Annual Giving Tops $50,000 Goal

Trinity has exceeded its Annual Giving goal of $50,000, marking the second consecutive year that gifts totaled more than half a million dollars. This is also the first time that gifts totaled more than half a million dollars for the first time. Last year's goal was $475,000, and this year's goal was $505,000.

Contributions from alumni totaled $311,060, some $11,000 over the Alumni Fund goal of $300,000, and more than $19,000 above Alumni Find gifts last year. There were 3,009 individual gifts to the Fund, up slightly from last year's 3,017 gifts, and the average gift was $101, compared with $97 last year.

Gifts from parents reached $97,418, but fell short of the $100,000 goal for the Parents Fund. The Parents Fund total, however, still went over last year's goal of $95,000, when gifts totaled $109,687 at the end of the drive.

Another $66,420 came from Business and Industry Associates, and $31,728 from the Friends of Trinity Fund.

In reporting the Annual Giving results, President Lockwood said "alumni, parents, friends and business associates should be proud of this remarkable achievement, the highest total in Trinity's history, and the second consecutive year over the half-million dollar mark. In any budget -- especially a tight budget -- the 'last dollars' seem to be the hardest to find, and yet they are the critical ones to have if the College is to maintain the excellence of the program for which it is known. Everyone should take pride for this help in the College's behalf, and as we turn our attention to the campaigns ahead, we especially thank those who volunteer their time and energy to participate in these important drives."

Hartford, Conn.-43rd Ward Committee Chair Robert Gunning '49 of West Hartford, vice-chairman, and Donald J. Viering '42 of Simsbury, Hartford Area chairman, James B. Curtin '51 of North Haven, New Haven Area chairman; Donald R. Reynolds '51 of New York and W. James Tcaster '63 of New York, New York Area co-chairman; Eric A. Fowler '54 of Newtown Square, Pa., Philadelphia Area chairman; and Ernest S. Conro '38 of Alexandria, Va., Washington D.C. Area chairman.

Contributions from the Trinity Fund Steering Committee were: S. Anders Yocom '52 of Simsbury, promotion chairman; Samuel W. McGill Jr. '51 of Glastonbury, class agent chairman; David R. Smith '52 of Longmeadow, Mass., participation and telephone chairman; and Matthew M. Sheridan, M.A. '71 of Boston, master's degree chairman.

The Parents Fund was headed for the second year by Bruce N. Bensley of Morristown, N.J. Other members of the Steering Committee included: Rudolph M. Montiglas, Darien, Conn., special gifts chairman; Ralph J. Tassos, Philadelphia, Pa., past parents chairman; Chester L. Arnold, Darien, Conn. Class of 1974 chairman; John N. Fenkel, Morristown, N.J., Class of 1975 chairman; R. Schuyler Lippincott, Philadelphia, Pa., Class of 1976 chairman; and Charles A. Yocom, Belmont, Mass., Class of 1977 chairman.

John T. Wilcox '39 of Wethersfield was chairman of the Business and Industry Associates and Herbert R. Bland '40 of West Hartford was chairman of the Friends of Trinity Fund.

The Annual Giving Drive, which is conducted between October and June each academic year, is channeled to the College's operating budget, which was $9.1 million for 1973-74. Of that amount, approximately $6.6 million came from tuition, room and board, and fees; $1.5 million came from endowment income; and approximately $800,000 was expected to come from Annual Giving contributions and other sources.

5 Summer Programs Bring 800 Young People to Campus

The 90-acre campus, used by 1,650 undergraduates during the academic year, will be available to all cultural and educational centers for nearly 800 young people from Hartford during July and August.

Three separate programs funded by a combination of federal, state and local government sources are enabling the College to open up its facilities to youngsters from 8 to 18.

For the fifth consecutive year, 250 boys and girls between 10 and 18 will use the College's athletic facilities Monday through Thursday mornings in the National Summer Youth Sports Program funded by the federal government. The program runs from July 1 through August 8.

Another 150 boys and girls between 8 and 13 will use campus facilities for four days a week, Monday through Friday, in the Hartford Recreation Cultural Arts Program funded by the Hartford Parks and Recreation Department and the Connecticut Commission on the Arts.

This program began June 24 and runs through August 9. Meanwhile, some 300 youngsters will be using the Trowbridge Memorial swimming pool in a related summer recreational swimming program offered by the Parks and Recreation Department.

Eighty high school students from Hartford and Waterbury will be living on campus for six weeks in an upward Bound program funded by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the State Department of Community Affairs. Beginning this summer, the Twin Valleys upward Bound, jointly sponsored by Trinity, and Manchester and Middletown community colleges, is expanding from 54 to 80 students and offering the special college prep summer program in addition to year-round service to underachieving students. The Upward Bound program runs from July 6 to August 17.

The athletic and cultural programs will be directed by Richard A. Taylor, assistant professor of physical education at Trinity. The Upward Bound program will be directed by Raymond S. Blanks, a supervisor of outdoor education for the Hartford Recreation Department.
Dr. John Emmett Simons III, associate professor of biology, will spend the next academic year in residence and research at the University of Chicago, where he will continue his experimental embryology.
With a class roster of 21 names, eight members and several wives attended the reunion program. They were ARMSTRONG, BARBER, PARTRIDGE, POTTER, SILVERBERG, TRAUB, TSAU, and WHALEY. In attendance were seven members of the class from a number of seasons.

George W. L. NERENSTEIN left for his summer domicile in New Hampshire and will return to West Hartford, Conn., where he now resides, by the end of the month. Anne T. CLARKE is spending two years at Dartmouth. She is a resident of Woodbridge, Conn.

At the time of our 55th reunion, the Alumni Association of Trinity College will be celebrating the 50th anniversary of the establishment of the Corporation of Trinity College, with the loyal support and giving of its members for that half a century.

eighteen of Trinity's outstanding alumni who have made the college proud. He has been a member of the Board of Trustees of Trinity College, and is a member of the Board of Directors of the Trinity Education Foundation. He is also active in the community, serving in various capacities, including as a director of the Hartford Symphony Orchestra and as a member of the Board of Directors of the Hartford Symphony Orchestra.

Mr. James A. Calato 35 White Street Hartford, CT 06114

Mr. Brian E. Seidman 956 Wolcott Street New Haven, CT 06519

Mr. William J. Beatty 1141 Newington Road West Hartford, CT 06110

Mr. James A. Kalata 35 White Street Hartford, CT 06114

Mr. John M. G. Hollingsworth 20 New London Road East Hampton, CT 06424

Mr. Andrew W. Milligan 558 Simsbury Road Simsbury, CT 06070

Mr. Harry R. Goulart 44 Newport Avenue New Haven, CT 06511

Mr. Joseph J. Tollefsen 28 Woodland Street Hartford, CT 06110

Mr. William T. Gough 44 Newington Road West Hartford, CT 06110

Mr. Martin D. Wood 180 Trefoil Hill Road West Simbury, CT 06092

Mr. John L. Bonner, McCook, Kenyon and Boise

Mr. Robert B. Rice 1141 Newington Road West Hartford, CT 06110

Mr. George L. Duffield 44 Newington Road West Hartford, CT 06110

Mr. William M. Williams 19 Waterer Lane West Hartford, CT 06110

Mr. Charles R. Pitkin 319 North Racebrook Road New Haven, CT 06511
BILLY MARK, who has completed 26 years with DuPont and Babcock, New York City, writes that his son, Tucker, has just finished his first year at Michigan State and is always looking forward to being a sophomore.

Linda Will is on sabatical for the 1974-75 school year from Northside Elementary (Pennsylvania) School District where she is a principal. She is on leave to travel extensively throughout Europe.

JEAN M. DONELLY has joined the Armstrong Rubber Co., 170 Bridgeport Ave., West Haven, Conn., a subsidiary, located in West Allis, Wisconsin.

BROOKS COLLIER, who in 1972 joined the staff of the脉络网 Community College, has been promoted to the position of department head in the department of English and history.

In the fall, the faculty of the College of Science and Mathematics at the University of Arizona, Tucson, raised its fees 10 percent for undergraduate credit courses.

Linda Will is on sabatical for the 1974-75 school year from Northside Elementary (Pennsylvania) School District where she is a principal. She is on leave to travel extensively throughout Europe.

MRS. PETER C. CAMPBELL, an employee of Tenney & Associates, 1630 Company of New York, has just celebrated his 35th year in the insurance profession.

FRANK LANCASTER, a seasoned cattle raiser, has been raised seven daughters, the cows, hedged the horses, and milked the cows. Mrs. Lancaster is still fully licensed and works as a tug boat operator for the Hempstead Town of Long Island.

TED WEATHERS is completing his sixth year at Cathedral Church of the Nativity, Nashville, Tennessee, where he is a high school student and three exceptionally talented and dedicated students.

The community involvement has been a hallmark of his career.

ROBERT BOWDEN has been elected President of the Pennsylvania Social Work Association.

ALFRED KING has received a master's degree; he is one of a Master's Art in Earth Science from Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, Pennsylvania, and has two children: Chase and Nell, four and two years old.

JIM MCCLISTER is practicing law in Pennsylvania and has two children: Chase and Nell, four and two years old.

JIM MCDONNELL has joined the Armstrong Rubber Co., 170 Bridgeport Ave., West Haven, Conn., a subsidiary, located in West Allis, Wisconsin.

Mr. John F. Klinger 44 Fern St. West Hartford, CT 06119

MACKRAKE is still teaching junior high school in the Batavia, Maryland, public schools. In addition, he coaches the varsity team. He and his wife have been married in the National year and he hopes they can win it this year. He says it looks like BARK MINUTERSON's son will be in this fight.

DAVID COLLIER is an assistant professor of history at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. He is the author of a forthcoming book, "Patterns of Life in the Midwest,"

Estimates indicate that employment of nurses will increase 28 percent over the next decade. The demand is expected to come primarily from long-term care facilities, hospitals, and home health agencies.

In addition, he coaches the varsity team. He and his wife have been married in the National year and he hopes they can win it this year. He says it looks like BARK MINUTERSON's son will be in this fight.

Mr. Howard Minzer, 170 Bridgeport Ave., West Haven, Conn., has been promoted to the position of department head in the department of English and history.

BILLY MARK, who has completed 26 years with DuPont and Babcock, New York City, writes that his son, Tucker, has just finished his first year at Michigan State and is always looking forward to being a sophomore.

Linda Will is on sabatical for the 1974-75 school year from Northside Elementary (Pennsylvania) School District where she is a principal. She is on leave to travel extensively throughout Europe.

MRS. PETER C. CAMPBELL, an employee of Tenney & Associates, 1630 Company of New York, has just celebrated his 35th year in the insurance profession.
saccor and varicose lassitude, overrives the rift into technology and aces appended back-packing and hiking program that runs throughout the summer.

THERODORE HAGEMAN has been appointed as the new head of the Regional Administration of the Hartford National Bank's Connecticut Division.

PETER KILBORN, who was formerly with Brown in 1950, is a history teacher at the New York Times. Peter is living in Park Slope, Brooklyn, where he has renovated a brownstone. He says TONY SANDERS lies about a block away.

CHRIS LICKER writes that things could hardly be better, despite extremely bad conditions in the securities markets, which is partly due to the business and the man who is being investigated for a crime.

62 MIKE SHEENK wrote that recent conditions are favorable, due to the company's poor performance. MIKE has been working at the company for many years. He says that he is proud to be a part of this great organization.

Mr. Del A. Stiltner
40 Meyer Rd.
New York, NY 10074

CLIFFORD BERGENSTEIN reports he is alive and well in Brazil, New Providence, New Jersey after three and a half years in Brazil. His family includes three children and one cat. He says that he enjoys being a professor of radiology at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine and that he is a radiologist at the Montefiore Hospital, Bronx, New York.

PETER KILBORN, who was formerly with Brown in 1950, is a history teacher at the New York Times. Peter is living in Park Slope, Brooklyn, where he has renovated a brownstone. He says TONY SANDERS lies about a block away.

CHRIS LICKER writes that things could hardly be better, despite extremely bad conditions in the securities markets, which is partly due to the business and the man who is being investigated for a crime.

62 MIKE SHEENK wrote that recent conditions are favorable, due to the company's poor performance. MIKE has been working at the company for many years. He says that he is proud to be a part of this great organization.

Mr. Del A. Stiltner
40 Meyer Rd.
New York, NY 10074

CLIFFORD BERGENSTEIN reports he is alive and well in Brazil, New Providence, New Jersey after three and a half years in Brazil. His family includes three children and one cat. He says that he enjoys being a professor of radiology at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine and that he is a radiologist at the Montefiore Hospital, Bronx, New York.

PETER KILBORN, who was formerly with Brown in 1950, is a history teacher at the New York Times. Peter is living in Park Slope, Brooklyn, where he has renovated a brownstone. He says TONY SANDERS lies about a block away.

CHRIS LICKER writes that things could hardly be better, despite extremely bad conditions in the securities markets, which is partly due to the business and the man who is being investigated for a crime.

62 MIKE SHEENK wrote that recent conditions are favorable, due to the company's poor performance. MIKE has been working at the company for many years. He says that he is proud to be a part of this great organization.

Mr. Del A. Stiltner
40 Meyer Rd.
New York, NY 10074

CLIFFORD BERGENSTEIN reports he is alive and well in Brazil, New Providence, New Jersey after three and a half years in Brazil. His family includes three children and one cat. He says that he enjoys being a professor of radiology at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine and that he is a radiologist at the Montefiore Hospital, Bronx, New York.

PETER KILBORN, who was formerly with Brown in 1950, is a history teacher at the New York Times. Peter is living in Park Slope, Brooklyn, where he has renovated a brownstone. He says TONY SANDERS lies about a block away.

CHRIS LICKER writes that things could hardly be better, despite extremely bad conditions in the securities markets, which is partly due to the business and the man who is being investigated for a crime.

62 MIKE SHEENK wrote that recent conditions are favorable, due to the company's poor performance. MIKE has been working at the company for many years. He says that he is proud to be a part of this great organization.

Mr. Del A. Stiltner
40 Meyer Rd.
New York, NY 10074

CLIFFORD BERGENSTEIN reports he is alive and well in Brazil, New Providence, New Jersey after three and a half years in Brazil. His family includes three children and one cat. He says that he enjoys being a professor of radiology at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine and that he is a radiologist at the Montefiore Hospital, Bronx, New York.

PETER KILBORN, who was formerly with Brown in 1950, is a history teacher at the New York Times. Peter is living in Park Slope, Brooklyn, where he has renovated a brownstone. He says TONY SANDERS lies about a block away.

CHRIS LICKER writes that things could hardly be better, despite extremely bad conditions in the securities markets, which is partly due to the business and the man who is being investigated for a crime.

62 MIKE SHEENK wrote that recent conditions are favorable, due to the company's poor performance. MIKE has been working at the company for many years. He says that he is proud to be a part of this great organization.

Mr. Del A. Stiltner
40 Meyer Rd.
New York, NY 10074

CLIFFORD BERGENSTEIN reports he is alive and well in Brazil, New Providence, New Jersey after three and a half years in Brazil. His family includes three children and one cat. He says that he enjoys being a professor of radiology at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine and that he is a radiologist at the Montefiore Hospital, Bronx, New York.

PETER KILBORN, who was formerly with Brown in 1950, is a history teacher at the New York Times. Peter is living in Park Slope, Brooklyn, where he has renovated a brownstone. He says TONY SANDERS lies about a block away.

CHRIS LICKER writes that things could hardly be better, despite extremely bad conditions in the securities markets, which is partly due to the business and the man who is being investigated for a crime.

62 MIKE SHEENK wrote that recent conditions are favorable, due to the company's poor performance. MIKE has been working at the company for many years. He says that he is proud to be a part of this great organization.

Mr. Del A. Stiltner
40 Meyer Rd.
New York, NY 10074

CLIFFORD BERGENSTEIN reports he is alive and well in Brazil, New Providence, New Jersey after three and a half years in Brazil. His family includes three children and one cat. He says that he enjoys being a professor of radiology at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine and that he is a radiologist at the Montefiore Hospital, Bronx, New York.

PETER KILBORN, who was formerly with Brown in 1950, is a history teacher at the New York Times. Peter is living in Park Slope, Brooklyn, where he has renovated a brownstone. He says TONY SANDERS lies about a block away.

CHRIS LICKER writes that things could hardly be better, despite extremely bad conditions in the securities markets, which is partly due to the business and the man who is being investigated for a crime.

62 MIKE SHEENK wrote that recent conditions are favorable, due to the company's poor performance. MIKE has been working at the company for many years. He says that he is proud to be a part of this great organization.

Mr. Del A. Stiltner
40 Meyer Rd.
New York, NY 10074

CLIFFORD BERGENSTEIN reports he is alive and well in Brazil, New Providence, New Jersey after three and a half years in Brazil. His family includes three children and one cat. He says that he enjoys being a professor of radiology at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine and that he is a radiologist at the Montefiore Hospital, Bronx, New York.

PETER KILBORN, who was formerly with Brown in 1950, is a history teacher at the New York Times. Peter is living in Park Slope, Brooklyn, where he has renovated a brownstone. He says TONY SANDERS lies about a block away.

CHRIS LICKER writes that things could hardly be better, despite extremely bad conditions in the securities markets, which is partly due to the business and the man who is being investigated for a crime.

62 MIKE SHEENK wrote that recent conditions are favorable, due to the company's poor performance. MIKE has been working at the company for many years. He says that he is proud to be a part of this great organization.

Mr. Del A. Stiltner
40 Meyer Rd.
New York, NY 10074

CLIFFORD BERGENSTEIN reports he is alive and well in Brazil, New Providence, New Jersey after three and a half years in Brazil. His family includes three children and one cat. He says that he enjoys being a professor of radiology at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine and that he is a radiologist at the Montefiore Hospital, Bronx, New York.

PETER KILBORN, who was formerly with Brown in 1950, is a history teacher at the New York Times. Peter is living in Park Slope, Brooklyn, where he has renovated a brownstone. He says TONY SANDERS lies about a block away.

CHRIS LICKER writes that things could hardly be better, despite extremely bad conditions in the securities markets, which is partly due to the business and the man who is being investigated for a crime.

62 MIKE SHEENK wrote that recent conditions are favorable, due to the company's poor performance. MIKE has been working at the company for many years. He says that he is proud to be a part of this great organization.

Mr. Del A. Stiltner
40 Meyer Rd.
New York, NY 10074

CLIFFORD BERGENSTEIN reports he is alive and well in Brazil, New Providence, New Jersey after three and a half years in Brazil. His family includes three children and one cat. He says that he enjoys being a professor of radiology at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine and that he is a radiologist at the Montefiore Hospital, Bronx, New York.

PETER KILBORN, who was formerly with Brown in 1950, is a history teacher at the New York Times. Peter is living in Park Slope, Brooklyn, where he has renovated a brownstone. He says TONY SANDERS lies about a block away.

CHRIS LICKER writes that things could hardly be better, despite extremely bad conditions in the securities markets, which is partly due to the business and the man who is being investigated for a crime.

62 MIKE SHEENK wrote that recent conditions are favorable, due to the company's poor performance. MIKE has been working at the company for many years. He says that he is proud to be a part of this great organization.

Mr. Del A. Stiltner
40 Meyer Rd.
New York, NY 10074

CLIFFORD BERGENSTEIN reports he is alive and well in Brazil, New Providence, New Jersey after three and a half years in Brazil. His family includes three children and one cat. He says that he enjoys being a professor of radiology at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine and that he is a radiologist at the Montefiore Hospital, Bronx, New York.

PETER KILBORN, who was formerly with Brown in 1950, is a history teacher at the New York Times. Peter is living in Park Slope, Brooklyn, where he has renovated a brownstone. He says TONY SANDERS lies about a block away.

CHRIS LICKER writes that things could hardly be better, despite extremely bad conditions in the securities markets, which is partly due to the business and the man who is being investigated for a crime.

62 MIKE SHEENK wrote that recent conditions are favorable, due to the company's poor performance. MIKE has been working at the company for many years. He says that he is proud to be a part of this great organization.

Mr. Del A. Stiltner
40 Meyer Rd.
New York, NY 10074

CLIFFORD BERGENSTEIN reports he is alive and well in Brazil, New Providence, New Jersey after three and a half years in Brazil. His family includes three children and one cat. He says that he enjoys being a professor of radiology at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine and that he is a radiologist at the Montefiore Hospital, Bronx, New York.
Mr. Peter N. Campbell
972 Smith Rd, Apt. 4-A
Newport, DE 19702

RALPH ROBINSON has a new job as a computer programmer trainee with Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance in Springfield, Massachusetts. Ralph says his wife, Marianne, graduated from Mount Holyoke with a BA in Spanish and in April they became the proud parents of a baby boy.

JOHN FOULKROD lives just outside of Aspen, Colorado, and will be working this summer with Ropes (a group of musicians and dancers). Mike is currently a Senior Staff Psychologist at the Intensive Care Unit of the Metropolitan General Hospital in New York. Mike and his wife, Sue, will be moving to Denver this summer to be with the Rocky Mountain Center for Clinical Research.

RAYMOND McKEE is presently working as a law clerk for the Hon. Edmund & S. Burch, Jr., of the United States Bankruptcy Court, Washington, DC. Raymond lives right around the corner from the Clinton M. Powell Federal Building, but says "to which I am not invited annually." He is looking forward to attending Georgetown Law School at Washington, DC. JOEY LANE is serving as a Special Assistant to the Director of the Federal Aviation Administration in New York.

MIKE BEAUTYMAN has finished his second year at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte. Mike and his wife, Carol, are living in a "log cabin in the woods" in Simsbury, Connecticut. Mike would like to thank his wife, Carol, and his wife, Carol Ann, for living in a "log cabin in the woods" in Simsbury, Connecticut. Mike would like to thank his two children, John and Robert, for their continued support.

JOHN ROLLINS has recently been appointed to the position of state bank examiner. GEORGE WRIGHT has a family of three and says that he and his wife are looking forward to the birth of their first child in early August.

DICK RECI is assistant crew chief at Connecticut College. Dick and his wife, Joy, are expecting their first baby in early August.

JIM DEMICCO, from the Medical College of Pennsylvania, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army and is studying for his M.A. in psychology and has accepted a position as an admissions counselor and his wife, Mary, is currently taking a class through the University of Pennsylvania. SUE COLLINS is with Chase Manhattan; she was just appointed to the position of Assistant Vice President of the New York City branch.

BILLY GRANVILLE returns to the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, where he spent the last two years as a resident in internal medicine at the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey. Ann Arthur says he plans to go to law school and to leave Philadelphia for greener pastures. GEORGE O'BEIRNE is now working for the Massachusetts Public Health Department as a state bank examiner.

GEORGE O'BEIRNE is now working for the Massachusetts Public Health Department as a state bank examiner.

J. PETER KUPPERBERG is currently taking graduate courses at Boston University, Rochester, Rochester, New York. This summer he will be working in the low temperature physics group at the National Institute of Standards and Technology in Boulder, Colorado.

MARCIA WEINER is public relations director for the Center for Human Resource Development at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

LEON KUPPEBERG is currently taking graduate courses at Boston University, Rochester, Rochester, New York. This summer he will be working in the low temperature physics group at the National Institute of Standards and Technology in Boulder, Colorado.

MARCIA WEINER is public relations director for the Center for Human Resource Development at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

LEON KUPPEBERG is currently taking graduate courses at Boston University, Rochester, Rochester, New York. This summer he will be working in the low temperature physics group at the National Institute of Standards and Technology in Boulder, Colorado.

MARCIA WEINER is public relations director for the Center for Human Resource Development at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

LEON KUPPEBERG is currently taking graduate courses at Boston University, Rochester, Rochester, New York. This summer he will be working in the low temperature physics group at the National Institute of Standards and Technology in Boulder, Colorado.

MARCIA WEINER is public relations director for the Center for Human Resource Development at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.
Dr. Haroutune Mugurdich Dadourian, 95, died June 1, 1974 at Hartford Hospital after being stricken at his home in New Britain. A physicist by training, he taught physics and mathematics at Trinity for 30 years, and was one of the college's most respected and influential teachers until his retirement in 1949.

Dr. Dadourian

Since retirement, he had remained active and continued to attend events at the College. He was a frequent participant in local community activities, maintaining his long-standing interest in world affairs.

Born December 18, 1899 in Turkey, Dr. Dadourian received his B.S. degree in physics from the University of St. Paul's Institute, Turkish University, and his Ph.D. degrees in physics from Yale, where he studied in the United States in 1926-1927. He then joined the Trinity faculty in 1923 as a physics professor and began teaching, a career he held until his retirement in June, 1949.

Dr. Dadourian was the author of many books, "Plane Trigonometry," "Introduction to Analytical Geometry and the Calculus," "Analytical Mechanics," and "The Method of Least Squares." He was also a member of numerous legal associations, and the author of the American Law Review's publication "Neighborhood Law." He was the recipient of many awards and honors, including the Distinguished Service Medal and the Legion of Merit, and was named a brigadier general by General Marshall.

Dr. Dadourian's two sons, Robert and Bruce; a daughter, Mrs. Lela Van Dorn Cummings; and four grandchildren survive him.

A native of Turkey, Dr. Dadourian was a member of the Armenian Society of New England and the American Mathematical Association, the American Library Association, the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.

He became a distinguished and best-known of Trinity's professors, and a teacher of the highest caliber, until his retirement in 1949. He had been associated with La Manna Realty Corporation in the sales division for about ten years during the summer at the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Robert Cutler, special counsel for national security affairs to the late President Eisenhower, and Mr. Cutler's wife, Mrs. Pearl Kidston Cutler, were long-time friends of Dr. Dadourian. The Cutlers were members of the Board of Trustees of Trinity.

In 1922, he was appointed as the Seabury Professor of Physics, a position he held until his retirement in 1949. He was well-remembered by his colleagues, his friends, and his former students.

Dr. Dadourian, a physicist by training, was a member of the Armenian Society of New England and the American Mathematical Association, the American Library Association, the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.

Vociferous on political matters, Dr. Dadourian was a critic of nuclear testing during the Cold War, and was president of the Connecticut Committee for Nuclear Policy. He died June 1974 at Hartford Hospital, when his father served as president of Trinity at the time of his death. He was a member of the Armenian Society of New England and the American Mathematical Association, the American Library Association, the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.

Dr. Cutler, special counsel for national security affairs to the late President Eisenhower, and Mr. Cutler's wife, Mrs. Pearl Kidston Cutler, were long-time friends of Dr. Dadourian. The Cutlers were members of the Board of Trustees of Trinity. He was well-remembered by his colleagues, his friends, and his former students.

Dr. Dadourian as described by his colleagues, his friends, and his former students, was an influential figure in the field of physics and mathematics. His contributions to the field of mathematics are recognized internationally, and he was a member of many professional organizations.

He was the recipient of many awards and honors, including the Distinguished Service Medal and the Legion of Merit. He was a member of the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.

In 1922, he was appointed as the Seabury Professor of Physics, a position he held until his retirement in 1949. He had been a member of the Armenian Society of New England and the American Mathematical Association, the American Library Association, the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.

He was the recipient of many awards and honors, including the Distinguished Service Medal and the Legion of Merit. He was a member of the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.

In 1922, he was appointed as the Seabury Professor of Physics, a position he held until his retirement in 1949. He had been a member of the Armenian Society of New England and the American Mathematical Association, the American Library Association, the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.

He was the recipient of many awards and honors, including the Distinguished Service Medal and the Legion of Merit. He was a member of the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.

In 1922, he was appointed as the Seabury Professor of Physics, a position he held until his retirement in 1949. He had been a member of the Armenian Society of New England and the American Mathematical Association, the American Library Association, the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.

He was the recipient of many awards and honors, including the Distinguished Service Medal and the Legion of Merit. He was a member of the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.

In 1922, he was appointed as the Seabury Professor of Physics, a position he held until his retirement in 1949. He had been a member of the Armenian Society of New England and the American Mathematical Association, the American Library Association, the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.

He was the recipient of many awards and honors, including the Distinguished Service Medal and the Legion of Merit. He was a member of the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.

In 1922, he was appointed as the Seabury Professor of Physics, a position he held until his retirement in 1949. He had been a member of the Armenian Society of New England and the American Mathematical Association, the American Library Association, the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.

He was the recipient of many awards and honors, including the Distinguished Service Medal and the Legion of Merit. He was a member of the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.

In 1922, he was appointed as the Seabury Professor of Physics, a position he held until his retirement in 1949. He had been a member of the Armenian Society of New England and the American Mathematical Association, the American Library Association, the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.

He was the recipient of many awards and honors, including the Distinguished Service Medal and the Legion of Merit. He was a member of the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.

In 1922, he was appointed as the Seabury Professor of Physics, a position he held until his retirement in 1949. He had been a member of the Armenian Society of New England and the American Mathematical Association, the American Library Association, the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.

He was the recipient of many awards and honors, including the Distinguished Service Medal and the Legion of Merit. He was a member of the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.

In 1922, he was appointed as the Seabury Professor of Physics, a position he held until his retirement in 1949. He had been a member of the Armenian Society of New England and the American Mathematical Association, the American Library Association, the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.

He was the recipient of many awards and honors, including the Distinguished Service Medal and the Legion of Merit. He was a member of the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.

In 1922, he was appointed as the Seabury Professor of Physics, a position he held until his retirement in 1949. He had been a member of the Armenian Society of New England and the American Mathematical Association, the American Library Association, the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.

He was the recipient of many awards and honors, including the Distinguished Service Medal and the Legion of Merit. He was a member of the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.

In 1922, he was appointed as the Seabury Professor of Physics, a position he held until his retirement in 1949. He had been a member of the Armenian Society of New England and the American Mathematical Association, the American Library Association, the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.

He was the recipient of many awards and honors, including the Distinguished Service Medal and the Legion of Merit. He was a member of the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.

In 1922, he was appointed as the Seabury Professor of Physics, a position he held until his retirement in 1949. He had been a member of the Armenian Society of New England and the American Mathematical Association, the American Library Association, the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.

He was the recipient of many awards and honors, including the Distinguished Service Medal and the Legion of Merit. He was a member of the American Mathematical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association of University Professors.
Ralph D. Arcari
Is Promoted to Assistant's Post

Ralph D. Arcari, chief of readers' services at the College since 1969, has been appointed assistant librarian effective July 1.

A native of Hartford, Arcari came to Trinity in 1967 from Hofstra University, where he was Catalog Librarian from 1966 to 1967.

A 1965 graduate of Catholic University, he has done graduate work at Drexel University, where he received an MLS in 1966, and Trinity, where he earned an M.A. in 1972. Arcari also holds an A.A. from St. Thomas Seminary College.

Arcari serves as an adjunct professor at Southern Connecticut State College in New Haven, Conn., where he has taught courses in Government Documents, Research and Evaluation in Libraries, and College and University Library Service.

Arcari served as vice president of the Trinity Graduate Student Association from 1970 to 1971, and is a member of the American Association of University Professors and the American Library Association.

Wendell Kraft Dies at 72; Retired Professor Was Aide to Dr. Jacobs

Wendell Kraft, 72, of West Hartford, associate professor of engineering emeritus at Trinity, died July 15 at home.

He joined the Trinity faculty in 1954 after serving in the Navy, in which he had served 34 years. He was former assistant chief for administration of the Bureau of Ships, the largest of the Navy Department bureaus.

During World War II, he was hull superintendent and production officer at the Charleston, S.C. Navy Yard and later was production officer at the Boston Navy Yard Shipyard.

He retired from Trinity College in 1968. For several years before that, he served as assistant to former Trinity President Albert C. Jacobs.

A native of Hartford, Mr. Kraft was graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy in 1924 and did graduate work there and at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he received the master of science degree in 1929.

He was a registered professional engineer and a member of the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers, the American Society of Naval Engineers.

Hyland Named Chairman of Philosophy Dept.

Dr. Drew A. Hyland, associate professor of philosophy, has been named chairman of the Department effective July 1.

A native of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Hyland received his B.A. from Princeton University in 1961 and his M.A. and Ph.D. from Pennsylvania State University in 1963 and 1965 respectively. Prior to joining the Trinity faculty in September, 1967, he was an assistant professor of philosophy at the University of Toronto from 1964-1967.

His first book, The Origins of Philosophy, was published in 1973, and a second, Plato's Charmides and the Nature of Philosophy, is presently in preparation. He has also published several articles in philosophy journals and magazines.

F. Pedemonti
Is Comptroller,
Budget Director

Robert Pedemonti, budget director and associate comptroller at Trinity College since 1968, has been promoted to comptroller. He will also retain his position of budget director.

Pedemonti was graduated Phi Beta Kappa from Trinity in 1960, and was awarded an M.A. from the College in 1971. A former finance director for the Salvation Army, Pedemonti has served as executive director of the Connecticut Chapter of the American Society for Public Administrators, and as a member of the Better Business Bureau Advisory Board.

Alumni Tour Will Go To Paris

Alumni and their immediate families are invited to take advantage of an exciting one-week trip to Paris, departing from Hartford (Bradley International) on November 11, 1974, the day after Reunion/Homecoming.

TWA Charter jet...hotel accommodations for six nights at the (4-star) PLM/St. Jacques ...