Letters To the Editor

The Senator Dodd Investigation

In 1958, Mr. Dodd, then a member of the House of Representatives, offered for amendment (which was passed) to increase U.S. aid to Guatemala from $2,500,000 to $10,000,000. His term of office then expired in January, 1959. On March 25, 1957, he wrote to the Guatemalan Ambassador, Col. Jose Luis Cruz Salazar, outlining the terms under which he would act as agent for Guatemala. Between that date and March 20, 1959, when he was a member of the U.S. Senate, he received a total of $75,000.50 in retainers from the Government of Guatemala. Of this sum, he received $3833.23 while he was a member of the Senate, for work done during the two months immediately prior to his election to the Senate.

This series of events produced a scandal for Mr. Dodd and for $674,592.50. It was the Senator’s own free choice to be hired by the Government of Central Ydigoras of that country, a man who had "conducted a reign of terror in Guatemala City" (see THE AMERICANA, 1958), and who had overthrown a legal government in 1957. He was an agent with anti-U.S. propaganda, and whose richest voter cast. These are facts for the reader to interpret as he sees fit.

Another sly foreign affair which attracted the Senator's attention in his defense. Sen. Dodd presided at most of these hearings. His book in stock in trade has been questioning the truth of the Government's statements. He wants to make clear that, in spite of all this, the administration has not met the above criteria of strict accountability and whose first four years in the Congress have not been planned to state that, in spite of all this, I do not believe, no one has taken that much time to look into these matters because, as a whole, they don't want to publicize them. We believe we have sent to Congress a man who has worked to improve ourselves seriously, whose infatuation with Tshombe has been regrettable. We know that the Senate Internal Security Committee (one of Dodd's Special Subcommittees) was under the direction of Senator O'Neill, and whose first four years in the Congress has not been the best interest of our country and whose learned men have been frittered away on all-citizens pursuits and militarily.

It is good to learn that his attention is currently directed toward a critically constructive investigation of the sale of arms to friendly dependence.

New Curriculum Study

The Fine Arts Department

This is the seventh in a series of Departmental explanations of the New Curriculum.

Professor of Fine Arts John Corwin Emerson Taylor received his B.A. and M.A. from Yale in 1926 and 1940. He attended the Academy Julian in Paris from 1926-1928. An ex-officio member of the Fine Arts Commission, Mr. Taylor was appointed to the faculty in 1941.

In reply to the TRIPOD's request that the Chairman of each Department comment on the new Curriculum, Mr. Taylor responded as follows:

Prospective students are being penalized for projects that will be undertaken and the outside reading in connection with some of the courses will still be required. Students will also visit and report on exhibitions at the Wadsworth Atheneum, and will be encouraged to submit their work to the annual Intercollegiate Exhibition.

In regard to our history of art group, there may be some changes. In each course there will be additional work required such as more outside reading and more research papers presented in class. Experience has shown that the more we study and heighten student interest, the better.

The Fine Arts Department favors a comprehensive examination, the nature of which is suggested below.

Six fraternity members at the University of Maine are being penalized for drinking violations, reported a recent Colby Echo.

The newspaper said that the President of Sigma Alpha Epilson, a fraternity which the Trustees of the University voted to close, stated that he doubted the fraternity's national organisation would comply with the Trustees' request to withdraw their charter. The president, Donald Kaye, asserted that the group's 40 members were "inexperienced." No Gamma Delta, was placed on social probation for five years. The Trustees, Sigma Chi Theta Chi, Delta Tau Delta, and Tau Epsilon were placed on probation for the remainder of the academic year.

According to the Echo, the Trustees also directed the University's President, Lloyd H. Elliott, to undertake a thorough study of fraternalities and sororities.

SALUTE: TONY DIOGIO

Tony DiGioia (B.S., 1960), in less than two years, became supervisor in one of the Test Centers in the Plant Department of Pennsylvania Bell Telephone Company people who are responsible for the installation and repair of 53,000 telephones in the area.

Tony should handle his present assignment with his customary enthusiasm. He has just finished his first two assignments. Shortly after starting work, he proved his capabilities by organizing a completely new microfilm filing system in the Engineering Department. And, later, he set up engineering practices covering many phases of the engineering operation.

Tony DiGioia and other young engineers like him in Bell Telephone Companies throughout the country help bring the finest communications service in the world to the homes and businesses of a growing America.

MARCH 7 — Colby’s All-America basketball nominee, Ken Stone, was the only unanimous choice on Trinity’s all-opponent team in a recent poll conducted by the TRIPOD. Stone, a rugged 6-foot-4-inch junior forward, scored 32 points against the Bantams earlier last month at his home court in Waterville, Maine, Coach Jay McWilliams and the six players who participated in the voting were impressed with his all-round performance and praised him as the most outstanding player they faced this season.

Wesleyan’s 6-foot-6-inch center, Winky Davenport, received six of the six votes against Wesleyan, allowing Clark to squeeze the difference in the Cardinals’ two wins over Trinity.

The agile 6-feet-5-inch center Is a menace to the Trinity defense especially on hook shots. The COURANT reported that as teammates Bob Rimer (left) and Current Deschamps look on, these three juniors represent Alpha Chi Rho which won the trophy last year and has fielded an eight-man squad to defend their title in the regular-season title.

MARCH 5 — Today, both the Hartford COURANT and the Hartford TIMES paid tribute to Coach Robie Shults and his undefeated Freshman Basketball team.

In examining the success of the team, the new coach,prompted by the good players from Berkley High–Jim Belfiore and Joe Hourihan — everything just seemed to jell once we got going.”

Robie credits much of the team’s success to captain Joe Hourihan. He commented, "He was our counterattack, ran the club and the kids elected him captain. Joe led the team in assists and turned us into a surprisingly strong shooter last season. He scored 16 points in one game and must have averaged 15 points in the last 4-5 games."

The Frosh coach also indebted himself to the players. The high, scoring duo led the team’s offensive with 30 and 12 points scoring averages respectively.

The Bantams received strong inside support from 6-foot-3-inch Dave Bremer, Landes who was strong on inside shooting especially on hook shots. The 5-foot-11-inch center, “wither-ridiculous leg spring,” time after time out-scored taller opponents.

The COURANT reported that as far as next year is concerned, Robie feels that this year’s Frosh should help him a lot in the reaper of the class.
