GIVE BLOOD PLAY RUGBY. Joseph A. Carroll '78 (right) does just that, at least the first portion of the slogan as classmate Carol A. Hunts assists him. The giving took place when the Connecticut Red Cross Bloodmobile made its semi-annual visit to the campus, and took 325 pints of blood.

THE ANNUAL FESTIVAL OF LESSONS AND CAROLS WAS TELEVISED FOR THE FIRST TIME in early December. The complete program was taped during a modified service held in advance of the two regular services. The service was conducted by the Rev. Dr. Alan C. Tull, College chaplain.

He has done considerable research and has published several technical papers, particularly on the isolation and chemistry of cilia, and the physiology of regeneration of cilia and flagella. One of his papers was published with the proceedings of the First International Congress on Protozoology, held in Prague, Czechoslovakia in 1961.

VIRGIL THOMSON, Pulitzer Prize winning American composer, author and music critic, has donated a large number of works from his personal library to enhance Trinity’s music collection. Several musical scores were included along with critical and biographical material. The 79-year old composer spent the spring of 1968 at Trinity as the John T. Dorance Visiting Professor of Music. In the spring of 1973 the composer inaugurated the Powell lectures in music at Trinity. He spent a week at the College during which he delivered a public lecture and conducted a public concert of his own music.

STEPHEN MINOT, associate professor of English, was represented in the October issue of Payboy with a short story entitled "Three-part Harmony."

Dr. MICHAEL R. CAMPO, chairman and professor of the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures as well as director of the Trinity/Rome Campus, has been re-elected president of the Hartford Society of the Archaeological Institute of America.

Dr. CLYDE D. MCKEE, associate professor of political science, was elected president of Region No. 9 of the Connecticut Association of Boards of Education, which consists of 12 communities. He will also serve as a member of Hartford’s Consumer Arbitration Team, sponsored by the Hartford Better Business Bureau. In November, McKee testified at a hearing conducted by the Department of Environmental Protection on the feasibility of the Department’s new civil penalties system for industries violating the state’s environmental standards. In addition to his own paper, McKee read testimony prepared by Dr. ANDREW J. GILBERT, ’72, professor of economics, and director of urban and environmental studies, who was attending another conference.

Dr. BROOKE GREGORY, assistant professor of physics, will be on leave of absence Trinity term. He will be doing research in low temperature physics at the Cernob Atomic in San Carlos de Bariloche, in western Argentina.

Dr. RICHARD T. LEE, professor of philosophy, participated in a project called "Project Limbo" at the University of New Haven. Sponsored by the Connecticut Humanities Council, "Project Limbo" included four open dialogues on crime and corrections. Dr. Lee, who is a member of the Board of Directors of Connecticut Halfway House, Hartford, was a panelist on the first dialogue entitled "Crime, How Can We Break the Cycle?"

ROGER D. SHOFEMAKER, instructor in theatre arts, addressed a monthly meeting of the Mark Twain Masquers. Shoemaker spoke about university theatre and its place in the community and commercial theatre.

4 Bantams Named

Four Bantams were named to the 1974 All-E.C.A.C Division III Football Team. Rich Tucci ’75, a safety, was named to the first team. Damien Davis ’75, a center and a 1974 tri-captain, Bill Curren ’75, a linebacker and also a tri-captain and Mike Maus ’75, a punter, received Honorable Mention.

Three other Bantams were named to the United Press International All-New England College Division football team. Chris Max ’75 and Rich Tucci ’75 were named to the defensive squad as safeties. Max had 17 career interceptions, a Trinity record, and five interceptions inside the five yard line this year. Tucci led the team with 51 tackles and was Trinity’s leading returner including a 61 yd. touchdown punt return. John Connolly ’74, a 6’4”, 220 lb. defensive tackle, was named as the outstanding offensive right tackle in New England this season.

Phonathon Nets $39,000

Fourteen Trinity undergraduates and 23 alumni have raised $39,000 for the College's Alumni Fund, in a four-day telephone campaign. The total raised was $20,000 greater than the $19,000 raised in a similar event last year.

The "Phonathon," as it is called, was conducted December 2 to 5 by the Development Office as part of the College's Annual Giving Campaign, this year seeks a total of $3,000,000 from alumni, parents, businesses and other friends of the College, to support the College's operating budget of $9,907,100 for 1974-75.

Dr. Jerome P. Webster Succumbs; Trustee Emeritus, Noted Surgeon

Dr. Jerome P. Webster, 86, a pioneer in plastic surgery and an alumnus and trustee emeritus of Trinity, died November 14 at Harkness Pavillion, Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center in New York City following a brief illness.

He was born in Ashland, N.H., the son of the Rev. Lorin Webster, headmaster of the Holderness School. He graduated from Trinity in 1910 and from the Johns Hopkins Medical School in 1914, when he was appointed surgical intern and assistant resident in surgery.

Shortly before this country entered World War I, Dr. Webster went to Berlin as a special assistant to the American ambassador to Germany to inspect prisoner of war camps.

After the United States entered the war, he joined the Army Medical Corps as a first lieutenant and served in France. In 1918 he received the French Croix de Guerre with star and palm and was awarded the Silver Star from the American awarding service, the New York Academy of Medicine, and the W. H. Welch Medal, received with another person for co-authoring "The Life and Times of Gaspare Tagliacozzi, Surgeon of Bologna, 1545-1599."

At Trinity, Dr. Webster was a member of the Board of Fellows from 1934 to 1938, was an Alumni Trustee from 1939 to 1945, and was a Life Trustee of the College from 1945 until his retirement from the Board of Trustees in 1967, when he was elected Trustee Emeritus. He was also a past president of the Board of Trustees of the Watkinson Library.

Dr. Webster married twice. His first wife, the former Geraldine R. McAlpin, died in 1938. His second wife, the former Emily Brune Randall, died in 1965.

He is survived by three children of his first marriage, Mrs. Robert J. Dellenback of Englewood, N.J.; Dr. Jerome P. Webster, Jr. of Hopewell, N.J.; and John Dellenback of Miami Beach.

The lecture series begins on Wednesday, January 22, at 2 p.m. and will be held on the following five Wednesdays at the same time. Dr. Oxnam will give the first three lectures and Dr. Vohra will present the final three of the series.

Philadelphia alumni and parents will receive details by mail shortly. The lectures are open to the Philadelphia community and tickets are available through the Alumni Office. Cost is $25 for the series or $5 per individual.
Half of Student Body Joins In Campus Fast

Nearly half of the College's student body participated in a campus-wide fast early in December to raise money to feed hungry people in this country and overseas.

A student organization known as the Trinity Hunger Action Project was formed. Volunteers from the group spent several days getting students and faculty to abstain from eating. The volunteers signed up about 800 persons, who went without at least one meal.

Saga Foods, Inc., director of the meal plan on campus, gave a portion of the cost of the unused meals to relief organizations.

As part of the fast, the Rev. William Sloane Coffin, Jr., Yale University chaplain who led a similar drive at that institution, spoke to students about the world hunger crisis and what colleges and universities can do about it.

Rev. Coffin urged students to call on Congress and the President to send food to starving nations.

He told his audience that some 400 million people worldwide are on the brink of starvation and that 15 million of these people are in this country.

In the area of fasts such as the one at Trinity, the chaplain said, "I think we will have a nationwide campus movement very soon."

Elenor G. Reid, director of financial aid, has been appointed to serve on this year's Regional Student Financial Aid Application Review Panel by the Region I Director of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The appointment involves working in Boston reviewing applications from colleges and universities and post-secondary institutions for funding under a number of federal programs.

Ms. Reid came to Trinity in 1969. She is a 1967 graduate of Swarthmore and holds a master's degree from Harvard University.

Basketball

Ferris Athletic Center was the site of the 5th Annual Trinity College-University of Hartford Invitational Basketball Tournament, which was held on December 6 and 7. Central Connecticut State College and Wesleyan University rounded out the field in the two day event.

Friday night, Trinity met co-host Hartford in the opening game and fell to the Hawks 93-63. Hartford's Gary LaRoque led the game with 21 points. Bantam captain Jim Sumler had 20 plus a game high 13 rebounds. Bo Pickard was next for Trinity with 16 points. The Hawks led 46-37 at the half but Trinity was unable to get closer than nine points away in the second half. Central Connecticut defeated Wesleyan 49-46 in the lowest scoring game in the history of the tournament.

Wesleyan defeated Trinity Saturday in the consolation round 59-53. Trinity was ahead 31-29 at the half but was unable to hold off the Cardinals' determined and disciplined style of play. Bantam Wayne Sokolosky led the game with 19 points. Sumler had 12 and Bob Williams had 11. Sokolosky was named to the All-Tourney team for his performance against both Hartford and Wesleyan.

Trinity lost its only pre-tourney game to Kings Point, 74-46.

Hockey

Trinity's skaters begin their first varsity season in Division III hockey on an optimistic note as a strong group of freshmen forwards are on hand along with 14 members of last year's club team which posted a 12-8 record.

The returning forwards are led by Captain Mark Cleary (18-12=30) and Sandy Wedon (14-23=37) - last year's freshmen forwards are on hand along with some added speed up front along with some added speed and scoring punch.

The addition of freshmen Tom Peters, Chip LaLone will give the Bantams a new look in the fall as New England Small College to be elected president of the National Basketball Coaches Association. He coached Bantam basketball and track teams with notable success.

Crew

The fall crew program, formal for the women and informal for the men, concluded October 27th at the Head of the Charles Regatta in Boston. Results and rankings were only recently released.

Trinity was represented at the regatta by 56 men and women competitors in two women's eights, men's varsity heavy and lightweight eights, freshmen heavy and lightweight eights, and two coaches racing in singles.

The Bantam women, rowing in their varsity form with the Trinity collegiate boat, entered in the intermediate eights event, represented the only competition of the informal fall season. The varsity heavyweights rowed to a win over Williams, dropping Trinity to twenty-seventh of forty-eight in the intermediate eights event, and finished thirty-sixth of forty-eight. The freshmen heavies were entered in the intermediate eights event, and finished thirty-sixth of forty-eight.

Trinity has been a institution for the past 14 years, with 34 New England Small College to be elected president of the National Basketball Coaches Association. He coached Bantam basketball and track teams with notable success.
