Professor Shepards Attitude of Trinity Men Toward Current Problems

A representative of the Tripod has asked me to "make a few remarks about things in general." Although this is a favorite topic of mine, I prefer at present to speak of another matter.

Like a certain University with one or two peacocks sitting in the largest niche of the campus who feel, because the type of Trinity listed. We can

"The Jesters are offering a price of $20 for the best one act play submitted by a senior. Entries must be submitted to Professor A. W. Laus, Trinity, before December 15th. All plays must be submitted by Friday, December 14th. A winner will be announced soon."

"The basketball team opened last season, 1933-34, with a 20 to 16 victory over the New York Aigles five on December 16 at the Hopkins Street gymnasium. A large crowd witnessed the game, and were attracted by the all-around superiority of the Blue and Gold quintet. The contest started slowly, but gradually gathered momentum, and throughout the latter part of the game Trinity scored almost at will.

Nugent, Aigle guard, opened the scoring with a short basket. Seconds later, Tommy Kearns tallied on a clever lay-up shot. Liddell put Trinity out in front by sinking a free throw. The score was now 4 to 2 in favor of Aigles. Suddenly, in a fast break, Kearns scored in two more shots. At halftime, the score stood 13 to 6 for Trinity, from mid-court to cut the Blue and Gold lead. Pepper Martens and Bob Daut also found the hoop, giving Trinity a six-point lead at half time.

"Whoever hoped the Aigles had the better team was disappointed. Trinity was completely shattered by a barrage of Trinity baskets. Daut scored in a long one, and Kelly followed with a sucker shot. Daut, Liddell, and Martens had two more baskets for a score of 26 to 18. The Trinity basketball team opened its 1933-34 season with a 39 to 16 victory over the New York Aigles."

"The Trinity basketball team opened 1933-34 season with a 39 to 16 victory over the New York Aigles five on December 16 at the Hopkins Street gymnasium. A large crowd witnessed the game, and were attracted by the all-around superiority of the Blue and Gold quintet. The contest started slowly, but gradually gathered momentum, and throughout the latter part of the game Trinity scored almost at will.
INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Last year the Trinity Triad expressed the sentiments of several unhappy faculty members and alumni about the sport of intramural in Trinity. For a year now the students have been asked to vote on the future of Intramurals. The poll showed that 60% of the student body were in favor of Intramurals, but the action of the Senate was simply to turn the question over to a special committee. The committee has been working on the problem all week and is due to make a recommendation to the Senate. If the Senate accepts the recommendation, it will then be placed before the students for a vote. The result of this vote will determine whether or not Intramurals will be continued at Trinity.

THE COUNCIL AND THE SENATE

Several years ago a group of undergraduates organized themselves into a Council of Nine. This Council was formed in the fall of 1930 to represent the interests of the students. It was hoped that this group would be able to bring about some changes in the administration of the College. Unfortunately, this group has been unable to carry out its purpose. It has been unable to bring about any changes in the administration of the College.

OBITUARY

William Daniel Guckenbuehler, of the Class of 1933, was born in St. Louis, Missouri, on November 11, 1912. He was the son of William and Helen Guckenbuehler.

William died unexpectedly on November 13, 1933, at his home in St. Louis, Missouri. He had been a student at Trinity College for two years and a half. Among those present at the funeral were William's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guckenbuehler, and his sister, Mrs. E. M. Andrews.

William was a member of the baseball team and was active in the Interfraternity Council. He was a popular student and will be sorely missed by his friends.

The next issue of the Trinity Triad will appear on Tuesday, January 16, 1934.
THE TRINITY TRIPSTEN

BOND SIGNS ORCHESTRA FOR HOLIDAY PERIOD

Troubadours Secure Engagement to Play at Hartford Hotel for Two Weeks

Next Thursday, December 21, the Troubadours open a two-weeks engagement at the Bond Hotel. They will play in the main ballroom of the hotel from six in the evening through the dinner hour and up to closing time at one o'clock. The engagement lasts for the comparatively short season and New Year's Night, Wednesday, January 1st, being set as the closing night.

During the past two weeks the Troubadours have received three offers from many society companies to play on ships making the transatlantic runs to Europe. The expenses of the orchestra will be paid in full during both seasons and the members have liberty to remain in Europe as long as they may care to, providing they return during the summer season and play during the return trip. At present the orchestra is undecided as to whether it will accept one of theшей engagements or remain in this country and play at some summer resort on the east coast. The orchestra considers itself extremely fortunate in having secured the Bond engagement because nearly all of the ships in the district were competing for it. Numerous engagements have been made for the weeks immediately following January 3, and a full schedule is anticipated for the remainder of the season. The Troubadours have now been formally organized for a little over two months, and during this comparatively short time they have been accepted as one of the better orchestras of Hartford and its vicinity.

LAURAN DEPT OFFERS PRIZE TO FRESHMEN

A prize of $25, to be accompanied by a suitable book, has been offered to the freshman doing the best work in Latin during the present academic year. The prize will be awarded at Commencement to the student named as the winner of the Latin Department of Latin. The conditions of award are the same as those for the Phi Gamma Delta Prize in Mathematics, and the Trowbridge Prize in Physics. The award is a special competitive prize, but results in work during the entire year is made the basis of award.

RHYME TAMPOPE

It has been brought to the attention of this department that a student, in looking over an issue of the Trinity catalogue, discovered rules or regulations bearing directly or indirectly on the conduct of such undergraduates as should wish to see life in the raw at Ye Olde English Bonds Tape Room. Tape Rooms are the places where mention of a course, a very comprehensive list of the faculty, a pretty picture of the activities of the members of a large building believed to be the oldest in the University, and the school calendar. But—no Tape Rooms! Such being the case, the writer of this article, who is one of the editors of the Tripod, offers herein a few suggestions as regards behavior on this sanctum.

Number One: The Approach, or How to Get to the Bar. This is something which must be considered seriously. The chances are that by the time you enter the Tap Room there will be roughly forty thousand people seated at tables, forming small huddles on the floor, or trying to get Peggy Peters to meet them in the lobby after closing time. Getting through this impendence is a comparatively simple and wholesome (Continued on page 4.)

SPECIAL ENGAGEMENTS TO BOND HOTEL

Entertainment for New Years will be presented by the orchestra under the leadership of Kenneth C. Cope, director of the music department. The programs will be offered for the benefit of the Freshman and Senior classes. The orchestra will be in residence at the Bond Hotel from January 1st until January 5th. Admission will be fifty cents each.

THE BOND HOTEL

A most Satisfying Hotel, catering to a Select Clientele. Rates Reasonable. CLIF·FORD D. PERKINS, Proprietor.

THE HAWTHORN HOTEL

The Finest of all Food Products

December 19, 1933

THE BOND HOTEL

A most Satisfying Hotel, catering to a Select Clientele. Rates Reasonable. CLIF·FORD D. PERKINS, Proprietor.

THE HUNDELEIN HOTEL

A most Satisfying Hotel, catering to a Select Clientele. Rates Reasonable. CLIF·FORD D. PERKINS, Proprietor.

THE HAWTHORN HOTEL

The Finest of all Food Products

December 19, 1933

THE BOND HOTEL

A most Satisfying Hotel, catering to a Select Clientele. Rates Reasonable. CLIF·FORD D. PERKINS, Proprietor.

THE HUNDELEIN HOTEL

A most Satisfying Hotel, catering to a Select Clientele. Rates Reasonable. CLIF·FORD D. PERKINS, Proprietor.

THE HAWTHORN HOTEL

The Finest of all Food Products

December 19, 1933

THE BOND HOTEL

A most Satisfying Hotel, catering to a Select Clientele. Rates Reasonable. CLIF·FORD D. PERKINS, Proprietor.

THE HUNDELEIN HOTEL

A most Satisfying Hotel, catering to a Select Clientele. Rates Reasonable. CLIF·FORD D. PERKINS, Proprietor.

THE HAWTHORN HOTEL

A most Satisfying Hotel, catering to a Select Clientele. Rates Reasonable. CLIF·FORD D. PERKINS, Proprietor.

THE HAWTHORN HOTEL

A most Satisfying Hotel, catering to a Select Clientele. Rates Reasonable. CLIF·FORD D. PERKINS, Proprietor.
STEPPING . . . I'll say they're stepping. Just about the best cigarette you ever smoked.

Chesterfields are milder
Chesterfields taste better

CAPT. ATKINSON SPEAKS. (Continued from page 1.)
The speaker then stated his reason for the present condition of unrest existing in the world.

"The reason for the unrest, the conflict, and the turmoil in the world today is to be found in man's self-will.

The world badly needs young men who will put God's will before self-will, the interest of others before self-interest, the glory of God before self-glorification, the welfare of others besides his own.

"Trust God, because He is trustworthy. Trust Him, because He is no fool. He knows more about our lives than we do. Trust Him, because He is working for our best and highest interests; and not for ours only, but for those which will bring the greatest good to the greatest number of people."

In concluding, Captain Atkinson summed up his address with the definite purpose in life for each person: "Since I realized that I was in the world to do the will of God, and to strive to do it from day to day, I have known such a peace and contentment and freedom from anxiety as never before. Trust God and do His will, for that is the purpose of life."

NEW YORK ALUMNI. (Continued from page 3.)
The officers elected for 1934 are: Bern Baquedano, 1904; President; W. R. Langford, 1898, Richardson Wright, 1910, Glover Johnson, 1923, Erwin Rankin, 1911, Vice-President; and Fred C. Hinkel, Jr., 1906, Secretary-Treasurer. The Executive Committee is composed of Northerly Jones, 1917; Fred T. Tapp, 1922, William M. Ellis, 1928, Henry B. Lewis, 1930, and Robert R. Bartlett, 1929.

LAVALETT SODA SHOPPE
162 Washington St., Hartford
Open Evenings.

FLY WITH
DECON'S FLYING SERVICE
135 W. Broad St.
Open Day and Night
Call--5-8354

ARMORY GARAGE, INC.
253 BROAD STREET
Hartford's Oldest Pilot in Line of Service.