President Ogilvy and Regner Argue for the Affirmative—Prior and Isherwood the Negative

At the meeting of the Athenaeum yesterday, was the Monday evening preceding the Thanksgiving recess, an informal debate was held upon the topic, "Prohibition has been more Detrimental in the United States." The affirmative was supported by Messrs. Jacobson and Regner, while the negative was presented by Messrs. Prior and Isherwood.

The affirmative speakers maintained that since Prohibition had been enforced the working classes in great manufacturing centers acquired a higher standard of living. In the days when the saloons had existed, the morals of the more enlightened men had been improved, and the college pupils were not in a position to have the newspapers of the saloons in the hands of the students. Jacobson and Regner furthermore asserted that the incomes of college students had been increased not merely by the legal but also by the illegal liquor trade.

The negative speakers maintained that since the saloons had been closed, the saloon-keeper had shifted his residence to the lower order of the population. The negative speakers' chief argument was that the Prohibition Amendment was unfair to the saloon-keepers, who were not more to blame than the restauranteurs, who in the United States had grown rich and powerful.

The debate was opened by President Ogilvy and Regner, and a cup as prizes, President Ogilvy stated yesterday, there will be a special game of this year, will play the Alumni on Saturday afternoon, December 14, in the new gymnasium of the High School, at 7:30 o'clock. Coach Oosting anticipates severe competition in the coming contest, as it must be remembered that the "gregs" gave the "varsity men a stiff battle in the game last year. Mr. Brill, the alumni association representative, met the men from the varsities and composed of former Trinity players. All the alumni who intend to play in this game should communicate with Mr. Brill immediately.

The varsity squad will be composed of Messrs. Bliss, Collins, Bischof, DesChamps, Glynis, Fleming, Moer, Adams, and Gellin. Coach Oosting has split the squad into two teams of equal speed and strength which will play the varsity throughout the year, so that each man will have an opportunity to play.

In Afghanistan, Professor Perkins found that he had arrived during the height of the dispute over the boundary of this country. By a similar turn of fortune, he was in Bombay during the rising between the Hindus and Mohammedans. In India, he paid a visit to the headquarters of Mahatma Gandhi, but arrived at a time when the Indian leader was absent, although taking the opportunity for a long discussion of the work of the exponent of Indian freedom with his subaltern.

Professor Perkins also visited for several weeks in Egypt, traveling to the second capital of the Niles. He cruised through the Greek and Italian islands of the Mediterranean later. In Naples, he was joined by Mrs. Perkins and their daughter, Miss Evelyn Perkins. The three remained in Italy for two and one-half months, and spent the past summer in Paris.

Professor Perkins found an especial interest in China, which he predicts will take its place with other powerful organized nations within twenty years. A possible bar to its progress, however, he said, is the impatience of its people, conscious of their latent power, and believing that the activities of the nation may be placed under an organized government within a period of five years.

In the entire journey, the professor estimated, he traveled approximately 60,000 miles. The trip marked his complete around the world with the Mrs. Perkins and their daughter, Miss Evelyn Perkins. Because of the expenditure, Professor Perkins was unable to resume his classes at Trinity this term, as he had formerly planned.

Upon his arrival in Hartford, Professor Perkins stated that students in China and India were more eager to learn than American students were. “There is nothing blame in the keen attitude with which the Chinese youth is studying,” the professor explained, the eagerness of foreigners to learn by saying that there was less chance of obtaining an education in those countries than in America. In general, foreign universities lacked the equipment of those in America.

Although not venturing an opinion as to the respective abilities of the students, Professor Perkins did say that as fine a lecture on physics as he had ever heard was delivered at the University of Nanking by a young Chinese student. A possible bar to its progress, however, he said, is the impatience of its people, conscious of their latent power, and believing that the activities of the nation may be placed under an organized government within a period of five years.

After the announcement of the entries for the first event of the evening, Professor Ogilby expressed Dr. Ogilby’s regrets for his inability to be present at the meet, and spoke of the interest the latter has taken in arranging the program.

The first race of the meet was the 50-yard breaststroke event, which proved to be the closest finish of the evening. "Phippen was awarded the squash racquet offered as a prize to the winner by Dr. Ogilby. Later, the divers went through the same series of "stunt" dives.

"Professor Humphrey gave a very interesting account of New England, Thanksgiving in Chapel on Wednesday, November 27. Speaking from the history of our country. This talk dealt with the various exceptions are modes of Thanksgivings, and the treatment of the subject was especially valuable to the student because of the information which was offered. A closing remark was made concerning the proposed plan of combining the festival of Thanksgiving with the National Thanksgiving Day. In opening, Professor Humphrey commented on the fact that. Thanksgiving was not founded as an institution by the Pilgrims, as was commonly supposed, but was an ancient custom of the Dutch. In elaborating on the origin and history of the holiday, they referred especially to the movement in New England in general and in particular, showing its gradual spread throughout the country and its final adoption as a national holiday.

Mr. R. Degner Discusses Working of Athenaum

Presidential Task Worked by Organization in Past Year—Founded Recently

In view of the fact that the Thanksgiving quizzes prevented many from participating in the debating activities, there was no meeting of the Athenaum Society last week. Furthermore, it was decided, that since many of the members lacked sufficient understanding of their debates, meetings would be held in the future, once every two weeks.

Jr. Degner stated this year at the first fall meet, and, "Many have had the opportunity to gain experience in public speaking either in the form of debate or otherwise; the Athenaum is in a healthy condition of slow, but sure, expansion."
