ATHENEUM HAS ANNUAL BANQUET IN HEUBELIN

Dinner is Culinaring Social Event of Society—Howard Receives Charm

The Atheneum Society held its annual banquet at the Heubelin Hotel Monday evening, May 29. Two honorary members, Dr. DeAtley and Dr. Bull, and about twenty student members attended. After enjoying a surpisingly good banquet, the group passed a sociable evening, and laughing at the jests of Dr. Motten and Mr. Buell, and about many points to Trinity, but the rain took first and second in the high hurdle; Birch of Trinity. Thayer and Kellam were third and fourth in the 200. Again Trinity came back to grab the advantage, when Schneider bloomed in the ninth inning, and Kellam was the high scorer, with first in the hurdles, Thayer coming third. This win practically assured the victory over Connecticut State.

Davidson, while the basketball team has the most successful years athletically, the football team swamped Connecticut State 87-6.

Forty-two men were awarded their letters for the second time in two weeks. Captain Swanson, in his senior year, has been a member of the track squad, only one of the six, Edgar H. Craig, '34, of Brookline, Mass., is more a matter of time than an unqualified success. The team looks forward to a good season of track next year.

Swanson was given a run in the ninth inning and deposited, with 11, S. E. Smith with 15, Travis with 17, and the runner at first. When the record of James Wales, Jr., can be taken as a criterion, there are some "natural-born" flyers on the college campus. "Jim" Wales, who is the second Trinity man to soar alone through the clouds, was checked out for his pilot's license by the Civil Aeronautics Commissioner Jack Lenox of the State Department of Aeronautics. Wales, who is a graduate of Trinity in the class of 1915, it was relieved. Houlihan, pitching fine ball, took the margin, but Schneider again faced the plate, with an additional man, and a one-baser by Fred Wallace. Again Trinity came back to grab the advantage, when Schneider bloomed, and Kellam was the high scorer, with first in the hurdles, Thayer coming third. This win practically assured the victory over Connecticut State.

This banquet was the culminating event of the society, consisting of the following members: Edith F. Freed, President; K. L. Griswold, Secretary; M. C. H. Grant, and Stimson, honored Mr. R. N. Howard by choosing him as the recipient of the annual tennis charm. This charm, a rather fancy Atheneum Society trinket, is presented to the student who has done the most for the society and who has shown the most ability and promise during the completed year. Howard will be privileged to wear the key for one year.

The American Scholar.

The Trinity TriPod recommends to all college men, both undergraduates and alumni, the quarterly magazine, the American Scholar, printed by the Phi Beta Kappa Society. Published with the aim of widening and deepening the creative life of our country, the American Scholar is a magazine worthy to be added to the reading list as a quarterly one can do without. It endeavors to fulfill one of the Society's aims as touched up by Emerson in his famous address to the Harvard Phi Beta Kappa Chapter, when he described the scholar as "One who raises himself from private considerations and breathes and lives the world.

"They know nothing of the public and illustrious thoughts and whatever new verdict reason from her inevitably sequesters passions on the passing men and events of today, he shall hear and promul-

Authors in the first year and a half of the magazine's life include such outstanding names as: Robert Louis Stevenson, James Twombly Adams, Ralph Adams, William Cowper, Harry B. Phipps, William Wallace, Cassius J. Keever, Hermann Hagedorn, John E. K. Hodge, Elmer Davis, Harry Davis, Dorothy Canfield Fisher, and others equally worthy reading.

SPORT COMPETITION

Coincident with the recent election of managers for spring sports comes the realization that there is one source of error which could and should be corrected in regard to these elections. Namely, the custom of having freshmen compete for manage-

This custom has the distinct disadvantage of having to a certain extent, a prejudiced election. This prejudice may occur in either of two ways. In one case, a fraternity man may vote against his own man regardless of qualifications for fear that he will be accused of playing "fraternity politics" if he votes for one of his own kind; on the other hand, a manager may vote for his brother because he is afraid not to play "fraternity politics." In either case, the judgment is not on a sound basis, but a matter of obligation, or vice versa. This is not an attack on "fraternity politics," for we believe that in a large measure Trinity has been freed from this campus evil.

However, under the present system, there is undoubtedly a source of favoritism. Other colleges have done away with this source, and it is our hope that Trinity will do likewise.

CHESS BOARDS CUT IN CLOISTER SEATS

Not only has the Chapel Cloister been found by some in the last two weeks a quiet and fairly cool place in which to study for final examinations, but also it has a new attraction. Recently Wallace, the verger, has carved a chessboard on one of the broad stone seats. The first game played here was an exciting contest between the Chess Champion of the Senior Class and the President of the College. No public announcement has been made as to the winner of the match, but the fact that the Senior is question is reported as still eligible for his degree may offer a hint as to the actual outcome of this historic conflict.

SENATE GIVES MONEY.

At a recent meeting of the 1892-1913 Senate, it was voted to donate $500, from the surplus of the treasury fund, for the conversion of the old chapel into a little theatre. The room will be used by the Jesuits, and as a meeting place for the College body.

CLASS GIFT.

The Senior Class has presented to the College a carved oak pew end as its gift, which will be placed in the chapel. This will be unveiled Sunday evening at the Baccalaureate service. The preacher at this service will be the Rev. E. S. Travers, '96, of Elmira, N. Y., who was formerly chaplain at the United States Military Academy at West Point.

ROBERT DAUT TO LEAD TRACK SQUAD

Robert H. Dault, '34, of Philadelphia, Pa., has been elected captain of the 1934 track squad. This award, from his teammates comes as the culmination of three years' service on the cinder, and as a tribute to his outstanding work.

Dault is one of the foremost members of the Junior Class, and has excelled on the athletic field. He led the 1932-33 basketball squad to one of the finest seasons since Coach Oonta has been at Trinity. During the past season, he equalled the mark set by Theodore C. Hudson, '14, of 26.2-5 seconds in the 220-yard hurdles. Dault is a member of the Delta Phi Fraternity.
The annual Commemoration Day ball game takes place this afternoon when the Varsity battles a graduate team comprised of Trinity stars of other years.

A stronger alumni aggregation that used to quarrel with each other had all practiced this spring. On the first one-hour practice session, Nute’s pitching is well remembered by Trinity fans. Completing the battery is Hallett, left, and the Blue and Gold last year. Others who strengthen the team this year are Thompson, third, Sturm at short, and Kneuer in the outfield.

The game closes Trinity’s season.

Captain-elect Burt of the Junior class was second with 42 points. In the running events, Gilman and Harris were outstanding in the distance runs, while Adams and Broadwater were a step up in their respective distances. S. Smith was also outstanding in the jumps for his classmates.

In the field events, Warner started in the discus throw, high jump, and long jump. For his efforts, he was surprised in the pole vault, which makes him the only three-letter man in college.

In all the meets this year, the student and his colleagues, Trinity’s record was 293 points to 204 for the opponents.
