THE BLANKET TAX.

The College Body, at its meeting last night, voted to increase the tax which will completely revivify Campus activities when it passes the blanketing of the Finance Committee of the Senate.

The Finance Committee of the Senate has given the lamentable fact that Trinity suffered to an exceptional degree from the discontinuance of the tax, this year, the saying is now true. However, it is none the less true. Campus activities have been deader from death of material, but without lack of support, either financial or physical. Drew said some time ago that the athletic burden of the school is about all that the College can do about twenty men. The same thing may be said for the non-athletic undergraders. The group of men, who may be called the spirit of the school in all its activities, has carried on to the best of its ability the activities. In some cases, particularly the Jesters, the organization has been forced to withdraw because it can barely support the student body. It may be that the support of its future is possible.

The passage of the blanket tax places the burden of support on the outside of the realm of necessity and makes it simply desirable. Graduates will, of course, be glad to attend performances of the Jesters, concerts of the Glee Club, or any other organization, because the blanket tax will provide the financial aid which will be a benefit to the student body.

The blanket tax will give these organizations sufficient financial foundations upon which to build without thought of contracting debts. In this way, Trinity should receive, and its finances will be in better shape than they have been in the past.

But in another way the tax will prove valuable. It is a well known fact of the business world that, "when the time is right, there is an interest in the business." If the money is in the pocket, the interest will be enticed. The Finance Committee wishes to have hands of some organization, interest is by no means the money which is tax. It is a tax for the support of these organizations as soon as College opens, makes him interested in recovering the value of his money, or at least in realizing dividends upon it. If there is any chance for the organization to show a form of attendance, or which is more to be desired, to show a profit.

In still another way the tax is a wise move, and this is probably the most important. Every man who takes the slightest pride in being called a Trinity man responds at various times during the year to appeals from the various activities. These come at uncertain times and are for uncertain amounts. Frequently they are called to pay for dead horses. A blank tax, collected at the beginning of each term, gives a man an opportunity to look ahead at his expenses and provide for them. It is paid, and the man is bothered no more.

All that remains is for the student body to find the way. It is known that traditional Trinity organizations are revivified and placed on a higher plane than any other college. This is a task for strong men, for who wants to be a man of his college; and it cannot be finished in one year. But a good start is more than halfway done. However, the financial position of the College next year will justify the present action.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Trinity men will be interested in the report of Dr. Genthe, who was a member of the Finance Committee of the Senate. It is hoped that a number of the alumni might be invited in order to join in the interest of Dr. Genthe a token of the affection, held for him by the graduates and members of the faculty with whom and whom they entered into contact, in the form of a fund to which any one may contribute. Dr. Henry A. Perkins, addressed at the College, will receive any contributions, and it is to be hoped that no one will hesitate to add to the fund because he may be restricted to his very small amount.

A Call for Aid Sent out to My American Friends.

With conditions in Germany growing worse, the interest of the United States in conditions there is considerably higher and higher, the institution of the American Friends Service Committee, since I left America is suffering most severely. I am in charge of instruction in natural history and chemistry and it is just sciences that are handicapped in a most appalling way. There is no money to purchase apparatus, to be replaced; chemicals have been used and are exhausted and no more can be bought; apparatus are out of repair, but to have them put in working order requires large sums of money. Members, preachers, charts, models and various other means of instruction, have been in my possession for some time in no position to procure them at present, and I am not sure that I shall be able to get them here in Germany, but we ourselves are unable to buy them. We are forced to look to you, our American life-saving shore beyond our eyes, unable to reach us.

In the next few weeks I may receive a few items may be sent to me to relieve the situation. For the reftilling of a steel cylinder containing carbonic acid gas, M 6000 was asked the other day, while I have only an appropriation of a few thousand for this purpose. I am in need of funds, and I beseech you to consider the possibilities that these small contributions may help the improvable stage of the work of the Committee. My request is the more urgent because the condition of the Society of Education and Instruction. I have at Trinity. Thus I want to try my personal influence with them and to see if I can reach them. I hope we will not take the money now but give us their support.

Remember, my friends, the old adage: Money leads to money.

"Best Paid Hard Work in the World"

S how me,” says the math. teacher—and when the chalk clouds have settled down there are a lot of figures signed “Q.E.D.” which aren’t “Q. E. D.” at all.

Say “Show me” to the shaving cream you’re using and see what answer you get. Will it soften your beard right down to the base before the breakfast bell has rung twice? Will it leave your skin smooth and supple after every shave and give you the well-groomed look of perfect skin health?

Every day men are finding how much easier shaving can be made by the speed and thoroughness with which Williams’ softens the beard. Like wise, they are finding a help for their skin in Williams’ that they never found in any other shaving cream. Try it yourself. The difference may surprise you.

Q.E.D.
The rules for the election of managers make the positions more competitive and provide that a man start out for an office in his Freshman year; he is retained if his work justifies it at the beginning of his Sophomore year, is made an assistant manager at the beginning of his Junior year, and automatically steps into the manager's position when a Senior. Most of the actual work of arranging a schedule will be done by the Junior assistant manager.

The Thrusday meeting of the Sophomore class during last week was a most amusing vote, the presentation made by Comfort, '24, a member of the present "Ivy" Board, who said the new faculty board and for electing next year's Junior "Ivy" Board.

The St. Patrick's Day scrap rules appear elsewhere. They continue the provision about keeping rough work away from downtown, and, for the first time, outline what is meant by the "Trinity College Campus." This territory is officially announced to be all college property, all fraternity houses, the campus proper, and Vernon Street from the top of the hill to Broad Street.

John Ailey, '25, from Waterford, New Jersey, was elected by the Senate at its Monday meeting to take the place of Thomas Birmingham, '24, of Hartford, on the Seniors Finance Committee. Birmingham resigned at the last Senate meeting because of lack of time. This Finance committee is now one of the most important groups in the college, and it will have the job of administering the blanket tax recently imposed.

The chapel question was again brought up in the Senate meeting and the President called a special meeting and headed by George Tenney, '23, was requested to redraft its petition. The committee for arranging the Sub-Freshman Week-end party is to be headed by Harold Statley, '23. The other members are listed elsewhere. This committee is to appoint another auxiliary committee.

weeks, and have already shown enough promise to take much of Coach Stone's worries off his mind. The only avowed candidate for the receivership is Pryor who played on Episcopal Academy's championship team. Jones may be worked in at his old position, and in case of necessity, Neuman can handle the pitchers.

The other positions will be filled from the following list: Cronin, Sheehan, Cook, Ballagood, Locklin, Hart, O'Brien, Shields, Hanna, Burr, and Belby, who has also done some pitching. Little is known of the ability of those men, but the very limited practice space makes real work impossible as soon as the season begins.
