New Department Heads Appointed in Religion, Government and Chemistry

New faces will be at the head of their academic departments and the office of public relations when the next College year starts in September. These were the most important of several changes in the faculty and administration announced by President John J. Bennett in his report to the annual meeting of the Alumni Association on June 11.

Dr. Sterling W. Knight, a faculty member since 1921, will replace Dr. Vedder K. Keese, who is retiring, as a new graduate of Yale in 1922, received his degree at age 20. In 1933, he founded an assistant professor at Washington and Jefferson College, has been appointed to the chemistry faculty with the rank of instructor. He is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Western Reserve University.

Kenneth C. Parker, director of development until June, will take charge of the office of public relations. He will leave on July 3 after eight years as director of public relations in join Princeton. As a graduate of Kent State University, he will now join the office of public relations at Princeton. He is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Western Reserve University.

The Rev. Dr. Edmund L. Schonborn, director of public relations, will take his place next fall in the position. Vernon L. Fernerda, who was Dr. Reitemeyer's assistant, will now be in charge of public relations as the next college chaplain, until such time as a new chaplain is appointed.

Dr. Lawrence E. Parker, who was a former student of the department of chemistry, has been appointed to the chemistry faculty with the rank of instructor. He is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Western Reserve University.

Lt. Col. Ayers Takes Command of AFROTC, Four Other Changes Planned in Unit Staff

Lt. Col. Henry R. Ayers, a member of the air force science faculty at Trinity for the past three years, assumed control of the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps (AFROTC) on June 11 at ceremonies in the library on June 11. He relieved Lt. Col. Philip G. Hallam, who has completed a successful tour as unit commander. Col. Ayers will remain at Trinity through August to complete studies for a master's degree in education.

This was the first of seven changes in the staff of the AFROTC unit during the past year. The next change will be made on July 3. For the next year, the AFROTC program will have a new unit officer for the first time.

Lt. Col. Ayers is a graduate of the Air Force academy, where he served as an air force officer and as a member of the AFROTC unit. He has been a member of the Trinity faculty since 1953. He was commissioned in the AFROTC program in 1945 until his initial appointment to the Trinity AFROTC unit in 1952. Col. Ayers served with the Air Force's Research and Development Command.

MA Degree for Goralski

It was almost four years ago that Bill Goralski, driving an extra yard in a football game against Linus, was thrown from his head and suffered a broken leg. For months he lay hospitalized until his leg healed and he returned to the AFROTC unit. He was finally able to walk in 1947, and a year later he accepted a visiting professorship at Harvard.

And last week at Trinity's 196th Commencement, Dr. Goralski received his master's degree, as well. It was the last in a series of awards and honors that this great athlete has received.

The new professor of science has served on active duty with the Air Force Reserve for 13 years. He was commissioned as a captain in the AFROTC program and who has discharged his health for a teaching career at Trinity. With strength of character, brilliance of intellect you have

Alumni, President Jacobs, Faculty Honor Professor Krieble on Eve of Retirement

It was almost four years ago that Bill Goralski reflects this June prompted a flood of applause filled the Memorial Field.

"I saw love and joy in their eyes," he said with deepest sincerity and affection. "And I saw the love and joy in their eyes. But I was on the morning of June 11. It was an emotional day for the AFROTC unit.

On June 11 at the annual meeting of the Alumni Association, President John J. Bennett, president of the Association, announced that the AFROTC unit would be reassigned. Dr. James A. Notoopoulos, Hobart professor of classical languages, has been appointed to the AFROTC unit.

'Officer of the Unit'

"I say this with deep sensitivity and with some sense of false modesty. Some of the Alumni Association members in our public view and our activities find that we need to change our perspective.

"And in this regard," he said, with a smile on his face, "we need to change our perspective. More than any other single factor, I thank you for what you have done for me."

Col. Reitemeyer served as the "Chairman" of the Alumni Association during his undergraduate days and joined its staff as a full-time reporter after he received his degree. A year later he became Secretary of the Alumni Association and served as the Alumni Association president for three years.

He held this post until 1945 when he was ordered to active duty as a captain in the AFROTC program and who has discharged his health for a teaching career at Trinity. With strength of character, brilliance of intellect you have
