Alumni Fund Drive

As we go to press, a total of $4,730 has come into the Alumni Office for the current Alumni Fund Drive (see Page 4). This is a fine beginning — as a matter of fact, three classes have already topped their quotas — but our goal is $35,000, so a good bit of the road is still ahead of us. If you have not yet received a letter from your class agent, you will in time. Since the fund raising is in the hands of individual class agents, the appeals have gone out at various intervals. In a later issue we will print the names of those who have contributed. We hope that every alumnus will try to make the list longer by at least one name. Our goal of $35,000 is higher than ever before. We shall have to work hard to attain it.

BARD McNULTY,
Acting Alumni Secretary.
Navy V-12 Program To End In June

The Navy V-12 Program at Trinity will be concluded at the end of June 1945, according to present plans. The program began at Trinity in July 1943, with a quota of 410 Navy students. For the period of November 1944, to March 1945, this quota has been reduced to 245 men, and the quota from March to June 1945, will be 135 men. The Navy is effecting similar reductions at other colleges. The ultimate plan is to merge the few remaining V-12 Programs with R.O.T.C. Programs at a few of the larger institutions.

Upon the completion of the V-12 Program the College calendar will revert to the traditional September to June (two term) operation. It seems to be the concensus of opinion, at least among the New England colleges, that the accelerated program, though useful under certain circumstances, is not desirable as a long term policy.

The following two paragraphs from the October Report of the Acting President will be of interest to alumni. This report recently appeared in printed form:

"COLLEGE CALENDAR"

"It is my recommendation that the present accelerated program be regarded as a temporary measure. The College should return to a calendar of two full terms as soon as possible. Some modification of the accelerated schedule may be desirable, such as an eight-week summer term, but our program should not demand continuous attendance of our students year after year. College men should have time to mature properly, to assimilate the material presented in the classrooms, to enjoy in leisure the atmosphere of a liberal arts college, and to do a large amount of collateral reading. The needs of returning veterans and the pressure of a military service law in post-war days may force us to alter our plans, but we must succeed in retarding the present breakneck pace of college education. Very sensibly the epigrammatist observed in imperial Rome that 'aestate pueri si valent, satis discunt.'"

"RENSSLEAER-TRINITY CURRICULUM"

"We have concluded negotiations with the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute for a joint R.P.I.-Trinity course of study, combining the principal features of a liberal arts program with professional training in engineering. A young man who spends three years at Trinity in our Engineering major is admitted to R.P.I. for his fourth and fifth years of work. We confer the Trinity B.S. degree on him at the end of his first year at Rensselaer and a Bachelor's degree in Engineering is granted by R.P.I. after one more year of residence there. Thus, in five years a student will have received two degrees and will have obtained an excellent preparation for the engineering profession."
Alumni Association News

On November 18 a group of Alumni Class Agents met at the College in Goodwin Common Room to discuss plans for an Alumni Fund Drive. It was the general opinion of the group that we should aim for an Alumni Fund total this year (July 1, 1944 — July 1, 1945) of $35,000. Further, it was the opinion of the group that the money should be raised, as far as possible, through the work of the Class Agents. Each Agent agreed to write the members of his class asking support for the Alumni Fund.

The reasons why Trinity's Alumni Fund needs stronger support than ever this year were set forth in some detail in the Alumni News of last July. These reasons boil down to this: Though the rate of return from the College’s investments is very good, and though this return gives us a good backlog, it is not enough to meet the expenses of the College for two terms per year, let alone three terms. Trinity’s civilian student body, and therefore our income from these students, is about 15% of normal. Prospects for next year, at least, are for a student body of minimum size. The present drive is not merely for the maintenance of the Alumni organization or for special alumni projects, important as these things are. Its purpose is to give help to Trinity College in a year which promises to be one of heavy financial strain.

It is unfortunate that some of the Class Agents were not able to attend the November Alumni Fund meeting. I have been in touch with these Agents, many of whom have agreed to help in the drive. Those who attended the meeting were Eliot L. Ward, ’13, President of Alumni Association; Owen Morgan, ’06, Director of Alumni Fund Council; Melville Shulthiess, ’18, Director of Alumni Fund Council; Acting President Arthur H. Hughes, Howard Greenley, ’94, Allen R. Goodale, ’05, George C. Capen, ’10, William P. Barber, ’13, Robert S. Morris, ’16, A. Northej Jones, ’17, Sydney D. Pinney, ’18, Harmon T. Barber, ’19, Paul A. deMacarty, ’22, Thomas J. Birmingham, ’24, N. A. C. Anderson, ’25, Kenneth W. Stuer, ’26, Frederick J. Eberle, ’27, J. Ronald Regnier, ’30.

On the evening of November 18, a number of the Class Agents who had attended the Class Agents meeting at the College in the morning, met with Hartford Alumni at the University Club for dinner. About thirty persons attended. Eliot L. Ward, ’13, President of the Trinity Alumni Association, spoke briefly and introduced Acting President Arthur H. Hughes, who gave a short resume of current events at the College. Your Alumni Secretary showed half an hour of recent films of the Navy at Trinity. No new officers were elected.

On December 6 the New York Alumni held their annual meeting. President-elect G. Keith Funston, ’32, was present and said a few words to the fifty-six alumni who attended. Richardson Wright, ’10, presided, and Colonel Philip J. McCook, ’95, Acting President Arthur H. Hughes, George C. Capen, ’10, and Dan Jesssee said a few words. Again your Alumni Secretary showed movies of the Navy at Trinity. The officers of the New York Association for 1944-1945 were elected as follows: President, Richardson Wright, ’10; Vice Presidents, Alfred J. L’Heureux, ’13, John A. Ortgies, ’21, Glover Johnson, ’22, Robert B. O’Connor, ’16; Secretary-Treasurer, Fred C. Hinkel, Jr., ’06; Executive Committee, William S. Buchanan, Jr., ’09, Leonard J. Dibble, ’09, Walter W. Canner, ’23, George Thoms, ’26, John S. McCook, ’35.
Veterans and the College

Next to the question of when our men in service will be coming home, the hardest question for home-fronters to answer is What sort of job will the men want when they do get back? We all know some fellow who once looked to us like a sure-fire poet, but who turned out to be a first-rate Army engineer. Or perhaps we know of a former football player who is teaching classes in Italian to his fellow servicemen. At any rate, as we look to the future we realize that we have to ask ourselves two questions: In what kinds of jobs will returning servicemen feel that they can do best? and What kinds of jobs will be available?

I have recently received letters at the Alumni Office from business concerns looking for men to fill good positions. I hope that many more such letters come in. When our alumni start coming back in good numbers, it will be a fine thing for Trinity to help them get the right job quickly. And Trinity can help if those of you in business, industry, and the professions keep the College posted on positions which are to be filled.

To those of you in service Trinity is sending a questionnaire asking about what sorts of jobs you hope to get, about what specialized training you have received, and so on. It seems a little previous perhaps to be talking about peace-time jobs when the war is still in full swing; but, like our fellow colleges, we must begin to lay plans now if we are to give our alumni effective help on that good day when you come home.

The College has instituted a veterans' counseling service in cooperation with the Greater Hartford Veterans Service Center. Trinity offers to counsel veterans with educational problems, whether these veterans happen to be interested in coming to Trinity or not. The present members of the Counseling Staff are Acting President Arthur H. Hughes, Professor Edward D. Myers, and Professor James A. Notopoulos.

Reports on Athletics

Varsity Basketball

The only intercollegiate sport to be sponsored by the Athletic Association during the winter season of 1944-45 is basketball. At this writing the Trinity team has played seven games of a fifteen game schedule. In spite of the fact that the team is probably as strong as the average Trinity peacetime quintet, the team has suffered five defeats against two victories. The schedule is made up of unusually strong opponents. However, in each game the Blue and Gold representatives have given a good account of themselves. Yale and City College of New York, two of the leading teams of the East this year, were given a real scare before their superior strength finally won out. Trinity has in its center Edward "Red" Faber, one of the best court performers ever to represent the Blue and Gold. In each one of the seven contests played to date he has been the outstanding player on the floor and in each game has been the highest scoring man, averaging 20 points. He scored 26 points against Yale and 23 against City College. With a little more scoring help from his team mates these two contests could easily have resulted in Trinity victories. Dan Dickerson is another scoring threat, although he has been hampered by an injury to his shoulder. In a recent game played, however, he netted 18 points, and if this pace continues Trinity may well win several contests of the remaining 8 games to be played.

FUTURE ATHLETIC PROSPECTS

There is a big question concerning the immediate future of intercollegiate athletics among the smaller colleges. A tentative baseball schedule is being arranged for this spring without any assurance that we will be able to see it through. Other small colleges are in the same predicament. If our present enrollment remains substantially the same for the term beginning March 1st, we hope to be able to sponsor a varsity baseball team.

In spite of the fact that the Navy V-12 program is being brought to a close, other colleges of similar classification as Trinity are making plans to have a football team on the field next fall. We would like to be able to meet such opponents as the "Little Three" colleges — Amherst, Williams, and Wesleyan, plus Union and Middlebury, among others, and every effort will be made to arrange a tentative schedule of this kind. At present the number and caliber of civilian students on the campus would not make this seem advisable, but we hope a new class of seventeen year old students next fall, with the possibility of a few athletes among returning veterans, will provide sufficient athletic material to make football possible. Other colleges will find themselves in a similar situation. It has been made clearly evident that our present students and prospective students want intercollegiate athletics. We will make every effort to provide it for them if it seems at all feasible.

FIELD HOUSE

As most alumni know, the Trustees of the College, at a meeting held in the spring of 1943, approved the expenditure of approximately one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars for the immediate construction of an athletic field house. It was felt that, along with the many other needs for such a building, it was important to have this unit of the proposed new athletic plant available to aid in the Navy V-12 conditioning program. Because of the urgency of the need, the plan was to begin construction immediately and later to start a field house fund campaign to raise the necessary amount. It was a bitter disappointment to all Trinity men when it was learned that the War Labor Board would not approve the construction of the building. Shortage of both labor and material was given as the reason. In addition, it was learned that the contractors found it necessary to increase the estimated cost of the structure considerably because of the rapidly increasing price of materials.

The project is still uppermost in our minds. It is predicted that immediately after the war all colleges will be taxed to capacity. Returning veterans, with the cost of their education partially, if not entirely financed by the government, will flock back to the colleges. Trinity sorely needs this building and the other athletic units which are planned to center around the present swimming pool building, to provide a modern physical education and athletic plant. Returning veterans, as well as most prospective students, consider recreational and athletic facilities important to college life and often will not consider colleges which do not provide them. Trinity men — let us keep this uppermost in our thoughts as one of Trinity's most urgent needs.

Mail Forwarding Service

From time to time Trinity alumni send me letters to be forwarded to other Trinity alumni in other parts of the world. I am always glad to help out in this way, and I wish to invite all alumni to make use of this forwarding service whenever they care to.

In the early months of the war we printed address lists of our alumni servicemen from time to time, but the changes of address soon began coming so fast that our lists were seriously out of date before we could get them corrected, printed, and mailed. Then, too, the government has placed restrictions on the circulation of address lists of servicemen. Our forwarding service provides the readiest solution for these difficulties. If you do not know the address of a fellow alumnus, simply send your letter, % Alumni Secretary, Trinity College, Hartford 6, Connecticut. I shall be glad to send it on.

Alumni Notes

HON. 1938

THE RT. REV. W. APPLETON LAWRENCE, Episcopal Bishop of Western Massachusetts, ordained to the Diaconate WILLIAM B. SPOFFORD, JR., '44, son of the REV. WILLIAM B. SPOFFORD, '14, on November 30.

1883

THE REV. WILLIAM S. SHORT is rector emeritus of the Church of the Incarnation at Santa Rosa, California. He recently became a great-grandfather.

1895

RT. REV. S. HARRINGTON LITTELL preached a sermon on inter-racial relationships at St. Paul's in Boston a couple of months ago. He cited Hawaii as an example of a region in which inter-racial problems have been faced and well met. A notice of his sermon appeared in the Honolulu Advertiser for December 5, and was clipped and sent to us recently by SIEGBERT KAUFMAN, 46, who is now stationed there.

1899

THE REV. DR. ORROK COLLOQUE is now a resident of Tujunga, California — street address: 10438 Hill Haven Avenue.

1902

THE REV. EDMUND J. CLEVELAND, rector of the Church of the Ascension, Fall River, Mass., for the past twenty-two years, resigned his rectorship on the 1st of January because of ill health.

1906

ELMER M. HUNT has been appointed Director of the New Hampshire Historical Society at Concord. For the past year he has been engaged in special research in New England and New Hampshire history. The New Hampshire Historical Society is now 121 years old and owns one of the largest collections of books and other printed matter relating to New Hampshire in existence.

1908

THE REV. HENRY E. EDBENBORG celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination on November 25.

KARL A. REICHE, Superintendent of Schools in Bristol, Conn., was honored at the sixth annual fall convocation of the State Board of Education at Teachers College, New Britain, when he received a citation for his many years of outstanding leadership in education.

WALTER A. JAMIESON is director of the Biological Division of the Lilly Research Laboratories, Indianapolis, Indiana.

MAXWELL KENDALL writes that his son is in the Army Air Force and that his daughter was married recently to a lieutenant in the Navy and is residing on the West Coast.

1914

THE REV. JAMES A. G. MOORE, after twenty-three years as minister to Congregational students at Cornell University, became in the fall of 1942, Associate Superintendent of the New York Congregational Christian Conference, and is now located in Rochester.

"It was good to see Ted Wessels' picture on the front of the November Alumni News, and to know of his fine record."

CAPTAIN ARCHIBALD W. WALKER is in the Coast Artillery. His son, David, is at West Point.

1915

THE REV. JAMES A. MITCHELL was recently elected first president of the Ministerial Association in Englewood, New Jersey, and he was elected to the Chapter of Trinity Cathedral in Newark. He is rector of St. Paul's Church. The Rev. Mr. Mitchell has three sons, James A., Hugh, and John.

1916

EDWARD A. NILES is a member of the Executive Committee and Legal Committee of Aviators' Post No. 743, American Legion. Formerly restricted to World War pilots and observers, it now welcomes men with flight-crew training from World War II. He is also on the Copyright Commission of the New York City Bar Association. A tennis enthusiast, he is on the Executive Committee of the Eastern Lawn Tennis Association, Chairman of the Constitution and Tournament and Rules Committees, and a member of the Veterans Ranking Committee of U.S.L.T.A. "Being still recordless in Forest Hills, I even play tennis."

1917

LIEUTENANT COLONEL JOHN McK. MITCHELL is Executive Officer of an American Hospital in India. He served as a line officer in the first World War.

1919

MAJOR HERBERT E. P. PRESSEY, a Chaplain of the 43rd Division, has been cited for "patriotic sacrifice and service to God and country" by General W. R. Arnold, Chief of the Chaplains Corps.

1922

LOUIS M. GUZZO writes that Naval Aviation Cadet L. ROBERT GUZZO, '46, was recently commissioned Ensign in the USNR at Pensacola, Florida. Bob is undergoing further training in carrier and torpedo bomber work.

MAJOR MILTON H. RICHMAN has been abroad in France and other countries assisting in the establishment of local governments.

1925

LIEUTENANT COMMANDER ISIDORE S. GEETER has been in the service since December, 1943, in the Medical Corps of the United States Navy.

GEORGE P. JACKSON, Jr., has been in Wall Street since 1942. He has a young daughter at the Adelphi Academy in Brooklyn.

CHARLES R. MORRIS has prepared a new edition of Burke's Speech on Conciliation with America and Augustine Birrell's Edmund Burke for publication in January by Harper and Brothers. The edition is for secondary school use. Among Mr. Morris' students in eighth grade English at Milton Academy is Corwin

HON. 1935
PROFESSOR CLARENCE E. WATTERS, head of Trinity’s Department of Music, is planning a Festival of French Organ Music for the early months of 1945. He will tour the United States from coast to coast and visit Canada, playing recitals of French music. He writes, “Can it be doubted that the organists of France never forgot their high mission? No! For they were not truly alone. In the lofty vastness of Notre-Dame, in the clear radiance of St. Ouen de Rouen, in St. Eustache, Ste. Clotilde and La Trinité, in countless places dear to memory, were the spirits of loyal friends and admirers. Among these last I find myself. Now, it may be asked why an American should present a Festival of French Organ Music. There can be only one answer: In no better way could be demonstrated to America and to France the gratitude we owe to that great company of French organists, living and dead, who have restored the organ to its rightful place as King of Instruments. To them these recitals are dedicated.”
