Raymond S. Paton, Jr., ‘27, of Washington, D. C., was elected Editor-

chief of the Tripod for 1936 at a meeting of the Executive Board last Sunday night. He is formerly Editor of the St. Albans News, has been on the Tripod since his first year at Trinity, and was Assignment Editor for the 1935 Christmas term. William Nelson, of the staff of the Washington Post, who was on the M. I. P. paper, has been on the Tripod since he came to the college. He succeeded Jack Frissell, Jr., of Washington, D. C., who was elected Assignment Editor, has been on the Tripod since his first year. Other changes include John Swain, the new Managing Editor, is a member of the German Club, the Rugby Club, Kappa Beta Phi, and the Phi Upsilon Lambda. SLEEPERS, AWAKE!

We have emphasized the importance of some unpleasant issues, but our term's emphasis has been limited to many students with indifference or with undisguised contempt.

As far as we, ourselves, are concerned, that is not important; as far as those issues are concerned, it is.

The attitude of most Trinity students toward social and economic problems not directly their own is estranged. First of all, we should like to compare it with that of students in other colleges.

Trinity is one of the few colleges in New England which cling fiercely to New England ways of thinking and sleeping. Of the larger institutions, Harvard, Yale, Smith, and Vassar have developed notable organizations in the pursuit and articulation of interest in big issues. Of the smaller, Amherst, Williams and Wesleyan, those colleges we find it desirable to emulate in most matters, have real, not remnant, student bodies, for example, conduct each year a two-day Parley, during which all classes are turned off and in which all students and faculty members take part. This Parley is not only encouraged, but materially supported by the Administration. This year, the parley is being especially stirred up by thoughtless observers (people with one-sided and childishly American democratic ideas of method) or observation are all too readily assured by a few select individuals who, knowing nothing whatsoever of actual immediate effect, put forth dangerous ideas which the Press is all too ready to recognize. Regarding this matter, I must repeat that Mr. Ogilvy is not just "frightened" because he is not aware of something he knows nothing about.

You, Mr. EDITOR, are a rationalist. This means that you recognize primarily the inclination to mount a crank or cranky platform to save the life of another person, a Negro, an empty house, while that same one colonel is sentenced to court martial. No one cares what part he played in that. We can offer a few striking examples of this. For instance, "Midsummer Night's Dream" was a great hit, gross box office receipts than any other similar picture has ever done.

A magnificent British "fair play" Negro play, 'On the Verge' played in an empty house, while that same picture was parked a week later to see if people would go. Of course, perhaps the most important factor in saving the life of another person, a Negro, an empty house, while that same one colonel is sentenced to court martial. No one cares what part he played in that.

Trinity College--in any social activities of an extra-curricular nature. Or, I may add, the latter group of disillusioned non-fanatical and non-rational-thinking Orangeists, what one sees and hears is an effect or immediate cause of efficient group action. What is a Negro, perhaps an American Negro, if not a Negro, perhaps an American Negro, if not a Negro?

The Jew at Trinity College is as distinguished by campus fraternity members as are German Jews distinguished by athletic clubs in Germany. As in Germany, Mr. Ogilvy, have you, as such public relations officer, ever been entering Trinity College, in any social activities of an extra-curricular nature. Or, I may add, the latter group of disillusioned non-fanatical and non-rational-thinking Orangeists, what one sees and hears is an effect or immediate cause of efficient group action. TRINITY SWIMMERS TO FACE WILLIAMS MERMAN
Coach Clarke Not Worried About Outcome with Purple Team of Unknown Quantity

Today Trinity's swimmers traveled to Williams to meet a Purple aggregation of unknown quantity. Although this is the first meet of the season, Williams may be counted on to have a strong team, and a close battle, probably undecided until the last event is over, is expected.

Coach Joe Clarke, elated over his team's easy victory over Union, is optimistic about the outcome, but will not predict a Blue and Gold victory. He is particularly impressed by the great improvement shown by Conant and Hayward, mainstays in the breaststroke event. This department was greatly weakened by the loss of Benjamin, letterman on the team last year.

Captain Al Hall, Roger, Clem Mot­ten, Bruce Onderdonk, and Lou Little, the nucleus of the team, may be counted on to show up well, and may be ably supported by the remainder of the squad. The tentative lineup differing from that of the Union meet, follows:

Medley Relay—Onderdonk, Conant, and C. Motton.
50-Yard Dash—Hall and Fanning.
440-Yard Free Style—Brockman.
100-Yard Backstroke—Onderdonk and Hill.
100-Yard Dash—Hall and Fanning.
100-Yard Free Style—R. Motton and Anderson.
440-Yard Free Style—Dexter, Little, and Sinclair.

SQUASH TEAM DEFEATED AT BRITISH CAMPUS

On Thursday, January 9, the Trinity College squash team was defeated by the Harvard Golf Club players by a score of 5-0 in the Golf club courts.

At the Trinity courts on Saturday, January 11, the college team was again defeated. Number one man for the visitors, W. Rosenbach, distinguished himself by his brilliance.

practices and shortcomings before cfing abroad.

What Germany has ruled as eligibility for her Jewish citizens has nothing to do with you and me, nor has it any bearing upon treatment of for­ gen guests at the games. Senator Kehl has several short articles in the Hartford Times sports section, which advise Americans to act as purists—not as instigators of boycott or policies against rulings which do not concern them. You will quite likely discover, in the final analaly the other man’s point of view be to your purpose.

To end this, may I express my conviction that you have committed a serious blunder by publishing your editorial in a college weekly whose hyper­ critical reviewing staff is composed of many very nationalistic origins and races. I cannot help but see how such delusive subjects, when repeated and thought over, can lead to anything but bad feeling among the students of all the various nationalities. We do not want strife among ourselves! In passing, may I remind you that charity begins at home, not abroad.

Win Opening Contests

With the passing of squash and cross-country from the intramural limelight, basketball has come into its own as the sport of the moment.

The various teams entered have been divided into National and American Leagues with six teams in each. During the progress of elimination, each aggregation will play once against each opponent, making five games to be played by each team.

Play started on Tuesday, January 7, and will continue until the 18th, when competition will be suspended for the examination period. The game to be played by each team.

14-5, and Trinity called time out. When play was resumed, the Union avalanche thundered on as before and the half ended ten minutes later with the score 36-10. Ozzie Nelson left the game because of personal foul shortly before the period ended, and Kobrosky had already accumulated three personals.

Mountford played guard, and with the change of baskets at the half, sank a basket for his opponents.

Kobrosky moved to center for the second half. The finishing touches were applied early in the last period when Milano’s fast cuts brought him three more two-pointers, and Griswold added two field goals to his string. The game ended with second teams of both colleges on the floor.
