TRINITY MERMEN LOSE TO AMHERST SWIMMERS

Defeat Is First of Season for Blue and Gold swimmers

LADDY LEADS WINNERS

Onderdonk, Colt and Hall swimmers take first place in the pool.

The swimming team's hopes for an undefeated season were rudely shattered on Wednesday, February 18, when the Amherst tankermen swam away with 63 to 68 points. The winners took the lead at the end of the second event, and although their margin was threatened several times, they were never actually headed. The meet was the most exciting one that has taken place this season, and the outcome of almost every race was in doubt until the last few strokes. The meet was scheduled for 4 o'clock but the weather was too bad for a meeting, and it did not arrive until half an hour later, and the Trowbridge Memorial was crowded with the Amherst and Trinity swimmers. Visitors took place first in five out of the six events and won one of the two relays. Trinity was definitely handicapped by the absence of Mow- kery, who was sick for the meet and was not well enough to try his luck at the 220.

The medley relay was the first event to be held and was one of the most exciting. Amherst was clearly in the lead for the first 56 seconds of his 100-yard free-style fly, which was the fastest time of the three teams. The time for the race was 3:24.5, a new pool record.

The 220 and 440-yard swims were both won by Amherst. Motten of Amherst, who swam both events, finished first in each, except in the 440. In the 440, he was rapidly overhauling Beaulieu, who was the winner, in the last two laps, but the spurt failed and he was two seconds behind Amherst's grandson.

Captain Colt continued his streak of success last week. He has won by stroke by winning the event in the good time of 2:53.9. He was in the lead all the way, except in the last 50 yards. The last 50 yards were run by the six fastest boys in the last few yards by Green and Partridge of Amherst, who took sec­ond and third places.

Onderdonk of Trinity won the 150-yard breaststroke from Allen Am­herst by the scant margin of a half

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED BY ATHENAEUM SOCIETY

Senf, Dumont, Davis and Rulnick Honored—Debate With Penn Cancelled

Frederick Senf was elected for his third consecutive term as president of the Athenaeum Debate Society by the bi-monthly meeting of the club, held on Monday evening, February 20, in the Hackney Room. Donald A. Dumont, vice-president, Harry J. Davis, secretary, and Milton A. S. Sampers, editor-in-chief, were again elected. Professor Alfred L. Jordans was appointed Manager of Debate by the president. Their terms expire in June of this year, at which time a new group is to be given and new officers elected.

The Radio debate which will be held with Wesleyan is to take place about the second week of the next term. It will be arranged for a date, topic, and members of the teams will be announced at a later time. Negotiations are also being carried on with Massachusetts State to arrange for a debate here at the Col­lege soon.

The Society is at present drawing up new by-laws; the secretary and treasurer are combing the archives of the new society for past by-laws. During the meeting a new plan for membership was discussed. It was agreed that the members of the society should address the club within a month. Try­outs for the candidates for the officers of the club were held on Monday, February 6.

A communication from the Univer­sity of Pennsylvania stated that the national intercollegiate basketball tournament was won in 1933 by Frolic of Princeton who will be on the Trinity team in the game which was arranged for February 16. The University also cancelled several other debates, includ­ing one with Connecticut State Col­lege at Storrs.

T. and Dartmouth, a newcomer, will be present at the tournament which was won in 1933 by Frolic of Princeton who will be on the Trinity team in the game which was arranged for February 16. The University also cancelled several other debates, includ­ing one with Connecticut State Col­lege at Storrs.

TRINITY EDGES PRATT BY LAST PERIOD DRIVE

Blue and Gold Quintet Comes to Defeat Pratt

The Trinity College basketball team won its eighth victory of the current season by defeating the Pratt quintet, 38-35, in a close game played in the Public Speaking Room on Friday, February 18, over a strong Pratt quintet by a 28-35. A large crowd was on hand, and were treated to some real spectacular playing by both teams. The game started on an even keel, the table on schedule, displayed real power in scoring ability and gentry team play, but could not stop the brilliant victory drive staged by Trin­ity in the last period.

Before the game two minutes old, Bob Daut slipped through the defense for a flawless two-pointer. The score was 2 to 0. At the five minute quarter of the game, speedly running guard of the Pratt team, tossed in two field goals and one back shot, to bring the vis­itors out in front. Reiser, who gave the ball out to Daut and the back shot commanded shooting, increased the New­Yorker's lead to 8 points. Daut and Fritson, who was never to be reached by the eagle-eyed Reiser was not to be denied. WELCOME, BROTHERS!
When leaves are turning, and Freshmen are yearning.
To enter the best fraternity,
When there are expressions with careful repugnance,
Like “This is our man,” or “Who's the hell he is?”
And then comes the Sunday before the dire occasion.
When study begins for those in its concerns.
But soon the sorrow felt over the morrow—
Attention is fixed upon bids and returns.
The Frosh make their choices; this house relishes in victory.
While faces in that one are grave and long.
The Seniors then edge in and fastest the pledge pin;
“We're sure you will find that you have a good song.”
Now starts the new living—two months till Thanksgiving.
When new acquaintance strengthens their tie;
And new adaptation, till Christmas vacation,
No sooner set in than new troubles arise.
For January's activity varies
From frantic study to midterm exams three-hour sessions (they're really confessions)
In a二者 (who when he sweats and cries).
In the tenderfoot forces, you pass the three courses;
Or else you don’t stay around school any more;
At fraternity pledges, tradition alleges,
Are not to be brothers without passing four.
Then comes the (don't-tell)-week, the annual hell-week;
When the Frosh Borgher writes, the spark of the earth!
The greatly abused, of all things accused,
And they suffer and labor in proving worth.
Now, one man among another, ex-pledge, you're a brother;
You've taken a beating without being shamed;
So here is your pin, and thank God you’re in.
For you and for us the week was well named.

THE DILETTANTE
Dilettante is an enigmatic word to most collegians. The average undergraduate finds in its connotation everything to resent or in seeing a Picasso from one angle only? If he is sincere, he is to be admired. Of course, we vouch for the imitator who buys Fortune and can readily quote America's three foremost playwrights because he enjoys creating effect. He is a fool and an unsuitable person, the believer is of opinion that there is eternal and intangible, and intangible. RETURN OF MOBRAY AID T TEAM
GREATLY HAMMED AND MOTION PUSH VICTORS

The swimming team suffered its second defeat of the season at the hands of Connecticut State College, on Saturday, February 24, at Storrs. The teams were more closely matched than the score of 50 to 27 seems to indicate, as most of the individual races were decided by inches only. The return to action of Terry Mowbray helped the team greatly, but he was not in his usual form and showed the effects of his long-off.

Connecticut State got off to a good start in the first event and wound up throughout the meet. Their relay team defeated the Trinity trio in this event, setting a new pool record in the time of 2:52.5. At Hall, swimming the last 100 yards of Trinity, was almost 20 yards behind when he started, but he rapidly decreased this lead and was only a few feet behind at the finish. Connecticut State won both the 220 and 440-yard swims. In each of these events he was well out in front at the start, but he forced to his highest speed to stand off the sprints of Mowbray, who was close second in both races. Paddon took third place in the 440 for Trinity. The winning time of 5:44.4 in the 440 set a new pool record for that event.

Mowbray easily won the 40-yard dash in 11.6 seconds. He was in the lead from the start and was never threatened. Dickerson was close behind him and took second place at Trinity.

The 100-yard dash was the most exciting event of the meet. Weighted of Connecticut State and Mowbray and Hall of Trinity swam the race on even terms, and all the women less than a yard apart at the finish. It seemed that the race would be judged a dead heat, but the judges awarded the lead to Hall with Hall and Mowbray second and third.

For the first time this year Capt. Coit was defeated in the 200-yard breaststroke. This race was won by B. of Connecticut State. With a time of 2.52.2 set a new pool record. Both Coit and Sinclair, Trinity's second swimmer in the event, started off strong and soon had a good lead, but finished fourth in the last 50 yards and overtook Coit about half a lap from the finish.

Connecticut State finished off the afternoon by winning the 400-yard relay in the record time of 4:4.9. The winners picked up a good lead in the first 200 yards, but Hall cut this in half, and Mowbray, swimming the last leg, almost caught his man when the latter made a poor turn on the final lap. The two men were only inches apart at the finish.

Next Saturday's game will travel to Woonsocket to swim against the Woonsocket Boys. Both teams should be in top form for that match and for the last home meet with Winthrop on March 6.

TRINITY FACES WESLEYAN.
The second game with Connecticut State, which was postponed, will be played at Hartford on March 6 or 7. Trinity easily defeated the Staters 91 to 15 in the first game played at Storrs. From all past indications the Trinity team should wind up its 1953-34 campaign with a victory over its nearby rivals.

Commons Club, Neutral Blues Lead in Two Leagues With Only Six Games Remaining

With only six more games to be played off, Trinity's annual intramural basketball tournament is drawing to a close. In the American League the Neutral Gold outfit upset the hitherto undefeated Commons Club team last Friday night to move into second place. The Sigma Nu's, however, have a good chance to tie for second place with the Neutral Golds when these two teams play on Monday afternoon of this week. If Sigma Nu loses to the Neutral Golds, the latter will be tied for first place with the Commons Club, and an extra game will have to be played off. If Sigma Nu wins on Monday's encounter, they will be tied for second place with the Neutral Gold team. Sigma Nu also may tie for first place if they defeat D. K. E. on Tuesday afternoon. In the National League the Neutral Blues took Amherst placed third, but both he and Kelly were disqualified for illegal strokes. Caughey of Amherst placed third, but both he and Onderdonk were disqualified for illegal turns.
