ALUMNI/PARENT-CAREER ADVISORY PROGRAM

Only two weeks after receiving an announcement about a new Trinity career advisory program, an overwhelming response has been received from parents and alumni volunteering their help, and more postcards offering assistance are coming in as the Reporter goes to press.

It's no news that in these times students need all the help they can get with their career plans. The Administration, Board of Fellows, and Faculty have expressed great concern for the need of providing additional services in this area. It is felt that alumni and parents are an extremely valuable, yet largely untapped resource, and that this group is likely to be sensitive to changes within their career fields.

The letter from Chris Shinkman, director of career counseling, and Jerry Hansen, director of alumni relations, noted that the purpose of the Alumni-Parent Career Advisory Program is to enlist the assistance of parents and alumni in order to provide information and direction to students during all phases of career counseling and placement. Target date for operation is midwinter with development centering in three key areas.

First, an occupational and geographical directory will be compiled consisting of parents and alumni who have expressed an interest in serving as career field counselors. They will be contacted as the year advances by students seeking information about specific careers, Shinkman and Hansen foresee an eventual strong network of alumni and parents with career and professional expertise and a collective knowledge of business and industry to whom students may turn for practical, down-to-earth advice prior to making decisions of vital importance to their future. Alumni and parents will not be asked to directly secure employment for the students, but rather to provide a one-to-one relationship for examining the current career marketplace.

Next, the Career Counseling Office and the Alumni Relations Office will prepare a list of notable alumni and parents who are willing to return the campus and take part in Career Day panel discussions. These informal discussions will bring firsthand views of the career situation to the College and will enable the students to evaluate the possibilities in a realistic manner. Alumni and parents interested in helping in this critical effort are urged to fill out and return the form on page three of this issue.

Record Turnout At Reunion

A record breaking number of alumni descended on the Trinity campus on November 14 for the annual three-day Reunion-Homecoming Weekend. Director of Alumni Relations Jerry Hansen estimates that about 1,000 attended the various events, traveling from about 25 states and Canada.

The reunion featured some 15 events, including art exhibits, an organ recital, a slide show presentation by President Lockwood, luncheon, reception, dinner and dancing. The Student Theater Arts production of Saroyan's "The Time of Your Life" was presented twice and professor Christianson collaborated on a Bicentennial Symposium exploring the causes and consequences of the revolution. Alumni visited classes and sat in on seminars.

No polls were taken but many faculty members commented on the larger-than-usual number of alumni visiting their class discussions and many reunion "newbies" were delighted to see friends who had not attended the annual weekend for some years.

The buffet luncheon in the Field House was supposed to be a sit-down affair but at any given time as many people were grouping and talking in the aisles or in transit to another table as were seated. One alumni was overheard to say that it reminded him of Times Square on New Year's Eve.

About 35 alumni were expected, on the basis of past experience, to attend the symposium on the American Revolution but more than 60 appeared, which so energized the panelists that the session ran overtime.

The traditional warm-up for the game was staged again by Coach Don Miller at the Trinity Club of Hartford smoker on Friday evening. An overflow crowd watched film clips of the 1940 Trinity-Wesleyan game, narrated by Roger Hall '50, captain of the Bant's undefeated team.

A homecoming crowd of more than 6,000 watched Wesleyan edge out the Bantams in a hard-fought 14-11 game. It was a perfect football day and many alumni came prepared to enjoy it to the full. The parking lots were jammed with couples opening picnic baskets and uncurling, The Marching Kazoo Band played a half-time a gaudy, bewigged student leaped out of a huge cake lettered "Happy Birthday, U.S.A." to enthusiastic applause. With characteristic deadpan humor the title of Homecoming Queen was bestowed on a dog whose qualifications were not immediately apparent.

The postgame reception held in the Austin Arts Center soon overflowed to the foyer and hallways and the sculpture exhibit of Norman Carberg was jammed.

The annual homecoming dinner this year was held in beautiful downtown Hartford at the Sheraton-Hartford. With admirable foresight in view of the parking problem caused by a large antique show and a professional hockey game in the adjacent Civic Center, free bus service was provided to and from the campus throughout the postgame-postdinner period. About 400 alumni attended the dinner, applauded the awards (see article), listened to the Trinity Pipes and stayed for dancing.

Of all the happenings on the campus during the weekend only one was sparsely attended and, in view of its implications for future enrollment, the Admissions Office has been notified. Hardly anyone used the free babysitting service.

Large Grant Awarded To Watkinson Library

The Hartford Foundation for Public Giving has awarded a grant of $70,000 to the College to assist in the expansion of the Watkinson Library, one of America's first free, public research and reference libraries.

New quarters for The Watkinson Library are part of a $2.5 million planned expansion of The Trinity College Library, which has housed the Watkinson collection since 1932. The grant from The Hartford Foundation for Public Giving will provide shelving for 300,000 volumes in the expanded stack area. In 1936, when The Hartford Foundation made its first grant, it contributed the entire year's income - $982.52 - to assist The Watkinson Library.

Used by scholars from around the world, The Watkinson Library holds important bibliographical and reference works, many American and European periodicals of the 18th and 19th centuries, and publications of many learned societies. It has special collections in early voyages and travel, folklore, witchcraft and demonology, and the Civil War.

Nearly 1,200 Attend Parents Rainy Event-Filled Weekend

As the Hartford newspaper put it, "Despite the rain, there were lots of smiling faces at Parents Weekend," Oct. 10-13, 1975. While the weather could have been better, it was the largest gathering since the Parents Association began 21 years ago.

Friday evening 400 parents, their sons and daughters, attended a banquet at which Association President Arthur M. Lewis officiated as toaster. Trinity President Lockwood, speaking on "Liberal Arts and the Pursuit of Happiness," was chaired by Northam Professor of History and Alasmi of the College, Dr. George B. Cooper. The panel consisted of Dr. Andrea Bianchini, Modern Languages; Christopher J. Shinkman, director of career counseling; Ruth E. Veal '76, chemistry major; John R. Orrick, economics major; Eric F. Samuelson '77, history major.

At noon, 1,100 parents, students, faculty and staff sloshed through the puddles to attend the buffet luncheon in the field house. Some parents and students braved the rain later to watch the Trinity-R.P.I. football game. Throughout the day, many other athletic events took place: women's crew and tennis with Tufts and Dartmouth; Daniel Davis gave a carillon concert following the football game.

In the evening, the Theater Arts presented an original play, "Stories of Clothes" by Elizabeth H. Egloff, a 1975 Trinity graduate. Sunday morning, a magnificent Chapel service was conducted by Chancellor Backer. After the service, President Lockwood and the Very Rev. James Parks Morton, Dean of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, New York City, who is a daughter in the Class of 1978. The Concert Choir sang accompanied by the Brass Ensemble. Later, President and Mrs. Lockwood held an "open house" coffee for parents and their students.

This was the first time rain has fallen on Parents Weekend in the last seven years. Planning for next year has already begun with the smart money betting on clear skies.

BUFFET LUNCHEON with a fall harvest motif attracted 1,100 parents, students, faculty and staff prior to attending the R.P.I. game, women's crew, tennis with Tufts and varsity soccer—all in intermittent rain.

Dr. ROBERT LINDSAY, professor of physics and Dr. RALPH O. MOYER, Jr., associate professor of chemistry, of Connecticut, have written "Preparation, Structure and Properties of Europium Hydride," in the August issue of Inorganic Chemistry. Dr. Lindsay and Dr. Moyer with WILLIAM K. KWOI, M.S., '77, have also published "Alkyly-bisdithiocarbarnates of Osvanadidin (IV), Chromium Complexes in the Spring 1975 issue of the Journal of Inorganic and Nuclear Chemistry.

Dr. EDMOND CHERBONNIER, Dr. JOHN GETTER and DR. FRANK KIRKPATRICK of the Religion Department attended the annual meetings of the American Academy of Religion held in Chicago, Oct. 30-Nov. 2. Dr. Kirkpatrick participated in a symposium entitled 'Towards a Post-Critical Theology: The Influence of Polanyi.' Dr. Getter gave a series of eight lectures this fall at Trinity Church (Hartford) on the topic of "Images of Jesus." Dr. Kirkpatrick gave a series of five lectures at the First Church of Christ Congregational (West Hartford) on the topic of "Church and Culture in Conflict: A Crisis for Contemporary Christians." Dr. GARY C. JACOBSON, assistant professor of political science, was represented in the Journal of Politics for August 1975 with an article entitled "The Impact of Broadcast Campaigning on Electoral Outcomes." An article entitled "Practical Consequences of Campaign Finance Reform: An Incipient Protection Act?" will appear in Public Policy, Winter 1976 issue.

THOMAS A. SMITH, vice president, has been elected first vice chairman of Connecticut Public Television's board of trustees. CPTV is a non-profit educational station located on the Trinity campus.

ANTHONY D. MACRO, associate professor of classics, is the Leverhulme Commonwealth USA Post-Doctoral Fellow at the University of Wales this year while on sabbatical from Trinity.

IVAN BACKER, director of graduate and continuing education, was mentioned in a story on the Institute for Educational Leadership in the October issue of American Education. The article focused on Backer's knowledge of the community leaders who make education policy in Connecticut and his ability to get them together. Backer is part-time director of The Associate Program (TAP) in Connecticut which conducts seminars during the year for state education leaders.

Dr. MICHAEL P. SACKS, assistant professor of sociology, presented a paper entitled "Time-Budget Sociology and Research in the Soviet Union" at the annual meetings of the American Association for the Advancement of Slavic Studies in Atlanta, Georgia, in October.

Dr. CLYDE D. McKEE, associate professor of political science, has been a member of the Fair Campaign Practices Committee in Hartford. The bi-partisan committee has been formed because of a concern that the political process in Hartford be carried out in an "open, fair, honest and high-minded way."

Dr. SONIA M. LEE, assistant professor of modern languages, will read a paper on the work of Quixama Sembene, an African writer, at the meeting of the Modern Languages Association in December. Her article, published by Georgia Tech, will publish her article "The Awakening of the Self in the Heroines of Quixama Sembene," in the December 1975 issue. The December 1975 issue of Yale French Studies will include her article entitled "The Image of the Woman in the African Folk Tale."

STEPHEN MINOT, author and associate professor of English, has had a collection of short stories, Crossings, published recently by the University of Illinois Press. The collection has received excellent notices and Publishers Weekly said that they are "twelve superbly crafted stories which address a wide range of experience and does so with a reverential touch." Two of the stories have won national awards.

Dr. CARL V. HANSEN, associate professor of modern languages, spent six weeks in the summer of 1975 studying Russian at Middlebury College before resuming the teaching of Russian at Trinity.

Dr. RICHARD P. BENTON, associate professor of English, edited and selected a series of scholarly and critical studies which appeared in the spring entitled "Poe As Literary Cosmopolitan," selected for the Advanced Placement Program. The examiners make up the advanced placement exam committee in English and serve as general consultants to advanced placement English teachers throughout the country.

"Liberal Arts, The Pursuit of Happiness, And A Job"

The number of requests for copies of President Lieutenant Colonel Potter's address has been so substantial that wider distribution is indicated. Printed copies are below his comments:

I have long felt that these occasions call for some frank views, not a bucolic rumination on the fall colors... Let me discuss the job situation.

Obviously the situation for college graduates in the short run, which positions were plentiful for the liberal arts major for years, is not the same today. In some surveys this statistic suggests a distasteful outlook for the future for those graduates. Let me remind you, however, that our experience is always on the side of the surveyors, not the surveyed. For example, from the information we can collect about the Class of 1973, a year where the job market was weak, the graduates are now very well placed. There was a temporary period during which many had jobs that they did not find thoroughly engaging, some had trouble locating a reasonable option for the first six months following graduation, but, no doubt, as the situation improved, the graduates would find more desirable positions.

In society we sense that this process is moving full speed. American society has reached a point where it does not function as it was designed to. The problem is not a failure to revive a growing economy, a failure to revive a wage structure, or for admission to a professional school or for admission to a liberal arts college.

The making of seniors has been an about-face, a departure of the liberal arts major from the vocational track. I prefer to be contacted at:

Hedonism and the Pursuit of Happiness

You may want to be relieved as I turn to the second topic, the pursuit of happiness, not only because it sounds much more pleasant, but also because it suggests the Bicentennial theme - that national reminder that the United States has over two hundred years, and that we are not there yet, in a manner that provides some occasion for other consideration. In the end, we all too easily become gloomy... In my Annual Report I discuss what might be called the new hedonism on campuses. ANNUAL GIVING REPORT

July 1, 1974 to June 30, 1975

Another Successful Year

Once again I am pleased and proud to report a successful year in our Annual Giving Campaign. For the fiscal year ending June 30, unrestricted gifts from Alumni, Parents, Business and Industry Associates and Friends totaled $500,675. Thus, our 1974-75 Annual Giving campaign became the third consecutive year that annual gifts for the budgeted programs of the College exceeded a half-million dollars.

In addition, restricted gifts from other sources totaled $1,672,268, putting the grand total of gifts to the College at $2,172,943.

Our success is to the credit of each person who contributed, and of those volunteers who gave their time and energy to this campaign. The College is especially grateful to the chairmen of this campaign: Don Viering, Scotty Stewart, Jack Davis, and Ted Tarsi.

Certainly, a generous spirit has prevailed, and continues to prevail as we seek, for a fourth year, to raise $500,000 or more from Annual Gifts for the budgeted programs of the College. That prevailing spirit was clearly expressed in many notes which came to us from contributors. One donor wrote, "I continue to be proud of my association with the College and will continue to support it as I can." A second, a recent graduate, said, "I would like to extend my personal, heartfelt thanks to Trinity College for an educational opportunity that I don't think I would have obtained anywhere else. I wish I could donate more, and when I can, I will."

So many gifts to Trinity do, indeed, come from the heart, and I hope our contributors know they are meeting vital educational needs of this College. It is encouraging to learn that our College continues to inspire pride, respect, and affection.

Theodore D. Lockwood
President

Corporate Contributors of Matching Gifts

The College received more than $45,000 in corporate matching funds in 1974-1975, as a result of alumni, parents, and friends. Companies with matching gift programs will make a contribution to Trinity equal to, and sometimes greater than, contributions made by their employees to the College. As a general rule, contributions by alumni to the Alumni Fund or the Campaign for Trinity Values are eligible for corporate matching gifts. Some of these companies also match gifts to the College by directors, by retired employees, by the spouse of an alumnus, and by non-alumni parents and friends. There are more than 600 companies in the U.S. which match gift programs.

Last year 138 corporations contributed a total of $45,201.31 in matching funds to Annual Giving. Of this total, $37,974.36 matched gifts to the Alumni Fund; $4,893.34 matched gifts to The Parent Fund; and $2,333.61 matched gifts to The Friends of Trinity Fund.

For 1974-75, the largest corporate matching gift, matching the contribution of a single alumnus, was $3,750. The smallest matching gift received was $5.

According to President Lockwood, "corporate matching gifts are already an important factor in our ability to reach our Annual Giving goals, and we are grateful to the corporations which contributed, as well as to those several hundred alumni, parents, and friends who took the initiative to see that their financial gifts were matched. "Through corporate matching gift programs, donors literally have the opportunity to 'double their dollars to 'Trinity. It is my hope that more will take advantage of these special giving programs." Information on how to contact your College's Development Office concerning companies with matching gift programs.

SOCCER

It was the end of a frustrating season for Trinity as they fumbled away on the short end of a 3-0 contest with Wesleyan to finish the season with only three victories in twelve outings.

The Bantams got off to a sluggish start in their 88-10 against the Blue Devils. Although Trinity dominated the game, they were unable to capitalize on their chances. The only score of the game came on a 20-yard field goal by Trinity's only place-kicker.

TRINITY SPORTS

WOMEN'S TENNIS

The women's tennis team won their first match of the year against R.P.I. 3-2. The varsity managed to stay on the winning track, squeaking by Middlebury to score the two Trinity TDs over Colby.

FOOTBALL

It was a good year, but a disappointing one for the varsity football team as they grinders crested the 500 mark with two games remaining in the season and then dropped both of those contests in close battles with Amherst (14-27) and Wesleyan (14-11) to finish the season with a 4-3-1 mark.

Trinity took to the road for its opener against Williams seeking to average its only loss of the previous fall. The Ephs outgained the Bantams in total yardage 320-196 but an alert Trinity defense, led by linebacker George Niland, forced Williams to turn the ball over in critical situations and the game ended in a 3-3 deadlock.

The Bantams journeyed to Maine the following weekend where they exhibited some offensive as well as defensive prowess in defeating Bates 24-17. Trinity jumped to an early 14-0 first quarter lead behind the power running of fullback Pat Heffernan but Bates came back to knot the score at 14 apiece in the half. The Bantam defense once again provided the spark for sophomore Karl Herbst punted the ball out of bounds for a new total of 17-0.

Against Coast Guard, Maus set a Trinity single-game record by kicking three field goals to lead the Bantams to a 16-3-1 victory over the Cadets at New London. George Rose continued his heroics of the Middlebury game as he completed the 20-yarder down the middle, a 30-yarder behind the goal line, and a 25-yarder after being chased 20 yards toward his own end zone by two Cadet defensive linemen. The completion set by Trinity's only touchdown of the day as John Wholley plunged over from one yard out four plays later.

Trinity entered its sixty-first contest against Amherst seeking to extend its winning streak to four games. It was to be a frustrating day for the Bantams however as the Lord Jeffs scored a touchdown with 2:57 remaining in the fourth quarter enroute to a 20-17 upset. Although Trinity dominated most of the afternoon with the running of fullback Pat Heffernan who turned in his best effort of the year, gaining 146 yards on the ground.

On Reunion/Homecoming weekend, Trinity fell to Wesleyan 14-11 despite the efforts of junior splitter end Tom Lines, who snared six passes for 109 yards, and the defensive secondary led by co-captain Steve Thoren. Mike Maus kicked his eighth field goal of the year to break the Trinity season record of seven which he set in 1974 and finished the year with a 42.8 yard punting average to better both the Trinity and New England records in that category.

FLIPPERS might have proven more efficient than cleats as Trinity halfback John Wholley (42) moved from huddle to puddle in the Bantams October 18 victory over Colby.

In the September issue of the Reporter, it was noted that Mike Maus '79 holds the Trinity record for the longest successful field goal attempt in school history. The record is actually held by Hank Plippin '32 who dropped a 50-yard field goal shot over the crossbar of the Connecticut Stadium in 1930. Our thanks to Clark Plippin '08 for bringing this to our attention.
