not been tested at all this season, and Yale has a strong front line.

Unfortunately, the Bantams will be without their star, Captain John Szumczyk, who is expected to be out for at least three weeks with a broken ankle.

McNulty mentioned as a few topics of concern the return of officer requirements and the communication, especially in student organizations.

Another announcement, McNulty said, would be the transfer of writing an evaluation survey of various aspects of college life.

The survey, which will be conducted by "Campus Critic Stevenson, will be concerned with understanding the Senate's needs and objectives. It is expected that the outcome of the survey will help in the estabishment of the Board of Trust-

By ANDY MILLER

Last year, the Trinity football team took this game with a 20-0 victory. This year, Williams has a shot at redemption. The two teams face each other on Saturday, Oct. 15, at 1 p.m. at Alumni Stadium.

Times Have Changed

Sideline Splinters by steve perreault

There was a time when Twisted sports editors used their columns to decry the lack of activity among college football fans. Two years ago, the Bantams football squad ranked among the top small colleges in the East, and the student body showed up in force to support them. In those days, "What does it take to be recognized? Do we have to show up in numbers to be noticed by the sports editors of the New York Times newspaper to have them write an article on Trinity?"

Since Christmas, Trinity has been in the headlines for all the wrong reasons. The Bantams have lost two straight games, and the student body has turned its back on football. But the Bantams are not down and out. They have a shot at redemption in their next game against Amherst. The Bantams need to win this game to get back on the right track.

31 Report For Soccer

Filling the void left by the departure of Mike Anderson, Trinity's new coach, Frank Gold, and James Havens, will take the helm. Gold and Havens are well-versed in the ways of college football and are ready to take the Bantams to the next level. The Bantams have struggled in recent years, but with Gold and Havens leading the way, they have a chance to make a run at the league championship.
