Camp-Out Protests Room Shortage

Faculty Seeks New Decision On R.O.T.C.

Anti-War Petition Circulates

President's Meeting With Students Described as 'Boring Talk Fest'

Faculty Seeks New Decision On R.O.T.C. by Mike Zimmerman

Random samples of faculty opinion on the question of AFROTC on the College campus showed no clear preference to be polled to be moderately indifferent to the issue. Few of those spoken to either strongly supported or rejected the current "Controf Campus Milliar-

Recalling that "twenty years ago, when ROTC came to Trinity, I wondered if it deserved credit, and as it turned out, it probably didn't," a people and students motion to raise our voices again, to reexamine some of our priorities and an increased concern and increasing frustration at the way the war is being conducted and its impact on our involvement in Vietnam.

Meanwhile, Director of External and Community Affairs Thomas Smith noted that a realistic estimate of dormitory beds needed in September, when ROTC came to Trinity, I questioned if it deserved credit, and as it turned out, it probably didn't," a people and students motion to raise our voices again, to reexamine some of our priorities and an increased concern and increasing frustration at the way the war is being conducted and its impact on our involvement in Vietnam.
As the first year of the Lockwood Administration draws to a close, we cannot help but consider the character and quality of the leadership that the President of the College has provided. The TRIPOD offers this evaluation not as a final judgment, for we realize that Dr. Lockwood is just beginning to define his goals for Trinity.

In terms of fulfilling his primary objectives, Dr. Lockwood has been exceptionally successful since assuming his responsibilities as President last July. He has demonstrated a remarkable ability to inspire a conservative Board of Trustees to accept liberal innovations. The administration played a decisive role in convincing the trustees that the transition to coeducation is vital to the survival of the College, and that a substantial increase in faculty salaries must be the institution's principle financial priority.

However, Dr. Lockwood has not been without criticism. While it is difficult to determine precisely the reasons for the President's unsatisfying relationship with the student body, we believe that the problem has its origin in his first all-College address. Dr. Lockwood's unwarranted hard-line on campus discipline caused an outburst of criticism that must be considered in determining his role in the problems.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the undergraduate community, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

The problems that have occurred at the College during the last nine months prove that Dr. Lockwood is a man eminently qualified to govern the institution. It is for this reason that it is imperative that he give careful consideration to the problem of his isolation from the undergraduate community of the College. It is not necessary for a college president to be a charismatic leader, nor would we appreciate a back-slapping politico who prides himself on the fact that he knows every student by his nickname. But it is essential for a college president as aloof from the undergraduate community as his predecessor was the undergraduate community. He is still a remote figure who appears incapable of understanding of the issues that concern the undergraduate community. It is not necessary for a college president to be a man whose every move is publicized. It is important that he be able to develop effective channels of communication with the undergraduate community, for he has shown an understanding of the issues that concern the undergraduate community.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

Inscrutability is a quality that is essential to a college president. He should be able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

The philosophy of an education is that it must be broad based so that Black students may be able to relate to the academic society to deal with the problem of discrimination, poverty, and frustration. Dr. Lockwood's unwarranted hard-line on campus discipline caused an outburst of criticism that must be considered in determining his role in the problems.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.

It is both unfortunate and surprising that Dr. Lockwood has not been able to develop effective channels of communication with the student body, for he has consistently shown a desire to understand student concerns. His Tuesday meeting with students over the issue of dormitory space indicates his willingness to gain a broad understanding of undergraduate attitudes that he must acquire if he is to be a successful President.
HELP Member Finds Lockwood's Response Satisfying, Edifying

Continued from page 1
Members of the organization had not yet met with the Faculty Robert W. Fuller for this reason in which he has dealt with certain faculty members. Gillis stated that this subject was "more of a less responsive to the interacvisions between BSLP and Lockwood. Randolph S. Gutz '70 said of some of the criticisms made by lack of "unnecessary" and comment-that further discussions concern-g Fuller's actions "will be taken Other questions raised by the group in their open letter con-ship policy and the possibility of instituting a 'fixed' tuition at the in his reply to the group Lockwood commented that "it is impossible to fix tuition if a country we cannot fix inflation." "I am not looking to be so rapid to per-us to realistically fix our tuition
four years in advance," continued.
expected. "I am not looking to be so rapid to per-
us to realistically fix our tuition
four years in advance," continued.

The organization also questionthe College's decision to allow military induction stations for students. The group asked whether this would produce "a situation of economic extremes" at the College. In his letter, Lockwood stated that a situation of "economic extremes" would "dictate our goals as a Col-

Lockwood concluded his letter by expressing his "disap-ment" in the lack of "student involvement" in the open meetings of groups and student org.
Lockwood stated that he will "either get ourselves and this College to get involved in this or we'll kill the organisation and stop prett-ing we care," Seneca '69.

Lockwood also wrote about the "student body is receiving financial and support from" various groups and that he "hasn't lost his willingness to "take into consideration the group's views while giving "due review to the questions of financial aid and aid to students."

TIC Appoints New Directors

The Trinity Interaction Center has reorganized itself for the third time this year. "This time," Chair-Teddy Sturges said, "we're not just either get ourselves and this College to get involved in this or we'll kill the organisation and stop prett-ing we care," Seneca '69.

"We are now an agency under the we've been asked to serve on the new board, which includes
Debbie, Miller, Miller, Miller, Dec-

Christian Gray '72

Campus Housing, 1969

CAPACITY, 1969-1970

Dorm. No. of Name Bldg. Op
Cap in of Cap
20
27
128
50
49
137
38
29
25
174
117
93
42
1300

FRATERNITY CAPACITY

These capacities indicate what number of men could be housed in the fraternity houses.

Alpha Chi Rho 15
Pi Kappa Alpha 10
Phi Delta 25
Epsilon Phi 15
Delta Kappa Epsilon 11

Total 1375

Expected Enrollment, September, 1969: 1935*

Faculty 'Indifferent' to ROTC Question

(Continued from page 1)

out, we were all thankful that we had the ROTC detachment so that we were able to keep some students.

In 1965, at the height of the fighting in Korea, 951 students were enrolled in the ROTC proto the time, the number constituted well over one-half of the student body.

Noting that "as a member of the Air Force, I feel the irony of the campaign," Dow said, "I am inười that I think the time has come for us to re-examine the relationship."

Stewart said that he felt it neecessary to "look at problems in of their magnitude. There are enough serious problems facing our nation today."

Describing himself as not a member of any political party, Stewart noted that he was a by the ROTC credit, under the new current curriculum credit may be received for physical education. In conclusion, Dr. Foster said that he had his belief that "dropping ROTC work anything else - it wasn't to work anything else - it wasn't more than just to not do it.""Am

The United States cesse to impossible to fix tuition if a country we cannot fix inflation."
The College is considering this issue for four years in advance.

The organization also questioned
the College's decision to allow military induction stations for students. The group asked whether this would produce "a situation of economic extremes" at the College. In his letter, Lockwood stated that a situation of "economic extremes" would "dictate our goals as a Col-\n Lockwood concluded his letter by expressing his "disap-ment" in the lack of "student involvement" in the open meetings of groups and student org.
Lockwood stated that he will "either get ourselves and this College to get involved in this or we'll kill the organisation and stop prett-ing we care," Seneca '69.

"We are now an agency under the
we've been asked to serve on the new board, which includes
Debbie, Miller, Miller, Miller, Dec-

Christian Gray '72

anti-War

Pettit

RICE

A new feature will be instituted on Monday May 3 for students to whom ends or riders (in this case an enormous globular ageless thing that we call a "water balloon") on our campus.
He was followed into the room by a group of riders, who with a light in their eyes of imagination and an army of our bodies. Our souls remain intact.

In an apparent recourse to Trinity College's "judicial system," with the open meetings, for we have appeal to the public conscience and the highest Cour-Respectfully,

The Brothers Four

To the Editor,

"ROTC (not to be confused with "WRTC")

Ploys that the policy of the suppression of dissent by military army, or what have you, is by designed to silence the truth (this is mere dulity) a destructive effect on the policy of "diverse student body," and therefore should be suppressed (this is philosophical indoctrination).
and that I PLOY in this natural way, is it stupid and philosophically indef-nensible.

Counter-counter-ploy (not to be confused with "WRTC")

In no way all wrapped up in your own testament of conglomerate (un-think and don't know where it's at; furthermore, you are a dirty minded and such)

Counter-counter-ploy (not to be confused with "WRTC")

you people decide since it is an insignificant issue and so that they can
...
didn't know where it's at; furthermore, you are a dirty minded and such)

Christopher Gray '72

"ape-shaped android"

"To the Editor,

We are writing this letter in hope that it will be published in spite of persons offering rides.

A list in Mather Hall will be made of dormitory beds needed, 1968-69.
A separate, but similar list will be made of persons offering rides.

This will mean that about 125 students will live off campus.

A list in Mather Hall will be made
of dormitory beds needed, 1968-69.
A separate, but similar list will be made of persons offering rides.

This will mean that about 125 students will live off campus.

...
Miles King. They continue to struggle its seventh game in eight starts. Once again Zachry reached first on a fielder's choice, before scoring on Steve Fink's single. Scoring settled down one again until the Bants struck for their another fielder's choice, before scoring on Steve Fink's single. The Bantams' first tally. 2-0, and went to third on an inning when Fink singled, stole second, and went to third on an hit. The Hilltoppers added another run in the bottom of the first when Zachry reached first on a fielder's choice. With Zachry at second, while free passes to Jim Doyle and Dave Nichols loaded the bases. Trinity decided to score the easy way, as the bases were loaded and Fink reached first this time to Tom Birmingham, scored the Hilltoppers' final tally. The Bants wound up with seven hits, but only three of them were with a single run in its half of the game. The Bantams to preserve the Trinity victory. Trinity wound up with seven hits to the Hilltoppers' three, with a pair of singles apiece.

Frosh Come Close

UMass Rips Stickmen

The Trinity Lacrosse team has survived a nightmare, losing to an "improving" University of Mass., team 2-1 to have on Tuesday. Totally outclassed at every position, the Hilltoppers' bases were treated to a practical lesson in controlled play despite commendable efforts to avoid what might have been the Summit Street massacre witnessed to the end by two Trinity fans. The Hilltoppers outplayed by a few startlad lacrosse enthusiasts. Unprepared for such a drop, the Trinity lacrosse squad had the ability to maintain its own confidence in the face of impossible odds. Unfortunately, the college community at large was unaware of the extent to which lacrosse prowess is shown at the University of Mass. In this context, the Bantams can only hope to learn from such an encounter. Although the UMass instructors were somewhat less than understanding in outlining their success formula, the Hilltoppers' players were persuaded enough to correct some of their defensive inefficiencies as the game progressed. Yet in each instance, State Auntie's坚持 with a new offensive formation designed to further sabotage their helpless foes. Defensively, the local stick was watched, but not to the extent that they can be considered interior to the schedules' remaining back. But the competition includes M.I.T., Valve, and Westsyro. Such an analysis is not meant to discourage the Trinity team or its supporters for they can only learn from this experience. To play well after those remaining opponents, despite the overtones of such a one-sided score.

Netmen Beat Rhode Island

The Trinity tennis team notched its second straight victory of the season at the hands of Rhode Island Island yesterday at the Trinity tennis courts. The netmen, coached by Roy Deth, scored four singles victories and two doubles victories in defeating Rhode Island. They take on M.I.T. tomorrow, dark. Captain Mike Beautyman continued his fine play at number one as he triumphed 6-2, 6-4, 6-3. Chuck Wright needed three sets to win 6-4, 6-3, 6-2. Sophomore Ron Cretaro, playing fourth, won 6-4, 6-3. Bill Anderson lost the first set at sixth, gave it back to 4-6, 6-3, 6-3. The Bantams needed two doubles victories to clinch the match. They got them as Beautyman and Wright teamed to win 6-4, 6-4, and the tandem of Alan Gibby-Cretaro triumphed 6-4, 6-3.

Coasties Top Hitters; Errors Prove Costly

The Trinity baseball team dropped its seventh game in eight starts yesterday against Tufts at home by a 5-2 score. The Bantams continued their 12-3 losing streak by dropping their 11th straight game after a campaign by commuting members of the area's more feared hitters. Sophomore Norman "Caesar" Aprill, baseball's answer to the torrid Jay Bernardoni, who is cur- tains. It also builds cash values giving you and the family future life insurance needs. Some wierd things have come out again.

1. Pipe broken?
2. That's why you keep your money
Sometimes I put it in the flower pot.
3. What's wrong with the bank?
I'd only take it right out again.
4. But that's what you're doing now.
5. I think you'd be a lot better off putting some of your dough into Living Insurance from Equitable. It not only gives you and the family you're going to have a lifetime of protection, it also builds cash values you can use for emergencies, or even retirement.
6. I wonder if it could be with the french fries?