ATHENAEUM WINNER OF FIRST DEBATE
Nichols Debate Team Defeated; Unemployment Insurance Is Topic

TWO-TO-ONE DECISION

...the jobless from accepting starvation during security from starvation and the menace of infantile paralysis sufferers, the two qualities which determine the ultimate worth of all music, indeed of any of the arts.

B. D. P.
TUESDAY, MARCH 26, 1935

ON-CAMPUS TENNIS

A variety of sports seems to increase as Spring follows the severe winter. Before the players could watch as track and baseball, there is an equal enthusiasm for tennis, which is enjoyed by the majority of men. In years past the Trinity courts have been in use morning, afternoon, and evening, and it is, therefore, with no little apprehension that we contemplate the inevitable demolition of our two best courts in preparation for the construction of the new building.

Three new courts were laid out at the south extremity of the campus last year, doubtless in anticipation of the deficiency to come. Although the condition of these courts, in addition to that of our other court, is bad, we presuppose that the College will have the necessary work done to make them available for tennis. We are in apparent, however, that the large number of men, not on the squad, who would otherwise make good use of the courts, will not be able to play on them this Spring due to inadequate facilities. Furthermore, it is no aid to team backers to have our home varsity tennis matches played off-campus.

Business Manager
W. M. FANNING

Circulation Manager
JOEL E. BROOKS, '37

Advertising Manager

STUART SCHMID, '38

Business Staff
S. W. PHILLIPS, '38
THOMAS A. WHAPLES, '38
T. BOWMAN WRIGHT, '38

Editor-in-Chief
HARRISON LIVELITTLE, '36

Managing Editor
JAMES R. BROWN, '37
Assistant Editor-JR.
C. BROOKS ROBERTS, '36

Reportorial Staff
OLIVER D. CARBERRY, '36
JAMES HENDERSON, '37
BARTON WILSON, '37
R. E. DRURY, '38
B. S. FRANK, '37
W. DAVIS, '37
THOMAS H. FANNING, '37
R. E. KEARNS, '36

Editorial Staff
ADOLPH A. HAUSSLER, '36
C. BROOKS ROBERTS, '36
W. DAVIS, '37

Advertising Office
TRINITY COLLEGE, HARTFORD, CONN.

Subscription Price, $2.50 per Year.
Entered at the Post Office, Hartford, Conn., as second-class matter. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provide for in section 443, act of March 3, 1887, authorized October 14, 1925.

Advertising Rates furnished on application.

Advertisements are expected to promote proper or notoriety in the respect of TRINITY TRIPOD and its managers. All such replies as "you who think nothing of getting drunk and destroying property," would not be held in a college with a bunch of morons who can't hold their liquor. Think of the student, the alumnus, the other college man, and the public. We are reading such damning material.

It is childish and the work of some thoughtless irresponsible person, but simply "heartless" and "lunatic" to publish it through a spotlight; through public ity? The alumni have found memories, and they can be the same those memories of Trinitarian Chronicles, the reputation and glory of Trinity in high esteem. Don't shatter those memories and that respect by the shabby side of Trinity's diary. Don't try to right an individual wrong, which is some sort of public duty.
You are only throwing mud just as your own college and its members by the process of a "hearsay" something not connected with Trinity, the trinity of your editorials.

Most sincerely,

THOMAS H. FAN INNG, '37
Advertising Manager

Columns:

ASSOCIATED COLLEGE PRESS

Dodge Building, New York

Copyright, 1924, by THE TRINITY TRIPOD

No part of this publication may be reproduced without written permission of the publisher.

March 26, 1935

ON-CAMPUS TENNIS

A variety of sports seems to increase as Spring follows the severe winter. Before the players could watch as track and baseball, there is an equal enthusiasm for tennis, which is enjoyed by the majority of men. In years past the Trinity courts have been in use morning, afternoon, and evening, and it is, therefore, with no little apprehension that we contemplate the inevitable demolition of our two best courts in preparation for the construction of the new building.

Three new courts were laid out at the south extremity of the campus last year, doubtless in anticipation of the deficiency to come. Although the condition of these courts, in addition to that of our other court, is bad, we presuppose that the College will have the necessary work done to make them available for tennis. We are in apparent, however, that the large number of men, not on the squad, who would otherwise make good use of the courts, will not be able to play on them this Spring due to inadequate facilities. Furthermore, it is no aid to team backers to have our home varsity tennis matches played off-campus.

Business Manager
W. M. FANNING

Circulation Manager
JOEL E. BROOKS, '37

Advertising Manager

STUART SCHMID, '38

Business Staff
S. W. PHILLIPS, '38

THOMAS A. WHAPLES, '38

T. BOWMAN WRIGHT, '38

Editor-in-Chief
HARRISON LIVELITTLE, '36

Managing Editor
JAMES R. BROWN, '37
Assistant Editor-JR.
C. BROOKS ROBERTS, '36

Reportorial Staff
OLIVER D. CARBERRY, '36
JAMES HENDERSON, '37
BARTON WILSON, '37
R. E. DRURY, '38
B. S. FRANK, '37
W. DAVIS, '37
THOMAS H. FANNING, '37
R. E. KEARNS, '36

Editorial Staff
ADOLPH A. HAUSSLER, '36
C. BROOKS ROBERTS, '36
W. DAVIS, '37

Advertising Office
TRINITY COLLEGE, HARTFORD, CONN.

Subscription Price, $2.50 per Year.
Entered at the Post Office, Hartford, Conn., as second-class matter. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provide for in section 443, act of March 3, 1887, authorized October 14, 1925.

Advertising Rates furnished on application.

Advertisements are expected to promote proper or notoriety in the respect of TRINITY TRIPOD and its managers. All such replies as "you who think nothing of getting drunk and destroying property," would not be held in a college with a bunch of morons who can't hold their liquor. Think of the student, the alumnus, the other college man, and the public. We are reading such damning material.

It is childish and the work of some thoughtless irresponsible person, but simply "heartless" and "lunatic" to publish it through a spotlight; through public ity? The alumni have found memories, and they can be the same those memories of Trinitarian Chronicles, the reputation and glory of Trinity in high esteem. Don't shatter those memories and that respect by the shabby side of Trinity's
diary. Don't try to right an individual
wrong, which is some sort of public duty.
You are only throwing mud just as your own college and its members by the process of a "hearsay" something not connected with Trinity, the trinity of your editorials.

Most sincerely,

THOMAS H. FAN INNG, '37
Advertising Manager

Columns:

ASSOCIATED COLLEGE PRESS

Dodge Building, New York

Copyright, 1924, by THE TRINITY TRIPOD

No part of this publication may be reproduced without written permission of the publisher.

March 26, 1935

ON-CAMPUS TENNIS

A variety of sports seems to increase as Spring follows the severe winter. Before the players could watch as track and baseball, there is an equal enthusiasm for tennis, which is enjoyed by the majority of men. In years past the Trinity courts have been in use morning, afternoon, and evening, and it is, therefore, with no little apprehension that we contemplate the inevitable demolition of our two best courts in preparation for the construction of the new building.

Three new courts were laid out at the south extremity of the campus last year, doubtless in anticipation of the deficiency to come. Although the condition of these courts, in addition to that of our other court, is bad, we presuppose that the College will have the necessary work done to make them available for tennis. We are in apparent, however, that the large number of men, not on the squad, who would otherwise make good use of the courts, will not be able to play on them this Spring due to inadequate facilities. Furthermore, it is no aid to team backers to have our home varsity tennis matches played off-campus.

Business Manager
W. M. FANNING

Circulation Manager
JOEL E. BROOKS, '37

Advertising Manager

STUART SCHMID, '38

Business Staff
S. W. PHILLIPS, '38

THOMAS A. WHAPLES, '38

T. BOWMAN WRIGHT, '38

Editor-in-Chief
HARRISON LIVELITTLE, '36

Managing Editor
JAMES R. BROWN, '37
Assistant Editor-JR.
C. BROOKS ROBERTS, '36

Reportorial Staff
OLIVER D. CARBERRY, '36
JAMES HENDERSON, '37
BARTON WILSON, '37
R. E. DRURY, '38
B. S. FRANK, '37
W. DAVIS, '37
THOMAS H. FANNING, '37
R. E. KEARNS, '36

Editorial Staff
ADOLPH A. HAUSSLER, '36
C. BROOKS ROBERTS, '36
W. DAVIS, '37

Advertising Office
TRINITY COLLEGE, HARTFORD, CONN.

Subscription Price, $2.50 per Year.
Entered at the Post Office, Hartford, Conn., as second-class matter. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provide for in section 443, act of March 3, 1887, authorized October 14, 1925.

Advertising Rates furnished on application.

Advertisements are expected to promote proper or notoriety in the respect of TRINITY TRIPOD and its managers. All such replies as "you who think nothing of getting drunk and destroying property," would not be held in a college with a bunch of morons who can't hold their liquor. Think of the student, the alumnus, the other college man, and the public. We are reading such damning material.

It is childish and the work of some thoughtless irresponsible person, but simply "heartless" and "lunatic" to publish it through a spotlight; through public ity? The alumni have found memories, and they can be the same those memories of Trinitarian Chronicles, the reputation and glory of Trinity in high esteem. Don't shatter those memories and that respect by the shabby side of Trinity's
diary. Don't try to right an individual
wrong, which is some sort of public duty.
You are only throwing mud just as your own college and its members by the process of a "hearsay" something not connected with Trinity, the trinity of your editorials.

Most sincerely,

THOMAS H. FAN INNG, '37
Advertising Manager

Columns:

ASSOCIATED COLLEGE PRESS

Dodge Building, New York

Copyright, 1924, by THE TRINITY TRIPOD

No part of this publication may be reproduced without written permission of the publisher.
THE BETTER COLLEGE
Hartford, Conn.

The Hartford Market

The Finest of all Food Products

Cor. Main and Mulberry Streets

Service to Please Trinity Students

TRINITY SERVICE STATION
Broad and Vernon Streets

HARTFORD NATIONAL BANK AND TRUST COMPANY
Corner Main and Pearl Streets

Hartford, Conn.

Branch—70 Farmington Avenue

ATHENAEUM DEBATE. (Continued from page 1.)

ment in business. Jefferson said that "the government is best which governs less," and this still holds true. Unemployment insurance, as a government interference with the right of the individual, is thus ir-reasonably condemned." Solter continues by pointing out that a state system of unemployment insurance means the development of a government bureaucracy, the loss of freedom, the encouragement of laziness in those workers who prefer to live on the dole rather than to work. The subtotal for the negative was represented by Ralph Eaton of Nichols, who summed up the arguments against unemployment insurance and concluded that it was impractical and detrimental to industry and to the public.

The final speech was delivered for the affirmative by Professor W. R. Rubic. After pointing out the fallacies in the claim that insurance will encourage unemployment and malingerers, he asked whether life insurance has encouraged deaths or whether it has led insurance companies to take measures to increase life expectancy, just as unemployment insurance will encourage industry, labor, and the government to strive to reduce the risk of unemployment.

In concluding, Rubic pointed out that the exposure of the affirmative was still unshaken in their validity, and that the only possible conclusion was that compulsory unemployment insurance should be adopted.

The debate was held in the Public Speaking Room before a small audicence. After the announcement of the decision, the judges conferred with the debaters and the chairman and explained how the decision was reached.

THE THEOBOBC SHOP
A. R. Steimeyer, Proprietor

31 Pearl Street, Hartford, Conn.

Concerning the acquisition of rowing machinations, the Army, is a story of a feud between a general's daughter and a captivating divocess for the heart of a flying cadet. Wallace

B. Bellamy sang the final song in almost every part of this story, and the beautiful spring of the column and Valerie Hobson. W. M. N.

COMMUNICATIONS

(Continued from page 2.)

with shots of flight formations, and

glimpses of the ritualistic machinations of the Army, is a story of a feud between a general's daughter and a captivating divocess for the heart of a flying cadet. Wallace B. Bellamy sang the final song in almost every part of this story, and

the beautiful spring

of the column and Valerie Hobson. W. M. N.

THE CURTAIN. (Continued from page 2.)

with shots of flight formations, and

glimpses of the ritualistic machinations of the Army, is a story of a feud between a general's daughter and a captivating divocess for the heart of a flying cadet. Wallace

B. Bellamy sang the final song in almost every part of this story, and

the beautiful spring

of the column and Valerie Hobson. W. M. N.

THE CURTAIN. (Continued from page 2.)

with shots of flight formations, and

glimpses of the ritualistic machinations of the Army, is a story of a feud between a general's daughter and a captivating divocess for the heart of a flying cadet. Wallace B. Bellamy sang the final song in almost every part of this story, and

the beautiful spring

of the column and Valerie Hobson. W. M. N.

THE CURTAIN. (Continued from page 2.)

with shots of flight formations, and

glimpses of the ritualistic machinations of the Army, is a story of a feud between a general's daughter and a captivating divocess for the heart of a flying cadet. Wallace B. Bellamy sang the final song in almost every part of this story, and

the beautiful spring

of the column and Valerie Hobson. W. M. N.

THE CURTAIN. (Continued from page 2.)

with shots of flight formations, and

glimpses of the ritualistic machinations of the Army, is a story of a feud between a general's daughter and a captivating divocess for the heart of a flying cadet. Wallace B. Bellamy sang the final song in almost every part of this story, and

the beautiful spring

of the column and Valerie Hobson. W. M. N.
COMMUNICATION ON THE CURTAIN.

(Continued from page 3.)

the finest of last year, "It Happened One Night" and "One Night of Love." To quote once more, "You gave two examples, both erroneous." Tallulah Bankhead did leave the films to play stage—what Mr. Nelson said is that American audiences do not seem to have gone into them after an eight-year period, and she did not start a movie career in America before going on the stage.

Mr. Nelson was assigned the part because his personality more nearly approached the author's idea of that of Wellington than any other available actor...

You mention several performances of rather minor characters that are good, and feel that these should have been mentioned. Mr. Nelson has only one column for "The Curtain"... He is merely trying to let the student body know that some productions are worth the price of admission, and to give them some idea of what they are about. In doing this, he mentions, some, not all, of the high spots, and some, not all, of the objectionable features. That these comments happen to differ from your particular views on the subject cannot be helped. For the last time I quote from your remarkable epistle: 'It's exasperating having a person possessing so little critical sense and knowing so little about the theatre as yourself pass judgment on movies and plays.'

If you insist on having columns on dramatic criticism for students, here you have original play produced professionally in New York? My Nelson has. If you don't deny that Brooks Atkinson's column would probably be better, even for the Tripod, but have we

It may surprise you to know that more than 20,000,000 people in this country smoke cigarettes—why?

It is because men and women know that cigarettes are the mildest form in which tobacco is used.

CHESTERFIELD has told you from time to time just what it takes to make a milder, better tasting cigarette.

First of all you must start with mild, ripe tobacco.

You must blend with the home-grown tobaccos the right quantity of the right kind of aromatic Turkish—not ordinary Turkish but the kind that gives a pleasing taste and finish.

Then again the cigarette must be made right—no loose ends. It must be made so that it will draw evenly.

Scientific methods and mild ripe tobaccos make Chesterfield a milder, better tasting cigarette.

We believe that you—along with millions of others—will enjoy Chesterfield Cigarettes.

DR. HENDRICK SPEAKS.

To quote once more, "You spo'kun

Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools."

Perhaps you've heard of Kipling.

You've heard of Kipling.

Happened you said—suitable social life, whether in business, or on the campus, they are our only means of evaluating society. The speaker declared, "is recognized as having been the outstanding American of his time because he was always steadfast in adherence to principle."

Mr. Nelson has. I don't deny that Brooks Atkinson's columns are moral, and of these genuineness and sincerity are fundamental. They form the basis of all possible social life, whether in business, or on the campus, they are our only means of evaluating society. The speaker declared, "is recognized as having been the outstanding American of his time because he was always steadfast in adherence to principle."

This life is that which develops a character about which it may be said as it was about Holmes', that "The side of the rocks." It is not ordinary Turkish but the kind that gives a pleasing taste and finish.

Then again the cigarette must be made right—no loose ends. It must be made so that it will draw evenly.

New York law school

March 26, 1935

The Case, Lockwood & Brainard Company

Printers and Bookbinders

85 Trumbull Street, Hartford, Conn.

TRINITY MEN FAVOR

HOTEL BOND BARBER SHOP

The Best is None Too Good—Hardly Good Enough

Hubert Drug Company

213 Zion Street, Hartford, Conn.

Drugs of the Better Kind

Wines and Liquors sold from 8 A. M. to 11 P. M.

© 1935, IRVING A. MYERS & CO.

SPEAKS.

March 26, 1935