CLASS PRESIDENTS ARE WELcomed at meeting

At its weekly meeting held in the Cook Hall lounge last night, the class of '36, elected its new class officers. The new members were announced by Charles S. Clark, former President of the Class of '35. The following are the new officers: President, Charles B. Webster; Vice-President, Alphonse S. Bouchier; Secretary, Charles S. Clark; and Treasurer, E. C. B. Martens.

The class officers are planning a number of activities for the coming year, including a class dance and a trip to the University of Chicago. The class officers hope to have a successful year and to increase the class's participation in university life.

N. CLARK CHAIRMAN

Cafeteria to be Gaily Decorated With Flowers to Each Group

On Friday night, February 3, the second large social event of the college year, the Junior Prom, will take place in the new dining hall. The affair will be the first of its kind in the college's history. The purpose of the event is to provide a social opportunity for the junior class to come together and enjoy each other's company.

The cafeteria beneath the dining hall is to be decorated with flowers, and tables will be set up in the cafeteria beneath the dining hall. The dance will begin at ten o'clock and end at three. It will be an enjoyable evening for all those in attendance.

TRUSTEES MEET FOR REPORT DISCUSSION

On Saturday afternoon, January 14, a meeting of the trustees was held in Williams Memorial. Besides President Ogilby and Dr. Mohead, the following trustees were present: James H. Lowry, H. E. Davis, Samuel Ferguson, the Hon. Philip J. McCord, Charles G. Woodard, Richardson Wright, and Robert Thorne.

The usual reports were submitted and discussed. Among the recommendations of the Joint Education Committee, Professors B. E. Smith, and J. L. B. Rawlinson were reappointed assistant professors in the departments of English and Modern languages, respectively. The following instructors were also reappointed: the Hon. Philip J. McCord, the Hon. George W. Lowry, and the Hon. J. L. B. Rawlinson.

The trustees voted to continue the policies established during the previous year, and to maintain the high standards of the college.

MARTENS OUTSTANDING AS COURT-SINGER

At the joint education committee meeting last evening, Charles S. Clark, senior, was presented with a plaque and a scroll in recognition of his outstanding service as court-singer and his contributions to the college community.

Clark has been a member of the college community for four years, and his dedication to his work and to the college has been recognized by the administration. He has been a vocal leader in the college community, and his contributions have been greatly appreciated.

JESTERS' PRESENTATION OUTSTANDING SUCCESS

On Saturday evening, January 14, in Alumni Hall, the Jesters presented their annual show. The show was entitled "The Bad Man," and was directed by Frederic Emerson.

The show was a great success, and the audience gave it a standing ovation. The performers were outstanding, and their skills and talents were on display throughout the show. The show was a great success, and the Jesters should be congratulated for their hard work and dedication.

The Jesters' presentation of "The Bad Man" was a great success, and it is sure to be remembered as one of the finest shows in college history.
“The Bad Man”

Once again a responsive audience gave us two and a half hours of enjoyable entertainment furnished by the Jesters in their production of "The Bad Man" last Saturday night. It was an evening packed with excitement, unforgettable gun shots, heart-bleeds for the heroines and laughter for the amusing situations. From the rise of the curtain to the closing of the curtains was one single distinct spirit of unified enjoyment due to a carefully planned and skillfully directed production.

"The Bad Man" was rather different from the Jesters' plays in recent years, but the choice of play was by no means unfortunate. It was more serious as "Wings Over Europe" (and certainly not as fine a play), nor was it a sophisticated drawing-room type of play. Yet and yet it was just as successful as either-- or any play the Jesters have ever put on--because it provided entertainment.

And if an audience cannot en­ joy itself at a dramatic performance, then there is something decidedly wrong somewhere. But the audience was there Saturday night did enjoy itself, and it had good reason to. In the first place, the play presented an interesting situation; and the setting of the many complications in the plot was most amusing. Next, a well-trained group of actors were successful in keeping the spirit of the play across the footlights. And finally, there was a well-chosen and very well-cast which was excellent--four issues, and then die out as suddenly as it had begun.

On the other hand, the junior promenade committee did its part. This action represents the will of the Class of 1934. Nevertheless while the latter took its talent to Greenwich. The success of pleasure to its members, they have a far-reaching effect in the student body is necessary. We cannot believe that the Junior versatilities of our men, and each concert by the Glee Club each was overwhelming, and their ability surprisingly well shown.

The latter half of last week was marked by excellent college functions is not only a privilege, but one way in which the interests of Trinity College. Each play by the Jesters advertises the activities of the Medusa their traditional right of entering Junior Promenade as the guests of the Junior Class is a move we believe to be extremely unwise. The refusal to allow the quilting in which the college has been concerned for the last two banks merged about three years ago.

The action of the Junior Promenade Committee, however, thoughtless, may be excused somewhat by the fact that in view of a very likely deficit they are making every effort to keep it as small as possible. This in itself is commendable, but it seems probable that other means could have been taken to cut down expenses.

The move taken by the Senate to refuse financial assistance to the Promenade is also regrettable. The cooperation of the student body is necessary. We cannot believe that the Junior Promenade Committee has acted wisely, nor can we believe that this action represents the will of the Class of 1934. Nevertheless we cannot excuse the action of the Senate. It has acted too hastily, and without forethought.

There is no possible solution to this problem. A meeting between the members of the Promenade Committee and the members of the Medusa has already been called, and the student body awaits with interest the result of this discussion. Hopefully, these groups may reach a successful conclusion to the trouble.

"IL CIRCOLO DANTE"

We welcome to the Trinity campus the new Italian Club, "Il Circolo Dante." We feel that it is furthering a good cause, and wish it every possible success.

AMBASSADORSHIPS

The latter half of last week was marked by excellent productions of two club, the college, and the Glee Club The Glee Club opened a play, "The Bad Man" in Alumni Hall, while the latter took its talent to Greenwich. The success of this was overwhelming, and their ability surprisingly well shown.

The merest mention of these marks are more for, besides offering more to its members, they have a far-reaching effect in the interests of Trinity College. Every play by the Jesters advertises the versatility of its men, and each concert by the Glee Club shows them to be just as successful, if not more so, than the Jesters. Mr. Adams was able to make much of his part as Pedro. Mr. Hoehling with his low drawl gave "Angie" a strong shoulder to lean upon. His habitual enthusiasm was almost palpable.

Mr. Scull and Mr. Blacker were to be congratulated for their work in the parts which are always difficult to get by with in Jester productions. Mr. Scull as the good guy" was particularly good. Mr. Ewing and his assistants did well with the set; and it was evident that the Fine Arts Department were responsible for many of the little things which add color and life to a production.

The entire production showed a great deal of effort, and was a credit to the organization. It may not have been the best play the Jesters have put on, but it was certainly entertaining and enjoyable. The only bad part of the evening was the last lamentable lack of students present. But after all, it was their loss. They missed a good time--N. R. A., '22.
ATHLETICS AND SPORTS\n
WATKINS BROTHERS,\n162 Washington Street, Hartford, Conn.\n
THE PLUMBING, DRAINAGE, HEATING, AND AIR CONDITIONING CONTRACTORS\n
LYON & BARBER, Contractors\n
Good Food - Good Service\n
GUSTAVE FISCHER CO.\n
STEINMEYER'S \n
Luncheonette, 162 Washington Street, Hartford, Conn.\n
BARBER BUILDING, 205 Main Street, Hartford, Conn.\n
THE W. G. SIMMONS CORP.\n5 Pratt St., Hartford, Conn.\n
SHOES AND HOSIERY OF DISTINCTION\n
LOWRY SNOW, 36 17 NORTHAM TOWERS\n
P. O. POSTMA JEWELER\n
FISHER, 50 Pratt St., Hartford, Conn.\n
PLIMPTON'S\n
Stationers, Engravers, Printers, Publishers, 252 Pearl Street, at Amory St.\n
S. Z. TOBEY TAILOR\n
EXCLUSIVELY FOR COLLEGE MEN\n163-165 Asylum Street, Hartford, Conn.\n
FAIRFIELD PHARMACY\n
ERMAN R. WISE, P.G.\n
332 New Britain Ave., Hartford, Conn.\n
Chrysler specialist.\n
THE ATMENAEUM GROUP HOLDS USUAL WEEKLY SESSION\n
Carrie, Hurd, and Antounucci Speak Before Members of Society\n
At the regular meeting of the Athenaeum, held Sunday evening, January 9, in the English room, several speeches were given by the following members:\n
Carrie spoke on the Fascist regime in Italy, stressing the importance of Mussolini to unity at any cost all the Italians for the common good.\n
Hurd read a satirical essay, entitled "A Plea for Pedantry," in which he ridiculed the man who can only educate a professor a pedant, who can make no progress or achieve anything of his own.\n
Antounucci spoke on Technocracy, dictatorship of engineers.\n
After the speeches, they were crit\n
ected by the members, followed by discussion of the topics.\n
Sullivan then called attention to a subject which would be announced.\n
QUINTETT DEFEATS AMHERST (Continued from page 1.)\n
thing to shout about. Although Amherst made three more points at this juncture of the game, they could not hold the fighting Blue and Gold quiet for the remainder of the game. After knotting this score at 25 all, Trinity jumped into the lead and held her advantage through a fast-fought final period. Amherst's squad, weakened by the loss of two regulars who had left the game because of fouls, was unable to match Trinity's stellar playing.\n
Box scores:\n
Trinity. F. Pts.\nLiddell, If, 1 0 0\nMcAfee, Hf, 1 0 0\nMartens, If, 1 0 0\nDart, c, 1 1 0\nKelly, g, 1 1 0\n\nTotals, 9 1 2 19\nAmherst. F. Pts.\nFosco, If, 2 0 0\nWarner, wr, 1 0 0\nMoss, Hf, 1 0 0\nMarriott, lr, 0 0 0\nMills, mg, 1 0 0\nEnglish, c, 3 0 0\nNelson, c, 1 1 0\nTucker, c, 0 0 0\nMerchant, If, 0 0 0\n"V"S"Strand, lr, 1 1 0\nGregg, g, 1 1 0\nGreen, If, 1 0 0\nBrom, c, 1 0 0\n\nTotals, 12 3 27\n
THE PROMENADE BALLROOM BEAUTIFUL\n1001 Main Street, Hartford\nPresenting America's Finest Recording and Broadcast Orchestras\n
Just Say: "Meet me at the Prom!"\n
This money-saving fuel saves many ways!\n
Just talk to any user of Koppers Connecticut Coke—and there are three times more now than there were only two years ago—and you will hear the most absorbing story of saving you ever heard about ANY fuel.\n
Not only saving in money . . . saving in labor . . . saving of time . . . saving of worry . . . saving of ash-hauling. But the most important of all, saving of comfort and health.\n
Better phone for a supply of the modern high-test coal. Tell your fuel dealer, or 3-5181.

THE BANKERS TRUST COMPANY\nFARMINGTON AVENUE AT ASYLUM PLACE\n
Our Growth\n
You'll feel welcome at The Bankers Trust Company. The officials sit in the lobby; there are no formalities. You are a "member of the family." The entire organization is here to render Service, to earn patronage—and to make you feel at home. Our Growth bespeaks the appreciation of those we now serve.
"I'm working and Smoking overtime—

hence a Milder Cigarette

WHEN I work hard, I usually smoke more; and when I smoke more, I usually work harder—and that's why I want a cigarette that's milder."

We use in Chesterfield Cigarettes mild, ripe Domestic and Turkish tobaccos which have been aged and re-aged.

These good tobaccos in Chesterfield are used in the right proportions—that's a very important matter.

These good tobaccos in Chesterfield are blended and cross-blended—welded together; that, too, helps to make a milder cigarette with better taste.

THEY'RE Milder—they TASTE BETTER

WHENEVER POSSIBLE,
PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

R. G. BENT CO.

93 Edwards Street
Hartford, Conn.

WHENEVER POSSIBLE, PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

CAMPUS COMMENT.
(Continued from page 2.)

ter the Junior Prom free. The Senate, three members of which are in the Medusa, refused the Prom committee financial backing if they carried out their decision. Just what is going to happen remains to be seen.

We will all admit that Trinity undergraduates of today lack a necessary spirit of loyalty. We refer to the sort that not only cheers a winning team, but one that supports a losing fight as well. Underneath this dearth of loyalty, "school spirit" if you like, is an utter disregard for the few traditions remaining. Many undergraduates sneer at these traditions—they say it's old stuff, prevalent during the time of the Swiss Bell Ringers, the Lemon Squeezers, and of the days when freshmen found colleges like the Rover Boys' alma mater. And now "because there is no reason why three men should not have to pay" we find that an active campaign is being carried on to snuff out the few remaining sparks of tradition still smoldering at Trinity.