TENNIS TOURNAMENT STARTS--DRAW POSTED

Fifty-Nine Enter—Martini is Favorite to Win Crown from President

The first event on Ray Ousting’s, director of athletics, intra-mural sports program, the annual tennis tournament, got under way yesterday. Fifty-nine entries had been turned in when the draw was made. First round matches are posted on the bulletin board in the old gym. All these matches must be played off before this Thursday.

Eight players were seeded. They are in the order of their seedings: Richard Martini, Edgar Craig, Arthur Arnold, John Burzka, James Maynard, John Donnelly, Joseph Morgan, and Joseph Greenberg. Martini was captain and number one on his team last year and is favored to win the title last held by Burzka, who won it in 1926. Martini’s most serious opposition is expected to come from Craig, number two last year, Arnold, next year’s captain, and Fuller, an unseeded freshman.

Probably the best match in the first round will be between Martini and Terry Mockry, who played number one on his school team. All the other seeded men have easy opponents, or have drawn lousy. Although it is too early to make safe predictions, most observers believe that Martini, Burke, Fuller, and Arnold will be the semi-finalists, with Martini and Fuller favored to be the finalists. The winner of the tournament will be awarded a silver loving cup.

The holding of the tournament next year is largely dependent on the success of this one. The large entry was a good start. The playing off of matches on schedule will keep up the good work.

Dr. W. P. Tolley, Aged 31, Will Become College President

Over one hundred men have been training three times a week in preparation for the annual interfraternity cross-country run to be held about November 10. Last year this race was won by Alpha Delta Phi. This year, however, competition will be stronger on the part of many fraternity men who failed to place last year due to the fact that they did not have as many entries as the two first teams. Entries from each house will be limited to a certain number, thus making it fairer than last year. Ray Ousting, director of athletics, hopes to have fifty entries, about five from each house and ten from the neutral teams. As last year, there will be a time limit of about twenty minutes set within which all entries must finish, to count in the scoring. Each entry must have gone over the course at least once before the race. The Lyman Ogilvy Trophy as well as fifteen points towards the Alumni Trophy will be awarded the winning team. The team finishing second will have ten points, and third will get five points. Three points will be awarded each team having a certain number of entries finishing within the stipulated time.

David Harris, winner of last year’s race, is favored to repeat this victory this year. Harris, who is one of the best distance men ever at Trinity, broke the record for the cross-country run last year. His time of 13:55 for the two and one-half mile course ranks well up in small college records for this distance. Other entries who should give Harris a lot of competition are Kenneth Birch, second last year; Carlton, ‘variety two-mailer, and Gladwin, who ran the mile last year with Harris. Birch, Carlton, and Gladwin are Sigma Nu’s. For these reasons Sigma Nu, second last year, is favored to win this year and to start off ahead in her effort to retain the Alumni Trophy which she won last year.

BLUE AND GOLD TO MEET WORCESTER TECH. SAT.

Varsity Appears to Be Favorite—Opponents Again Have Strong Team

In the second game of the season, the ‘variety football team will play Worcester Polytechnic Institute on Saturday, October 10, at Hartford. With the regular fast rounding into shape, Coach Galvin feels confident that the Blue and Gold should give their opponents a stiff battle.

Last Saturday, while Trinity was getting off to a good start against New York Agricultural College, Worcester Tech lost its first game of the season to the Coast Guard Naval football team by the score of 7 to 6 in a hard-fought game. Only four of last year’s regulars started for the Engineers. The loss of Asp, hard-charging halfback, is sorely felt. However, Putnam who was so instrumental in last year’s victory over Trinity, has been shifted to halfback from the quarterback position, and is as lively as ever.

There will be a meeting tonight in The Tripod room at which all Freshmen who desire to go out for The Tripod are asked to be present. Candidates for both the Editorial and the Business Boards are called.

Halffield Snaps Meet of Phippen’s Passes—Meier and Kingston Star in Line.

Belying on a highly effective aerial offense, the Trinity football team started off its 1931 season last Saturday afternoon by downing the New York Aggies 19 to 7 on the home field. The Aggies were the first to score, early in the second quarter, but the Blue and Gold tied it up a few minutes later, and forged ahead in the second half to win the contest. Though Coach Galvin’s men did not hit the height of their form in this game, they showed promise of developing into the most powerful combination that has represented Trinity for years.

The game opened with a Trinity offensive that carried the ball to within striking distance of the Aggies goal line. Steady gains by Dines, Blalick, and Brewer, and a short forward pass from Phippen to Brewer put the pigskin on the Aggies’ y-yard line. Phippen’s attempted kickoff did crooked however, and Trinity’s opportunity to assume the lead was lost. The rest of the quarter was unproductive of any decisive playings, and the whistle blew with the Aggies in possession of the ball on the Trinity 23-yard line. The second period had hardly begun when the New Yorkers produced their one and only touchdown. After a few plays, Read, who played a great game for the Aggies, tossed a long forward pass that was pulled down by Hepenstal on the Trinity 10-yard stripe, and was carried over for a touchdown. Read’s try for the extra point was unsuccessful, and the teams lined up again with Trinity behind 7 to 0.

But the Blue and Gold fought back hard. A few minutes later Dines’ recovery of a fumble gave Trinity the ball at midfield. Then the Phippen-Armstrong passing combination (Continued on page 3.)

Professor Troxell states that it will take another twenty years to gather together these specimens and that he is not now working on them as soon as possible. Specimens of six different animals which it is hoped to obtain, the corroboration of this phenomenon which he can offer is that they were caught together at the same time.

Professor Troxell lived in a tent for the greater part of the summer, frequently in the most uncertain circumstances. At times the temperature rose to as much as 114 in the shade—if there was any shade to be found.

SEATTLE ALUMNI DIES DURING THE SUMMER

F. S. Bull, Native of Hartford, Dies as Result of a Fall

On July 10, this year, Mr. Frederick Storrier Bull of the class of 1890 was killed by a fall from a trolley in Seattle. Washington. Mr. Bull was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bull, and a cousin of Mr. Archie Bull, all of whom were prominent in the social life of Hartford during the 70's and 80's. He had lived in Seattle since 1911, having moved to that city in 1911 from Tacoma where his family had lived for many years. He was a native of Hartford. In his class were Dr. John McCook, Mr. Edward McCook, Mr. A. E. Bullkey, Mr. R. E. Hayg, Jr., Mr. H. Plutzik, '32, and Mr. H. Blalower, '33.

Once again we call attention to the fact that the Freshman organization's activities, to be placed on file in the college library for future reference. The office of treasurer has also been kept, and the beginning this year dues will be Applied Sciences, Carnegie Tech, University of Denver, Williams Colleges, and a hundred other institutions.

Acceptances have also been received from such societies as the American Chemical Society, the Association for the Advancement of Sciences, American Association of University Women, Association of University Professors, and the heads of several state departments of public instruction.

One of the novel features of the inauguration exercises will be a section in the procession composed of graduates and former students of Allegheny College who are now teachers, writers, or administrators in other colleges and institutions of learning. There are 125 former Allegheny College men and women thus engaged. It is believed that this will be the first time such a demonstration has been made by any college.
This section in the procession will attract much attention.

In addition to inaugurating President Tolley, the ceremonies will continue over to October 16, for the purpose of dedicating the college library, the gift of William Edward Reiss of Pasadena, California, a graduate of Allegheny College class of 1889.

Among the speakers at the inau-gruration of the new president and the dedication of the library, will be Andrew W. Robertson of New York, Chairman of the Board of Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company; E. P., a graduate of the college; Ezra S. Tippie, D.D., L.L.D., of New York City, former president of Drew University; Miss Isa M. Tarbell, a graduate of the college; Dr.
John Zahn Rios of Columbia University, New York City; Ernest H. Wilkins, Ph.D., President of the Association of American Colleges, and William Warner Bishop, Litt.D., Chairman of College Library Committees of the Carnegie Corporation.

Preparations are being made for numerous dinners, receptions and other gatherings of delegates, visitors, students, and others. During the two-day celebration, Allegheny Collage will be the mecca of college people from all over the United States, and this quiet city will be host to the most numerous, distinguished and colorful assemblage of educators in its history and one of the most important cultural gatherings of recent times in the United States.

Dr. Tolley, the new president of Allegheny, was born in Honesdale, Pa., in 1890, educated in the Binghamton public schools, graduated from Syracuse University in 1912, and attended Drew Theological Seminary, attending its history and one of the most few and scholars there by extra courses in philosophy at Columbia University, New York City. He has earned the following degrees:
M.A. from Syracuse; B.D. from Drew;
M.A. from Columbia; Ph.D. from Co-
