IFC Passes Fraternity Autonomy Resolution; Senate Bids Trustees Act On Discrimination

House Leaders Queried

By JACOB CHATFIELD

Lambert House at 9 p.m. Monday, with a motion from the Prez Club to pass a resolution of support, was addressed by Senator Ronald Spencer of the Inter-Fraternity Council. The resolution, he said, would "add a little thing-like respect, a little thing-like honor, a little thing-like feeling, a little thing-like slavery, a little thing-like discipline, a little thing-like courage, a little thing-like togetherness, and a little thing-like excitement to this IFC Council that is so vital to the success of our fraternity system in America." He added, "I think the Senate is perfectly entitled to try to look at this thing in an overall view, in a general way, in a broad sense." The motion was followed by an hour and a half discussion of the subject of fraternity autonomy. The unanimous approved proposal defines local autonomy as the right of fraternities and asks the Board of Trustees to support the resolution. The motion was defeated.

Motion Defeated

The Council first approved Peter Williams' motion of the previous week for an audit of the IFC. This motion was defeated by a vote of 20-19. Williams had moved that the Senate study the policy of discrimination against minorities. A tie vote was followed by a one-hour and a half discussion of the motion. The resolution was passed.

By JOHN WITHERINGTON

Englishwoman from BBC On Campus Compares U. S. and British Education

By ROY SPENCER

Despite the many fears and suspicions of the British about Americans in general and the United States in particular, there is a decided cultural and historical similarity between the two nations. Miss Virginia Kent, an Englishwoman who is on a 10-month stay at Trinity, is a good example of this. She is the daughter of a London attorney and was educated at the City of London School and at Trinity College, where she studied English literature and history. Miss Kent is a member of the English Student Association, which she founded while at Trinity. She is also involved in the International Student Club, where she helps to organize events and activities for foreign students. Miss Kent has been impressed by the American educational system, noting that it is more diverse and flexible than the British system. She has also been struck by the American character, which she describes as "more free and open." Miss Kent plans to return to London after her stay at Trinity and to continue her studies at another American university. She is currently researching the American educational system and plans to write a book about her experiences.

C'mon Baby, LET'S... Page 3
Local Autonomy
The following offering elaborates on the autonomy offered by President Albert C. Award in recognizing that "the liberty of speech and the right of the dissenter to express himself are cherished in the life of the University." We believe...
...Do The Twist!

ENRAPY BY TWIST

Dancing was the main feature of the Campus Chest drive's annual twist quitting $25 to the Campus Chest. Emoting to the synco pacating rhythms of The Fallouts, Phi Psi's Bill Koretz swung away with top honors. Psi U's Morgan's disapproval. Morgan's motion was then passed by a 51 to 1 vote.

D Code Speaker Describes Local Housing Problems

CODE: Speaking before the Student Senate, CODE President Mr. Schaefer pointed out that the maximum amount of housing for students was $20 per month, a figure which was considerably below the average cost of living in the area. He also noted that the college administration was considering the establishment of a housing authority to deal with the housing shortage.

Senate Bids

(Continued From Page 1)

Table for the Senate to do it is a higher body and restricts them to the Senate. The Senate should be an advisory body, and a legislative body, and not a judicial body. It is a club of the Senate, and as long as they are allowed to be so-called, the college faculty a double society and

Check your opinions against L'M's Campus Opinion Poll '15

How important is it for the U.S. to be the first to reach the moon?

Orbital

Supported but not excited

Uninterested

Would you mind dating a girl who's taller than you?

No

Yes

Do girls think it's wrong to always smoke their dates' cigarettes?

No

Yes

Expect more, get more, from L'M

The Triton Press

The Society of Beer Lovers inns the Schaefer label—because Schaefer is the one beer to have when you've having more than one.

Bill Keery and Joe McConville get their Schaefer beers at our 430 yard medley relay, and they won't be let down by 200 yard free during the 250 yard free style event. Joe McConville and Bill Keery entered the 200 yard and 250 yard free style events. Joe McConville and Bill Keery entered the 200 yard and 250 yard free style events. Joe McConville and Bill Keery entered the 200 yard and 250 yard free style events.

L'ECONOMIST

A Competitive Advantage at Other Colleges

The University of California, Berkeley, has recently defeated 6 to 1 Massachusetts in a swim meet. The University of California, Berkeley, has recently defeated 6 to 1 Massachusetts in a swim meet. The University of California, Berkeley, has recently defeated 6 to 1 Massachusetts in a swim meet.
Sideline Splinters

A couple of weeks ago, in this column, I suggested that readers should look forward to the return of Bill McGaw to the starting lineup. I was right.

Trinity fared as well as one could expect against a tough opponent, and McGaw, who had been sitting out for a few weeks with a knee injury, brought a spark of energy and tenacity to the court.

BY ANNY MILLER

McGaw was a key player in the Bantams' victory over Clark. With his quick thinking and lightning-fast moves, he disrupted the Clark defense and set up scoring opportunities for his teammates. McGaw's defensive skills were on full display as he guarded the Clark forward, denying him a shot on a key possession late in the game.

NORMAN CANNS 39 In Loss

Norman's 39-point performance was the highlight of the Bantam victory over Clark. The senior guard showed great poise and confidence throughout the game, scoring from behind the arc and the line, and even adding a few rebounds. His performance was especially impressive considering the tough defense Clark put up.

Varsity Quintet Boosts Record To 5-1

Frosh Bound With Win Over Clark

Clark, after a strong start, faltered in the second half, allowing the Bantams to take control. Norman's 39 points and Williams' 17 points were too much for Clark to overcome, as the Bantams won by a score of 84-66.

Epee Leads Fencers To Two Wins; C. W. Post, Pace Fall Before Trin

The Trinity fencing squad continued their impressive season with victories over C. W. Post and Pace. Ian Yeaton and Kirby Talley contributed 12 points each to the team's success.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES

SALUTE: LOREN GERGENS

Three years ago he was an economics major in college. Today he is the president of a leading Bell System subsidiary and serves on the Board of Directors of many Bell Telephone companies across the country. A native of Nebraska, Loren has worked hard in the telecommunications industry and has been honored for his contributions.

Lucky Strike presents:

“WINTER SPORTS”

“Inclement weather can’t keep us from the slopes. We’re still competitive and close to victory.”

“Your next boss could be a girl!”

Two new ads from Lucky Strike feature a variety of snow sports, including skiing, snowboarding, and snowboarding.

Lucky Strike advertisements promote the idea that Lucky Strike cigarettes are suitable for any age. They target young people and encourage them to try the product. The ads emphasize the social aspect of smoking, portraying it as a fun and fashionable activity.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES

“Better work on his stomach—he’s got a head like a rock.”

These beach bums better think twice before trying to outsmart Lucky Strike. The company’s advertising campaign highlights its commitment to quality and reliability, emphasizing the “better” brand as a choice for skilled athletes and people who demand the best.

Lucky Strike ad

“Now that’s what I call a power play.”

With the introduction of Lucky Strike’s new “WINTER SPORTS” campaign, the company aims to establish itself as a leading brand in the competitive cigarette market. The ads feature athletes from various sports, including skiing, snowboarding, and snowboarding, as they compete against the elements and each other.

Lucky Strike ad

Three new Lucky Strike advertisements are being released in November to promote the brand’s image as a leading choice for active and adventurous individuals. The ads showcase athletes engaging in snow sports, with Lucky Strike cigarettes as their constant companion.

Lucky Strike ad

The Lucky Strike campaign for winter sports is designed to appeal to younger consumers who are interested in the latest trends and enjoy extreme sports. The ads feature images of athletes in action, highlighting the brand’s association with boldness and excitement.

Lucky Strike ad