As this issue of The Tripod goes to press, the students of Trinity, almost to a man, are carrying on one of the most notable works in the history of the college—that of assisting the sufferers in the greatest flood in the annals of the City of Hartford.

It is a well-known fact, by this time, that the plight of Hartford is outstanding among the countless number of cities which have been in the path of the raging waters. It is equally well-known by the City of Hartford that the services which Trinity is rendering have been and are outstanding. As one of the Red Cross officials put it, "The work of the Trinity Students is the one bright spot in an exceedingly dark situation."

Last Thursday evening, when the Colt dike was broken down by the waters, there were Trinity men on hand to help those few unfortunate who were trapped by the unexpected rise in the flood level. As the waters continue to rise, more students went down to offer help, and, early Friday morning, President Ogilby weakened an additional number of men, sending them off in the direction of the lower regions of the town, where help was sorely needed. The President has worked almost unceasingly during the past three days, and, as this issue goes to press is still offering his assistance at Red Cross Headquarters. He has set a most worthy example for the men working with him.

With classes almost at a standstill Friday, more and more Trinity men reported for duty at the various relief stations. Some remained at the Old State House to be on call for emergency errands; others worked at the Trade School, one of the first relief stations to be set up, and still others were down caring for the refugees at the Henry Barnard School.

With the flood have come many tales of suffering and misery. The marooning of destitute families, the hazards of sickness, mothers in childbirth, children separated from their parents, wives separated from husbands—these things and many others are familiar to more than one undergraduate whose generally calloused exterior has been softened by what he has seen. How long this suffering will continue has not been and cannot be estimated, but it is certain that as long as it continues, Trinity will be on hand to do what it can to alleviate it.

Going without sleep was common among the undergraduates. Many students there were who were without sleep for over two days, and some for longer periods. There seemed to be no time for slumber when there was work to be done.

To add to the hazards already present, the power in the city was cut off Friday night. Red Cross Headquarters were in darkness, and a gasoline generator was pressed into service and run by Trinity men. Late Friday, bunks were set up in the Hartford County Courthouse, where the number of men was about four times cut off Friday night. Red slumber when there was work to be done.

Mr. H. N. Ogilby's trip across the United States, as the result of the flood, has been a great temptation as well as an exceedingly dangerous one. It is a well-known fact, however, that Mr. Ogilby was...
TUESDAY, MARCH 24, 1936

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
RAYMOND S. PATTON, JR.

MANAGING EDITOR
William M. Nelson, Jr.

EDITORIAL STAFF
L. Morris Arrnahme, '38
William H. Gorman, II, '39
Albert Rundbaken, '38
L. Barton Wilson, III, '39

ASSIGNMENT EDITOR
James Henderson, Jr., '37

BUSINESS STAFF
William S. Paynter, '38

ADVERTISING MANAGER
Joel Brooke, '37

CIRCULATION MANAGER
Charles L. Gabler, '38

TRINITY COLLEGE, Hartford, Conn.
Distributed twice a week during the year
1935 Member 1936
Associated Collegiate Press

Subscription Price: $2.50 per Year.

Advertising Rates furnished upon request.

DOCTOR OGLIBY

At this time, as at any other of unusual activity in the college, the administration is being made the subject of many good-natured wisecracks. We realize that they are intended to be good-natured, but should like to point out to the student body the example the administration is setting for it. Doctor Oglivy has been directing the Trinity relief work since last Thursday evening, and at the same time has been washing the boat toward a dry dock. They were afraid the wire would short out the rowboat line. The goat has been destroying the choral music, and the two students are likened unto the wife who strayed. If they had sunk to the uttermost depths and were doomed by their depravity. But the clever goats will stand any strain, just as his own wife, for his sake had done. He thus finds himself in a similar situation, for he has found what God must be like from his own experiences.

At the noonday service on Friday, March 19, Mr. Tileston spoke on "Enskald, the Ecclesiastical," the founder of Judaism. The Jewish ritual (Continued on page 4)

TRINITY MEN AID IN FLOOD RELIEF (Continued from page 1) sides there will be the task of rehabilitation, and men will be needed as much then as they are now.

There are many students living at college whose homes are in flooded areas, and with the England Athletic Club were unable to return home on Friday when the bridge was closed. One student lives in Johnstown, Pa., and another in the flooded section of Delaware. Communication having been tied up, many students feel the lack of news from their families. Other men are worried because they cannot get news of their own safety to their families in dry areas. There have been many rumors of where they may be.

The college itself has been in darkness since Friday night, and this issue is being written by candlelight. An efficient patrol service composed of students working in shifts is being maintained, and we hope that this continues. The only difficulty we have encountered along the way has been an inspiration for the student body who are working untruly under his direction.

As a little example of this, we might mention the recruiting of men Monday morning. The President had been on a trip of sleep, prepared to see that Trinity continued its work for another day. As he set the men off to various posts in the city, he put them in good humor with digs about their appearance and puns of a heartening nature. Today he had a new feeling of satisfaction for the student body who are working untruly under his direction.

FLOOD LEAVES REHABILITATION PROBLEM (Continued from page 1)

Concerning the conditions, Red Cross workers report that the worst part of the disaster is yet to come. The student body, which has been an inspiration for the student body who are working untruly under his direction, is in good humor with digs about their appearance and puns of a heartening nature. Today he had a new feeling of satisfaction for the student body who are working untruly under his direction.

As a little example of this, we might mention the recruiting of men Monday morning. The President had been on a trip of sleep, prepared to see that Trinity continued its work for another day. As he set the men off to various posts in the city, he put them in good humor with digs about their appearance and puns of a heartening nature. Today he had a new feeling of satisfaction for the student body who are working untruly under his direction.

Considering the conditions, Red Cross workers report that the worst part of the disaster is yet to come. The student body, which has been an inspiration for the student body who are working untruly under his direction, is in good humor with digs about their appearance and puns of a heartening nature. Today he had a new feeling of satisfaction for the student body who are working untruly under his direction.

As a little example of this, we might mention the recruiting of men Monday morning. The President had been on a trip of sleep, prepared to see that Trinity continued its work for another day. As he set the men off to various posts in the city, he put them in good humor with digs about their appearance and puns of a heartening nature. Today he had a new feeling of satisfaction for the student body who are working untruly under his direction.

As a little example of this, we might mention the recruiting of men Monday morning. The President had been on a trip of sleep, prepared to see that Trinity continued its work for another day. As he set the men off to various posts in the city, he put them in good humor with digs about their appearance and puns of a heartening nature. Today he had a new feeling of satisfaction for the student body who are working untruly under his direction.

As a little example of this, we might mention the recruiting of men Monday morning. The President had been on a trip of sleep, prepared to see that Trinity continued its work for another day. As he set the men off to various posts in the city, he put them in good humor with digs about their appearance and puns of a heartening nature. Today he had a new feeling of satisfaction for the student body who are working untruly under his direction.
BASEBALL TEAM BEGINS PRELIMINARY WORKOUTS

Capt. Patton, Parker, Ferruci, Kobrook, and O'Malley to Form Nucleus of Team

"The outlook is very good," stated Coach Dan Jeneke when he was questioned about this season's baseball prospects. "With five lettermen back—and every one of them good hitters and fielders—and with a promising group of freshmen, Trinity should have a strong nine this year."

Coach Jeneke issued the first call to candidates aspiring to battery positions, and these men have been working out in the gymnasium last week. Infielders and outfielders are due to report at the beginning of this week.

A sizable delegation of pitchers and catchers have turned out for the first painful limbering-up process. Led by Captain Ray Patton, the twirlers are already beginning to show flashes of mid-season form. One of Dan Jeneke's biggest problems will be attempting to locate another capable hurler to relieve Patton, star moundsmen of last year's team. At the present, Ed Morris, a freshman, appears to be the most likely choice. Other promising pitchers are Lanis, a junior; Alexander, Webb, and Goboury, freshmen.

The second big question mark will be finding a catcher to fill Amport's position, left vacant by his graduation. Bob Parker, last year's hard-hitting first baseman, is being groomed for the post. His reinstatement.

(Continued on page 4.)

A. T. K. QUINTET TRIMS DELTA PHI IN PLAY-OFF

Climaxxes Undeafeated Season by 29-19 Victory to Gain the Peter Ogilvy Trophy

The Alpha Tau Kappa basketball team climaxed an undefeated season last week by trouncing Delta Phi, champions of the National League, 29-19, in the play-off round and thereby gained possession of the Peter Ogilvy Basketball Trophy. Sigma Nu took third place by besting the Commons Club, 30-20.

The new champions were something of a dark horse in the race. Gathering momentum as the season rolled along, Alpha Tau Kappa rounded into a well-balanced outfit that took every opponent in stride. The highlight of the A. T. K. six-game winning streak came last week when a powerful Sigma Nu quintet was met and mowed out by a single point.

In gaining the third position, Sigma Nu had to flash a belated attack to emerge the winner. Commons Club broke away to an early lead which gave Sigma Nu one-point margin at the half. Sigma Nu came back strong and piled up a big lead while breaking up their opponents' offense.

Alumni News

Richardson Little Wright, '10, has been appointed by Mayor Richardson Little Wright, '10, has been appointed by Mayor Earle S. Palmer, Good Manager, to serve a second term as mayor of the city. He was re-elected to the office last week by a vote of 2,500 to 1,500.

Stop in After the Theater...Dowey Flake Doughnut Shop59 Asylum Street, Hartford
OSTING PESSIMISTIC
OVER TRACK PROSPECTS

Lack of Suitable Facilities for Indoor Practice Handicaps Track Team's Chances

"I don't like to be pessimistic, but the outlook for track is not very bright this year," said Professor Oosting when he was asked for a statement on the coming season. He then went to point out and explain some of the handicaps under which the team is working. Three men from last year's team, Kollam, Warner, and Alexander, are gone, and as yet there seems to be no one capable of taking their places even in a small way. Moreover, the team is seriously handicapped from last year's team, Kellam, of taking their places even in a small way, then went to point out and explain some of the handicaps under which the team is working. The rest of last year's lettermen, who have not reported as yet, are Bob O'Malley, second base; Mickey Kolovsky, left field; and Fran Ferrucci, right field. Three men, along with Captain Patton and Parke, are being heavily counted upon in Coach Jerry's plans for the current campaign.

Weather permitting Jerry intends to hold extensive baseball practice during the Spring vacation in preparation for the opening game here with Amherst on April 23. During the vacation, numerous practice games will be played with local industrial teams.

The Gustave Fischer Co.
School Supplies Commercial Office Supplies Stationery
237 Asylum St., Hartford, Conn.

Where Friends Meet and Eat
MILL'S SPA, INC.
725 MAIN STREET
In the Heart of Hartford, Conn.
Best Food—Tastefully Served Reasonably Priced

BASEBALL WORKOUTS
(Continued from page 5)

Norval Robinson will then, however, necessitate the search for an initial spark guard. Other candidates for the backstop position are: Moran, Meshomis; and Barnewall, Decker, and Harris, freshmen.

The rest of last year's letterman, who have not reported as yet, are Bob O'Malley, second base; Mickey Kolovsky, left field; and Fran Ferrucci, right field. These men, along with Captain Patton and Parke, are being heavily counted upon in Coach Jerry's plans for the current campaign.

The rest of last year's letterman, who have not reported as yet, are Bob O'Malley, second base; Mickey Kolovsky, left field; and Fran Ferrucci, right field. These men, along with Captain Patton and Parke, are being heavily counted upon in Coach Jerry's plans for the current campaign.

In addition to the above veterans, there are some freshmen, and new-comers who will make a strong bid for places. Those who have shown up well so far are Pecora, holder of the Greater Hartford high jump record, from Bulkeley; Driggs, a sprinter from East Hartford; Merritt, a hurdler; and Hawkins and O'Neill, both runners. In the weights, where the team has been the worst hit by graduation a number of men are striving to develop themselves. In the football tackles, looking fairly well so far are Pacelia, holder of the Greater Hartford high jump record, from Bulkeley; Driggs, a sprinter from East Hartford; Merritt, a hurdler; and Hawkins and O'Neill, both runners. In the weights, where the team has been the worst hit by graduation a number of men are striving to develop themselves. In the football tackles, looking fairly well so far are Pacelia, holder of the Greater Hartford high jump record, from Bulkeley; Driggs, a sprinter from East Hartford; Merritt, a hurdler; and Hawkins and O'Neill, both runners. In the weights, where the team has been the worst hit by graduation a number of men are striving to develop themselves. In the football tackles, looking fairly well so far are Pacelia, holder of the Greater Hartford high jump record, from Bulkeley; Driggs, a sprinter from East Hartford; Merritt, a hurdler; and Hawkins and O'Neill, both runners. In the weights, where the team has been the worst hit by graduation a number of men are striving to develop themselves. In the football tackles, looking fairly well so far are Pacelia, holder of the Greater Hartford high jump record, from Bulkeley; Driggs, a sprinter from East Hartford; Merritt, a hurdler; and Hawkins and O'Neill, both runners. In the weights, where the team has been the worst hit by graduation a number of men are striving to develop themselves. In the football tackles, looking fairly well so far are Pacelia, holder of the Greater Hartford high jump record, from Bulkeley; Driggs, a sprinter from East Hartford; Merritt, a hurdler; and Hawkins and O'Neill, both runners. In the weights, where the team has been the worst hit by graduation a number of men are striving to develop themselves. In the football tackles, looking fairly well so far are Pacelia, holder of the Greater Hartford high jump record, from Bulkeley; Driggs, a sprinter from East Hartford; Merritt, a hurdler; and Hawkins and O'Neill, both runners. In the weights, where the team has been the worst hit by graduation a number of men are striving to develop themselves. In the football tackles, looking fairly well so far are Pacelia, holder of the Greater Hartford high jump record, from Bulkeley; Driggs, a sprinter from East Hartford; Merritt, a hurdler; and Hawkins and O'Neill, both runners. In the weights, where the team has been the worst hit by graduation a number of men are striving to develop themselves. In the football tackles, looking fairly well so far are Pacelia, holder of the Greater Hartford high jump record, from Bulkeley; Driggs, a sprinter from East Hartford; Merritt, a hurdler; and Hawkins and O'Neill, both runners. In the weights, where the team has been the worst hit by graduation a number of men are striving to develop themselves. In the football tackles, looking fairly well so far are Pacelia, holder of the Greater Hartford high jump record, from Bulkeley; Driggs, a sprinter from East Hartford; Merritt, a hurdler; and Hawkins and O'Neill, both runners. In the weights, where the team has been the worst hit by graduation a number of men are striving to develop themselves. In the football tackles, looking fairly well so far are Pacelia, holder of the Greater Hartford high jump record, from Bulkeley; Driggs, a sprinter from East Hartford; Merritt, a hurdler; and Hawkins and O'Neill, both runners. In the weights, where the team has been the worst hit by graduation a number of men are striving to develop themselves. In the football tackles, looking fairly well so far are Pacelia, holder of the Greater Hartford high jump record, from Bulkeley; Driggs, a sprinter from East Hartford; Merritt, a hurdler; and Hawkins and O'Neill, both runners. In the weights, where the team has been the worst hit by graduation a number of men are striving to develop themselves. In the football tackles, looking fairly well so far are Pacelia, holder of the Greater Hartford high jump record, from Bulkeley; Driggs, a sprinter from East Hartford; Merritt, a hurdler; and Hawkins and O'Neill, both runners. In the weights, where the team has been the worst hit by graduation a number of men are striving to develop themselves. In the football tackles, looking fairly well so far are Pacelia, holder of the Greater Hartford high jump record, from Bulkeley; Driggs, a sprinter from East Hartford; Merritt, a hurdler; and Hawkins and O'Neill, both runners. In the weights, where the team has been the worst hit by graduation a number of men are striving to develop themselves. In the football tackles, looking fairly well so far are Pacelia, holder of the Greater Hartford high jump record, from Bulkeley; Driggs, a sprinter from East Hartford; Merritt, a hurdler; and Hawkins and O'Neill, both runners. In the weights, where the team has been the worst hit by graduation a number of men are striving to develop themselves. In the football tackles, looking fairly well so far are Pacelia, holder of the Greater Hartford high jump record, from Bulkeley; Driggs, a sprinter from East Hartford; Merritt, a hurdler; and Hawkins and O'Neill, both runners. In the weights, where the team has been the worst hit by graduation a number of men are striving to develop themselves. In the football tackles, looking fairly well so far are Pacelia, holder of the Greater Hartford high jump record, from Bulkeley; Driggs, a sprinter from East Hartford; Merritt, a hurdler; and Hawkins and O'Neill, both runners. In the weights, where the team has been the worst hit by graduation a number of men are striving to develop themselves. In the football tackles, looking fairly well so far are Pacelia, holder of the Greater Hartford high jump record, from Bulkeley; Driggs, a sprinter from East Hartford; Merritt, a hurdler; and Hawkins and O'Neill, both runners. In the weights, where the team has been the worst hit by graduation a number of men are striving to develop themselves. In the football tackles, looking fairly well so far are Pacelia, holder of the Greater Hartford high jump record, from Bulkeley; Driggs, a sprinter from East Hartford; Merritt, a hurdler; and Hawkins and O'Neill, both runners. In the weights, where the team has been the worst hit by graduation a number of men are striving to develop themselves. In the football tackles, looking fairly well so far are Pacelia, holder of the Greater Hartford high jump record, from Bulkeley; Driggs, a sprinter from East Hartford; Merritt, a hurdler; and Hawkins and O'Neill, both runners. In the weights, where the team has been the worst hit by graduation a number of men are striving to develop themselves. In the football tackles, looking fairly well so far are Pacelia, holder of the Greater Hartford high jump record, from Bulkeley; Driggs, a sprinter from East Hartford; Merrit...