ARCHAEOLOGICAL TALKS OF GREEK EXCAVATIONS

"Prehistoric Greece; a Study in Archaeological Reconstruction," was the lecture given by Director A. J. B. Wace, of the British School of Archaeology in Athens and Charles E. Tower lecturer in the American Institute of America, in the Public Speaking Room Thursday evening.

Mr. Wace's talk was profusely illustrated with stoneworks of old and new archaeological discoveries made in the vicinity of the Aegean Sea. The lecture was made possible by the bequest made last year by Charles E. More, '76, whose intention was to found the Morehome, who gave evidence of superior ability, and who engages to pursue an approved course of non-professional graduate study at Trinity, or at some American or foreign university approved by the Faculty. The incumbent holds the Fellowship for two years.

The Terry Fellowship, awarded yesterday, was endowed by a legacy of $10,000 from Henry E. Russell, Esq., of New York, and $4710 from the sale of about $600. It is awarded annually, by the Faculty, to a member of the graduating class who gives evidence of superior ability, and who engages to pursue an approved course of graduate study at Trinity, or at some other college or university approved by the Faculty. The incumbent holds the Fellowship for one year, and is known as the Mary A. Terry Fellow.

HAWLEY AND WEBSTER AWARDED FELLOWSHIPS

Faculty Selects Russell and Terry Scholars of '24

W. Hawley, '25, and S. W. Webster, '25, were announced as the recipients, respectively, of the Hawley and Terry Fellowships by the Faculty Tuesday afternoon. Both fellows will undertake study at Trinity or any other approved institution.

Hawley entered college three years ago and is eligible for graduation this June. His home is in Hartford, where his father is president of the Hawley Company, whose business is in the insurance business. He has spent his entire college career at Trinity, and was one of the forty-five students who graduated last May. He is a member of the Senior lounge, and was one of the ten students who were in the Senior lounge last May.

Hawley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Hawley, of Hartford, and was one of the forty-five students who graduated last May. He is a member of the Senior lounge, and was one of the ten students who were in the Senior lounge last May.

S. W. WEBSTER, '24.

The Russell Fellowship, awarded yesterday, was endowed by a legacy of $10,000 from Henry E. Russell, Esq., of New York, and $4710 from the sale of about $600. It is awarded annually, by the Faculty, to a member of the graduating class who gives evidence of superior ability, and who engages to pursue an approved course of non-professional graduate study at Trinity, or at some American or foreign university approved by the Faculty. The incumbent holds the Fellowship for two years.

Mr. Wace spoke as an authority, having made numerous important investigations and excavations at Athens. He has been in charge of the excavations at Sparta, which revealed the shrine of the ancient god of war, and Meirzokas, who, in the same district, in the extra period the Seniors tacked ing similar work in Thesaly and yields an annual income of about $477.00.

Mr. Wace described the discoveries made at Mycenae in 1876 which were of such great importance and signifi- cance as to create world-wide interest, and has been a great deal more about the excavations in the Valley of Aegina.

FINANCIAL REPORT OF TRINITY COLLEGE SENATE FINANCE COMMITTEE FOR CHRISTMAS TIME, 1923-1924.

The game with Boston Uni- versity scheduled for tomorrow afternoon at 1:00, has been cancelled, according to an announcement made by Manager D. M. Had- low, '25, Thursday afternoon.

Through the courtesy of the Athletic Advisory Council in negotiating the guarantees, the Hot Turks are able to date the game to go another college. The loss in the Boston U. game leaves only three home games on the meager Trinity slate, those with five dates at out-door football.

The Memorial Day game has not been arranged, though it is known that Manager Hadlow is trying to sign up contests with Rochester and Collgate for a western trip.

"ROLLO'S WILD OAT" SUB-FRESHMAN COMEDY

Jesters to Present Play at Hartford Club, May 10

"Rollo's Wild Oat," a three-act comedy, by Clare Kummer, which opened last Monday at the Judy Theatre, New York City, with Roland Young in the leading role, has been announced by the Sub-Freshman-Week End- production, to be presented at the Hartford Club, Saturday, May 10.

G. W. O'Connor, '24, chairman of the committee, said last week that the Jesters would have the entertainment, instead of allowing the Student Body to put on its own musical show, as in former years.

The faculty has held in the Public Speaking Room, last Tuesday, the following men were selected for reparting parts in the Sub-Freshman Week-End play: M. E. Dan, '26, R. W. Newsholme, '26, E. Dann, '26, F. S. Film, '26, A. H. Forrest, '26, J. A. Mansur, '25, G. W. O'Connor, '24, H. Dillon, '26, S. M. Sherman, '26, H. W. Smalley, '26, E. W. Jackson, '24, and P. O. Zwetsch, '25.

Severo B. Gammell, '24, is president, while W. A. Brown, '24, is production manager, and M. E. Dan, '26, advertising manager.

EVENING OF FRENCH MUSIC FOR STUDENTS

An evening of French music will be given in American Hall on Monday evening, May 27, when the Julius Hartsh School of Music, sponsored by Hartford College, will give a brief sketch of the history of French music, and will perform under the direction of a "collist and a violinist. Mrs. Robert Green of the College will sing characteristical French songs in costume, cruising the hospital boat, and taking sick men to the great attractions of the territory, said Padden, that he is never happy until he has returned his boat.

Speaking of the religious phase of the work, the speaker said, that the Latvians are a religious and proba- tionary stage and, therefore, did not wish to force the religion on the people. That rare thing, practical idealism, is to be found in the work. There is no pressure of the kind in the teaching of the religions, denominated, "God is Love," and there is a proportion of 25 men. It is a disfrument, said Padden stated, to find the church was in the hands of the Latvians in bitter controversies. "An honest, honest thing, is it better to be a superlative unbelief," is his opinion. It is not seldom the case for men to go to the wilderness and dwellers the beauties of Christianity and instead are made the objects of the solutions of the great problems of life from those whom they intended to
ON FINANCES.

The most disturbing and also the most comforting element in our daily life not only for the president but also for the committee is that we care. For it we are uneasy and unhappy, when some men of more mature years in proportion to the pay. But have intimated that they would find its equal for efficiency. Without question these men have to us quite anonymously. They cannot see fit to offer an opportunity to make their promise a reality. They are of the hated money-lending kind. For it we are uneasy and unhappy; and surely this makes it worthwhile to guard our business reputation. Isn't it working and will continue to work in the new styles, the cut is very novel, very odd, very good, and the cut IS for our customers. For $3.98 each.

Those of you who have been to Freshman English for two years—almost three, in fact. I pass these remarks between the time that the shambuilding whose pre-tensions were always full in advance of the students. And finally of Toms himself, who first recruited a FIRE and never seemed to his advantage. No other than my colleagues.

"Best Paid Hard Work in the World"

I

The way a John Hancock salesman described his work. He is a college graduate and in five years has put himself at the very top of his business. He never yet has called upon a prospect without a previous appointment. The best life insurance salesmen today work on that plan, making it a business of dignity, such as any worthy and ambitious college graduate can find satisfying to his mental needs, and highly remunerative as well.

The man above quoted is the John Hancock's youngest general agent. This shows what college graduates of the right type can do in this business, how they can build up earning power and at the same time provide for an accumulated competence for years to come.

Graduation is a vital period in your life and you are liable to hold the business you start in. It would be well before making a definite decision to inquire into life insurance as a career. Address, "Agency Department."

WILLIAMS is a wonderfully popular shaving cream. Here's why—It's heavier, faster-working lather, the way it lubricates the path of the razor and eliminates painful friction, the soothing ingredient which keeps the skin so smooth and cool even in daily shaving—these are qualities men like! They also like its purity—no artificial coloring. With the new Hinge-Cap, Williams is winning more friends than ever before. See if you ever used a shaving cream as good.

THE BOX-SCORE KEEPERS SWEAT OVER THIS ONE.

Last year the ball team received nation-wide attention for pulling two triple plays in one week and in successive games. The year before, when "Eddie" Cram, '23, was captain, the team made one of the queerest plays on record.

It was in the Worcester Tech game, and three men were on bases and dove out. The better hit to Cram, the shortstop. Cram scooped up the ground and threw home to catcher Nordlund, who touched the plate and dove to Nerman at first base. Nordlund's throw went wide and threw Nerman off the bag. The runner seized his opportunity and dashed to second, letting the batter make first. The man on second tried to make home, but Nerman had retrieved the ball and threw it to Robinson, the third baseman. He and Nordlund trapped the runner between third and home, and running him down. Then Nordlund, believing three men were out, took off his glove and rolled the ball to the pitcher's box. Jones, the second baseman, realizing Nordlund's mistake, sprang to the center of the diamond and called to Tuck, the pitcher, who had also mistaken the number of men out and was proceeding toward the bench. Tuck turned, caught the ball and touched the runner an instant before he reached the plate.

Thus, in one play, Cram made one assist, Nordlund an error, an assist and two put-outs, Robinson three assists, Nordlund four assists, Tuck one put-out, and Jones what might be called one assist. Figure that out!
