Ice Storm

...Story, Page 3
The Alumni Fund is the only segment of the 1973-74 Annual Giving Campaign which is behind the amount raised at this time last year, according to a January 7 progress report issued by the Development Office.

The other three segments - Parents Fund, Business & Industry, and the Friends of Trinity Fund - are ahead of last year in dollars contributed and percentage of goals. To date, $114,751 in gifts and pledges has been received from 903 alumni. This compares with $155,954 in alumni gifts last year, a goal for the Alumni Fund is $300,000.

"We urge alumni to respond," said Director of Development Judson Rees, "that the alumni will recognize the importance of the campaign to Trinity and will respond accordingly before the June 30 deadline. "The Alumni Fund," he continued, "represents 60% of the total Annual Giving goal of $505,000. It is, therefore, a vital segment of the overall campaign."

Other segments of the Annual Giving Campaign in the report of January included:

- PARENTS FUND - $58,659 from 311 contributors (last year - $45,492 from 243 contributors). Goal - $110,000.
- BUSINESS & INDUSTRY ASSOCIATES - $39,465 from 57 contributors (last year - $25,231 from 49 contributors). Goal - $65,000.
- FRIENDS OF TRINITY FUND - $17,873 from 31 contributors (last year - $15,090 from 39 contributors). Goal - $30,000.

In summary, the January 7 report shows total gifts and pledges of $221,748 for 44% of the goal of $505,000. At this time last year, $241,767 had been raised.

Dr. Lawrence Towle, Retired Economics Chairman, Dies

Dr. Lawrence William Towle, professor of economics at Trinity from 1942 until 1969, and chairman of the department from 1947 until 1967, died January 21, 1974 at his retirement home in Indialantic, Fla. He was 71.

Dr. Towle was, respectively, senior M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Harvard University in 1927 and 1930, where he served as an instructor in economics from 1928 to 1932.

Before being appointed professor and chairman of the department of economics at Trinity in 1942, Dr. Towle held positions in the economics departments of Amherst College, Williams College, Colgate University, and Lawrence College in Appleton, Wis.

In 1956 Dr. Towle was appointed G. Fox and Company Professor of the Economics Department. He held the endowed chair until he reached retirement age in 1967, a year before his appointment as Professor Emeritus.

Dr. Towle was a native of St. Louis, Mo. He graduated magna cum laude from Bowdoin College in 1924, and earned his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Harvard University in 1927 and 1930, where he served as an instructor in economics from 1928 to 1932.

Dr. Towle was particularly concerned with money and banking, and he was a member of several scholarly societies, including the American Economic Association; the executive council of Pi Upsilon Fraternity; a Fellow of the Royal Economic Society; and the American Association of University Professors.

Lawrence Towle's book, "International Trade and Commercial Policy," was published by Harper and Brothers in 1947, and a second edition was released in 1956.

He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa; Pi Gamma Mu, the national social sciences honor society; the American Economics Association; the executive council of Pi Upsilon Fraternity; a Fellow of the Royal Economic Society; and the American Association of University Professors.

He leaves his wife, the former Dorothy Taylor, and a son, William Towle, both in Florida.

Trinity College Chapel Weddings

All those whose marriages took place in Trinity College Chapel will shortly receive invitations to attend the College Eucharist in the Chapel at 10:30 a.m. on Sunday, April 28, 1974 to make an act of Thanksgiving and Rededication. The guest preacher will be the Rt. Rev. Reverend Lloyd E. Gresho, Bishop of Bethlehem, Pennsylvania. The Alumni Association will invite all those attending the service for brunch in Hamlin Hall afterwards.

Kathleen Frederick

In New Alumni Post

Kathleen L. Frederick '71 has been appointed assistant director of relations at the College effective January 1, 1974.

A native of Bronxville, New York, Miss Frederick was a transfer student from Manhattanville College. She was Editorial Assistant for "Hearts and Crafts Magazine" before coming to Trinity.

John Heyl '66 will continue as director of alumni relations in addition to his recently announced appointment (July, 1973 REPORTER) as assistant director of development.

Kathleen Frederick '71

John Watne, chief of building maintenance, points to water-system to steam-system in boiler.

John Watne, chief of building maintenance, points to water-system to steam-system in boiler.

"We've had to learn that, as a rule, oil and water won't mix. But hike over to the boiler room, and you'll find oil and water working together to make a pretty good fire."

Using a process called "steam atomization," Trinity sprays about one gallon of water per gallon of oil - actually pressurized steam - along with about 100 parts of oil that go into the burners which heat the College's 90-acre campus.

The process increases the efficiency of the burning oil, and saves about 20 percent over the older "rotary-cup" method of firing, Watne said. According to Ral Crandall, director of buildings and grounds at Trinity, the College replaced the steam atomization since 1969, Crandall says, and although the process is "pretty common" in industrial plants such as Trinity's, it's not the kind of system you could use in a home oil furnace.

Crandall explained that in both the oil and furnace and Trinity's big boilers, fuel oil is broken up into droplets and sprayed along with the water into the fire. Home heating oil - number two, or diesel fuel - is thin enough so that this can be done with a fan, number two, or diesel fuel, which Trinity uses so thick that it has to be broken up in a spinning cup, or, as Trinity does, in a boiler.

A drop of oil burns from the outside surface inward, Crandall said. "If the drop of oil hasn't completely burnt up by the time it passes through the boiler, we're just sending the remaining heat up the chimney. Naturally, what we want to do is make sure that the smallest possible droplets of oil go into the burners. We use steam to do that."

"It may sound like we're burning water," Crandall said, "but we're not."

The steam is sprayed into the burner at a pressure of 55 pounds per square inch, and a temperature of about 340 degrees. Because of this, there is virtually no loss of heat by vaporization and no possibility that the oil - burnt at some 5,000 degrees - will go out, Crandall said.

Adelphi University in Garden City, L.I., reported last month that they are installing oil systems in their dormitories which use high-frequency sound waves to atomize the fuel and oil.

Crandall says this action, along with actions taken last year, has saved 25 percent of Trinity's number six oil in December, compared with what the College used in December, 1972.

But, Crandall says, "this is a saving in quantity rather than in dollars. We're paying $8.88 a barrel for number six, low-sulfur oil. A few years ago our oil cost less than $3 a barrel."
Damage was severe along the Long Walk...

Elms Take ‘A Major Beating’ in Ice Storm

An ice storm, breathtaking in its beauty but vicious in destructiveness, crippled Connecticut this week before Christmas, and claimed as its toll on Trinity, major limbs of the campus’s fine old trees.

Four elms on the Quadrangle were killed, two trees elsewhere uprooted, and others damaged as trunks and branches bent and snapped under the heavy weight of ice. For the surviving but weakened elms, the threat of death by disease is increased.

By all accounts, it was the worst storm in Connecticut in two decades. At its peak on Monday, Dec. 17, branches were bent and snapped under the heavy weight of leaves in autumn, taking power lines with them. At one point, 250,000 homes in Connecticut were without electricity and heat, and 10,000 customers lost telephone service.

In some areas — including sections of Hartford and the near suburbs — power lines were not repaired until the weekend, and there were uncounted losses in spoiled food and frozen pipes. Since Trinity is supplied electrically via underground cables, the College was fortunately spared any outages of power or heat, but many faculty members, administrators and some students in off-campus housing were affected at home.

What began as a snowstorm on Sunday, Dec. 16, turned to freezing rain overnight, and by Monday afternoon the predominant sounds on campus were the crack of huge branches and the rush of falling limbs. Laden with increased leaves in autumn, taking power lines with them, the storms caused statewide.

For all the damage and inconvenience which the storm caused statewide, Trinity’s loss was chiefly aesthetic — but the loss was severe. There were no reported injuries on campus, and the only other physical damage to the campus was a hole in a garage roof and a broken lamppost, both hit by falling limbs.

But on the Quadrangle, the College suffered a severe setback in its struggle to preserve the elm trees so closely identified with Alma Mater. In recent years, the once-flourishing American elms — the most graceful of their species — have been hard hit by Dutch Elm disease, a fungus which kills the tree by cutting off the flow of sap. Many of those stately trees, planted in the form of a colossal “T” in 1880, have had to be cut down as the infection spread. New seedlings have been planted, but only a few of the original trees remained to shade the Quad.

Now more are gone, including some which the College had been treating for disease for as long as five years. Red Crandall, director of buildings and grounds, fears the surviving elms will be more vulnerable to the Dutch Elm Disease this year.

The fallen limbs weakened the trees by reducing their growing areas, Crandall said. “The big trees on the Quad took a major beating, and with the problems of disease we could suffer more losses next summer,” he observed.

Crandall noted that Trinity — along with Dartmouth, Williams, Notre Dame and New York University — is a charter member of the Elm Research Institute, a seven-year-old organization based in New Hampshire, which is spearheading the effort to combat the disease.

Dutch Elm Disease is spread from tree to tree principally by the elm bark beetle. The fungus itself penetrates the tree and infects the sap-flow system. Treatment includes spraying trees to kill the beetle, and injections with a fungicide to combat the fungus.

President Lockwood said the storm damage was “very disheartening, and not only because of our fondness for being the College ‘Near the Elms. Trinity has always prized itself on the beauty of its campus — especially the main Quadrangle — and this newest loss points up the need we have for help to maintain Trinity as a place of historic and aesthetic charm.”

From the Chapel Chorister...

Class Notes

ENGAGEMENTS

1954 CHARLES R. FARNHAM to Janice R. Schell
1970 JOSEPH J. PANTALONE to Beny Hol- men Andonian
DALE C. REED to Gayle L. Punto
THEODORE R. SIMON to Maria Anyako
C. EDWARD MCKENNELL to Ann De- Land Fisher
1971, 1973 STEVEN BARRIS KEENEY ’71 to JEAN MEREDITH ASHBURNE ’73
1973, 1974 HERBERT J. KEATING III ’73 to MARY JO MATEL ’74
DAVID W. SHIVERLY ’73 to CANDACE E. HACKETT ’74

MARRIAGES

1959 JOHN WISCHENBART to Jeanne Bud- nis, October 27, 1973
1964 ANDREW CURTIS MERRYMAN, IV to Mary Elizabeth Strenk, October, 1973
1968 MICHAEL H. FLOYD to Janet E. Bel- liner, July 28, 1973

BIRTHS

1949 Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Fishman, daughter, Renee, August 26, 1973.
1953 Mr. and Mrs. Richard R. Stewart, son, Reid Holland, September 27, 1973.
1962 Mr. and Mrs. Gerald McNamara, daughter, Anne Miles, March 1, 1973.
1963 Dr. and Mrs. Brian Odum, son, John Nelson, October 14, 1972.
1964 Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Kirkpatrick, daughter, Amy Elizabeth, July 30, 1973.
1965 Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Jay, daughter, Claudia, November 24, 1973.
1969 Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pirillo, son, Frederick III, September 20, 1973.
1971 Mr. and Mrs. Jay Houtette, daughter, Meredith Priest, June 1973.
1972 Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Keith, son, David McKay, October 18, 1973.

MASTERS

1969 Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Harder; son, Jonathan, May 11, 1973.

11 THE Rev. John Rowbaugh 1121 Louisiana St.
Fairfax, CT 26403.

Conversations to BILL HARRISON who celebrated his 84th birthday on November 6th. Bill was recently in Hartford Hospital and our best wishes to him on his birthday and good health in 1974.

17 THE Rev. Joseph Racioppi 264 Sunnehanna Dr.
Fairfield, CT 60450.

CHESTER B. MCCOY reports that his "warrior" son retired as a Colonel, U.S. Army
In 1974:

PARENTS WEEKEND
November 1-2
REUNION/HOMECOMING
November 8-10

Mr. George C. Griffith
P.O. Box 526
Sea Girt, N.J. 08750

It is with regret we learn that CHARLES B. BEACH's wife has passed away October 9th. However, he is happy to report the marriage of his granddaughter, Anne Shepard, to Starling King of Mass. on September 15th.

JOE WALKER POLLOCK notes that he has a new job selling condomstructions at "Pilgrim's Habitat" in West Hartford, Conn. He says that Trinity alumni are welcome at all times.

Mr. J. William Vincent
80 Newport Avenue
West Hartford, Conn. 06111

Mr. Robert G. Blanding
607 Broad St.
Providence, R.I. 02907

Mr. John A. Mason
36 West Bay Drive
Westwood, MA 02691

Mr. James A. Calano
550 Westover Lane
Providence, R.I. 02907

Mr. Paul A. Roy
1050 North Avenue
West Hartford, Conn. 06110

Mr. W. Waltham R. Spillane
327 Squantum Ave.
Wellesley, Mass. 02181

Mr. J. William Vincent
80 Newport Avenue
West Hartford, Conn. 06111

Mr. J. William Vincent
80 Newport Avenue
West Hartford, Conn. 06111

Mr. J. William Vincent
80 Newport Avenue
West Hartford, Conn. 06111

Mr. J. William Vincent
80 Newport Avenue
West Hartford, Conn. 06111
Mr. Charles L. Tenney
decorated in "Dimensions in Hailing" in Lime Rock, CT.

LAWRENCE A. FAGAN, JR. was recently appointed to the Board of Directors of the Public Works of the Metropolitan District Commission in Hartford.

WILLIAM COUGHLIN, JR. was recently named president of the Connecticut Company of the Chicago-based Barringer Company which is now affiliated with Insurance Metropolitan National Corporation of Chicago, Ill., a Richmond Corporation Company.

ARThUR D. BOLGER is on leave from the San Diego Area to Old Lyme, Connecticut this past summer and found the "wandering piano" a delight after 16 years. He is semi-retired and keeping busy cutting wood for the January discount.

LLOYD FRAUENGALL was appointed manager of the small regional office in Stonington. He is a partner in the law firm of Atwood, Webster and Frauengall in Hartford.

Mr. James R. Glascoo, Jr.
Aetna Life Inc. Company
157 Farmington Ave.
Hartford, Ct 06105

Evan WOOLLACOTT went with success on the Simsbury, Connecticut political scene when he was elected town moderator. He had been training for the position for several years.

JOSHUA BUTLER has just opened an office in Colchester, Connecticut. He is practicing general law.

Mr. Stephen STEPHENSON writes that he has successfully completed a fund drive for a new building for the Waterford-Wilton School which is a new elementary school. Mr. Stemple, as he is known, is director of the school.

A W. L. CAREY has been elected to the Waterford-Wilton School Board of Education with pride that his daughter, Elizabeth, graduated from the University of Connecticut with a B. A. degree. Elizabeth is a sophomore student.

On October 30, CHARLES BLANCHARD, "wandering minster and master of jazz piano" was a featured guest artist in the Whole Man series of events in West Hartford.

JAMES GLASSCO, Jr. has progressed to a third phase of his financial career. He has recently accepted an appointment to the position of chairman of the Metropolitan District Commission Postal Service, Washington, D.C. Jim will head up the division which is responsible for capital budgeting, short-term investments, funding, cash mobilization and other financial affairs.

Mr. Douglas C. Lee
51 Woodfield Rd.
West Hartford, Ct 06107

CHRISTINE M. O'Kane is presently the director of the City Park Commission in West Hartford.

Mr. Robert M. O'Reilly was the coach of the West Hartford American Legion baseball team which was a member of the American Legion's Class D and A New England championships. The team then went on to win the New England championship in Lewiston, Idaho where they finished fifth in the United States tournament with a 6-19 and 10 losses.

Mr. EDWARD D. HOSKING III is retiring from the U.S. Air Force on February 1, 1974 at age 60. He has been named a marketing representative for Newmark International, Inc., an Atlanta firm which develops, constructs, and manages medical care facilities including nursing homes, clinics and hospitals. Mr. Hosking will be North and South Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia and Ohio.

VICTOR DIANA is proud to report that his daughter, Angela, is a member of the first all-female class at Illing.

WILLIAM M. VIBERT was elected to the Board of Directors in Granby, Connecticut in November.

Mr. Paul A. Mortell.
508 Stratfield Rd.
Bristol, Ct 06010

JOHN J. WALSH, industrial sales engineer at the Connecticut Light and Power Company, recently attended the annual Kwanf Clubs event on the subject of " Nuclear Energy, the Facts and Fiction." Mr. Walsh has been with the company for eight years and still growing. Fred stays in shape to keep up with the demands of his "insurance" selling agent in the Hartford area.

PETER B. CLIFFORD received one of the Hartford Dental Society's awards for service at the annual meeting of the society in November.

Mr. Theodore T. Tani
Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Co.
199 Main St.
Hartford, Ct 06103

TROY SCHOEN was elected president of the Board of Directors of the Connecticut Society of Research Scientists, Inc., an affiliate of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, on August 5. He was named to the position in secret for the past two years.

Mr. E. Wade Cloe, Jr.
190 Park Ave.
Atlanta, GA 30312

BILL LASSAN, vice-president, was re-elected to the Newington, Connecticut Board of Education in November, one of the few Republicans who weathered the storm. It is his second term in office. Bill is employed in the Investment Department of the General Electric Company.

JOHN H. CALLAN has been named president of Great Eastern Life, Long Island, New York.

THOMAS E. BEALLER has been elected chairman of the Board of Trustees of Edugecational Credit Union, Madison, Wisconsin. He is a currently a director and officer of Forward Communications Corp. which operates television stations in Madison, Illinois, Illinois, Kansas, Texas, Iowa, and West Virginia.

The Rev. ROBERT W. GOLDBERG, vicar of the Old North Church in Boston, was host to visiting dignitaries on December 30 as ecclesiastic and ecumenical leaders gathered to celebrate the first service in the church 250 years.

Mr. Edward A. Montgomery, Jr.
Backlund Rd.
West Hartford, Ct 06117

Mr. Paul J. Marlon
7 Martin Place
Chatham, New York 12101

Dr. MYRON R. LEVIN is presently the director of the group therapy training program at the Institute of Living in Hartford. He is an associate clinical professor at the University of Connecticut Medical School.

Mr. Norman P. Martin
10 John St.
West Hartford, Ct 06107

It was good to see some of you during the recent leave I spent in Europe. I encourage you to have a chance to chat with PETE LOWENSTEIN, GEORGE Ender and others who were there at the reception following the game. I spent much of my time catching up with including SOCRATES SILEAS and BILL CURTISS whose visits to Connecticut were too short. One of the highlights of my time spent was the dinner that evening that we were able to attend.

Mr. John F. A. FUCHS went from Philadelphia with regrets to Trin classmates and regrets that he could not make reunion. He is a resident of Kennebunk, Maine, a former member of the Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity and a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Fuchs of Philadelphia with regrets to Trin classmates and regrets that he could not make reunion. He is a resident of Kennebunk, Maine, a former member of the Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity and a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Fuchs of Philadelphia.

Mr. John F. A. FUCHS went from Philadelphia with regrets to Trin classmates and regrets that he could not make reunion. He is a resident of Kennebunk, Maine, a former member of the Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity and a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Fuchs of Philadelphia.

Mr. John F. A. FUCHS went from Philadelphia with regrets to Trin classmates and regrets that he could not make reunion. He is a resident of Kennebunk, Maine, a former member of the Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity and a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Fuchs of Philadelphia.

Mr. John F. A. FUCHS went from Philadelphia with regrets to Trin classmates and regrets that he could not make reunion. He is a resident of Kennebunk, Maine, a former member of the Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity and a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Fuchs of Philadelphia.

Mr. John F. A. FUCHS went from Philadelphia with regrets to Trin classmates and regrets that he could not make reunion. He is a resident of Kennebunk, Maine, a former member of the Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity and a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Fuchs of Philadelphia.

Mr. John F. A. FUCHS went from Philadelphia with regrets to Trin classmates and regrets that he could not make reunion. He is a resident of Kennebunk, Maine, a former member of the Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity and a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Fuchs of Philadelphia.

Mr. Bill S. Himes has been elected to the 33-man executive committee of Heublein International. He travels around the world selling the company's line of products which he has been promoted to the position of executive vice-president and manager of the New England area.

Mr. Robert C. Langen
2 Sachet Road
West Simsbury, Ct 06092

JAMES C. SHULTRIE has a new job as manager, quality control One Corporation at Ballston Lake, New York. Ed

Mr. Edward A. Montgomery, Jr.
Backlund Rd.
West Hartford, Ct 06117

Mr. Paul J. Marlon
7 Martin Place
Chatham, New York 12101

Dr. MYRON R. LEVIN is presently the director of the group therapy training program at the Institute of Living in Hartford. He is an associate clinical professor at the University of Connecticut Medical School.

Mr. Norman P. Martin
10 John St.
West Hartford, Ct 06107

It was good to see some of you during the recent leave I spent in Europe. I encourage you to have a chance to chat with PETE LOWENSTEIN, GEORGE Ender and others who were there at the reception following the game. I spent much of my time catching up with including SOCRATES SILEAS and BILL CURTISS whose visits to Connecticut were too short. One of the highlights of my time spent was the dinner that evening that we were able to attend.

Mr. John F. A. FUCHS went from Philadelphia with regrets to Trin classmates and regrets that he could not make reunion. He is a resident of Kennebunk, Maine, a former member of the Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity and a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Fuchs of Philadelphia.

Mr. John F. A. FUCHS went from Philadelphia with regrets to Trin classmates and regrets that he could not make reunion. He is a resident of Kennebunk, Maine, a former member of the Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity and a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Fuchs of Philadelphia.

Mr. John F. A. FUCHS went from Philadelphia with regrets to Trin classmates and regrets that he could not make reunion. He is a resident of Kennebunk, Maine, a former member of the Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity and a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Fuchs of Philadelphia.

Mr. John F. A. FUCHS went from Philadelphia with regrets to Trin classmates and regrets that he could not make reunion. He is a resident of Kennebunk, Maine, a former member of the Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity and a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Fuchs of Philadelphia.
Joseph L. Reinhardt.

Mr. Peter N. Campbell
35 Exall Dr., N.E.
Atlanta, Ga. 30328

KERMIT G. MILLER, who is president and founder of All-Speed, Inc., of Cambridge, Massachusetts, was recently elected to the presidency of the only minority owned airline in the Northeast and was formed by Kermitt in 1971.

Second Lt. David J. Nicholas recently participated in an annual field training exercise conducted in northern Georgia and northern Turkey by NATO's Allied Forces Southern Europe.

John Greene was recently appointed a tenured professor at the Trinity College School of Law.

PUBLIC RELATIONS.

To catch up on some old news items:

Merle Venet was named director of the MARGOT CLEMENT who was named over the summer.

Tom Garner took a year's leave of absence from NYU Law School to work as regional director of the Hartford Architectural Center at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst. He plans on returning to pursue further educational involvement.

Robert Manis is now a visiting associate professor at the National Institute for Community Development.

Congratulations to Steve Markert on his appointment as a first-year law student at the University of Connecticut.

Diane Colasantino is now attending graduate school in the United States of America. She has been named by the New York Chapter of the National Association of Black Business.

Margaret Neelan has been appointed to the executive committee of the Hartford Architectural Center and is a publicist chairman of the Hartford Architectural Center.

Louise H. Fisher has been named as the director of admissions for the Program at Trinity.

Catherine Dennis is now full time English teacher and drama coach at the Nathan Hale School in Hebron.

Natalie Korshenik reports she is busy doing volunteer work for the Connecticut Women's Health Organization. She was well known in the past for her radio and television work.

Paul H. Demont was on the staff of the recently published Associated Press Field Office. Atlanta, Ga. (People/Places/Issues/Section).
Bishop Gray,
Trustee for
22 Years, Dies

The Rt. Rev. Walter H. Gray, bishop emeritus of the Episcopal Diocese of Connecticut, died December 4 at his home in Hartford. Active in the Anglican community throughout the world, Bishop Gray was also a leading figure in Connecticut in the fields of ecumenical and interfaith relations. He was trustee of the General Theological Seminary in New York City and was the executive director of the Episcopal Diocese of Connecticut. He was also a member of the American Bar Association and the New York City Bar Association.

ALFRED CARL FULLER, BON. 1910

Alfred Carl Fuller, a founder of the Fuller Brush Co., died December 4, 1973 in Hartford. He was a son of William Cole Gray and rank of second lieutenant. He was born in Richmond, Virginia, a son of William Cole Gray and Irena Hanwood Taylor, and attended Richmond College and the University of Connecticut. He was a member of the American Bar Association and the New York City Bar Association.

ARTHUR LINDSAY POTTER, 1910

Arthur L. Potter died July 6, 1973 in Connecticut. He was a son of William Cole Gray and rank of second lieutenant. He was born in Richmond, Virginia, a son of William Cole Gray and Irena Hanwood Taylor, and attended Richmond College and the University of Connecticut. He was a member of the American Bar Association and the New York City Bar Association.

JAMES ELMER MCREREY, 1913

JAMES ELMER MCREREY, 1913 was a member of the Carter Theological Seminary. He was also a member of the American Bar Association and the New York City Bar Association.

STANLEY JOSEPH KRALIKOSSI, JR. 1942

STANLEY JOSEPH KRALIKOSSI, JR. 1942 was also a member of the American Bar Association and the New York City Bar Association.

LUCILLE BURN FLOY, 1960

LUCILLE BURN FLOY, 1960 was also a member of the American Bar Association and the New York City Bar Association.

BRIAN BURNS FLOY, 1960

BRIAN BURNS FLOY, 1960 was also a member of the American Bar Association and the New York City Bar Association.

OMISSIO

The Editors regret that the obituary for Stephen Eugene Martz, 1948, and
John Charles Martz, 1948, also include the name of his daughter,
Anna, as one of the survivors.

TRINITY REPORTER JANUARY 1974
Trinity Captures Title in Tourney

Trinity defeated Eastern Conn. 63-52, Sunday, Jan. 20 to win the 3rd annual Connecticut Yankee Invitational Basketball Tournament at the University of New Haven.

The Bantams, now 7-3, picked up their victory and their first tournament title. Other Burks, with a three game total of 58 points and Nat Williams with 49 points and 28 rebounds, were named to the tournament all-star team. In addition, Burks was voted the Most Valuable Player of the tournament.

The University of New Haven hosted an eight-team field including six Connecticut schools, Central Conn., Eastern Conn., Southern Conn., Quinnipiac, Trinity and New Haven along with two New York Schools, Geneseo State and St. John Fisher.

Trinity defeated host New Haven 81-80 and then Geneseo State 80-70 to reach the finals with Eastern Conn.

Against the New Haven Chargers the Bantams, paced by Burks, led throughout the game and stretched a 35-33 half time edge to an 18 point advantage, 59-41, in the second half. Burks scored 18 points before being injured in the fourth period. He was replaced by Bobby Williams for the last six minutes. As New Haven tried to catch up, Williams provided the final edge as he connected on 8 to 10 free throws, including 4 in the last 30 seconds.

In the second round, second half efforts by Burks and Nat Williams led Trinity over Geneseo State 80-70. Up by one point 30-29 at the half, Trinity took off with a string of nine straight points making it 48-37. After that the Knights were never allowed closer than 10 points.

Burks had 22 points and Nat Williams 23 points and 13 rebounds at Trinity held a 52-39 edge on the boards. Bill Fenkel had 12 points and 9 rebounds.

In the final game, a combination of controlled defense and coordinated offense gave Trinity the advantage over a very stubborn Eastern team 63-52.

The inside-outside teamwork of Burks and Nat Williams sparked the offense as Trinity led from the tip-off. Although up 26-14 in the second period the disciplined Eastern offense cut that to a half time edge of only 29-23. In the second half the Warriors got within four points twice but could not overtake the determined Bants.

The Trinity Swimming Team is now 2-1. In the pre-holiday season, the Bants lost to RPI 67-46 and to Tufts 61-51 but defeated Amherst 57-56. On Jan. 30 the Water-Bants reopen their season with Union.

All of Trinity's meets have been much closer than the scores indicate. The majority of the teams have been within 15 points of being closely fought, as the score against Amherst shows. What it does not show, however, are the comparative times between the swimmers or the fourth contestant. Trinity was consistently competitive against R.P.I. and Tufts, both good teams.

One portion of Coach Slaughter's Bantam which is stronger than past years is its divers. This year all of the divers for Trinity are women. In both the required and optional dives any of three different coeds represent Trinity.

Under NCAA and ECAC rules, women have been allowed to compete in swimming for the past two years and this season the squad counts seven coeds on its roster.

Trinity's three divers are Barbara Clark '76, Barbara Hayden '77 and Bette Tyson '77.Karen Kahn '77 and Peggy Palmer '75 are freestylers. Judy Scales '76 competes in both, the freestyle and backstroke. Jo Ann Simons '75 swims in the freestyle, backstroke, and butterfly events.

The activities of the fall season finally closed with the awarding of letters and announcement of captains for the 1974 season.

Forty letters were awarded to members of the football team and twenty to the soccer team.

Quarterback Harold Gray, lineman Bill Curren, and left guard Damien Davis were named as the new tri-captains of the 1974 football team.

The final period counted 8 goals and 11 penalties in 20 furious minutes. UConn had 6 of those goals and the majority of the penalties. Using the advantage of their larger squad, UConn pressed a physical attack throughout the period resulting in their penalties including two game misconducts for fighting.

The Bantams final two goals by Henderson and Ford were not enough to offset the Huskies. The Bants being the only informal team in the tournament, playing all varsity Division II teams did exceptionally well to reach the finals and give UConn, a hockey powerhouse, in Division II, the battle they did.

The special awards for football included the "1935 Award," for ability, leadership, and contribution to team morale presented to 1973 tri-captain Barry O'Brien. O'Brien also received the "Offscair Award" for a defensive team member. The "Dan Jesse Blocking Award" given to an offensive lineman was presented to senior center Thomas Lloyd. The "Laser Award" for an offensive team member went to left guard Damien Davis, one of the new 1974 tri-captains.

In addition to these annual awards, a special team award was presented to 1973 split end tri-captain Ronald Dukett for his "Excellence in Athletics and contributions to Trinity Athletics.

The co-captains of the 1974 soccer team were also announced. Robert Andrian and Andrew Porter were elected for 1974. Andrian was also a co-captain for the 1973 season while a junior.

Hockey Team Beats UNH, Bows To UConn in Invitational Contest

Trinity defeated the University of New Haven 8-2 in the first round of the Wesleyan Invitational Hockey Tournament Jan. 11 by bowing to UConn 9-5 in the finals Jan. 12.

Against New Haven the Bantams led by 1-0 and 2-1 only have the Chargers come back to tie it twice. Freshman wing Alan Ploeg opened the scoring for the Bants at 12:39 in the first period assisted by both defensemen Mark Henderson '76 and center Chris Wyle '74. Mike McDonnell at 15:48 scored for New Haven leaving it 1-1 at the end of the first period.

The only goal of the second period was by Mark Cleary with assists from Jeff Ford and Sandy Weeden at 9:04 to put Trinity ahead 2-1.

Coming back strong in the third period the Bants charged on, scoring a second goal by wing Larry Tomasselli unassisted at 7:11. Three minutes later Mark Cleary scored again on a feed by Burks, led off on a run, with New Haven goalie Buddy Beaney. Sandy Weeden the center on Cleary's line blocked a shot, by Scott Fera of New Haven, on his knees and then passed up to Cleary who faked once and then slipped the winning goal behind Beaney. Freshman goalie Franklin Judson had an excellent night for the Bants with 21 saves. Although a man down twice late in the third period, Trinity maintained its lead and moved on to the finals versus UConn who defeated Wesleyan 6-4 in the first round.

In the finals against the UConn Trinity the only "club" team in the tournament met its stiffest competition. In the season opener Trinity bowed to the Huskies 6-1 but this time held them 1-1 and 3-1 at the first two periods before falling to the hard shooting attack by UConn.

In a highly physical game both teams starting goales were injured. Judson of Trinity suffering a knee injury was replaced by Mark Henderson in the second period. Judson had made 22 saves up to then.

Clery scored the first two for Trinity assisted first by Ford and again by Ford and Lenahan. Weeden on a pass from Ford scored the third goal tying it 3-3 after two periods.

Trinity DEFENSEMAN Rick Hooppi No. 16 moves on the puck and as the other Bantam defensemen, No. 21. Mark Henderson moves up to cover 'Trinity's three divers are Barbara Clark '76, Barbara Hayden '77 and Bette Tyson '77. Karen Kahn '77 and Peggy Palmer '75 are freestylers. Judy Scales '76 competes in both, the freestyle and backstroke. Jo Ann Simons '75 swims in the freestyle, backstroke, and butterfly events.

BANTAM DIVERS (left to right) Barbara Clark '76 and Bette Tyson '77 with Head Swim Coach Robert Slaughter. Missing from photo, Barbara Hayden '77.