Mead Lecturer
In Government
To View U.N.
Dr. Gerald J. Mangone of the Maxwell Graduate School of Gov- ernment and Public Affairs at Syracuse University will examine the role of the United Nations as the "Bridge in the Immediate Future" when he delivers the Colored Lecture in Government tonight at 7:45 in McGraw Hall.

Dr. Mangone, whose topic is "The United Nations: A New Leap Forward," has been a Con- ferential Scholar at the United Nations, a Visiting Scholar at the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, and a U.S. Delegate to Munich Conferences on International Law.

Dr. Mangone received the Charles Sumner Prize from Harvard University in 1940 and was Senior Fulbright Scholar in Italy, 1954-1955, where he taught a course on recent works on the "PROBLEMS OF THE UNITED STATES AND AMERICAN DIPLOMACY, 1946-1964" (with Donald McNeil, Jr.), and American Politics and Government (with Stephen L. Balch and others). He has also published articles in THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR.

Before assuming his post at Syracuse University, Dr. Mangone served as Professor of Political Science and International Relations at the College of Western Connecticut and Postgraduate College, University of London. He is the author of World Statesmen and International Relations as taught in Western Connecticut, University of London, and the College of Western Connecticut.

Marshall Believes ROTC Program Will Continue Attracting Students
by Nyon Mar Savekische

"I don't think we're in the position of dying on the vine," com- mented Dr. Melville H. Marshall, professor of sociology at Brown, on the future of the college's ROTC program.

Colonel Marshall, who said that the college has decided "probably due to the transition to the new two-year plan in which only juniors and seniors participate.

The Colonel felt that the situation was better now because the drop-out rate has fallen to almost zero, and the ratio of seniors to cadets has increased.

Dr. Marshall acknowledged that the problem was not expected to affect the college's ability to maintain the program's level.

Marshall said that the college has always maintained a strong ROTC program, and he believes that this tradition will continue.

Dr. Marshall added that the college is committed to maintaining the program's quality, and he is confident that the program will continue to attract students.

Dr. Gerald J. Mangone

For the second consecutive year, the Very Reverend Sir George MacLeod, who was educated at the University of Edinburgh and Union Seminary in New York, will spend a department in the Religious Colloquium tomorrow and will deliver a three-part lecture on "The Radical Nature of Our Faith," tomorrow and Thursday.

After fighting in World War I as a pacifist, Dr. MacLeod, who has been a member of the Board of Directors of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. and a U.S. Delegate to Munich, has been a strong advocate of world peace and social justice.

Dr. MacLeod, who believes that Christianity "is not only authenticity, but also a rejection of the principle of the Church of Scotland and a rejection of the role of the college on a future trip to the United States," has completed arrangements last year.

During his stay on campus, Dr. MacLeod will live in the College guest room, Cook A-22, and attend church services.

Vista Representatives Look Here
For Dedicated Poverty Combatants

Two representatives from Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA) will arrive on campus tomorrow for a tour and to explain their program to the students of the College. VISTA is a program of the Federal Government designed to send volunteers to help the poor combat poverty in their own homelands. VISTA recruits, selects and trains volunteers to help local agencies, public and private.

"We are looking for people who are committed enough to live and work full-time among the poor in this country," stated Betty Steinfoster, one of the representatives to visit the College.

"VISTA volunteers serve in rural and urban community action programs, help with neighborhood revitalization programs, Indian reservations and programs for the mentally retarded. Volunteers may express a preference for location and type of work."

Volunteers are trained for the job and location in which they are to serve. Training stresses supervised field experience where the volunteer learns to apply their skills in the environment of poverty.

Image Theater
Gives "Caretaker"

The Image Theater, now presenting Harold Pinter's THE CARETAKER, is offering special dates to Trinity students. Tickets for both student and box are available at $1.50.

Included in the price of admission is a coffee hour and discussion period. The discussion period is held at 9:00 in the evening and an opportunity for the audience to share their feelings about the performance in the evening and the issues arising out of the performance in the program are taken up during the discussion period.

The Pinter play deals with the isolation of people in much the same manner as his THE CIRCUS WATIER, performed last year on campus by the Federal Theatricals.

VISTA representatives, a film on VISTA's work in Appalachia will be shown. The representatives will be available to meet with students and explain to them the necessary application forms.

HARVARD M.A.T.

Any teacher interested in the Master of Arts in Teaching program at Harvard University should see Paul Smith (Second '53) for information and application forms. The Harvard M.A.T. program offers preparation for secondary school teaching in the classics, English, fine arts, mathematics, modern foreign languages, music, natural sciences and social sciences.

The application deadline is February 15; students who rank in the upper 15 or 20 per cent of their class may apply for an early admission decision NO LATER THAN NOV. 25.

All candidates should submit scores from the Graduate Record Examination and are encouraged to submit results from the Miller Analogies Test as well.

Revitalization Corps Asks

What it Can Do for Country

by Jeff Lucas

The Revitalization Corps, founded 1 1/2 years ago in Hartford, is a small but active group of young people waging a four-pronged attack against apathy, complacency, stagnation and social corruption.

Operated as a miniscule office at 485 Wethersfield Ave., the corps has attracted nationwide attention for its constructive programs in education, recreation, civil service and human work.

President and founder of the Revitalization Corps, Edward T. Coll, describes the group's main effort to answer the challenge laid down in the late President Kennedy's inaugural address: "Ask not what your country can do for you, but ask what you can do for your country."

One of the goals of the corps is to involve the middle class through direct action.

Mr. Coll has "a strong belief that the American people, particularly the middle class, are much stronger than they think they are but have been emasculated by the three enemies of American life—apathy, complacency and snobbery, a term, perhaps snobilage, that you can't fight with a ball." Mr. Coll, operated his diversified organization on a $15,000 yearly budget. On this petty budget, he has mobilized 500 volunteers from the area to sponsor a number of programs in the areas of arts, music, recreation, service, recreation and humane work.

The Revitalization Corps maintains four tutoring centers in the Hartford area. Two centers are devoted to teaching English to Hartford's foreign-born residents. The remaining two centers are typical of all -all programs, offering instruction to nearly every student, offering instruction to nearly every student. A center is one-to-one relationship between two, one student and a counselor. The purpose of these diversified programs, Mr. Coll says, is to give people "a sense of purpose and encourage them to take an active hand in improving themselves and society."

Mr. Coll, a former lawyer, is active in finding jobs for the needy persons, collecting money for worthy persons, collecting money for worthy organizations, such as the Hartford Sunrise Scholarship Fund, and collecting through the United Fund. Carleton Pass-fail System Lets Students Enjoy Courses

A newly instituted system of pass-fail grading in a limited number of courses at Carleton College seems to be fairly popular, according to Willis D. Weatherford, Jr., Dean of the Northfield, Minnesota, college liberal arts school.

A recent issue of THE CARLETON-TONICIA reports that 300 juniors and seniors at Carleton are enrolling in pass-fail courses this term. The 300 students are participating in the program representing almost half the two upper classes, the only ones eligible.

The school newspaper reports that under the new system, a student may declare one pass-fail course per term provided that he has previously accumulated 15 credits.

Hartford Stage Offers 'Tartuffe'

A special student preview of Molière's comedy, TARTUFFE, will be held on Thursday evening at 8:00, the day before the official opening of the play's 3½ week run at the Hartford Stage Company. Student tickets, at $1.50, are available for the preview. A student price of $1.75 prevails for Sunday and Wednesday matinees and all Sunday evening performances.

TARTUFFE, in its final version written in 1669, has become the most popular of Molière's plays. Tartuffe, a hypocrite who insinuates himself into human nature, it is the story of an unmitigated scoundrel, a priest, who expounds the mysteries of the faith to a husband and wife, a most destroys the happiness of an innocent family.

The system is designed so that successful completion of a pass-fail course gives one credit but in no way affects the student's grade point average. Instructors may request that certain courses be taught on a pass-fail basis. There are now forty such courses being conducted.

The article states that the system is popular with students because "it enables them to enjoy a course, usually out of their major, without having to worry about a grade." Others simply don't care about the grade, and don't need it.

The system is popular with students because "it enables them to enjoy a course, usually out of their major, without having to worry about a grade." Others simply don't care about the grade, and don't need it.

On the other hand, the article points out, many students are fore-seeing the privilege because they need to improve their average in preparation for graduate school.

Budweiser

Look closely. Whoever polished off that glass of beer was a real beer drinker. Someone who uses the swallow approach. Not a sipper. Sipping, you see, is for wine. It's the best way to appreciate the delicate taste of a fine vintage. But not beer.

Especially not Budweisers. Budweiser is a hearty drink brewed with lots of character, and the best way to enjoy it is to drink it. (Not chug-a-lug, either... just good healthy beer-drinker's swallowing.)

Try this. Take a clean glass... say a twelve or fourteen-ounce size. Rinse it out with cold water. Open a can or bottle of the King of Beers and pour it right down the middle so that you get a good head of foam.

Now... take a big drink. No sips.

Good? You bet. This is how beer should taste. Budweiser gives you a taste, smoothness and drinkability you'll find in no other beer at any price. Our exclusive Beechwood Ageing with natural carbonation has a lot to do with it. This is the slow, finicky way to brew beer. Expensive, too... but the results are worth it.

So please, after we go to all this trouble, pour your Budweiser with a flourish. Drink it with a flourish.

And maybe a pretzel.

it's worth it...it's Bud®

HOLBORN LABELS HITLER HIGH-EDUCATED YET AMBITIOUS, EFFECTIVE DOCTRINAIRE

by Jeff E. Lucas

Dr. Nino Holborn, Sterling professor of history at Yale, characterized Hitler as an unoriginal thinker but a doctrinaire of the first order in the Mead Lectures. He also criticized Hitler for his violent and aggressive ideology, which he described as a "peculiar" man.

Holborn advised that Hitler's ambition and his manipulation of the people were evident in his speeches and writings. He also noted that Hitler was a "genius" and that his actions were motivated by a desire for power and control.

Among his many accomplishments, Holborn pointed out Hitler's role in the creation of the Third Reich and his influence on world politics. He emphasized Hitler's ability to manipulate the masses and his use of propaganda to achieve his goals.

Holborn exclaimed that Hitler was a "typical" example of a leader who used a nationalist and aggressive ideology to further his political and personal goals. He concluded that Hitler's influence on world politics was significant and that his legacy would continue to be felt for generations to come.
Booters Beat Wes, 5-3; Down Coast Guard, 7-0

by Emil Angelica

Kicking back from its disappointing 5-1 loss to Amherst, Trinity's soccer team ended the 1962 regular season with two impressive victories, a 7-0 romp over Coast Guard and a 5-3 duel of Wesleyan.

Coach Roy Dallas's squad started very fast and strong in both contests, showing an unquestionably improved offensive attack. At the Cardinal field this Trinity, the Bantams pressed the opposing one over the standing mark. (Hatch Photos)

Wes Interception Returns Stop Bantam Attack, 19-14

Two long interception returns and one trap play led directly to Wesleyan's 19-14 victory over Trinity this Saturday in the game's last two minutes. Despite nearly every conceivable advantage for victory in the closing minutes, the Bantams had their season record lowered to 4-4 by another stemming touchdown return.

Defense was the theme of the game's first half. Trinity failed to control the ball, except for their first quarter touchdown effort and a second quarter drive which ended with a Wesleyan interception, the Cardinals were successful in keeping the Bantams' leading passer, Bob Ochs, in check. Trinity scored first late in the first quarter. Romney by sophomore Larry Roberts and Bob Helmgartner carried the ball from the Cardinal's 49-yard line to Wesleyan's two-yard line. Roberts scored from there, and was assigned a perfect two-point conversion.

The ruling in this situation was questionable. Since the pass nearly crossed the line of scrimmage, the ball was free to whoever could control it first. Only when a fumbled point cross the line of scrimmage to it considered automatically the defense's ball.

Wesleyan took the kick-off and in eight plays drove to the Trinity 10-yard line. There the Bantams were able to hold the ball for a little more than 2 minutes.

FLIPPED- Trinity's Bruce Green is tripped up at the line of scrimmage by an unidentified Wesleyan defender during the first half of Saturday's game.

Wesleyan soon regained the ball on his third-yard line and marched eight plays, but the Bantam defense held again. A heavy Trinity rush blocked the punt, a Wesleyan man picked up the loose ball and ran it for a first down.

The rule in this situation was questionable. Since the pass nearly crossed the line of scrimmage, the ball was free to whoever could control it first. Only when a fumbled point cross the line of scrimmage to it considered automatically the defense's ball.

Five plays later Trinity's Bill Fox recovered a Cardinal fumble on his 56-yard line. Wesleyan's offense then controlled the ball for the next 7:50 minutes, mixing the running and passing attack, driving to the Wesleyan 38-yard line. At this point, with 1:41 left in the game, Trinity in the lead 14-13, and third down and nine yards to go for the Trinity TD, the game seemed destined to end under the Bantam's control. But the 15th play proved to be one of the game's most exciting.

Wesleyan's Gulick scored a 20-yard touchdown and the teams played four more plays before running out of time, making the score 19-14 for Wesleyan. The Cardinals only victory of the season.
