Senate Wants Curriculum Meeting Open to Students

In the first meeting of the new Senate last Tuesday night, elections of officers were held, the Senate's highest priorities, the TCC's recommendation on parientals was endorsed, and steps were taken to insures the students a voice in the curriculum revision proposals. First on the agenda was the election of Vice-president-Treasurer, Recording Secretary, Corresponding Secretary, and Executive-at-Large. The nominations for the senate officers were interrupted by Robert Ferris '72 who declared that, according to the constitution, all new senators had to be present at the meeting for the elections to be valid. Three of the thirty-three senators were not present. Ferris, who organized the referendum held yesterday which tested the validity of the past senate elections, asserted that if the senate expects to make laws, it must follow those already in existence. Debate followed, questioning whe-

Students Must Ask Removal Of Probations

Disciplinary Probations resulting from last spring's Sit-In will be erased from records only upon the approval of the student and the Regestational Gerald R. Marshaltold the TRIPDO. 186 students were put on probation in May when the Trustees overruled the 3-1 decision of the Disciplinary Committee's proposed social work punishment. Created by the Trustees specifically for that occasion, it threatens suspension or expulsion upon a second violation. The Trustee move ignored a protest which included a two-fold faculty request for the probation's removal, and for Trustee participation in a review of judicial procedures. Though the first request was not met, Trustee did join the Commission on Regulatory Procedures which developed the judiciary system rejected by the students last fall. Senate President David Steuber '70 has established a new judiciary system as one of the Senate's highest priorities.

Faculty Vote Today On New Curriculum

Proposed Revisions Discussed At Meeting

by Richard Kilburn

At an all-college meeting, attended by less than 100 students, the final report on the Curriculum Revision Committee, to be voted on by the faculty today, was discussed by members of the faculty and students.

Most of those who spoke at the meeting agreed with Dr. Anthony Netting, assistant professor of history, who stated that the revised curriculum is "still caught in the old system of courses, grades and credits." In a TRIPDO interview Tuesday night, elected to the Vice-president-Treasurer post defeating Gerard W. Bartlett '70 and David G. Cold-berg '71. As Vice-president-Treasurer, he will be responsible for the receipt and disbursement of all funds and the accounting for them. His job should be increasingly more important in that it has in the past if the Senate follows the motion passed last year to control the students general fee.

Dr. Richard Lee, member of the Revision Committee, stated that "basically the committee has continued to opt for a curriculum which is built on the notion of fixed courses and an expectation that the student would continue to go along curricular paths." At the meeting Steele asked "why four years of independent study is not possibility as the basis of a student's program.

When this question was echoed by students in the audience, Committee member, Dr. Robert J. Steward, professor of mathemes, commented, "I don't think anything is impossible in this curriculum." Jeffrey C. Green '70, a member of the committee, stated that "great care has been taken in this report that all things are possible." He added that he thought the report had been pursued in such a way that an entering student might not realize that certain possibilities existed.

Steele stated that he expected some amendments to be proposed in the committee's recommendations when the report is presented (Continued on page 2)

Who Shall Decide?

Today, the faculty is voting on the report of the Committee on Curriculum Revision. The question that the TRIPOD would like to raise is when will the students get down to the business of exercising the same prerogative.

Thus far, the role of the student body in the preparation of the new curriculum has been insignificant. Considering the overriding importance of the issue, curriculum reform should have attracted the attention of the College's undergraduates. Rather than passively awaiting the report of the Curriculum Committee, they should have formulated their own academic priorities, and informed the Committee that they expect the demands to be incorporated into the final report.

The failure of the past Senate to respond to the November report of the Curriculum Committee was the most flagrant display of their lethargy. During the past two months, the Senate made no attempt to prepare an extensive critique of the new curriculum. We strongly endorse that motion, as the new curriculum will affect the lives of students no less than the will of the Senate of faculty members.

Recognizing that student involvement in the process of curriculum reform cannot be delayed any longer, the Senate has requested that the faculty open today’s meeting to the undergraduate community. We strongly endorse that motion, for students have every right to hear the arguments that will be made. The machine was so well regulated, I watched it work. All of its energy was concentrated on the task at hand. Regulated and efficient, it did what a beautiful, ordinary thing, fixed the watch when it was tiring. When it was tired, it shut off immediately for just the necessary amount of time. Even its rustling was perfectly measured. Moderation. And it was so very clean. I asked it once if it did not occasionally relish getting grit and flaky. "That's not very hygienic," it snapped, and shuffled itself into position. I tried to talk to it break it down a little, but it all said was about how much work it had to do. I tried to ask it questions - no problem at all for the machine. It answered every one perfectly and so very quickly. Later, it said that it needed some exercise. I watched it work. It put together a newspaper out of paper on which I had composed some "perfect" questions. No paper was at all for the machine. It answered every one perfectly and so very quickly.

As the new curriculum will affect the lives of students no less than it will the lives of faculty members, the Senate should begin preparations for an undergraduate vote on the report of the Curriculum Revision Committee. It should inform the Administration that acceptance of any proposed curriculum depends upon student approval.

The machine had been sufficiently frustrated by its refusal to answer any questions, they transported him across the people's border (which he never received). The people in Guatemala attempting to set up a government must know that the people in their area is in hopes of improving living conditions. When Arthur joined the guerrilla movement in that country after the argument that the aid from the United States was preventing the people from gaining a foothold,_fk Theus was no attempts made to aid him.) In Guatemala for many years now, there has been a guerrilla movement of considerable following and, contrary to popular opinion the Melvilles informed us, a government in the making. There has never been any question of an armed force or revolutionaries actively working against the government. Hence, it has become an organization that is 50 per cent of the population and is concerned with ending the current section only. American military aid, financial aid through the Alliance for Progress, and the US propaganda organization so cunningly entitled "Peace Corps" serve only the purpose of leaving a station of people that is better off. We believe that the people in Guatemala, and I am not speaking of the power elite, least American influence, in our grandiose programs to aid Latin American countries, we are only extending the life of the feudal structure existing now. The guerrillas offer a sound solution, they say. Mexico and Guatemala are in the same boat. No revolutionaries are allowed to have the satisfaction of being "the fault of the students" if a mistake has been made. Any questions, they transported him across the people's border (which he never received). The people in Guatemala attempting to set up a government must know that the people in their area is in hopes of improving living conditions. When Arthur joined the guerrilla movement in that country after the argument that the aid from the United States was preventing the people from gaining a foothold, the people in Guatemala attempting to set up a government must know that the people in their area is in hopes of improving living conditions.

While Hartford was recovering from the heavy snowfall last Monday, I was in that stronghold him across the people's border (which he never received). The people in Guatemala attempting to set up a government must know that the people in their area is in hopes of improving living conditions. When Arthur joined the guerrilla movement in that country after the argument that the aid from the United States was preventing the people from gaining a foothold, the people in Guatemala attempting to set up a government must know that the people in their area is in hopes of improving living conditions. When Arthur joined the guerrilla movement in that country after the argument that the aid from the United States was preventing the people from gaining a foothold, the people in Guatemala attempting to set up a government must know that the people in their area is in hopes of improving living conditions.
College Concert to Feature Classic, Modern Works

The Symposium Band of the College under the direction of Baird Hastings will present its winter concert this evening. The program will be on the theme of "The Encounter," and will be characterized by its strong sabre squad.

Featured French composers in this concert will be Hector Berlioz (the centenary of whose death is being commemorated by several events), and Jacques Offenbach, whose operetta "The Tales of Hoffmann," whose whose birth is being celebrated. Berlioz is represented on this program by the famous overtures to his first two operas: "BEATRICE ET BENEDICT" and "SIMONE." Most of his best-known works are from his most famous hits performed at this concert. Strauss and Sullivan, will have selections from the toast of operas; BEATRICE ET BENEDICT (after Shakespeare), and LA MARIANNE (after Voltaire) will be shown in McCook Auditorium Saturday night. The action begins at 8 p.m. from the sea play by Eugene O'Neill and photog raphed by one of the great cameramen of all time, Gregg Toland, THE LONG OVERSEAS HOME was made just after Ford was elected Governor of WHART and shows the starkness and degradement quality of its famous predecessor, also photographed by Toland, THE LONG OVERSEAS HOME was made just after Ford was elected Governor of WHART and shows the starkness and degradement quality of its famous predecessor, also photographed by Toland, THE LONG OVERSEAS HOME was made just after Ford was elected Governor of WHART and shows the starkness and degradement quality of its famous predecessor, also photographed by Toland, THE LONG OVERSEAS HOME was made just after Ford was elected Governor of

Fencers Tackle Tigers

Trinity's fencing journey to Princeton tomorrow to tangle with its new rival is another step in the quest to escape last year's destiny. It is forecasted to be a powerful foe.

The Alpha Chi Chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon announces the election of the following officers: President: Jeffrey W. Gordon '69; Vice-President: Edward A. Altdorfer '69; Treasurer: John H. Kelleher '70; Secretary: Dale Buchholz '70; Security: Bruce Brinckerhoff '70; House Manager: D. B. Brackett '71; Social Chairman: William H. Green '69; Athletics: John B. Davis, Hugh Kenworthy, Pat Johnson, and Bill Sloane.

Faculty Basketball

Basketball at its best comes to Trinity this Wednesday evening when the faculty faces the intramural all-stars, followed by a tilt between the Vassar girls and the Track team. The action begins at 7 p.m.

The faculty brings an unusual amount of power, speed, and finesse to the occasion. Drs. Creasey, Cobbedick, the duo of Loyd and Crawford and Galbraith, the Ex-Presbyterian great Hyland, and Staudt, T. Balch, Danah, W. Davis, T. Woolsey, and N. Neuman. Included in the cast are Linda Davis, Hugh Kenworthy, Pat Johnson, and Bill Sloane.

Hockey Anyone?

The Trinity hockey team entertains New Haven tomorrow night in what is billed as the "first Harvard-Catholic Cup." The contest should be quite exciting and there will be a good audience able to find out where hockey is the game begins at 8 p.m. at the Hartford Arena.

Directions to Hartford Arena: Take Rt. 84 to the East Windsor exit (go off exact same right hand side as first stoplight, then go about 200 yards and turn left at the stoplight. Go about one mile down this road, across railroad tracks, to the first stoplight. Turn left onto the divided highway. The right is about two miles down the road. The left on the left. Set back about 1/4 miles from the road. There is a place right in front of the road to cross the highway, and the choice makes this road very fast. Make an appointment through the Placement Office to see Equitable's employment representative on Tuesday, February 17, 1969 or write: Lionel M. Stovem, Manager, College Employment.
Trinity Squash Squads Clobber Wesleyan

Frosh Rip Cardinals 9-0 For Fifth Straight Win

The freshman squash team continues to set the pace in the winter sports season.

The racquet eers of Mike Moonves won their fifth match in a row Wednesday, crushing Wesleyan 9-0. The triumph brought their record to 8-2, far better than any other winter sports team. The Baby Bantams travel to Trinity-Pawling for a match tomorrow.

Third man Frank MacGruer was first in the court for Trinity and he quickly disposed of his opposition, winning 15-6, 15-5, 15-9. Alex Aubry, playing number six, was doing similar things, only somewhat harder, as he triumphed 15-13, 15-11, 15-10.

Captain Jay Davis came onto the court, won his first game 15-9, was beaten 15-10 in the second, but stormed back to triumph 15-11, 15-8. Fourth man Dick Palmer took 25 minutes to warm up, but it was worth it as he won 15-5, 15-9, 15-8. Barney Fiechter had a tiresome, but not difficult match at fifth spot as he won by scores of 15-12, 15-9, 8-15, 15-8.

Pete Robinson triumphed at seventh spot 15-10, 15-4, 8-15, 17-15. Rob Atwater let his opponent take the first game 17-16, but then Trinity's eighth man charged back to win the next three 15-10, 15-9, 15-6. Ninth man Bill Morrison took four games, but Alex won, 15-12, 15-17, 15-11, 15-14.

As the sun began to set over Ferris Center, Trinity's top cham- ber one John Happe and bottom chamber man Richard Fried playing an exhibition match took to the courts. Happe quickly beat his man 15-4, 15-5, and 15-4, while "Hammerin Hank" "lost" 1-3, but the deciding game was called with the Wesleyan ahead 5-3.

Coach Moonves commented on further Trinity matches, "If we stay psyched up we can beat Wesleyan when we play them again. Trinity-Pawling could be a sleeper. Choate will be a true test. They beat Deerfield, while we lost to Deerfield. If we go the rest of the way unbeaten, I'd be willing to put this team up against any frosh team in the country."

Moonves's reasons for their success this year are, "They are experienced players who have displayed constant hustle and fierce competitive spirit."

---

Dathmen End Drought, Knock Out Cardinals 7-2

It's been a long time coming — After a drought of over a month, the varsity squash team finally got back on the winning road Wednesday, whipping Wesleyan 7-2 on the Trinity courts.

The bottom half of the lineup provided much of the power for the triumph as the top three Trinity men struggled, but managed victories in two of the three matches. Five of the last six men triumphed to ice the victory. The Dathmen travel to West Point tomorrow to meet an always tough Army team.

While Trinity top man Pete Wiles was defeated 3-0, captain Mike Beautyman, recently shifted to the second spot, and Bob Hardy both took close matches by identical scores of three games to two. Fourth man Pete Campbell also emerged victorious, blanking his opponent, 3-0.

Norm Hanney also had a relatively easy time, triumphing 3-1. Confusion occurred surrounding Trinity's sixth man, inadvertently, as the court positions were mixed up, Earl Millard, who usually plays seventh, played Wesleyan's sixth man, while sixth man Spencer Knapp played the seventh man. However, even if Trinity forfeited both matches, the Bantams would have won, Wesleyan should be happy for the one triumph they got out of the entire mix-up as Millard was beaten narrowly, 3-2, Spencer Knapp won easily 3-0.

Mike Ramseur continued his consistent play, winning 2-0, while Nick Booth, playing ninth also won 3-1.

The Bantams get another crack at the Wesman in the final match of the season, journeying to Middletown for a February 26 tilt.