Senate Considers Constitution Plan
Tables Re-election Motion

The Senate Sunday night tabled a motion calling for new elections in order to amend a constitutional amendment providing for re-election of student members. A similar amendment calling for "residential representatives" from the dormitory wherein they reside was narrowly rejected last Wednesday. The new proposal deletes the stipulation necessitating that all dormitory they propose to represent, live in dormitories. The non-residents of the dormitories to be elected are to be selected by dorm, and a list from each of the residing sophomore, junior, and senior dormitories.

The Senate adopted a motion asking that the Trinity College Constitution Committee convene a Wednesday meeting in Wean Lounge this week. As it requests discussion of the "inaccessibility" of previous TCC meetings. The motion was passed by a vote of 22-9, 7 members abstaining.

Spock Condemns Vietnam Policy
In University of Connecticut Talk

Dr. Benjamin Spock, noted anti-war leader and pediatrician, denounced the Nixon Administration's "war policy" as "an insult to the intelligence of the American people" in an address at the University of Connecticut last week.

"It is not a 'good deal of hatred on this planet' that we need," he said, referring to the ongoing demonstrations against the war. "It is a 'pacifier, a sop, an insult to the intelligence of the American people' in a speech before an audience on the University of Connecticut campus Thursday. Spock called on students to "scare the hell out of" the war movement. In one move, he urged students to help "pacify" the war, and urged students at UConn to organize themselves for anti-war action.

"The war," he said, "has been a "good deal of hatred on this planet." It is a "pacifier, a sop, an insult to the intelligence of the American people" in a speech before an audience on the University of Connecticut campus Thursday. Spock called on students to "scare the hell out of" the war movement. In one move, he urged students to help "pacify" the war, and urged students at UConn to organize themselves for anti-war action.

Frat Selectivity Proposal Tabbed, Awaits Election

Last semester's controversial proposal to bring fraternity selectivity under Senate control remained tabbed in the background this week while the Senate debated its own reorganization proposals. The proposal was tabled last spring to allow time to draw up new guidelines for the local fraternity chapter. The proposal was similar to one made last year by the Student Senate. The Senate passed a motion allowing for the immediate tabling of the proposal.

Non-Western Colloquium

On Wednesday, September 24, the Non-Western Studies Colloquium held a special discussion on the roots of Bunting Moor's concept of "The Politics of Origins of Dictatorship and Democracy." Participants in the panel will include Professor Robert Ossian, (Chairman, Political Science Department), India Prof, Anthony Netting, and the political dissent within the community. The Symposium's closing session was attended by several hundred students, faculty, and alumni.

Students Feel Lockwood Plan Weakens Position

In his composition address last Monday, Lockwood suggested the establishment of a "defensive body" to decide questions of "general college policy." Students, staff, and administrators and alumni would comprise the board, he said.

Matters affecting only one constituency, however, would not be decided by the governing board, according to the president. Preston stated that Lockwood's suggestion was made in response to the "information-gathering organization" approved by the Senate.

In another, a "partisan" issue was brought to the attention of the Senate. The "information-gathering organization" approved by the Senate was presented to the Senate as a "false statement" by the students. The Senate will consider the implications of the proposal. (Continued on Page 2)
Latin Conference Held At Wesleyan

review

‘Last Summer’ Convincing

Braving myself for another 'tell - it - like - it - is - about - America' film, I went to LAST SUMMER at the E. M. Loew's expectantly. I expected to see a beautiful movie by some middle-aged director, actually putting by on the fact and calling us how much fun it is to watch. I guess I am happy to say that I was wrong, but only partly.

Just with the film's opening sequence, which at first I thought would not let us be lulled into a false sense of security, Perry is working with a clever credit sequence with your and my favorite rock group, The Rolling Stones. Perry throws us into the initial excitement by two young hopeless lovers between three of the main characters, two blood who are friends (one has a large mustache on his cheek) and a beautiful long-haired girl just a beautiful body and she knows it. But she is no ordinary girl, peripheral to the story is THE DEADLY KATHELIANELOSS. We get a smiley face on screen for a little while and all this evening comes out.

In the end, what Perry is trying to do is to present with the term "spic" or "Latino-American" working in the office of Economic Opportunity and Miguel Suarez, who works with Puerto Rican migrant workers in Connecticut, was in attendance as guest speakers.

Professor Pastasek spoke extensively about the inadequate identification among the Puerto Rican students playing a word association game - Someone said "Puerto Rican" I thought, "German" and the professor identified. She addressed the relationship of the sense of the composition of the Puerto Rican students studied by D.J. Roilerl among others. This Miss Pusetas hoped that colleges and universities in the New England area would be aware of the concept, and that it would be the intention of these students were forced to resort to violence to see that this was done. "The fact that they can do this out of misgiving, or think that if I am not being a favor, it is our right", she declared to conclude her speech.

Vicente Jimenez represented the Mexican-American viewpoint. He predicted close cooperation between Puerto Rican and Mexican-American students in the coming years.

The students participated discussed these and related problems. It was decided to emphasize the Puerto Rican aspect of the situation, and that the term "spic" was inaccurate and only used by anyone outside of the Puerto Rican group in reference to Puerto Rican students.

Manuel Del Valle, President of the Puerto Rican Students' Association at Princeton, originated the idea for the conference. He was assisted by several other Puerto Rican students. The necessary funds, $160, were raised through the Ford Foundation through the efforts of Del Valle.

Students from eleven colleges and universities, including Fordham, the University of Vermont, Trinity College, Trinity, M.H. Holyoke, Princeton, and New York University, as well as Puerto Rican students from the greater New York Metropolitan area and Illinois, represented in ASPIRA, a Puerto Rican student group in New York, was also represented.

The College was represented by members of the Board of Overseers, including New England.

The Friendly committee suggested that the Friendly committee study ways to strenghten the central administration by putting the students in touch with officers "aided to detect trouble". To this end, the meeting between all segments of the Harvard community are "rather rotated and it will be a good idea to have one or two people at all times with the student body in mind, who will live in the area, and who will have to decide between them and the residents they will have to decide between the two sides.

The committee's report called for the center to be "an active center of their primary task of learning" and recognition that "a difference of opinion is not a question of hypocrisy." The report held that students would not be ready and violence across the nation stemmed from the Vietnam war and the age of '50s.

"The majority of the Harvard students have not been fully adjusted and many considered it to be "politically immature," the report said.

Widespread concern over the problems of Puerto Rican and Mexican-American students was also stated.

TRIPNDY TRIPJD

September 23, 1969

Navy Programs

Students interested in Navy officer programs can consult Dr. R.D. Foulke at the Multicultural Center at 4 p.m.

Navy programs will be available on Sunday at 7 p.m. at the Multicultural Center. The film "Last Summer" will be shown at 2:45 to 4 p.m. in the Multicultural Center.

This is the time for ready little dabbler of stardom to start creating...

This film is a must for all the kids...

Frununda: The Blues Exchange

D.J. Reiler

The American Blues Exchange is about to join the ranks of thousands of other groups. This month, for a few weeks, they recorded a new album and their group, called LAST SUMMER, will go to the Scholarship Fund. The jobs were good, new material was slow in coming, and big blocks were given charity, every ordinary, every human, every ordinary, every human.

"What Frank Perry has done in LAST SUMMER is to present several interesting relationships between a group of teenagers in a more convincing and honest way than has been seen before in fully-fledged movies. When the film is over, kids (and they do it well) will be ready to watch, but only when they start producing the most powerful and the most influential films that have ever been made, they really were good,"

Therefore, we leave Nativity for a while and open the credits. In the last scene, we see the young black man standing in front of the blue wood type movies. When the kids go to see a successful movie, "The Blues Exchange will be the most important thing to them because it will help them understand the black people, their needs, and the importance of the Blues Exchange. Didn't they make a movie that was so successful that it even made the headlines?... In fact, they really were good.

The Blues Exchange is about to join the ranks of thousands of other groups. This month, for a few weeks, they recorded a new album and their group, called LAST SUMMER, will go to the Scholarship Fund. The jobs were good, new material was slow in coming, and big blocks were given charity, every ordinary, every human, every ordinary, every human.

"What Frank Perry has done in LAST SUMMER is to present several interesting relationships between a group of teenagers in a more convincing and honest way than has been seen before in fully-fledged movies. When the film is over, kids (and they do it well) will be ready to watch, but only when they start producing the most powerful and the most influential films that have ever been made, they really were good,"

Therefore, we leave Nativity for a while and open the credits. In the last scene, we see the young black man standing in front of the blue wood type movies. When the kids go to see a successful movie, "The Blues Exchange will be the most important thing to them because it will help them understand the black people, their needs, and the importance of the Blues Exchange. Didn't they make a movie that was so successful that it even made the headlines?... In fact, they really were good.

The Blues Exchange is about to join the ranks of thousands of other groups. This month, for a few weeks, they recorded a new album and their group, called LAST SUMMER, will go to the Scholarship Fund. The jobs were good, new material was slow in coming, and big blocks were given charity, every ordinary, every human, every ordinary, every human.

"What Frank Perry has done in LAST SUMMER is to present several interesting relationships between a group of teenagers in a more convincing and honest way than has been seen before in fully-fledged movies. When the film is over, kids (and they do it well) will be ready to watch, but only when they start producing the most powerful and the most influential films that have ever been made, they really were good,"

Therefore, we leave Nativity for a while and open the credits. In the last scene, we see the young black man standing in front of the blue wood type movies. When the kids go to see a successful movie, "The Blues Exchange will be the most important thing to them because it will help them understand the black people, their needs, and the importance of the Blues Exchange. Didn't they make a movie that was so successful that it even made the headlines?... In fact, they really were good.

The Blues Exchange is about to join the ranks of thousands of other groups. This month, for a few weeks, they recorded a new album and their group, called LAST SUMMER, will go to the Scholarship Fund. The jobs were good, new material was slow in coming, and big blocks were given charity, every ordinary, every human, every ordinary, every human.

"What Frank Perry has done in LAST SUMMER is to present several interesting relationships between a group of teenagers in a more convincing and honest way than has been seen before in fully-fledged movies. When the film is over, kids (and they do it well) will be ready to watch, but only when they start producing the most powerful and the most influential films that have ever been made, they really were good,"

Therefore, we leave Nativity for a while and open the credits. In the last scene, we see the young black man standing in front of the blue wood type movies. When the kids go to see a successful movie, "The Blues Exchange will be the most important thing to them because it will help them understand the black people, their needs, and the importance of the Blues Exchange. Didn't they make a movie that was so successful that it even made the headlines?... In fact, they really were good.

The Blues Exchange is about to join the ranks of thousands of other groups. This month, for a few weeks, they recorded a new album and their group, called LAST SUMMER, will go to the Scholarship Fund. The jobs were good, new material was slow in coming, and big blocks were given charity, every ordinary, every human, every ordinary, every human.

"What Frank Perry has done in LAST SUMMER is to present several interesting relationships between a group of teenagers in a more convincing and honest way than has been seen before in fully-fledged movies. When the film is over, kids (and they do it well) will be ready to watch, but only when they start producing the most powerful and the most influential films that have ever been made, they really were good,"

Therefore, we leave Nativity for a while and open the credits. In the last scene, we see the young black man standing in front of the blue wood type movies. When the kids go to see a successful movie, "The Blues Exchange will be the most important thing to them because it will help them understand the black people, their needs, and the importance of the Blues Exchange. Didn't they make a movie that was so successful that it even made the headlines?... In fact, they really were good.

The Blues Exchange is about to join the ranks of thousands of other groups. This month, for a few weeks, they recorded a new album and their group, called LAST SUMMER, will go to the Scholarship Fund. The jobs were good, new material was slow in coming, and big blocks were given charity, every ordinary, every human, every ordinary, every human.

"What Frank Perry has done in LAST SUMMER is to present several interesting relationships between a group of teenagers in a more convincing and honest way than has been seen before in fully-fledged movies. When the film is over, kids (and they do it well) will be ready to watch, but only when they start producing the most powerful and the most influential films that have ever been made, they really were good,"

Therefore, we leave Nativity for a while and open the credits. In the last scene, we see the young black man standing in front of the blue wood type movies. When the kids go to see a successful movie, "The Blues Exchange will be the most important thing to them because it will help them understand the black people, their needs, and the importance of the Blues Exchange. Didn't they make a movie that was so successful that it even made the headlines?... In fact, they really were good.

The Blues Exchange is about to join the ranks of thousands of other groups. This month, for a few weeks, they recorded a new album and their group, called LAST SUMMER, will go to the Scholarship Fund. The jobs were good, new material was slow in coming, and big blocks were given charity, every ordinary, every human, every ordinary, every human.

"What Frank Perry has done in LAST SUMMER is to present several interesting relationships between a group of teenagers in a more convincing and honest way than has been seen before in fully-fledged movies. When the film is over, kids (and they do it well) will be ready to watch, but only when they start producing the most powerful and the most influential films that have ever been made, they really were good,"

Therefore, we leave Nativity for a while and open the credits. In the last scene, we see the young black man standing in front of the blue wood type movies. When the kids go to see a successful movie, "The Blues Exchange will be the most important thing to them because it will help them understand the black people, their needs, and the importance of the Blues Exchange. Didn't they make a movie that was so successful that it even made the headlines?... In fact, they really were good."
Q: How Does A Student With A Limited Budget (There's No Other Kind) Get The Most Out Of His Taste In Music?

Lucius B. Fargenswallow III, economics major on a limited budget.

A: Find A Store That:
1) avoids "Brand X" equipment
2) knows and cares what it's doing
3) can offer the best equipment in terms of Performance/Dependability within the context of a limited budget.

Kenwood KA 2000 AMP $89.50
KLH 21 FM Radio $89.95
Sennheiser Phones $29.95
Kenwood KT1000 Tuner $89.50
Sony 252 Deck $119.50
KLH 24 Complete FM Music System $299.95

We Welcome Questions

Sound Ideas, Inc. Tel. 236-3571 20 Raymond Road West Hartford, Conn. 06107
It appears certain that the current session of the Trinity College Senate will dissolve itself on Sunday. No doubt its reign has been the least productive in recent history; perhaps its only accomplishment was demonstrating once and for all the inadequacy of student governance at the College.

The reasons for this inadequacy are not mysterious. There are first of all structural problems, and the Senate has taken steps to eliminate them. Hopefully, its death-wish can be contained long enough to pass legislation, because the legislators themselves are its cause. It is the demonstration once and for all the inadequacy of student governance at Trinity College.

The reasons for this inadequacy are not mysterious. There are first of all structural problems, and the Senate has taken steps to eliminate them. Hopefully, its death-wish can be contained long enough to pass legislation, because the legislators themselves are its cause. It is the demonstration once and for all the inadequacy of student governance at Trinity College.
[LETTERS TO THE EDITOR]

ode to allen

To the Editor:

Things to inform our present and dormitory campus of the former lives of the Allen dormitories.

To abandon my treasures, priceless, and cry, shamelessly, for surrender...

By Alan Marchisotto

By Randolph Friedman

WHY ARE WE WITH THE NEW

This year's freshmen should be being especially deprived about now. They were treated to a soporific freshman week which emphasized the new curricular theories of open periods and which provided them with the thought that they never got around to going to any classes. This unmerited, they were free to engage in the current educational fad sweeping the campus, indoctrinated study. They were denied the opportunity of participation to the American Ball Game where it is possible to be crushed to death in less than three seconds or be attacked by inebriated sophomores, the most important, they were denied the most impressive ceremony they ever experience at Trinity Matriculation. The administration had originally planned to phase out the campus, but I am definitely confirmed as a valid theory by the experiences and was clearly confirmed as a fact that the individual was aware of the laws of the school to which he was swearing allegiance. And it, as an alumna, you could never return, you would miss out on the most wonderful ceremonies. Matriculation soon found its demise, however, that even a real freshman could not begin to provide some spectacle to keep the missing student from being missed.

A realization was arrived at a truth that the fact did not quite fit into the new order of things, being old and all, and so the administration merely labelled the whole event a victim of his environment and gold Trinity peace beads. A-according to my dreams, I would like to congratulate the crack Trinity College Security Organization for another one of their continuing acts of heroism behind the Allen dormitories.

If I should have any more sympathy for someone than a few months ago I would get back to the Kibbutz my home. And by the time we would get back to the Kibbutz my back was always killing me. We would go late getting back that afternoon, forced to take a snuff-dust dirt route, because of the war. There was a better way, a paved highway running past the Israeli positions, down through no man's land, scouring aside the double barbed wire (strategically mined) dividing between the Israeli held(pair...)

To the Editor:

As a woman - I think we are a wonderful addition to the Trinity scene this fall. But I ask, do they have a monopoly on the cuisine? I mean understand the desire for a full length mirror...

(Continued on Page 6)

To the Editor:

'hey're Bombing' by Randolph Friedman

(Continued on Page 6)

The ceremony, in English, was the original text used by the City of Hartford. The president presided.

He had, somehow, to be crushed to death in less than three seconds or be attacked by roaches and heterotrophic masses happy. This amazing contention had originally planned to phase out the campus, but I am definitely confirmed as a valid theory by the experiences and was clearly confirmed as a fact that the individual was aware of the laws of the school to which he was swearing allegiance. And it, as an alumna, you could never return, you would miss out on the most wonderful ceremonies. Matriculation soon found its demise, however, that even a real freshman could not begin to provide some spectacle to keep the missing student from being missed.

A realization was arrived at a truth that the fact did not quite fit into the new order of things, being old and all, and so the administration merely labelled the whole event a victim of his environment and gold Trinity peace beads. A-according to my dreams, I would like to congratulate the crack Trinity College Security Organization for another one of their continuing acts of heroism behind the Allen dormitories.

If I should have any more sympathy for someone than a few months ago I would get back to the Kibbutz my home. And by the time we would get back to the Kibbutz my back was always killing me. We would go late getting back that afternoon, forced to take a snuff-dust dirt route, because of the war. There was a better way, a paved highway running past the Israeli positions, down through no man's land, scouring aside the double barbed wire (strategically mined) dividing between the Israeli held(pair...)

To the Editor:

As a woman - I think we are a wonderful addition to the Trinity scene this fall. But I ask, do they have a monopoly on the cuisine? I mean understand the desire for a full length mirror...

(Continued on Page 6)

The ceremony, in English, was the original text used by the City of Hartford. The president presided.

He had, somehow, to be crushed to death in less than three seconds or be attacked by roaches and heterotrophic masses happy. This amazing contention had originally planned to phase out the campus, but I am definitely confirmed as a valid theory by the experiences and was clearly confirmed as a fact that the individual was aware of the laws of the school to which he was swearing allegiance. And it, as an alumna, you could never return, you would miss out on the most wonderful ceremonies. Matriculation soon found its demise, however, that even a real freshman could not begin to provide some spectacle to keep the missing student from being missed.

A realization was arrived at a truth that the fact did not quite fit into the new order of things, being old and all, and so the administration merely labelled the whole event a victim of his environment and gold Trinity peace beads. A-according to my dreams, I would like to congratulate the crack Trinity College Security Organization for another one of their continuing acts of heroism behind the Allen dormitories.

If I should have any more sympathy for someone than a few months ago I would get back to the Kibbutz my home. And by the time we would get back to the Kibbutz my back was always killing me. We would go late getting back that afternoon, forced to take a snuff-dust dirt route, because of the war. There was a better way, a paved highway running past the Israeli positions, down through no man's land, scouring aside the double barbed wire (strategically mined) dividing between the Israeli held(pair...)
LETTERS

(Continued from Page 5)

No, you see, I do more for good or bad than merely to hang out over a thousand people to live here. You see I am one of Mr. Molotov's rather bothersome 'people' . . . He was distracted from my utterance by the sudden start of a loud explosion, 'Mr. Graham, is one of Israel's greatest supporters!' he roared. 'In the holy book, . . . Not a sermon,' I retorted, 'his band of UN eunuchs, what would one do with tourists caught as we descended at a particularly dangerous point where one can slide over a thousand dead soldiers. (The steering wheel of the American Sky Hawker was shot down in action that helicopter was ready to sweep down and gas their own people. (My own words.) The American Sky Hawker was shot down in action. (Continued from Page 5)

Horror

(Continued from Page 6)

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 23
4:00 p.m., Crown Investment

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 24
10:30 a.m., Compline, Chapel
4:00 p.m., Concert Choir Rehearsal, Garmany Hall, A.A.C.
5:00 p.m., The Eucharist, Chapel
6:00 p.m., The Eucharist, Chapel
8:00 p.m., Goodwin Theatre, A.A.C.
9:00 p.m., The Eucharist, Chapel
10:30 p.m., Compline, Chapel

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 25
4:00 p.m., Concert Choir Rehearsal, Garmany Hall, A.A.C.
5:00 p.m., Music at Vespers, Hartlin Hall
7:00 & 7:30 p.m., Founders; So- nali, Garmany Hall, A.A.C.
8:00 p.m., "Call Me Madam" at the TRIPOD, call the office at 236-2979
9:00 p.m., The Eucharist, Chapel
10:30 p.m., The Eucharist, Chapel
11:00 p.m., The Eucharist, Chapel

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 26
4:00 p.m., Concert Choir Rehearsal, Garmany Hall, A.A.C.
4:00 p.m., Concert Choir Rehearsal, Garmany Hall, A.A.C.
5:00 p.m., The Eucharist, Chapel
7:00 & 7:30 p.m., Founders; Sonali, Garmany Hall, A.A.C.
8:00 p.m., "Call Me Madam" at the TRIPOD, call the office at 236-2979
9:00 p.m., The Eucharist, Chapel
10:30 p.m., The Eucharist, Chapel

The Moratorium

The President has now moved to disarm the war critics. He is now awaiting a response from October to determine just how far his peace effort in England in- tends to be, and how it looks there. It is (essentially) that this community make a very visible show of support for the war during the Moratorium.

Richard D. White '72

moratorium

To the Editor:

Good morning to all, the war on the war in Vietnam (Friday, Sept. 19) was most definitely meaningful. The Moratorium.

Nicholas G. Miskely '71

"They're Bombing"

(Continued from Page 5)

have no water tomorrow, by the end of the twenty-four hours' grace to be out- rusted. Tomorrow one of the sol- diers allied in the bus bombing of the Israeli war cemetery, and today the Jerusalem bus bombing of the Israeli war cemetery, and today the Jerusalem bus bombing on the front page. Two hours of bombing at last at an end, the crowd emo- tion and the Israeli war cemetery, and today the Jerusalem bus bombing on the front page. Two hours of bombing at last at an end, the crowd emo- tion and the Israeli war cemetery, and today the Jerusalem bus bombing on the front page. Two hours of bombing at last at an end, the crowd emo- tion and the Israeli war cemetery, and today the Jerusalem bus bombing on the front page. Two hours of bombing at last at an end, the crowd emo-
Booters Set For MIT Opener

Trinity lineman Pete Wiles heads the ball away from a Bowdoin defender in Saturday's scrimmage. Wiles scored the Bants' only goal earlier against Middlebury.

Bantams Nip Middlebury, Tie Bowdoin in Jamboree

Trinity proved itself a stubborn host last Saturday afternoon as Roy Dath's booters met Middlebury and Bowdoin in a novel Jamboree. The meeting of the two schools was for practice purposes only, and consisted of morning and afternoon sessions with each team opposing each other twice.

In the first 20-minute period, Trinity battled Middlebury and wound up with a 1-0 win. Defense was stressed against the Panthers from Vermont, as Chico Roumain tallied Trin's lone score in the encounter.

The Bantams next faced a surprisingly tough Bowdoin outfit and battled the Mainer to a scoreless tie. The first afternoon session found the Hilltoppers again opposing Middlebury, and Dath's charges once more wound up on top, 1-0. This time Pete Wiles scored Trin's sole goal.

Trinity completed a busy afternoon of soccer by playing Bowdoin to another tie score, this time 2-2. Ron Megna and Marty Williams scored for Trin, as the Bants once again were stifled against the inferior Bowdoin team.

The scrimmage saw Trinity pass well against both teams, although the Dathmen missed a good number of shots, especially against Bowdoin. Defense, while at times effective, did appear a bit ragged, undoubtedly a result of an adjustment to the 3-3-4 player setup against the 4-2-4 system usually employed by the booters.

Both Bowdoin and Middlebury possessed fine teams, and the Bantams' success against Middlebury in particular is promising as the season draws near. There were no outstanding performances in the Jamboree, just overall satisfactory team play.

Dath was quick to point out that the team did make several mistakes in the scrimmage, but he was just as anxious to emphasize the tenacity of the Bantams against strong opposition, and he feels that any miscues in the Hilltoppers' performance can be ironed out before Trinity's season opener on Oct. 4 against M.I.T.
American Soccer Variations Derided by Foreign Athletes

by Dick Vane

There is a great American idea which is not entirely realized. The idea of soccer is anything but anything else. This conception carries over literally into many aspects of the game. In the United States four games in a seven game set between two American teams becomes the world championship and the winner of a football game between two American teams becomes not only a world championship but of course, quite well. Americans fancy themselves both heroes and villains in the sport, but are they? No. How about soccer.

Charles Roumain and Marty Williams are two great soccer players and two even soccer men. Chico and Marty are not from the United States however, they're from Haiti and Wales respectively. They are different in many ways, Chico is dark haired, Marty is blond. While Chico weighs 120 pounds and plays a game with more contact in it, they are alike in one way, they both love the game. American soccer is inferior to the brand of ball played abroad.

"I've always been a soccer player, it's like a chess game. The opponents are not doing physical work but they are working the ball up from the full court back to the front line, it is an art. In America this type of game is virtually ignored."

Marty agrees. "Welsh soccer differs from American soccer. It is not as much contact but it is still far more contained than the American style of play. Here soccer is played more of a 'kick and 'run' manner and not really a team recognition on passing."

It is the view of the boys that produced From The Beetroot that the reason for this is the few interest in soccer in the United States because the promoters of the game are not what they are abroad. They had two referees and a half-time蕴ontroller and a mascot. It was spontaneous. Also Marty added, "most of the players were foreign-born and the result was the used affinity between the players and the fans because the home town crowds knew little about the athlete's background and therefore could not support them fully.

But the trouble with American soccer is just the attitude. Never are they involved in the game. It's really its relationship with professional soccer. The real difficulty is lack of interest, and the result was that the number of people who played the game in the United States was only 11,000.

Lars Thor from the University of Illinois was there. They played with the boys here in Chicago. The boys in Chicago had a very good team. The American soccer is too slow for this game. The boys in Chicago are too slow for this game. The American soccer is too slow for the boys."

The American game is more of a chess game. The opponents are not doing physical work but they are working the ball up from the full court back to the front line, it is an art. In America this type of game is virtually ignored."

The best way to Americanize soccer Marty thought, would be to approach the game the same way. In built-up areas there should be more coaches who can work with the boys on the individual facets of the game. There might even be a separate coach for the goalies, and one to teach the ballists how to control the game the way a quarterback does in football. Films should be taken to show the players what mistakes they have been making. This should be done before the next game. Then, before the game, scouting reports should be made available so that the squad may be aware of what the other team's weaknesses are and how best to attack them."

The trouble lies in our country's whole attitude toward the game. When we come home from an away game the first question the kids usually ask is, who won, says Marty. "The next question invariably is, who scored the goals?"

The point in soccer is not who scored the goals but how the team fared. This is the way it is if we cover the scoring action from where it started, sometimes even beginning with the goalkeeping with the soccer aspirant will have plenty of practice.

In my country," says Chico, "soccer is more than just a sport, it is almost a religion. Wars are fought over it and referees are sometimes killed because they made a bad call. It's an entirely different game here."

Ferris Center Nears Completion

After years of being burdened with less than adequate athletic equipment, Trinity College has recently constructed the George M. Ferris Athletic Center. The center, completed last spring, is the latest example of the physical education building, and the athletic facility on campus was the Trotteridge Memorial. The building originally consisted of a swimming pool with locker room facilities and a storage room for gymnastics. The gym can be used for basketball, volleyball, tennis, and fencing.

The basketball court consists of four main buildings. The central building is the newly constructed locker room facility. It houses the swimming pool with locker room facilities and a storage room for gymnastics. The gym can be used for basketball, volleyball, tennis, and fencing. The new basketball gymnasium will contain two permanent basketball courts, three tennis courts, and coaches' offices. The floor for the courts is made of Tartan, a surface manufactured by Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company. Tartan is supposedly the most up-to-date surface for athletics and was used at the Olympics in Mexico City. In case of special events or activities, the gym is capable of holding anywhere from 3,500 to 3,600 people.

The new locker room building consists of two main floors. The top floor contains locker rooms, visiting team rooms, and a training room. The new complex basically consists of a swimming pool with locker room facilities and a storage room for gymnastics. The gym can be used for basketball, volleyball, tennis, and fencing.

The new locker room building was completed the in summer of 1969. The building is designed to accommodate 11,000 people. The building houses a gym and a storage room for gymnastics. The gym can be used for basketball, volleyball, tennis, and fencing.

The new locker room building was completed the in summer of 1969. The building is designed to accommodate 11,000 people. The building houses a gym and a storage room for gymnastics. The gym can be used for basketball, volleyball, tennis, and fencing.

The new locker room building was completed the in summer of 1969. The building is designed to accommodate 11,000 people. The building houses a gym and a storage room for gymnastics. The gym can be used for basketball, volleyball, tennis, and fencing.

"Computer" vs. " Syndicate" In Pick-off

It seems to be a current hib for everyone to make their bold predictions on "contests that could go either way," some will be correct, and some will be wrong. And to continue tradition once again the Triton Sports Department has the privilege to present a group of betting enthusiasts who will share their knowledge by predicting fall sports contests of major interest. Their predictions will appear side-by-side in each Friday issue to prevent any untimely help. On one side we will have Albert "Philadelphia Slim" Dooskey, known for his comparatively accurate and calculating manner. Opposing him will be the "Surefire Syndicate" headed by Ham Clark, and assisted by his boys, Willis Schaefer and Bill Nelson. The Syndicate is world famous for their backhand in all forms of sports, and known for their inside knowledge and hot tips. They have done little things for the major sports centers in the country, and receive information even before "Jimmy the Greek" breaks it in Vegas. So get your bets down now. Who will score more on the combined sports proponents? Their predictions will be updated at the end of the period of accuracy, with the greatest percentage of correct picks are the least yet determined prize of great value.

"Computer" vs. " Syndicate" In Pick-off

By the time the American soccer

room, and a training room. The new complex basically consists of a swimming pool with locker room facilities and a storage room for gymnastics. The gym can be used for basketball, volleyball, tennis, and fencing.

"Computer" vs. " Syndicate" In Pick-off

By the time the American soccer

room, and a training room. The new complex basically consists of a swimming pool with locker room facilities and a storage room for gymnastics. The gym can be used for basketball, volleyball, tennis, and fencing.

"Computer" vs. " Syndicate" In Pick-off

By the time the American soccer

room, and a training room. The new complex basically consists of a swimming pool with locker room facilities and a storage room for gymnastics. The gym can be used for basketball, volleyball, tennis, and fencing.

"Computer" vs. " Syndicate" In Pick-off

By the time the American soccer

room, and a training room. The new complex basically consists of a swimming pool with locker room facilities and a storage room for gymnastics. The gym can be used for basketball, volleyball, tennis, and fencing.

"Computer" vs. " Syndicate" In Pick-off

By the time the American soccer

room, and a training room. The new complex basically consists of a swimming pool with locker room facilities and a storage room for gymnastics. The gym can be used for basketball, volleyball, tennis, and fencing.

"Computer" vs. " Syndicate" In Pick-off

By the time the American soccer

room, and a training room. The new complex basically consists of a swimming pool with locker room facilities and a storage room for gymnastics. The gym can be used for basketball, volleyball, tennis, and fencing.