A Word from Your Secretary

At this writing the Alumni Fund stands at $17,213.30. This is $2,964.30 more than the figure shown in the Interim Report which appeared in April. The Final Report on the Alumni Fund will be published shortly after the close of the current Drive at the end of June. If you have not yet contributed to the Alumni Fund, will you send a check payable to the Trustees of Trinity College, to Trinity College Alumni Fund, Hartford 6, Connecticut?
S. S. Trinity Victory

The picture on the cover shows the S.S. Trinity Victory going down the ways at her launching on April 18. The ceremony took place at the shipyards of the Permanente Metals Corporation, Richmond, California.

Dr. Daniel G. Morton, '24, represented Trinity at the launching. He gave a short address on Trinity and expressed pleasure at being present to represent his Alma Mater. Dr. Morton was chosen by Acting President Hughes to represent Trinity in the name-giving ceremony. Following graduation from Trinity, Dr. Morton took a medical degree from Yale University, and has since been with the University of California Medical School in San Francisco, where he is an Associate Professor of medicine.

Trinity College is providing the library of the S.S. Trinity Victory. The books will be selected by the Merchant Marine Library Association and will carry bookplates with the inscription: "Presented by Trinity College, Hartford, Connecticut, to commemorate the launching of the S.S. Trinity Victory."

At the request of the Merchant Marine Library the College is also providing a few books about Trinity College.

V-12 Program to Continue

The Navy has asked to continue its V-12 Program at the College for another term. Final arrangements have not been completed at the present writing, but it seems most probable that we shall have Navy students here on campus from July to the end of October. Previously, the V-12 Program at Trinity had been scheduled to close at the end of June.

Alumni will be interested in the bearing which this decision will have upon the finances of the College. The Navy will not be able to let us know for some time just how many or what sort of men they can send us, and until the College knows these facts, it cannot plan what courses must be given or how many of them. Very probably, from a financial point of view, the College will just break even on the Navy's summer term. That is, the Navy will come very close to paying the College exactly what it costs to have them here for the summer. The Navy's decision to stay through the summer, therefore, will have, for all practical purposes, no effect one way or the other as far as Trinity's budget is concerned.

It would be a great mistake to think that the Navy's staying on will "take care" of the College through the summer. The College is, of course, more than glad to cooperate in the war effort in training Navy V-12 students. The summer term is not a money making proposition.
Dan Jessee Aids Coaching Clinic

Trinity's baseball coach Dan Jessee, has been chosen as one of the civilian consultants on baseball for the Special Services Division of the Army, and has been serving on a coaching clinic at Cristobal, Canal Zone. Dan left the college March 8 and came back early in May. Terry Moore and "Mickey" Harris, well known baseball figures, were in the same group with Dan. Fritz Crisler, the University of Michigan football coach, is in charge of the football part of the clinic. These clinics have been planned to instruct athletic officers of the various Army units in the fine points of the game from the coaching viewpoint.

Clinics of this type headed by other well known coaches have been held in France, Italy, and Iceland in recent months. Athletics have proven to be of great value in the services for keeping up the morale of the men as well as for conditioning.

Baseball Prospects

The Athletic Advisory Council has voted not to have a formal baseball team this spring. Many factors made this decision seem advisable, among them Dan Jessee's absence during the greater part of the season. However, several of the students indicated a desire to have a team and accordingly a short schedule has been arranged on an informal basis. Athletic Director Ray Oosting is acting as coach. The team is shaping up well in all positions, the main weakness at present being in the pitching department, where few men of any experience are available. At this writing John J. Jones and Carl Peters are the most likely-looking hurling prospects, while the infield composed of Dan Dickerson (of basketball fame), John Ladish, Charles Fecto, and Don O'Hare looks promising.

The students are able to see a lot of baseball this spring, for the Hartford Eastern League team is training on the campus. Our players have engaged in several practice sessions with the Leaguers and, aside from pitching, have fared well against their more experienced opponents. Several local independent teams are scheduled to be played by Trinity during the first two weeks in May.

Dan Jessee is expected back about the 10th of May, and three college games have been arranged to be played after his return:

Wednesday, May 23, Wesleyan at Middletown; Wednesday, May 30, Wesleyan at Trinity; Saturday, June 9, Worcester Tech at Trinity.

O.D.T. Requests No Reunions

The Office of Defense Transportation has urgently requested that non-essential travel be curtailed wherever possible. The Alumni Office has taken up with the O.D.T. the question of a reunion this June, and we have been asked to forego such a get-together. When we add to this request of the O.D.T. the further fact that there may be no students graduating this June, it seems advisable to postpone a reunion once again.
