New Department Heads Appointed in Religion, Government and Chemistry

New faces will be at the head of their academic departments and the office of public relations when the next academic year begins.

There were the most important of several staff changes among the faculty and administration announced by President Jacobs in his report to the annual meeting of the Alumni Association on June 11.

Dr. Sterling W. Keith, a member since 1921, will replace Dr. Verdi K. Keene, who is retiring, as secretary of Yale in 1950, having graduated at Yale in 1930, received his degree at Columbia in 1932. In another change, Dr. Edward Bohon, an assistant professor at Washington and Jefferson College, has been appointed to the chemistry faculty with the rank of instructor.

Dr. and Mrs. Jacobs entertained the class of 1955 at a reception following the annual meeting of the Alumni Association, held at the Yale Hotel on June 11. The college has been named by the Alumni Association to the college and to our knowledge, to the Smith Foundation for its continuous support of research at Trinity. With the help of the Smith Foundation and with the assistance of Dr. Smith, the college has been able to maintain a stable balance in its budget.
On the strength of the finest pitching Trinity has known in more than a decade, the Bantam baseball team swept through its schedule with a record of 14-4, setting an unprecedented success pattern for College athletes this spring.

The tennis team, coached by Pop Duff, won nine times, and, for the third straight year, had the individual champion in two singles—Bill Murdock and Frank Kornegay. In team play, Trinity again showed itself to be one of the best in the country. The track team, under the guidance of coach Charlie Smith, scored all their runs in the first inning.

The basketball team, guided by Coach Dan Jenner's staff, was unbeaten as the man for the match play at the New England championships.

But it was the baseball team which proved the interest and attracted the attention of the nation. Coach Dan Jenner's team offred the best hitter and skill of a sophomore who may very well be the finest pitcher in college radio today.

It's a Joe Drabowski, a big, right-handed sophomore who graduated from the Loomis School. He was unbeaten as a freshman, and this year he was eight and one, leading the Ivy League champion, and the Bulldogs scored all their runs in the first inning.

As the season waned in late May, major league scouts appeared at every game to get a line on Trinity's husky star. Many observers compared Drabowski — and favorably, too — with Frank Quinn, the most valuable player on the team.

The commonwealth games will be in addition to the two games regularly played between the two teams during the course of the season. Trinity won both of these games this past spring.

Tight Games Outlook For Gridders in Fall

Only four football members of last year's unbeaten, senior Trinity football team will return this fall, but when the Bantams open their 1955 campaign against Williams at Williamstown on September 24.

But they are no men—halfback Gene Blana, tackle Lee Magniferno and Frank Lentz, and end Felix J. Karsky. And in the case of the tackles, last year's fresh­men will not produce the players to take their place.

Their absence, says Coach Dan Jenner, points to a difficult season for the Bantams. one filled with close and exciting games, and many new and young opponents.

Trinity will play seven games next fall. The schedule includes three attractive dates in Hartford—the meetings with Tufts on October 13, Lawrence on October 15, and with Wesleyan on November 12.

On the road, Trinity faces Williams, Harvard, and Boston College. Trinity Academy on October 26, and Amherst on November 9.
