Central Fund Canvass of Hartford This Week

MAY HAVE VISITORS' DAY AT COLLEGE.

Plan To Have Committee of Eighty Workers In City.

The general campaign among citizens of Hartford, Conn., started this week. Seventy of the college is to start this week and will continue until the last of the month, although no definite quota has been set for Hartford as yet. In addition, the other districts as well, the various committees are going after the alumni who have not contributed to the fund, and practically every man who has attended the college and who has not made a subscription to the $1,500,000 which is being raised.

A local campaign in Hartford a committee of about ten is being organized, the members of this committee to set some work among a group of team captains, although they will be at liberty to organize their own committees as they think best. Men are expected to serve on the actual committee of workers who will act in connection with the Hartford Campaign, an effort to bring in new money to the capital campaign, which is the object of the organization, during which the college will have as its guests the citizens of Hartford, the alumni, the students, the campus and buildings by a committee of undergraduates.

WASHINGTOFn D. C., November 8.

The Washington Association of the Alumni of the College was organized at a luncheon conference at the Cosmos Club, Washington, D. C., No- vember 4. Dr. S. A. L. Ferris, president of the Board of Education for the Pan-American Union, the National Con- ference on the Limitation of Armaments, and from the Pan-American Student League were read. Among the men who addressed those gathered at the conference were Dr. Ferris, who spoke of the United States Air Service, who em- phasized the important part yearful of the work of the Union, which, he said, was the United States is spending more than double the G. E. problem. The conference was attended by many of the interested men and women of the student was referred back to the senate, and the other recommendations for the reorganization of the student government were dis- counted to the Senate.

FOOTBALL TEAM MEETS ENTRANT FROM OTHER TEAM.

Trinity Team Will Present Strongest Lineup of the Season.

Trinity college foot ball team for this week's annual Election Day game, with New York University, the Blue and Gold taking with it strong hopes of trampling the Violet under foot in defeat. Trinity won this game earlier in the season than any other team has, and the New Yorkers have succeeded in defeating Trinity in both contests, since 20 to 0 in 1919 and 31 to 20 last year.

New York seems to have a fairly strong team this year, and the caliber of the teams will make the game more than a mere exhibition of football. The other semi-finalists are: C. E. Cunningham, Brainard and ede.

THE SENATE.
The result of the vote on the re­ organization of the senate as a "majority" senate, the other backers of the minority report favor­ ing the elimination of fraternity senators, but the vote seems to show that the student body at last is awaking to the fact that the College is the biggest thing in college at present. Of course, the majority report could not get the required number, without the negative votes of the non-fraternity men, but 1; is a source of gratifica­ tion to everyone who has a real in­ terest of Trinity at heart that at last something is being done.

TRIPOD.
The editor wishes to thank Cook, "12, and Ward, 18, for their interest in the affairs of the college and their action in writing to him about the men of list attending the Yale-Army game. This is much as an alumni as an undergraduate publication, but the exigencies of the situation make it impossible for the alumni to express their opinions through its editorial columns. Unpublished letters are apt to have a different opinion from alumni regarding the best interests of the college, even when all are awaking for the greater good of the college. The column of the paper are always open to the alumni, and it is the in­ clination of the board of the college that the graduates of the college will themselves of this medium of ex­ pression upon their ways and means of making Trinity a greater and better college.

DISTRICT STANDING.
Below is the standing of the va­ rious districts in the Centennial Fund, its districts being ranked in accord­ ance with the percentage of their total gifts which they have subscribed. Texas, so far is the first district to exceed its quota.

1. Texas.
5. Pennsylvania outside of Phila­ delphia.
7. Rhode Island.
8. Chicago and neighboring districts.
10. Michigan and District.
11. Eastern Massachusetts and Boston.
13. Wisconsin.
15. Missouri, Kansas and Ne­braska.
17. Washington and Oregon.
18. California.
19. Minnesota.
20. Florida.

THE CAMPAIGN.
Last week it was announced that the National Student Postal Campaig, had passed the 200,000 mark in its $1,500,000 which has been set aside in the Centennial Fund in order that Trinity may establish a campus board. So far no gifts from persons outside of the alumni have been received, but the Trinity men themselves have fallen far short of the $500,000 quota prescribed.

The campaign was too high, but certainly there is no excuse for any man who has not given to this thing to this fund which is to form the very life blood of your Alma Mater.

COLLEGES AND HOME HYGIENE.
The importance of courses in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick is increasing in normal schools throughout the country.

Last summer Red Cross courses which taught how to make homes hygienically, how to care for the aged, and properly to care for patients and children were features of the Normal School "Home Health" courses held in the Red Cross Division of the Bureau of Education, Washington, June 13 to 14.

A Red Cross nurse instructor in South Carolina is using her pupils who have completed the course in the various committees of the Red Cross, on various committees dealing with water supply, sewers, better sanitation, volunteer workers, and baby health clinics. The pupils have proved valuable helps in the public health nurse in carrying on her work in the particular county in which the Red Cross instructor has been as­ signed.

In another community the Red Cross public health nurse uses her pupils to carry on her work in the various districts of the county. Successful baby conferences have been through her classes in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick.

Not even women, but men as well, are becoming interested in Home Hygiene. In many of the classes men are as eager to learn the way to a healthier mode of living as the women.

TRINITY GRADUATE
WINS HARD CASE.
Attorney A. F. Miller, '95, Prayed For Work in Murder Trial.

Arthur F. Miller, '95, of Clinton, Ill., was the winning legal case last summer, as attorney for James Hamilton Irvin, an ex-service man, charged with murder. Attorney Miller secured an acquittal using inadmissibly superinduced by shell shock as the defense.

Concerning this case, the Clinton "Morning Journal" said: "The case was one of the most hard fought in the annals of the Dewitt County Circuit Court, and combined with the sweltering heat of the hot part of this week, the case was doubly tiresome. It was Attorney Arthur F. Miller's seventeenth participation in homicide cases, these appearances being made as attorney and for the defense. Of these cases, he has won a large majority. "What probably caused the sway­ ing of the jury's minds in the case this week, was the arguments presented by the attorneys for the defense. Attorney Miller's argument Thursday night was a masterpiece, and people who crowded the court room were loud in their praise of the ability of Attorney Miller and his working partner, Attorney Louis O. Williams."

Bishop Webb's Idea.

Bishop W. W. Webb, '82, made the following statement in the same issue: "You cannot force people to church or religious observance by law, unless you want a reaction. The attempt to enforce Sunday as a day of religious observance by law leads to all sorts of difficulties. To give every person one day of rest in seven, as far as possible, is a different matter. That can be done by law, if the majority of the people are behind the law. To attempt to control recreation by law is bound to make trouble, and leads towards absurd and ridiculous legislation, founded on prejudices. The much abused continental Sunday, so far as France is concerned—and I have spent several years there both in Paris and in small French villages and towns—is spent far more religiously than is most American cities and villages. A far larger proportion of persons fulfill their duty to God as Christians than there is much more rest and real recreation than in France and England. Anything of that sort is not needed to enforce it. "A strong propaganda to teach people their obligation to God in worship, to their fellowman that he may have his day of rest, would be better worth than any possible legislation."
