President Ogilvy delivered the chapel sermon Sunday. In his talk he showed the necessity for a critical mind and fundamental approach. He said, "The critical sense is developed by wide knowledge and by having a critical and effective mental approach to a testable hypothesis." (Signed) EDWARD F. WATERMAN.

In this second occasion within the memory of the present generation of undergraduates, a crisis in the undergraduate character of Trinity has been refused. The Hon. F. L. White, '15, in his last address to the Board of Trustees, requested President Ogilvy to remind the students that the decision of the faculty in favor of the Chapel last year was based on the accurate and intelligent consideration and that thirteen of its members were graduates and that every student has the same experience concerning chapel as the present undergraduates are having.

The petition presented to the Board of Trustees of Trinity College:

Resolved, That the Board of Trustees of Trinity College:

One must be careful and diligent consideration and that thirteen of its members were graduates and that every student has the same experience concerning chapel as the present undergraduates are having.

The petition presented to the Board of Trustees of Trinity College:

Inasmuch as the customary attendance of religious exercises at Trinity College is:

Contrary to the spiritual welfare of the individual in that it influences him in believing the false doctrine that the spirit of prayer and devotion can be forced; in that the element of compulsory attendance is a necessity and should not be imposed. The student should be in a position to participate in religious exercises according to his own free will and conscience. It is submitted that the enforcement of attendance at chapel is inconsistent with the religious freedom of the student.

The petition will be submitted to the Board of Trustees of Trinity College:

This course will be continued in a year's time, and the student has the right to elect to attend or not to attend chapel services. The student is free to determine his own religious beliefs and practices. It is submitted that the enforcement of attendance at chapel is inconsistent with the religious freedom of the student.

HARFORD ALUMNI TO HOLD SMOKER JANUARY 25

A big Trinity Alumni Smoker is now being arranged for January 25. The committee report at this time and their plans, "whereby not only Harford Alumni but all Trinity men can assist in the development of athletics at College, is given to the students of the preparatory and high schools of the country. The committee which was elected for the class of 1925 alumni and which will report is composed of three active Trinity men: Horace R. Oldsmead, '98, Hon. R. H. Hill, '15, James Breslin, '24.

Many attractive features will be offered at the Smoker. The Glee Club will sing, and movies of the Student Celebration will be shown.

JESTERS WILL PRODUCE TWO PLAYS THIS YEAR

At a meeting of the Jesters held last Thursday night, G. W. O'Connor, '24, president of that organization, announced the plans formulated for the coming year. Two plays are to be produced. The first, which will be given on Saturday afternoon, February 2, as the opening attraction of Junior Week, is "Dinner at a Gentleman's House," a play that Mrs. H. K. Reynolds of Hartford has been secured by the organization to produce for the coming year. She has coached former Jester productions, and her work has always been of the highest type of artistry. Mrs. H. A. Perkins, also a member of the college faculty, is to be a voice in the training. It is planned that the production will contain at least one or two of the students of the Jesters, and the play that the cast will be held Monday evening in the public speaking room, Paris Room, and the play that will be used for the first rehearsal.

A. A. AWARDS MANCOLL LETTER AND CHANGES ELECTIVE COMMITTEE

At a meeting of the Athletic Association held last Monday evening, a football letter was awarded to M. M. Mancoll, '24, for three years' service on thevarsity. At the same meeting, Mancoll took part in the Worcester Tech Lowell Tech Conference, and the Ambrose game last season, he did not play in enough periods to meet the requirements for the award. The association voted to amend the rule concerning the number of students and some members of the Board of Trustees and they also decided to award a letter in favor of 5 o'clock affairs. They stated that they receive as much enjoyment at the younger people, they seem to offer no objection.

Perhaps the students of Trinity College, Hartford, are right in declaring that competitive chapels is commonly held in the Christian religion, but they seem to have overlooked the advice to give the two men competing in the same department, to go on the same list as the man who wins.

Choice of a Career

From the Yale News

THE NINETY-FOUR

Someone, probably an insurance agent, was quoted recently as saying that from the mass of one hundred college graduates one individual only rose to the Polo and buder class, peculiarly near the top of the financial ladder. Five others became comfortably off and four others splurged themselves after twenty years at the small yacht and chauffeured stage. The other ninety-four presumably congregate in the great section of the American people who drive their own Buicks to the golf club. In other words, dreaming about being a rich man is one thing, and making the grade is "something else again."

Yet the ninety-four presumably work just as hard as the sumptuous six. Their business is the axis on which a small and uninteresting world revolves. They have become devotees of the dollar and when that fickle deity deserted, have nowhere else to turn. Jammed in a dull, straight rut of business they can never leave the road and jump the fence into finer fields of life. This, then, is the portion of ninety-four men out of every hundred now on the campus.

The answer to the problem lies in the proper choice of a career.

Between now and Commencement we shall have something to offer on the subject of "Careers." Watch for the space with the Famous Signature.
QUINTET MEETS ALBANY
LAW IN OPENING MATCH

The unrivalled 1923-24 basketball quintet will make its debut tonight in the H. P. H. S. gymnasium, playing the fast Albany Law School team. The team has been practicing every day for the past two weeks and with Captain Keating, Montgomery, and Jespon back, the outlook for this season is particularly bright. Although the definite combination has been announced by "Spool" Drew, it is expected that Jespon will start the game at center. Keating and Montgomery will in all probability be at the forward positions and O'Brien and Norman may start at guards. The Empire State outfit has an enviable reputation in its neighborhood. Last year Cannon's basket from the floor in the last few seconds of play won the game for the Blue and Gold.

inhibited as long as the system of compulsory exercises endures (vide "Facts for the Alumni of Trinity College") by Sydney G. Fisher, '9, here­after appended); in that it is not in keeping with the spirit of the Charter of Washington, now Trinity College: " * * * Trustees empowered to make laws and by-laws * * * provided always that such ordinances or by-laws shall not make the religious tenets of any particle condition of admission to any privilege in the said college, and that no President, or Professor or other officer shall be made ineligible for or by reason of any religious tenet that he may profess, or be compelled, by any by-law or otherwise to subscribe to any religious text whatsoever * * *."

Contrary to the best interests of the Christian religion, in that it--compulsion--has a tendency to destroy and ultimately destroy whatever religious enthusiasm and fervor may already be present in the individual undergraduate; in that it assumes that compulsion is necessary to the survival of Christianity among college men; in that it is not in accordance with the spirit of Christ's teachings:

We, representing with but eight exceptions the entire undergraduate body and believing said undergraduate body to be past that adolescent period when compulsion is necessary in religious matters, do, therefore, respectfully request that direct action be taken for the immediate abolition of any system whereby an undergraduate is compelled to attend any religious exercises whatsoever as a condition for his retaining his status as a student at Trinity College.
