SQUASH RACQUETS TEAM Loses to HARTFORD G. C.

Philben and Benjamin Win in Practice-Match—Return Games Scheduled

The varsity squash racquets team was defeated Thursday, December 16, by the Hartford Golf Club team on the campus of the University of Connecticut. The Hartford team is not officially recognized, but they are a fine group of players. Three games out of the five were forfeited to the victors. The statistics of the match:

Won Lost
Burke, No. 1 man 1
Nye, No. 2 man 0
Benjamin, No. 3 man 3
Massion, No. 4 man 0
Philben, No. 5 man 0

A return match will be played with this team on December 18, at 4:30 p.m. on our courts. Professor George B. Flagg, always a good sportsman, came well qualified to speak about our relations with foreign countries and about world affairs in general. He has been a United Nations envoy in South America and Asia, a Special Commissioner in the Philippines, and he has travelled extensively in Europe, the Middle East, and Japan, and he is the author of two books on diplomacy and international relations.

COLLEGE BODY MEETING FAILS TO TAKE PLACE

Various Athletic Awards will be Made Informally—Martin Receives Cup

The meeting of the college body was cancelled when Professor Oasting, head of the Physical Education Department, announced that the immediate purpose of the gathering was to present the awards for the intercollegiate competitions completed this fall. As the time is short there will be no plans to hold a formal meeting of the entire college. Instead, awards will be made in the gym, and the winners may obtain their awards at the gym office. This plan was recommended by President Richard E. Martini and was approved by the Dean of Men.

SQUASH RACQUETS TEAM Loses to HARTFORD G. C.

Philben and Benjamin Win in Practice-Match—Return Games Scheduled

The varsity squash racquets team was defeated Thursday, December 16, by the Hartford Golf Club team on the campus of the University of Connecticut. The Hartford team is not officially recognized, but they are a fine group of players. Three games out of the five were forfeited to the victors. The statistics of the match:

Won Lost
Burke, No. 1 man 1
Nye, No. 2 man 0
Benjamin, No. 3 man 3
Massion, No. 4 man 0
Philben, No. 5 man 0

A return match will be played with this team on December 18, at 4:30 p.m. on our courts. Professor George B. Flagg, always a good sportsman, came well qualified to speak about our relations with foreign countries and about world affairs in general. He has been a United Nations envoy in South America and Asia, a Special Commissioner in the Philippines, and he has travelled extensively in Europe, the Middle East, and Japan, and he is the author of two books on diplomacy and international relations.

COLLEGE BODY MEETING FAILS TO TAKE PLACE

Various Athletic Awards will be Made Informally—Martin Receives Cup

The meeting of the college body was cancelled when Professor Oasting, head of the Physical Education Department, announced that the immediate purpose of the gathering was to present the awards for the intercollegiate competitions completed this fall. As the time is short there will be no plans to hold a formal meeting of the entire college. Instead, awards will be made in the gym, and the winners may obtain their awards at the gym office. This plan was recommended by President Richard E. Martini and was approved by the Dean of Men.
TUESDAY, DECEMBER 15, 1931

"SHEEP" OR MEN?

Though there is a general trend among colleges toward a liberalization of the rules of cutting, Trinity has seen fit to take a step backward this year, and has made the cutting regulations more stringent and more obvious. Since last June the number of allowed absences from class has been reduced from four times per semester, and the double-cut ruling has been extended so as to include absences on the day before vacations as well as on the day after. These changes were made by the faculty in apparent disregard of the fact that the scholastic standing of the college not jeopardize the plan. The attained so far are as satisfactory as in years when attendance was lowered or not, has no say in the matter. For instance, a few years ago there was a general desire to liberalize the rules. Trinity has seen fit to take a step backward this year, and has made the cutting regulations more stringent and more obvious. Since last June the number of allowed absences from class has been reduced from four times per semester, and the double-cut ruling has been extended so as to include absences on the day before vacations as well as on the day after. These changes were made by the faculty in apparent disregard of the fact that the scholastic standing of the college not jeopardize the plan. The attained so far are as satisfactory as in years when attendance was lowered or not, has no say in the matter. For instance, a few years ago there was a general desire to liberalize the rules. Trinity has seen fit to take a step backward this year, and has made the cutting regulations more stringent and more obvious. Since last June the number of allowed absences from class has been reduced from four times per semester, and the double-cut ruling has been extended so as to include absences on the day before vacations as well as on the day after. These changes were made by the faculty in apparent disregard of the fact that the scholastic standing of the college...
AN AGONY COLUMN

Football is a tough game. You go out on the field to give your best to the dear old alma mater, knowing full well that you may have your teeth knocked out and your nose knocked in, that you may have your pretension and your pretentiousness shattered. But don’t care; you would even let them dismantle your xiphisternum for dear old Trinity. When you jump on the ball, you are more than willing to bear the indignity of having your hair dragged through the mud when your amortion process marred by your recollection, your eight capacious lungs, your five mercurial bones and your five malarial bones dislocated, is what it is to let them. Let them, using your thia, fibula, and hallucus for the dear old alma mater, and anyway, the spectator gets a lot of fun out of it.

Now everybody connected with the Trinity Tailor (including the Scandinavian—guess who) has done his bit, and we are all ready to give our hearty reception of receiving some of the aforementioned indigents. So you would think that the players would come in. O.K. for their work, but the fact is that Peter Pan is the object of vilification and false accusation. For instance, a few weeks ago the Hartford Tailor sporting goods store ordered a pair of shoes, and asked him the reasons for the Gold and Dofe to pay for it. "Shoes, pawsh?" answered the player, after "we lost to Wesleyan, we didn’t give a damn what happened, there’s the story.

But we can’t believe it, so Trinity football player would stoop so low as to say Pshaw. After the Blue Devils’ battles, fought so gallantly throughout the season, some lowdown reporter comes along and accuses them of harboring a man who would say Pshaw. We are sure that no man would disgrace his college by using a word as sacred and hallowed as the story.

There are so many more vivid words in the English language. An Open Letter to Max Press.

Dear Mr. Press:

Whenever I happen to wander down into the Union I see your representative sitting on one of the new plush chairs, with his head hanging disconsolately over a pile of shirts, ties, socks, garters, and all the other articles of apparel which suffering masculinity is forced to wear. He evidently is waiting for some College men don’t buy such things as shirts, ties, socks, etc. They borrow the other articles of apparel which.

Now I’ve got a plan which is a sure winner. I’ll lower the negligible percentage of the profits I will divulge to you. Here it is:

In the last two weeks all the students of Trinity have for some conscious. Instead of trying to sell such futile things as shirts and blue socks, why not put in line of some pre-fraternity and make a fortune? Act while the public is unwilling, Mr. Press, find the depression. The Danbury tailors haven’t had anything to do because the “Engineering” went out of style, and here is your chance to end unemployment and bring the world back to normalcy. The world can be saved from utter chaos by your action, Mr. Press. I need say no more.

Yours very truly,

WOZZENHEIM.

AN ALL-AMERICAN ELEVEN.

A large section of the American public, eighteen thousand and six, in fact, chose the following all-American eleven. The ballot was carried on through the medium of the Blue Devil, a well-known concordant dealing in men’s clothes. Three judges, Ted Husing, sports announcer of WESCO; C.B.B. Sol Lesser, and Warren Brown, both nationally known football authorities, in each case approved the popular choices, which, in almost every case coincide with prominent names.

Notre Dame: eleven picked by football writers and experts in various sections of the country.

Incidentally, Schwartz received 1,887 votes, attaining first place in the matter of popularity.

Here is the team:

Left End—Jerry Dalrymple, Tulane.
Left Tackle—Charles Marvil, Northwestern.
Left Guard—Clarence Mann, Minnesota.
Center—Tommy Yarre, Notre Dame.
Right Tackle—Bob Jackson, Baker, Southern California.
Right End—Ernest Pinckert, California.
Left Halfback—Marchmont Schwartz, Notre Dame.
Right Halfback—Ernest Pinckert, Southern California.
Fullback—Ernest Ender, Northwestern.

ADIMIRAL SIMS, FRED LIBBY SPEAKERS AT PARLEY DECEMBER 4-5

SUBJECT “DISARMAMENT”

The Program of Annual Event Included Blakelee, Simonds, Laidler, and Hussey

The eighth Wesleyan Intercollegiate Parley took place the first week after Thanksgiving, December 4 and 5. The topic chosen by the College Body Parley Committee was, “Disarmament,” which the committee considered to be “a peculiarly appropriate subject at a time when students all over the world are concerning themselves with the problems, and nations are preparing their delegations and their policies for the International Conference scheduled to meet at Geneva, Switzerland, in February.” The committee invited many eastern colleges to send delegations. Charles J. Oxton, Jr., ’32, headed the Parley Committee, assisted by Harry E. Mow, ’33, W. B. Chamberlain, ’32, and Perry C. Hill, Jr., ’33.

Simonds and Sinods Lead Off.

Rear Admiral William Bowden Sims, U.S.N. (retired), opened the Parley Friday evening, December 4, taking his theme “The Limitation of Armaments and the Freedom of the Seas.” Admiral Sims became known as a figure during the Great War, when he commanded the United States Naval Forces operating in Europe. In 1919 he made a report to the Senate sub-committee investigating naval affairs along lines suggested by the Navy Department in the management of United States naval operations during the last four years. On December 22, 1922, and a year later received the honorary degree of LL.D. from Wesleyan.

The second speaker of the evening was Frank G. Libby, editor of the “Review of Reviews.” Mr. Simonds is an alumnus of Harvard, as he has been a reporter, correspondent, and editor at various times for three New York papers, the Post, the World, and the Times. His connection with the magazine, beginning in 1914, as a staff writer and a leading journalist on international affairs, Mr. Simonds has an unusual background for the general subject.

Libby on Security.

Frederick G. Libby was the first speaker of the afternoon. As executive secretary of the National Council of the University of Illinois, and as editor of the “Review of Reviews,” Mr. Libby is a leading figure among peace workers of the community. Extensive correspondence and a leading journalist on international affairs, Mr. Simonds has an unusual background for the general subject.

Libby on Security.

Frederick G. Libby was the first speaker of the afternoon. As executive secretary of the National Council of the University of Illinois, and as editor of the “Review of Reviews,” Mr. Libby is a leading figure among peace workers of the community. Extensive correspondence and a leading journalist on international affairs, Mr. Simonds has an unusual background for the general subject.

Libby on Security.

Frederick G. Libby was the first speaker of the afternoon. As executive secretary of the National Council of the University of Illinois, and as editor of the “Review of Reviews,” Mr. Libby is a leading figure among peace workers of the community. Extensive correspondence and a leading journalist on international affairs, Mr. Simonds has an unusual background for the general subject.

Libby on Security.

Frederick G. Libby was the first speaker of the afternoon. As executive secretary of the National Council of the University of Illinois, and as editor of the “Review of Reviews,” Mr. Libby is a leading figure among peace workers of the community. Extensive correspondence and a leading journalist on international affairs, Mr. Simonds has an unusual background for the general subject.

Libby on Security.

Frederick G. Libby was the first speaker of the afternoon. As executive secretary of the National Council of the University of Illinois, and as editor of the “Review of Reviews,” Mr. Libby is a leading figure among peace workers of the community. Extensive correspondence and a leading journalist on international affairs, Mr. Simonds has an unusual background for the general subject.
FLY WITH

Flying Instruction. Long and Short Distance Flights.

Hartford's Oldest Pilot in Line of Service.

Call—5-9334

P. O. POSTMA
Jeweler

WATCHES, DIAMONDS, CLOCKS, JEWELRY, REPAIRING.

19 Pearl Street, Hartford, Conn.
Once acquainted with this store, you will never regret it.

DRINK MILK
That is PERFECTLY PASTEURIZED.
Try It — You'll Like It!

The Bryant & Chapman Company
330 Woodland St.; Phone 2-0254
Quality, Courtesy, Service.

ALFRED H. MUHLEIB
Typewriters Sold, Rented and Repaired
24 Harbison Avenue, Hartford, Conn.
Telephone 7-3308.

THE COLLEGE STORE
THE PLACE OF ACCOMMODATION
M. W. SCHER, Proprietor
44 Vernon Street, Hartford, Conn.

STUDENTS' LAUNDERING,
DRY CLEANING WORK
A SPECIALTY.

NEW ENGLAND LAUNDRY
Telephone 2-3153
265-225 HAWTHORN STREET.
441-455 HOMESTEAD AVENUE.

PLIMPTON'S
Stationers, Engravers, Printers
232 Pearl Street, at Ann

THE SANITARY TAILOR
"Over the Rocks"
SUIT MADE TO ORDER.
CLEANING, PRESSING,
DYEING, REPAIRING
211 ZION STREET.

THE HARTFORD MARKET
The Finest of all
Food Products
Cor. Main and Mulberry Streets

THE TRINITY TRIPOD

That bulky old slogan hits me just right—

...no bamboozlin' about that!

SURE! When a word fits, you know it!
"Satisfy" just fits CHESTERFIELD. A smoker picks up a package, and he likes its neat appearance — no heavy inks or odors from ink. That satisfies him.

Then he examines a Chesterfield. It is well-filled; it is neat in appearance; the paper is pure white. And that satisfies him.

He lights up. At the very first puff he likes the flavor and the rich aroma. He decides that it tastes better—neither raw nor over-sweet; just pleasing and satisfying.

Then he learns it is milder. That's another way of saying that there is nothing irritating about it. And again he's satisfied!

Satisfy — they've got to satisfy! The right tobacco, the CHESTERFIELD kind, cured and aged, blended and cross-blended, to a taste that's right. Everything that goes into CHESTERFIELD is the best that money can buy and that science knows about. CHESTERFIELDS do a complete job of it. They Satisfy!

TRINITY GRADUATE TO RECEIVE AWARD

Dr. Andrew E. Douglas, 1889. Famous for Chronological Study of Tree Rings

On December 18, Chief Justice Hughes, chancellor of the Smithsonian board of regents, will present two awards of $2,500 each, given by the Research Corporation of New York.

One will go to Dr. Andrew Elliot Douglas of Tucson, Arizona, for studies of the rings which have made possible an exact chronology of Indian culture in the southwest from about 800 A.D. Dr. Andrews is a graduate of Trinity College in the class of '89.

FOR MANY YEARS OUR COAL has given warmth and comfort to old Trinity. We handle the finest grades of Coal produced.

THE NEWTON TUNNEL COAL COMPANY
218 PEARL STREET
Call 2-8060

TRINITY SERVICE STATION
Corner Broad and Vernon Streets
Hartford, Conn.

100% TEXACO
SEE US FOR ALL AUTOMOBILE SUPPLIES

BARRETT FAVORS U. S. RECOGNITION OF SOVIET RUSSIA.
(Continued from page 3.)

One can say who is right and who is wrong. China holds that Manchuria is a part of China. Japan, on the other hand, feels that her people have a right to go there, and if they do, they have a right to be protected.

Due to the lack of time Dr. Barrett had to limit his discussion on Pan-American affairs, which are in reality his special sphere. In concluding he declared that the "Pan-American Union is working for the unity of all the American nations" and is developing a "unity of action and spirit" among them.

Dr. Barrett's talk was one of the most interesting given at Trinity in many years, and after he was through with his speech he was surrounded by a large group of students, who asked his opinions on everything from Nicaragua to Prohibition. Dr. Barrett complimented Trinity men highly in his talk, saying, "I have met splendid Trinity men in Japan, China, and all over the world. There is something fine about the training Trinity men get that makes them count wherever they may be."

BARRETT FAVORS U. S. RECOGNITION OF SOVIET RUSSIA.
(Continued from page 3.)

to prepare reports and act as technical adviser at the Peace Conference in Paris in 1918-19 and at the Washington Conference on the Limitation of Armaments in 1921. Other activities include those of an editor, author, lecturer — at the Army and Navy War Colleges, Bennett lecturer at Wesleyan University, chief on the staff of the U.S. Army. Dr. Barrett received the D.Sc. degree from Wesleyan University in 1924, and is now chancellor of the University of Washington.

TRINITY GRADUATE TO RECEIVE AWARD

Dr. Andrew E. Douglas, 1889. Famous for Chronological Study of Tree Rings

On December 18, Chief Justice Hughes, chancellor of the Smithsonian board of regents, will present two awards of $2,500 each, given by the Research Corporation of New York.

One will go to Dr. Andrew Elliot Douglas of Tucson, Arizona, for studies of the rings which have made possible an exact chronology of Indian culture in the southwest from about 800 A.D. Dr. Andrews is a graduate of Trinity College in the class of '89.

TRINITY GRADUATE TO RECEIVE AWARD

Dr. Andrew E. Douglas, 1889. Famous for Chronological Study of Tree Rings

On December 18, Chief Justice Hughes, chancellor of the Smithsonian board of regents, will present two awards of $2,500 each, given by the Research Corporation of New York.

One will go to Dr. Andrew Elliot Douglas of Tucson, Arizona, for studies of the rings which have made possible an exact chronology of Indian culture in the southwest from about 800 A.D. Dr. Andrews is a graduate of Trinity College in the class of '89.