Former Trinity President Succumbs to Heart Attack

Rev. Dr. Flavel Sweeten Luther, former president of Trinity College from 1904 to 1919, died about midnight last night in Pasadena, California, in his seventy-eighth year. Mr. Luther had been living in Pasadena since his resignation brought to an end his long and brilliant career at Trinity. In recent years he had been in poor health, and for the past year had been a constant inmate of the hospital, in which he was held by choice after class from all underclassmen. Testimony to his success as teacher and, later, as president, will be left to the judgment of his students and the faculty. He was a forceful and very popular public speaker, an eloquent preacher, and was brought him renown as an inventor.

Dr. Luther's wide interests led him to achievements in a diversity of fields. He was a brilliant mathematician. A mechanical turn of mind brought him renown as an inventor. He was a forceful and very popular public speaker, an eloquent preacher, and was brought him renown as an inventor.

Dr. Luther was a graduate of Trinity, and occupied the chair of mathematics there for twenty years prior to his inauguration as president of the college in 1904. He also taught a course in astronomy. During the preceding years in which he served as president, Luther prospered in all departments, due in large measure to his great ability both as educator and as administrator. He was a kindly man, with a ready fund of sympathy for students— he never forgot the college days— and the very real affection in which he was held by classes from all after classes of students. Testimony to his success as teacher and, later, as president, will be left to the judgment of his students and the faculty. He was a forceful and very popular public speaker, an eloquent preacher, and was brought him renown as an inventor.

Dr. Luther's wide interests led him to achievements in a diversity of fields. He was a brilliant mathematician. A mechanical turn of mind brought him renown as an inventor. He was a forceful and very popular public speaker, an eloquent preacher, and was brought him renown as an inventor.
THE TRIPOLI

TRINITY COLLEGE
Hartford, Conn.

Member, Eastern Intercollegiate Newspaper Association

Published twenty-six times during the year.

Editor
Karl Fred Koenig, ’29

Assistant Editor
Robert W. Whittaker, ’32

Assistant Business Manager
Lemon Bushnell Beveridge, Jr., ’29

Business Manager
Francis J. Ryan, ’30

Entered at the Post Office, Hartford, Conn., as second-class matter.

Address all communications to the Editor, Tripoli, ’29.

Subscription Price, $2.50 per Year.

Advertising Rates furnished on application.

THE TRIPOLI

DR. FLAVEL SWEETEN LUTHER

The death, after a long illness, of Dr. Flavel Sweeten Luther, President Emeritus of Trinity College, has inspired in the alumni, undergraduates, and others for the free discussion of matters of common interest. The death of an Emeritus of Trinity College, and one remembered with warm friendship by all his associates, and one who knew him during the fifteen years he was in the presidency, will be greatly missed by all those who were at college with him.—Yes, for we used to crib and that’s probably how he made his money.

Above all, let us try to keep the memory of the teacher alive and the memory of the man to live in our hearts. We wish you all the most prosperous of college days or something like that. These will scare us either into despair or into something, I do not appreciate a good deal of the suffering and the regret in all those who were at college with him—You, I mean.

Dr. Luther was a theoretical side. He was a man, one remembered with warm friendship by all his associates, and one who knew him during the fifteen years he was in the presidency, will be greatly missed by all those who were at college with him.—Yes, for we used to crib and that’s probably how he made his money.

Above all, let us try to keep the memory of the teacher alive and the memory of the man to live in our hearts. We wish you all the most prosperous of college days or something like that. These will scare us either into despair or into something, I do not appreciate a good deal of the suffering and the regret in all those who were at college with him—You, I mean.

Dr. Luther was a theoretical side. He was a

THE PRESIDENT

President Ogilby Talks at Chapel

The New Year was opened in the Chapel on Wednesday morning, during the celebration of the Trinity Centennial Hymn.

Doctor Ogilby extended his best wishes for the new year. He stated that just a few minutes previous to the opening of the service he got a telegram from President Luther, President Emeritus of Trinity College.

Doctor Luther said in part: “Doctor Luther’s name is familiar to all in any way connected to Trinity College. Dr. Luther was graduated from Trinity in 1899 and then taught mathematics for twenty years at the University of Chicago. Doctor Luther was elected to the presidency of Trinity College. It was during the building of this college that Doctor Luther rose to athletic supremacy and the presidency in 1912.

In 1920 Doctor Luther was forced to retire because of health. He maintained his independence until his death in 1930, his years of illness and teaching mathematics for twenty years at the University of Chicago. Doctor Luther was elected to the presidency of Trinity College. It was during the building of this college that Doctor Luther rose to athletic supremacy and the presidency in 1912.

In 1920 Doctor Luther was forced to retire because of health. He maintained his independence until his death in 1930, his years of illness and teaching mathematics for twenty years at the University of Chicago. Doctor Luther was elected to the presidency of Trinity College. It was during the building of this college that Doctor Luther rose to athletic supremacy and the presidency in 1912.

In 1920 Doctor Luther was forced to retire because of health. He maintained his independence until his death in 1930, his years of illness and teaching mathematics for twenty years at the University of Chicago. Doctor Luther was elected to the presidency of Trinity College. It was during the building of this college that Doctor Luther rose to athletic supremacy and the presidency in 1912.
THE W. G. SIMMONS CORP.
Exclusive Agents for STETSON and "J. & M." SHOES FOR MEN.

48 to 58 Pratt St., Hartford.

ENRICO BARBER
5 CHAIRS

37 Pearl St., Hartford, Conn.
Branch Store
2 Grove St., Old Times' Bldg.

HUBERT'S DRUG STORE
215 ZION STREET

Say It With Flowers
And Let a College Man Give Your Orders Personal Attention.

He Knows.

HOTEL BOND.
Telephone 5-115.

CLOTHES

Ready-made
And Cut to Order

ESTABLISHED 1904 UNIVERSITY
STYLES, TAILORED OVER YOUTHFUL CHARTER HOUSE

SEATS 450, 145, 80 Overtakes

CLOTHES

Beady Camel Hair Coat $165
Beady Camel Hair Coat $165

BOOK REVIEW

"Bread and Fire," by Charles Rum- frea...
EVENING POST AWARDS MADE.
Columbia Student Awarded First Prize.

Randall R. Eley, Columbia, 1930, was awarded the prize of $100 offered by the "New York Evening Post" for the best answer to the question: "Has the American Undergraduate a Post-War Neurosis?" Walter W. Martin, Princeton, 1921, received a second prize of $60, and John H. McNeill, Yale, 1927, third prize of $25.

Judges of the essays were Dr. A. A. Brill, nationally-known psychiatrist; Charles L. Guy, former Justice of the Supreme Court; and Dr. Frederick P. Robinson, president of the College of the City of New York.

Mr. William H. Russell of Los Angeles, California, has just given funds to the College to establish a second Russell Fellowship, similar to that given in 1929 by his father, Henry E. Russell, of New York. The provisions of the fellowship are practically the same as that of the first fellowship. It will be awarded to a member of the Senior Class for two years of graduate study. The two fellowships for the future will be awarded in alternate years, each for two years.

Dr. Luther Dies.

(Letter from New York.

"In politics Dr. Luther was a practical politician, although he always strove toward the ideal, as shown in his speech in the Senate in which he opposed paying a gratuity to the harbor in the Capitol building; but on the other hand he had a keen realization of what was possible and what was impossible, and this is proved quite clearly by his bill which abolished the management of the public schools by the district system in practically all the towns of the state except Hartford (although Hartford, of course, was not specifically mentioned), for he knew that such a bill could be passed in that form, but if it included Hartford, it would surely fail passage."

"Dr. Luther's life was, after his graduation, with the exception of a short period of service at another college, devoted entirely to the service of Trinity College, and to this he gave his best efforts. In many matters he differed from other members of the faculty, especially in his desire to make the college a vocational training school, but he always believed that he was right, and this belief always lent strength to his position."

"For his own benefit and advantage he cared little, and to it he gave his best service, and desired that the college in its turn should give its best service to the community."

Alumni Express Sympathy.

Technical University Alumni Association yesterday sent the following telegram to Mrs. Luther:

"Trinity men all over the world are mourning the loss of their beloved preceptor and friend. To you, dear Mrs. Luther, they extend deep and most affectionate sympathy in this grave which has come upon you and which they share.

Trinity College Alumni Association, ANSON T. McCOOK, Vice-President."

Dr. Luther leaves his wife, the former Isabella Blake Riley of Hartford, whom he married November 2-1, 1912, and three nephews, Alfred E. Pulford of 65 Evergreen Avenue, Hartford, Devenen Pulford of Rio de Janeiro, and D. Schuyler Pulford of Woods End, Calif.

Memorial Service Planned.

Trinity College will hold a memorial service for the former president at approximately the same time as that when funeral services are held in Pasadena, President Ogilvie said last night. Included in the memorial service will be a tribute to Dr. Luther's services to Hartford, to be given by Arthur L. Shipman; one from the college alumni, to be given by Mr. McCook family; and a tribute from a faculty colleague. It is expected Dr. Luther will be buried in Pasadena, although funeral plans, according to word from California last night, await word from relatives in the East.

"BAZUERIQUE." By Eleanor Meroen Kelly. (Published by Harper & Brothers.)

This book of the Basque country, that ancient corner of the Pyrenees where European history began, grew out of the author's love for that sturdy race. Here is a people whose

THE TRIPOD

They say P.A. is the world's largest seller.

I don't doubt it, nor do I wonder why. Just open a tidy red tin and get that full fragrance of Nature's noblest gift to pipe-smokers. Then suck a load in the business-end of your old jimmy-pipe.

Now you've got it—that taste—that lead-to-me-it, Gee-how-I-like-it taste! Cool as a condition. Sweet as making it up, Mellow and satisfying. Try this mild, long-burning tobacco, Fellows. I know you'll like it.

PRINGE A BERT

the national joy smoke!

MOPAL

The moon nestled in the dark sky,
And nothing was heard but the gold cry,
As I strayed by the ocean's wide hand.

To watch the waves roll to the last And into the bay.

The arms of the spray
That softly stole the beat away.

And I heard low voices say As the sands of the sea are dried and blown,
"So shall this world be overthrown Another day and again I strolled.
When the wind blew, the thumbs rolled,
And merry waves washed in from A.

And into the bay They tore away
The warm beach on the tiny spray.

And I heard wild voices say As the sands of the sea are dried and blown,
"So shall this world be overthrown— E. T. L.

Reward of Merit.

"Have you shaved today?" "Yes." "Have you brushed your hair?" "Yes." "Have you manicured?" "Yes." "Then you may kiss Fida."—Jo-

Dagnisinn Strik (Stockholm).