REV. FRANCIS GOODWIN DIES IN 5TH YEAR

The Rev. Dr. Francis Goodwin, honorary alumni and for 39 years a trustee of Trinity, and one of the most beloved and influential of the presidents of this college, passed away in this city Friday, Oct. 9. Dr. Goodwin was 84 years of age. For the past five years he had gradually withdrawing from the many connections which he maintained in Hartford, but he held his membership in the faculty of Trinity College, Berkeley Divinity School in Middletown, Kenney Park and the directorate of the Aeta Fire Insurances of Hartford. He was also vice-president of the Connecticut Humanities Society, director of the Hartford Public Library and of the Wadsworth Atheneum and the Wilcoxen Library.

Dr. Goodwin received the honorary degree of Master of Arts in 1883 and the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws in 1891. He had acquired a working knowledge of Spanish and French. The ex-President received many gifts from his during his life.

He was born Sept. 25, 1829, and died July 19, 1914. He acquired his early education at the North School in Lebanon and at the private schools. After several years he attended the Union Theological Seminary. In 1850, he entered the Berkeley Divinity School. After the completion of his studies he was ordained in the Church of the Holy Trinity by Bishop John D. Williams. He was appointed chaplain to the Bishop and charged in the mission at the Holy Cross Academy in 1860. He was the first resident of the Church of the Holy Trinity by Bishop John D. Williams. The third quarter was a study in how a 45-yard run through a broken field, and Captain Kennedy, who mar­shaled the team from the quarterback back. The touchdown results were the results of long runs, King's 45 yard and Captain Scott's 40.

The Undefeated Trinity smashed through the Wesleyan line, and the pigskin to the goal. He made the extra point which decided the game by putting a placed kick through the posts. In the middle of the last quarter the red-jerseyed outfit broke through the line and knocked the ball from the hands of King by the force of the tackle just as he was about to head a forward pass. Scott swept up the ball and dashed through the line for a yard before the Trinity gridders could overtime. MacAuliffe was allowed to have failed to make the extra point by a drop.

The first five minutes of the opening quarter the Bay State elev­ated the score, and the Trinity men followed with a series of good plays. In the first quarter the Trinity men followed with a series of good plays. The Visitors were 20 points ahead of the Visitors.

WHAT NO BANQUET?

There has been some talk on the campus of discontinuing the Freshman-Junior banquet for the sake of the Freshmen and the college. It is stated that the Freshmen bear a grudge against the college because of the money they spend on a show or a dance in the city. The Freshman-Junior banquet is a relic of the college days our fathers, and if we lose it would be to lose more than is itself. It will never fulfill its purpose hidden from the Freshmen until the college days are forgotten. It will be recalled by some of the Freshmen with mixed shame and regret. They will gather together at any rate, the nucleus of the Freshmen.

DAME FASHION DEBATES

We consider it an imposition that the Freshmen should be made to spend almost $2 before they can enter the physical training classes, absence from which results in cuts. Pit the poor Freshmen, who must assume the blame for their mistakes, against the inordinate wants of the musilids of the physical training department, who must be kept out of the way, and we come down on the side of not taking the Freshmen off the team.

COLLEGE COMMENTS

Caustic, Comic and Casual.

We have sat down very reluctantly to this task, yet we ween when we wrote our copy for the College Comments how very important and an obvious opinion of men on the campus that we would be swamped with the goings-on of the Freshmen. We do not doubt that there were students eager of expressing themselves concerning the campus and its events, its architecture, its traditions and its history. We have picked the fallings and its jets. While we were rather skeptical as to how much response we might get, we were out to give the Freshmen a per class, we them on the other hand, like to think that we might get the students to communicate from the Freshmen. But, so far, the Freshmen have disappointned. The predictions of the Freshmen are as correct as those of the Freshmen.

During the past week a serious discussion has been going on on the campus. It is: "Is Trinity College to remain a college or will it in the course of time degenerate to the rank of a secondary school?" At our various class meets ing, and informal gatherings, the thrust of the same was that a college has to be taken to be every man in college at all football games. It is evident to all that the college is lacking in that essential quality "College Spirit." What kind of "College Spirit" can college ever expect that such a drastic step become necessary? The baselessness of the lack of attendance at games is attributed to the fact that we are different from the average college, that are not interested in athletics. My personal impression is that we have fallen into a state of indiffer ence. If something else looms up in a possibility for a future Saturday afternoon, we accept it in preference to attending a game of our own. It does not seem to be many who care how hard these men have worked, and how badly they need our support. They work hard every afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock, and yet we cannot spare two hours to back them up. Let us not fail at the football game because we don't care for the game! Let us set the example for those who will follow after us.

SOPHOMORES SWAMP FRESHMEN 17 to 7

The second year men had little difficulty in defeating the Freshmen in the fall inter-class game Tuesday afternoon, 17 to 7. The youths threatened only once to become troublesome. In the second round Wurdep, 26, evidently was misinformed as to the correct location of the plate, walked several fresh thus enabling them to gather in six runs but thereafter the game was as the Sophomore chose to make it. Farrell, who succeeded Wurdep in the third inning, easily persuaded the first year men to abandon their policy of resist­ ance. Delaney, 27, who entered the box for the Fresmen, obligingly managed to hit every ball but the Sopho­ more stuck out and his cohorts in the field were successful in their ef­ forts to help the other side win. Pellet and Farrell were effective for the Sophomores while Towill and Hart of the class of 1927 gave prom­ ising performances. F. S. Jones, 24, affiliated in his well-known hat. Owing to the fact that the Sopho­ more were exhausted by their stren­ uous base-running, the game was called in the fifth inning.

FATIMA
AMELUXEN, '21, WILL ENGINEER IN CHINA

An article in "The Hartford Courant" last week concerning Frederick H. Ameluxen, '21, who has been teaching at the Baguio School, the Philippine Islands, told of his promotion to headmaster of the school and his resignation, taking effect September 1, which was preliminary to his planned entrance into the advertising work in China. Ameluxen trained for civil engineering at Trinity but went to the Philippines in 1921, after his graduation from college, to take a position which was founded by President Ogilby and Bishop Brent.

J. M. Beard of Saybrook, a graduate in the class of 1922 and a member of the same fraternity as Ameluxen, is in school as one of the masters, paid, is offered by the Advertising College Store of Trinity College. It was moved, seconded and passed that the Medusa draw up the rules for the coming Freshman-Junior banquet. The rules for this year required that it be held within a thirty-mile radius of Hartford and that Freshmen could be captured after 4 o'clock on every day except Saturday, and after 1 o'clock on that day. The banquet will be held in St. Luke's in Middletown after the football season. The Freshmen were nominated by the Class of 1925, because of their ignorance of the locale and the time. The year before the affair took place in Springfield without being broken up. In former years, however, the banquets usually ended in battle and chains between rival classes.
