Next College Forum Topic: Development

"Reflections on the Future" will be the College Forum topic on Thursday at 7:30 p.m., in the Commencement Hall in announcing the meeting, Douglas L. Ireland, chairman of the forum committee, commented: "At the beginning of the semester, the forum of the forum committee, commented: "At the beginning of the semester, the forum was asked to present an exposition on the College." -Dr. Roy Heath, Dean of Students, last week announced a clarification of the College's position concerning drinking at athletic events.

A family publication committee is publishing two books and hopes to continue publishing the lectures of the resident lecturer each year. The books now being processed are last year's talks by Joseph Albers and Dr. Glenn T. Weaver's history of Trinity.

Heath Clarifies Game Drinking

Roy Heath, dean of students, last week announced a clarification of the College's position concerning drinking at athletic events. The consumption of alcoholic beverages at athletic contests on the Trinity campus, will any Trinity student consume alcoholic beverages at Trinity athletic contests on other college campuses," ruled Dean Heath. Explaining this action, he gave three primary reasons for the new rule. "First," he said, "public drinking is considered by many persons to be offensive and to lead to what we consider, infiltration is liable to cause an ugly scene. "Second, if drinking goes on at athletic contests, infiltration is liable to cause an ugly scene. "Second, if drinking goes on at athletic contests, it tends to cause people to keep their heads down. Finally, people will have 'Crown battles' at the will- lams base and the Natural Science Building and answers the question about the building with the statement that the audience may have.

Heath Clarifies Game Drinking

Roy Heath, dean of students, last week announced a clarification of the College's position concerning drinking at athletic events.

A faculty publication committee is publishing two books and hopes to continue publishing the lectures of the resident lecturer each year. The books now being processed are last year's talks by Joseph Albers and Dr. Glenn T. Weaver's history of Trinity.

Mr. Albers considers the report on his lecture series here one of the best books published in his teaching methods. Dr. Robert Buckle, chairman of the ad hoc committee on publications, said he hopes that the revenue from the book on Mr. Albers can be put into a rotating fund for similar publications. Mr. Albers said that any publishing endeavor here should be subsidized by the schools, and that the revenue from the book on Mr. Albers can be put into a rotating fund for similar publications.

Re-examined

In Center Section

Rev. Johnson Links Church, Race Relations

There is a definite relation between the church and social action, the Rev. William A. Johnson said at Vandersteen Sunday.

"The church," he said, "..In order to amend the constitution, the Assembly was forced to this action in the fall of 1964.

Baldwin: Constititional Convention Legal, Although Illegally Established

Judge Raymond E. Baldwin, speaking at the government de- partment lecture last Thursday, explained that the constitutional committee that was argued out of the draft by the Constitutional Convention in Butterworth, was the system of representation in Connecticut's legislature in balance, the Constitutional Convention's Assembly to represent the faculty and the constitutional convention, his own students, the Assembly elected 12 delegates to revise the original Constitution of 1818.

Judge Baldwin, who has served as Chief Justice at the Supreme Court of Connecticut, stated that while he feels that representation in the constitutional convention, he does not think the U.S. Supreme Court would have a justifiable right to intervene in the matter. Representation in the constitutional convention, he said, was a political question, beyond the jurisdiction of the court. The constitutional convention was created in the constitution of 1818, Judge Baldwin explained. The convention adopted the suit system of appointments which allotted one representative to towns with a population of less than 500, and two representatives to towns with more than 5,000. Since that time urban areas have grown out of proportion to rural

Fund Gives $440,000

For Library Additions

College to Accept Grant for Furnishings, Air-Conditioning

A library grant of $440,000 by the old Foundation to the College is to be announced today by President Albert C. Jacob, at a special meeting of the trustees of the Watkinson Library.

The grant will be used for additional book stacks for more than 100,000 volumes, for 100 additional study carrels, and for air-conditioning of the entire library. Commenting on the gift, Dr. Jacob said that "This yearward from the foundation, whose generosity was largely responsible for the preservation of I the Watkinson Library through the crisis with the Trinity College Library in 1964, now makes it possible for us to complete the library as it was originally envisaged."

The new space for books and readers as well as the most mod- ern air treatment provided by Trin- ity and the Hartford community with one of the most outstanding buildings for academic research literature purposes in the country, "We are especially pleased that the priceless rarities of the Wat-kinson will be fully protected from the ravages of air pollution and sold to the climate of humidity."

At this afternoon's meeting the trustees of the Watkinson Library are expected to announce the open- ing of a campaign to raise $500,000 in endowment for the library. This endorsement will be used to provide as adequate staff for this library and to purchase (Continued on Page 3)

VOL. LXIV NO. 3
TRINITY COLLEGE, HARTFORD, CONN.
TUESDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1965

TRINITY COLLEGE PRESS

Who Has The Buck? See Page 6

For Library Additions

College to Accept Grant for Furnishings, Air-Conditioning

A library grant of $440,000 by the old Foundation to the College is to be announced today by President Albert C. Ja- cob, at a special meeting of the trustees of the Watkinson Library.

The grant will be used for addi- tional book stacks for more than 100,000 volumes, for 100 additional study carrels, and for air- conditioning of the entire library. Commenting on the gift, Dr. Jacob said that "This yearward from the foundation, whose generosity was largely responsible for the preservation of I the Watkinson Library through the crisis with the Trinity College Library in 1964, now makes it possible for us to complete the library as it was originally envisaged."

The grant will be used for addi- tional book stacks for more than 100,000 volumes, for 100 additional study carrels, and for air-conditioning of the entire library. Commenting on the gift, Dr. Jacob said that "This yearward from the foundation, whose generosity was largely responsible for the preservation of I the Watkinson Library through the crisis with the Trinity College Library in 1964, now makes it possible for us to complete the library as it was originally envisaged."

The grant will be used for addi- tional book stacks for more than 100,000 volumes, for 100 additional study carrels, and for air-conditioning of the entire library. Commenting on the gift, Dr. Jacob said that "This yearward from the foundation, whose generosity was largely responsible for the preservation of I the Watkinson Library through the crisis with the Trinity College Library in 1964, now makes it possible for us to complete the library as it was originally envisaged."

The new space for books and readers as well as the most mod- ern air treatment provided by Trin- ity and the Hartford community with one of the most outstanding buildings for academic research literature purposes in the country, "We are especially pleased that the priceless rarities of the Wat-kinson will be fully protected from the ravages of air pollution and sold to the climate of humidity."

At this afternoon's meeting the trustees of the Watkinson Library are expected to announce the open- ing of a campaign to raise $500,000 in endowment for the library. This endorsement will be used to provide as adequate staff for this library and to purchase (Continued on Page 3)

Rev. Johnson Links Church, Race Relations

There is a definite relation between the church and social action, the Rev. William A. Johnson said at Vandersteen Sunday.

"The church," he said, "..In order to amend the constitution, the Assembly was forced to this action in the fall of 1964.

Baldwin: Constititional Convention Legal, Although Illegally Established

Judge Raymond E. Baldwin, speaking at the government de- partment lecture last Thursday, explained that the constitutional committee that was argued out of the draft by the Constitutional Convention in Butterworth, was the system of representation in Connecticut's legislature in balance, the Constitutional Convention's Assembly to represent the faculty and the constitutional convention, his own students, the Assembly elected 12 delegates to revise the original Constitution of 1818.

Judge Baldwin, who has served as Chief Justice at the Supreme Court of Connecticut, stated that while he feels that representation in the constitutional convention, he does not think the U.S. Supreme Court would have a justifiable right to intervene in the matter. Representation in the constitutional convention, he said, was a political question, beyond the jurisdiction of the court. The constitutional convention was created in the constitution of 1818, Judge Baldwin explained. The convention adopted the suit system of appointments which allotted one representative to towns with a population of less than 500, and two representatives to towns with more than 5,000. Since that time urban areas have grown out of proportion to rural (Continued on Page 6)
Foulke Continues Navy Counseling

Information on Navy Officer Programs will be available again this year from Dr. Robert Foulke, assistant professor of English, who will conduct informational sessions for commissions in the Navy officer corps.

Dr. Foulke may be found in Office 205A upperclassman-faculty dinners Brownell, used the same book at since Trinity's first president and has "touched" at commencement which every graduate of Trinity over to Dr. Lawrence W. Towle, Dine in Hamlin sions of upperclassman eating ar- is, stems from the recent discus- of the peace, "

"... With Faculty Book in Traditional Rites oath before the chancellor to keep r rival at the University to take an 'In the "Book Ceremony" Monday, and became full-fledged members class of '69 officially became..."... Arthur R. Tomat, director of Math-..."... or anything that dates back to the 15th Century, the 334 members of the..."

The book, which contains the..."... for commissions in the College, for the coming year. According to William G. Pickel, secretary to the IFU, the three committees include a Rushing Committee, a Fraternity Study Committee, and a Campus Activities Committee, each with its own area of concern. The Rushing Committee, according- ing to Pickel, will examine Mason Plan and its structure and possibly make recommendations in the..."... for commissions in the College, Pickel stated. The Fraternity Activities Committee will examine the role of the IFU in the participation of campus life and the ways the IFU can generate fraternity activities on campus. The prize concerns of this committee, said Pickel, in a nutshell, the campus contest scheduled for Oct. 22.

The prize contest is divided into three categories, as follows:

FIRST PRIZE: A custom-made, leather-bound book, with gold lettering, which contains the names of the winning team members.

SECOND PRIZE: A set of five custom-made, leather-bound books, with gold lettering, which contain the names of the winning teams in each category.

THIRD PRIZE: A set of five custom-made, leather-bound books, with gold lettering, which contain the names of the winning teams in each category.

Get Diploma in 4 Years
Or Draft Status Changes

College students with a deferred draft status must complete their undergraduate study in four years, according to Lt. Col. Vincent F. Verrilli USAF.

Colonel Verrilli made this state- ment last Tuesday evening while speaking on "The Draft and the College Student" in the first of a series of career conferences at the College. The colonel, who is the Selective Service Proctor for Connecticut, stated that while "voluntary deferment is granted to the national interest," a student who does not complete his studies before four years is subject to the draft. Those students who have to leave college because of personal or financial reasons may be excused.

He also pointed out that the under- graduates who are granted the mil- itary obligation while at college, he called "HPTV programs" such as the one here a "student's best bet." Also, there are several other programs offered by the various military branches. He emphasized, however, that some of these entail small commitments which get into a student's overall earnings potential.

Graduating seniors, for instance, Colonel Verrilli stated, are a "brand new" group. The Selective Service will grant him five years of deferment to one pursuing his doctorate. Some of the most promising young people may find positions where they can keep their deferred status.

The colonel noted that those entering the Peace Corps, the teaching profession and certain vital business concerns usually are excused.

"If you have never become a symbol of the College's academic program, by this ceremony, the faculty is on the alert to examine, to fit out, the College as a line graduate, faculty members to the dinners may..."

No Competition. To service and set up new ac- cessories, with pay, at Newport, R.I., with commissioning upon graduation. Some 60 people attended the talk..."... according to Lt. Col. Emil H. Verrilli USAF.

Colonel Verrilli has seen many years of military service. In 1942 he was commissioned as an officer in 1044.

Several of the people present to the Selective Service System.

Two years later he was recalled on active duty by the Air Force and assigned to the Selective Service. There were some 80 people attending the talk..."... according to Lt. Col. Emil H. Verrilli USAF.

Uppersclassmen Dine in Hamlin With Faculty

The first in a series of weekly upperclassman-faculty dinners will be held in Hamlin Dining Hall this evening.

Two programs, under pres- entation by the college executive, are planned. The first will be on the subject..."... to differentiate it more from Ma- ther Hall and arranged by John..."

For students entering Medical, Dental, Divinity, Theological, or Law School, the Navy offers commissions in a wide variety of medical specialties. The medical and dental programs are particularly popular with students who are considering medical careers. The Navy also provides commissions in various military branches. He explained that the un- dergraduates who are granted the mil- itary obligation while at college, he called "HPTV programs" such as the one here a "student's best bet." Also, there are several other programs offered by the various military branches. He emphasized, however, that some of these entail small commitments which get into a student's overall earnings potential.

Graduating seniors, for instance, Colonel Verrilli stated, are a "brand new" group. The Selective Service will grant him five years of deferment to one pursuing his doctorate. Some of the most promising young people may find positions where they can keep their deferred status.

The colonel noted that those entering the Peace Corps, the teaching profession and certain vital business concerns usually are excused.

"If you have never become a symbol of the College's academic program, by this ceremony, the faculty is on the alert to examine, to fit out, the College as a line graduate, faculty members to the dinners may..."

No Competition. To service and set up new ac- cessories, with pay, at Newport, R.I., with commissioning upon graduation. Some 60 people attended the talk..."... according to Lt. Col. Emil H. Verrilli USAF.

Colonel Verrilli has seen many years of military service. In 1942 he was commissioned as an officer in 1044.

Several of the people present to the Selective Service System.

Two years later he was recalled on active duty by the Air Force and assigned to the Selective Service. There were some 80 people attending the talk..."... according to Lt. Col. Emil H. Verrilli USAF.

Uppersclassmen Dine in Hamlin With Faculty

The first in a series of weekly upperclassman-faculty dinners will be held in Hamlin Dining Hall this evening.

Two programs, under pres- entation by the college executive, are planned. The first will be on the subject..."... to differentiate it more from Ma- ther Hall and arranged by John..."

For students entering Medical, Dental, Divinity, Theological, or Law School, the Navy offers commissions in a wide variety of medical specialties. The medical and dental programs are particularly popular with students who are considering medical careers. The Navy also provides commissions in various military branches. He explained that the un-dergraduates who are granted the mil- itary obligation while at college, he called "HPTV programs" such as the one here a "student's best bet." Also, there are several other programs offered by the various military branches. He emphasized, however, that some of these entail small commitments which get into a student's overall earnings potential.

Graduating seniors, for instance, Colonel Verrilli stated, are a "brand new" group. The Selective Service will grant him five years of deferment to one pursuing his doctorate. Some of the most promising young people may find positions where they can keep their deferred status.

The colonel noted that those entering the Peace Corps, the teaching profession and certain vital business concerns usually are excused.
Property Price Proves Prime Parking Problem

The problem of student parking, particularly in the South Campus area, exists primarily because of the lack of sufficient property, according to F. Gardiner F. Bridge, director of student affairs. The Administration and the Senate, however, are considering solutions to the question, he said.

The entire situation depends upon what the student uses his car for, says Mr. Bridge. If a student drives more on weekends than during the week, the convenience of parking facilities should not be very important to that student. Parking lots such as the one located on Broad St. should be satisfactory to such drivers, he said.

However, the problem becomes acute when students use their cars as an everyday convenience. It is under this condition that nearby facilities become almost essential, added Mr. Bridge.

Mather Board Plans Saturday Dinner Dance

Much more than a football game with Tufts is planned for next Saturday. According to E. Timothy Sniffen, chairman of the Mather Hall Board of Governors. A Mather Hall Open House, aimed especially at freshmen and upper-class independents, will attract girls from local colleges.

As well as a dance, 8:30 to 12:30, with The Cavaliers, the open house will include a buffet dinner and a social hour. The dinner, tagged "Italian Night," includes candles, music and table clothes. Three skippers of boys and refreshments will spark the social hour, 4:30 to 5:30.

The game room and bowling alleys will be open, dates bowling free.

Transit Car Fit For Megalopolis

NEW YORK, N. Y.—One of several design ideas introduced recently to 600 top transit officials by United States Steel for lightweight, all-steel transit cars, this model with streamlined vista window in front and skylights in roof is proposed for such long-distance transit runs as those anticipated in Boston-Washington Corridor project.

L. B. Worthington, President of United States Steel, tells advantages of new design to Elizabeth Nelson, attired in Victorian style to emphasize contrast of times.

For just such a car, U. S. Steel engineers have developed an all-steel sandwich panel. Comprising a core which resembles the cellular structure inside an egg crate and two sheets bonded to the core by an epoxy adhesive, the panel system can be used for both structural side framing and floor supports.

Library...

(Continued from Page 1)

new research materials which should be acquired to keep the existing collection up-to-date.

John C. Parsons, president of the trustees, observed "the combined libraries at Trinity are an extremely valuable cultural and intellectual asset for the Hartford community."

Old fad.

New fad.

(a private phone costs less than a dime a day*)

You probably spend more than that for calls at pay phones. And think of how much time you waste standing in line to make a call — and what a nuisance it is to chase around borrowing change for the pay phone. You can order a private phone in several colors including Goldfinger Yellow, Jolly Giant Green and Regent Black.

To order your phone, call 247-9221 or stop in at the telephone company business office at 55 Trumbull Street, Hartford.

The Southern New England Telephone Company

Part of the Nationwide Bell System

College Barber Shop

Trinity's Favorite

Since 1947

One Block Below Vernon

On BROAD STREET

The Trinity Tripod
Campus Notes

"Other America"
The Center for Human Relations is sponsoring a student organized and student run, extra-curricular series for all interested members of the College community. The title of the series for this term will be "The Other America" and will deal with the many-sided aspects of the problem of poverty in the United States.

Some members of the faculty have expressed a willingness to help, but the direction of the series will depend upon the students who participate. It is therefore important that all students who are interested in taking part should attend the first meeting on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in Alumni Lounge.

Placement

Tuesday, October 15 -- University of Pennsylvania Law School
Wednesday, October 16 -- Syracuse University Urban Teacher Preparation Program

Those interested in seeing the above, make appointments in the Placement Office.

Baldwin...

(Continued from Page 1)
areas, rendering the unit system ineffective in apportionment representation, (or 1945. 12 per cent of the voters of the state could elect a majority to the House, and 27 per cent could control the Senate.)

Judge Baldwin cited electoral inequity as one long recognized problem and added that political parties in 1820 to 1845 failed because of opposition by vested interests.
The 1965 Connecticut Constitutional Convention is considering 27 amendments to the Constitution. One of the most controversial amendments under consideration is one which would lower the voting age.
The Third Constitutional Convention will present the amended constitution to the voters on Dec. 14, 1845. Asked what would result if the voters were to reject the proposed constitution, Judge Baldwin replied, "Chaos!"

"Bitch-in' U of Colo Vents Ills

BOULDER, Colo. (CP) -- A "bitch-in," a特色的orand, has been scheduled early in October at the University of Colorado. Modeled after the teach-ins, however, there will be no formal, planned speeches. All concerns and criticisms will come directly from the students themselves.

As each student enters the auditorium, he will be given a numbered IBM card which he will be encouraged to bend, fold, staple, or mutilate. In numerical order, each card-taker will have five minutes to speak. Only the ordinary rules of good taste will apply; subject matter and position will be wide open.

Pi Kappa Alpha

The following have been admitted to the pledge class of Pi Kappa Alpha: Jonathan A. Sanders '68, Thomas R. Pastore '67, and William J. Pastore '67.

Vespers

The Rev. Powell Mills, Sub-Dean and professor of Ecclesiastical History at the General Theological Seminary of New York, will preach at Vespers Sunday at 5:00 p.m. Dr. Mills is an active participant in the ecumenical movement.

L'Alliance Francoise

L'Alliance Francaise will hold its first meeting and reception of the year at the Austin Arts Center on Wednesday at 5:45 p.m.

Forum...

(Continued from Page 1)
Albert D. Hall, director of development, will make a special announcement concerning the Life Sciences building which Frost said "will be of great campus interest."
Henry S. Beers, national chairman of the College's Capital Campaign, is scheduled to give an up-to-the-minute "report" of the funds raised so far in that campaign.

"Another, under consideration will be the Ford Foundation challenge grant of $2,200,000, which was announced last past summer.
Mr. Frost noted that all questions from students and others in the audience will be entertained in this meeting, the second opportunity students will have to discuss matters of development with members of the 96th Congress. The first such meeting was held last spring.

SURPRISE -- The newly constructed South Campus Dormitories will not be ready for total occupancy on the proposed revised date of Oct. 15. The latest exact date of completion for the B section has not yet been determined.
Sections A and C are still without planned bookcases and heating. Plans for the installation of temporary heating are now being implemented, and may be realized during this week. Section B is still far from completion. Various electrical equipment, including outlets and wiring, still have to be installed.

Wardrobes and various furnishings have been placed in the new dorms, although parts of Section C have cardboard closets, pending the installation of more permanent fittings.
The delay in installation of wardrobes, as rooms which have been inhabited since early September, has been attributed to a shortage of parts from Grand Rapids, Mich.

Seem above keeping an eye on construction, as part of the financial agreement ending the union walkout of July, the summer vacation.

TRINITY CAMPUS LAUNDRY

- Special This Week
  Pants 29c
  Complete Laundry and Dry Cleaning Services
  Expert Tailoring
  Basement Cook A
  All But The Linen Service Will Be
  Open On Saturday 9:30-1:00

HOTEL STATLER BARBER SHOP

Mr. Bias
4th Floor, Thompson T. Porter
The Modern Barber Shop
For Modern Men
Manager Don Atchison
Hair Styling Conference in Parts
Also by Appointment
COMBES OF FORD & BERN 247-8386

diamonds, watches, silver
smart habit! shop savitt!
35 Asylum St., Hartford

TRINITY CAMPUS LAUNDRY

- Special This Week
  Pants 29c
  Complete Laundry and Dry Cleaning Services
  Expert Tailoring
  Basement Cook A
  All But The Linen Service Will Be
  Open On Saturday 9:30-1:00

THE ALL NEW WASHINGTON DINER, Inc.

Newest and Finest in New England
Serving, Trinity Students 20 Years

ORANGE JUICE
Ham, Bacon or Sausage
2 Eggs, Potatoes, Toast Coffee
99c

ORANGE JUICE
2 Eggs, Hash Brown Potatoes Toast Coffee
65c

1. BREADED MEAL CUPPE WITH SPAGHETTI
2. HALF ROAST CHICKEN
3. SPAGHETTI AND MEATBALL
4. ROAST STUFFED NATIVE TURKEY
5. OPEN FACE BROWN BREAD OR HAM SANDWICH
6. BROILED PORK CHOPS OR APPLES A LA VICTORY

FOR 75c MORE—SHRIMP COCKTAIL, SOUP, DESSERT, CHEF'S SALAD AND COFFEE SERVED WITH ABOVE
175 WASHINGTON STREET, NEAR PARK
Growing Glee Club Plans Active Year

Ayn Rand Exposed

Wadsworth Atheneum Director to resign

Melina Mercouri Stars in Comic Double Bill

Theatre Conference Graces New England

COLLEGE VIEW SERVICE

360 New Britain Ave.

Offering Mobile Products

Complete Automotive Service

7:10 P.M. Weekdays—8:10 P.M. Sundays

or Call 249-3212

Mr. Melody

Mr. Ertie

He's working on his Ph.D. thesis

SUNDAY'S FUN DAY

CHARLIE BROWN

THE NEW PEANUTS® CARTOON BOOK!

by Charles M. Schulz

ONLY $1.00 FOR THE YEAR

Not Brown & Bigelow, Inc.
The Lonely Buck

"We were kind of wondering, sir, if you'd chaperone down at our fraternity next Saturday night for a party."

"Well, I suppose I could if I hadn't made any plans. But isn't your fraternity going to serve those expensive drinks to minors?"

"No reply."

"And what exactly is the nature of the fraternity officers' responsibility for enforcing rules with which they may very well not agree anyway."

"The full right to end a party at any time."

"But without a faculty member or administrator can chaperone a fraternity party, see minors drinking, which they may very well not agree with?"

"No. The fraternity is legally responsible."

"It is an opportunity that should not be missed."

"Wouldn't it be better?"

"It's not that I want it this way, but I think it's just that if someone else does it."

"Have you been able to convince the fraternity that they should be more responsible?"

"Unequivocally, it cannot be responsible. Reflections about the clients are the responsibilities of the fraternity."

"And so it goes, day after day with increasing frequency. Conversations like these are becoming common on the Trinity campus. And if we don't do something about rule-keeping, you'll have to agree the fraternity will be chartered."

"It's not that I want it this way, but I think it's just that if someone else does it."

"Do you understand, it's just that if someone else does it."

"So, in this way, you understand, it's just that if someone else does it."

"Well, sir, perhaps that would be better."

"It's not that I want it this way, but I think it's just that if someone else does it."

"And so it goes, day after day with increasing frequency. Conversations like these are becoming common on the Trinity campus as faculty members and administrators become more and more reluctant to do the chaperon responsibility fraternity members have shed."

"And so it goes, day after day with increasing frequency. Conversations like these are becoming common on the Trinity campus as faculty members and administrators become more and more reluctant to do the chaperon responsibility fraternity members have shed."

A Question of Time

The fraternities at Trinity are not in jeopardy. There is no reason to doubt they will exist as long as they already have. The question, though, one raised recently, is: should fraternities be considered purely on their social expediencies? Or should they, perhaps, be a more cultural nature? These are not questions fraternities should answer individually, although some answers may be better than some. However, it would seem logical, as the College expands, for the fraternities to step back and re-evaluate their roles on this campus, and together (through the Interfraternity Council) they should devise definite group goals with equally definite methods for fulfilling these goals.

The fraternities at Trinity are bound to hold, but they should have a good reason for continuing.

Opportunity Knocks

The College has decided the time has come to offer students the opportunity to question: the question the life sciences building architect, to revise the capital campaign and to discuss the library grant.

It is an opportunity that should not be missed, for students who wonder about the college who read here can expect explanations: students who are concerned about the capital campaign and the Ford Foundation grant can have their questions answered, and those who appear will hear important announcement by Vice-President Albert E. Holland.

Thursday morning is another in a series of administrative attempts to involve student relations, an attempt students can endorse by their presence.
Fraternity Goals Seen Like College Aims

by Samuel D. Kossow

The American college fraternity, "a student organization according to Webster's Collegiate Dictionary) formed chiefly to promote friendship and welfare among the members, and usually having secret rites and a name consisting of Greek letters," has once again assumed into a heritage of learned and confused criticism. Many former fraternity members, now college presidents and senior reviews, are seriously questioning the "right" of the fraternity to exist in a changing academic community.

No longer does the fraternity have the advantage over most colleges in the physical and dining facilities it can offer the undergraduate. Especially in the East, where most of the older, prestigious, and wealthiest colleges and universities are located, this two-pronged assault of changing economics and changing philosophy is undermining the whole fraternity system.

Fraternities at Trinity are as old as the college itself. Two of the oldest fraternities in the country, the local societies of IKA and Beta Beta, from the Sigma of Delta Phi and the Beta Beta of Phi are united here long before the Trustees, anonyzed at what they fail to be an extensive number of Washington College fraternities, changed the name of this institution to Trinity.

In the 1840-year-old archives of the ICA activity, one faculty used to hire students to infiltrate the group and reveal the members. As a result, the early fraternities at the College discussed either their membership or even their existence. In 1879, Delta Phi became the first national fraternity to establish a chapter at Trinity. Before the Civil War, the development of fraternities into strong national bodies had been gradual.

Few of the fraternities had any method of inter-chapter cooperation, and it was not uncommon for one chapter to establish another without consulting any of its sister chapters. After the war, these chapters, sisterhoods, united to offer a common name and common principles, began to develop a single administrative machinery for a national fraternity.

As a result, the fraternity system grew rapidly. In a three-year period, lasting from 1877 to 1880, three more national fraternities—Alpha Delta Phi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Psi Upsilon—established chapters at Trinity.

By 1870, the fine art of Trinity fraternity politics had been perfected to such a fine degree that today's—Delta Phi, DKE, AI, IKA and Beta Beta—drew up a ritual schedule for the initiation of class officers, including the fine and revered possession of the class marshalship. It is assumed that the arrangement was not a lasting one.

Some fraternities, like Phi Gamma Delta, came and went. Some locals, such as Sigmas (now Sigma Chi), have inter-changed fraternities and national affiliations very quickly. The Trinity administration, as evidenced by some of the salient characteristics of the 1000's and 50's, remained firm in its policy of active encouragement and support of the fraternity system. As late as April II, 1963, the Trustees all had committees on fraternities in the report on the question of undergraduate autonomy in the selection of members, approved the following statement: "Fraternities over the years have played a vital role in the progress and success of Trinity College. In this world of rapid change, fraternities have in their power to all the college significantly in the education and development of their students."

While the Trustees committee was considering the colleges' position on the fraternity selection of members, approved the following statement:

The fraternity system and the IFC at Trinity have undergone what I would call a period of maturation and have come to the realization of the new responsibilities of fraternities and the demands upon them if they are to survive and thrive on the Trinity campus. For now, that all can or should be said, for this will be a year of action for the Trinity College Inter-Fraternity Council. IFC is just for the immediate future to record whether what I am saying are just empty words or plans for constructive action.

Fraternities as Active Centers Sought to Bring Campus Units

by Arnold Schwartzmann

IFC President

Over the past decade, the college fraternity system has changed to a great degree. No longer can the critic look at an undergraduate group of this type and lump them as intramural clubs formed to promote democracy and discrimination.

This is not to say, however, that all fraternity systems on every campus are beneficial to the life of the college community and their goals of academic achievement. If one looks at the entire fraternity system on the Trinity campus, he finds groups with diversified interests and purposes. At Trinity, the fraternity system cannot be stereotyped. Fraternity life at Trinity does not cater to one type of individual.

Academically the performance of the fraternities has been improving every year. Academic excellence of Trinity and individually has not been stifled by the fraternities. At many schools in the country, the fraternity system is fighting for its life, but I feel that this is because the fraternity has not realized its place in a changing campus atmosphere.

Trinity fraternities have awakened to the need for improvement and will not be reluctant in working towards goals which are beneficial to the college community. However the fraternity system at Trinity does have several areas where improvements should be stressed.
The following is a description of the 19th Century: "The history of the United States is filled with stories of Great Men and Great Events. It is a history of progress and achievement. It is a history of struggle and victory. It is a history of hope and despair. It is a history of..."
Danforth Aid Assists Future College Pros

Dr. Edmond LaB. Cherbonnier, professor of religion, has announced that information concerning the Danforth Graduate Fellowships to be awarded next March is now available.

The Fellowships, offered by the Danforth Foundation of St. Louis, Mo., are open to seniors who have serious interest in college teaching as a career and who plan to study for a Ph.D. in a field common to undergraduate college. Applicants may be single or married, must be less than thirty years of age at the time of application, and may not have undertaken any graduate or professional work beyond the baccalaureate.

Approximately 120 Fellowships will be awarded in March, 1966. Candidates must be nominated by liaison officers of their undergraduate institutions. The Foundation does not accept direct applications for the Fellowships. Dr. Cherbonnier is the liaison officer for Trinity.

Danforth Graduate Fellows are eligible for four years of financial assistance, with a maximum annual living stipend of $1,800 for single Fellows and $2,200 for married Fellows, plus tuition and fees. Dependence allowances are available if financial need is a condition for consideration.

Danforth Fellowships may hold other fellowships concurrently, and will be Danforth Fellows without stipend until the other awards lapse.

The Danforth Foundation, one of the nation's ten largest educational foundations, was founded in 1927 by the late William H. Danforth, St. Louis businessman and philanthropist. The Foundation's primary aim is to strengthen liberal education through programs of fellowships and workshops, and through grants to colleges, universities and other educational institutions.

U.S. History... (Continued from Page 8)

Is burden of it. The burden belongs to posterity. The burden of it. The burden belongs to posterity. The burden of it. The burden belongs to posterity. The burden of it. The burden belongs to posterity. The burden of it. The burden belongs to posterity. The burden of it. The burden belongs to posterity.

Forget all you've seen and heard about '66 cars. Because Coronet is here . . . sharp, smart and sassy, the greatest thing from Dodge since Year One. Loaded with luxury the higher-priced cars haven't caught onto yet. With a choice of five engines, each one designed to make the walls of Dullsville come tumbling down. And with a whole slew of standard equipment that used to cost extra. Like an outside rear view mirror. A padded dash for extra safety. Variable-speed electric windshield wipers and washers. Backup lights. Turn signals. Seat belts, two front and two rear. And, as some extra frosting on the Coronet cake, a 5-year or 50,000-mile warranty.* Enough said to get you really tempted? Now let's get away from the look-alike, drive-alike, first-cousin cars with Coronet, a car with a lively personality all its own.

*HERE'S HOW DODGE'S 5-YEAR, 50,000-MILE ENGINE AND DRIVE TRAIN WARRANTY PROTECTS YOU: Every Dodge passenger car sold in the U.S. comes from Dodge's factory brand new with a 5-year or 50,000-mile warranty on its engine and drive train. This means, for example, that if you owned a 1966 Coronet for five years or 50,000 miles, whichever came first, and the engine or drive train is damaged by materials or workmanship, you can have it repaired for free. The same is true if you purchased a 1966 Dodge with a warranty, and, under the conditions for this warranty, had to have it repaired at least twice by Dodge dealers in the first five years or 50,000 miles, whichever came first. For complete details see your local Dodge dealer. This warranty does not cover routine maintenance such as oil changes every 2,500 miles, or every 5 months, whichever comes first, and required maintenance such as air filter every 50,000 miles and rear wheel bearings.

REMEMBER: Dodge's 5-year, 50,000-mile warranty covers engine and drive train parts, including labor, for five years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first. It also covers any parts replaced at no cost to you if the original parts are covered or not. Dodge will pay for any replacement parts that are part of the original equipment installed on your car. Your local Dodge dealer will tell you how to make sure your car is covered. This warranty is transferable to the new owner of your car. Ask your local Dodge dealer about this valuable coverage. This warranty is subject to certain limitations and conditions. For complete details and limitations, see your local Dodge dealer.

Join the Dodge Rebellion at your Dodge Dealer's.

---

Kick the dull driving habit. Step out in a lively Dodge Coronet.
Do Fraternities Augment Education?

(Continued from Page 2)

It has been apparent to students that to delude the fraternity man into thinking that both the fraternity Immunity and the fraternity Fraternity system as an anchoretism, can it survive on ritual and social experience of the past hundred years. Too many of the rest of the college campuses, the fraternity can offer a vital service. Criticism and social areas of academic and social areas of student life. And this is a crucial stand. The future of the fraternity system is not so easily to be predicted. The students have to play in an increasingly rigorous and wholesome academic community.

The American college fraternity has grown from a prime gentlemen's club into a vitally important social institution. To many students, the fraternity represents an escape from college life into a world of its own. To others, it is simply a place to meet people who share similar interests and hobbies. But whatever the reason, the fraternity system plays a significant role in shaping the identity of college students.

Rahar's Now a Memory

As College Buys Tavern

by Roy Boulanger

Rahar's Tavern has become syn-chronized with the prime gentlemen's club into a vitally important social institution. To many students, the fraternity represents an escape from college life into a world of its own. To others, it is simply a place to meet people who share similar interests and hobbies. But whatever the reason, the fraternity system plays a significant role in shaping the identity of college students.

The tavern, which was located on the north side of campus, was renowned for its prime gentlemen's club atmosphere. It had been a popular gathering place for students and alumni, and its closure marks the end of an era for those who remember it fondly.

The change in Rahar's Tavern reflects a broader trend in college life, as many institutions seek to modernize and diversify their academic programs. This shift away from traditional social institutions like fraternities and sororities is part of a larger movement towards a more inclusive and accepting campus culture.

We extend an invitation to the entire student body to view the most extensive collection of prime gentlemen's clothing and accessories we have ever offered.
Booters Trample M.I.T. 6-3

Three Bantam fumbles, a bruising halfback, and a high, heavy out of bounds pass for 40 yards on field goal returning gave Bates their first victory over M.I.T. last Saturday at Cambridge. For early season play, the Bantons’ possing was extremely sharp, and even a strong wind could not stop them from completing a 6-3 rout of the Engineers.

Fumbles Hand Bates 32-14 Victory

OFFENSE - Trinity’s Bob Ochs (left) shown on the receiving end of the pinpoint pass play that marked the Bantons’ victory over M.I.T. lost Saturday at Cambridge. For early season play, the Bantons’ possing was extremely sharp, and even a strong wind could not stop them from completing a 6-3 rout of the Engineers.

Sharp Kicking, Strong Defense Provide Margin

Trinity’s soccer team received the first victory of the season last Saturday at M.I.T. with a half-length 4-4 victory over the Engineers. Despite a wind that seemed to make ball balls and accurate long passes impossible, the game was well played, especially by the goalies. Trinity’s Bill Schenker and M.I.T.’s Aaron Markowitz, both All-New England honorable mention, showed the small crowd how to protect the net. It was the superiority of the Bantams front line which provided the margin.

Early in the first period, Coach Roy Dath’s men pushed M.I.T. but excellent saves by Markowitz kept the game scoreless.

Finally, with 20 left, Trinity’s Al Gieslraberger booted the ball on an indirect kick to Bob Ochs who passed on to Mike Center in front of the goal. From there Center scored his first of four tallies.

The remainder of the period saw M.I.T. master and concentrate goal offense with a flurry of uneventful corner kicks of captain Schenker.

The second period started with some bad breaks for Trinity as both Al Noltemeyer and Bob Ochs hit the goal posts after getting off M.I.T.’s goal. With 15 left, Center converted a pass from Dave Cantrell into a drive with a left-footed boot from the upper right corner of the M.I.T. box. Trinity’s Bill Schweitzer made a daring save, often leaving the penalty area to break up a fast break. At 15, Center scored once more on a drive with a left-footed boot from the upper right corner of the M.I.T. box.

The third Bantam fumble came on their 11th play of the period to extend their advantage to 24-6. Several sophomores picked up valued sound experience this week. Joe McKeigue and Kim Miles intercepted passes, Larry Roberts played both defense and offense, and Jim Wilson filled in at center for the injured Broxton.

With an 0-2 record, the Bantons lose their last game 5-2 at 9 p.m. in the season’s home opener.

Reading 5 Vets Pace Cross Country

With the appointment of full varsity status this summer, Trinity’s cross country team under the leadership of Barron Almond is set to open the season against Coast Guard next week. As the starting line for the varsity will be a nucleus of five experienced performers, Capt. Dave Bureaux (the number one man) and Bob Gresinger (the number two man) are the ones to watch.

Burlington’s course was the number one runner

Defense - Craig Erhage (35) breaks up a M.I.T. play in the third quarter, as Charlie Hechaker (rear) comes up to lend a helping hand.
BERKELEY, Calif. (UTS) — Students at the Berkeley campus of the University of California are again uneasy, this time over new rules governing student activities.

The new regulations were issued September 15 and are aimed at preventing a statement of influence the university released last week, finding itself in the middle of a student protest over academic standards.

Students and faculty members were prepared to protest the changes, said a spokesman for the Free Speech Union (FSU), which has been at odds with the university since April.

Each Keepsake setting is a masterpiece of design, reflecting the full brilliance and beauty of a center diamond... a perfect gem of flawless clarity, fine color and meticulous modern cut. The name, Keepsake, in the ring and on the tag is your assurance of fine quality. Your way personal Keepsake is now at your Keepsake Jewelers' store. Find him in the yellow pages under "Jewelers."