Annual Giving Passes Half-Million Mark

Goal Topped By $28,000

The Annual Giving Drive has passed the half-million dollar mark for the first time in the College's history. The drive ended with gifts and pledges totalling $502,965. The total is nearly $28,000 above the campaign goal of $475,000, and more than $62,000 above the $440,421 contributed last year.

The Annual Giving Drive, which is conducted between October and June each academic year, supports the College's operating budget, which was $8.5 million for the 1972-73 fiscal year. Contributions to the annual giving fund came from alumni ($287,631), parents ($193,916), friends of Trinity ($38,045), national corporate foundations ($19,000), and the William S. Seabury Endowment Fund ($20,000).

Eighty-four donors joined the Founders Society with gifts of $1,000 or more, and 637 made gifts between $150 and $999 to become members of the Annyversary Club.

This is a milestone year for Trinity in many ways," President Lockwood said, "because it is the year the College reached the one millionth mark in contributions. It is to the credit of our contributors and those who volunteered to work on the campaign that this year's gifts passed the half-million mark. Such support goes a long way in keeping Trinity among the leaders of small private colleges."

16 Faculty Promotions Announced; DeLong, Brewer, Stewart Appointed as Chairmen

Sixteen faculty promotions have been announced by President Lockwood including the promotion of Dr. John D. Brewer to chairman of the sociology department, Dr. Howard DeLong, who will also become a full professor, to chairman of the mathematics department. Another faculty appointment has been announced in the field of teaching is modern algebra. Dr. DeLong, who has taught at the University of California (Los Angeles) and York University in Toronto, in the field of several articles in this field.

Professor Stewart, a member of the Trinity faculty since 1950, succeeds Dr. Walter J. Klimczak, Seabury Professor of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy, as chairman of the department. His major field of teaching is modern algebra.

Dr. DeLong, who has taught at Trinity since 1960, is the author of a book, "A Profile of Mathematical Logic," and an article, "Unsolved Problems in Arithmetic." He is a member of the editorial board of the Social Science Journal.

CAMPUS NOTES

Trinity was a participant in the Greater Hartford Festival of the Arts held in June. George E. Chaplin, director of the studio arts program, was represented with one of his "abstract landscapes," D. Mark Pappas, a junior, by two pieces of sculpture and Robert W. Stainley, a senior, with one of his graphics. Chase Twedell, a recent graduate, read some of her own verse. Mill Silverstein, assistant director of the new bureau, was a member of the "Industry Looks at Art" Committee and also acted as liaison for Trinity with the Festival.

An article entitled "The Duty to Reveal and to Conceal" written by Dr. Samuel Hendel, professor of political science and former chairman of the department, and Dr. Robert L. Bond of the University of Connecticut Law School, appeared in the May issue of "Change," a magazine of higher learning. Dr. Hendel is a member of the National Board of the American Civil Liberties Union and also on the ACLU Academic Freedom Committee.

Mrs. Paula L. Robbins, director of career counseling, attended the annual conference of the Northeast Region, Association of Advisors to the Health Professions, held at Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa. She was re-elected secretary of the 250-member group and co-chaired a workshop on women in medicine.

Seventy-six students from across the nation were selected to study in Rome, Italy, this summer under a program sponsored by the College. The Trinity/Rome Campus, now in its fourth summer season, is open to students at other colleges, as well as Trinity students. The thirteenth Trinity students in Rome are: Nicholas F. E. Valdery, 76, of Fair Hills, N.J.; Elizabeth H. Hess '75 of Haddonfield, N.J.; Maurice L. Landry '75 of Springfield, Mass.; Camilla O. McKinney '75 of Ashland, Md.; Katherine K. Miller '74 of Baltimore, Md.; Daniel P. Russo '75 of Norwood, Conn.

Several professors of the History Department are engaged in activities of their national professional organizations. Dr. Philip C.F. Bankwitz, is secretary of the Society for French Historical Studies. Dr. Norton Daven is assistant treasurer of the Medieval Academy. Dr. Glenn Weaver is one of the editors of the Trumbull Papers project at Yale.

Mohamed Jibrell, assistant dean for community life and lecturer, intercultural studies, and James Miller, assistant professor of English and intercultural studies, participated in the Fifth Annual Conference of the African Heritage Studies Association held at Morgan State College in Baltimore. The conference was attended by educators from the United States, Caribbean and Africa. Jibrell read a paper on "Social Change in the 19th and early 20th centuries in Somalia." Miller was elected to the executive committee of the African Heritage Studies Association. Jibrell and Miller were appointed as representatives of AHEBA in the Connecticut area and have been included in a delegation to attend the Sixth Conference of the Association in December 1973 to be held at Addis Ababa, Ethiopia.

Seven financial aid students will be studying at other institutions in the United States and abroad next fall under scholarships provided by the College. A new policy begun this year allows qualified students to take their financial aid with them when they study somewhere else for a semester. Purpose of the policy, according to Robbins Window, dean of educational services, is to allow students on financial aid to strengthen their major through foreign study.

One student next fall will be studying in Washington, D.C.; two will be in France; one will be in Germany; and three in Madrid, Spain. Requirements for continuing financial aid under these circumstances include that the program of study be integral to the student's major field of study, and will offer significant opportunities not available at Trinity.

HONORED—With appropriate ceremonies, the College honored members of the faculty and administration who retired at the end of the past academic year and those who reached milestones of service. Left to right, front row: Mr. and Mrs. Penn Hargrove, Managers of the Book Store, retired; Mrs. Archer S. Jackson, Chief of Technical Services, Library, retired; Mrs. Sere Johnson, retired after 42 years of service; back row: President Lockewood; Dr. Eugene W. Davis, Professor of History, 25 years of service; Dr. Ralph M. Williams, Professor of English, retired; Charles Paul, Technician, Physics Department, 32 years of service; Dr. Robert H. Smolle, Professor of Chemistry, 25 years of service; John A. Williams, Manager, Central Services, retired.

NEW ALUMNI DIRECTORY

Alumni should by now have received a first or second request for the essential information required in our publication of the Sesquicentennial Directory to be published in January of next year. We sincerely hope that everyone will reply to this request.

Publication will be handled by Bernard C. Harris Publishing Company, Inc. of White Plains, New York. In the contract with the college, the firm assumes all financial obligations, including the compilation, editing, billing and distribution of the directory, and will cover its costs through the sale of advertising and individual book sales (to alumni only). All advertising will be sold subject to the approval of the college. This new plan will eliminate the normal sizable cost to the college and Alumni Association, and through its self-sustaining operation assures the compilation of a professionally complete volume.

The number of directories printed will be based on the number of advance orders received via the phone call, plus a limited number of copies for the college use only. No post-publication sale is planned.

The Harris Company is the Alumni Association's sole authorized agent for the production and marketing for the directory, which will be made available to alumni only and will cost, profit and cover the expenses incurred.

There is no charge to you for your listing—and full representation is essential. Whether or not you purchase a book, we ask that you comply with the information requested when you receive a phone call from the publisher.

Trinity College's varsity heavyweight crew fell to a powerful eight from the University of Wisconsin in the second round of The Ladies' Challenge Plate at the 134th Henley Royal Regatta on July 5.

The three-quarter length loss ended Trinity's third attempt in five years to become the first American crew to bring The Ladies' Plate to the United States. A fine crew from Harvard University won that honor with a three-length victory over defending champ D.S.R. Laga of Holland in this year's final.

Never had the Henley Regatta so many crews—over 250—and so many fast ones. Crews surpassed old records only to have another competitor set a new mark hours or minutes later. The Ladies' Plate was no exception. This year's 29-crew field was bigger and better than any previous in the history of the event (inaugurated in 1825), which ranks second only to the Grand Challenge Cup in age and prestige.

The Bantams arrived in England on June 24 and put their new shell, Hartford, in the water for a light practice on the Thames River that evening. In the next 10 days, Trinity oarsmen rowed almost 200 miles along the famed waterway.

The opening day opponent this year was Durham University. The contest was a rematch of America's New England Champions. The Bantams defeated Durham in the semi-finals of the 1969 Ladies' Plate but only after a comfortable lead was reduced by the fast closing English eight to a narrow one-third length victory.

There was no question this time as Trinity pulled out in front at the start and rowed away for a three-length victory. It was a good race for the Trinity eight. The tense atmosphere on Henley's opening day can be overwhelming for veteran international competitors and college athletes alike.

Coach Norm Graf later commented that they have a young crew with only two seniors in our boat but they weathered the tension of the first day very well.

The winning performance followed pre-race plans. Sophomore coxswain Andy Anderson of Northfield, Illinois, called a strong sprint from the start. The Bantams rowed at a blustering 49 strokes per minute pace for the first 200 meters and pulled to a one-half length lead. Trinity lowered its tempo to 46 strokes at The Barrier which is 5/16 of a mile down the course.

Anderson commented after the race that "We had one length over Durham at The Barrier so we eased up a bit. We rowed at 36 strokes for the rest of the race without spraining at the end." The following day's encounter pitted Trinity against Wisconsin's junior varsity eight which had stroked to a national intercollegiate championship in Syracuse, New York in early June.

The contest came on a day in which spectators lining the banks of the Thames River were treated to what was easily the largest number of record shattering performances in recent decades.

The Trinity-Wisconsin race was no exception as the Bantams rowed to The Barrier in 1:53 to tie a new record set only hours before by crews from Harvard University and University College of Dublin, Ireland.

Marks for The Barrier, Fawley (which is half-way down the course), and The Ladies' Plate were each broken four times during the day.

Trinity again set a strong 49 strokes per minute pace at the start and had a 3/4 length lead over the Badgers at The Barrier. Through the heart of the contest the Bantams rowed at 39 while the Badgers stroked at a lower but powerful 36-37 rate.

Wisconsin moved up on Trinity and took a six-foot lead at the halfway mark in 3:13. The Badgers' Fawley time tied a Ladies' Plate record which had stood since 1949. It was subsequently bettered by three other crews that day.

Each crew took "pops" or short sprits in the middle of the race, but Wisconsin's junior varsity continued to widen its lead. With just four hundred meters left, the Badgers pulled out to a two-length lead for their largest margin of the day.

The Trinity crew moved its pace up to forty in a last-ditch effort to catch the Wisconsin's two-length cut in half and then to less than a length but the gap was just too much to overcome. Wisconsin's winning time of 6:41 was one of the fastest every recorded in The Ladies' Plate while Trinity's 6:44 was just two seconds off the old record which was broken several times during the day.

Coach Graf commented afterwards, "We raced a very fine crew from Wisconsin today, but I'm proud of our crew's efforts. In any other year our course time would be fantastic but this year's field of competitors has no equal in any American Regatta."

The 1973 crew season which began on the Connecticut River in April with a 10-length win over Wesleyan came to an end on a warm July day at Henley-on-Thames. Though this year's crew had not achieved all they might have wanted, they had come a long way since the early days of the season. A 201- record, included a New England Championship in five years, a good showing at the IRA Championships in June which included a consolation victory in the four coxswain class and second consecutive collegiate title for Dave Brown and Rick Ricci, and a trip to the world's most prestigious rowing event—The Henley Royal Regatta.

The Wisconsin race was the last one for Brown and Ricci in a Trinity uniform.

80's City Yths Using Ferris For Recreational Programs

Trinity's athletic facilities will be used to capacity by over 800 boys and girls from Hartford this summer in two separate sports and recreational programs conducted by the College.

For the fourth consecutive year, Trinity will host a program which is currently funded under a national grant from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and co-sponsored by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports. The program runs through August 9.

The program includes a free hot lunch each day for all athletes. Activities such as football, basketball, swimming, track, wrestling, gymnastics and tennis as well as modern dance and physical development will be offered with instruction given by professional coaches and college and high school athletes.

This summer's program will also include a free hot lunch each day for all participants and will feature an educational program with lecturers drawn from the Hartford community speaking on such varied topics as the use of cosmetics, hygiene, drugs and job and educational opportunities.

Richard Taylor, assistant professor of physical education is head of this year's program, while Walter "Doc" Hurley, assistant to the principal at Weaver High School, will be liaison officer to the Hartford community.

As a preliminary, each youngster received a free medical examination given by doctors from the Hartford area.

For the fourth year, a group of Trinity alumni doctors volunteered their services for the examinations.

The second program, which will run through August 17, is the Trinity Summer Recreational Program, sponsored by the Hartford Parks and Recreational Department.

The program is a "walk-in" for residents of the area and includes football, weight lifting, gymnastics and swimming. Additional activities will include the making of a film, scheduled trips to the beach, and visits to local points of interest.

For more information, please contact Mr. Cook '72, a Trinity graduate assistant in the physical education department, heads the program.

HOME FOOTBALL TICKETS

Orders for reserved seat tickets for the football games should be received at the College no later than September 10. Tickets for the R.P.I., Colby and Rochester (Parents Day) games are $3.00 each. Tickets for the Wesleyan (Reunion/Bi-annual game), are $3.50 each. General Admission tickets will be sold at the gate.

Checks should be made payable to the "Trustees of Trinity College" and mailed to the Director of Athletics, Trinity College, Hartford, Conn. 06106. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Seven other members of the crew will be back: coxswain Andy Anderson, oarsmen Von Grygny, Phil Wendler, Chad Mooney, Ted Berghausen, and Curtis Putnam and Curt Jordan who will co-captain next year's crew.

All three of the crew's spares will also return. Sophomore John Menacho who doubled as back-up coxswain and team manager at Henley will return next spring along with oarsmen Burt Apfelbaum and Ben Brower. The twooome got a taste of international rowing when they reached the finals of the pre-regatta tournament for spare oarsmen in coxswained pairs. The Bantam pair defeated the Victorian Boat Club of Liverpool, England and Ridley College of Canada before losing a two-length verdict to a combination boat of the University of Wisconsin and MIT.
