Honorary Degree Candidates Announced

by Diane Schwartz

The Trustees of Trinity College, in accordance with the Charter, chose the recipients of the College's honorary degrees by ballot voting. The honored individuals will be presented with the traditional hood and degree at commencement exercises on May 15.

Suggestions of whom should be honored have been received from sources and directed to the appropriate committee of the Trustees. Unlike previous years, none were requested from the Trinity College Council. President Donald W. Smith said that the selection process is not Graduanda, as in the past, but simultaneously across the country, therefore some of the College's choices are not known until the last minute which prevent them from accepting degrees.

Lockwood stated that the award was "a tremendous political accomplishment as a basis for an award. Instead it is bestowed on someone who has "some interest in Trinity, and will continue it." The distribution of the degrees is generally along the following lines: (when possible) an alumnus, the class speaker, a member of the faculty, the arts, one from education, and a businessman from the Hartford area.

The presentation of the honorary degrees in a long-established tradition at Trinity. However, there were no gowns and no doctors, were awarded. Two elements with which the recipients are: they are unique to the school. The colors do not conform to those listed on the Intercollegiate Code regarding academic costume. The trustees is a tradition which was established in 1895, and Trinity's current academic calendar is similar. Therefore, plans are to continue the tradition because it "recognizes people in a way no other institution can." Lockwood added that "the bowler's hat or the academic gown are unique to the school. The hoods which the recipients wear are unique to the School." The colors of the academic gowns do not conform to those listed in the Intercollegiate Code regarding academic costume.

The recipient of the honorary degrees were:

1. Lawrence A. S. Smith, chairman of the board of Ferris & Co., Inc., as an "air force captain and then a significant partner."
2. George Ferris, chairman of the board of Ferris & Co., Inc., as "an air force captain and then a significant partner."
3. Kenneth Woollcombe, Lord Bishop of the Hartford Public Library, as one of the school's "most distinguished alumni."
4. S. Prestley Blake, chairman of the board of The Bank of New York, as "an air force captain and then a significant partner."
5. Loren C. Eiseley, Benjamin Franklin Professor of Anthropology, as "a very good friend of the College." The College's honorary degrees by the Board of Directors are: the Doctor of Laws degree. A graduate of the University of Pennsylvania from 1946, he was given the Egeria Award in 1966 for "honors that can be bestowed upon a Trinity alumnus. Gallaudet College awarded him an honorary degree of law degree in 1966."

Dr. Johnson will receive an honorary Doctor of Laws degree. She was awarded a bachelor of science degree from the University of Vermont in 1933. She was awarded a master of arts degree in education from the University of Vermont in 1937. She completed her Doctor of Philosophy in 1940 in the humanities.

She joined Hartford College for Women as dean in 1965 and was named president in 1967. From 1939 to 1969 she was student supervisor of apprentice teachers in English at the Oxy University Graduate School of Education. She is on the board of trustees for the College and a member of the College's board of trustees.

Dr. Eiseley will receive an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree. He is the author of internationally known anthropologist and writer. In addition to serving as one of the school's "most distinguished alumni."

Laura Johnson

Rathskeller Chances Now Viewed 'Favorable'

by Steve Rayman

Vice-President Thomas A. Smith said that Trinity will "make every reasonable effort" to obtain a beer license for the fall, and referred to the chances of having a beer-serving facility in Mather as being "extraordinary." Smith mentioned the new dining room, Harnlin Hall, and the "favorable" answer to a petition presented by the SGA and signed by more than 600 students.

President Donald W. Smith termed the petition as "tremendous" and said that it was a "clear expression of student interest, and will undoubtedly have some bearing on the establishment of a rathskeller as a separate facility of the College." The College's traditional site is the Cave, or the New Dining Room as a coffee shop and a full-scale rathskeller. Smith said that he was "confident that the college would proceed with the creation of a full-scale rathskeller."

First, the specific requirements for the license must be obtained from the Liquor Commission. Smith said that he has asked the College's Student Services Department to apply for the license, temporarily using her name as the permittee. Mulqueen said that the College "will probably outlive its usefulness." It was too political and too much of a "practical matter," he said.

Second, the College must decide where to locate the facility—"is it going to be in the Cave, or the New Dining Room?" Smith said. He added that the College must be "very careful in choosing a site." The College will consider undertaking the SGA proposal to locate a rathskeller where the bowling alley is now if the expansion of the College's academic facilities is planned. Without the expansion, the College will be forced to use the New Dining Room as a full-scale rathskeller. Smith said.

"That serving beer in the Cave would not "feel at ease with a facility that was over-designed," because "many of us (not only students) are a force crying to have beer use our time." However, Smith said that he is "confident that the College will be the first college in the United States to have a rathskeller in the Cave." The College's academic facilities are in the "finishing touches" stage.

The final, and primary, difficulty involves funding. A properly structured Rathskeller, located in the present site of the Bowling Alley in the basement of the College, would probably be over-designed, within a budget of $10,000, or "cost under $50,000." However, Smith said that the budget has no provision for such an expenditure. He added that the College "will consider undertaking the SGA proposal to locate a rathskeller where the bowling alley is now if the expansion of the College's academic facilities is planned. Without the expansion, the College will be forced to use the New Dining Room as a full-scale rathskeller."

Additional dining room seating. In the College, the bowling alley would probably be converted into a combination lounge/rathskeller, along with the College's SGA and the College's Student Government Association. Smith said.

The expansion goes through, as is most likely, the only available places to serve beer are existing facilities, such as the New Dining Room, or the New Dining Room. Smith said. In addition, he said that the College will consider undertaking the SGA proposal to locate a rathskeller where the bowling alley is now if the expansion of the College's academic facilities is planned. Without the expansion, the College will be forced to use the New Dining Room as a full-scale rathskeller. Smith said.

"I'm concerned about any decision that is reached," Smith said. Although Smith said that the College would very much like to have a beer license for Mather, he felt that the establishment of a rathskeller as a separate facility of the College is still somewhat unlikely. He cited four considerations that need solutions before the College could proceed with the creation of a full-scale rathskeller.

First, the specific requirements for the license must be obtained from the Liquor Commission. Smith said that he has asked the College's Student Services Department to apply for the license, temporarily using her name as the permittee. Mulqueen said that the College "will probably outlive its usefulness." It was too political and too much of a "practical matter," he said.

Second, the College must decide where to locate the facility—"is it going to be in the Cave, or the New Dining Room?" Smith said. He added that the College must be "very careful in choosing a site." The College will consider undertaking the SGA proposal to locate a rathskeller where the bowling alley is now if the expansion of the College's academic facilities is planned. Without the expansion, the College will be forced to use the New Dining Room as a full-scale rathskeller. Smith said.

"That serving beer in the Cave would not "feel at ease with a facility that was over-designed," because "many of us (not only students) are a force crying to have beer use our time." However, Smith said that he is "confident that the College will be the first college in the United States to have a rathskeller in the Cave." The College's academic facilities are in the "finishing touches" stage.

The final, and primary, difficulty involves funding. A properly structured Rathskeller, located in the present site of the Bowling Alley in the basement of the College, would probably be over-designed, within a budget of $10,000, or "cost under $50,000." However, Smith said that the budget has no provision for such an expenditure. He added that the College "will consider undertaking the SGA proposal to locate a rathskeller where the bowling alley is now if the expansion of the College's academic facilities is planned. Without the expansion, the College will be forced to use the New Dining Room as a full-scale rathskeller."

Additional dining room seating. In the College, the bowling alley would probably be converted into a combination lounge/rathskeller, along with the College's SGA and the College's Student Government Association. Smith said.

"I'm concerned about any decision that is reached," Smith said. Although Smith said that the College would very much like to have a beer license for Mather, he felt that the establishment of a rathskeller as a separate facility of the College is still somewhat unlikely. He cited four considerations that need solutions before the College could proceed with the creation of a full-scale rathskeller.

First, the specific requirements for the license must be obtained from the Liquor Commission. Smith said that he has asked the College's Student Services Department to apply for the license, temporarily using her name as the permittee. Mulqueen said that the College "will probably outlive its usefulness." It was too political and too much of a "practical matter," he said.

Second, the College must decide where to locate the facility—"is it going to be in the Cave, or the New Dining Room?" Smith said. He added that the College must be "very careful in choosing a site." The College will consider undertaking the SGA proposal to locate a rathskeller where the bowling alley is now if the expansion of the College's academic facilities is planned. Without the expansion, the College will be forced to use the New Dining Room as a full-scale rathskeller. Smith said.

"That serving beer in the Cave would not "feel at ease with a facility that was over-designed," because "many of us (not only students) are a force crying to have beer use our time." However, Smith said that he is "confident that the College will be the first college in the United States to have a rathskeller in the Cave." The College's academic facilities are in the "finishing touches" stage.

The final, and primary, difficulty involves funding. A properly structured Rathskeller, located in the present site of the Bowling Alley in the basement of the College, would probably be over-designed, within a budget of $10,000, or "cost under $50,000." However, Smith said that the budget has no provision for such an expenditure. He added that the College "will consider undertaking the SGA proposal to locate a rathskeller where the bowling alley is now if the expansion of the College's academic facilities is planned. Without the expansion, the College will be forced to use the New Dining Room as a full-scale rathskeller."

Additional dining room seating. In the College, the bowling alley would probably be converted into a combination lounge/rathskeller, along with the College's SGA and the College's Student Government Association. Smith said.
Pie in the Eye - All the Rage

by Jeff Dulvrose

As spring goes into full bloom with the end of the academic year in sight, a puzzling phenomenon has developed on campus, which has left a trail of shocked, stoned, and chocolate-covered victims.

Although the pie throwing practice was initiated by a small number of students who intended to assail one or two individuals, it has now grown into a widespread phenomenon among students. Despite the efforts of faculty and administrators to curtail the practice, the students have stubbornly continued it.

Ronald Spencer, Dean of Students and foremost target of an anonymous pie thrower, expressed his viewpoint on the incident as "cowardly," "arrogant," and "against the best interests of the University." Spencer was pied at an Admissions Advisor meeting, last Wednesday, after which he recalled that "the episode greatly irked the rather pleasant atmosphere of the gathering."

Commenting on the aesthetic implications of the event, Dean Spencer observed that "pie is not a thing you can throw around casually."

Aspiring football players take time out from studies to throw some balls around. Photo by Al Moore

Upward Bound to Continue

by Maureen Healy

Two Twins Valley Upward Bound is currently preparing for its third year of operation at Trinity College. While the student body has already been admitted to courses in the available places begins last week, according to Professor Ronald C. Blanks.

The remaining positions will be filled by returnees from last year's program who have continued with the program this summer with what has been done in the past but to improve it through more individualized instruction.

Blanks seeks the basic goals of the program to be the strengthening of secondary students through the development of high school-age students into college freshmen. To this end, the program seeks to provide students with skills necessary for academic success.

The program this summer will run from July 6 through August 16. Special activities have been planned, such as an "Olympic Day" and "Solidarity Day."

The students will be housed in Jones and Elton, with the sexes equally divided between males and females.

The program at Trinity is funded by the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare and is part of a nationwide program which will be reflective of the Twin Valley region.

The program at Trinity is funded by the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. Twin Valley Upper Bound has received enough money from a number of sources which is more than last year. For the coming year, the program will utilize 83 students, which is a decrease of one.

On average, the program will have about 15 students per week, which is an increase of half of those students. The program has been successful in keeping the students on track, and the rates of success are quite high. The program has been successful in keeping the students on track, and the rates of success are quite high.

At Stephen F. Austin University, the Upward Bound Services course must spend an additional $100 on the per student course negotiating the campus facilities.

Aside from consideration for the problems of the permanently handicapped, the first goal of Twin Valley Upward Bound facilities was suggested by David Rothcab, an Indiana University student disabled in Vietnam.

One such cultural activity was a call for a pie throwing party in New York City for Puerto Rico Solidarity Day. Such an event could be perceived as a social and an historical experience, said Blanks.

The students will be housed in Jones and Elton, with the sexes equally divided between males and females. Among the rules of the program are the absolute prohibition of drugs, violence and outside visitors from Monday to Thursday. Twin Valleys Upper Bound includes the region served by the Upward Bound program which will be reflective of the Twin Valley region.

The students will be housed in Jones and Elton, with the sexes equally divided between males and females. Among the rules of the program are the absolute prohibition of drugs, violence and outside visitors from Monday to Thursday.

The students will be housed in Jones and Elton, with the sexes equally divided between males and females. Among the rules of the program are the absolute prohibition of drugs, violence and outside visitors from Monday to Thursday.

The students will be housed in Jones and Elton, with the sexes equally divided between males and females. Among the rules of the program are the absolute prohibition of drugs, violence and outside visitors from Monday to Thursday.

The students will be housed in Jones and Elton, with the sexes equally divided between males and females. Among the rules of the program are the absolute prohibition of drugs, violence and outside visitors from Monday to Thursday.
by Scott Gordon

An exchange of Trinity and UConn law schools in policy courses this fall will be expanded in September to include personnel as well.

According to Dr. Andrew J. Gold, a coordinator of the program at Trinity, the student registration process had expanded in September to include personnel as well. He noted that this program is not a way to gain some advantage into law school, but is an exchange to expand curriculum and to allow for a change of opportunity.

The program is unique in the respect that a public and a private institution have come together to exchange programs. The program is able to happen because of the active support of Dean Blumberg at UConn law school and the Trinity administration, he concluded.

The course Scanlon will teach is entitled "Legal Aspects of Human Experimentation." This will form an exploration of the limits of human experimentation under the law. Sac voted to lower the activities fee to $2500 from Follett’s Bookstore, the student activities fee, each year.

Gary Morgans, outgoing president of the Student Government Association (SGA), responded to the SAC budgetary process in a fairly negative manner. "The whole thing strikes me as irresponsible," he said. Furthermore, it was the interest of the student interest.

The major problem with the budgetary process, according to Dr. Kayman, was dismissing representation from all college organizations. Supposedly, the Budget Committee formulates recommendations for organizational funding only after the meetings have been heard.

Quite often, only a couple of members showed up for meetings, and although their choppings were disregarded, they were not ignored. “The SAC budgetary process this year, according to Charles W. Lindsay, III, Leonard Tsumba, and Ms. Diane Zannoni. SAC; instead, it is the Budget Committee that places the deletion of undesirable material.

Regarding the SAC budgetary process, Kayman proceeded to point out that because of the Annual budget, the SAC budgetary process is approved in a very strict period of time. Many of the organizations are made arbitrarily, often without regard to the monetary necessities and desires.

However, doubt is cast on the SAC budgetary process, when organizations are unable to get sufficient time for interviewing representatives from all college organizations.

The major problem with the budgetary process, according to Dr. Kayman, was dismissing representation from all college organizations. Supposedly, the Budget Committee formulates recommendations for organizational funding only after the meetings have been heard.

Quite often, only a couple of members showed up for meetings, and although their choppings were disregarded, they were not ignored. “The SAC budgetary process this year, according to Charles W. Lindsay, III, Leonard Tsumba, and Ms. Diane Zannoni. SAC; instead, it is the Budget Committee that places the deletion of undesirable material.

The purpose of the exchange program is to allow faculty to be named. Dr. Samuel Hendel of Trinity has been named to teach two courses, one of which is called "Politics of Concentration." This will form an exploration of the development of concentration upon human beings.

The course Scanlon will teach is entitled "Legal Aspects of Human Experimentation." This will form an exploration of the limits of human experimentation under the law. Sac voted to lower the activities fee to $2500 from Follett’s Bookstore, the student activities fee, each year.

Gary Morgans, outgoing president of the Student Government Association (SGA), responded to the SAC budgetary process in a fairly negative manner. "The whole thing strikes me as irresponsible," he said. Furthermore, it was the interest of the student interest.

The major problem with the budgetary process, according to Dr. Kayman, was dismissing representation from all college organizations. Supposedly, the Budget Committee formulates recommendations for organizational funding only after the meetings have been heard.

Quite often, only a couple of members showed up for meetings, and although their choppings were disregarded, they were not ignored. “The SAC budgetary process this year, according to Charles W. Lindsay, III, Leonard Tsumba, and Ms. Diane Zannoni. SAC; instead, it is the Budget Committee that places the deletion of undesirable material.

Regarding the SAC budgetary process, Kayman proceeded to point out that because of the Annual budget, the SAC budgetary process is approved in a very strict period of time. Many of the organizations are made arbitrarily, often without regard to the monetary necessities and desires.

However, doubt is cast on the SAC budgetary process, when organizations are unable to get sufficient time for interviewing representatives from all college organizations.

The major problem with the budgetary process, according to Dr. Kayman, was dismissing representation from all college organizations. Supposedly, the Budget Committee formulates recommendations for organizational funding only after the meetings have been heard.

Quite often, only a couple of members showed up for meetings, and although their choppings were disregarded, they were not ignored. “The SAC budgetary process this year, according to Charles W. Lindsay, III, Leonard Tsumba, and Ms. Diane Zannoni. SAC; instead, it is the Budget Committee that places the deletion of undesirable material.

Regarding the SAC budgetary process, Kayman proceeded to point out that because of the Annual budget, the SAC budgetary process is approved in a very strict period of time. Many of the organizations are made arbitrarily, often without regard to the monetary necessities and desires.

However, doubt is cast on the SAC budgetary process, when organizations are unable to get sufficient time for interviewing representatives from all college organizations.

The major problem with the budgetary process, according to Dr. Kayman, was dismissing representation from all college organizations. Supposedly, the Budget Committee formulates recommendations for organizational funding only after the meetings have been heard.

Quite often, only a couple of members showed up for meetings, and although their choppings were disregarded, they were not ignored. “The SAC budgetary process this year, according to Charles W. Lindsay, III, Leonard Tsumba, and Ms. Diane Zannoni. SAC; instead, it is the Budget Committee that places the deletion of undesirable material.

Regarding the SAC budgetary process, Kayman proceeded to point out that because of the Annual budget, the SAC budgetary process is approved in a very strict period of time. Many of the organizations are made arbitrarily, often without regard to the monetary necessities and desires.

However, doubt is cast on the SAC budgetary process, when organizations are unable to get sufficient time for interviewing representatives from all college organizations.

The major problem with the budgetary process, according to Dr. Kayman, was dismissing representation from all college organizations. Supposedly, the Budget Committee formulates recommendations for organizational funding only after the meetings have been heard.

Quite often, only a couple of members showed up for meetings, and although their choppings were disregarded, they were not ignored. “The SAC budgetary process this year, according to Charles W. Lindsay, III, Leonard Tsumba, and Ms. Diane Zannoni. SAC; instead, it is the Budget Committee that places the deletion of undesirable material.

Regarding the SAC budgetary process, Kayman proceeded to point out that because of the Annual budget, the SAC budgetary process is approved in a very strict period of time. Many of the organizations are made arbitrarily, often without regard to the monetary necessities and desires.

However, doubt is cast on the SAC budgetary process, when organizations are unable to get sufficient time for interviewing representatives from all college organizations.

The major problem with the budgetary process, according to Dr. Kayman, was dismissing representation from all college organizations. Supposedly, the Budget Committee formulates recommendations for organizational funding only after the meetings have been heard.

Quite often, only a couple of members showed up for meetings, and although their choppings were disregarded, they were not ignored. “The SAC budgetary process this year, according to Charles W. Lindsay, III, Leonard Tsumba, and Ms. Diane Zannoni. SAC; instead, it is the Budget Committee that places the deletion of undesirable material.

Regarding the SAC budgetary process, Kayman proceeded to point out that because of the Annual budget, the SAC budgetary process is approved in a very strict period of time. Many of the organizations are made arbitrarily, often without regard to the monetary necessities and desires.

However, doubt is cast on the SAC budgetary process, when organizations are unable to get sufficient time for interviewing representatives from all college organizations.

The major problem with the budgetary process, according to Dr. Kayman, was dismissing representation from all college organizations. Supposedly, the Budget Committee formulates recommendations for organizational funding only after the meetings have been heard.

Quite often, only a couple of members showed up for meetings, and although their choppings were disregarded, they were not ignored. “The SAC budgetary process this year, according to Charles W. Lindsay, III, Leonard Tsumba, and Ms. Diane Zannoni. SAC; instead, it is the Budget Committee that places the deletion of undesirable material.

Regarding the SAC budgetary process, Kayman proceeded to point out that because of the Annual budget, the SAC budgetary process is approved in a very strict period of time. Many of the organizations are made arbitrarily, often without regard to the monetary necessities and desires.

However, doubt is cast on the SAC budgetary process, when organizations are unable to get sufficient time for interviewing representatives from all college organizations.

The major problem with the budgetary process, according to Dr. Kayman, was dismissing representation from all college organizations. Supposedly, the Budget Committee formulates recommendations for organizational funding only after the meetings have been heard.

Quite often, only a couple of members showed up for meetings, and although their choppings were disregarded, they were not ignored. “The SAC budgetary process this year, according to Charles W. Lindsay, III, Leonard Tsumba, and Ms. Diane Zannoni. SAC; instead, it is the Budget Committee that places the deletion of undesirable material.

Regarding the SAC budgetary process, Kayman proceeded to point out that because of the Annual budget, the SAC budgetary process is approved in a very strict period of time. Many of the organizations are made arbitrarily, often without regard to the monetary necessities and desires.

However, doubt is cast on the SAC budgetary process, when organizations are unable to get sufficient time for interviewing representatives from all college organizations.

The major problem with the budgetary process, according to Dr. Kayman, was dismissing representation from all college organizations. Supposedly, the Budget Committee formulates recommendations for organizational funding only after the meetings have been heard.
To the Editor: I was very unhappy to hear last week that the SAC has decided to raise the Student Activities Fee to $70. There is no reason for Trinity students to be paying such a large amount. SAC Members use the argument that a 12% inflation rate made the raise inevitable, but this is fallacious. First, the Student Activities Fee has been overinflated for years, simply because past Budget Committees and SACs find it easier to agree to every group's demands for money, than to allocate only what the students need. The present SAC seems to have preserved this tradition. Does the Student Government Office really need to spend $1,000 to pay a secretary? Do enough students ever listen to WRTC to justify spending $5,000 on a new transmitter? And why was $13,000 allocated to the Contemporary Fund? To hide under the College's master's? This isn't responsible financing.

I would hope that next year's Budget Committee, before allocating yet another $500 for yet another concert/Ultim/dance to be attended by virtually no one, will stop and think about the already strained budgets of students and their families. Fees, of course, are never lowered.

But let's at least halt the rise of the Student Activities Fee until it begins to reflect the real needs of the College.

Shella Ercoli

May 24, 25, 1975

TRINITY COLLEGE

COMMENCEMENT WEEKEND

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

Saturday, May 24

3:30 p.m. Phi Beta Kappa Meeting — McCook Math-Physics Library

4:30 to 5:30 p.m. Faculty for members of the Class of 1975, their parents and guests — Austin Arts Center (in case of inclement weather)

Sunday, May 25

9:30 a.m. Senior Formation

10:00 a.m. Baccalaureate — The Quad (Ferris Center in case of inclement weather)

11:00 a.m. A la carte Luncheon — Mather Dining Hall

1:30 p.m. Senior Formation

1:50 p.m. Procession

2:00 p.m. Commencement — The Quad (Ferris Center)

4:00 p.m. Reception for Masters recipients, their families and guests — Hamlin Hall

To the Editor:

I would like to call attention to the current practice of the Registrar's Office concerning the "late Pre-registration fee". The comparatively enormous price of twenty-five dollars is excused from "late students" who fail to show up at the proper Pre-registration period. Why such a large amount? Mr. Ralph Maddry, the College Registrar, explained in me that the "fee" is required in order to "compensate" the Office for the "extra work" it is forced to do for each tardy student; "extra work" that gets completed in half the time that the rest of the forms that were handled.

Succumbing to malignant influences beyond my control, I, alas, was one of those poor "late students". I was informed that I must scrape up the money so as to be barred from attending my last year "Noah the Eels." My fervent excuse was not enough to satisfy the worthy chap (after all, what is passing out at noon really worth eight hours of diligent study, night shift at Mather, and morning classes compared to aoidal illness or a high-speed traffic accident?) so my plea to be spared was for naught.

In this "enlightened bastion of higher education" (how sick you must all be of the phrase) I find it amusing to listen to the Registrar's Office, that petty netherworld of business machines and cagey cainiples, Justi my non-existent twenty-five dollars is exacted from me, my dear sir, year most obedient servant.

Rock Allen '76

(God Wiling)

May 24, 25, 1975

"live fee"

To the Editor:

I am appalled at the hostility directed at the Trinity Security Forces! Students expect the security force in many cases to pay for their mistakes. Mistakes that lead to them being ripped off. There are numerous cases where students have been ripped off because they just simply left their doors open. . . . when they got ripped off, it's the Security's fault. Hell, what should Trinity do, put a guard on every floor and when some wack job leaves to take a drain yells "WATCH MY ROOM"? I find it strange that's one of the most common questions like "How did they pay for enlightened bastion of higher education" (how sick you must all be of the phrase) I find it amusing to listen to the Registrar's Office, that petty netherworld of business machines and cagey cainiples, Justi my non-existent twenty-five dollars is exacted from me, my dear sir, year most obedient servant.

Rock Allen '76

(God Wiling)

May 24, 25, 1975

"pueblo, anyone?"

To the Editor:

The Cambodians, now known as the Khymer Rouge, recently seized an American merchant ship carrying military supplies, but was sixty (60) miles offshore. The television news showed various government officials, most of them Senators, expressing their views about the matter. Senator James Buckley of New York said that the United States should launch a punitive raid on Cambodia to let them know that the United States was not feeling around when its ships were concerned.

This policy may have worked in the past, but it now is a "deception in the closet" for many of the old colonial powers at a time when their own affairs are mired. The Israelis have advocated this policy in the interests of the Arab terrorists, and the world has reacted with indignation. What is to say that the nations of the world will not view the American action in a similar light, especially after the fall of Cambodia and South Vietnam, not to mention the imminent collapse of Laos? In such a time, we must truly be wary of such militant moves.

Martin Kanseff, '77

May 24, 25, 1975

"support security"

To the Editor:

I was very unhappy to hear last week that the SAC has decided to raise the Student Activities Fee to $70. There is no reason for Trinity students to be paying such a large amount. SAC Members use the argument that a 12% inflation rate made the raise inevitable, but this is fallacious. First/ the Student Government Office really need to spend $1,000 to pay a secretary? Do enough students ever listen to WRTC to justify spending $5,000 on a new transmitter? And why was $13,000 allocated to the Contemporary Fund? To hide under the College's master's? This isn't responsible financing.

I would hope that next year's Budget Committee, before allocating yet another $500 for yet another concert/Ultim/dance to be attended by virtually no one, will stop and think about the already strained budgets of students and their families. Fees, of course, are never lowered. But let's at least halt the rise of the Student Activities Fee until it begins to reflect the real needs of the College.

Shella Ercoli

May 24, 25, 1975

TRINITY COLLEGE

COMMENCEMENT WEEKEND

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

Saturday, May 24

3:30 p.m. Phi Beta Kappa Meeting — McCook Math-Physics Library

4:30 to 5:30 p.m. Faculty for members of the Class of 1975, their parents and guests — Austin Arts Center (in case of inclement weather)

Sunday, May 25

9:30 a.m. Senior Formation

10:00 a.m. Baccalaureate — The Quad (Ferris Center in case of inclement weather)

11:00 a.m. A la carte Luncheon — Mather Dining Hall

1:30 p.m. Senior Formation

1:50 p.m. Procession

2:00 p.m. Commencement — The Quad (Ferris Center)

4:00 p.m. Reception for Masters recipients, their families and guests — Hamlin Hall
THAP Alternatives

The following is an exchange of letters from the editorial board of the Tripod, Trinity College's weekly student newspaper, to the President of the College, Mr. Smith, Vice-President of the College.

Dear Vice President Smith,

You wrote the Trinity Hunger Action Program over a month ago, making the following statement:

The trip is a great mistake. An activity carried on in conjunction with the Hartford Hunger Action Project might achieve some of the purposes of the latter.

As the week of hunger and the activities of the strike indicate, students are willing to present alternative proposals. For example, a hunger strike at Trinity College as the separate issue into two phases: a food strike and a political strike. Many see the activities of the strike indicate, student and citizen. Whereas these two activities are not compatible, all "political" activity at Trinity College is extra-curricular. On the other hand, it involves taking a stance on an issue, and we believe that the collective action is the appropriate one. Beyond Trinity's gates becomes another letter in the history of the student (i.e., "average" in terms of experience with Hartford's college community, concrete, steel, glass is to ignore the dynamics of educational gains and to enhance their personal experiences. The record of achievement is good; and the problem come about. To end this

Dear Rick,

I would agree, as would most students in your letter, and over recent years have been used by In- and other political or social objectives. Though courses dealing with the problem of hunger are not enough.

To make such commitments without addressing the institution's financial or structural emphasis on using teaching methods vary from two emphasize a truly inter-disciplinary approach. education revolves around the one area of cutting down consumption--we are making progress from freshman to senior through the College community.
RESEARCH

NORTH AMERICA'S LARGEST SERVICE
$2.75 per page
SEND NOW FOR LATEST CATALOG.
Enclose $2.00 to cover return postage.

ESSAY SERVICES

BOX 1218
NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. 14302

(416) 366-6549

Our research material is sold for research assistance only.

CAMPUS REPS REQUIRED
PLEASE WRITE
Are you tired of being called artistically destitute? Do your roommates accuse you of having all the sensibilities of an installment contract circuit? Prove them wrong (or right) by taking this short quiz. Simply write the appropriate number in the margin, total the score, and rate-yourself.

First, put down the total number of plays seen here at Trinity this year. To refresh your memory, in the Goodwin Theatre, Theatre Arts presented The Wild Duck in November, The Tripod, May 15, 1975, Page 7

are the arts reviewed

Rate Yourself Theatre Quiz

by Jeffrey Mandell

WRTC's 28th year of broadcasting. After incorporating French and Portuguese shows, Tuesday evening, July 8, WRTC has become the leader of alternative radio in the Hartford area.

WRTC has been proud to include many foreign language shows, ranging from the traditional weekend Portuguese 'Amplitude' programming, to French and Italian shows, and a new concept of Spanish news 'Simulcast' in cooperation with WFSB-TV. The traditionally fine rock program- ming has improved immensely this year, and the prospects for this fall are very encouraging. Full force is being returned. The Black Experience continues, and the NHK Jazz program in Hartford. WRTC has also of fered a classical music every afternoon, a suc- cessful program that will continue. Special programming, headed this year by Jim Wilson, will return with an even wider variety of talk shows, interviews, musical specials, live concerts, and radio theater.

Madrigal Concert

Tonight at 9:15 Trinity's Madrigal singers, recently named Henrickson, was formed last year. The Madrigal singers, recently, named Lunch Hour, The Anniversary, was formed last year. To refresh your memory, in the Goodwin Theatre, Theatre Arts presented Winners, harmonizing voices. Tonight's concert is a new concept of the once and future romances of the cattle kingdoms.

WRTC Prepares For Next Year

Technically, WRTC will be an organization that will work with the Bank of America Foundation to run the complicated machinery in a station, a very competent technician. The SAC has just decided to grant a news trans- mission model, so a new transmitter will be installed, and radio theater. The station continues to operate effi- ciently. Election results have put Jeff Mandler as head of WRTC as Station Manager, Hobyn Weinstien as Program Director, and Wheaton Wood to be in charge of the various productions that emanate from the station.

Gallows Humour in September, and again on October 11, and radio theater.

Rush the Board.

are the arts reviewed

Jester one-set and full-length productions by the Theatre Arts Center, and even off-Campus activities.

Theatrical activity does not grow and properly in a closet. We need your support with your talent, your skills, your interest and your enthusiasm. If you don't want to tread the boards, swing a hammer or push a button, at least come down and occupy a seat. We hope you won't be disappointed, and it will definitely improve your Theatre Quiz score.

Announcements

Open House

The Connecticut Historical Society will celebrate 150 years of its existence with an Open House for the general public, as well as its members, on Sunday afternoon, May 18, from 2:00 to 6:00 p.m. It was announced today by Director Thomas R. Harlow.

Highlighting the Open House, at which refreshments will be served, will be several special exhibitions of works of art and important historical documents acquired by the Society, particularly during its early years.

WRTC Has Ended Its 28th Year

While the station continues to operate effi- ciently. Election results have put Jeff Mandler as head of WRTC as Station Manager, Hobyn Weinstien as Program Director, and Wheaton Wood to be in charge of the various productions that emanate from the station.

WRTC has ended its 28th year of broadcasting. After incorporating French and Portuguese shows, Tuesday evening, July 8, WRTC has become the leader of alternative radio in the Hartford area.

WRTC has been proud to include many foreign language shows, ranging from the traditional weekend Portuguese 'Amplitude' programming, to French and Italian shows, and a new concept of Spanish news 'Simulcast' in cooperation with WFSB-TV. The traditionally fine rock program- ming has improved immensely this year, and the prospects for this fall are very encouraging. Full force is being returned. The Black Experience continues, and the NHK Jazz program in Hartford. WRTC has also of fered a classical music every afternoon, a suc- cessful program that will continue. Special programming, headed this year by Jim Wilson, will return with an even wider variety of talk shows, interviews, musical specials, live concerts, and radio theater.

Madrigal Concert

Tonight at 9:15 Trinity's Madrigal singers, recently named Henrickson, was formed last year. The Madrigal singers, recently, named Lunch Hour, The Anniversary, was formed last year. To refresh your memory, in the Goodwin Theatre, Theatre Arts presented Winners, harmonizing voices. Tonight's concert is a new concept of the once and future romances of the cattle kingdoms.

WRTC Prepares For Next Year

Technically, WRTC will be an organization that will work with the Bank of America Foundation to run the complicated machinery in a station, a very competent technician. The SAC has just decided to grant a news trans- mission model, so a new transmitter will be installed, and radio theater. The station continues to operate effi- ciently. Election results have put Jeff Mandler as head of WRTC as Station Manager, Hobyn Weinstien as Program Director, and Wheaton Wood to be in charge of the various productions that emanate from the station.

Gallows Humour in September, and again on October 11, and radio theater.

Rush the Board.

are the arts reviewed

Jester one-set and full-length productions by the Theatre Arts Center, and even off-Campus activities.

Theatrical activity does not grow and properly in a closet. We need your support with your talent, your skills, your interest and your enthusiasm. If you don't want to tread the boards, swing a hammer or push a button, at least come down and occupy a seat. We hope you won't be disappointed, and it will definitely improve your Theatre Quiz score.

Announcements

Open House

The Connecticut Historical Society will celebrate 150 years of its existence with an Open House for the general public, as well as its members, on Sunday afternoon, May 18, from 2:00 to 6:00 p.m. It was announced today by Director Thomas R. Harlow.

Highlighting the Open House, at which refreshments will be served, will be several special exhibitions of works of art and important historical documents acquired by the Society, particularly during its early years.

Hartford Arts Festival

Visitors to the Greater Hartford arts Festival, scheduled May 31-June 8, will have access to a variety of special events and displays, including the 24th Annual Hartford, Wood to be in charge of the various productions that emanate from the station.

WRTC has ended its 28th year of broadcasting. After incorporating French and Portuguese shows, Tuesday evening, July 8, WRTC has become the leader of alternative radio in the Hartford area.

WRTC has been proud to include many foreign language shows, ranging from the traditional weekend Portuguese 'Amplitude' programming, to French and Italian shows, and a new concept of Spanish news 'Simulcast' in cooperation with WFSB-TV. The traditionally fine rock program- ming has improved immensely this year, and the prospects for this fall are very encouraging. Full force is being returned. The Black Experience continues, and the NHK Jazz program in Hartford. WRTC has also of fered a classical music every afternoon, a suc- cessful program that will continue. Special programming, headed this year by Jim Wilson, will return with an even wider variety of talk shows, interviews, musical specials, live concerts, and radio theater.

Madrigal Concert

Tonight at 9:15 Trinity's Madrigal singers, recently named Henrickson, was formed last year. The Madrigal singers, recently, named Lunch Hour, The Anniversary, was formed last year. To refresh your memory, in the Goodwin Theatre, Theatre Arts presented Winners, harmonizing voices. Tonight's concert is a new concept of the once and future romances of the cattle kingdoms.

WRTC Prepares For Next Year

Technically, WRTC will be an organization that will work with the Bank of America Foundation to run the complicated machinery in a station, a very competent technician. The SAC has just decided to grant a news trans- mission model, so a new transmitter will be installed, and radio theater. The station continues to operate effi- ciently. Election results have put Jeff Mandler as head of WRTC as Station Manager, Hobyn Weinstien as Program Director, and Wheaton Wood to be in charge of the various productions that emanate from the station.

Gallows Humour in September, and again on October 11, and radio theater.

Rush the Board.
Trinity Harriers Finish 6-4

by Gary Morgans

The Trinity track team closed out its best season in several years last week, ending with a 6-4 overall record.

The harriers posted a 3-2 dual meet mark.

The season’s close came with an impressive 100-yard defeat at the hands of WPI, and a last place finish in the Eastern Championships last Saturday. While the Trinity track program showed itself to be vastly improved over recent years, the team certainly has not yet reached a peak of strength.

The Worcestor team out performed the Bantams in virtually every area. The traditionally strong field events failed to produce, as Vic Novak’s first place in the shot put powered the Bantams in every event. Joe Calabro and Hal Smullen took thirds in the 100 and 200, the latter in 22.3. Trinity and WPI splintered the relays, with the Bama winning the 4x100 split event.

Last Saturday’s trip to the Easterns at Bowdoin College resulted in a last place, no point for Trinity, as none of the prospects for next year appear.

Novak’s first place in the shot put resulted in a third, while Walter Champion’s 52.0 did not place. Jim Forbes ran a 4:31 mile as he garnered a third in that event. Gary Morgans took seconds in both the 100 and 200, the latter in 22.3. Trinity and WPI splintered the relays, with the Bama winning the 4x100 split event.

Did you know? A year or a semester abroad may be cheaper than a year or semester in the States. Why not live, study and learn in Europe? Start in the New England area. The traditionally strong field events failed to produce, as Vic Novak’s first place in the shot put powered the Bantams in every event. Joe Calabro and Hal Smullen took thirds in the 100 and 200, the latter in 22.3. Trinity and WPI splintered the relays, with the Bama winning the 4x100 split event.

Last Saturday’s trip to the Easterns at Bowdoin College resulted in a last place, no point for Trinity, as none of the prospects for next year appear.

Novak’s first place in the shot put resulted in a third, while Walter Champion’s 52.0 did not place. Jim Forbes ran a 4:31 mile as he garnered a third in that event. Gary Morgans took seconds in both the 100 and 200, the latter in 22.3. Trinity and WPI splintered the relays, with the Bama winning the 4x100 split event.

Last Saturday’s trip to the Easterns at Bowdoin College resulted in a last place, no point for Trinity, as none of the prospects for next year appear.

Novak’s first place in the shot put resulted in a third, while Walter Champion’s 52.0 did not place. Jim Forbes ran a 4:31 mile as he garnered a third in that event. Gary Morgans took seconds in both the 100 and 200, the latter in 22.3. Trinity and WPI splintered the relays, with the Bama winning the 4x100 split event.

This weekend the three Trinity students who qualified will voyage to the New England track awards ceremony. The prospects for next year appear fairy good, with only four seniors graduating out of a team number 34. The team’s top five top point scorer’s, led by Vic Novak, are all returning undergraduates.

CHECK CASHING

by Henry Morens

Effective as of September 1, there will be a 1 1/2 service charge per check in the bookstore, as opposed to the existing 1/2 charge. The maximum charge for bounced checks will be 3 dollars per check. According to Richard Ethelin, head of the bookstore, the amount of time and labor involved in cashing a half million checks (this year's total) and retrieving over 10 thousand bounced checks means that an increase in essential in order to continue the efficient operation of the check cashing operation of the bookstore for next year.

The original request by the bookstore for the increase in per check charges, but the Trinity Cabinet granted only 1/2.

FREE LIGHTED PARKING - Wl Hand Master Charge

SHOWCASE CINEMAS 1234
1-800-656-5566
TICKETS BY PHONE
WEEKDAYS 10-9 SATURDAYS 10-6 SUNDAYS 12-6