Senate Selects Members of Temporary Committees
by JOHN TRUE

MARCH 11 - Appointments to three "temporary" Senate committees were made as part of the House and Senate Republican coalition that took control of the state legislature this week.

President Michael Anderson announced that changes in the committee system will necessitate a change in Article IV of the Senate constitution, and that changes to accomplish the committees will be called for on the agenda.

In his report to the Senate, Anderson explained the need for a new committee system, as well as the duties and responsibilities of the various committees.

The "temporary" committee system is designed to be a means of organizing the legislative process and to provide for greater efficiency and effectiveness in the functioning of the Senate.

IFC Rejects Role In Awarding Cup

MARCH 11 - The IFC this evening decided not to assume responsibility for awarding the Skipper Cup, which is emblematic of "outstanding service" to the community.

Representative Mike Tousey stated that the Intrafraternity Council (IFC) had been approached by the State Capitol Building for the past several years to host the Skipper Cup.

Tousey also noted that the possibility of the IFC sponsoring the Skipper Cup would have had to pass through the House Speaker, the Majority Leader of the Senate, and the Vice-President of the State Capitol Building. The Skipper Cup had been awarded in the past by the Intrafraternity Council, and the IFC was considering taking on this responsibility.

Chapel Speaker Disclaims Beatnik World's Pessimism

MARCH 10 - "The one thing that can redeem and save this beatnik world is the guidance of the modern living to our society, he said."

Rev. Longley accused the beatnik generation of prophesying the doom of society, but then added, "I see no confusion in what Jesus taught," and concluded, "I have no fear of the guidance of God should not be given up, but faith in the guidance of the beatnik world is the guidance of the modern living to our society, he said."
March 9—The Jesters presented tonight what potentially could have been an extremely worthwhile evening of drama and comedy.

The evening, however, turned out to be merely an entertaining one, as the Jesters were not up to their usual degree of excellence. The two plays, Michel de Ghelderode's "Three Actors and their Drama" and "The Heavy Lead" (Conrad Van der Schroeff), were not as good as expected.

Jesters' Presentation of Two Comedies Falls Below Players' Usual Standard

The triangle, we find, exists as well for the actors. The Heavy Lead (Conrad Van der Schroeff) is actually being directed by his wife, the Ingenue (Gabella Schwarz), who is to be merely an entertaining one, as the Jesters were not up to their usual degree of excellence.

The comedy, as performed, was lively and humorous, perhaps more so than it should have been. "Three Actors" and unfortunately the Jesters did not bring these performances sufficiently in tonight's performance. The comedy is more natural, as the Jesters did not bring them out sufficiently in tonight's performance. The comedy, as performed, was excellently done, but all of the performers found it difficult to change from their comic parts to their more serious ones. Many of the comic elements in the play were maintained by the wrong characters at the wrong times. Van der Schroeff could not give the appearance of being old, the Ingenue Lead did not appear as juvenile, and the Ingenue was most of the time, not very ingenious. Still, as the Autor, was miscast. He could not sustain the difficult emotions which the Author was to have.

After the initial scene, the play was lively and humorous; perhaps more so than it should have been. The performance was not as good as expected in the law which, ironically, the Landlord thought was firmly on his side. "Hormesale" is a bright play, with a delicate humor based on paradox, and the forward-reverse commands to Hormesale to "give birth." The play itself is short and simple in structure; a man about to be evicted by a hard-hearted landlord gets the better of the landlord due to an exception in the law which, ironically, the landlord thought was firmly on his side. "Hormesale" is a bright play, with a delicate humor based on paradox, and the forward-reverse commands to Hormesale to "give birth."

Havilande, as the landlord Sphurcet, looking very much like the Jesters, was successful in appearance, but less successful in performance. The performance was not as good as expected in the law which, ironically, the landlord thought was firmly on his side. "Hormesale" is a bright play, with a delicate humor based on paradox, and the forward-reverse commands to Hormesale to "give birth."

Why not save time, money and effort by letting me handle all of your Spring Vacation travel arrangements?

For plane, train, steamship, or bus reservations or tickets anywhere call:

David M. Shields
Davis-Jacobs Travel Service, Inc.
(Connecticut's oldest and largest travel agency.)
242 TRUMBULL STREET
HARTFORD 3, CONN.
240-7231 (office) 657-3840 (home)
The concept "NEGRO" has gained widespread attention in recent years, or so it seems. Yet, ironically, the concept is "NEGRO" does not "exist." It is an unreal abstraction, existing only as an ideology, either when supported or attacked. Thus, its opponents, by attacking the reality of the concept (albeit unconsciously), are mistaken when they say anything they are attacking a lie, believing in its authenticity. Yet this is not to relegate the concept itself to the oikos, for in actuality it is a positive detriment.

The best procedure now would be to define core terms. But if one attempts to define some core terms involved by the "concept NEGRO," then in reality it is impossible to do so that he cannot in fact define it. The reason however, might not be an object that positing the existence of a "concept NEGRO" as in itself unsound, or absurd. But this objection would be a sophism, for one cannot deny the existence of civil rights organizations, freedom movements, the supreme court order of 1954, and the Philadelphia selective patronage campaign, for examples. And these groups, activities, and events, although not in themselves of the concept NEGRO, usually exist in terms of the concept, and necessarily are mistakenly abolished.

We can define the term "ideology," in the specific sense, as a set of ideas serving the vested interests of a particular individual or group, thus, much as the psychological process of rationalization, involving a distorted view of reality. In showing that the supporters and the attackers of particular manifestations of the "universal" concept are maintaining an ideology, then, we will be further defining terms on the one hand, and leading to an intelligible awareness of the concept on the other.

Firstly, let us orient our discussion around the relative (using the term advisedly) example of a "liberal" college student who, for a variety of reasons, has become concerned about sometimes apparent discrimination. Necessarily, even though he knows very little about the nature of discrimination and prejudice or the self-awareness of those discriminated against (he knows more than very little), the concept "NEGRO," usually exist in terms of the concept, and necessarily are mistakenly abolished.

We can define the term "ideology," in the specific sense, as a set of ideas serving the vested interests of a particular individual or group, thus, much as the psychological process of rationalization, involving a distorted view of reality. In showing that the supporters and the attackers of particular manifestations of the "universal" concept are maintaining an ideology, then, we will be further defining terms on the one hand, and leading to an intelligible awareness of the concept on the other.

Firstly, let us orient our discussion around the relative (using the term advisedly) example of a "liberal" college student who, for a variety of reasons, has become concerned about sometimes apparent discrimination. Necessarily, even though he knows very little about the nature of discrimination and prejudice or the self-awareness of those discriminated against (he knows more than very little), the concept "NEGRO," usually exist in terms of the concept, and necessarily are mistakenly abolished.

Finally, let us orient our discussion around the relative (using the term advisedly) example of a "liberal" college student who, for a variety of reasons, has become concerned about sometimes apparent discrimination. Necessarily, even though he knows very little about the nature of discrimination and prejudice or the self-awareness of those discriminated against (he knows more than very little), the concept "NEGRO," usually exist in terms of the concept, and necessarily are mistakenly abolished.

In defining the concept "NEGRO," we shall not correct his thinking in accordance with experience rather than maintain an ideology. This applies to the simple and, however, but many psychological pro-
Embassy Discussion

Embassy this year is a discussion of "Faith, Morals and Medicine" as seen by the doctors of the Hartford area and fifteen religious leaders from the Hartford area. These men will spend Wednesday evenings with the students, the faculty, the communities, the independents and the freshmen and answering questions on the moral implications of some of the recent medical advances. Medicine is advancing. New treatments, new preventions, new methods of regulating abnormalities are becoming faster than we can or care to...

Medicine

while religion is directly promoted by the authorities. Those who object to these actions in the United States believe that it is not possible to have a human being, however benevolent, who are preoccupied with steering through many religious practices and activities. Their overall aim is to prevent the spread of their beliefs, which they see as incompatible with the existing social order. In other countries, there is a perception that political measures are necessary to control religious activities.

The question of abortion is a critical issue in many countries, and the态度 toward sexual relations I would like to discuss. According to some religious beliefs, abortion is a violation of the principle of voluntary life termination. On the other hand, there are those who argue that the right to choose abortion is a human right and should be protected.

The concept of punishment by God, who is also referred to as 'God,' is a matter of religious belief. Some religions believe that punishment is a gift from God, while others believe that it is a natural consequence of actions.

The concept of voluntary life termination is understandable, but it can also be dangerous if it is not carried out properly. The right to choose abortion is a natural right, but it should be exercised responsibly.

The concept of punishment by God is also closely related to the concept of salvation. Some religions believe that salvation is a gift from God, while others believe that it is a result of human actions.

The concept of punishment by God is also closely related to the concept of voluntary life termination. Some religions believe that voluntary life termination is a violation of the principle of voluntary life termination, while others believe that it is a natural right.

The concept of punishment by God is also closely related to the concept of voluntary life termination. Some religions believe that voluntary life termination is a violation of the principle of voluntary life termination, while others believe that it is a natural right.

The concept of punishment by God is also closely related to the concept of voluntary life termination. Some religions believe that voluntary life termination is a violation of the principle of voluntary life termination, while others believe that it is a natural right.

The concept of punishment by God is also closely related to the concept of voluntary life termination. Some religions believe that voluntary life termination is a violation of the principle of voluntary life termination, while others believe that it is a natural right.

The concept of punishment by God is also closely related to the concept of voluntary life termination. Some religions believe that voluntary life termination is a violation of the principle of voluntary life termination, while others believe that it is a natural right.

The concept of punishment by God is also closely related to the concept of voluntary life termination. Some religions believe that voluntary life termination is a violation of the principle of voluntary life termination, while others believe that it is a natural right.

The concept of punishment by God is also closely related to the concept of voluntary life termination. Some religions believe that voluntary life termination is a violation of the principle of voluntary life termination, while others believe that it is a natural right.

The concept of punishment by God is also closely related to the concept of voluntary life termination. Some religions believe that voluntary life termination is a violation of the principle of voluntary life termination, while others believe that it is a natural right.

The concept of punishment by God is also closely related to the concept of voluntary life termination. Some religions believe that voluntary life termination is a violation of the principle of voluntary life termination, while others believe that it is a natural right.

The concept of punishment by God is also closely related to the concept of voluntary life termination. Some religions believe that voluntary life termination is a violation of the principle of voluntary life termination, while others believe that it is a natural right.

The concept of punishment by God is also closely related to the concept of voluntary life termination. Some religions believe that voluntary life termination is a violation of the principle of voluntary life termination, while others believe that it is a natural right.

The concept of punishment by God is also closely related to the concept of voluntary life termination. Some religions believe that voluntary life termination is a violation of the principle of voluntary life termination, while others believe that it is a natural right.

The concept of punishment by God is also closely related to the concept of voluntary life termination. Some religions believe that voluntary life termination is a violation of the principle of voluntary life termination, while others believe that it is a natural right.

The concept of punishment by God is also closely related to the concept of voluntary life termination. Some religions believe that voluntary life termination is a violation of the principle of voluntary life termination, while others believe that it is a natural right.

The concept of punishment by God is also closely related to the concept of voluntary life termination. Some religions believe that voluntary life termination is a violation of the principle of voluntary life termination, while others believe that it is a natural right.

The concept of punishment by God is also closely related to the concept of voluntary life termination. Some religions believe that voluntary life termination is a violation of the principle of voluntary life termination, while others believe that it is a natural right.

The concept of punishment by God is also closely related to the concept of voluntary life termination. Some religions believe that voluntary life termination is a violation of the principle of voluntary life termination, while others believe that it is a natural right.
Dodd...

(Continued from Page 1)

views of becoming a "prisoner
of the past," Dodd said the candidate of today cannot be concerned with personal interests but with responsibility and the will to make the political party popular when necessary.

To questions fired at him after the short talk, Senator Dodd broke with many Connecticut politicians and said he definitely does not favor voting at the age of eighteen.

Dodd favored stern economic sanctions on Cuba but said that we need to keep them responsible for their actions. They can be con-

In an introductory talk Hartford Mayor Glynn called Dodd a "liberal" in the true sense of the word. Glynn defined a "liberal" as one who takes positions he believes right even though he may offend many people, one who com-

Faced with the head table besides Dodd, Glynn, Young Democratic President Tom Marshall, and master of ceremonies Robert Schwartz were several other democrats including Conception Young Democrats' President Rich-

This implies that newspapers will tend to try to win and keep readers by playing up pet images news-

That newspapers should do this makes sense if they have any de-

Dodd, who enjoyed Budweiser even before opening night, March 7th.

SINGER

One of the seven golden keys to brewing Budweiser.

One of the seven golden keys to brewing Budweiser.

CHOICEST HOPS

Premium-priced imported hops, blended with fine domestic strains, are part of the secret of that refreshing Budweiser taste.

The geographic position of the U.S. in the last 180 years, the United States was turning more this American image affects newspaper custom to have critics write up the Jesters' production of two one act plays immediately after opening night.

The geographic position of the U.S. in the last 180 years, the United States was turning more

This American image affects the reader wants his ego built up by "proof" his image is right. Newspapers give him that image. They give it to him because their existence is greatly dependent on pleasing their readers! They hold polls (often no more than a close watch on their increases and de-

Today is an afterthought.

The geographic position of the U.S. in the last 180 years, the United States was turning more
Senate

(Continued from Page 1)
The special committee on the honor code was headed by Corresponding Secretary John Wilbert and will be made up of Senators Tower, Davison, Kellner, Ahlgren, Gregory, Parnams, Ewing, Schipp, and Kenneth Finf and John Losse. The work of this committee during the present semester will be to determine interest in the planned honor code and then to construct it. "First semester next year should see a final presentation addition referendum on the honor code," Anderson directed.

Senator Louis DiFazio motioned that the Senate grant $20 to Foster Parent Plan Inc. to help support a needy foreign child. Sen. Finf, Louisville, opposed DiFazio pointing out that "the spirit and pride on foreign nations. That is an advantage undeveloped areas. Therefore, we have always used them as citizens-they just be a better place to live in!"

CISL

(Continued from Page 1)
House agenda. However, at time began to run out for the 1963 session of CISL and the bill had not yet come up for debate. The Trinity delegation pushed it to the front of the calendar by parliamentary maneuvering. The bill passed the House and was sent to the Senate, also about to adjourn next year.

Again after much parliamentary maneuvering and several attempts to suspend the rules, Trinity managed to drive her bill to the floor, but time ran out for debate, and the bill was tabled. Included among the legislation passed were bills to:
- Extend the terms of the state senators from two to four years.
- Appoint a commission to investigate state welfare aid abuses, improve the quality of service and make recommendations for improvement in administration.
- Establish a minimum base salary of $5,000 for school teachers. Allow state residents to vote on a constitutional convention to redistrict the General Assembly.
- Eliminate the state sales tax on college textbooks.
- Provide a documentary slide film for public on the legislative procedure of the General Assembly.

Faith

(Continued from Page 1)
new pragmatism, the old theology with a new experimentalism and the old ideology with a new democracy," Rev. Longley said.

According to this theory, he continued, self-preservation is wisdom. The American democratic creed is no longer absolute. It implies, "Let's get wise; this is the way things are.

But time ran out for debate, and the bill was tabled. Though the legislation passed were bills to:
- Extend the terms of the state senators from two to four years.
- Appoint a commission to investigate state welfare aid abuses, improve the quality of service and make recommendations for improvement in administration.
- Establish a minimum base salary of $5,000 for school teachers. Allow state residents to vote on a constitutional convention to redistrict the General Assembly.
- Eliminate the state sales tax on college textbooks.
- Provide a documentary slide film for public on the legislative procedure of the General Assembly.

These letters stand for Air Force Officer Training School—a three-month course for those who realize they want to become Air Force officers, but don't have enough school time left to enroll in AFROTC.

We prefer our officers to start their training as freshmen, so we can commission them directly upon graduation. But right now we're accepting applications for another flip way to become an Air Force officer—OTS. We can't guarantee that this program will still be open a year or so from now. As an Air Force officer, you'll be a leader on the Aerospace Team, serving your country while you get a flying headstart on the technology of the future. The U.S. Air Force sponsors one of the world's most advanced research and development programs—and you can be part of it. If you're within 210 days of graduation, get more information on OTS from the Professor of Air Science.

U.S. Air Force
and stand accused of uncoordinated incompetence, we must attempt to maintain the exceptional tradition of editorial excellence which the freshmen basketball quintet, no team can claim success of their respective charges. Other than Trinity winter sports, with past team captains lauding the efforts, to successful or unsuccessful seasons; unfortunately, during the last four games, after a slushy start, finishing with 5 wins - 4 losses, A

In Review

The graduation of Chang and Yeaton this June will further hamper the Hockey team, operating effectively for the first year, won its first try at this maratho

Winter Sports

Staff

Editor's note. But the ball has been thrown to us, and lest we fumble, to resemble the age-old newspaper trick of forecasting far enough in advance that which has been available. Chance also, as always, in will be forgotten. And there's something to be said about that.

In general, the basketball, squash, and hockey teams should improve their records next year, while the swimmers and fencers will have to

By John True

Prillaman Swims 50 In 22.7; Caps 2nd New England

March 9 - Records Fall with astounding regularity today at the New England Inter-Collegiate Swimming Championships as the Trinity varsity men's team captured their second straight title and 10th in a field of 16, Fred Prillaman was Trin's stand-bread winner and set a New England Championship record with a time of 22.7, a new Trinity record, and sixth place. The event was won by a margin of 0.34 and was won two tenths of a second separated first and second place. Prillaman, after setting the college record in the 200 yard freestyle, came back with a 50 yard freestyle in a time of 26.2. Prillaman was also ranked second in the 100 yard breaststroke in 3:38.9, the second place finisher in the 200 yard individual medley, clocking a time of 2:13.5 and won the 50 yard freestyle, clocking a time of 22.7, a new Trinity record.

Steve Trinni fencers their fourth loss of the campaign, 14-13, in a match which ended the season for both schools. The loss dropped the Baptists below the mark for the first time in many years, The Trin. finished with a record of 9 victories and four defeats. The Tech-men, Middle Atlantic Fencing Champions, closed out the season with a 5-2 mark, Stevens sports two individuals prominent: George Thompson - epee, and Mark Sanders - saber, Both Thompson and Sanders won the Middle Atlantic championship in their respective weapons. Frank Gage, the best intercollegiate foil fencer in the nation last year, returned to the Trinity

Next season should be a building year in the tennis, and further improvement expected. Captain Prillaman, already a freshman who gained a great deal of experience and valuable knowledge of the game, will be the backbone of the foil team, and Sanders won the Middle Atlantic championship in their respective weapons. Frank Gage, the best intercollegiate foil fencer in the nation last year, returned to Trin.

Prillaman was a standard-bearer for the Baptists this year, and we did as well as could be expected, given the circumstances. The Trinity varsity swimmers finished fifth in the New England Championship. The loss dropped the Baptists below the mark for the first time in many years, The Trin. finished with a record of 9 victories and four defeats. The Tech-men, Middle Atlantic Fencing Champions, closed out the season with a 5-2 mark, Stevens sports two individuals prominent: George Thompson - epee, and Mark Sanders - saber, Both Thompson and Sanders won the Middle Atlantic championship in their respective weapons. Frank Gage, the best intercollegiate foil fencer in the nation last year, returned to the Trinity

The team, which has been practicing since early February, ran in the American Relays in the middle of last month, Captain McGawn, who has just been re-elected to the squad, continued to prove his record last spring in dual competition, which included only a single loss in West Los Angeles, which is the most improved man on the team. Freshman Leaf Melichar performed very well in winning two while losing one. The saber team, consisting of

Sports Banquet

The Adopted annual sports banquet will be held this Thursday evening, marking the conclusion of the winter sports season. The dinner, attended by the members of the athletic teams, will include the announcement of team captains for next season as well as summaries by retiring captains.