Tradition Marks 149th Commencement

Three Trustee Changes
Approved By Board

The Board of Trustees at its Commencement Weekend meeting made a term trustee a charter trustee and approved the selection of two new trustees.

William R. Peelle '44 of West Hartford, who had been a term trustee, was elected a charter trustee. Brenton W. Harries '50 of Westfield, New Jersey, was elected term trustee for an eight year term and Thomas C. DePatie '52 of Ridgewood, New Jersey, was made alumni trustee for a six year term.

Peelle, who served as an officer in the Coast Guard Reserve, served Trinity as assistant director of admissions, director of admissions, freshman advisor, assistant alumni secretary and alumni secretary.

In 1955, he joined the Wilcox-Crittenden Division of North and Judd Manufacturing Company in Middletown, where he functioned as an office manager and was involved in labor relations and market research. In 1957, he joined Arrow-Hart, Inc., now a division of Crouse-Hinds, Inc., in Hartford. Now vice president, he also handled industrial relations for the company and served as assistant to the company's New Jersey telethon chairman, also to receive Master's Degrees from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

Master's degrees were awarded to 79 candidates, 40 men and 39 women, six of whom were Trinity graduates. Seventy-six received Master of Arts degrees and three, Master of Science degrees.

In his charge to the Class of 1975, President Lockwood said, in part: "A Trinity education should have cultivated in you who graduate today the brashness to question the conventional wisdom of our society. But it also should have fostered a habit of skepticism which will enable you to resist simplistic solutions to the domestic and foreign problems which the nation confronts. In other words, I trust that during your years at Trinity you have developed the intellectual acuity to distinguish shadow from substance, ideas from mere ideology."

(Full text, page 2)
President's Charge
To The School of 1975

This is the year in which we begin the celebration of our Bicentennial as a nation. It is also the year in which we face fundamental questions about the role of the United States in a world arena beset by dramatic changes. We should be conscious of the relationship between the two.

The American Revolution was both brash and restrained. Speaking with the provincialism of a New Englander, I am always struck by the arrogance of a few. That the success of their fellow rebels succeeded is a chastening reminder to the odds-odds. But that they were restrained in their search for a better commonwealth may be even more worth noting. In a way it was a revolution colored by academic qualitie. The Founding Fathers distrusted the apocalyptic; they knew there was no simple way to insure freedom for themselves and posterity.

Irving Kristol put his finger on this crucial quality of our War for Independence when he wrote: "Enthusiasm there was, but this enthusiasm was tempered by doubt, introspection, anxiety and skepticism." Behind the brashness of rebellion lay a willingness to go down, not an unthinking passion for certitude.

Yale Walpole enterprise and you made substantial contributions to Boswell and Cowper studies. At Pembroke College, Cambridge, you won the prize for the best dissertation in English. Students who attest to the brilliance of your academic achievement and promise. Calling Dr. George Reiner, curator, curator, curator of English and American literature at the University library. A Guggenheim and Bollingen Foundation Fellow, your abilities were recognized at a remarkably early age when you became director of the Pierpont Morgan Library in 1965, a post to which you brought the energy and sound learning. I have the privilege to present a distinguished Michigander, collector, curator, connoisseur, and man-of-letters.

THE RIGHT REVEREND KENNETH J. WOOLCOMBE A student at both Oxford and Cambridge, you returned to your own college. St. John's, Oxford, as Chaplain, tutor and fellow. Your achievements as a scholar of the life and thought of the early church, of the types of theologies of the New Testament and your lexicographical contributions to Patristic research as well as your ability as a lecturer to young men, led to your appointment to serve in this country at the General Theological Seminary. Here you have lived partially as a theological discussion and in the education of many who minister and teach in the United States. But you have also, in the summer, when the cause of education and the Church took you from this country to the rigors of Scotland. Now you have returned to Oxford as the Bishop of a great diocese and of the oldest university of the English-speaking world. As a man of the Academy and of the Church, you have served both well in several parts of the world. Now you also serve your country on the Bench of Bishops of the Anglican Communion of Churches. For the example of scholarship and a care of persons as well as the care of many churches, I have the honor to present.

The transition to academic concerns is both obvious and irresistible. A Trinity education should have cultivated not only graduates but also the brashness to question the conventional wisdom of our society. But it also should have fostered a habit of skepticism to resist simplistic solutions to the domestic and foreign problems which the nation faces. That during your years at Trinity you have developed the intellectual acuity to distinguish shadow from substance, ideas from ideology.

As we celebrate the Bicentennial, it is fitting to recall that our revolution on behalf of freedom was "Professor Kristol's weapon." It is fitting to say that a degree never approximated since, and perhaps never approximated before. The educated mind, not dogma, may have made all the difference then. It could make all the difference in the future. For we once again face an urgent need for reasoned reappraisal.

The withdrawal of the United States from Vietnam ends an era in our relationship with that great commonwealth of Asia, but with other powers throughout the world. As we enter a new era, we shall need all the mind--all the intelligence and integrity--brilliance in the task of finding an appropriate and worthy role for this country in global affairs. It is the era also of a vision of the dignity of the individual. For how we define human dignity will distinguish how we respond to others and how we regard ourselves. I can only share the Faculty's hope that your undergraduate education has started you on a remarkable and providential road leading to this new role. I share the Faculty's hope that you will bring to the task of finding an appropriate and worthy role for this country in global affairs.

I have always liked the description which Dag Hammarskjold gave at a time when international peace conferences were starting to acquire another man's deep faith: "He is one of those who has had the will to work hard, the will to be present, and called a star a brother."

As you graduate today, I congratulate you and, on behalf of those who have known you, the treasure of your talents and their knowledge to Trinity, I extend you best wishes for the years ahead.

TRINITY REPORTER
June, 1975 Vol. 5, No. 7

Issued seven times a year in September, October, November, December, January, February, March, April, May, and June.

Published by the Office of Public Information, Trinity College, Hartford, Conn. 06106. Second class postage paid at Hartford, Connecticut.

THE REPORTER is mailed at no extra charge to students and friends of Trinity. Copies are available to students.

Letters for publication must be no longer than 200 words and signed. The principle that a letter is at the discretion of the Editor and may be edited for brevity applies.

Editor, L. Barton Wilson '37; Associate Editor, James F. Wilman; Assistant Editor, Ettie Mooney; News and Information, Daniel F. Russo '73; Photographer, David R. Lowe; Managing Alumni Director, Kathleen L. Frederick '71.
THE WHITE HOUSE SENIOR PROM FOR SUSAN FORD was attended by several Trinity graduates, but they weren't there as guests. The Outerspace Band, a country-rock group formed by three undergraduates in 1968, now has nine Trinity graduates, but they weren't there as guests. The alumni working in various capacities. It played at the prom and its members hope that the widespread publicity given the group will help it negotiate a record contract. Above, left: John B. Moses '72, David H. Robinson '72, Kiril A. Kubichek '72, Eliot W. Osborn '71 and John T. Koehler '72. Others who work with the band as equipment and business managers are Donald H. Pugh, Jr. '71, Richard P. Sieger '73, Eric S. Weiss '71 and Arthur H. Adams '72.

12th Annual Cape Cod Picnic Set For Aug. 11

The 12th annual Cape Cod picnic will be held on Monday, August 11 at the John Masons' in West Chatham. If you plan to be on the Cape during that period and have not received an invitation in past years, write or call the Alumni Office, (203) 527-3251.

THE CLASS OF 1925 JOINS THE "IMMORTALS" — Returning for their 50th Reunion over Commencement Weekend, the Class of 1925 demonstrated their youth, exuberance and endurance. Posing on the Quad are, left to right, back row: Nels Valerius, Al Jepson, Ray Montgomery, Dave Hadlow, Al Birch, Jack Ailey, Taylor Stone and Sam Wilcox; front row: Ididore Geeter, Moses Lischner, Frank Thorburn, Ken Smith and Jim Sbrocco. Present for the festivities but absent when the photo was taken were: Bill Goodridge, George Malcolm-Lischner, Frank Thorburn, Ken Smith and Jim Sbrocco. As we ate, Vivi had talked about the social graces of yesteryear.

THE students were all participants in Trinity's Freshman Seminar Program. The fifteen in my living room had elected to look into the general topic of "Nostalgia," and the meal and slide show were two of the projects designed and executed by students in completion of the requirements.

In the fall of 1974 Trinity offered entering freshmen a choice of 33 seminars, with topics as "Authority, Dominance, and Freedom," "Approaches to Japanese History," "Exploring the Earth and Other Places," and "Feminist Mythmaking." The seminar program is popular with freshmen; 94 percent of the freshmen in the 1974 fall term signed up for seminars, although not required to do so. The seminars appeal because they allow students and instructors to explore subjects of mutual interest which are not included among the courses regularly listed in the college catalogue under the various departmental offices.

A seminar is not simply another name for a small class. The faculty member offering a seminar does not so much "teach a subject" as join his students in an exploration. The term seminar itself is a German word derived from the Latin meaning, "digs." Some of the most exciting early seminars were held in German universities in the last century where archaeologists had been digging in the ruins of ancient Greece and the Middle East to compare notes. The archaeologists shared common interests and generally understood one another's research problems; but their experiences were not at all alike in detail as different as the arts and cultures and climates found at their various "digs." These seminars proved so useful to the participants that their pattern has been copied in universities all over the world.

In my "Nostalgia" seminar the students shared the common interest of digging into things that interested them in the American past. David Kilroy wanted to look into American music and to explain the nostalgia of many college students for the "Big Band" sound of the 1930's as well as for the romance of Scott Joplin, and in fact for all the music of yes- terday. Thom wanted to look into nostalgic styles of American architecture — the houses, the parks, the paintings of the American past. "Classical Revival" and "Neo-Gothic." Bob Phelps, an ardent stamp collector, prepared a slide show in which he portrayed the most famous bi-centennial commemorative stamps on a screen and explained the various scenes depicting early explorations, the opening of the West, and so on. Mary Lou Rubino interviewed a number of women born before 1900, inquiring into their views on women's lib, co-ed dormitories in colleges, and a wide range of subjects. They thought better of the behavior of today's youth than one might suppose. While these and other investigations were going on, the group as a whole began to close in on the nature of nostalgia. It is a yearning for those peanut-butter and marshmallow-fluff sandwiches of school days? Or does it play a much more philosophical role in our culture, perhaps throwing light on the persistent image in our Judeo-Christian culture of a paradise forever lost?

The group read Mark Twain's anti-nostalgic novel "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," then visited Mark Twain's Hartford home and the home of his next-door neighbor, Harriet Beecher Stowe, whose "Uncle Tom's Cabin" they also read. Among several other books they studied was Daniel Boorstin's "The Americans: The Democratic Experience," which is a freewheeling look at the history of the U.S. about the time of the Civil War to the present.

A pleasant and interesting feature of the seminar was a trip to Old Sturbridge Village, the Good-speed Opera House, the New Britain Museum of American Art, among other places. The group visited a college station wagon, the students came to know one another in an informal way quite different from a classroom experience. The occasional dinners at my house also helped students get to know each other and their seminar leader.

I say "leaders" because there were two of us. Emily Barron, a senior majoring in American Studies, was my Teaching Assistant. Emily was greatly liked and respected by the freshmen, who turned to her for counsel on all manner of topics, personal as well as academic. At seminar meetings she helped conduct discussions, and on our field trips she drove one of the cars. After the seminar ended in December the freshmen, reluctant to let their friendly group simply stop, arranged to meet one evening just before Christmas to chat and eat snacks in Emily's room in the high-rise dormitory on Vernon Street.

One of the requirements of the seminar was a weekly paper from each student. The papers came in every Tuesday. Emily and I agreed at the outset that it would be best if the papers were corrected and returned to the writers at the very next seminar meeting, that is, on Thursday. She and I read the papers, and with her help we were able to have the papers back in the writers' hands by mid-morning Friday. The papers were, as a rule, discussed at the Thursday meetings.

At the very last seminar meeting in December all freshmen participating in the seminar program at Trinity were asked to give an anonymous evaluation of the seminar experience. Among many of their comments are two which seem to me to help explain the widespread popularity of the seminar program. One student wrote, "It was very demanding which I liked." Another wrote, "The seminar has helped me feel very welcome at Trinity."
Hansen To Head Alumni Office

Gerald J. Hansen, Jr., '51, has been named director of alumni relations at the College. Miss Kathleen Frederick '71, who has served as assistant director for the past year and a half, has been appointed assistant to President Lockwood.

Following his graduation from Trinity College, Hansen attended the University of Pennsylvania Graduate School and, in 1952, graduated from the U.S. Naval Officers Candidate School and served in the Korean War. From 1957-1972, he was vice president of E. & G. J. Hansen, Inc., where he was also a member of the board of directors. He has been active in community affairs in the Philadelphia area and was a member of the vestry of Christoper Church in Gladwyne, Pa.

He has been involved in many activities for the College. He was president of the Philadelphia Alumni Association, served as a vice president and member of the Executive Committee of the National Alumni Association and as a member of the Board of Fellows. In recognition of his many services to the College, he was presented a 150th Anniversary Award in 1972.

In addition to his activities as director of alumni relations, Hansen will work closely with the Office of Career Counseling in an effort to involve alumni in helping to identify employment opportunities which might exist for other alumni. Hansen, his wife and their four children will move to the Hartford area later this Summer.

Nationwide Alumni Meetings

President Lockwood and Dr. George B. Cooper, secretary of the College, were guests at a dinner meeting held on February 18 at the Cwinn Estate by the Cleveland area alumni association. Bill Sullivan '61 was host.

On February 20, Dr. and Mrs. John H. Wulsin, parents of Rosamond R. Wulsin '78, hosted a dinner party in their home for President Lockwood and Dr. Cooper. Co-host was Richard P. Hall '60. About 40 alumni, parents and friends of the College from the Cincinnati area attended.

The following night, Fred Sargent '66 welcomed representatives of the College to Pittsburg with a reception at the Duquesne Club.

In March, President Lockwood and Kathy Frederick, assistant director of alumni relations, visited alumni clubs on the West Coast. Their first stop was on March 9 in Los Angeles, where 30 alumni dined at the Gates of Spain Restaurant, which overlooks the ocean. After dinner, the group enjoyed a musical revue at the Mayfair Music Hall.

On March 11, the largest group of alumni to date from the San Diego area gathered at the San Diego Yacht Club for a dinner meeting. Host was William Pollock '53.

On April 14, alumni and parents from the Pioneer Valley area in Massachusetts gathered at the Colony Club in Springfield. Cocktails and dinner were followed by a slide show presentation by Dr. Robert Oxnam of the History Department on his recent trip to mainland China. Host for the evening was Brad Cogswell '48.

The Inn of the Four Falls was the setting for the annual dinner of the Trinity Club of Philadelphia. Dr. George Cooper addressed parents and alumni at this gathering, which was hosted by Joseph Colen '61. Next year's president will be George Graham '59.

Pedemonti 1960 Graduate Named Treasurer

Robert A. Pedemonti, comptroller of the College since July 1, 1974, has been promoted to treasurer. He will retain his title of comptroller.

Pedemonti was graduated Phi Beta Kappa from Trinity in 1960 and was awarded an M.A. from the College in 1971.

A former finance director for the Salvation Army, Pedemonti has served as executive director of the Connecticut Chapter of the American Society for Public Administrators, and as a member of the Better Business Bureau Advisory Board.

Alumni Tour To Madrid In October

The next alumni tour will be to Madrid, Spain, from October 27 to November 3, 1975.

The price of $379 includes round-trip air transportation via TWA from Chicago to Madrid, six nights at the centrally-located Florida Norte Hotel, continental breakfast daily, two parties, sightseeing tours and much more.

The tour will include a trip down some of Madrid's major avenues or "avenidas." Stops will include the elaborate 17th century Royal Palace, the Prado (one of the world's greatest art museums) and an evening visit to a gypsy club.

There will also be a drive along Puerta del Sol, the heart of Madrid's shopping and nightlife area.

Tour members will have an opportunity to shop for bargains. Tour discounts have been arranged at many major stores for those interested in items such as suede coats, leather bags, lace mantilla or ceramic pieces.

Tours can also be arranged to Toledo, the Alcazar, Escorial and the Valley of the Fallen, Lisbon, the Costa del Sol or even Tangier in North Africa.

All reservations must be received by August 1. For a full color brochure and further information, write or call the Alumni Office (203) 527-3151 Ext. 214.
SOLVING THE ENERGY CRISIS AT TRINITY COLLEGE: MOVE THE MICE TO THE LIBRARY
By Thomas D. Lips

Recently the vice president of the College and the dean of the faculty were asked a seemingly simple question: During which months does Trinity College incur its largest costs for energy? Certainly Vice President Thomas A. Smith and Dean Edwin P. Nye possessed the experience and expertise to respond correctly, the former having served the College for nearly two decades and the latter being an engineer by training. And their collective, confident answer was "the months of November and February"—seemed unassailable. Their reasoning was as follows: The peak energy months would have to be during the colder part of the year and, unlike December and January, which are interrupted by the holidays during which many buildings are closed and heating levels dropped, November and February are both uninterrupted and cold.

The correct answer? Of course not! Much to the embarrassment of the resident experts, the peak months of energy use are—surprisingly—July and September. Yes, July, when the campus is dormant save for administrators and a handful of faculty and summer students, and September, when the days are long and the nights generally heat-free.

The lesson here bears mentioning. While colleges as well as business, industry, and homeowners struggle to reduce energy consumption and minimize the exorbitant rises in utility costs, there is much one has to learn similar woes. Yale University will use 1971 DAVID M. DOYLE to John S. Harrison in 1972.

Nevertheless, Yale's expenditures have increased from $2.4 million in FY 1970 to $8.7 million in FY 1975. What must the College do to reduce energy consumption and meet this challenge? The correct answer? There is no single solution. Efforts to adjust previously wasteful habits have been successful. For the most part, the campus has become energy-conscious. And further ways to reduce consumption are under continual study. One episode graphically suggests the level of concern. What follows is a brief recounting:

During a weekly meeting of President Lockwood's administrative cabinet, the discussion focused on particular facilities for which energy demands are unusually great. One example cited was the Library which requires uniform temperature control to maintain the condition of its books. Records demonstrated, however, that the example par excellence of high energy consumption is the Life Sciences Building. The primary reason for this seems to be recognized. The cabinet was told, is that constant, costly air conditioning was necessary to preserve mice and other animals used in experiments. Immediately, a hand shot up and a speaker was recognized. The solution is simple. Shut down the Life Sciences Building and move the mice to the Library! Before the ensuing smiles and laughter, there was a brief moment of what seemed to be serious reflection. Obviously, under present conditions, no proposal can be seriously considered. Even for mice, life on a college campus is getting more difficult.

Thomas D. Lips is assistant to the President of the College.

ENGAGEMENTS
1969
THOMAS S. SCHOTT to Kathleen A. Sweeney
1970
RICHMOND S. HENDEE to Susan Jill Gray
JOSEPH M. CONNORS to Maria Ahwan
JOHN D. ATHERTON to Debra Dawn Fabk
GEORGE T. SIMON to Lynne Robinson
1971
JOHN S. HARRISON to Malo Paul
DAVID M. COVEY to Bennie Ellen Soenen
PHILIP M. McCOOHRAN to Judith E. Frisby
ROBERT P. VAN DER STRICHT to Susan B. Cabair Rae
KAREN C. NETTER to Paul J. Stoney
KAREN KAHN to William Herston
JANET B. LOVELAND to Bruce Iglauer
1972
RICHARD C. BRYAN, JR. to Judy Brower
JOHN J. KINDL to Francine Cosgrove
MARTHA T. CAREY to Dr. David Leonard
EDWARD J. FANEUIL to Heleno Je O'Connor
GEOFFREY F. PIERCE to Constance Whitney Brown
1973
EUGENE N. LINTON to Nancy E. Doyle
1974
WILLIAM H. GREEN 70 to ALISON KOPPEL ADLER '72
1974
WILLIAM C. SPEED IV 72 to SHABON LINDA NASKA 74

WEDDINGS
1969
CHARLES P. CARROLL to Jane Carolyne Wylamson, April 6, 1974
WEINER A. LOW to Barbara Keister, September 14, 1975
1970
HEAL G. GORSTOKA to Chhaya Chakrabarti, April 12, 1975
1970
ROBERT M. MCMULLEN to Laura Lynne Schofield, December 19, 1974
1971
PHILLIS SCHIEFNER to Dr. Stephen Peteri, February 1, 1975
1971
BARRY M. ORBrien to Sandra Obion, December 3, 1974

BIRTHS
1955
Mr. and Mrs. WILLIAM GARDINER, son, Michael Charles, March 4, 1975
1960
Mr. and Mrs. RAYMOND W. BROOKS, son, Jonathan, November 21, 1974
1965
Mr. and Mrs. THOMAS A. SMITH, son Michael, April 7, 1975
1966
Mr. and Mrs. KENNETH ALDRICH, son, Kenneth Davis, June 18, 1975
1970
Mr. and Mrs. SCOTT REYNOLDS, son, David Hill, May 2, 1975
1970
Mr. and Mrs. DAVID W. ZUG, daughter, Sara Beth, September 3, 1975
1970
Mr. and Mrs. ANDERS VOCCOM, son, Mark Anders Bousquet, January 23, 1975

CLARENCE HAHN says that at the age of 97 he is still able to run the house and work in the garden. He reports that his son, Robert, is a distinguished engineer.

The Rev. Paul H. Harbour, D.D.
14 High St.
Farmington, CT 06032

BILL BUCHANAN is now living at Madison House, 423 South Illinois Avenue, Atlantic City, New Jersey 08401. He has six great grandchildren, ages 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 10.

Mr. George C. Capen
87 Walbridge Rd.
West Hartford, CT 06119

Making headlines in Manchester, New Hampshire, is BILL MELROSE, a director and former president of Amoskeag Industries, and a member of the Manchester Industrial Council for the past 25 years. He has played a leading role in the industrial diversification of Manchester. Bill, who lost his wife in 1972 after 58 years of happy marriage, lives a
Mr. Joseph Hartmark
2229 St. James Parkway
Cleveland Heights, OH 44118

Works by 25 major modern European artists including Picasso, Modigliani, Le Corbusier, Matisse and Toussaint-Lautrec were recently displayed at Wadsworth Atheneum, Hartford, in "Selections from the J. LEO SCHULMAN Collection". Joe, who has been a frequent visitor abroad, travelled extensively throughout Europe when he was a personnel officer associated with several of the artists whose works were in the exhibitions.

Word from GRUBBY (GEORGE) BOYCE is that since retiring in 1986 after serving in the business world, he has been traveling the world in the winter for writing professionally. Both his wife, Mitchell, and Rev. CHARLES WILDER, S.T.D., of the Class of 35, and extend our deepest sympathy and prayerful love to his loved ones.

NEWELL and his dear Marion have been able to enjoy Florida. "We are all happy to hear from Prof. Vernon K. Kriebel's wife that she spent, in the early part of the year, a delightful birthday in the beaches of Florida and that she is coping well with her handicap of Holland. Hopefully our calendars are marked for our 50th reunion in 1976 along with the historic celebration of our great country's 200th birthday."

YOUR SECRETARY is humbly grateful to be able to announce that the Hartford Art League's exhibit in the Phoenix Building will continue for two more weeks and include the Goodwin branch of the Hartford Public Library. We wish to thank our Trustees and our special friends for their time and effort in making this show possible.
37 Mr. Robert M. Kelly
183 Kenyon Street
West Hartford, CT 06111

38 ED LEHAN and his wife, Evelyn, recently stopped off for an overnight visit with GEORGE and Anne LEPAR at their home in New York. Bill was on his way back to East Hartford from his winter home in Florence, Italy, where he is managing services for the electrical products group of AMF Inc. in Alexandria, Virginia.

40 Mr. Herbert R. Bland
R.C. Knox & Co.
P.O. Box 939
Hartford, CT 06101

41 BILL WOLF, who teaches at the Episcopal Divinity School in Cambridge, Massachusetts, has just had "Thoreau: Mystic, Prophetic, Ecologist" published by Pilgrim Press. In his book, he reinterprets Thoreau's importance and the depth and breadth of his vision that are not evident in his better-known works. The book is available at most bookstores. Mr. Wolf is active in the Unitarian Universalist Church in West Hartford, where he is a member of the board of directors and formerly served as president.

43 Mr. Frank A. Kelly, Jr.
21 Forest Dr.
West Hartford, CT 06111

44 BOB NEILL, formerly with AIMS Management Associates, Inc. in Schenectady, New York, has been appointed manager of material management systems services at The Stanley Works in New Britain, Connecticut.

46 Mr. John L. Bonee
McCook, Kenton and Bonee
50 State St.
Hartford, CT 06103

48 The Rev. and Mrs. Charles J. Costanzo
231 East First St.
Stamford, CT 06902

49 Mr. Charles J. Tenney, C.L.U.
Charles J. Tenney & Associates
2 Bryn Mawr Ave.
West Hartford, CT 06107

50 Mr. James R. Glansco, Jr.
8522 Georgetown Pike
McLean, VA 22110

51 Mr. John F. Klinger
2265 E. River St.
Tolland, CT 06084

52 Mr. Douglas C. Lee
628 Willow Glen Dr.
Fairfield, CT 06893

53 Mr. Paul A. Mortell
501 Stratfield Rd.
Fairfield, CT 06430

54 Mr. Theodore Tami
Irwin's Mutual Life Insurance Co.
1 River St.
Hartford, CT 06103

55 Mr. E. Wade Close, Jr.
200 Hunter's Mill Rd.
Lake Atlanta, Georgia 30038

56 Mr. Edward A. Montgomery, Jr.
16 Stanhope Gardens
London, S.W. 7, England

57 Mr. Robert M. Marion
7 Martin Place
New York, NY 10017

58 The Rev. Dr. Borden W. Painter
110 Ledgewood Rd.
West Hartford, CT 06107

59 PETE SIMON writes from New York City that his work has shifted in the past few years from documentary film for television to still photography. Pete's clients include corporations, publishers, and national magazines. He has done covers for New York Times Sunday Magazine in the past, as well as the photographs for a Muhammad Ali vs. Ken Buchanan fight at Madison Square Garden.

61 Several classmates in secondary education have brought us up to date on their professional activities. Dick Dunbar reports that he is the head of the upper school at New Canaan (Connecticut) Country School. His duties include teaching and coaching hockey. Son Erik excels in the "squirt" hockey league while daughter Annica is the figure skater. Peter's wife, Agneta, is a reading specialist in the lower school at New Canaan. BOB McCLENAHAN is now head of the middle and lower schools at St. Margaret's-McCormick School in West Hartford. He and his wife, Rebecca, live in Woodbury, with their daughters. Karla, age 14, is active in the Episcopal Church and is an active participant in the confirmation program. JIM STUTZMAN is teaching in the Timothy Edwards Middle School in Brookfield, where he is a member of the science department. In addition to teaching social studies, Gary coaches soccer and has become active in the Connecticut State Soccer Coaches' Association. CHARLES SELDEN teaches social studies at Dan Hall, West Hartford, and is currently a member of the school's faculty. Kim has an interest in art, and Bill is interested in the heros group at Norfolk. John also works actively with that group.

62 CHARLIE SELDEN, associate publisher of Addison-Wesley Publishing Company, Menlo Park, California, has been appointed director of marketing for the company. His new job will involve travel to numerous places, including Europe, Brazil, and the Far East. ROBERT M. MARIN is now manager of the ships' store at the Milford (Connecticut) Harbor Marina.

63 GEORGE HAMBLY has retired from service as department patent counsel for General Electric Company due to arthritis and is devoting his time to writing.
Paul Mills became a world traveler last summer when he went to India for a two-month stay, sponsored by Spelman College, Atlanta, Georgia. Going by way of New York State, Connecticut, and Massachusetts, he visited the new state government administration, a general for Massachusetts, and the Ghandi Institute, and visited numerous other cities in India. While there, he saw snake charmers, weddings, sweepers and beggars, attended ritualistic weddings, saw funeral pyres of the dead along the Ganges, and visited the city of Udaipur. He swam in his first storm, swam in the Bay of Bengal and saw several dance demonstrations. His return home was by way of Bangkok, Hong Kong, Tokyo and Fairbanks, which enabled him to circle the globe.

Arthur Judge is a professor and chairman of the department of psychology at Wesleyan University, Middletown, Connecticut. He directs review panels in Washington for the National Aeronautics and Space Science Foundation and the Science Faculty Fellowship Program.

Dave Merrifield has a new home in Wisconsin Dells, Wisconsin, and then has joined the firm of Chapman, Barzun and Sales, which has a new office in Syracuse, New York. His work as an attorney, he says, is a bit busy.

Mr. Robert C. Langen 5 Sachems Trail 12817 CT 06092

Mike Filiburn and his wife, Stacy, married June 9, 1974, have moved to a new home in Westford, Massachusetts.

Bill DeColong is now headmaster of the St. Croix Country Day School in Chickasaw, California, and has joined the state new government administration, a relaxation the state says.

Jim Shiltueth is a quality assurance manager for Teleco Inc., a division of Refrigeration, Inc., Norwood, Massachusetts.

P. Lewis Anderson, president of Marketing Development, Concord, Mass., has published three directors appointed to positions in companies and the new home of a product.

Mr. Timothy F. Lesichek Farmington, CT 06030

Mr. Del A. Shlifer 61 Hurd School Millbrook, NY 12546

Walt Zelle, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Metuchen, New Jersey, has his s.t.m. degree in pastoral counseling from New York Theological Seminary and is presently a Ph.D. program in clinical psychology at New York University for Social Research in Manhattan. Walt has a continuing involvement in his church and her goal is to set up a multi-disciplinary treatment and retreat center for families of alcoholics.

George and Linnyn Lynch were Hartford Golf Club champions of the mixed doubles tennis tournament.

Bob Guretik has been promoted to assistant professor of physiology at Tufts University.

Dave Goedafasin is television production supervisor, New York State Department of Mass Communications, Albany, New York.

Lewis Brunswik writes that his daughter, Anna, a member of the first class of the new state government administration, a relaxation.

Arthur Judge was appointed by the Manhattan Borough president to serve on the city planning board.

Mr. Robert C. Langen 5 Sachems Trail 12817 CT 06092

Mr. Del A. Shlifer 61 Hurd School Millbrook, NY 12546

Walt Zelle, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Metuchen, New Jersey, has his s.t.m. degree in pastoral counseling from New York Theological Seminary and is presently a Ph.D. program in clinical psychology at New York University for Social Research in Manhattan. Walt has a continuing involvement in his church and her goal is to set up a multi-disciplinary treatment and retreat center for families of alcoholics.

George and Linnyn Lynch were Hartford Golf Club champions of the mixed doubles tennis tournament.

Bob Guretik has been promoted to assistant professor of physiology at Tufts University.

Dave Goedafasin is television production supervisor, New York State Department of Mass Communications, Albany, New York.

Lewis Brunswik writes that his daughter, Anna, a member of the first class of the new state government administration, a relaxation.

Arthur Judge was appointed by the Manhattan Borough president to serve on the city planning board.

Mr. Robert C. Langen 5 Sachems Trail 12817 CT 06092

Mr. Del A. Shlifer 61 Hurd School Millbrook, NY 12546

Walt Zelle, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Metuchen, New Jersey, has his s.t.m. degree in pastoral counseling from New York Theological Seminary and is presently a Ph.D. program in clinical psychology at New York University for Social Research in Manhattan. Walt has a continuing involvement in his church and her goal is to set up a multi-disciplinary treatment and retreat center for families of alcoholics.

George and Linnyn Lynch were Hartford Golf Club champions of the mixed doubles tennis tournament.

Bob Guretik has been promoted to assistant professor of physiology at Tufts University.

Dave Goedafasin is television production supervisor, New York State Department of Mass Communications, Albany, New York.

Lewis Brunswik writes that his daughter, Anna, a member of the first class of the new state government administration, a relaxation.

Arthur Judge was appointed by the Manhattan Borough president to serve on the city planning board.

Mr. Robert C. Langen 5 Sachems Trail 12817 CT 06092

Mr. Del A. Shlifer 61 Hurd School Millbrook, NY 12546
The only card I got was a newspaper clipping from the "New Haven Register" announcing that there was a vacancy in the sales department. I was named research and planning officer of the Bankring Center of Waterbury, Connecticut. He joined the firm after being a trainee in its customer service division and was later promoted to administrative assistant in methods, planning and training and then to systems analyst. Congratulations, Howie.

Recently while playing squash on a business trip to Nashville, I awkwardly located Achilles' tendon. Returning to LA for an operation on it, I was rather hobnobbed against STEVE GRIGGS, who helped me with my luggage. An instructor and coach at the Thacher School, Ojai, CA, he was picking up a planeload of girls on an exchange program.

Several months ago at a Los Angeles area alumni dinner attended by President Lockwood of the College of William and Mary, the Alumni Office, I sat with BOB ERINGER and his wife, Jacquie. They live at 2116 Apex Avenue in the Silverlake district of Los Angeles and have a spare bedroom for guests. Bob keeps busy teaching at Fullerton Union High School and spending summers at a campground on the West Coast producing them.

That's all the news I've got. As I've said before, without cards, newspaper clippings, telephone calls, whatever, there can be no column.

---

72 Mr. Jeffrey Kupperman
New Orleans, Louisiana 70123

ROY PINGEL has been working for the past two years for the New York City Planning Commission. Co. At the end of the past year, he should have graduated from the Yale School of Medicine. He will continue at Yale for a residency in pathology.

By now BILL BUS should have graduated from the Yale School of Medicine. He will continue at Yale for a residency in pathology.

Now that's all the news I've got. As I've said before, without cards, newspaper clippings, telephone calls, whatever, there can be no column.

---

72 Mr. Frederick A. Vyn
10 Tamoc Ave.
Old Greenwich, CT 06870

C.R. MEARS returns to Columbus, Ohio for a three-week vacation at his home in the Columbus, Ohio area. He will spend part of his time in the area with his wife, Sarah, and their two children, John and Mary.

M. PEET, after graduating from the University of Cincinnati in 1968, has been working as a research assistant in the Department of Radiology at the University of Cincinnati Medical Center. He is currently involved in a study of the effects of radiation on the human heart.

---

72 Miss Arlene A. Forstier
Department of English
New York, NY 10087

BOB BURTON received his Masters in English from the University of Maine last spring and is now teaching English at the University of Connecticut in Storrs.

---

72 Mr. Lawrence G. Garber
c/o BSF, Box 42
2024 14th St., N.W., Washington, D.C.

NICK LAZARES is finishing his second year at the University of California at Los Angeles. He is pursuing a degree in economics and plans to pursue a career in real estate business with two fellow law students, doing business under the name Old Towne Realty. They have purchased a number of apartment rentals, sales, and commercial leases.

FRANK FARWELL is working as editor of a weekly newspaper in Windsor, Vermont, where he is a resident of the town. He is also part of a cross country ski team which won the Canadian Ski Marathon this past year. He says of four of them covered a total of 210 miles of course.

DICK MARKOVITZ has been named account executive for the monthly magazine. It is a temporary and from March through June has been handling a major tourism advertising campaign.

DOUG STEWART says he has been unemployed twice recently, once in New York and once in Vermont, and working as a writer for the local weekly newspaper. The Steiner Reporter.

JONATHAN STEVENS is living and working in Lowell, Massachusetts. He works for Ames Textron Corporation, which makes quality fabric for the automotive and apparel industries. He is currently working on his M.A. in economics at the University of Denver in VISTA, which the business world is quite a change.

AL C. LARZARIN says he is happy to report he has left U. S. law school after much tribulation, including a fine grade in American history and truth, and now works for C.B. Fink Inc., noted builder of tracker-action pipe organs. He is still learning the ropes of his trade at the University but says friends can write him at 107 Pine Street in Washington, D.C.

DICK VANE is the location manager for the Barnesby television series and believes he is the luckiest man in the country.

ANDY TAUSIK is finishing his second year at the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia, D.C. and plans to go to business school for an M.B.A. after graduation.

STEVE MEDERS, after graduating from his second year at the University of Virginia law school and working as a summer associate for a large firm, has returned to his practice as a small-town lawyer. He says that SAUNDERS is in the Peace Corps in South Africa, and that NIKE MELIA has been employed by the accounting firm of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Company.

SUSAN ROGERS has one and a half years more to complete a program at the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia. She says that she only allows the advantage of being a Philadelphia student to what there are lots of Trinity people around.

MEGAN O'NEILL is neighborhood public safety consultant in the town of White Plains, New York. She says that she only allows the advantage of being a Philadelphia student to what there are lots of Trinity people around.

GEORGE GONER, who is working as a banking analyst for the research department of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, will enter the Harvard Graduate School of Business in the fall.

KENT HOWARD says he has changed direction from his initial plan and finds that being a member of a six-member song and dance improvement group called "Maine Street Review," has led him to pursue his real love, the piano. He says that he now plays the piano at the Mather Hall Board and to keep an eye on "Maine Street music."
Mr. James Finkelstein has moved to Connecticut and is presently director of a regional day program for emotionally disturbed children which he founded at the Newvid (Conn.) Hospital.

1953 BARNARD SELIGMAN has been appointed associate dean of the School of Nursing last May with a B.S.N., a master's degree in hospital administration from Case Western Reserve University, New York City.

1954 JOAN PARISO, 22, who plans to live in the Boston area for at least two years, is studying English at Hall High School in West Hartford, has had a poem published in American Leaves, Poet Lore, and has also been listed in the International Who's Who in Poetry.

DEBRA PELOSI took a group of Latin students sightseeing in Rome and on the American Classical League Tour sponsored by George Washington University last March and April.

HONORARY

JOHN M. K. DAVIS, who leads a busy profession as head of a Connecticut law firm. He is a Phi. D. candidate in sociology and education at Columbia University. DRYDEN CLARK was named to Bobbi Phillips on July 27, 1974.
JOHN A. WILLIAMS, Dead at 71;
Former Head of Central Services

JOHN A. WILLIAMS of Ellington, Connecticut, retired manager of central services at the College died May 17 at Hartford Hospital. Mr. Williams retired in 1973 after 20 years at the College.

A native of Middletown, he was a member of the class of 1924 at Wesleyan University.

AUSTIN ALPHONSES LAWLER, 1926

Austin A. Lawler, a former town judge in Bloomfield, Connecticut, died March 4 in New Hampshire.

A native of Gloucester, Rhode Island, Mr. Lawler attended Trinity College briefly in 1924. He also studied at Holy Cross and Notre Dame.

A graduate of the law degree program at the School of Law, he was elected to the order of the Golden Key in his senior year.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Charlotte Richardson Lawler; a son, four sisters, and two brothers.

EDWARD JAMES HICKEY, 1927

Edward J. Hickey died March 27 in Naples, Florida, at the age of 88. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ethel Aline Hickey; a brother, George; and three sisters, Mrs. Agnes Roberts, Mrs. Marcella Hayes and Mrs. Elizabeth Sheehan.

A Connecticut native, Mr. Hickey graduated from Xavier College Preparatory School. After World War I, he worked at Hartford Hospital while studying for a degree at Trinity. After graduation, he attended Harvard University, where he received a Master's degree in 1923.

From 1934 until 1955, Mr. Hickey taught in the East Hartford School System. He also returned to Hartford Hospital on a part-time basis, retiring in 1984.

Mr. Hickey caught the public eye when he launched a campaign testing the constitutionality of the state's school-funding formulas. Despite his efforts, the action was reversed, and legal challenges on school-funding formulas resulted in equalization among the state's citizens. Mr. Hickey's death is a loss for his family, friends, and the community. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Margaret Tracy Morrissey; three sons, Brian, Peter and Michael; and a daughter, Patricia.

WILLIAM JEROME HINSON, JR., 1943

William J. Hinson, a graduate of Trinity School in New York City, and Bloomfield High School, died March 23 in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, at the age of 87. Mr. Hinson was a business executive and former business executive who served in the United States Army, Air Force and Navy. He attended Trinity School in New York City, and Bloomfield High School.

Mr. Hinson was a member of the Democratic Town Committee, V.F.W. Post 9042, Shrewsbury, and the Shrewsbury-Shrewsbury Hill Elks Club.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Margaret Tracy Morrissey; three sons, Brian, Peter and Michael; and a daughter, Patricia.

DELIA PAUL, 1943

Delia C. Paul, a graduate of the University of Connecticut and Wesleyan University, died February 16 in New York City. She was 87. Mrs. Paul was a member of the class of 1924 at Wesleyan University.

She is survived by her husband, Mrs. Edith Durant Beach; four daughters, Mrs. Claude Pelouze of England, Mrs. Samuel Root of Jacksonville, Florida, Mrs. Calvin Thompson of Miami, Florida, and Mrs. William Goodwin, of New York City; and three grandchildren.

DELAINE MARIE MOTTO, 1943

Marie D. Mottol died March 1 in Hartford. She is survived by five sisters: Gertrude Mottol, Mildred Mottol, Mrs. Thomas Hayes, Mrs. Will Byrom and Mrs. George Paladino.

A native of Ellington, she was a graduate of the class of 1924 at Wesleyan University.

She is survived by her husband, Mrs. Madeline Williams Paul; a son, William; and four grand-children.

A graduate of the Detroit University School, he entered Trinity in 1907 with the class of 1911. He was a member of Delta Psi and Phi Delta.

Upon graduating from the University of Washington, he served in the Army as a first lieutenant in the 1918-1919 Spanish Civil War and was discharged in 1924.

After graduating from the University of Washington, he served in the Army as a first lieutenant in the 1918-1919 Spanish Civil War and was discharged in 1924.

The family expresses its appreciation for the care Mr. Paul received during his illness. He is survived by his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Mottol; four grandchildren; and five great-grandchildren.

GOODWIN BATTERSON BASH, HON. MA 1931

Goodwin Batteron Bash, a classical scholar and former business executive who advised the college on its financial affairs, died May 4 at the University of Connecticut Medical Center. Mr. Bash, who was in his 80s, died Monday of a heart attack.

Mr. Bash held an emeritus and honorary degree recipient from the college he spoke and wrote on a variety of subjects, including Greek and Latin. He was a member of the class of 1924 at Wesleyan University.

Mr. Bash was the first American to be elected president of the Orbital Society, an English classical organization made up largely of professors and school headmasters in England. He also attended the first Congress for Living in Latin in Avignon, France, where he delivered an address in Latin, and he later spoke at congresses in Lyon, Strasbourg and Rome.

A graduate of Harvard College he held honorary degrees from Wesleyan University, the University of Hartford and the University of Leeds in addition to the honorary degree awarded him by Trinity in 1931.

Mr. Bash was a founder of Societas Latinae Loquentium, which was a three-time winner of honorable mention awards in Latin and was a teacher at Hampden College in England for several years.

In 1902, he founded the New England Travelers Insurance Company, which was later sold to the Travelers Insurance Company, and the H.N. Prior & Co., which was acquired by the Travelers in 1915.

A native of New York City, Mr. Parnell was graduated from Trinity College in New York, and entered Princeton College in the class of 1917. At an undergraduate, he was a member of Alpha Chi Rho.

For many years, he operated his own real estate and insurance company in Keemey. He was also self-employed as a motor vehicle agent in Arlington, New Jersey for 20 years. Mr. Parnell was a private investigator in later years and was engaged in a small stamp supply business for private collectors. He was a member of Trinity Episcopal Church in Arlington, New Jersey and the Arlington Players Club.

FREDERICK EARL KUNKEL, JR. 1922

Dr. Frederick E. Kunkel, Jr., died February 14, in Hartford Hospital. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Irene Bollman Kunkel and a son.

A graduate of Central High School in New Haven and the University of Connecticut in Storrs, he graduated from Yale University in 1948, and studied further in dermatology at the University of Washington in 1950.

He is a member of the American Medical Association and the Connecticut Medical Association. He retired from medical practice in 1967.

In 1926, he married the late Doris McLean, and they had two children, Mrs. H. John Zak, and Mrs. Diane Zak.

At the time of his death, he was a member of the Trinity Episcopal Church and the Men's Club of Hartford.

JAMES WOOD DODD, 1933

James W. Dodd died April 16 in Greenwich, Connecticut. He is survived by his wife, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Parke; two children, and a brother, Peter and Robert.

A native of New York City, Mr. Dodd attended Trinity School in New York City before entering the University of California in 1919, and later studied law at Trinity College in Hartford, Connecticut.

Mr. Dodd graduated from Harvard Law School, the University of Connecticut in 1921, and the University of Chicago in 1923.

He was a member of the Connecticut Historical Society and the Connecticut Bar Association.

Mr. Dodd practiced in the private practice of law for many years in Connecticut. He was a member of the Connecticut Bar Association and the Connecticut State Bar Association. He was a member of the Connecticut Historical Society and the Connecticut Bar Association.

HERBERT JOSHERGOODRICH, 1924

The Rev. Herbert J. Goodrich, a retired Episcopal clergyman, died January 28 in Hartford. He was 88.

He was a member of the Trinity Episcopal Church and the Congregational Church.

A native of New York City, he was graduated from Trinity College in 1924.

His father, the Rev. Dr. Albert H. Goodrich, was a member of the Trinity College faculty in 1924.

A native of New York City, he was graduated from Trinity College in 1924.

His father, the Rev. Dr. Albert H. Goodrich, was a member of the Trinity College faculty in 1924.

A native of New York City, he was graduated from Trinity College in 1924.

His father, the Rev. Dr. Albert H. Goodrich, was a member of the Trinity College faculty in 1924.

A native of New York City, he was graduated from Trinity College in 1924.

His father, the Rev. Dr. Albert H. Goodrich, was a member of the Trinity College faculty in 1924.

A native of New York City, he was graduated from Trinity College in 1924.

His father, the Rev. Dr. Albert H. Goodrich, was a member of the Trinity College faculty in 1924.

A native of New York City, he was graduated from Trinity College in 1924.

His father, the Rev. Dr. Albert H. Goodrich, was a member of the Trinity College faculty in 1924.

A native of New York City, he was graduated from Trinity College in 1924.

His father, the Rev. Dr. Albert H. Goodrich, was a member of the Trinity College faculty in 1924.

A native of New York City, he was graduated from Trinity College in 1924.

His father, the Rev. Dr. Albert H. Goodrich, was a member of the Trinity College faculty in 1924.

A native of New York City, he was graduated from Trinity College in 1924.

His father, the Rev. Dr. Albert H. Goodrich, was a member of the Trinity College faculty in 1924.

A native of New York City, he was graduated from Trinity College in 1924.

His father, the Rev. Dr. Albert H. Goodrich, was a member of the Trinity College faculty in 1924.

A native of New York City, he was graduated from Trinity College in 1924.

His father, the Rev. Dr. Albert H. Goodrich, was a member of the Trinity College faculty in 1924.

A native of New York City, he was graduated from Trinity College in 1924.

His father, the Rev. Dr. Albert H. Goodrich, was a member of the Trinity College faculty in 1924.

A native of New York City, he was graduated from Trinity College in 1924.

His father, the Rev. Dr. Albert H. Goodrich, was a member of the Trinity College faculty in 1924.
TRINITY SPORTS

CREW
The 1975 crew had a successful season with the three major boats, varsity heavyweight, varsity lightweight and freshman, compiling 73 wins as against 20 losses. The entire program this spring included 60 men and six eights for most of the season. Five eights, a four and 2 pairs went to the Dad Vail Regatta, the small college national rowing championship in Philadelphia. A varsity four and freshman four competed in the IRA, Intercollegiate Rowing Association, championship in Syracuse for University level competition.

The varsity heavyweight crew had a 9-1 record in the regular season. They defeated M.I.T. and the University of Pennsylvania to win the Mason-Dowsens Cup, March 29, and UMass, April 5. In the Emerson Cup, April 12, Trinity lost to Coast Guard by one length, their only regular season loss, but beat Conn. College and Wesleyan. April 19, the Bantams, rowing at Princeton, April 12, At Princeton St. Georges, Georgetown and Drexel and then at Williams, May 3, defeated Marist and Wesleyan.

At the Dad Vail, the varsity finished 5th of 26. They won both of their preliminary heats and finished 5th in the final. Coast Guard won in 5:44.4 and UMass, Ithaca, and Trinity were all within 2.2 seconds less than half a length of each other.

At the IRA, the varsity four with cox finished 4th of 11. In the final, Oregon State won in 6:35. Boston University 6:40, Wisconsin 6:42 and Trinity 6:46 at Princeton, 5th and Cornell 6th. At the 1100 meter mark, Trinity, B.U. and Oregon were all even fighting for the lead. It should be noted that all of the top four boats beat the U.S. national teams standard time of 6:49. Also the Trinity four had only been beaten once by Princeton and two by Penns.

The varsity lightweight crew finished the season 9-2 and finished 12th of 22 at the Vail. The lightweights defeated U.R.I. at the Mason Downs Regatta and W.P.I. at Worcester and then defeated Coast Guard, Conn. College and Wesleyan at the Emerson Cup. Rowing at Princeton they beat Drexel and Georgetown. They finished third at Williams behind Wesleyan and Marist, defeating Williams and the Trin J.V.

The freshman heavyweight crew was 9-1 in the Vail and finished 2nd of 17 in Philadelphia. They opened their collegiate rowing career by defeating U.R.I. at the Mason Cup. They lost to UMass, April 5, their only regular season loss, and beat Coast Guard and Wesleyan at the Emerson Cup. The varsity four with cox, they beat St. Josephs, Georgetown and Drexel. Williams, Marist and Wesleyan at the Vail to the Men's May Meet. At the Vail the freshmen won both of their qualifying heats. In the final, they lost to Florida Institute of Technology 5-33.5 by four seconds (5% of a length) but finishing second to defeat Marietta, Ithaca, St. Josephs, UMass, and Williams. The Frosh sent a four to the IRA's. They finished 6th of 13. They were second to Oregon State in the 7 1/2 CVHR heat by a minute to qualify for the final.

LACROSSE 5-5
After a slow start which saw them drop their first three games, the Trinity lacrosse team regrouped and won five of the remaining seven games to close out a 5-5 season. Heartbreaking one goal losses to Amherst (9-8) and M.I.T. (10-9) spoiled a nearly outstanding year.

The Bantams then defeated Fairfield University 16-3 and Holy Cross 13-7 in successive away contests. M.I.T., with a brilliant game from Joe Calabro, won 14-12. Rowing at Princeton they beat Drexel and Georgetown. They finished third at Williams behind Wesleyan and Marist, defeating Williams and the Trin J.V.

The season opened with Trinity beating Amherst for the first time in several years, 104-50. Trinity next lost to Williams 111-43 and came back to beat Wesleyan 85-69. At the Easterns at Bowdoin, Trinity scored 120 points, finishing second to Keene State's 150. Thirty-four members finished the season this year and, with only four seniors graduating, the prospects for next year are bright. Fifteen of the 34 were freshmen.

Baseball 7-8
The Trinity varsity opened the 1975 season winning their first two games against Amherst, 14-13, and Williams, 12-5. Junior Steve Carlrow, 2-2 on the year, pitched his best game, beating W.P.I. with a 2-0 two-hit shut out. Senior Mike Getz, also 2-2 on the year, finished the season strongly, defeating Bowdoin 7-3 and Springfield College 7-6. Springfield had a record of 16-3 and had not lost to a college division team prior to meeting Trinity.

The team had four hitters over .300 and two over 400. Jim Balesano, pitcher voted the Most Valuable Player, batted .442, followed by senior captain David Kuncio, pitcher, with an even .400. Senior Mike Getz, pitcher, finished strong at .363 and Al Juliano, a sophomore outfielder, won the William Frawley Most Improved Player and batting .317.

Tough losses to Uhartford 6-4 and Colby 5-4 hurt in the overall record of 7-8. With 10 lettering sophomores returning, the newly elected co-captains Jim Balesano and John Wiggins, outfielder, are expecting to improve the record next year.

GOLF 7-4
The varsity golf team under Coach George Sutherland finished the year with a 7-4 dual meet record and a 10th place finish at the University of Hartford Invitational and 8th place at the New England intercollegiate tournament. The Bants defeated W.P.I., Hartford, Wesleyan and M.I.T. all by 4-3 scores. In medal play, they defeated Coast Guard, Williams and Bates, losing to Conn. College. In dual meets Trin fell to U.R.I. 7-0, Springfield 6-1 and A.L.C. 9-2.

Senior Henry Bruce, a gold award winner for three varsity letters, led the team with a 6-2 individual record. Freshman Douglas Thom was next with a 5-4 record. Junior captain Ed Staudinger was 4-4 and junior Jesse Morgan was 4-4.

WOMEN'S LACROSSE 6-7
The women's lacrosse team under Coach Robin Sheppard in its first varsity season, had a 4-5 record with the junior varsity squad breaking even at 2-2.

The varsity Lady Bantams lost their first two contests to Conn. College, 11-4, and Yale, 7-5, then defeated Rosemary Hall, 8-3, and Brown, 8-4. They came back to top Smith, 8-5, Miss Porter's, 4-2, and Wesleyan, 16-2, before dropping their last game to the Eskimos of Williams 10-9.

The junior varsity defeated Rosemary Hall, 3-1, and Mount Holyoke, 6-0, in April but lost to Miss Porter's, 5-2, and Williams, 7-2, in May.

Twenty-nine women earned letters, freshman numeral or junior varsity awards this season.

TENNIS 3-6
The varsity tennis team had a 3-6 record this season. The Bantams opened the season by beating Conn. College 9-0, then U.R.I. 5-4, then fell to Yale 9-0 and Amherst 7-2. Trinity then lost to Springfield and M.I.T. by scores of 7-2, Williams 9-0 and Wesleyan 5-4. After a disappointing season the Bants played well at the New England intercollegiate tournament finishing 11th of a field of 26. Seventeen of the twenty-nine members on the 1975 team, 7-10 this season, and Mark Williams, 7-11, each received gold awards as three-year letter winners.

TRACK 6-4
The 1975 College Track Team had a successful year. The team recorded two wins and three losses in dual meet competition and six wins, four losses overall.

The season opened with Trinity beating Amherst for the first time in several years, 104-50. Trinity next lost to Williams 111-43 and came back to beat Wesleyan 85-69. At the Easterns at Bowdoin, Trinity scored 120 points, finishing second to Keene State's 150.

Thirty-four members finished the season this year and, with only four seniors graduating, the prospects for next year are bright. Fifteen of the 34 were freshmen.

Senior Joe Calabro broke the eight-year-old varsity record by winning the 100 yard with a vault of 13'6". Gary Morgans, a senior and co-captain, was awarded the Robert S. Morris Trophy, Junior Vic Novak, a co-captain, led the team in points with 48. Freshman Harvey Bumpers was second with 46, while junior Hobie Porter was third with 43. Dave Poulin and Brett Machnines, both freshmen, were fourth and fifth with 39 and 34 points respectively.

1975 VARSITY FOOTBALL SCHEDULE
Nov. 1 Coast Guard Away Nov. 8 Amherst Away Nov. 15 Wesleyan Home Reunion/Homecoming

RECIPIENTS OF TOP ATHLETIC PRIZES — Left to right: Christopher Max 75, the George Sheldon Mc Cook Trophy; Gerald LaPlante 76, the Bob Harron "Outstanding Scholar-Athlete Award"; Richard Tucci 75, the Eastern College Athletic Conference "Outstanding Scholar-Athlete Award"; and Elizabeth Tyson 77, the Larry Silver Award.